The Sioux 1919

The annual year book of Morningside College published by the Junior Class

Volume Seventeen

Dedication

To those students, alumni and former students of Morningside College who are now offering their lives in the active service of our country to restore justice, democracy and peace to the world, this book is humbly and respectfully dedicated by the class of Nineteen Nineteen.

IN MEMORY OF ALBERT E. BEHMER WHO SO WILLINGLY GAVE UP
HIS LIFE FOR THE CAUSE OF HUMANITY

A NOTHER year has passed and the cycle of months has witnessed our country engaged in a struggle of momentous import to all the world. To give a picture of Morningside College, during this, our first year in the war—to put into some permanent form the record of our work, our activities and our organizations, this has been the opportunity and the purpose of this Sioux. Our thoughts, our plannings, and our efforts have gone into it. We leave it in your hands—for your criticism, for your approval.

THE CAMPUS

A Review of the Year

(By Pres. A. E. Craig)

The state of war in which our country finds itself has dominated the life of all our Colleges during the year 1917-1918. A large number of our men, especially of the upper classes, have responded to their country's call for service. This has had its depressing effect, nevertheless the attendance of Morningside College has been maintained at our unusually high level. Our loss in the Collegiate Department has been only about 5 per cent. When we learn that the average loss of Colleges in our section of the country has been over 17 per cent we have reason for congratulation. Our Freshman class was the largest in the history of the College.

The cultivation of a warm and yet discriminating patriotism has been one of the foremost purposes of the College. To this end addresses by representative men have been given at the Chapel almost weekly. Classes in the study of patriotism were organized among both the students and faculty. These classes enrolled more than 75 per cent of the College and produced very satisfactory results. Classes in First Aid, Nursing and Food Conservation were organized and did much systematic work.

In spite of the war activities, College life proceeded much as usual. Morningside enjoyed the most successful year in athletics in its history. The game with Notre Dame drew large attention, while the defeat of South Dakota University, our historic rival, was an event of great interest. In Forensics, we captured first place in the State Prohibition contest and second in the State Oratorical. While no especial activity in financial matters has been put forth it should not be concluded that the College is at a standstill. It is laying its plans for the greatest "drive" in its career. A campaign for $750,000 was launched at the meeting of the Board of Trustees in May. Towards this amount the General Education Board has contributed $150,000. This is perhaps the largest sum that Board has contributed at one time to an institution the size of Morningside. It is planned to complete this campaign in the summer of 1919.

Athletics

(By J. M. Saunderson)

This is an age when all expenditures of time and money are weighed in the public mind and the non-vital placed under the ban. War time causes us to discard the non-essential. I believe in the great value of athletics in the life of the individual and the nation. I believe every boy and every girl has a right to a good constitution. If they have not been blessed with such by birth it is the duty of our educational system to give every one a chance to acquire strong bodies. This doctrine is now so nearly universally accepted that most Colleges furnish such facilities. Athletic glory must never be put ahead of good health for athletics are good just so far as they tend toward physical efficiency. Athletic sports have a peculiar value to the young. We are apt to forget the value, in modern life, of the quick eye, the steady nerve, and the firm hand. Athletics are the best possible training for these qualities, perhaps more valuable today than they ever were. The rules and ethics of competition present a constant opportunity to fill the receptive mind of the boy with high ideals. The playing field is a great training ground for youthful manners and morals. The boy's ideals of fair play and sportsmanlike conduct learned here will be carried later into business life.

Today, in our National Army Camps, athletic games are being used to promote physical fitness. The war department has created a Department of Athletics in the Army. National officials, including President Wilson, have given their endorsement to war time athletics in the Colleges, both because of the benefit to the public morale, and because participation in sports has a real value in preparing our young men to do, when their time comes their part in this great conflict.

ALUMNI GYMNASIUM

Religious Activities

(By Vice Pres. W. C. Hilmer)

The denominational or Christian College has only one real excuse for its existence: Christian education. State and private institutions generally furnish all possible advantages in scholastic and social ways, but do not, as a rule, particularly emphasize the Spiritual Life. This is the definite mission of the Church school; not at the expense of scholarship and social standing, however, but rather coupled with these, so as to develop the character harmoniously and symmetrically into broad and intelligent Christian manhood and womanhood. It is a well recognized fact that man's relationship to his God must be taken into account as a very important factor in determining the governing ideals for time and eternity.

Morningside College has not lost sight of its duty and privilege. For, as the Christian ideals in education were uppermost in the minds of its founders, so to this day these ideals are cherished by every true Morningsider. The Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. are important organizations in working out these College ideals. The weekly devotional meetings, led by students, faculty members, or visiting friends, are often moments of real profit and inspiration. The Bible study classes, conducted by these organizations, have contributed largely toward clarifying minds and inspiring faith in the Holy Scriptures. Early in February, Dr. Ream, of the Methodist Board of Education, conducted a four days' special meeting for the College men; while Miss Ludgate, pastor and evangelist, conducted similar meetings for the College women. Immediately thereafter the Evangelists, Mathis and Vessey, conducted a series of revival services in Grace Church. The permanent results of such special efforts, together with the regular and daily influences, can scarcely be estimated. But the fact that our young people have been brought face to face with life's largest issues, stands to the credit of any Christian College.

Morningside regularly has a representative delegation at the students' conference at Geneva. The leavening effect of the Geneva delegates upon the student body is practically perpetual. Our own City Missions furnish splendid opportunities to young people directly interested in religious work. Here they find real life problems and may lend-a-hand in solving them. Last, but not least, I would mention Grace Church, the "College Church." The splendid music, the helpful sermons, the spirit of devotion, the inspiring League meetings, the Sunday School, with its youthful cheer and life, are not easily forgotten by any one who has formed even a slight acquaintance at Morningside. O Morningside, hail to Thee and Thy Spirit! May it never die!

The Conservatory of Music

(By Director Paul McCollins)

The Conservatory of Music at Morningside will begin its 25th year in the fall of 1918. During this period it has grown from a small department of the College to a large and well organized school of the art of music, with departments for the study of pianoforte, singing, pipe organ, violin, orchestral and band instruments, history of music, musical appreciation, public school music, normal methods, harmony, counterpoint and composition. It is recognized throughout a large part of the Middle West as a thoroughly modern, progressive school of music and of equal rank in point of attendance and standards with any institution of its kind.

The position of a Conservatory of Music in connection with a College of Liberal Arts is a logical one. Here is provided the inspiration of numbers, systematically planned courses of study, literary and social advantages—all of which tend to promote a broad and thorough rather than a one-sided development of the musical faculties.

The fact that nearly all Colleges include the study of music as an elective subject in the regular curriculum is evidence of the increased recognition which the art is gaining. No longer is music considered for its cultural value alone, but also for its practical value in the home, the Church, in social life, and at this time of national crisis, for its powerful influence in creating patriotic sentiment. The well trained and competent musician of today has a wonderful opportunity at hand for it is generally recognized that music of the right sort, as much as any other factor, is going to keep up the morale that will win the war.

Morningside Conservatory aims to extend the influence of the art of music not only to its own students, but to the student body at large and the entire community surrounding it. With exceptionally fine equipment and a corps of loyal and efficient teachers who give their entire time to the work of the school the Conservatory looks forward to enlarged opportunities and a greater usefulness in the future.

Ida Julia Anderson Sioux City

Andy is a good scout. For four years she has toiled tirelessly, making a record worthy of being proud of. Her strongest foil is her ability to pull down these much desired "A" grades that we hear so much about. The Class of '18 are indeed fortunate in having her among their number.

George Earl Barks Sioux City

Othonian President, Pi Kappa Delta, Editor of Reporter '18, Editor of Sioux '18.

From the foregoing one can readily see that Earl is one of the best and busiest seniors. Aside from his official duties he also finds time and inclination for the more frivolous side of life.

Orin Westly Bell Spencer

Philomathian, Student Council, Y. M. C. A. President. Another shining light of the Class of '18 is Orin. He is quiet and modest, but exceedingly interesting and capable.

Mabel Clare Day Gilmore City

Vice President Zetaletheans, Reporter Staff, Agora Board, Basketball, Hockey. Mabel wears an Ionian pin and is specializing in Domestic Science. Of course we don't mean to say that there is any connection, but one can never be sure.

Vivian Lucile Down Odebolt

Zetalethean, Madrigal Club, Sioux '18 Board, President Y. W. C. A. '18. "Viv" can truly be called one of the most conscientious and capable girls of our school. She excels in her classes, stands high in her Society, is enthusiastic in our social activities and is loved and respected by all who know her.

Cora Dutton Sioux City

Since "Dick" has gone, Cora has turned with renewed energy to her college work, attacking her studies with untiring strength, and working with great ability in Oratory and in her place as a Student Volunteer.

Ruth Fouke Sioux City

Pieria Treasurer, Agora Board, Inter-Society Committee, Madrigal Club, Y. W. C. A. Cabinet. Ruth finished her school work early in order to take her place as Miss Dolliver's Secretary while she is in France. We envy her opportunity for new experiences and her chance to be really helpful in this Great World War.

Willis Floyd Forbes Sioux City

Vice President Ionians, Pi Kappa Delta, Editor in Chief of Collegian Reporter '17. Bill is a distinguished newspaper man. He got his start by having a hunch all by himself that he was good, and now he has succeeded in convincing everyone else of his ability—as that was not hard to do. At present he holds down a position on the "Journal" and produces some of the rarest stories known to civilization.

Archie L. Freeman

Spencer

College Orchestra, Collegian Reporter Staff, Leader of College Band '18, Philomathian. From the top of his head to the soles of his feet—which is some distance, believe me—Archie is musical ability personified. Since his coming, musical affairs have taken a new lease on life, for he is always behind them with his ability and enthusiasm.

Agnes M. Fry

Hawarden

Zetaethlean, Agora Board, Basketball, Vice President of Senior Class, Pi Kappa Delta. Agnes is a decided booster for her college. Ever since her first year she has done her part in trying to make it come up to her idea of it as the best school on earth. With no small ability she makes toward this end.

Charles D. Fry

Sioux City

Othonian President '17, President of Class '17, Sioux '18 Board, Glee Club '18, Band, Student Body President '18. "Chic" is in direct line for distinguished service in the world—if his career in college is anything to go by. As any one can see his specialty is being President of something, so we may yet live to see him ruling these United States with his iron hand.

Cleo Dulcia Holmes

Sioux City

President Athenaeums, Vice President Agora Club, Inter-Society Committee, Madrigal Club, Treasurer Y. W. C. A. Cleo is of the practical, capable type which is best suited for this practical life of ours. She never starts anything that she can't finish, and her finished products proclaim her a most talented girl.

Milton G. Irwin

Merrill

Othonian, Biology Assistant, Student and Stepper extraordinary. As far as Milton is concerned every day life this year is a dreary waste for him, for the star of his sky, the dream of his life, the ideal of his heart is gone. A little ray of hope, however, gleams in the fact that said Ideal wore an Otho pin away with her—and that may sustain him in his present situation.

Goldia C. Jackson

Kingsley

Chairman of World Fellowship Committee Y. W. C. A., Member Prohibition League, Basketball. Goldia is a hustler. Her special line is the Y. W., where her cordial spirit and Christian enthusiasm win many girls to the better things of life. She is a clear thinker, a quick actor, and a brilliant student.

Leon Julius Johnson

Linn Grove

Philomathian, Varsity Baseball, Basketball, Track and Football, All-Iowa Football, "M" Club President, '16, Business Manager Reporter '18, Sioux '18 Board. Jerry is verily the versatile kid. Perhaps he is strongest in Athletics, but we also find traces of him in many other activities, particularly in "Fussing."

Marion Johnson

Storm Lake

Vice President and President Pierias, Agora Board, Forensic Chairman, Collegian Reporter Staff, Y. W. C. A. Treasurer '16, Pi Kappa Delta. When "Johnny" goes there will be less in the hearts of many of us—a gap which cannot be filled by anyone. She is perhaps the truest friend and most congenial companion we have. Her going will be keenly felt by everyone.

Frances Kolp Jacksonville, Ill.

Zetaethan President, President Madrigal Club '18, Agora Board, Student Council. "Fran" came all the way from Illinois just to come to Morning-help but say that she showed most side, and in view of that fact, we can't excellent taste. And now that she's here, we, too, can show most excellent taste in our vast appreciation of her remarkability.

Lloyd D. Lehan Sioux City

Secretary and President Ionians, Basketball, Tennis Champion, President of Tennis Association, Biology Assistant. "Skinny" made such tracks while here in College that he was able to acquire the regular number of credits by the end of the first semester of this year. How did you do it, Skinny? We know your failing for "Fussing."

Clara Lewis Sioux City

Pieria President, Sioux '18 Board, Agora Board, Secretary and Treasurer of Seniors, President of Red Cross Committee. This year Clara has certainly had her capable hands full in engineering the Red Cross work that the girls have taken up. We recommend her for the untiring effort and great ability she has shown.

Arthur Preston Locke Fort Dodge

Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer Othonians, President Chemistry Club, Assistant in Chemistry. Art is a most brilliant student. A little study makes him master of most things that others have to dig for. His success is due to his clear thinking and his enthusiasm for his work.

Robert H. McBride Alden

Philomathian President '18, President of Class of '18, Vice President Y. M. C. A., Assistant Yell Leader, Sioux '18 Board, Inter-Society and Inter-Collegiate Debate. Rusty is always cheerful and is ever ready to help a friend in trouble. Indeed, he is such a helpful little soul that he has been given the entire charge of the innocent Freshmen. It can truly be said of him that he discharges his duties with thoroughness if not with compassion.

Thomas H. McBride Hubbard

Philomathian President '18, Secretary and Treasurer Y. M. C. A., Prohibition League. Tom's irish smile and winsome way have won great victories for him in the past and his latest conquest fell an easy victim to his wiles (she being an unsuspecting Freshman) and now they are both "very happy!"

