Homecoming Biggest and Best in Years

"M" MEN HONOR "SAUNDY"

One of the highlights of the homecoming festivities was the annual "M" club luncheon Saturday noon, October 8th, at the Martin Hotel, held in honor of "Saundy" and in appreciation of his thirty years of coaching at Morningside. One hundred and twenty six men were present to pay tribute to him on this occasion, and many more who were not able to be present sent written regrets which were read at the luncheon.

Following the invocation by Dr. Roadman, Axel Beck of Elk Point, S. D., member of the famous football teams of 1917 and 1919, was introduced as toastmaster and master of ceremonies. Les Davis, '24, of Sioux City, introduced the members of the football team of 1919 who were present. Among those were Faye Rorapaugh, "Red" Day, Les Davis, Axel Beck and Percy Michaelson. Mr. Davis then read a newspaper announcement of the death of Turk Eiffert, '17, St. Cloud, Minnesota, one of Morningside's star football players during his years in school. A few moments of silence were observed in memory of this former "M" man.

The following "M" men were called on for short talks and reminiscences: Judge George Prichard, '13, Onawa, Iowa; Ed Pirwitz, '24, Madison, S. D.; Carroll Northrup, '20, Sioux City; Elmer Hansen, '30, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Ralph Bastian, '29, Ft. Dodge, Ia.; "Red" Williams, '29, Onawa, Ia.; "Pete" Knudsen, '27, Bushton, Kans.; Bernard Feikema, '42, Hospers, Ia.; Horace Wulf, '19, Chicago, Ill.; and Percy Michaelson, '25, Fargo, N. D. Special honor was accorded those who played under Coach Saunderson from the time he began coaching Morningside football teams in 1912 until his retirement in 1942. Significantly enough, the dinner took place on the thirtieth anniversary of the 1919 season which saw the Maroons climax probably the greatest season in the history of the school by losing to Notre Dame's famed "Fighting Irish" 14 to 6.

Wilson Clark, '17, Sioux City, on behalf of the "M" club presented "Saundy" with a gold wrist watch and a scroll containing the signatures of all those present at the luncheon as well as the names of all the "M" men and friends who contributed to the gifts. Mr. Clark also presented a gift of a silver service to "Saundy" for Mrs. Saunderson.

Following the presentation of the gifts and a short speech by "Saundy", talks were given by Al Buckingham, Director of Athletics, and by George Allen, Football Coach. To close the program, movies of the Morningside College—South Dakota State game were shown by Coach Allen.

The members of the general committee in charge of the luncheon were: former basketball coach, Honie Rogers, '25, past athletic director, Les Davis, '24, present athletic director, Al Buckingham, '39 and Faye Rorapaugh, '21, Maroon tackle on the Saunderson team of 1919. This committee, through the Morningsider, desires to thank all those who took part in the program and who assisted in the arrangements for the luncheon, as well as all those "M" men and others who contributed to the gifts for Mr. and Mrs. Saunderson, and hopes that this account of the dinner will serve as an answer to their request for a report of the banquet. The luncheon was a happy event, greatly enjoyed by all who were present.

Homecoming, with all its festivities and traditions, held sway on the Morningside campus for three beautiful fall days, October 7, 8 and 9. Although the celebration came only three weeks after the opening of school and preparations consequently had to be made at top speed, busy days and nights spent in making arrangements and completing floats found the students with everything in readiness to welcome home Morningside's former sons and daughters.

A victory-hungry band of Maroon warriors outfought a heavier Bison herd at Public School Stadium on Saturday evening, October 8, to win the first Homecoming game in twelve years. This victory over North Dakota State University was the third North Central Conference win this season for Coach George Allen's promising team and added the finishing touch to a memorable weekend.

The dance in Alumni Gym at 8:30 Friday evening opened the activities of the weekend. The Homecoming Queen, Miss Marjorie Walton, a senior and member of Kappa Zeta Chi sorority, and her attendants were crowned during the intermission by Dr. Roadman. Attending the Queen were Miss Anne Madison, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John Madison (Anna Beard) both '16, of Sioux Falls; Miss Jayne Marie Soiseth and Miss Zell Scott and their escorts. Throughout the evening open house was held by the home economics department in the A. W. Jones Science Hall and at the Barn.

