KIRKPATRICK BULLETIN ANALYZES FRESHMEN

A bulletin on the 1938 freshman class, by Dr. J. E. Kirkpatrick, professor of education, was published in December by Morningside College. The bulletin, which is entitled "The 1938 Freshman Class at Morningside College," consists of three parts devoted to information concerning the status of that class. Part One is headed "General Information About the 1938 Freshman Class." Part Two tells of "The New Student Days." Part Three deals with "The Freshman Testing Program."

The purpose of the bulletin is threefold: to offer to those interested in Morningside College as a whole a cross-section view through this study of one class; to enable the faculty better to cope with this class, through a presentation of its needs and abilities; and to make possible a better and wider understanding of the Morningside College program.

Dr. Kirkpatrick's conclusions show that the class is slightly below the average freshman class of the nation in general intelligence as measured by the Psychological Examination of the American Council on Education. On the English placement test which has been developed and used in the colleges of Iowa, the average of the Morningside class is slightly higher than the Iowa norm. In silent reading the ability of the class as measured by the Iowa Silent Reading Test is very nearly equal to the norms for the end of the freshman year in college. The adjustment of the members of the class to health, home, social and emotional situations as measured by the Bell Adjustment Inventory does not reveal any pronounced tendencies toward maladjustment in the class as a whole, while the results of the medical examination reveal a satisfactory health status in the class.

The more general characteristics of the class may be presented in terms of a mythical "typical Morningside College freshman of 1938." This typical freshman probably comes from Iowa and the chances are nearly even that his or her home is in Sioux City. If the home town is not Sioux City, it probably has a population of about 1200. The typical freshman was born in Iowa and his parents were probably of American nationality with German and English being the next best guesses. The best guess as to the occupation of his

EIGHTEEN FOOTBALL LETTERS

In completing a successful grid season with four wins, three losses and one tie, Coach J. M. Saunderson finished his twenty-seventh consecutive year of coaching at Morningside College. Another record established by "Saundy" for the first time in his career was the completion of the season with the same number of players as he started out with—31.

This fall 18 Maroon gridgers won major football letters. Five of these won third and last letters. They are Dale Flinders of Sutherland, Iowa; Albert Buckingham of Akron, Iowa; Donald Snyder and Robert Paget of Rockford, Illinois; and Jake Felker of Trenton, Nebraska.

Receiving their second and last letters are David Brinkman of Rolfe, Iowa; Joe Turk of Eveleth, Minnesota; H. G. Morrison of Peterson, Iowa; and Owen Engen of Minneapolis, Minnesota. Two juniors won their second letters also: Pete Burrows of Sac City, Iowa, and Elwood Hetland of Luverne, Minnesota.

The remaining seven won their first letters. They include John Krzmarich of Ironwood, Minnesota; Bob Kakala of Virginia, Minnesota; Ray Port of Akron, Iowa; George Koch of Hamilton, Montana; Duane Halford of Jefferson, Iowa; and Ned Adams and Michael Murphy of Sioux City.

Of these 18 lettermen, nine will return along with many promising freshmen. Coach Saunderson will hold a short spring practice.

father is "business" with construction and manufacturing, the professions, and farming in order.

The typical freshman is a member of some church and has been active in religious activities. He is just over 18 years of age and graduated from high school in the June preceding his college entrance. If he did not graduate from one of the large Sioux City high schools there were probably about 35 members in his graduating class. His high school record was probably better than that of 60 per cent of the members of his class. He has decided upon a vocation. Both men and women are interested in teaching, while the men are also greatly interested in engineering, business, and the professions—law, medicine, or the ministry.

NEW OUTLOOK DAYS

New Outlook Days, February 7 and 8, will open the Fiftieth Anniversary events at Morningside College, according to an announcement by President Earl A. Roadman. On those days the minister and one selected layman from each of 150 Northwest Iowa communities will be guests of the business and professional men of Sioux City. The purpose of the two-day fellowship will be to view jointly the opportunities and responsibilities of Sioux City and Northwest Iowa as regards Morningside College, the Methodist Hospital, and the Wall Street Mission.