Alice S. Miller Sioux City

Holding the record for efficiency and power of study is Alice, who is a recent aquisition to the Class of '18. For her the joy of life lies in a lesson well learned and a task well done. She is a credit to her Class and a valuable asset to her College.

Esther P. Montgomery Sioux City

President Zetaetheans, Reporter Staff, Agora Board, Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, Basketball. Esther is a cheery individual who doesn't care a bit about dividing her light heartedness with those around her. It's an impossibility for "the glooms" to get you when she is about, for she is nothing less than the original little sunbeam herself.

Clarence J. Obrecht Belmont

Othonian, President of "M" Club, Varsity Baseball, Student Council, College Band, Debate, Glee Club, Yell Leader '18. Buster is our booster. As a yell leader he is a howling success to say the least, as a baseball player he is a sure hit, and as Glee Club warbler and a cornetist he has no equal. Buster's world is a lively one.

Elma Parkinson Wall Lake

Zetaethan, President of Inter-Society Committee '18, Member of Y. W. C. A. Cabinet. Sincere and conscientious in all her dealings with her fellow students is Elma. She is a friend to every one and proves her friendship by her whole hearted sympathy and general attitude of helpfulness toward those who need her.

Mildred L. Pecaut Sioux City

Zetaethan, Secretary of Agora Board, Sioux '18 Board, Basketball, Expression. Mildred is a clever and original girl. Her ideas, and they are many, bear a stamp all their own. Her aid is eagerly solicited by her society and her Class in their affairs, and when she helps the affair is an assured success.

Howard Reyman LeMars

Howard is another of those capable Othos who combine a true and sincere spirit with a noble and talented mind. His major is Philosophy which proves the depths of his thinking.

Gladys Riddle

Onawa

"Happy" is one of those persons most fortunate in having a sunbeam for a soul. Anywhere and at any time she is just her happy, merry self. For this we all like her, and those who know her best can recognize a deeper something which makes them love her. She is a member of the Pieria girls and is greatly loved and appreciated by them.

Grace Ruskell

Sioux City

On the surface one is inclined to regard Grace as being a very quiet, demure young person, but in reality she is just the reverse. She is a lively and congenial companion among friends, contributing much to the fun in a crowd. She was the Athenaeum President this year, and fulfilled her position with all the ability and dignity due it.

Lida L. Saunders

Manilla

President Zetaethans '17, Student Council, Agora Board, Sioux '18, Collegian Reporter Staff '18. Lida is one of our most charming Senior girls, for, added to her natural good nature, she is so terrifically good looking that the combination is irresistible. Is it any wonder that Jim has surrendered completely?

Merlin L. Sawyer

Sioux City

Zetaethan, Mandolin Orchestra, Class Basketball. In answer to the cry for cooks Merlin has enlisted her services in the field of Domestic Science. She is a most capable manager and a wonder with eats. So it is safe to say she surely has not missed her calling.

Claire I. Sherwood Kingsley

Secretary and President of Othos, Sioux '18 Board, Reporter Staff, Class Basketball. "Deak" is decidedly distinguished as one of the most popular Seniors. He holds this place because of his easy wit and his natural good humor. He is also a regular cyclone among the ladies, breaking hearts to right and left in that fair sex.

Ruth C. Smith Arthur

Zetalethean Treasurer '16, Class Secretary '15, Student Council, President of Agora Club '18. One of Ruth's chief charms is her ability to talk easily and well. She is an expression student of noted ability and an after dinner speaker of great brilliancy.

Lee Soltow Clear Lake

Secretary and President of Ionians, Inter-Society and Inter-Collegiate Debate, Oratory. Perhaps the thing that Lee loves best to do after debating is appearing in a play or in stunts. His superior ability along this line easily shows us why.

Earl G. Stonebrook Sac City

Philomathian President, Vice President Seniors, Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, Reporter Staff, Inter-Society Debate. Stoney is another one of our constant steppers. For three years he has been fidelity personified, remaining true to Grace through every trial and tribulation.

Alice Helen Swan Sioux City

Alice is a girl of great ability. In every thing she attempts she excels. Her faithfulness on committees is a recognized fact. She is a hard worker and a generous helper, a constant source of delight and inspiration to her friends.

Harold Walker Sioux City

Philomathian, Track Captain, Drake Relay Team, Student Council, President of Class in '16. Hitherto Harold has ever been regarded as a trifler, but this year he has concentrated his efforts until he is about to wipe out his dark past. Of course she is a Freshman, and that is true to form, but his utter absence from promiscuous fussing is quite unfathomable.

Frances Neff Whetmore Sioux City

Vice President and President Athe-neums, Madrigal Club, Agora Board. Frankie has the happy faculty of combining study and fun. We don't see how she does it, but with the least apparent effort she makes an enviable record in her work and enjoys herself at the same time. She has been a member of the Madrigal Club since her Freshman days, and is a warbler of some merit.

Sue M. Wormley Kingsley

A girl of moods is Sue. At times she is sunny and at other times she is sad, at times she is happy and at other times—mad, but whatever mood she is in she is still the same clever Sue. She is a member of the Zetalethean Society and is well liked by all her friends.

Claude William Baldwin Spencer

Philomathian. To introduce us, we present, with just pride, our newly acquired member, Mr. Claude William Baldwin. Although he has only been one of us since Christmas he has already caught the spirit of '19, and supports his Class with all his might.

Hazel Bergh Sioux City

Athenaeum. Whenever I think of Hazel I'm sure to think of work, for, oh, how that girl does study! And results? Well, I don't mind telling you that she's nothing less than the brightest girl in school—and no one will say but what that's some result.

Ruth E. Berry Sioux City

Athenaeum. Ruth Berry is one of the "Old Guard." Through all the trials and tribulations of the Class and School, she always stands pat, keeps the middle course, and comes out on top. Ruth's main interest is in French, but in addition to this all-absorbing subject, she finds time for all the many little social things which prove just what a charming person she is.

Frances Boyd Dennison

Pieria. Hello, Folks! That's what "Fran" would probably say if she were really here. For that's her nature—an airy, breezy, hail-fellow-well-met sort of a person who greets us all with the same friendly smile and wide-open heart.

Ruth I. Brady Akron

Zetaethean. Ah, what a poor thing is one's vocabulary! Under ordinary circumstances it serves very well, but when one endeavors to stretch it over the many good qualities of Ruth the attempt is a dismal failure. She's clever, she's chic, she's quiet but quick, she's learned and beautiful she's—but words fail me.

Beryl F. Burns Lime Springs

Zetaethean. In establishing herself quickly in the hearts of her fellow students, Beryl has broken all records. She came to us just this year from Carlton, but already she has shown herself to be a true Classmate, a loyal society sister, and ideal College girl.

Gladys M. Clark Sioux City

Gladys is one of the kind that makes the wheels go 'round. On committees, in supporting her class, in Expression and Debate, she attacks her problems with the same enthusiasm and ability that characterize all of her actions.

Burnett Cooper Sioux City

Philomathian. "Coop" doesn't look like a doctor, and to tell the truth, he isn't one yet, but if taking all the biology in the school and aspiring to go on until he will be able to tack an M. D. on the back of his name, will make him one, it won't be long until we'll be calling him "Doctor Cooper," instead of the old familiar "Coop."

George Crouch Sioux City

Ionian. Close on the heels of "Coop" comes George, who also aspires to wear a Van Dyke and have an office door marked "Private," George Crouch, M. D." We know he will get both the title and the Van Dyke—our only regard is when.

George Wesley Dunn Sioux City

Othonian. And now for our English representative. Maybe you don't think we're glad we're an ally of George's, but we are. In fact, we couldn't help ourselves, for there is something so appealing, something so compelling about him, even if he is slow on a joke, we can't help but be glad. And what's there in being slow at the start, anyhow? It's always the finish that counts, and George is certainly strong on the home stretch.

Gertrude Dykstra
Running Water, S. D.

Zetaethian. And speaking of home stretches, there is one other that may always be found in the same place. In everything she does, Gertrude places at the finish. Perhaps the reason is that she has the happy faculty of pushing all burdens before her instead of wearing her strength by pulling.

Royce Engberg Sioux City

Philomathian. All along the path of his three years at College, lie the victories which our illustrious Class President has won. In Forensics, in the Glee Club, in the Y. M., among the students in any capacity he is the never ering, always winning Royce.

McKinley Evans Early

Philomathian. Representative of his Class is McKinley Evans, who hails from the progressive hamlet of Early. Like his home town, "Kin," too, is progressive. He is a prominent man in his Society, a member of the Sioux '19 Board for his Class, and a booster for his College.

Margaret Ferguson Rolfe

Zetaethian. Our list of the Class of '19 would not be complete without the name of Margaret in it. She was with us the first semester and we know that she is thinking of us now and wishing that she were back, and we can only say that we, too, wish it many times over.

Miriam R. Fish Ida Grove

Pieria. Talk about reliability! Talk about steadiness! Why, Miriam was so steady she made the Rocky Mountains look wobbly. Did you notice the past tense? Well, that is quite right. She used to be steady, but this year she has plunged so madly into gay frivolity that the past tense is surely applicable.

Florence Forsberg Sioux City

Athenaeum. Florence is one of our shining lights, and we are truly proud that we can claim her. It is whispered that we won't have her with us next year, for the leading man of a certain play, the most popular man in school, is said to have established a superior claim to that of mere classmates.

Harold S. Freeman Craig, Nebr.

Othonian. Paralleling the course of our President is the course of the Vice President of our Class. He, too, has won distinction throughout his College course in his many College activities. We can justly praise him as one of our most capable, most popular Juniors.

Mable Gusteson Sioux City

True to the standards set and maintained by all the students who come to us from the High School, Mable has proved her worth and ability in fitting in with the general scheme of things. In her quiet way she works along on the truly worthy things, winning in the end.

Mynnie Gusteson Sioux City

Friendship that makes the least noise is often the most useful, and friendship of this brand is the kind offered by Mynnie. To all she gives her helpful, cheery smile, to all she offers her quiet assistance and to all she stands as a true, helpful industrious friend.

Lucyle D. Haitz Sioux City

Pierian. Lucyle, alias Sally, leads a very talented, easy going and adorable existence. We envy her the talents, which make her popular everywhere, her easy going personality, which puts her at ease even among strangers, and the charms of her which makes her adored by all of her friends.

Clarence I. Hart Sioux City

Ionian. With the enlistment of our former business manager a real difficulty arose in the path of the Sioux '19. Distress signals were hailed by our frantic editor and fear crept into the hearts of the staff. And then a gleaming ray of hope (Clarence camouflaged) appeared upon our horizon, the real difficulty diminished conceivably and the Sioux sailed on to success, buoyed up by the tireless energy and excellent executive ability of our new business manager.

Lee C. Horney LeMars

Philomathian. If it is true that snaps make an annual and it must be, for our editor says so—then some of the credit for this volume must be given to our eminent snap-shot editor, Lee. I know of no one quite so deserving as this self same person of our praise. Tirelessly through the year he has taken pictures himself, begged pictures from others and has even stolen pictures, it has been said, just to make our annual a snappy one.

Albert N. Hunt Livermore

Ionian. This year Albert has literally leaped into fame as one of the members of the Drake Relay Team. In his other years at College he has also pulled down his share of honors on the cinder path and now his efforts have been more than rewarded by winning a place, which he filled with honor on the invincible Relay Team of Morningside.

Fenton C. Jones, Jr. Leeds

Carlyle has slipped through his College career thus far without making much fuss or noise about it. He is always in his place, doing the duty which lies nearest him with the minimum of friction and a maximum of efficiency.

Clifford Jones Sioux City

Ionian. Among the many "Ologies" and "Isms" which Skinny indulges in, the subject of "Fussology" is the one most interesting to him. He has given the matter intensive study, both in the foreign and home fields, and is qualified to judge in all matters of the heart. To love or not to love has long been the question with Skinny.

Grace Fall Kellog Sioux City

Pieria. Light and happy heads live long it has been said, and, if that is the case, Mrs. Kellog will surely be rewarded for her optimism, her light hearted manner and inexpressible charm, by a ripe old age.

Gladys Knapp Westfield

Athenaeum. As the most popular girl in the Class and one most suited for the position, Gladys was chosen this year by the student body, for our May Queen. Her quiet dignity, her poignant beauty, and that indefinable something about her which is called "class," made our Maye Fete an assured success in the very beginning.

Leone Lange Homer, Nebr.

Zetalethean. If it were our policy to follow the example of our immediate predecessors we would be tempted to say, a la Sioux '18, that Leone is a rare girl who has waited a year just on purpose to join the best Class in the history of the institution. But, since that is not our policy, we will merely say that Leone is a rare girl and we're truly glad that she liked us well enough to want to join us.

Mable Larson Sioux City

To the casual observer Mable appears to be rather reserved and serious minded, but in addition to this there is that other side which we who know her best recognize and admire so much. She goes her own way and goes quietly, but with it all, she is a live, light hearted, enjoyable girl.

Ruth E. Mahood Sioux City

Pieria. "Hoody" is our live wire. Trust her to stir things up. And when they're stirred the rest of us just fall in line behind her as a matter of course. She is a real live girl up to the minute in her Class, in Y. W., in the Madrigal Club, and in everything she attempts, and far ahead of the moment in athletics, her specialty.

