COLLEGE

SIOUX CITY, IOWA

Dear Faculty, Staff, Administration, Students—

I sincerely hope that this yearbook captures the best moments of campus life at Morningside. Not every person, club, or organization is presented in this book, but my staff tried its best. Working with such a small staff, it is difficult to cover all the different functions on campus.

I want to thank my staff — Susie Bugg, Paul Severson, and Brad Bergeson for their time and effort in putting together this book. Also, I want to thank Doug Smith, Mike Madsen, Mark Gambiana, Rich Grondrek, Jeff Decena, Randy Hedge, and many other students who contributed pictures and information to add to this book.

And a big thank-you goes out to student government, R.A.'s, and organizational leaders for their much appreciated cooperation with group pictures.

Good luck to everyone next year—especially the new editor, Dave Williams and his staff.

Sincerely,
Brenda Hinnens

SPECIAL EVENTS

CELEBRATION!

On August 22, freshmen, transfer, and otherwise new students were shuffled into the Commons to begin Orientation 1981. Orientation is a way to meet fellow students and ease some of the worries associated with college life. Students attended meetings, meetings, and more meetings. However, such activities as the movie "Jazz Singer", the President's banana split parties, a picnic, and a dance featuring "High Noon" helped to make the students feel right at home.

Founder's Day Celebrates 87th Year

2

Morningside celebrated its 87th year on Founder's Day with a cake long enough for 87 candles! Several guest speakers gave brief talks in remembrance of their own experience with Morningside.

1.) Morningside chorale singers perform during the Founder's Day luncheon. 2.) One of the guest speakers addresses the audience. Just a portion of the cake is seen in front.

The Rainbow Connection

Homecoming festivities began with a concert by the "Grass Roots". The week was filled with many other activities as well—the movie "Ex-Calibur", a pep-rally, coronation and talent show, the Homecoming dance featuring the band "Patriot", and of course the big game. Homecoming 1981 was not to be forgotten as the Chiefs "put SDSU in the hole" 28-23. In every way Homecoming '81 was a success!

1.) Punk out! 2.) Maniac dancing. 3.) Royce and his "ghoul"-friend. 4.) More dancing.

Winterfest '82- A Winter Treat

The smell of popcorn and cotton candy and the sound of merry-go-round music set the carnival atmosphere for Winterfest '82 as Saga started the week's events. Other activities included a sledding party, a performance by Steven Hansen and his puppets, a casino and auction, cross-country skiing, the movie "Dr. Zhivago", and a performance by Christopher Johnson, classical guitarist.

Sadie Hawkins - A Country Jubilee

November 9-12, designated as Sadie Hawkins Week, was packed with country entertainment. A campfire, a square dance with the "Country Cousins", a coffee house featuring performer Marty Peifer, and to top it off, the ever-popular Sadie Hawkins dance featuring the group "Lonestar."

1.) M'side couples jam to the tunes of "Lonestar". 2.) These two couples take a break from their dancing. 3.) The band "Lonestar" performs.

Schroeders Named Parents Of The Year

Paul and Chere Schroeder, parents of Scott Schroeder, were named Parents of the Year for 1981-82. Paul is a principal at Papillion Junior High School and Chere is a pre-school teacher in Omaha. Scott is a sophomore here majoring in Business Administration and is also a member of the basketball team.

Parents Weekend was held February 5, 6, 7 on campus. The three-day event opened Friday with a choice between a Chief's basketball game or the play "seascape". Saturday began with a pancake feed at 9am at Grace United Methodist Church. Registration was from 10 to 11:30 in the Commons, after which there was free time until 4:30. That evening, Dr. Terry was speaker for the Candlelight Dinner and entertainment was provided by students, Kris Jepson and Paul Slavens. Presentation of the Parents of the Year award highlighted the evening. That night there was a choice between a basketball game or the play. The weekend rounded off with 10 am worship service, the play, and a concert by the Sioux City Symphony.