Led by the college band, the traditional parade, scheduled for 9 a. m. Saturday morning, started promptly on its march through the business section of downtown Sioux City while admiring spectators offered enthusiastic comments on the beauty and originality of the floats. The snappy East High band, midway in the parade, drew much applause. "Indians" on foot and horseback, in war paint and feathers, bringing home the North Dakota State "Bison," brought Alpha Tau Delta fraternity first prize in the parade competition. Popular street comment was that if "down easterners" had seen the howling "redmen," their suspicions concerning the hazards of western frontier life would have been confirmed. Second prize went to Gamma Iota Alpha fraternity, whose float, Kickoff to Victory, portrayed a giant football resting on the toe of a giant shoe. Imaginary water cascaded down grassy slopes in the float, Morningside Springs and North Dakota Falls, which gave the third place award to Mu Pi Epsilon, honorary music fraternity.

At noon, besides the special "M" Club luncheon honoring Jason M. Saunderson, sorority and fraternity luncheons were held. Kappa Pi Alpha sorority held their reunion at Green Gables, Alpha Sigma sorority and the Alpha Tau Delta fraternity at the Martin, Kappa Zeta Chi at the West and Phi Sigma at Toney's Homestead. The Gamma Iota Alpha fraternity held a breakfast at 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning at Green Gables.

Sororities and fraternities held open house during the afternoon at their respective houses and halls. Alumni dropped in at the Barn for a chat and cup of coffee with Miss Mirah Mills and Miss Ethel Murray acting as hostesses.

The newly elected officers of the Alumni Association were installed at the annual business meeting held at 5:15 in the drawing room of Lillian E. Dimmitt Hall with William Danforth, retiring alumni president, presiding. A report on the progress of the "Fifty Year Committee" was given by David L. Wickens, '13, of Washington, D. C. Wm. C. Woll reported on the progress of the Living Endowment Fund. Short talks by athletic director Al Buckingham, football coach George Allen and Dr. Roadman were enjoyed before the group adjourned to the dining room where a cafeteria dinner was served. Mrs. Harold Wright (Dorothy Jones, '42), a new member of the alumni executive committee, was general chairman of the dinner, assisted by Mrs. Ted Gilbert (Ardis Bergeson, '30), Mrs. Ralph Crary (Margaret Coleman, '26), Mrs. Howard Down (Alice Bushnell, '23), Mrs. Louis Croston (Hazel Surber, '29), Mrs. George Iseminger (Marjorie Primmer, '39), Mrs. Al Buckingham (Marian Miller, ex'42) and Mrs. Robert Brooks (Lauretta King, '42).

Homecoming celebration ended on a religious note with a special church service Sunday morning at Grace Methodist church. Dr. Earl A. Roadman introduced the principal speaker, Rev. Ralph E. Baker, class of 1932, now pastor of the Methodist church at Spirit Lake, Iowa. Mrs. Baker, the former Chalice Moore, is also a Morningside graduate of the class of 1932. Rev. Mr. Baker emphasized three points in his sermon: what's wrong with the world, what are we going to do about it and Christ is the answer. The speaker also reminisced about his college days at Morningside and lauded the school for recent material improvements.

REUNION TO BE HELD IN DES MOINES

All Morningsiders living in Des Moines and those who are planning to attend the Iowa State Teachers' Convention there on November 3, 4 and 5 are requested to send reservations by November 2 for the Morningside reunion luncheon to Mr. and Mrs. Roland Grefe, 2116 39th Street, Des Moines.

The luncheon will be held on Friday noon, November 4 in the Crystal Room of the Standard Club. This meeting with former classmates and friends as well as the faculty members of your Alma Mater is always a pleasurable convention interlude so do come to visit and reminisce across the luncheon table.

HOYT J. GRANTER NAMED SECRETARY

Hoyt J. Granter, '39, has been appointed secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Sioux City and will assume his duties October 1. In addition to his duties as secretary of the junior chamber, Hoyt also will serve as membership secretary of the senior chamber. He has been associated with the Sioux City Credit Bureau for more than two years. Before that he was with the United States employment service here. The new junior chamber executive served more than two and a half years with the airforce in world war 2. He saw service in England and in Germany. The Granters reside at 915 34th street. They have a two year old daughter, Linda.