Lena C. McDonald Sioux City

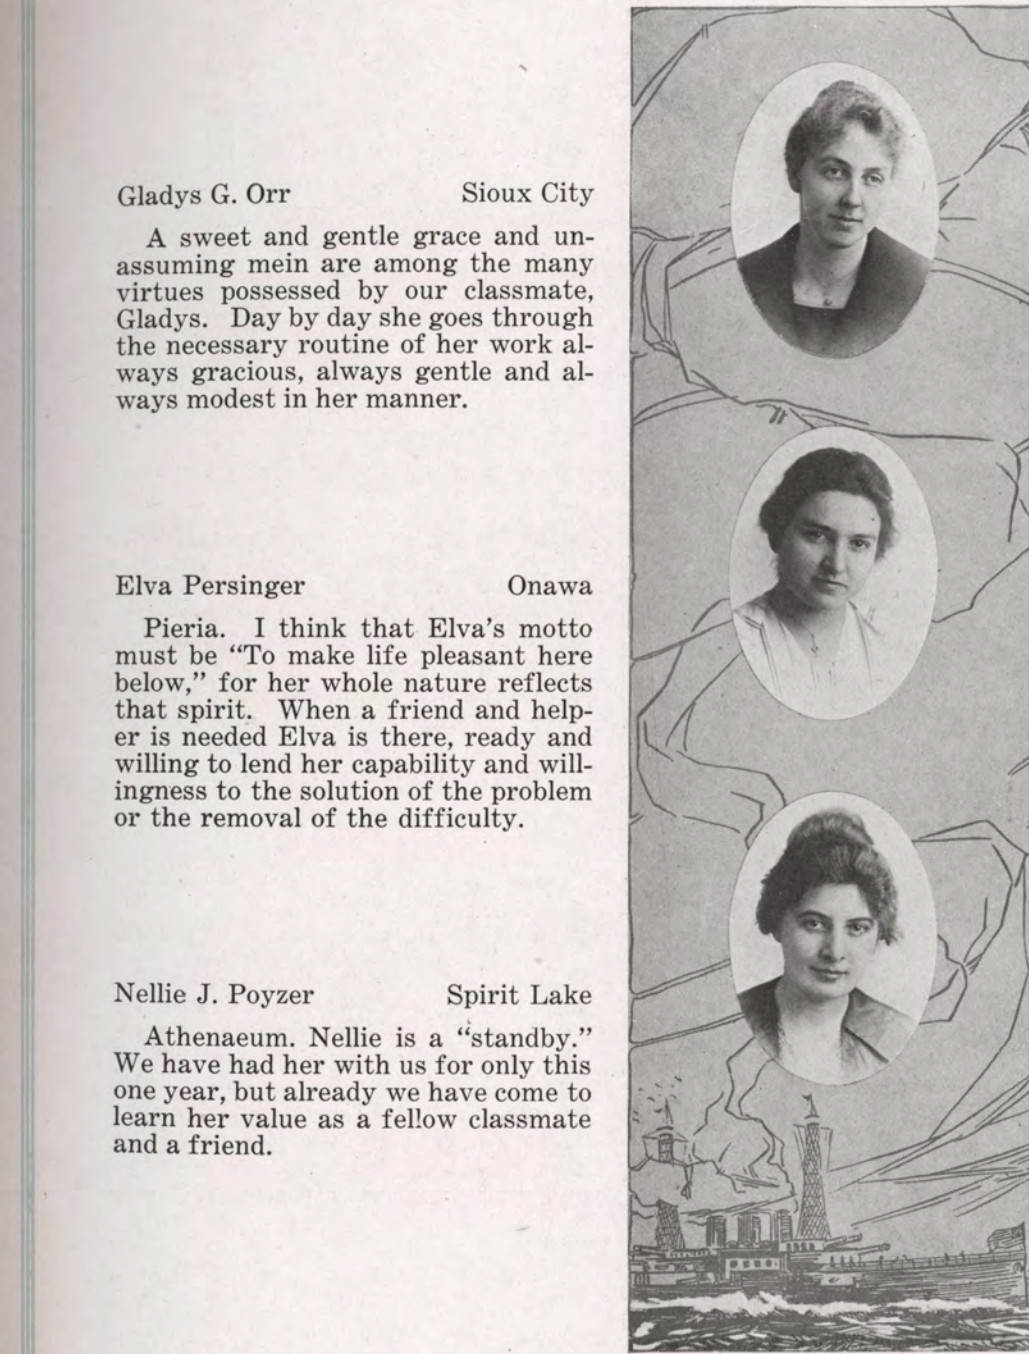

Athenaeum. She is just the quiet kind whose nature never varies. Always the same, Lena McDonald goes her way, seeking diligently after knowledge, the thought of what she must do and not what people think, the only thing concerning her.

Helen Meeks Sioux City

"Good nature and good sense must ever join," some dry old bird once remarked, having in mind, I have no doubt, the time when Helen would prove his statement true, for that is just the happy combination we find in her, a happy, sunny manner and a bushel of good sense.

Dale E. Norton Laurens

Othonian. "Skinny" is, both literally and figuratively a very tower of strength for his Class and his College. His most stellar performances are in the athletic line, where he shines out in great glory, besides being a good right guard. "Skinny" also excels in pep speeches, class politics and the like—which shows him to be a typical Junior.

Gladys G. Orr Sioux City

A sweet and gentle grace and unassuming mein are among the many virtues possessed by our classmate, Gladys. Day by day she goes through the necessary routine of her work always gracious, always gentle and always modest in her manner.

Elva Persinger Onawa

Pieria. I think that Elva's motto must be "To make life pleasant here below," for her whole nature reflects that spirit. When a friend and helper is needed Elva is there, ready and willing to lend her capability and willingness to the solution of the problem or the removal of the difficulty.

Nellie J. Poyzer Spirit Lake

Athenaeum. Nellie is a "standby." We have had her with us for only this one year, but already we have come to learn her value as a fellow classmate and a friend.

Elbert Prichard Onawa

Philomathean. Bert is a busy man. As Editor in Chief of the Sioux 1919, he works night and day, sacrificing his time, his energy and his brain to the gigantic task of steering our annual to success. We are proud of Bert and his ability and are glad to recognize him as a classmate and friend.

Elizabeth Mae Purdy Sioux City

Zetalethean. Mae is characterized by her light hearted, happy, willing way. Whenever you see her, she always has some new joke, some clever story or some cheery remark to drive the glooms away.

Ruth Elizabeth Reid Sioux City

Zetalethean. Ruth is a live wire and a good mixer. Whenever called upon to "put a thing through" she works with all her might, and she is rewarded by the recognition she receives from her fellow students for her services. This year she has been given the honor of being Agora President and also the honor (along with the hard work) of being Assistant Editor of the Sioux '19.

Lillian Sandvig Canton, S. D.

Pieria. And now we present our fair companion "Tupa." Her fairy-like beauty deprives us of all words to express it. Had we her training we could better express what a lively, irresponsible, irresistible person she really is.

Elsa M. Savonell Sioux City

Quiet, but noticed, Elsa has spent the first three years of her College life. Never presuming, she has remained rather in the background of what some people term the "lime-light," but nevertheless, for all those who know her 'tis an easy thing to love her.

Roy Schellinger Sioux City

Ionian. Just lately has our class been deprived of the inspiring presence of "Skelly," who has gone to work and boost for Uncle Sam. If he makes as good a soldier as he has made a good classmate he can well expect a place at the front in the service of his country.

Aurelia Sturdevant Tyndall, S. D.

Athenaeum. Aurelia is one of the species whose distinguished characteristic is pep. In our many activities she is always right among the first, "shaking the old pepper box" for her College. We envy her cheerful spirit and boundless enthusiasm.

Katherine Tharp Sioux City

Athenaeum. True character so honestly won as that of Katherine's, acquires many friends. In the daily grind she has found time to ripen and deepen in the ways that count until the number of her friends has mounted inconceivably.

Ray D. Troutman Hawarden

Othonian. Isn't he funny? If you don't think he is, just read that ex-crutiating joke section he has worked on all year for you. Of course, knowing Fish, some may think it was nothing for him to do, but this year, it has been reported, his mind has taken a decidedly serious turn so the jokes were a real trial.

Isabelle Walker Sioux City

Pieria. Isabelle is about the busiest person imaginable. In her Society, she is a leader, in her Class she holds a prominent place, in College affairs in general she is an enthusiastic worker, and in her studies she still maintains her early dream of a clean "A" record. And besides all this she still has time to step quite considerably. Ah, marvelous is the endurance of woman.

Grace E. Wishard Sioux City

Pieria. How doth the little busy bee? Ask Grace. For, in her, the little bee has surely met his match. It is true, her endeavors have been rather divided, but even at that, neither her work nor Earl have suffered materially.

Horace Ferdinand Wulf Sioux City

Philomathian. 'Tis with deep regret and sincere emotions that we look back upon the bright and smiling face of our erstwhile Business Manager. We had hoped to have him till the last, but, alas! he was destined for a nobler work and we are deprived of all the glory his efforts would have shed upon us.

A Review of the Athletic Season

The past athletic season of Morningside College can truly be said to have been the greatest that she has ever seen. Out of a season of 23 contests the Maroons went down to defeat but twice. In the spring of 1917 Coach Saunderson was able to obtain a heavy schedule of eight games for his baseball men, four of which were down State. The team went through this entire schedule without a single defeat, making a total of 79 runs to their opponents' 20. Wenig done stellar work on the mound for the Maroons, winning five of the games, three of which were shutouts. The season was featured by the heavy hitting of the Maroons, the work of Johnson, Northrup and Eiffert being especially remarkable. The batting average of the team was over .300, which, in part, accounts for the large scores that were run up.

In track "Saundy," for the third consecutive year, sent a two-mile relay team to the Drake Relays and returned with the banner. Curry, finishing last for Morningside, was over fifty yards in the lead of his nearest competitor. Two dual meets, one with Nebraska Wesleyan and the other with Yankton, were won by wide margins.

These meets were featured by the fact that several men who have had all of their track training under "Saundy" were able to win their events against some of the best men in Dakota and Nebraska.

In football Morningside tackled the stiffest schedule that she had ever prepared for herself. The two Wesleyans and South Dakota University should have been enough for anyone, but "Saundy" took out his jack-knife, hitched up his trousers, and took Notre Dame on as a dessert. The loss of Wenig, Gantt, Behmer, Bashaw and Warnes through enlistment was keenly felt. We were fortunate in having a backfield that did not need any particular coaching so that Saunderson could spend his time on the line. The result of his work was shown when our line held the famous Notre Dame line, allowing them to make but six first downs. The season would have been a highly successful one from a Morningside standpoint if we had won from no one but Vermillion. The fact that we also won from the two Wesleyans and held Notre Dame makes our victory doubly sweet.

Morningside took up basketball again in the winter of 1918, after a period of five years in which we did not participate in Inter-Collegiate basketball. While it was Saunderson's first attempt to coach a basketball team since his stay at Morningside he did wonders with the raw material which he had. The team showed remarkable progress as the season advanced and from now on we can expect big things from our basketball men.

Our Coach

Coach Saunderson

Coach Jason M. Saunderson is the man who is recognized as having put Morningside College on the map athletically. Saunderson is a graduate of Albion College, where he was a star in all branches of athletics. In football he played quarterback on the offensive and end on the defensive, the two most difficult positions on a football team. In 1907 he captained his team and was chosen as "All-Michigan" quarterback. In baseball he played third base and was noted for his hard hitting. In track he has a record of 10.1 in the hundred and 22.1 in the two-twenty. He also ran the hurdles for his college.

Since graduation he has been Director of Athletics at South Dakota State College and at the University of the South.

"Saundy" came to Morningside in the fall of 1912, and each year of his stay with us has been a little more successful than the previous one. He has turned out from a very limited amount of material football teams that have defeated schools four or five times as large. Last year, out of a student body of about 150 men he was able to turn out a football team that threw a scare into the mighty Notre Dame. This same team later in the season was able to defeat South Dakota University for the first time in history. But not only does Coach Saunderson develop great football teams, his work in track and baseball being just as noticeable. Year after year he has sent two-mile relay teams to the Drake Relays and has won so often that the down State schools have come to concede us this event. In baseball his teams have met and defeated the best in Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota.

This year he turned his hand to basketball and was able to develop a team from wholly raw material that went through the season with only one defeat. Morningside's splendid record in athletics is most certainly largely due to the work of Coach Saunderson.

"Saundy" is recognized throughout the athletic world as an exponent of clean athletics. All who have had any relations with him know him to be a man who always plays clean and as one who is always ready to go more than half way in order to be fair to an opponent. It is because of this trait that he is so highly respected and loved by his players and the student body at large. Here's to "Saundy," the greatest coach we ever had and may he see fit to remain with us long enough to wipe out the long string of defeats that we have suffered at the hands of our ancient rival—a work which he has so nobly started.

The Football Season

MORNINGSIDE, 62; TRINITY, 7

Morningside opened her football season by an overwhelming victory over Trinity. Except during the last few minutes of play when Agnes, of Trinity, received a forward pass and dashed for a touchdown, the Maroon's goal was not in danger. The Maroons showed rare form for so early in the season, displaying all brands of football, from the open style of play to the old method of line plunging, outclassing their opponents in every department of the game. Goodrich, making his first appearance for the Maroons, shared honors with Johnson as the stars of the game, while the work of Dubel at quarter was very promising. Morningside scored two touchdowns in the first five minutes of play and from then on it was simply a question of how large the score would be. The game was clean and hard fought, and was a fine exhibition to watch despite the large score.

MORNINGSIDE, 79; NEBRASKA WESLEYAN, 0

Morningside easily trounced the much feared team from Nebraska Wesleyan. The first touchdown came after three minutes of play. Goodrich received a punt, returned it forty yards and on the next play Hinkley advanced it twenty more. Johnson had little trouble in carrying it over. From then on the romping, raring and fighting Maroons were never in doubt as to the final outcome and they proceeded to get revenge for previous victories, by giving them the worst defeat that we ever handed them. Usually it is a battle to the finish with honors about even, but this year the Nebraska Methodists were entirely outclassed. The entire Maroon backfield starred in this game, Johnson having a little the best of it with six touchdowns to his credit. The game was marred by the poor sportsmanship of a few of the Nebraska players.

MORNINGSIDE, 33; DAKOTA WESLEYAN, 0

Hampered to a great degree by overconfidence the Maroons put up their poorest game of the season against Dakota Wesleyan. Wesleyan kicked off to Morningside and Goodrich receiving the ball on his own five-yard line raced through the entire Dakota team for a touchdown. The Maroons immediately had visions of another easy 112 to 0 victory and the result was that the confidence of the Maroons was more in their way than were the fighting Wesleyans, who were determined to hold Morningside to a low score. When the final whistle blew Dakota Wesleyan had again bowed to old M. C., and once again we had defeated both Wesleyans in the same year.