Spring Fling Features 'Ivory'

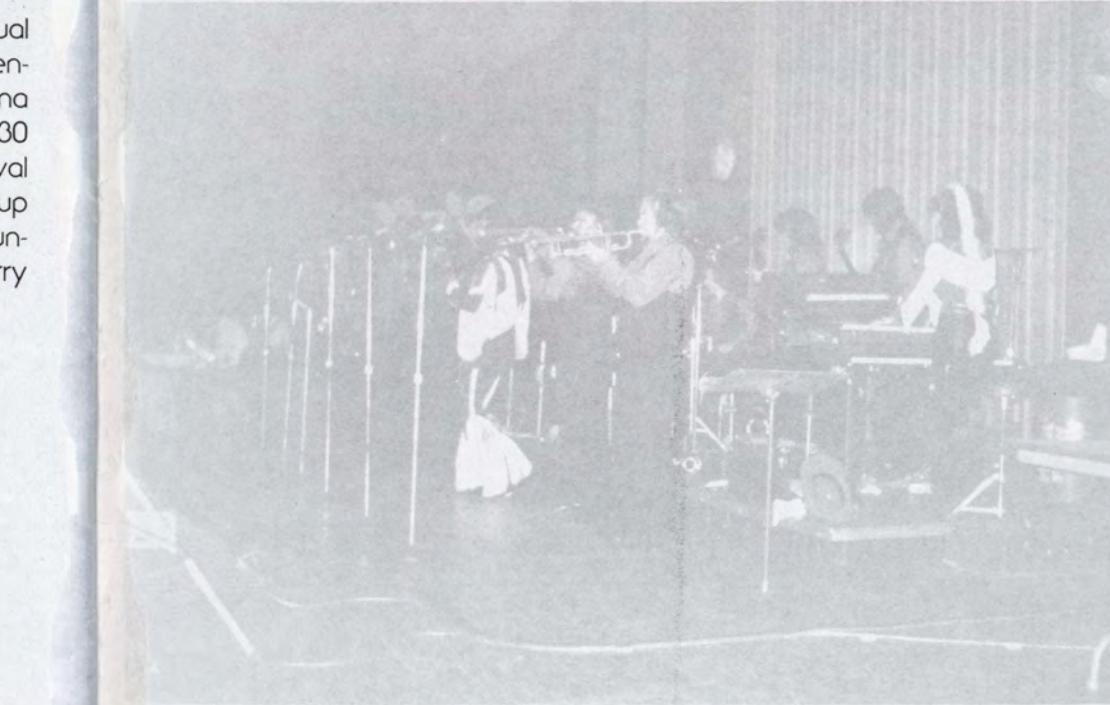

1.) The group 'Ivory' performing in front of Lewis Hall. 2.) Activities included volleyball. 3.) The audience enjoys the nice spring weather along with a two band concert on the greens.

Moonlight And Roses Sets

Moonlight and Roses set the theme this year for the annual Morningside College Spring Formal dinner and dance. An evening of wining, dining, dancing, and romance filled the Marina Inn on Friday, April 2. The fun began with a social hour at 6:30 and dinner at 7:30 pm. The dance featured the band Festival which went from 9 to 1 am. Festival is an eleven piece group which plays a variety of music including jazz, rock, and country. Chairpersons of the committee are Linda Stevens, Terry Pomrenke, and Rhett Kenney.

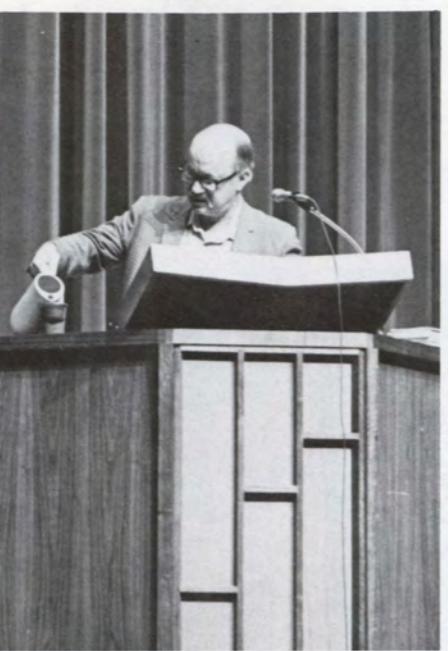

Theme For Spring Formal 1982

1.) Several couples pose for the camera at the Marina Hotel. 2.) Deb Klein and Mike Padomek. 3.) Another couple smiles pretty for the camera before the party begins. 4.) The band Festival performing at the Marina.