The conference will open on Tuesday, February 7, at 11:00 a. m., with a college chapel address in Grace Church by Dr. Roy L. Smith of Los Angeles. Lunch will be served in the Women's Residence Halls at 12:15. At 2:30 there will be a pre-engineering, biological, and psychological demonstration in the college chapel, followed at 4:30 by a brief service and an inspection of Wall Street Mission. The first day's program will conclude with a banquet at the Hotel Martin, at 6:30. The speaker for this occasion has not yet been announced.

On Wednesday, February 8, there will be a meeting at the First Methodist Church at 8:30 a. m., followed by a visitation of the Methodist Hospital at 10:15. Luncheon will be served at 12:00 in the First Methodist Church, the dedication and consecration address being given by Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of the Omaha area.

RELIGIOUS THEME CHOSEN FOR THIRD PLAY PRODUCTION

With the announcement by Milton J. Wiksell of the third dramatic production of the year, "The Rock," by Mary Hamlin, to be given shortly before Easter, all plans for the drama year except the commencement play have been formulated.

"The Rock" is a religious play placed at the time of the crucifixion. As Christ is not portrayed on the stage in this play, the principal character is Simon Peter. The play will be sponsored by the Collegiate Players, Morningside College drama club.

Making a big hit before a large audience, Phillip Barry's three-act comedy "Holiday" was staged by Alpha Psi Omega before the Christmas vacation.

MORNINGSIDE COLLEGE 1938 EMPLOYMENT CENSUS

The following table gives the employment on January 1, 1939, of the members of the class of 1938.

Occupation	Number	Percentage
Teaching	37	42.0%
Music	14
Coaching	3
Other High School Subjects.....	15
Elementary Grades	5
Business	17	19.3%
Aviation	1	1.1%
Ministry	1	1.1%
Y. W. C. A.....	1	1.1%
Nursing	1	1.1%
Library	1	1.1%
Attending School	22	25.0%
Graduate	19
Undergraduate	3
Housewife	2	2.3%
Unaccounted for	5	5.7%
TOTAL.....	88	99.8%

In comparison with the employment census for the class of 1937, the following changes are noted: (1) A smaller percentage of the class have teaching positions. For 1938 the figure given is 42 per cent in comparison with 55.1 per cent for the class of 1937. The decrease is principally in the elementary grades with only five members of the class of 1938, all of whom were experienced teachers, receiving teaching positions in the elementary grades in comparison with ten in the preceding year. All of the graduates who were qualified for elementary-grade teaching positions in both classes have obtained positions however. (2) The percentage of the members of the class going into business has shown a distinct increase. 19.3 per cent of the members of the class of 1938 have positions in some kind of business, while the corresponding percentage in 1937 was 10.3 per cent with an additional 3.8 percent having secretarial positions. (3) A much greater percentage of the class of 1938 are attending school. Twenty-two members or 25 per cent of the class of 1938 are attending school, 19 of them taking graduate work. The class of 1937 sent 18 per cent of its members to school. (4) A larger percentage of the class of 1938 are unemployed or are unaccounted for than was the case in 1937. The figures are 5.7 per cent and 1.3 per cent respectively. The present locations and occupations of the members of the class of 1938 are given below.

NEW STUDENT MAGAZINE PUBLISHED

A new magazine of creative writing, Manuscript, made its appearance on the campus in December. A neat, twenty-four page booklet in an attractive cover, Manuscript fills a long-felt need for a publication devoted to Morningside student writing of more than ephemeral interest. It will appear twice yearly, in autumn and spring, and alumni as well as undergraduates are invited to contribute.

Contributions to the first issue include the following short stories: "Evening Disturbance," James C. Olson, '38; "Fantasia," Paul Bates, ex-'41; and "Tactful Relations," Irene M. Johnson, '40. Poetry is most fully represented, with a sonnet, "To Three Soldiers," Winifred Cheely, '41; "Paths" and "Mutation," Marguerite Johnson, '38; "Revelation," "Some September," and "Augury," Miriam M. Hawthorn, '39; "Season of the Shooting Star," Betty Greene, '40; "To a Swallow" and "Yangtze River," Eric Liljestrand, '42. The sketch is represented by "Call It College Life," Myna Nickum, '41, and "Memoirs of a Nurse," Bartlett Lubbers, '42; and the essay by "Of Bare Walls and Beauty," Charles Seward, '39.