AGORA SPONSORS ALL-COLLEGE SING

Reviving a campus program inaugurated during the war, Agora Club sponsored an All-College Sing in Alumni Gym on Friday evening, September 30. Mr. H. W. Hartman, assistant director of admissions, who had been appointed emcee, reviewed the competition rules for the 10 participating organizations. Three songs were presented by each competing group, the Alma Mater and another school song being required. The choice of the third number was left to the performing group and the selections displayed originality and clever arrangements. The competition was close, with the freshman girls of Ishkoodah winning first, Mu Phi placing second, and the faculty women taking third place. Prizes were provided by Dr. Roadman and consisted of a trophy and cash awards.

CLASSMATES GET TOGETHER

On Sunday, September twenty-fifth, a reunion of several members of the class of 1939 and their families was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baker (Miriam Hawthorn, '39) and son, Kent, on the Hillside Turkey Farm near Moville. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Allan McClain (Virginia Smith, '39) and daughters, Nancy and Linda of Lake Park; Miss Irene Anderson, '39, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Swanson (Clara Louise McBurney, '39) and daughter, Barbara of Essex and Loyd Riedesel (husband of the late Bertha Conner Riedesel, '39) and children, Sydna, Lynn, and Reyna, of Glidden. This group has held a reunion once or twice yearly since graduation. All of the girls were members of Alpha Sigma sorority. With the exception of Irene Anderson, who is assistant supervisor of Visiting Nurses in Minneapolis, all now live on Iowa farms.

A phase of speech department activities originally designed to train members of the class to speak on the radio has developed into something far more pretentious at Morningside College.

It has resulted in a college radio studio, complete except for actual transmission facilities. Programs originating in the college studio now can be "piped" to a regular transmitting station and go out over the airwaves as "live" programs. Formerly all college broadcasts were made directly from the transmitting station studio, or were recorded in the college studio and reproduced as a "transcribed" program.

One result of the innovation at the college is the organization of the College Hill Broadcasters, a group of students of the speech department and the class in dramatics. The Broadcasters plan to produce a series of programs including dramas, children's programs and music. A biweekly sports broadcast, originating in the college studio is now being presented through a Sioux City station, KCOM.

The equipment of the studio was constructed by the students, the electronics portion of the work being designed by Arden Smith, assisted by Sterling Stewart, and Prof. Richard Flowers, head of the speech department.

Almost all sound effects are possible with the studio's equipment. A turntable or "sound wagon", complete with a supply of records and mechanical devices, makes possible a broad list of sound effects.

The college radio studio was constructed in a building at the rear of the administration building, and consists of three rooms. One is the broadcasting booth, which contains microphones, sound effects facilities and other equipment. Another is a classroom equipped with loud speakers connected with the broadcasting booth by an intercommunication system. Between these two rooms is a glass enclosed and sound insulated control room.

Through the new facilities of the speech department, an opportunity is presented for students who are interested in a radio career. Only 78 other colleges in the United States have comparable setups.

The studio staff at the college radio station, made up entirely of students includes Jim Moody, coordinator of broadcasting; Jack Foxen, production manager; Bob Bollinger, script editor; George Brumbaugh, music director; and Charles Alexander, chief of publicity. Other students are staff members under these chiefs.

The sportscaster on the current sports program is Max Rawson. Boots Yarborough is script writer and Jack Foxen, producer.

It is planned later to have college broadcasts carried to loud speakers stationed at various points on the campus—classrooms, dormitories and assembly rooms.

Richard Donald, Jr., born to Mr. ('48) and Mrs. Richard Loffswold on October 11 in Sioux City. Linda Gay is the 2½ year old daughter of the Loffswolds. Dick is attending law school in Topeka, Kansas.

Barbara Jean, born to Mr. ('38) and Mrs. Edgar McCracken (Helen Pearson, '39) on October 12 in Sioux City. Marjorie Ann, about 2, is the older sister.

Roger Lee, a third son born to Mr. (ex'45) and Mrs. Everett Barr (Leone Sargent, '45) on October 10 in Algona, Iowa. The older sons are Gary and Douglas.

