Students Building New Chapel in Main Hall

The students of the college are making plans to build a chapel in Main Hall on the first floor. The purpose of this chapel will be individual worship rather than group worship services. The room, the former office of Mr. Raun, will be com-pleted remodeled and will contain an altar at the front, stained glass windows, several pews, placed to form an aisle down the center, and a gothic vaulted ceiling. It is approximately twenty by twelve.

Work has already been started and the chapel should be finished in time for dedication ceremonies at commencement time this June. The students are doing as much of the work as possible themselves. However, some outside assistance will be

The cost of the new chapel is estimated at about one thousand dollars. Nearly three hundred of this money will be raised by the students themselves. The rest of the money must be obtained from other sources. It is announced that if any former students or others interested in the college could contribute to this fund, it would be greatly appreciated. Send all contributions to Harold Minor in care of Morningside Col-

The name for the chapel will be determined by the student council members who will judge entries submitted by the student body.

Elijah Will Be Presented

Prof. Paul MacCollin announces the pre-sentation of Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," to be given on Sunday evening, May 6. The oratorio will be sung by the combined choirs, the college chapel choir and the Grace Methodist Church choir. This will be the third annual presentation of the oratorio on the college campus. The soloists this year will be Gus Lease, singing the part of Elijah; John Rowe, singing Obadiah; Mrs. MacCollin, the widow; and the part of the angel, Margaret Ralston.

Prof. Miller to Leave

Professor Mendal B. Miller, head of the Economics and Sociology departments at Morningside has tendered his resignation, effective June 1, when he will assume the presidency of Central College, McPherson, Kan. The latter is a junior college of the Free Methodist Church. Mr. Miller taught at Central before coming to Morningside nine years ago.

The president-elect is well qualified for his new post by reason of intellectual attainments and religious interests. He graduated from Greenville College with the A. B. degree in 1930. After studying at the University of Southern California in 1930-'31 and during the summers of '30, '31, and '35, he took his A. M. there in 1936. He did graduate work at the University of Iowa in the summer of 1940 and attended the North Central work shop at the University of Minnesota last June and July. He had also studied at Minnesota in the summer of 1938.

Mr. Miller has been interested in forensics, student counseling and religious activities at Morningside. His debating teams and speakers have frequently taken top honors in provincial and national contests sponsored by Pi Kappa Delta. But to many students he was a friend and counselor to whom they went for advice and guidance in religious problems. He has been a frequent speaker at church and youth conferences during his years at Morningside. His good natured quips and ready wit have been enjoyed by students and faculty alike.

Professor Miller's many students of the present and former years regret his departure, as do all his faculty colleagues. But they hasten to congratulate the new prexy upon his fine promotion and opportunity for service in a new field. Morningsiders everywhere join in wishing Prof. and Mrs. Miller and their four children God

Benefit Concert by James Reistrup

James Reistrup, pianist and composer, played a concert distinguished by high musicianship plus interpretative comment Sunday afternoon, March 25, in the Y. W. C. A. It was a benefit performance sponsored by the Sioux City branch, American Association of University Women, for the MacDowell colony for creative artists in Peterborough, Mass.

The concert attracted an audience overflowing the auditorium and matching enthusiasm with size. The interest was sustained, provoking finale encores. It was appreciation obviously heightened by the informal, friendly comment by the artist which opened the door to increased understanding both of selections and of composers.

Mr. Reistrup's newest piece, Etude, proved an impressive climax to a group by his contemporaries and friends. He completed Etude while at the MacDowell colony last summer.

Evolved from a cuckoo theme which the composer explained "got too noisy for the bird," Etude is important, not light, music. A reiteration of the bird theme serves more as a reminder of the persistence of truth through dissension. The piece expresses this idea in minor harmonies that build dramatically to a vivid end. Mr. Reistrup played it with sensitive regard for idea as well as for technicalities.

Industrial Seminar for Students This Summer

An "Industrial Seminar for Students" will be held for 10 weeks, from June 15 to August 22, in Minneapolis, Minn., this sum_ mer. The Seminar is to be sponsored by a committee of citizens of the area and will lend competent professional supervision for the project which will include work in industry, lectures and seminar discussions, field trips and interviews, and other activi-ties which will increase the participant's awareness of a typical metropolitan pattern of social problems and the agencies existing to meet them. The Seminar will provide a supplementary educational experience in industrial relations and preparation for community leadership.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Bishop Charles Wesley Brashares Iowa and Dr. Roy L. Smith, notable Methodist speakers, will be in Sioux City for three days from April 30 to May 2 to address a series of meetings under the sponsorship of Morningside College. Assemblies will be held in the College Auditorium on each of the three days.