The staff of the new publication includes Miriam M. Hawthorn, editor; Betty Greene, Irene Johnson, and Charels Seward, associate editors; and Lester Olson, business manager. Lynn Beyer, assistant professor of English, is adviser to Manuscript as well as to the Manuscript Club, a creative writing group which has existed on the campus for the past year.

The subscription price of Manuscript is twenty-five cents a copy or fifty cents a year. Those interested in subscribing may do so through the business manager.

CONCERT COURSE

Sioux City's 1938-1939 concert season is proving one of the most successful on record. After the opening recital by Lawrence Tibbett, who sang encore after encore to an enthusiastically packed house, it seemed that only a miracle could prevent the rest of the series from appearing anticlimactic. But the assured technique of the young pianist, Ida Krehm, and the versatile art, unfamiliar to many Sioux Cityans, of the dance-mime Angna Enters, have sustained the concert course on a high level.

Much is expected from the remaining four concerts: Stephan Hero, violinist, with the Sioux City Symphony Orchestra, January 30; the Mozart Boy's Choir, February 6; Edward Dudley, tenor, with the orchestra, March 13; and the Sioux City Festival Chorus, directed by Paul MacCollin, with the orchestra, April 3. The Sioux City Symphony Orchestra continues under the direction of Leo Kucinski.

CAMPUS VISITORS

Morningside College has been fortunate this year in having visitors from all walks of life: doctors, educators, authors, artists, ministers, politicians, and world travelers have all graced the campus during the past semester and imparted their experiences and interpretations for the benefit of the students.

Badger Clark, famous poet of the out-of-doors, spent a whole week at Morningside. His friendliness, his humility in his calling, and the sincere love of nature he read into his poetry, left an unforgettable memory.

Another distinguished guest who was on the campus for several days was Lonzo Jones, Assistant Dean of Men at the University of Iowa. Dr. Jones will be remembered especially for his humorous and sane discussion of the problems confronting college students.

The year's Wednesday chapels were highlighted by the visit of Dr. Walter Judd, noted missionary from China. The evident conviction and devotion behind Dr. Judd's speaking tour on behalf of invaded China produced a deep impression.

Local problems in Sioux City were brought interestingly before the students by Mayor David F. Loepp, an alumnus. Don Gassell of the Art Center spoke on the technique of etching; Russell Martin and Milton Lory presented travelogues; Dr. E. W. Stimson, Dr. George Dunn, Bishop F. T. Kinney, and Rabbi Theodore Lewis covered a broad range of educational topics. A welcome chapel visitor was Dr. G. Clare Saunderson, brother of Coach J. M. Saunderson.

DEBATE

The college debate squad, under the coaching of Professor Mendal B. Miller, is in the midst of a busy season. The question for this year, "That the Federal Government Should Cease to Spend Public Funds for the Purpose of Stimulating Business," is a timely one as it involves a consideration of the entire New Deal program of recovery.

The debaters took part in a tournament at Omaha on December 9 and 10, and journeyed to a meet at the University of South Dakota on January 14. The remainder of their schedule includes the Iowa state tournament at Cedar Rapids in the middle of March and the Pi Kappa Delta provincial tournament at Aberdeen, S. D., in the latter part of that month. The chief event of the season will be the St. Thomas College tournament in St. Paul, for which teams from 100 colleges will gather at the end of February.

Members of the squad include Geraldine Booth, Ruth Olson, Dale Hartter, Robert Hamel, Fred Davenport, Robert Rohwer, and Lester Menke.

Miss Helen Wilson

Miss Helen Wilson will assume the duties of assistant librarian at Morningside College at the beginning of the second semester. Miss Wilson is a graduate of Kansas State Teachers College and has done library work in Kansas City, Kansas.

STUDENT UNION OPENS

The beginning of the 1939 semester will mark the opening of a new Student Union on the third floor of College Hall. This new social center for men and women, equipped at a cost of about $540, will be financed by the student body through a temporary addition to the activities fee. The upkeep will be provided by the college.

The new Union will contain maroon leather furniture of modernistic design, and a circular seat around the ceiling support. The lounging chairs will be of egg-shell color. There will be two card tables, a piano, a radio, and a conference table with eight chairs. The windows will have venetian blinds, and the walls will be decorated with murals representing such phases of college life as chapel, choir and athletics.