ATiEND OPENING OF NEW STORE

Two Morningside Alumni have risen to high position with Sears, Roebuck and Company. On the program of the preview opening of the new store of Sears, Roebuck & Co. in Sioux City, two graduates of Morningside had a prominent place: Gordon Metcalf, class of '29, now group manager of the company's Chicago and suburban stores and Charles W. Bach, class of '27, field officer of the company's north-western zone.

At a reception and banquet attended by about 400, both congratulated Sioux City for its business improvement campaign and the building of the new auditorium and could not refrain from mentioning the growth of Morningside College and its building program.

During student days Gordon was known to all students as "Student Body Prexy"; "Chuck", as the best of Halfbacks.

MAROON FROSH DEFEAT TUTORS

The Morningside College freshman football team won the second game of their three-game schedule by defeating the Wayne State Teachers College freshmen 13 to 0 Monday afternoon, October 17, at Bass Field.

They posted their initial win over the Augustana College freshmen, coming out on the long end of a 12 to 7 battle at Sioux Falls, S. D., several weeks ago.

The Morningside frosh scored their first touchdown midway in the second period when they took a short Wayne punt on the Wayne 45-yard line. A 44-yard pass play from Skip Cowan to Tony Levitto set up the first tally. Levitto snagged the ball on the 25 and was run out of bounds on the 1-yard line. Dick Wiekert, Omaha, went off tackle on the next play to score. Wiekert's placekick for the extra point was also good.

The Maroons scored again in the third period on a 25-yard reverse play by Levitto. A pass play from halfback Cowan to end John Boice from the 40-yard line again set up the scoring situation. Wiekert's kick for the extra point was blocked.

CAGE SEASON BEGINS

The first varsity practice session of the 1949-50 basketball season began October 10 with practice drills scheduled at 3:30 p. m. each day. Lost from the top eight men of last year's varsity through graduation are regulars Howard Harmon, Henry Langstrat, and Bob Horsfall, and substitute Don Coome. However, the other four, Dick Wiedenfeld, Clayton Bristow, John Wiedenfeld, and Red Norris return, along with Basil Brock and Bob Downing from last season's varsity and Johnnie Williams, who played on the 1947-48 team. "These returnees," says Coach Buckingham, "should make a fine nucleus which, when rounded out with returning junior varsity members and transfer students, will form a team that will give a good account of itself." Ox Held, sidelined last year due to a football injury, will be back in action. Bob Brock, Forrest McElmurray, Bill Lyle, Harold Adams, Jack Reardon, and Loren Moll from last year's junior varsity and two transfer students from junior colleges, Ray Berry and Doug Gresham, are expected to add depth to the squad.

The North Central Conference is set up on a round-robin basis this year, playing six games at home and an equal number away. Minnesota University (Duluth Branch), has been added to the Maroon schedule.

The freshman basketball aspirants have been working out on their own, and "looking good," says Mr. Buckingham. "They have height, and some have a lot of ability."

The Allee Gymnasium should be ready for the opening basketball game with Wayne State Teachers on November 26.

Athletic Director Al Buckingham states that this does not mean the building will be completely finished by then, however. The exact completion date has not been set, but the floor and surrounding area is expected to be ready for use. Folding bleachers have been ordered and installation of them will begin around November first. Plans have been made for a basketball clinic during the day, followed by the Wayne game in the evening.

SISTER'S TEA

The annual Big and Little Sister Tea was held Friday afternoon, September 16, in the drawing room at Lillian E. Dimmitt Hall. Sponsored by Agora the tea is held every fall for the purpose of introducing new students to each other.

Miss Mirah Mills and Mrs. Myron Graber served the girls from a beautifully decorated table.

Before the school year commences all the returning girls are assigned a little sister from the incoming group of girls. It is the big sister's duty to acquaint her little sister with the traditions and customs of Morningside.

ALUMNI OFFICERS FOR 1949-50

Installed at the annual business meeting on Saturday, October 8th, in the drawing room of Lillian E. Dimmitt Hall, were the newly elected officers of the Alumni Association. Former Morningsiders returned over 900 ballots from all parts of the United States with several coming from Alaska. Even with members from the class of 1900 through to the '49ers, recently admitted to the Tribe of the Sioux, participating and registering their choice for officers, the final results were in doubt until all ballots had been tabulated.