Convocation

Convocation is an hour program every Wednesday which hosts a variety of guests and performers. This years convocation included a dance team, poets, writers, a female mountain climber, singers, a discussion on homosexuality, the annual Honors Convocation plus many other speakers and performances.

Morningside football ended on a happy note this season with the Chiefs pulling out their best overall and NCC records in ten years. Head Coach Tim McGuire brought the team to a 5-6 overall record-the best since 1971. This was McGuire's first collegiate head coaching campaign. Six members of the squad were named to the All-NCC teams. First team members were Jay Depner and Mike Wieben. Second team members were Mark Seeman, Terry Hughes, Mark Paulsen, and Steve Schmitt.

Chief Spikers Improve Season

The Chief's volleyball squad finished the season with an improved 11-22-1 overall record. The ladies placed third in the Io-Kota Conference. In tournament action, the Chiefs placed second in the Nebraska-Wesleyan Tourney, fifth in the USD Tournament, and seventh in the NCC Tourney. Other highlights: Linda Bulin and Lisa Erwin were named to All-Conference second team and Denise Watson was named to the All-Tournament team for NCC.

Soccer Club Has Impressive Season

The Morningside Soccer Club finished an impressive season with 7-6 overall and 6-3 conference records under first year player-coach Dave Clause. The club has been in existence for 16 years. Last season the club joined the Siouxland Soccer Association comprised of 10 area teams. This year's outstanding soccer player went to the entire team. Keith Benjamin was named Mister Congeniality.

Benjamin, K. Olsen, S. Kelsey, T. Mortenson, D. Clause, B. Watkins, R. Tondreau (advisor) N.P.-W. Jahava, P. Hadley, N. Bartholomew. 3.) Concentration! 4.) Motivation!

Chiefs Return Eight Members

After losing a conference MVP, a two-time All NCC player and another starter, Head Coach Dan Callahan had some rebuilding to do this season. They did have eight returning members from last year's squad who led the Chiefs to a 3-11 North Central Conference record and a 10-17 overall record. Callahan was assisted by Hillary Thomas and Doug Iglehart.

Women's Tennis Places 5th In Tourney

The Morningside women's tennis team completed their season with a 5th place in the Io-Kora Conference Tournament. The conference meet ended the season for the Chiefs who posted a 2-4 record in duals. Both victories came over rival Briar Cliff. Jill Tasker and Becky Vermilyea were both undefeated in singles action during the regular season.

ORGANIZATIONS

Marching Band

Despite practice problems, the Morningside College Marchingband once again gave excellent performances at the football half-time shows and in parades.

The band lost its practice site in Lewis Park when the city decided to build a swimming pool there. After weighing the three possible choices, the music department picked the lawn in front of Lewis Hall as their practice site.

1.) The percussion section performing at half-time. 2.) Band director Gerge Moore leads the way. 3.) The marchingband "struts its stuff" down the avenue. 4.) What a belly, Kim! 5.) The drill team adds some pizzazz to the show. 6.) The band performs at the Homecoming parade.

Jazz Festival Highlighted With

The 10th Annual Tri-State Jazz Festival was held at Morningside College Feb. 11-13. Special guests this year were Clark Terry, Bill Watrous, and Doc Severensen. Gary Schlechta is the man who came up with the idea for an annual jazz festival here. The idea has been a success, so much so, that six band directors had to be turned down this year.