Mrs. James Reistrup, alumna of Morningside and wife of Professor Reistrup of the piano department at the Conservatory, assisted with the interior decorating. The Morningside Christian Association has donated a rug.

Besides providing opportunity for social relaxation and the reading of current magazines, the Union will serve as the meeting place of the Student Council and the Christian Association. The girls' lounge and lunch room, which it displaces, has been transferred to the basement.

Morningside College Choir, 1939

OVER 20 CONCERTS FOR CHOIR

More than twenty concerts have been booked for the Morningside College Choir, which left Sioux City January 21 for an extended tour of the East and South. Ronald Rawson, manager of the choir, was gone 23 days and traveled 4,800 miles to book concerts for the tour through Tennessee and Virginia to Washington, D. C., and back through Pennsylvania and Indiana.

The choir sang its first concert January 22 in St. Louis, proceeding from there to Memphis, Tennessee, where it appeared for the fourth consecutive year. The third concert, at Nashville, was sponsored by Vanderbilt University and the Peabody Institute.

High light of the two-week choral invasion was a concert in the First Congregational Church in Washington, D. C., on Friday, January 27. Sponsors of this occasion were Senators Gillette and Herring, Congressman Harrington, the Iowa Society, and resident Morningside alumni. The concert was preceded by a coast-to-coast broadcast over the Columbia network.

The remainder of the tour, taking place as the BULLETIN goes to press, will include Johnstown, McKeesport, and Brookville, Pennsylvania; Gary, Indiana; Aurora, Elgin, Rockford, and Freeport, Illinois. Two Iowa concerts, at Charles City and Mason City on Sunday afternoon and evening, February 5, will conclude the long trip.

The 1939 choir comprises sixty students, under the direction of Paul MacCollin.

CAGE FIGHT OPENS

Coach Glenn "Honie" Rogers' North Central Conference basketball champs of 1938 began their campaign to retain the North Central Conference crown Saturday night, January 7, by overpowering the highly favored Iowa State tutors from Cedar Falls to the tune of 48-34.

Although the Maroon quintet of '38 that won the crown last year is not back, Coach Rogers has built a fast breaking, hard fighting squad around the veterans Don Michaelson and Don Snyder. Both of these men received all-conference recognition last year and still play championship ball.

Capable teammates to these two veterans are Jack Loff from Eveleth Junior College, at one forward post, and at the other, Duane Halford, diminutive ball hawk who is out to fill the shoes of Gerry Rosenberger. In the back court along with Don Snyder, Coach Rogers has Al Strozdaz, a former East High star. Al has proved his shooting eye and ball handling ability far above all other contenders for the guard post.

Other favorable prospects for Coach Rogers' 1939 team are Roadman, Buckingham, Kraii, Morrison, Soucek, Vanderboom, and Krznarich. All should see action before the season is over.

Freshman prospects are better this year than ever before. Many ex-high school cage stars are fighting for first team berths, foremost of whom is Delbert "Red" Langstaff who was selected on many all-state teams.

ALUMNUS ELECTED DIRECTOR OF BANK

H. L. Dunham, a Morningside College alumnus, was elected to a directorship in the Valley National Bank of Phoenix, Arizona, January 10. Mr. Dunham is also cashier of the bank, which has 45 per cent of the deposits of the state. He writes that the work has been "exacting, exciting and arduous," but that through his five years with the organization he has enjoyed the experience of successful pioneering in a new country. . . . DORMITORY IS REDEDICATED

The rededication of the Women's Residence Hall, which is destined to become one of the Morningside traditions, took place Wednesday, November 16, in the drawing room of the dormitory. Following a formal candlelight dinner, the impressive and beautiful ceremony of the first dedication was re-enacted before the hearth. In the absence of Miss Lillian Dimmitt, Dean of Women, Miss Mirah Mills presided. Mrs. Earl A. Roadman was the guest of honor. Miss Faith Woodford provided the music during the ceremony. . . . WINTER FESTIVAL

The Alumni Gymnasium, Tuesday night, December 13, was the scene of the annual winter festival presented by the Women's Physical Education classes under the direction of Miss Lois Brinkman, and sponsored by W. A. A. Artistic costumes, effective lighting and clever interpretation of both folk and modern dances presented the audience with a knowledge of dances around the world. "Coming Home for Christmas" was the theme of the festival.