The Football Season

MORNINGSIDE, 0; NOTRE DAME, 13

On November 10, 1917, occurred one of the two greatest events in Morningside's football history. Although defeated by two touchdowns the showing that the Maroons made against one of the best football teams in the country will never be forgotten by the largest crowd that ever saw a football game in Sioux City. The score cannot in any measure indicate how heroically Coach Saunderson's men fought their more experienced opponents only to taste defeat as a result of two intercepted passes. It was the first defeat the Maroons have suffered on their home field for three years. The game was a battle royal between the two lines. Pitted against men who were used to battering and hammering their opponents, the Maroon line was able to hold its own, Notre Dame making but six first downs throughout the game, while Morningside made fifteen. Time and again Beck and Swartz broke through and stopped plays before they were started. Northrup, although handicapped by his two dislocated shoulders put up his characteristic smashing game. Meneffee played the best game he ever played, breaking up play after play aimed at his end. The Notre Dame players could not praise too highly the work of Meneffee and Johnson and classed them with the best in the country. Dubel, Goodrich and Hinkley also done sensational work in puncturing the Notre Dame line and in open field running. The Notre Dame first score came in the second quarter when Rydsewski, the big Catholic captain, intercepted a Maroon forward pass and raced down the field forty yards for a touchdown. Their other touchdown came near the end of the third quarter after a Notre Dame man had carried another intercepted pass to the Maroon twenty-five-yard line. A lucky pass to King netted them twenty more. After three attempts Brandy managed to squirm through the line for a touchdown. From every aspect it was the finest game of football ever seen in Sioux City, and Morningsiders have a right to feel proud of their team that really outplayed the team "that beat the Army."

MORNINSIDE, 19; DUBUQUE, 0.

The Maroons went to Dubuque, hailed as a great football team, and they attempted to live on their reputation. The result was a listless game on their part, while the fighting Irish threw many a scare into the Maroon team. Dubel was unable to start in this game and the poor showing was due to some degree to the discord in the backfield. At times the Maroons gained their old-time form and marched down the field only to lose a touch-down through poor playing when near the goal or through poor headwork. Dubuque had a team of hard fighters who deserve a great deal of credit for the showing that they made.

Eighty-Two

The Football Season

MORNINGSIDE, 14; SOUTH DAKOTA UNIVERSITY, 7

On Thanksgiving Day occurred the other big event in football history at Morningside. "We beat South Dakota!" This was an event that we had looked forward to for over twenty years. Three times we had played them to a scoreless tie, but it was for "Saundy" and the team of 1917 to bring us a victory. At last "Van" can change his "It must be done" to "It has been done." Although the Coyotes were outclassed in every department they battled like bulldogs and it looked for a time as if history would repeat itself and give South Dakota a victory. In the first quarter the Maroons were in possession of the ball on their twenty-yard line. On a punt formation Johnson missed a bad pass from Swartz and Patrick, of South Dakota, scooped it up and ran five yards for a touchdown. The rest of the quarter was spent in going up and down the field without either having any marked advantage. In the second quarter Dubel came into prominence by a wonderful display of coolness and ability in diagnosing the defense, which enabled the Maroons to march nearly half the length of the field. Then "Dux" in the most spectacular feat of the game carried the ball for forty-five yards for a touchdown. Johnson kicked the goal and evened up the score. Fine work by Goodrich and Hinkley in this quarter almost resulted in another score, but the half was over before they could accomplish it. Morningside lost another chance to score early in the second half. Commencing on their own twenty-yard line the Maroons slowly, steadily and surely moved the ball to South Dakota's thirty-yard line. Here Morningside was halted and Johnson attempted a drop kick. It was from a difficult angle, but the ball hit the crossbar squarely in the middle, missing a goal by inches only. The Coyotes were forced to kick and the Maroons started another march toward the Dakota goal, with Johnson and Dubel doing the major share of work. On the seven-yard line the Maroon backs were held three times, when Goodrich saved the day by leaping in the air and grabbing a forward pass, although he was surrounded by a number of Coyote players. This put the ball on the two-yard line and Hinkley had little trouble in smashing it over, Johnson kicking goal. The Maroons were well on their way to another touchdown when the whistle blew and the game was over.

Are we proud of the team that has buried the Coyote Jinx? Yea, Bo!

Eighty-Three

Northrup, Right End, Captain.

"Norty" is a Morningside made man. He has learned all of his football on old Bass Field and his record shows how well. "Norty" is one of those hard hitting, smashing ends, breaking up play after play before it is started. He is a good receiver of passes and is fast on covering punts. In all respects "Norty" was the right man to lead Morningside's greatest team in their initial victory over South Dakota. He was the gamest fighter on the gamest team M. C. ever had.

"Halligan" is so called, because he is like the man who bore that name. He is a big and burly tackle, who tears up the line and stops all of the opponents' plays which are directed his way. He is Captain-elect of next year's team, and under the leadership of a man of his ability the team should have a very successful season if the war does not affect the schedule.

Johnson, Right Halfback, Ex.-Captain.

"Jerry" is one of the greatest halfbacks that ever wore a Maroon uniform. For the second time he and Capt. Northrup were given berths on the All-State team, and has even been mentioned for an All-American halfback. "Jerry" is big, shifty, hard hitting, an end runner as well as a line plunger, and is recognized as the best punter in the State. "Jerry" is a hard worker and a consistent player, although he was at his best in the Notre Dame game, at times tearing big holes in their famous line.

Dubel, Quarterback.

"Dux" was the brainiest quarterback that has appeared on Bass field in years. There may be others who could beat him carrying the ball or tackling, but when it came to running a football team he had no peer. He was always cool, always directing the attack at the opponent's weakest point and getting the greatest efficiency from his own team. His 55-yard run for a touchdown against Vermillion was one of the sensations of the year.

Hinkley, Fullback.

"Art" was the most consistent man on the team. Always the same, he could be depended on to do his part whether it was carrying the ball, receiving, or breaking up a forward pass. While he never does anything sensational, he was one of the most important cogs in the team. His touchdown against Vermillion was probably his most notable performance of the year.

"Goody" was the smallest man on the team, but a more game and a harder little scrapper never donned a football suit. He made the longest runs of the year. Against Dakota Wesleyan he carried the ball for the initial touchdown, 95 yards, through the whole field, and from that time on no one was in doubt as to the outcome of the game. He was troubled part of the season with a lame shoulder, but in spite of this handicap his showing was good enough to put him on the All-State second team.

"Vic," our big left end, probably made more improvement during the year than any man on the team. Before this he was good enough to be captain of the Sioux City High School team and he was the All-State High School end. With this backing it is easy to see that he was one of the stars of the season. His and Johnson's playing on the All-State team against Camp Dodge was pronounced by authorities to be the best exhibition of good playing of any of the men gathered for this event.

Beck, Left Guard.

"Swede," the big Viking, was the hardest fighter and the most consistent man on the line. He charged hard and low and carried everything before him. He still has some time in College and if not taken into the army should develop into one of the greatest line men Morningside has ever had. He was not outplayed by an opponent during the season.

Rorapaugh, Right Tackle.

"Ror" was the biggest man on the team. He played right tackle during most of the season. His playing at times was spectacular, although not as consistent as some others. He played his best in the Notre Dame game. As this is his first year with us the future should hold great things for him.

Swartz, Center.

"Red" played a great game at center and few were the gains that were made over him. He is a wizard at solving the other side's offense and gets through it time and again to break up the play. He goes to West Point this summer and he will be greatly missed when Saunderson next gathers his "pigskin chasers" together.

Norton, Right Guard.

"Skinny," although a veteran of last year, was slow to develop his old-time fight and pep. He was hard pushed to hold a regular berth during the first of the season, but later developed into one of the most aggressive and effective of the line men. Norton was one of the few line men who played consistently in the South Dakota game, being a big factor in bringing us our victory.

Lory, Right Guard.

"Sam" is both big and aggressive. He played his best games during the early part of the season. He played through the entire season this year after having his leg broken last year, and that was something which is seldom done. This was his first year as a letter man and he should develop rapidly this next year. Like the rest of the line his best performance was against Notre Dame, when they held their own against some of the best line men in the west.

Hornney, Center.

Lee played at center and guard this year. He is fine at getting through and breaking up plays of the opposition. Although handicapped by sickness, he played when he could, and made a fine showing for himself and the team, getting into enough games to win his "M."

Pitman, Half Back

"Pit" was the first sub in the backfield and while he did not win his letter, he missed it only by a small margin. He is one of the most promising men on the squad. He played in the line while in High School, but "Saundy" switched him to backfield, where he developed rapidly both in speed and line hitting ability. He is a hard and steady worker and deserves everything he gets.

Pearce, Full Back.

Lawrence played half and full back with the second string backfield this year. He is a man with wonderful possibilities on the gridiron, if he will only apply himself. He came to us from Fonda, where he had had considerable football experience. He is big and fast and there is no reason why he will not make a fine half back in another season.

Mickelson, Half Back.

Percy is small, but a real fighter; a fellow who tries and works all the time, early and late, and from one end of the season to the other. He hails from Eagle Grove, where he p'ayed with a fast High School team. He is one of the best all-around boosters we have. Although he has not yet made his letter in athletics he is one of the men who has helped to build up and make good teams for old M. C.

Brown, Sub Quarterback.

George was a green hand at the game this year, but he quickly showed that he could play football. He made a good showing against the second team in scrimmage and promises to be varsity material next year.

Hays, Quarterback.

Joe played with the second team during the early part of the year. His ability as a quarterback to out guess the varsity as well as to carry the ball for many long gains soon won him a position on the varsity squad. While he appeared in but one game, against Dubuque, he gave a good account of himself and bids fair to become a heady and clever quarterback.

The Baseball Season

The baseball season of 1917 was a series of continuous victories, the team winning all of the eight games on the schedule. The team was composed almost wholly of veterans, with a wealth of new material for the few vacant positions. On the annual down State trip the team defeated the best Collegiate teams in the State by large scores. In no game of the entire season were the Maroons ever in danger of being defeated, some of the games being so one-sided that they were not interesting from a spectator's standpoint.

MORNINGSIDE, 7; HIGHLAND PARK, 0.

Highland Park opened the Maroon season with a game on Bass Field on May 1. Our veteran "Obe" held them to two hits and no scores, striking out sixteen of their batters. The heavy hitting of the Maroons secured eleven hits off Laurence, of Highland Park. The hitting of Northrup, Himmel and Wenig accounted for the Maroon scores.

MORNINGSIDE, 11; HIGHLAND PARK, 2

On the next day "Lefty" Obrecht went in against them and held them to six scattered hits which resulted in two runs. The game was featured by extra base drives by Lloyd, Eiffert, Northrup, Johnson and Clough, of Morningside. Highland Park was rated as one of the best teams in the State and the two Maroon victories gave promise of a good season.

MORNINGSIDE, 7; ELLSWORTH, 1

The Maroons opened their annual down State trip with a game at Ellsworth on May 14. Wenig, for Morningside, allowed but four hits and was given errorless support. The Maroons obtained only six hits, but poor support gave them seven runs.

The Baseball Season

MORNINGSIDE, 6; STATE TEACHERS, 3

On the 15th the team journeyed to Cedar Falls, where they crossed bats with the fast team from State Teachers. Obrecht, on the mound for the Maroons, held the Teachers to six hits and three scores, while his teammates piled up six scores. While the Maroons were hitting in the pinches in these two games the team was far below its standard.

MORNINGSIDE, 18; HIGHLAND PARK, 6

On the 16th the team again met Highland Park at Des Moines. In the first game, Friest, a new man, pitched and won his first College game. Friest allowed but six hits, although erratic support gave Highland Park six scores. In this game the Maroon sluggers again hit their stride, every man getting at least one hit. Eiffert, Northrup, Johnson and Himmel were the leading hitters.

MORNINGSIDE, 5; HIGHLAND PARK, 0

In the second game the Highland Park team came back strong and put up a stiff game. "Obe," for the Maroons, held them scoreless, while the timely hitting of Johnson and Hinkley accounted for the Maroon scores. The game was marked for nearly errorless ball on both sides.

MORNINGSIDE, 15; DUBUQUE, 8

Dubuque came to Sioux City on the 30th and were defeated in a loosely played game, which was featured by the heavy hitting of the Maroons. Wenig, for Morningside was given poor support which was the cause of Dubuque's large score. Johnson, Northrup and Eiffert done the best hitting for the Maroons in this game.

MORNINGSIDE, 10; ANTHON, 0

On the 1st of June the team met and defeated the fast town team of Anthon. Wenig allowed but three hits and struck out fourteen men. This game, like the majority of the season, was featured by the fast fielding and heavy hitting of the Maroons. Clough, Wenig, Hinkley and Johnson secured three hits apiece, several of which were for extra bases.

Clough, Capt., Short Stop.

"Marty," at short, put up a steady and consistent game throughout the year. He is one of the fastest infielders that has donned a Maroon suit for many years. "Marty" is not noted as being much of a talker, but his actions speak for themselves. He was highly respected by all of the men on the team and made a very successful captain.

Lloyd, Capt.-Elect, First Base.

"T. K.," the southpaw first baseman, served his second year on the nine and made good in every sense of the word. Tom played outfield last year, but rapidly rounded into a first class infielder this season.

Eiffert, Catcher.

"Turk" is a College baseball player extraordinary. He is a phenomenal catcher, a hard hitter and a clever base runner. "Turk" can be counted on to get the most out of a pitcher and to keep the entire team steady. When on the bases he always keeps his opponents wondering what he will do next.

Wenig, Pitcher.

"Obe's" great speed and fast breaking curves made him the most effective College pitcher in the State this year. "Obe" pitched and won five of the eight games on the Maroon schedule. He always remained cool and was always willing to give the best he had.

Johnson, third base.