Mrs. John Garwood (Kay Schnoor, '43), writes to Dr. and Mrs. Berkstresser that she is now in the Norwegian-American hospital in San Francisco taking an 8-months nurses' training course. Mr. Garwood who is T/3 in the Finance Office at Ft. Dix, N. J., has returned there after a leave which he and Mrs. Garwood spent together in the East.

Mrs. Earl A. Roadman is at Manitowoc, Wis., visiting her daughter and son-inlaw, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Fishback, and new granddaughter, Jean Ellen, born April 4 at Manitowoc.

Climaxing three weeks of sorority rushing, formal pledge dinners were held Saturday, April 7, in downtown hotels, when 34 freshmen girls were welcomed as pledges by the three sororities.

A group of Morningside students attended the annual spring conference of the Iowa Methodist Student Movement at Ames, April 6, 7, and 8. The Morningside College summer session will begin June 7 and close on August 30. First term of the session will end July 18. A bulletin of courses offered will be sent upon request.

Miss Ruth Butts, head of the Speech and Dramatics Department, has announced that the date for presentation of the spring play, "Pride and Prejudice" will be May 12.

Lt. Hakala Safe

Mrs. Robert Hakala (Lucile Pippett, '44), learned on April 17 through a story by a Chicago newspaper correspondent that her husband, Lt. Bob Hakala, '40, who was reported a prisoner February 19, had been liberated from a Brunswick, Germany, officers' prison camp.

Spring Festival Queen and Attendants

The Magic Carpet was the theme of the spring festival held under the auspices of the physical education classes directed by Mrs. Verley Newsom, Friday evening, April 13, in the college gymnasium. The entire personnel of the girl's physi-cal education classes was on parade, showing the building of strong health in our land and foreign lands.

. . . M . . . Awarded Bronze Star

Capt. Ernest W. Baumann, Jr., ex '39, has been awarded the bronze star for meritorious service in combat. He is serving on the Fifth army front in Italy and has been personnel officer since March, 1944, when his regiment was sent into the lines. In addition he created the regimental replacement pool and established a procedure within the regiment whereby replacements could be fed while the regiment was in the lines. He established an effective battle casualty section and has been commended from time to time for the results he has obtained from the procedure he devised in handling battle casualties. His supervision of service records and classification cards have on two different occasions been commended as the best in the Mediterranean theater of any regiment in com-

Captain Decorated

Capt. John E. Montagne, ex '43, was awarded the air medal by Major General W. H. Rupertus. The citation accompanying the medal stated that during the period from March 27 to August 25, 1944, he participated in 19 successful missions against enemy held bases in the Marshall islands. On June 15, 1944, during an attack on enemy installations on Wotje he made a direct hit on a gun position. Johnny enlisted in the naval cadets in May, 1942 and was commissioned as a marine pilot at Corpus Christi, Tex., in February, 1943. He flies a Corsair fighter bomber.

Morningsiders Hold Pow-Wows

A pow-wow of 11 Morningsiders and three in-laws was held at the wigwam of John and Anna Madision, both '16, at 416 So. Spring Avenue in Sioux Falls on April 6. Those present were: Major John Kolp, '14; Alice Waring, '26; E. T. Hansen, '30; Mr. Laurence Osgood, '33, and Mrs. Osgood; Sgt. Oliver Mogck, '41, and Mrs. Mogck; Mrs. D. N. Crabb, (Kathryn Madison, '42).

Plans were made for another get-together so that nine other Morningsiders in Sioux Falls who were unable to be present this time may attend.

Another pow-wow took place in San Diego, Cal., on March 28 when a group of former Morningsiders gathered in the home of Mr. Victor Alvey, '41, and Mrs. Alvey. Attending were: Ph. M 1/c Eric Liljestrand, ex '42, and Mrs. Liljestrand (Janice Collier, '42); La Vonne Wertz, ex '42; Ensign '39, and Mrs. Edward Jacobson, (Maxine Pooley, '42); Mr. Jerry Cobbs, ex '42. Alice Scott Jolink, '41, although unable to attend the party, visited the Alveys recently.