NEE FAMILY TO STUDY IN SIOUX CITY

East High School and Morningside College have had a boost in enrollment with the arrival by air of five youthful members of the Nee family of Hongkong, China. They are pictured above at the Sioux City municipal airport with Morningside and East High School officials who formed a welcoming committee. In the picture from left to right are Bernard Hensley, senior at Morningside College and president of the Cosmopolitan Club, which is composed of foreign students attending college; Paul Clark, director of admissions at Morningside; Cora Pei-ying Nee, Bessie Pei-ming, Mabel Pei-chu, John Kwe-yih Nee, Lena Wen, a relative of Hongkong; S. Y. Nee, Hongkong merchant and father of the young people and S. M. Hickman, principal of East High School. Mr. Nee and Miss Wen are continuing by air to New York. Mabel has enrolled in Morningside College, while John, Bessie and twin sisters, Cora and Dora, have enrolled in East High School. Mabel, whose application for admission to Morningside College, resulted in the arrival of the rest of the family, will study religious education and plans to be a missionary in her own country.

IN MEMORIAM

Paul Eiffert

Paul (Turk) Eiffert, a graduate of the class of 1917, died on September 28th of a heart attack at his home in Haven township near St. Cloud, Minn. Following his graduation from Morningside, where he had a brilliant athletic career, "Turk" played professional baseball for several years after which he settled on a farm home near St. Cloud. He was married to Mabel Stark on June 24, 1938 and she, a daughter, Faith, aged 9 and a son, Herman, aged 6, survive. We print the following tribute to Turk which was published in the St. Cloud paper.

And Turk Eiffert is Taken Out of the Lineup Too—

Some will remember him as an umpire, others as a baseball player or as a conservationist, bird-lover and outdoorsman . . .

But many will think of him for his witticisms, his clean, dry humor and his friendliness . . . One of his close friends, Walter Zapp, told me this: "Turk Eiffert was one of the finest baseball players that ever played in Central Minnesota. His ability as a ball player was only exceeded by his fine character. I hunted with him for a number of years and to him a limit was a limit and shooting hours were shooting hours. How I wish there were more like him" . . .

Paul Eiffert, who died the other day, was known as Turk, and well known . . . As a young man, he was so good that Knute Rockne picked him as halfback on his small college All-American team—when All-American teams meant something . . . He was one of the three men at Morningside in Sioux City, who won four letters in one term—in football, basketball, track and baseball . . . That he was good there is no doubt . . . For six years he played with Class A clubs of the St. Louis Cardinals, and in 1921 he was in the big tent with the Cards . . . Later he went to the Michigan-Ontario league—returning here to play, manage and coach with some of the greatest semi-pro and pro teams this city ever had prior to its affiliation with the Northern league . . . In 1936 he became affiliated with the Central Minnesota Umpires association, and while operating the home farm with his brother, Dick, he became known for his integrity and ability as an official—being called out for the tough ones in City league softball as well as baseball.

He loved the outdoors, and everything in it . . . He wouldn't shoot a doe, he kept records for years on the flight of birds . . . He knew all the plants native to the area . . . He was much interested in conservation of all kinds . . . For the last three years he has been chairman of the Sherburne county AAA program . . . But his humor still is his standout quality, and when people visit the home farm they'll probably continue to get a small chuckle mixed with a tear when they think of him . . . For near the entrance to his home he had the little insignia: "Turk's Dugout" . . .

MAROONS NEAR TOP IN CONFERENCE COMPETITION

With one loss to South Dakota State and a tie with South Dakota University, Morningside is closely edging Iowa Teachers and North Dakota State in the North Central Conference race.

South Dakota State — Morningside

The Morningside Maroons fell victim to a second half surge and were defeated by the South Dakota State Jackrabbits by a score of 27 to 20 on September 24.

The Maroons, riding the crest of a two game winning streak, had previously blasted Buena Vista by a score of 20 to 0 in a driving rain, and spilled the North Dakota Bison by a score of 12 to 0 in a thrilling upset victory.