"Jerry had an exceptional year at the bat this season, hitting .469. His timely hitting helped put many a game "on ice" for the Maroons. He fielded his position well and made good use of his great throwing ability.

Hinkley, Right Field.

Although this was "Art's" first year on the team he soon proved himself to be a veteran ball player. "Art" was the most consistent hitter on the team and could be counted on in a pinch. Besides being a sure fielder he often assisted Eiffert behind the bat and proved to be a very valuable catcher.

Obrecht, Pitcher.

"Lefty," our little southpaw pitcher, has a quick hook and also a good fast ball. This was his second year with the Maroons and under the direction of Eiffert he had no trouble in winning both of his games. Phoebe is a hard worker and showed considerable improvement over last year.

Klatt, Second Base.

"Dave managed to land a regular berth at second this year over a large field of candidates for the only open infield position. He ably plugged up the hole in the infield caused by the enlistment of Behmer, and was noted for his sharp fielding.

Friest, Pitcher.

Tom, another left hander, succeeded in winning his "M" this year by winning his game against Highland Park, and allowing only six hits. With a little more training and experience he promises to develop into a wonderful pitcher.

Engle, Pitcher.

Clarence failed to win his "M" this year only because of the abundance of veteran pitchers. Besides being a fine pitcher he showed exceptional ability in the outfield, and he promises to be a mainstay this spring.

Bashaw, Utility Outfielder.

"Bush" missed getting his "M" by the narrow margin of one game. He was a good fielder and a fair hitter and had it not been for his enlistment he would have landed a regular berth this year.

"Norty," our veteran pitcher, was used in the outfield this year because of a dislocated shoulder. "Norty" was the most able man on the team in getting hits when they meant runs. He drove in more runs than any other man on the team.

Himmel, Center Field.

Carl, a new man, easily outclassed all candidates for center field. With his big stick he made many a long drive that meant scores for the Maroons at a time when they were needed.

The Basketball Season

The basketball season was a decided success, despite the fact that it had been five years since we had participated in inter-collegiate basketball. Although only six games were played, five of which resulted in victories for the Maroon five, the team showed remarkable development under Saunderson's able coaching. And next year with Pearce as captain, a longer schedule, and with the experience gained this year, Morningside will be prepared to take the place in basketball that she holds in every other sport.

MORNINGSIDE, 21; ABERDEEN NORMAL, 12.

The opening game of the season was played with the Aberdeen Normal team on the local floor. At the end of the first half the score stood 8 to 3 in favor of the teachers, but the Maroons showed a real come back spirit and won, 21 to 12. The game was hard fought all the way and the Maroons had to extent themselves to win. Capt. Corey, playing center, was the star for the visitors. For the Maroons there was no particular star, the whole team doing stellar work for the opening game.

MORNINGSIDE, 19; YANKTON, 35.

In the second game of the year the Maroons received their only defeat. The game was played at Yankton on a small and very poor floor. The game was exceedingly rough and little real basketball was displayed. Not being used to such a floor the Maroons were at a great handicap. The score was 35 to 19 in favor of Yankton. Although the Maroons outplayed them in the second half they were unable to overcome the big lead that Yankton had gained in the first period.

The Basketball Season

MORNINGSIDE, 17; TRINITY, 16.

The game with Trinity, played on the home floor, resulted in a 17 to 16 victory for the Maroons. It was a great game to watch as neither team was able to gain a commanding lead at any point, the score see-sawing back and forth. The first half ended in a tie and Capt. Hinkley hung up the basket that won the game just before time was out. The game was featured by close guarding. Johnson played a great game for the Maroons, breaking up play after play.

MORNINGSIDE, 30; Western Union, 13.

The next game with Western Union was also played on the home floor and resulted in an easy victory for the Maroons. At no time was the game in doubt, the final score being Morningside, 30; Western Union, 13. Pearce and Brown did some sensational basket shooting in this game.

MORNINGSIDE, 20; HURON, 11.

Huron College proved another easy victim and went down to defeat by a 20 to 11 score. The Maroons did not play with their customary punch in this game or the score might have been much larger. Pearce and Brown again made the majority of the baskets.

MORNINGSIDE, 33; YANKTON, 16.

In the closing game of the season Yankton was defeated, 33 to 16. Morningside gained an early lead and maintained it throughout. Yankton put up a good fight, but were seemingly outclassed by the Maroons, who by this time had developed into a splendid organization, with good team work and excellent basket shooting. Pearce and Brown made six field goals apiece. Thompson, playing in place of Capt. Hinkley, who was out with an injury, made four field goals and played a good game.

Hinkley, Capt., Left Forward.

"Art" was the best floor man on the team and worked the ball up the floor continually. He was also a good shot for the basket, and a hard and consistent player, who made good as captain.

Pearce, Right Guard.

Pearce, at running guard, proved to be the most sensational basket shooter. He rung basket after basket from the middle of the floor when the basket was closely guarded. He shared with Brown the point winning honors of the squad.

Johnson, Left Guard.

"Jerry," because of his size and shiftiness, developed into a fine standing guard. He did his best work in breaking up the passing of opposing teams and forced them to shoot before they reached the basket.

Brown, Right Forward.

George was the best under the basket shot on the team. The team had great confidence in feeding the ball to him and he could be depended on to make the points. He was a very hard man to guard.

Meneffee, Center.

"Vic" was a good floor man, but a rather poor basket shooter. He is big and fast, handles the ball well and was a big factor in the teamwork. Although not an exceptional jumper he was able to secure his share of the tip-offs.

Thompson, Guard.

"Bud," although handicapped by his size, was the only man besides the regulars to win an "M." He often substituted at guard and proved to be very effective at breaking up plays before they were well started.

Norton, Forward.

"Strangler," in spite of his 190 pounds that he carried over the floor with him, was the pepiest man on the squad. He was a hard worker and forced the varsity to do their utmost to keep their regular positions on the squad.

Swartz, Center.

"Red" was often used at center, where his size told to good advantage. Although rather slow in floor work he proved to be a valuable man in shooting baskets.

Lloyd, Guard.

While Tom did not join the squad until the second semester he was not slow in getting into shape and proving that he could still play basketball. He played in several games and always gave a good account of himself.

Drake Relays

April 21, 1917

Morningside's two-mile relay team won this event at the Drake Stadium on April 21 for the third consecutive year. McConkey, in starting the race for Morningside, ran the best race of his life and handed the stick to Omar in third place. Omar started out at full speed and near the end of the first quarter passed into the lead. He maintained this lead until the turn on the last quarter when he sprained his ankle, making it well nigh impossible for him to finish. Walker started the race under a great handicap and was not able to catch up with the leaders until the last lap. With a fine burst of speed in the last 200 yards he was able to give Curry a lead of fifteen yards. Curry immediately set out to widen his lead and finished a good fifty yards in the lead of his nearest competitor. But for the disaster to Omar the team probably would have lowered the record of 8:15, which is held by the 1916 Morningside team.

Lloyd Schearer, First, Academy.

On the 22nd of February, over a course made very slippery by a thin layer of snow, Lloyd Schearer broke all precedent at Morningside by finishing first in the annual Monument run. He was the first Academy man that ever won this race, thereby winning two medals. The Monument run is the only cross country event of the year at Morningside. It consists of a trip to the Floyd Monument, of about two miles, and return, and is always run on Washington's birthday, regardless of the weather.

Teams That Have Won

1909—Storm Lake.	1914—LeMars.
1910—Sioux City.	1915—Sioux Falls.
1911—Cherokee.	1916—Sioux City.
1912—Sioux City.	1917—Sioux City.
1913—Sioux City.

Walker was the most consistent and hard working man on the squad. He finished first in the half-mile in our two dual meets. "Steve," as captain for this spring, will make a fine leader.

Johnson decided he wanted an "M" in track and picked the weights for his event. He surprised even himself and proved to be an easy point winner in the two dual meets.

Capt. Curry is one of the best all around track men that was ever developed at Morningside. Not satisfied with being one of the best half-milers in the State he runs the hundred in 10:2 and came close to the record in the Monument run last year. Wendell made a hard working and likable captain.

Wenig is an almost sure point winner in the high jump in any meet he enters. He also won points last spring in the broad jump and in the discus. "Obe" was expected to set up a new record this spring, but he was called into the Army.

Harrington is another of the veteran track men who made a good showing last spring. Ed ran both the high and low hurdles and big things were expected of him this spring, but he failed to return to school.

Harrington is one of the veterans of the track squad. Ray is a consistent worker and has added over a foot to his record in the shot put each year since he has been in school. He was an easy winner in this event in both dual meets.

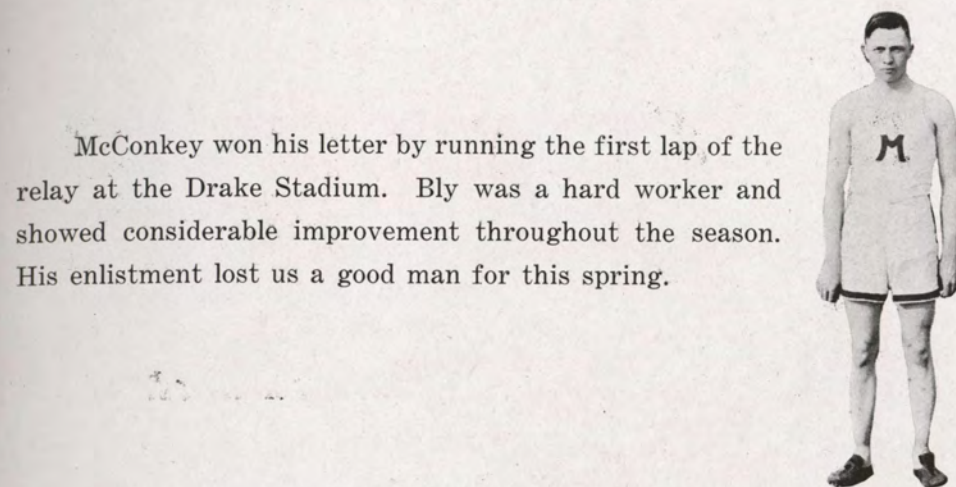

Gantt, although a new man in track work for the Maroons last year, proved to be the best point winner on the squad in the dual meets. "Ted" succeeded in winning one first and two seconds in one, and four seconds in the other.
His enlistment was a serious blow to our track prospects for this spring.

Hornney at last achieved his heart's desire, and is now entitled to wear an "M." "Al" put in four hard years down on the cinder path in order to win the low hurdles against Nebraska Wesleyan.

Omar won his letter in track last spring by being a member of the Drake Relay team. Although handicapped by a bad ankle and forced to limp his last quarter "Frogie" finished his half in 2:03. He also was lost to us this year because of enlistment in the Navy.

McConkey won his letter by running the first lap of the relay at the Drake Stadium. Bly was a hard worker and showed considerable improvement throughout the season.
His enlistment lost us a good man for this spring.

Hunt secured his "M" last spring by winning the mile against Yankton. Albert had a hard fight with Kenny for first honors in the mile and between them they were able to divide the points in both dual meets.

Kenny pushed Hunt hard all year for honors in the mile. Tom made his "M" after a spirited fight with Hunt all the way around in the Nebraska Wesleyan meet. Kenny was also lost to us this year because of his enlistment.

Pearce was one of the best all around men on the squad, participating in the jumps, the pole vault, the weights and the hurdles. He won his "M" in the pole vault.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

Track and Field Chairman, Aurelia Sturtevant; Hockey Chairman, Mildred Wolfe; Chairman, Agnes Fry; Tennis Chairman, Ruth Mahood; Hike Chairman, Hazel Bergeson; Basketball Chairman, Ruth Belev.

"M" Sweaters

The Agora Club, on the proposal of Miss Luechauer and Agnes Fry, has formulated a plan by which "M" sweaters can be worn by the girls. These sweaters will be white with a maroon "M" and white "C" monogram. A girl playing basketball may win ten points, and the Yale-Harvard players are awarded five extra points. The class champions in tennis wins ten points, and the College champion wins five extra points. Each girl taking three five-mile hikes a semester is given five points. The five best players on each hockey team earn ten points, all others on the hockey teams win five points. The girl taking first place in the track meet wins five points. For the first ten points that a girl earns she is awarded a class numeral, and when she earns forty points she is awarded the "M. C." monogram, and when seventy points are earned she is awarded the white sweater with an "M. C." monogram. Only twenty points a year will count toward honors. Members of 1918 Class earn a monogram with twenty points, members of 1919 Class with thirty points and a sweater with forty-five points. In eligibility for final honors the following points will be taken into consideration: Personal presence, athletic accomplishment, spirit, service and scholarship.

WINNERS OF "A" MEDALS

Ruth Mahood, by earning the greatest number of points in the track meet, by making the Yale basketball team, and by winning the tennis tournament, was awarded first medal. Aurelia Sturtevant, by winning second place in the track meet, by making the Yale basketball team, and by being a runner-up in her class tennis tournament received second medal. These "A" medals are awarded by the Agora Club, but now are to be replaced by the "M. C." monograms and the "M. C." sweaters.

The Forensic League is composed of representatives from each of the men's literary societies. The league forms compacts with other Colleges for inter-collegiate forensic contests, selects the question for inter-society debates, supervises oratorical contests of the college and, in fact, has under its control all matters relating to the forensics of the College.

Society Spirit in Morningside

"By friendship we mean, the greatest love, the greatest usefulness, the most open communication, the noblest sufferings, the severest truth, the heartiest counsel, and the greatest union of minds of which brave men and women are capable."

Our Literary Societies satisfy this definition in all its phases. The greatest love—whose love can surpass that of John and Marie Sebern Kolp, Herman and Marion Heikes Leuder, Harry and Ruth Gillies Warnes.

The greatest usefulness—all hail to our boys in the army cantonments. We are justly proud of our boys in the service. To them we have dedicated our annual, and to them we give our annual, and to them we give our promise to back them to the limit.