The "Fun Fest" sponsored by the executive council of the tribe of the Sioux was held in Big Teepee of Sioux Maidens on April 6th at 8 o'clock. About 125 Sioux members enjoyed an evening of hilarious entertainment which included square dancing, bingo, ping-pong, movies, and visiting. A Snack-bar furnished refreshment. Possibly another conclave will take place in Barn wigwam on campus soon.

A Chicago pow-wow was held at the Lawson "Y" cafeteria at 6 o'clock on April 26th. Heap Big Chief Roadman attended and many tribe members gathered. $\dots \ M \dots M \dots$

GOLD STARS

Sgt. Wesley E. Thomas, '38, son of Mrs. Joseph Thomas, 2100 S. Patterson street, was killed in action in Germany April 1 while serving with the 47th infantry division of the United States First army.

Word of his death was received by his widow, the former Lois Jensen, who now is residing at Wall Lake, Ia.

Sgt. Thomas was a 1938 graduate of the Morningside college conservatory of music. After graduation he taught public school music for three years at Ocheyedan, Ia.

He entered the service July 7, 1942, and received medical corps training at Hondo, Tex., airbase. Only recently he was transferred to the infantry and went overseas late in February this year.

Sgt Wesley was a member of Grace Methodist church. Surviving are the widow; a 15-month-old daughter, Carol Anne; his mother, and a brother, Clifford, '29, who resides at Elgin, Ill.

No details concerning the manner in which Sgt. Wesley met death were given in the first message. He was the 31st former student of Morningside college to be killed in this war.

Sgt. James Wallen, ex '43, former Morningside man and a graduate of East high, was killed in action with the seventh army in Germany March 15, according to word received here by relatives.

Sgt. Wallen attended Morningside college two years. His parents formerly lived at 3921 Orleans avenue, his father having been connected with the Sioux City

Tent and Awning company.

Landing in France last December, Jimmy was wounded in action there Dec. 29. Recently he had been able to contact his brother, Jerry, who had been in Italy and France. Mrs. Wallen, the former Mary Carey of Morningside, is with her parents at Norfolk, Neb.

Memorial services were held at the Farnhamville Methodist church for Pfc. John B. Bane, ex '43, who was killed in action March 5 on the German front.

Pfc. Bane was the son of Rev. and Mrs. Harvey J. Bane of Farnhamville and he worked in the want ad department of the Sioux City Journal while he was a student at Morningside college in '39. He enlisted in the infantry last July and after 17 weeks' training was sent overseas as a replacement. Going immediately to the front he had two months of service before he met death.

Bishop Charles W. Brashares of Des Moines preached the sermon at the memorial rites, with Dr. L. D. Havighurst of Fort Dodge, district superintendent of the Methodist church, in charge.

Capt. Carl O. Bachman, '38, Chevy Chase, Md., was killed in action March 14 on Iwo Jima, according to word received by his widow, Mrs. Ellen Bachman.

Capt. Bachman was born in State Center, Iowa, and was graduated from Morningside in 1938. He took a postgraduate course at New York University. He enlisted in the Marine Paratroopers before Pearl Harbor and served overseas in the Pacific early in the war. He later transferred to the regular branch of the Marine Corps and trained in this country.

He participated in several Pacific battles before he was killed on Iwo. Besides his widow, he is survived by an 18-monthold daughter, Sarah Jane Bachman, and his father, Carl W. Bachman, who lives in Min-

. . . M . . . NEW CITATIONS

Cpl. Charles W. Cropley, ex '46, is a member of the 325th medical battalion which has just been awarded the meritorious service unit plaque for superior performance of duty during its service in France. The citation read: "By direction of the president, the meritorious service unit plaque is awarded to the 325th medical battalion for superior performance of duty and achievement of a high standard of discipline."

Sgt. William J. Carter, ex '46, recently was awarded the air medal and oak leaf cluster for meritorious action in the European theater. Sgt. Carter is serving with the Eighth air force and has been overseas since last December 17.

First Lt. Samuel J. Bach has been awarded the fifth oak leaf cluster to his air medal for meritorious achievement during heavy bombing attacks on nazi military and industrial targets in coordination with allied ground forces. He is a veteran of 25 missions.

Second Lt. Richard J. Smith, ex '46, who is serving as a P-38 Lightning fighter bomber pilot in France, recently was awarded the air medal for his singular success in attacking nazi tanks and convoys in western Germany in more than 11 missions.

