A MESSAGE from THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT

Parnell H. Mahoney

This fiftieth year for Morningside College should be the best, the finest, in her history.

It is true, of course, that the war effort has materially reduced the number of regularly enrolled undergraduate men. The United States Army's cadets made up that reduction, however. We are fortunate that these boys are a fine group—clean-cut, hard working, well disciplined. We have approximately two hundred fifty undergraduate women. The teaching staff is at full strength; the courses offered are more complete, more balanced than ever.

Your alumni association, in co-operation with the faculty, the Fiftieth Year Committee, the Board of Trustees, and the undergraduates, plans a full program as part of the fiftieth year celebration. Your alumni bulletin will fully outline these plans as they develop. Homecoming Week-end is scheduled October 15, 16, and 17th. We are particularly anxious that everyone be present who can possibly do so. Preliminary surveys show us that we will have one of the finest groups of returning alumni we have had, and a full program of entertainment is planned. Make your plans now to be with us.

This is MORNINGSIDE'S YEAR!

Blue Network Program Honors Morningside

"Every Morningsider at his Radio" at a time corresponding to 12 noon, Central War Time, is the slogan for Homecoming this year. By this means each one may return in spirit to campus scenes and activities and have a part in the Homecoming festivities.

"Wake Up America," a Blue Network broadcast, will originate from the Morningside Campus Sunday noon, October 17, from 12 to 12:45, Central War Time. The "Wake Up America" program will climax the Homecoming event. The subject to be discussed is "Can the Liberal Arts College be Revitalized?" The national educational leaders for this program will be Dr. Howard L. Bevis, President of Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio; Dr. Carter Davidson, President of Knox College, Galesburg, Illinois; Dr. William Peirce, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the radio forum, "Wake Up America."

A short statement regarding the progress of Morningside and greetings to Morningsiders everywhere will be given by Dr. Roadman. All Morningside radios will cry out to be privileged to carry this college program to Morningside friends.

Dr. T. C. Stephens

Thomas Calderwood Stephens, A. B., M. D., Professor of Biology, came to Morningside in 1906. Since that time he has introduced countless students to the fascinating life histories of the plants and animals among which we live. He has taught them, along with the facts, keenness of observation, attention to detail, exactness—in short, the essentials demanded by any science.

Regularly, from Biology, the embryo scientists have eagerly enrolled in his other courses—embryology, histology, cryptogamic botany, ornithology. Whichever course they take they leave Dr. Stephens' laboratory with so thorough a basic training that successive steps in their professional courses come easily to them. Indeed, the list of scientists whom Dr. Stephens has started on their careers might be taken from "Who's Who."

Whenever any one of the students who has penetrated the secrets of the "advanced lab," comes back to visit Morningside his first objective is to climb the south stairs, turn right, go round the book stacks, and meet Doctor Stephens' welcoming smile. The smile and the interest are as warm for the student who has turned her scientific training to child care and canning as for the one who has attained high honor in a profession.

The Doctor is a quiet man, unassuming. The students see him striding along, brief case in hand, looking a bit absent-minded, perhaps, and unless they enroll in Biology, they have no conception of the power and persistence there is in the man. He has devoted his life to science, and has inspired an amazing number of men and women, in

Dr. George W. Dunn, '21, In Summer School Commencement

Summer School Commencement was held Wednesday, August 25, in Grace Church, with 12 graduates receiving diplomas. Dr. George W. Dunn's subject was "Eyes that See the Invisible."

Theodore Walensky had left for service in the Marines two days prior to the commencement date. His father, Mr. Grant Walensky, received his diploma for him. Ensign Clark Watkins, a boyhood friend of Stanley Munger, received Stanley's diploma. Ensign Watkins was on brief leave after having assisted in the Sicilian invasion landing. His ship had been employed in returning prisoners to the United States, which made possible his leave.

Five of the graduates will teach. They are Bette Buell, Kingsley; Helen Eyres, Sioux City; Harriett Kirby, George; Truia Gearas, Marengo; Miles Tommerasen, Canton, S. Dak.

Francis Brockman will enter Boston Theological School and Murphy Duncan will continue at his pastorate in Arthur, Iowa.

Ann Holliday, of Sioux City, will engage in social work. Ruth Walker expects to be called into active duty in the WAVES soon.

Three boys have entered the armed services. Stanley P. Manger, and Sibley B. Newman are in Officers' Training at the Midshipmen's School in Chicago; Theodore Walensky is stationed with the Marines at Farris Island, South Carolina.

$250,000 Campaign Fund Approved for Morningside

A $250,000 campaign fund for Morningside College was approved Thursday by the Northwest Iowa conference at Fort Dodge, $100,000 to be spent for a new science building, $23,539.92 "for much needed improvements" and the remainder of the fund to retire indebtedness of $126,461.08. The greater part of the indebtedness is $93,855.08 on the Women's residence hall.

these thirty-odd years of service, to notable achievements in his field. No man can do more.

Doctor Stephens has spent most of his summers at the Iowa Lakeside Laboratory on Okoboji. Those of us fortunate enough to have worked there with him have an endless number of happy memories of the association. Through his interest in birds—the founding of the Sioux City Bird Club, contributions to scientific magazines, offices he has held in state and national scientific societies—he has made many friends, not only in this community but over Iowa and the whole United States. All these people have had their interest and enjoyment of nature increased many fold. Yet with all this to his credit, I think the Doctor is proud only of the achievements of his students.