The most open communication—here let us place our good times together, our literary programs and business meetings. We have formed friendships here that will outlive our residence as students. We "get next to" people in times of recreation and learn to admire them for their "pep" and good sportsmanship. Here also we mention the debates. They keep the spirit of friendly rivalry alive and broaden and clear the intellect.

The noblest sufferings—we pay tribute to Al Behmer. Our hearts are grieved, but our heads are held high, proud that he gave his life for freedom and democracy.

The severest truths—here we have our critics and set standards of behavior. In our business meetings we are criticised for all forms of misdemeanors, social and individual. It is all done in a spirit of friendliness and for mutual help and advancement.

The heartiest counsel—we bow to our alumni and former members. From them we derive our ideals and to them we go for advice or help. They are never too busy to help, never too busy to listen, and never too busy to give counsel.

The greatest union of minds—we cite here the attraction and stimulation of kindred minds. Our contemporaries are not inferior to former members. We have faith to believe that we, as present active members, will serve as freely and as wisely as our predecessors, and help to weld the golden chain of friendship, connecting the past with the future.

United Red Cross Auxiliary

Lewis, Rhinehart, Long.

KEEPING THE HOME FIRES BURNING

There are more than 180 Morningside College men enlisted in the service of Uncle Sam in order that the brotherhood of the nations might be accomplished. An equal number of Morningside girls are devoting a large amount of their time, which might be spent digging "A" grades, working in one or more kinds of Red Cross work.

Morningside can well be proud of the spirit her girls have manifested in "helping win the war," for there are now five Morningside women on the honor roll. The girls at home are working hard, faithfully and eagerly.

The first semester the girls worked with the Morningside Ladies' Auxiliary in the Hospital Garments Class, and knitted sweaters, socks and wristlets. During October they filled and sent twenty-five Christmas cheer bags to the boys in the training camps.

At the opening of the second semester the girls, realizing their responsibility as a group, determined to form a separate auxiliary. Resolutions were made and unanimously accepted on February 19th to establish a war program which embodies the following:

1. Obedience to the regulations of the United States Food Administration.
2. Economy in dress.
3. The wearing of warm clothing to help solve the fuel problem.
4. Elimination of needless expense.

On Washington's birthday, the Red Cross work was effectively launched. Most of the time was devoted to the sewing of hospital garments and French and Belgian layettes. Splendid work was done in both departments.

The Surgical Dressing Classes were started the last week in February, under the excellent direction of Mrs. O. B. McDonald, of Morningside, who is a graduate in the work. Under her efficient supervision the girls expect to reach the goal of 10,000 surgical dressings before the semester closes.

The knitters have also contributed their share in making over 200 sweaters and a large number of helmets, scarfs, socks and wristlets.

The Morningside College Girls' Red Cross Auxiliary was officially recognized on March 7, 1918, with the following officers:

President—Clara Lewis.

Secretary—Anna Rhinehart.

Treasurer—Ada Long.

The girls have sent their Collegian Reporters to the Morningside boys, made and sent them boxes of candy, and mailed books and magazines to them.

The spirit of the College was effectively expressed by the way in which the students and faculty subscribed to the Y. M. C. A. Student Friendship Fund, reaching a total of $3,000, which was double their quota.

The work of the Red Cross has only just begun, but will continue during the summer months as well as through the school year until the war is ended. The girls are "in the game" with the same splendid spirit which has characterized our boys, so that

Every time our thoughts turn to our boys over there,
And the women and children and maimed,
We will feel we are doing our utmost with grit,
And we'll feel we are playing things square.
And we'll know we are not merely doing our bit,
But—thank God—we are doing OUR SHARE.

Freshman Girl's Club

ISHKOODAH

Motto: "Be Square."

Purpose: To offer opportunity for closer fellowship among the Freshmen girls; to foster the spirit of democracy in the College, whereby each girl may attain her highest development; to promote literary activity among the Freshmen girls; and to aid in establishing and maintaining high ideals among the Freshmen.

Through this organization the girls of the Freshman Class become acquainted with each other very soon after coming to College, and it is in the meetings of this Club that the first seeds of College friendship which ripen into life-long ones, are sown. This year has been very successful and the girls have been well represented in every movement for the betterment of the College.

The Agora Club is a democratic organization, composed of all the College girls and the lady members of the faculty. Its business is conducted by an Executive Board which is representative of the girls' student body. The Club takes charge of the girls' athletics, forensic and social activities in the College.

During the past year the time has been devoted largely to Red Cross work.

The very nature of the College environment demands some kind of a meeting ground for religious activities. The Y. W. C. A. supplies this meeting ground. "To guard, convert, develop, enlist and train every girl in school"—that is the purpose of the Association. Many opportunities are found through the medium of the Y. W. C. A. for faithful service and for developing moral responsibility. This, in turn, raises each girl's ideals and leads her to face the demands of Christ upon her life.

Our Association receives great inspiration from inter-collegiate relationships through the various conferences. Local College interests then give way to the larger demands, and Christianity is viewed from the world-standpoint.

When school opened last fall it was found that several of our cabinet members, including the President, had answered the call of Uncle Sam, while one or two others were unable to return to us for other reasons. We have missed these men and their influence continually, but nevertheless we have tried to do our best without them.

The program for the past year has included such things as the sending of nine men to Lake Geneva in June, the raising of $300.00 for our local budget, boosting for the friendship campaign, conducting the special religious meetings in February, boosting for the Northfield plan of study, and preparing the field here in our College for a more extended work for next year.

Food Conservation at Morningside

The effects of the war have been noticed in every phase of College life and especially along the line of food. The Home Economics Department has been wide awake to all the needs of and requests for the conservation of foodstuffs. A series of fifteen luncheons have been served, which used only conservation dishes, and have shown what can be done with substitutes. Demonstrations of recipes using meat, wheat, fat and sugar substitutes have been given by the Senior Cooking Class. The subject of conservation has been brought before the students by different speakers, such as Miss Conlon, head of Food Conservation Work in Sioux City, and Mr. Foster, the head of the Food Administration in Woodbury County.

A novel program was given in chapel by the Home Economics girls to arouse interest and enthusiasm in the saving of food to win the war. A cook book of menus and recipes for meatless and wheatless meals and for substitutes has been written and edited by the department, under the supervision of Miss Callie Mae Bliss, head of Home Economics Department.

A food conservation committee has been appointed by the President of the Agora Club to keep the subject of saving food before the students and secure their co-operation.

"Food will win the war."

One Hundred Seventy-Eight

Our Alumni

The real worth of Morningside College is best shown by the lines and deeds of the men and women who have left their Alma Mater to take up their share of the burdens in the work of the world. When they were students in these same halls they became inspired with a spirit and with ideals that has been of permanent benefit to them. They held those same ideals that we maintain today, ideals that have made Morningside famous: "To attain high scholarship, to maintain clean athletics, to preserve pure morals, to inspire lofty living, to urge a fine conservation of talents to the service of the best."

The spirit of Morningside's Alumni is shown in the present world conflict. The fact that we have two hundred and ten names on our Honor Roll shows that a great number of our Alumni are willing to make the supreme sacrifice. These men carry that strong, wholesome spirit which makes our Alma Mater a living and essential force in the life of everyone who has had the privilege of attending Morningside. This spirit of willing and helpful service and sacrifice inculcated here on our campus has remained with them in the most severe trials.

Morningside Alumni may be found in the far countries of the world laboring as missionaries and teachers to the less fortunate ones. Many of them have taken up post graduate work in the leading schools of the country in order to fit themselves for more useful service. Alumni organizations have been formed in the cities and towns, universities and colleges where graduate students are located with the purpose of keeping alive the old Morningside spirit which they have learned to love. Our Alumni are always ready to assist in making Morningside bigger and better and to perpetuate the genuine Morningside spirit, which has broadened their vision of service, encouraged them in defeat and inspired them to higher purposes in victory.

Monument Day

With the return of the baseball men with four victories in their down-State trip and having won two duel meets the students decided to take May 17th as their annual holiday and go to the Monument. The band men were sent after their instruments and instead of going to Chapel we held a big pep meeting out near the Spoon Holder. From here the whole student body, and several faculty members, journeyed to Floyd Monument. After "Buster" and "Rusty" had lead us in several yells, Jim took charge of the meeting and we had several pep speeches from the students. After a vaudeville sketch by George Pratt and a few more yells the crowd divided into small groups and started for their belated dinners. While many were fortunate enough to reach home in ample time it was reported that several who chose the path through the South ravine were late for their 1:30 classes.

Agora Banquet

March 23, 1918

On the 23d of March, the basement of Grace Church was the scene of much merriment, for the Agora Club was holding its annual banquet. Many of the Alumnae were present and were welcomed with open arms, many mothers caught their first glimpse of the social life of Morningside College, and many new girls were initiated into another College activity. There were several outsiders present, among them being High School girls and girls from other Colleges, and they were given an exhibition of true Morningside pep.

This pep originated from various sources. There was the interest in the tables which were decorated by the various classes, the interest being at its height when a silver cup was awarded to the Class of '21 for the most artistic table and the highest percentage in attendance. There was the interest in the appetizing menu, which was so well prepared by the ladies of the Church and so skilfully served by the College men. We might even say that there was an interest taken in the waiters, although they preserved their dignity very well as polite waiters should. The most marked enthusiasm was shown in the complimentary (?) remarks passed by one class upon another, in which were shown the exuberance of the Freshmen with their outburst of uncontrolled enthusiasm, the meekness of the Sophomores in their remarks, the super-knowledge of the Juniors with their "We knowed it," and the dignified wisdom of the Seniors, Alumnae and Faculty in the friendly advice given to the younger generation.

The toast program was one of especial interest with Miss Mabel Elizabeth Brown as toastmistress. The life of a soldier was cleverly depicted by the representatives of the various Classes. "The Recruits" was given by Miss Elizabeth Hickman, of the Academy; "In Training," by Miss Anna Coughlan, of the Freshman Class; "On Parade," by Miss Laura Engberg, of the Sophomore Class; "Drill," by Miss Miriam Fish, of the Junior Class; "Retreat," by Miss Lida Saunders, of the Senior Class; "Taps," by Miss Gladys Little, of the Alumnae, and "Commissioned Officers," by Miss Helen Lund, of the Faculty. The evening closed with the singing of College songs.

MEN'S BANQUET

March 29, 1918

Away back in the dim distant past, some twelve years ago, an idea was born and thrown upon the uncertain mercies of Morningside's male students. Strange to say this idea survived the rude buffeting of inexperienced hands; not only survived, but grew and flourished to such an extent that today it has become a firmly established custom. This idea that materialized and became a tradition is the annual Men's Banquet. Its first years were not balmy ones, but it gained steadily in importance until in 1912 there was introduced an innovation in the form of Class competition for the best table decorations and the most perfect attendance. The prizes were at first non-descript silken pennants, but in 1916 they rose to the dignity of handsome and expensive trophy cups.

For the men, this banquet is the great get-together event of the year. High School students from the surrounding territory are invited here to catch a glimpse of the College spirit that has made Morningside, and that last fall spread her name from coast to coast as a doughty opponent of Notre Dame. Alumni come from all parts of the United States and even from the far corners of the world to participate again in that jolly affair and to get anew the inspiration that in the past has stood them in good stead. Some times parents insist on coming also, but we place them at a table by themselves, where for at least a time they cannot ask embarrassing questions. But it is the students that are the spirit of the whole thing. With that jolly-good-fellow spirit the Classes hurl mighty insults at each other and bandy choice bits of flagrant scandal. With glorious conceit they boastfully chant of the virtues they possess and the victories they have won. The parlors of Grace Church ring with songs and yells. Practically every man in College is there. The fellow who does not go is looked upon with scorn by the whole student body and for months bears the weight of deep suspicion and distrust.

This year there seemed to be an undercurrent of seriousness. Though our jokes were as numerous and our unearthed scandal as rich and varied as ever, we all felt the heavy shadow and grim responsibilities of this war that hangs over our nation. The toasts, the addresses, the table decorations all brought it home to us. Even the substantial fare that was served was a war meal. We had but to look around us to see many empty places whose occupants are now offering their lives on the plains of France. Letters were read from students and faculty members in the service, men that but one short year ago were here with us. Every man realized the tremendous duty he owes to these men; every student made a secret vow to work as he had never worked before and in some measure to justify this noble sacrifice.

When the last toast was given and the last handshake was over; we parted—many of us never again to banquet together. When another year rolls around and Morningside men again gather to banquet there will be many more vacant places, some of which shall never be filled. But though we are scattered to the ends of the earth, though we are falling in far off France we shall never forget our beloved Alma Mater, and old Ki Yi shall ring out over the fields of Germany as we carry Old Glory to the very walls of Berlin.

May Fete 1917

Ruth Gillies, Retiring Queen

Marion Heikes, Queen

Under the Direction of Miss Salome Luechauer.

The third annual May Day program was given by the Agora Club on Bass Field. Each year the exhibition is bigger and better than before and so it was last year.

It was an evening performance and due to a rainstorm on the first night that had been set, the program was postponed until a later date. The day came and it was warm and cloudy. About 6 o'clock it looked as though it would clear off and so before the scheduled time people began to arrive. The bleachers were crowded and automobiles were lined up several deep back of the bleachers ready to use their headlights on the field when the signal was given.

Then the procession came down the cinder path. The Queen of the year before led the procession and was followed by the new Queen and her attendants. Next came all the dancers in bright colored costumes. The Queen was escorted to her throne and was crowned by the retiring Queen while the court dancers stood facing the throne.

May Fete 1917

Just as the Queen was being crowned it started to rain and as the sky was pretty black and it kept on raining harder, the dancers fled to the various tents back of the field. The crowd also dispersed and thus ended the program of the first day.

The program was again postponed and when the evening came, no one could have asked for a nicer one.