Julius Shkurensky, ex '44, copilot on a B-24 Liberator in the 13th army air force "Bomber Barons" in the southwest Pacific, recently has been promoted from second lieutenant to flight officer. "Butch" has been overseas since May, 1944, and has more than 30 missions over the gas and oil refineries at Balikpapan, Borneo and the airdromes in the Philippines. His record of never having a man injured is still intact. His toughest mission, he states, was a raid over Truk.

First Lt. Wilson Persinger, ex '45, a navigator in a B-17 Flying Fortress of the 15th air force, recently was awarded the air medal for "meritorious achievement in aerial flight." The presentation of the award was made to Wilson, a veteran of more than 26 combat missions over Europe, by Col. Paul L. Barton, group commander.

Shortly after his arrival overseas, Lt.

Persinger was appointed squadron navigator and now he leads the giant bomber formations on their destructive attacks on oil, supply and transportation installations of the enemy.

Lt. Harold J. Madsen, MS-V(G), U. S. N. R., ex '35, has been awarded the presidential unit citation ribbon for 20 months of overseas duty while attached to the famed Second marine division. The ribbon bears a bronze star, indication of service in battle. The presentation was made by Capt. A. H. Dearing, (M. C.), U. S. N., medical officer in command of the United States naval hospital, Oakland, Cal.

Lt. Madsen participated in the campaigns of Tarawa, Saipan and Tinian, and as battalion surgeon, saw service in the field. At Tarawa and Saipan he was attached to a medical company whose members went ashore in the early waves of the invasions to render immediate medical assistance and first aid treatment under fire. He aided in the establishment of a division hospital on Saipan.

With his wife, he is now living at 1207 Seventh Ave in Oakland, where he is stationed at the United States naval hospital.

S/Sgt. Larry W. Curtis, ex '42,, has been awarded an oak leaf cluster to his air medal. He is a radio operator on an Eighth air force Flying Fortress. The award was given for meritorious achievement during attacks against nazi war industries and military targets in cooperation with allied ground forces.

Lt. Joe Ringland, Jr., ex '45, has just returned from nine months duty in China. As a copilot of a B-24 Liberator bomber Lt. Ringland saw action all over China. He told of flying over the Hump 10 or 12 times but said that many supplies, especially food was not transported across because of the lack of space. This meant that they had to live on Chinese food which he did not particularly care for. He said most of their diet consisted of wild rice, brown sugar and buffalo meat.

He participated in 45 missions and was awarded the air medal and one oak leaf cluster and the distinguished flying cross. He received his commission from flight officer in December, 1944.

Lt. James Forrester, ex '43 was a member of the first fighter-bomber group to operate off an American built airfield in Germany. Lt. Forrester serves with the 365th "Hell Hawk" group, every member of which wears the prized blue ribbon signifying that his organization was awarded a unit presidential citation for outstanding performance of duty in action against the . . . War Poem Received President and Mrs. Roadman received a war poem, "'Mid the Ruins of Gara-pan'," by Pfc. Jackson Hospers, '37. The poem which is dedicated to the freedom loving people of the United States of America is a very effective picture of the ruins of Garapan; this picture moves Jack to plead for the cooperation of freedom-loving people, "Until with vigilance, we attain a workable security.'

"The Morningsider" congratulates Jackson Hospers upon the publication of this very fine poem.

(Until June, 1944, Garapan was the capital of Saipan).

Sadie Hawkins and Lil' Abner Take Over

Friday, April 21 was a red-letter day on the campus calendar when the Sadie Hawkins and Lil' Abners danced or straggled barefoot into the halls and classrooms in costumes which belied description - costumes original, fantastic, battered and tattered, and as Mendal Miller was moved to comment, "Outfits which left much to be desired."

The hilarious spirit spread to the groups of gaping onlookers as the gals and swains entertained with their songs and antics

Lunch was served on the campus at noon and a stranger might have wondered if the weird assemblage were a group of starving war prisoners. Following the repast the "Sadies" chased the "Abners" for it was necessary to catch a partner for the dance at the gym in the evening. One Sadie was forced to climb a tree to drag down her chosen reluctant "sweetie." The dance in the gym at 8 o'clock climaxed a day of merriment enjoyed by all to the point of exhaustion.

Prizes were awarded for the most fitting and original costumes and the consensus of opinion was that "it was the best Sadie Hawkins Day ever held."