MORNINGSIDE HEALTH SERVICE

Of the many recent improvements at the College one of the most desirable has been the clinic which is located in the former "M" Club room. The clinic is open five hours a day for the use of all students. Miss Inez Grove, who received her nursing training at the M. E. Hospital of Mitchell, S. D., is in charge. As in the past, Dr. C. F. Berkstresser will be in the office one hour a day for consultation.

Equally good care is provided for the more than ninety girls in the Women's Residence Hall. Miss Helen C. Jensen, graduate nurse of Sioux Valley Hospital of Sioux Falls, S. D., is in full charge of the misses.

ALUMNI PERSONALS

David L. Young, lawyer and publisher, passed away at his Hollywood home on October 7. While in college, Mr. Young was a member of the football team, editor of the Collegian Reporter, and editor of the annual. He married Miss Emma Fair of Morningside.

1911

Bishop and Mrs. E. S. Johnson were guests of their friends in the Sioux City area. Their sons, Dr. Arthur Holmes Johnson of Alaska and the Rev. S. Darlow Johnson of Grant Pass, Oregon, attended Morningside College.

1912

A. B. Gehring, former business manager of Morningside College, has received a post in the Landlords' Protective Association in the Toy National Bank in Sioux City. After leaving Morningside, Mr. Gehring worked in the Woodbury County Auditor's office.

1914

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Margaret Kifer, ex-'14, of Los Angeles, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kifer of Sioux City, to Clarence Batchelder Hersey of Granite, Colorado, has been received here. They were married November 1, and will make their home at Granite.

Allan Kline of Vinton, Iowa, one of Iowa's four new "master farmers", was re-elected vice president of the Iowa Farm Bureau on January 20.

Announcement of the appointment of Cyril B. Upham as first deputy controller of currency at Washington has been received here. Mr. Upham has been assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury for the last three years. He was awarded an honorary degree from Morningside last year.

1916

Dr. A. W. Lindsay of Denison University, Granville, Ohio, was the representative for Morningside College at the inauguration of President Elbert of Dayton University on December 5. Dr. Lindsay is in the department of zoology at Denison.

1934

Miss Pauline Obeslo of Sioux City became the bride of Mr. Charles Plendl of this city. They were married in the Cathedral of the Epiphany and will reside at the Murray Apartments.

Miss Velma Francis, ex-'34, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Francis of Sioux City, was married to Harry Hein, also of this city. The marriage took place at the Morningside Christian Church, Sept. 16.

Miss Mable Cecile Stage, daughter of Mrs. Edith Spooner of Grinnell, Iowa, and Dale Jones, '34, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jones of Woodstock, Iowa, were married at the Grinnell Methodist Church on Christmas day.

Miss Mary Norris, ex-'35, young Sioux City pianist who is now studying at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, was guest artist at the symphony concert here for school students on November 21. Leo Kucinski of the Morningside Conservatory directed the orchestra.

Miss Helen Verstegen, '36, is the bride of Harold L. Bollman, '35, of Sioux City. After an extended motor trip in the South, Mr. and Mrs. Bollman are residing at 2905 Pierce Street, Sioux City. The bride is a member of the Kappa Phi Alpha sorority, while Mr. Bollman is a Phi Sigma brother.

Miss Barbara Paine of Sioux City was married to Parnell H. Mahoney, ex-'37, of Glendale, California. She is the niece of Dr. C. Katherman. The marriage took place in the Glendale Presbyterian Church in November.

Miss Betty Towns of Sioux City was married to Robert W. Bloem, ex-'37, of Chicago, on January 1. Miss Towns is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Towns of Sioux City. The marriage took place in Chicago.

Ira Holland, '37, is the author of "A Recreational Survey of a College Student Body," a paper written at George Williams College and sent recently to President Roadman. The institution studied is Morningside College. Holland, chairman of the board of publications of the George Williams College Association in Chicago, reports that he and Robert Vernon, '15, business manager of the college, "have had several bull sessions on Morningside."

Miss Helen Bernoski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bernoski, became the bride of John J. Kriss, ex-'38, son of Anna Kriss of Sioux City. They were married in the St. Francis Catholic Church. Kriss played fine football for Morningside while he was in attendance.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Finley Rosenberger of Sioux City on July 7, 1938. Rosenberger, '38, is a former football and basketball star on the Morningside campus.