Again the procession came down the cinder path, and, after the Queen had taken her place on the throne, the dancers began the dances which were representative of various birds and flowers. First came the grand march in which all of the girls took part. This was followed by the dance of the Fairies. The Fairies were frightened away by the three elements. After the elements disappeared, the Spring Beauties took their place, followed by Violets and the Jack-in-the-Pulpit and Wild Roses. These were well received by the Queen and her attendants. After the Wild Rose dance came the Blue Bird dance, whose place was taken by the Buttercups. Then the Clover, Black-Eyed Susan and the Lily-of-the-Valley dances were given and all was concluded by the winding of the Maypole. Again the long procession formed and marched off of the field the way it had come. Another May day was ended, the prettiest and best we had ever had.

Dear Folks: I have decided to keep a diary of the daily happenings here at our Cantonment on the Sioux, in order that you may understand why it is that we do not find time for the less important work of keeping up with our studies and thereby gaining promotion. It may also serve in after years to refreshen my memory and help me in recalling the numerous events that aid in making my stay in this Training Camp so pleasant.

10. The first thing that happened after the spring furloughs was a lecture course number at Grace Church. Burns spoke on the southern mountaineers. It is rumored that Rusty stepped again that night, but we have no proof.

11. An awful epidemic of diamond rings and Otho pins has broken out in camp. The latest count shows ten victims. We do not know whether this is catching or not, but they say it is fatal for those stricken.

12. Any one passing by the Conservatory tonight and hearing the heartrendering sobs of Buster and the stammering ravings of Chick would have thought terrible tragedy was being enacted. However, it was only an expression recital.

14. The thunder roared and the lightening flashed. The new Annual Board has gone to smash. Well, "Let the dead bury its past." We have an Annual Board now, which is going to put out the best in spite of the high cost of living.

RUSTY AND DAMELL

15. A breath of spring and the tennis sharks are out. They elected officers for the Association today.

17. The first victims of the afore mentioned epidemic succumbed today. Claire and Irene were married. They have been under quarantine for some time so it did not come as a shock to their friends.

19. Military drill this morning at 6 A. M. Some of the rookies were on time. It shows that Morningside pep can become Morningside patriotism. This morning in chapel we had a big booster meeting for the Drake Relays. Sounds of victory in the air. This afternoon the Faculty ladies put on their new spring gowns and enjoyed the Athenaeum violet tea.

21. Morningside as usual wins the two-mile event at the Drake Relays. The Pi's gave an interesting open door, "An evening with modern composers and writers."

23. This morning the Philos and Athenaeums had a picnic at South ravine. After the eats an intense botanical and biological research took place.

27. In conclusion then, honorable judges, we maintain that the Coeds are some debaters. The girls' annual debates took place tonight. Sure we won.

28. Something doing for everyone tonight. The Pi's and Ionians had a good old frolic in the gym. The rest of us went to the Zet-Otho open door and saw the "movies." After that we went into the Philo Hall and saw them give "Up to Freddie."

30. The home meet on Bass Field, Curry won individual honors.

The Fit-Form--the Stein-Bloch

The young man who possesses as much snap, whim and go as you, should wear clothes that reflect his personality. Such clothes can be obtained at Davidson Bros. Company, and they are the

Fit-Form Clothes for Young Men

As their name implies, they fit to the form, bringing out the natural, graceful outlines of the youthful figure. The tailoring, the finishing, the quality of materials, the colors and patterns of these clothes, too, are such that please the young taste. And we recommend them highly.

THE BIG STORE SIOUX CITY IOWA

1. Some of the boys received May baskets this morning. This afternoon the Athenaeums were entertained by the Pi's at a tea. Afterward everyone went to the baseball game and saw Morningside beat Highland Park, 7-0.

2. Morningside again defeated Highland Park in baseball, 11-2.

4. A "rearin' tearin'" crowd of High School people assembled on the bleachers this afternoon to cheer for their representatives in the annual "M" meet. Sioux City won the meet.

5. Another victory for the Maroons today. Yankton defeated in dual meet.

6. The Othos and Zets woke all the little birdies in South ravine this morning. The breakfast was fine (Mrs. Perry was cook), and, of course, someone had to keep up tradition, so fell in the creek.

11. My goodness! Lots of things happened today, M. C. won the dual meet from Nebraska Wesleyan. Klippel won first in the oratorical contest. This evening the Pi Kappa Delta held their first annual banquet.

12. The Athenaeums entertained their mothers today at a 6 o'clock dinner, and an open door afterwards.

13. Mothers' Day.

14. The Pi's and Ionians enjoyed a joint picnic at Stone Park today.

17. The Zets entertained their mothers at a tea this afternoon. My, but the eats looked good.

18. Morningside entered into a double debate with St. Viator College. As a result we report a victory and a loss for Morningside. Our track team won fourth place in the State meet.

21. Zet hen party at Esther Montgomery's.

22. Dr. Hilmer sprang a new song in Chapel this morning which didn't go with the music. It was very entertaining, if not melodious.

26. One grand rush for the Sioux '18 which appeared today.

31. After several vain attempts on account of the rain, the May festival finally took place this evening. Miss Leucheur's trained troops made a pretty picture as they froliced at dusk on Bass Field.

JUNE

9. This week the Seniors reigned supreme. Graduating exercises of the school of expression this evening.
10. Baccalaureate Sermon at Grace Church.
11. Class play this afternoon in the Chapel. This evening the graduating exercises of the Conservatory of Music.
12. A busy day for everyone. 9:00 A. M. A reunion of classes and Literary Societies. 11:00 A. M. Farewell student assembly. 12:30 P. M. Alumni luncheon. 6:00 P. M. Alumni banquet. 8:30 P. M. President's annual reception.
13. At 10:00 this morning the Senior Class became alumni. The commencement exercises were given by Rev. Charles Burns, of Minneapolis, Minn. Goodby everybody. Have a good time during furlough.

11. Hello, Everybody! You bet we are glad to be back. We are sorry, though, that so many familiar faces are missing. So many of our soldiers have been called into service. Enlistment here began today with the largest bunch of rookies we have ever had.

12. Tonight we had our annual Y. W. reception up in the halls. Everyone was happy until the boys stole our melons. The Y. W. held their reception in the gym.

13. It seemed good to be back in Chapel this morning and have one of our old-time pep meetings again.

14. Y. W. and Y. M. joint reception tonight. The Freshmen all stepped out.

15. Lots of excitement this evening over the annual society scrap. Never mind, it was ever thus.

16. President Craig preached the Matriculation Sermon today. Subject, "Challenge of the Times to the Youth of Today."

17. Everyone went to the Epworth League reception at Grace Church tonight. A howling success.

18. Classes elected captains for the new year.

24. Morningside band was organized this morning with Archie Freeman as director.

25. Ethel Leginska appeared on the first number of the Sioux City Concert course at the Auditorium.

26. Harvey-Leuchauer engagement was announced this evening at a party given by Mrs. J. J. Hayes. Time to start in saving for those dining room chairs. The "M" Club held their initiation in the gym tonight. Oh, my, you boys play so rough.

27. Suffrage speech by Miss Vernon in Chapel this morning. "The poor suffering women."

THE FAME THAT WILL NEVER FIT A
"NEVER MIND FRESH YOUTH AD WILL SPEAK."

NOCT

THIS WAY ALL
EXCEPT SENIORS

1. The new Zets entertained their older sistes at Clara Back's this evening.
4. Lots of us went down to the Auditorium to hear McAdoo speak this afternoon. This evening the men's societies welcomed their new members.
6. First football game of the season. M. C. drubbed Trinity, 62 to 7. This evening while the Pi's were enjoying their annual banquet at the West Hotel, the new Zets and Athenaeum pledges were enjoying ? informal initiation.
8. The Crescents and Hawkeyes enjoyed one of their good old-time parties tonight.
9. The Athenaeums were entertained at Murell Walker's this evening. The new pledges were hostesses.
11. Politics ran wild in the main hall this morning After a hard battle the wets won over the drys in a straw vote and Jerry was appointed to measure off a space for the bar at one end of the hall. Skinney Norton says "One Barz enough." We all agree.
15. Two by two they strolled by. The first bunch were Zets and Othos on their way to a picnic at South ravine. The second bunch were the Pi's and Ionians going to Isabel Walker's for a joint.
20. This afternoon the Maroons were again victorious over the Nebraska Coyotes, to the tune of 79 to 0. The Athenaeums gave the first open door of the year. They presented a play, "The Virginia Heroine."
22. Everyone had a real dinner with a toast programme. The Juniors were holding a banquet, the Hawkeyes and Crescents had a party in the Philo Hall, while farther on down the corridor the Sophomores entertained the Freshmen. Maybe you think the upper floor wasn't a nice quiet place.
25. The Hula Hula band made their first appearance in Chapel this morning. My, but those red middies were classy.
27. Same old story, Morningside beats Dakota Wesleyan, 33 to 0.
30. From lighter amusements we turn to real war work. M. C. raised $3,000 for the Y. M. C. A. war relief fund.

3. All the girls had a grand old frolic at the Agora party tonight. Weird Gypsies' ghosts and shadows inhabited the upper floor.

7. The girls begin to play hockey down on Bass Field. It is rumored that a number of the boys have purchased opera glasses.

8. Many are the hearts that are weary tonight. The poor girls were so immodest as to expect to march in the parades downtown.

9. Anyway, the boys had a real parade tonight. Pajamas and night shirts. Oh, horrors! Girls all look the other way as they go by.

10. Times have changed. It is no more unmaidenly for the M. C. girls to march in the parade. All morning we marched. Men, Coeds and the band. The occasion? Why, Morningside played Notre Dame in football. The biggest team we have ever met. Notre Dame won, but we held them to two touchdowns.

20. The Senior Expression Department gave a recital this evening.

24. Soltow won the home oratorical contest. Lee is sure a real speechmaker.

25. A "Box of Monkeys," given by the Philo and Athenaeum Societies. A real good laugh for every one.

29. A big pep meeting was held in Chapel this morning for the Vermillion game.

30. Such a grand and glorious feeling. We beat S. D. U. for the first time. How the flames leaped and sparkled as the victorious Sioux fried coyotes out on Bass Field this evening.

VACATION
SPORT

3. The Chicago Orchestral Choir appeared as the first number of the College lecture course.

7. The Freshmen followed the noble example of the Seniors and both classes held parties in the Society Halls this evening.

8. The banquet room at the Martin Hotel was the scene of the Zet annual banquet tonight.

12. All this week has been agony for the girls. Debate tryouts you know.

13. Ng Poom Chew appeared in the second number of the College lecture course. It was a disappointment that he wore no pigtail.

17. The Othos have an open door. Some of the scenes were very thrilling.

20. The Athenaeums and Philos had their last get-together party before Christmas vacation. The Othos and Zets, down in their hall, were having a "rearin" good time, too.

21. Christmas vacation begins.

7. School begins.

11. First social event of the new year. The Juniors entertained the Seniors at Ruth Reid's. Lots of excitement over Some'r'set. The Y. W. C. A. President said, "I thought there were 52 cards in a deck."

14, 15, 16. Inter-society debates. The Ionians won the series.

18. Some of us heard Joseph Hofmann at the Auditorium tonight. Another memorable evening.

19. A fiery debate in Chapel over 6-day a week plan.

20, 24. Midnight oil—cold cloths on our fevered brows—exams.

26. Everything is over now, but the funeral. We celebrated by going to the post exam jubilee.

28. The three girls' societies entertained in the honor of their brother debaters tonight. Athenaeums and Philos at Murrell Walker's; Zets and Othos at Harriet Lawrence's, and the Pi's and Ionians at Francis Craig's.

31. Morningside played her first inter-collegiate game of basketball this evening, beating Aberdeen, 21-12.

HESTER

4. Great excitement in the gym this morning. The girls' basketball tournament started. Freshies beat the Seniors and the Juniors beat the Sophs. This evening the Othos held their annual banquet at the Martin Hotel. Some feed and some time.

9. Why did Ruth Mahood receive Fullbrooks laundry in the mail this morning? Such mistakes must be explained.

13. Morningside service flag was unfurled this morning in Chapel. The 150 stars is proof of Morningside spirit carried out into the world. This evening the Freshmen and Junior Coeds scrapped for the championship. The preps winning by a close score.

18. Morningside again victorious. We beat Western Union in basketball, 30 to 13.

20. Did we beat Huron? Yea, Bo.

21. Athenaeums hold their annual banquet at the West Hotel.

22. Lloyd Sheerer wins the annual Monument run. Camouflage Club have important meeting in Philo Hall. Everybody reports an excellent time.

24. Morningside Coeds again on the firing line. A Red Cross Society is organized, with Clara Lewis as President.

25. M. C. plays Yankton tonight. Oh, yes, of course we beat, 33 to 16.

1. March certainly rushed in like a lion. Lee Soltow won second place in the divisional oratorical contest. It was real oratory, too.

12. George Dunn wins the annual prohibition contest.

16. For the first time we feel the real touch of the war cloud as we place a gold star on our service flag. Al Behmer, our little "Methodist general," killed in action somewhere in France.

15. One victory and one defeat are reported from the dual debate clash with State Normal.

18. "The Shepherd of the Hills" was presented by the Philo-Athenaeum Societies as their grand public.

23. The grandest night of the whole year??? The annual woman's banquet took place this evening.

25. A patriotic address was given in Chapel this evening by Governor Harding.

26. Oh, that grand and glorious feeling. Don't you boys wish you could have been there and witnessed that Yale-Harvard game? After the struggle the score stood 18 to 14 in favor of Yale. Hooray, for Yale.

29. The Annual Men's Banquet was held tonight.

The Tribune Dominates Its Field In Advertising and Circulation

51,000 people buy The Tribune because they like it better than any other paper in this part of the country. They like it because it furnishes more news and better features than other papers do. Both Sioux City papers are members of the Associated Press, only The Tribune is a member of the United Press Association.

The Evening Tribune's circulation of 51,000 is 69% more than that of the other Sioux City evening newspaper; 145% more than that of the morning newspaper and 130% more than the only Sunday newspaper.

Tribune mail subscribers are 100% cash paid in advance. Do you know of another newspaper with so valid a claim to quality circulation?