The game with State featured a battle of offenses all the way, with the Jackrabbits exhibiting a superb slight-of-hand performance off the "T", and the Maroon's displaying a powerful single wing that scored touchdowns on drives of 87 and 94 yards. The longest touchdown thrust of the Dakotans covered a distance of 67 yards.

Faulty tackling was one of the strongest factors in the defeat of the Maroons as many of the Bunnies' gains came after tacklers had either missed or bounced off. The Maroons secondary stopped many plays throughout the game as the forward wall crumbled before the Jackrabbit attack.

Maroon defensive stand-outs were Ed Nelson at tackle and Bob Hanson in the line backing spot. Offensively, Connie Callahan and Bruce Pickford were impressive.

Morningside — Augustana

An underdog Maroon eleven rose to brilliant heights Saturday, October 1, to upset the favored Vikings of Augustana by a score of 26 to 7.

The close score of 13 to 7 at the half hardly told a true story, as the Maroon eleven viciously smashed the Vikings for long marches. Morningside outdowned the Vikings for the first half by a 9 to 3 margin, while rolling up approximately 180 yards by rushing to about 60 yards for the Augustana eleven.

The game was rough and bitterly fought by the two teams, with an Augustana back being ejected for committing a personal foul of the two-fisted variety.

The scoring stepped up in the fourth quarter as the Augie eleven crumbled under the crushing play of the Maroon attack.

Scoring for the Maroons were Callahan, who accounted for two, and Jack Reardon and Wally Piper with one touchdown each.

The second quarter furnished plenty of spectator excitement, as Callahan booted a 73-yard quick kick and the Vikings completed a pass play of 46 yards, setting up their only touchdown.

The Maroons presented a strong defensive forward wall and a good pass defense, while the Vikings were outplayed throughout the game.

Maroon Backs—Pickford, Hanson, Jones, Callahan—With a "Will to Win"

Morningside — North Dakota State

Sioux City Public School Stadium was the scene of mayhem two consecutive weeks as a tough Maroon eleven threw two highly rated outfits for 39 to 20 and 34 to 7 losses.

The first of the two victories was at the expense of a ponderous North Dakota State team which was battered unmercifully by the vicious attack of the Morningsiders. The Maroons held a convincing statistical edge in all departments of play as they outdowned the Bison 18 to 9.

NDS simply could not move against the Morningsiders' fast-charging line, while the Maroon backs were having a field day, picking up yardage at will.

All of the Bison scoring occurred during the final period, as they tallied for three touchdowns and seven of nine first downs.

Morningside — Concordia

On Thursday, October 13, was staged a battle of two of the slickest offenses seen in a long while at the stadium. The Maroons were host to a highly rated Concordia eleven in a Dad's night contest. The fathers could have been nothing but pleased as their sons dumped the slightly favored Minnesotans to the tune of 34 to 7.

Both outfits displayed smooth offensive play, with the Morningsiders putting up the more powerful defense. The Maroons were again on the long end of statistical count, outdowning the Cobbers 19 to 11. This game featured two amazing goal line stands, one by each team, but the Maroons again had the stuff to beat down all resistance and emerge on top.

Morningside — South Dakota University

Fighting a defensive battle most of the way last Saturday, October 22, the Maroons just managed to pull even with a Coyote team that was up for its Dakota Day performance and came away with a 6-all tie.

The Coyotes drew first blood as they pounded over for their only touchdown in the latter stages of the first quarter. On the ensuing kickoff Connie Callahan pulled in the ball and from behind his own goal line powered his way beyond the mid-field strip, then suddenly veered to the sidelines and out-raced the last desperate defenders to the goal line. It was a dazzling run back of over 100 yards and probably was the play that bolstered the Maroon spirit to stave off the numerous Dakota advances that followed.

The Maroons missed two other game winning chances when a too rushed field goal attempt failed as first half seconds were running out, and when a third quarter pass from Callahan slipped out of Pickford's hands after a desperate off-balance attempt.

Strong defensive Maroon line play when it was needed and seven fumbles kept the Coyotes from scoring again, but they were constantly threatening.

The Dakota squad dominated most of the statistics and in general forced most of the play in a game that featured little stellar football. At best it was a ragged contest with the Maroons hitting an off day and probably both teams trying a bit too hard under the pressure of the traditional rivalry and the homecoming staging.