FRESHMEN ENROLL

The opening of college this fall found Morningside ready to welcome a fine, enthusiastic group of freshmen. This class, numbering around one hundred, about 25 percent of which are boys, makes up in quality what it lacks in quantity. The traditional green caps are beginning to appear, plans for freshmen-sophomore day are in progress, and these new youngsters already seem to be very much a part of Morningside. It will be college as usual for all civilian students.

My Dear Leon and Alumni Living Endowment Committee:

May I personally and in the name of Morningside College thank you and the alumni whom you have inspired for the splendid achievement to date in the Living Endowment movement.

During the first year, which closed at Commencement, 1942, seventy-seven people had joined with you in an annual pledge of loyalty to Morningside College and her needs. The total amount subscribed in the first year was $1,600.

During the second year, culminating at Commencement in June, 1943, 216 members had joined your ranks, with a total income to the College of $6,484.00.

In addition to the employment of Mrs. Florence Montgomery Kingsbury as secretary, $1,000 has been used in the purchase of library books.

Every alumnus and former student is proud of and happy for the inspiration which you and your committee have given to this work. Many have expressed gratitude that you have persisted in the effort to start this movement. I am frequently assured that it will grow and multiply many fold.

Nothing increases success like success. Your success, to date, is a guarantee of an increasing momentum for the future.

Most sincerely, Earl A. Roadman

MRS. CAMPBELL

Morningside Alumni will be grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Campbell, who passed away at her home on Wednesday morning Sept. 15. Her death is a great loss to the college, the community, and a great part of the world. Her interests were broad, her nature generous, and her spirit unconquerable.

For 25 years before the outbreak of the present war, Mrs. Campbell conducted European tours. She had made 24 such tours and trips to South America, two to Hawaii and three to Alaska. The last trip to South America was made by air in 1940 and covered about 60,000 miles.

She spoke five languages; English, French, German, Italian, and Spanish.

Those comprising her tours came from every state in the union. These fellow tourists she liked to call her "family". She kept in touch with all by writing an annual letter which she termed her "family letter." She came, her friends said, to be regarded as a force in inter-American relations between her native land and the nations she visited.

She aided financially students enrolled at Morningside College, from China and South America. Among these are Emilio Arredondo of La Paz, Bolivia, now a student at Morningside. Another, Sofia Orejuela now a student at the University of Denver.

She and her husband both served during the world war. He was with the Y.M.C.A., and she was a canteen hostess. She went to Germany with the army of occupation serving several months there.

She contributed most generously to the cause of missions, education, and promotion of World Peace.

Mrs. Campbell was a member of Grace Methodist Church, Chapter D X, P. E. O., the Quota Club, the Business and Professional Womens' Club, the Sioux City Woman's Club, Knife and Fork Club, American Association of University Women, Sorosis and Fortnightly Clubs. To all she gave enthusiastically of her time and ability.

Mrs. Campbell was born August 4, 1871, in Early, Ia. She was a graduate of Cornell College at Mount Vernon, Ia., took postgraduate work at Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y., and with her husband studied later in Heidelberg. Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Phil Wadell, of Villard, Minn.; a brother, William Reeder of Early; two nephews, Douglas Reeder of Longview, Wash.; and First Lieut. Football Dropped at Morningside For the Duration

Due to lack of eligible players and war-time transportation problems, Morningside College has definitely dropped football for the coming season. While local fans will no doubt be disappointed in not having the football games to attend, college officials are more than justified in omitting football for the duration.

Members of the North Central Conference voted last spring in Minneapolis to drop the restrictions on players and all members have dropped football this fall. Some hopes were entertained here during the summer that sufficient players could be rounded up to have a team, but the armed forces took practically all available players, leaving less than twenty men from which to shape a team.

The College has not abandoned athletics as it is conducting an active program this fall for all students who are physically fit. Unless war conditions prohibit, a full basketball schedule will be followed during the winter months.

Homecoming will be held this year on Saturday, October 16th. Highlighting the activities will be a football game between the 81st College Training Detachment at Morningside and one from a unit of similar size stationed in the area.

MILITARY NOTES

Lieut. Lowell C. Kindig, '35, aboard a merchant ship which was under enemy attack 12 times, has been commended for "courage, endurance, and devotion to duty" by the assistant chief of naval personnel.

The letter of commendation says in part: "This bureau has been informed of your outstanding service as officer in charge of the armed guard on board a United States merchant vessel on a protracted voyage on which you were away from the United States in excess of six months.

"During this voyage this vessel was subjected to heavy enemy aerial and submarine attack. You led your men with valor to combat the enemy, and in official reports your gun crew is credited with the probable destruction of one enemy plane."

The ship was one of four merchant vessels loaded with identical cargoes to run the axis gauntlet through the Mediterranean at a time when no allied vessel had passed safely through the sea for months.

At present Lieut. and Mrs. Kindig (Esther White, '36), are living at Gulfport, Miss., where Lowell is an instructor in the Armed Guard School.

Lieut. Ralph O. Brown, '41, has been decorated with the Air Medal, and cited for meritorious achievement while participating in an aerial flight over Talasea, New Britain, according to word received by Mrs. Brown, (Betty Lou Saunderson, ex '42).

He was a member of the crew of a B-24 type aircraft engaged in an armed reconnaissance mission when an enemy cargo vessel was sighted. Bombs were dropped and two direct hits were scored on the vessel, which sank within three minutes. This aircraft then continued on its flight and dropped the remaining bombs north of the Gasmata runway. Lt. Brown also shot down two zeros recently over New Britain.