In 1917 The Tribune carried in six evening issues a week, 665,426 agate lines or 29% more display advertising than the second Sioux City newspaper carried in its six combined morning and evening issues.

The Tribune carried 198,279 agate lines or 22% more national display advertising, and 467,201 agate lines or 29% more local display advertising than the six combined morning and evening issues of the second paper.

The first choice of both local and national advertisers in Sioux City is evidenced by these comparisons.

The Tribune offers quantity, quality and prestige. Established 1884 by John C. Kelly, Editor.

FURNITURE AND RUGS

In buying Furniture and Home Furnishings there are many ways that you can test the merits of the store with which you deal. We abide cheerfully by the test that our values show through comparison with others, and urge our customers to satisfy their doubts, however slight, in that conclusive way. You will find that our prices are not only the fairest, but in many cases the lowest in town.

THE TEST OF TIME

This bank has the distinction of twenty-five years of useful service behind it, which is the record for a Savings Bank in Sioux City.

Its material resources have grown from year to year and it has also grown as a part of the character of the community. A successful twenty-five-year-old savings bank should be a good bank to tie to, and we invite you to call and become a member of our ever-growing family.

Jokes

"FUSSING"

He left his home at 8 o'clock.
He did not say farewell.
He met his rival at her door,
And beat him all to h—l.

He entered with a how'y kid,
By Jove, you'r swell tonight.
Said she to him, "Lay off your lid,
The fire is burning bright."

Before the bright and cherry blaze,
The comfy sofa brought.
They settled down to fuss and gaze,
And 'dulse in dreamy thought.

They thought that papa was in bed.
They thought they heard him snore.
"We need not be alarmed," they said,
And never locked the door.

Unto the scene with mighty tread
At 12 o'clock he came.
He paused a moment in the hall,
And there secured a cane.

The romance of his years gone by,
Had vanished from his mind.
His heart was hardened and he was,
A cruel one of his kind.

He saw the lovers there in twined,
Within each others' arms.
He heard the whispered melodies,
Of love that's not alarmed.

O Cupid, thy work, you did it well.
The arrow still is there,
It brings to mind the days of yore,
When SHE gave joy for care.

He drooped his head, he dropped the cane.

Emotion filled his breast.
"Forgive me, O Thou God of Love,
Who gave me days so blest."

O fathers, from his grief take heed,
When yours shall fall in love.
Let a father's blessing not his cane,
Fall on them from above.

—H. R. H.

HOW TO GET AN "A"

1. Get a front seat and look intelligent. (If possible.)

2. Ask all the questions in class that you can think of. (Do not have them apply too close to the subject you are studying on or you will be forced to show your ignorance.)

3. Drive all your points home with well selected gestures. (The same set of gestures will do for all classes.)

4. Near the end of the period always claim that your pen is dry and borrow a pencil. (This shows that you are taking lots of notes.)

5. Be sure and visit the Prof's. office the night before exams and get a look at the question. (Write out the answers and carry them to class. Do not trust your memory.)

6. A little work might be well, but why make mountains out of mole hills and work when it is not expected of you.

WHAT DOES YOUR WASHING COST?

When you figure the wear and tear on your clothes on account of the terrific washboard-rubbing wear, you will find that the item of the weekly wash is too high—much too high.

Clothes washed with a

Western Electric Washer and Wringer

last longer because they are gently rocked into cleanliness—not beaten into it. Warm, soapy water is gently forced through all fabrics—cleaning heavy and fine alike—quickly without wear. Every item of expense in connection with your weekly washing is reduced—the additional cost is three cents for electricity.

"Bureau." Supremacy Commands Attention!

LOOK back over the past years and ask yourself what other Engraving Institution, specializing in college annuals, has wielded so wide an Influence over the College Annual Field?

Ask yourself if College and University Annuals are not better today because of BUREAU PROGRESSIVENESS and BUREAU INITIATIVE?

You know that the BUREAU OF ENGRAVING, Inc. inaugurated the system of Closer Co-operation with college annual boards in planning and constructing books from cover to cover.

Our marked progress in this field commands attention. Our establishment is one of the largest of its kind in this country. Our Modern Art Department of noted Commercial Art Experts is developing Artistic Features that are making "Bureau" Annuals Famous for Originality and Beauty.

And again, the help of our experienced College Annual Department is of invaluable aid. Our up-to-the-minute system, which we give you, and our Instructive Books will surely lighten your Burden.

A proposition from the Natural Leaders in the College Annual Engraving field from an organization of over 150 people, founded over 17 years ago, and enjoying the Confidence and Good Will of the foremost Universities of this country, is certainly worth your while.

Is not the BUREAU OF ENGRAVING, Inc., Deserving of the Opportunity of showing what it can do for - YOU?

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Park Moorehead—"How can I make myself popular with the girls at Morningside?"

Answer—Leave at once for another school.

Heckaman—"Why was it I got turned down when I asked for a date to the men's banquet?"

Answer—You will have to ask the girl.

Harold Freeman—"Is it proper to take a girl boat riding?"

Answer—Yes, it is perfectly all right, but hug along the shore, Harold, hug along the shore.

Leone Ullman—"Is it proper for a young lady to invite a gentleman friend to sit on the front porch after a party when a light snow has just fallen?"

Answer—It is proper, but it would have been better if you had cleaned off the whole porch rather than two spots close together.

Archie Freeman—"Can you tell me who swiped the phonograph the night we held a barn dance at the monument?"

Answer—If you had made a closer search of the editor's room you might have found it. Perhaps not.

Nellie Whittemore—"How can a girl get a fellow at Morningside?"

Answer—Keep on the way you are doing, Nellie, you should succeed in landing one after a while.

Helen Rinker—"I am having difficulty in keeping two men on the string at the same time. Can you advise me as to how this is done?"

Answer—Ask Leone Ullman, she seems to be succeeding very well.

Percy—"How can I keep a girl downtown, a girl in Morningside and a girl in my home town?"

Answer—Better try concentration, Percy, it is safer.

Bill Forbes—"How can I increase my height?"

Answer—Keep your mind on high things.

WHEN IS THE WAR GOING TO END?

Absolute knowledge have I none,
But my aunt's washerwoman's son
Heard a policeman on his beat
Say to a laborer on the street
That he had a letter just last week,
Written in the finest Greek,
From a Chinese coolie in Timbucktoo,
Who said the niggers in Cuba knew
Of a colored man in a Texas town,
Who got it straight from a circus clown,
That a man in Klondike heard the news
From a gang of South American Jews,
About somebody in Borneo
Who heard of a man who claimed to know
Of a swell society dame,
Whose mother-in-law will undertake
To prove that her seventh husband's sister's niece
Has stated in a printed piece
That she has a son who has a friend Who knows when the war is going to end.

—Ex.

Fish—"Why do they paint the inside of a chicken coop?"

Rusty—"To keep the hens from picking the grain out of the wood."

Dave Klatt, in ordering seats for the Orpheum: "Now listen; we want two seats together about half way down, as near front as possible, not too far back, but back far enough so we won't be too near the front. Understand?"

Joe Bogard bringing in a suspect:
"Sir, I found this man sitting in a Turn-Verein, eating limburger cheese and drinking kulmbacher, while he read Nietsche. He says his name is O'Brien."

HEARD ABOUT THE CAMPUS.

My Tuesdays are meatless,
My Wednesdays are wheatless,
I'm getting more eatless
Each day.

My home it is heatless,
My bed it is sheetless,
They're all sent to the Y. M. C. A.

The cafe's are treatless,
My coffee is sweetless,
Each day I get poorer
And wiser.

My stockings are footless,
My trousers are seatless,
My! How I do hate the Kaiser.

—Ex.

Soph—"What's the rush?"
Kirby—"Prof. Coss is overcome with

Chester—"No, more gas."

Pearce says he broke all records for a quarter mile the night he walked out from town and met up with the crazy man with the butcher knife.

Hirsch—"Can anyone tell me what makes the Tower of Pisa lean?"

Crary—"By Jove, I wish I knew that one."

COMMENCEMENT

The melancholy days have come
The saddest of the year.
At last the bills that I let run
Come home to daddy dear.

Extract from a letter from Hackett in Florida—"The country is abounding in beautiful and interesting things. I met two new ones today."

Prichard—"The acoustics at the New Orpheum are poor, aren't they?"
Tom McBride—"I don't know. Haven't seen 'em yet. What's their act?"

Johnston—"I have all but the last verse of my debate learned."

Heard in Psychology—"When scared, standing on the end of the hair follows."

Schellenger—"I don't deserve an 'E' grade in Politics."

Prof. Hirsch—"I know, but that is the lowest grade I can give you."

Stony in Epworth League—"I am so glad to say that I have been saved by Grace." He wondered why they all snickered.

Rusty, Archie and Walker were in deep conversation when Walker was heard to remark, "If I ever find the guy that swiped that angel food cake, I'll fix him so that one clean collar will last him the rest of his life."

Seems to me, Walker, that you would have to fix a whole regiment.

Prof. Coss—"I told you to notice when the solution burned over."

Freshie—"I did. It was a quarter to four."

Prof. Hayes—"George, use 'laid' correctly in a sentence."

G. Brown—"I laid in bed until 10 o'clock."

Prof. H.—"Correct. Use it in another sentence."

George—"I laid in bed until 11 o'clock."

Feminine Voice Over Phone—"Hello, are you Harry?"

"The Clerk"—"Not especially, lady, but I'm not very bald."

Student—"If it's heads, we go to bed. If it's tails we stay up, and (nervously) if it stands on edge, we study."

Pearce—"The paper in my room is patterned after streaks of lightning."

Percy—"Yes, it looks like thunder."

Harry Black recommends that in future years all parties be held in the gym, because there are no posts. He says that he had an "awfully" large dentist bill to pay.

Scott—"Say, Lee, how did you ever become such a wonderful orator?"

Soltow—"Oh, I got my start addressing envelops."

Swartz (in Spanish class)—"Women and nobody are in the same class."

Prof. Brown, calling roll in Educ. V., "Miss Bergh," Hazel, reading Reporter: "Hello!"

The 49ers held a business meeting a short time ago and decided that the $50,000 (Sh! they are supposed to have that much), should be used in buying schooners for the Jewish navy in the Dead sea.

CONSERVATION

Heard at Devitt's—"Why Lida you shouldn't use so much white floor, this is war times, you know."

We have been reminded several times during the past year by speakers in chapel that there is still a spirit of vandalism prevailing among certain students.

Vandalism in its pure state was shown by:

Taking the Freshmen girls' eats.
P. S.—No Tilly it was not ice cream,
it was good old lemon ice.

Demolishing and breaking veranda furniture as well as the proverbial 10 o'clock rule. We hate to say anything about this, but we will give some initials. Dale, Skinny, Annanious, Hoot-man, Strangler Norton and Mr. Park
Moorhead are the vandals sure enough.
This should be reported to the committee on discipline.

Stealing angel food birthday cake from H. Walker, A. L. Freeman, Rusty
McBride and company. Just as company come in the front door the cake goes out the back door. Cleverity, or rather vandalism, again demonstrated.

Hampering motions and maneuvers of Private Steinbrenner's efficient and highly pepped war machine. On—On brave lads. Hoop la.

Hothanding an engaged Senior for neglecting to recognize and accommodate members of 1705.

Girls marching in a College parade with the men, previous to some minor College activity. Such as the Morningside-Notre Dame football game, etc.

CAMOUFLAGE

Sue—"Why are you putting on so much rouge, dear?"

Pat—"Oh, Vic, is taking me to the 'Passing Show,' and I want him to think I'm blushing."

Walker finds himself carrying a book home for the first time during the year.
"My, how absent minded of me. Oh, well, I might as well take it home now, perhaps someone at the house may want to use it."

Speaking of petitions to the trustees, we move that one be handed them advocating an increase in wages for Jimmy Hayes. You can't run a family on hot air and cold pancakes.

Mrs. Craig (at the Senior dinner)—
"I'm so sorry the lights are off."

Ruth Smith (trying to be nice)—"Oh, that's all right. We're used to that."

G. Earl Barks reported to be still blushing when the lights came on again.

Jeep—"How can I cure myself of walking in my sleep?"

Butler—"Take car fare to bed with
you."

Skinny Norton and Tom McBride are offering $2.00 to the person that will break the electric light just across the street from the Farnham house. We suggest that this matter be handed to the committee on vandalism.

Sue—"How did you get such a good costume for that Hawaiian act in the 'M' minstrels?"

Jerry—"Simple. The 'M' Club merely stuck cockleburrs on me and chased me through a haystack."

Slickered Members of the Faculty

Prof. Van Horne was jipped by vandals and nearly lost all of his high standing in the community during the third Liberty Loan drive. His position offered a great opportunity for vandals to work. George W. would not buy, but it was not because of lack of persistence on Van's part.

College student calls up Vice President and reprimands him for not having the flag in its proper place on the campus. Five minutes later the flag was flying from the flag pole. Good work, Rusty, you certainly are a good secret service man.

Jerry—What is meant by the "Call of the Wild?"

Norty—Take him out of the box.

"What a letter," wailed Beryl. "He tells me he loves me only thirty-seven times."

"Don't blame Clint for that," suggested an older head. "Somebody probably censored it."

Bill Forbes, getting acquainted. "You were somewhere last Christmas weren't you?"

Freshie—"Why, of course; what do you mean?"

Bill—"Well, so was I. We must have met."

Prof. Hirsch—"A fool can ask more question in a minute than a wise man can answer in an hour."

Buster (under his breath)—"No wonder we all flunked that Politics exam."

HEARD ON THE BASEBALL TRIP

Norty stole second with the ball in the pitcher's hand in one of the games. When the pitcher got to the bench the coach jumped him with: "Why didn't you watch that man on first, was you asleep?"

Weak response: "I didn't know there was anyone on bases."

Coach turning to other players: "Here, what's the matter with you fellows? You tell this pitcher after this when men get on bases. We can't have any secrets on this ball club."

Of all the beautiful pictures

That hang on memories wall,

That of my dear old sheepskin

It seemeth the best of all.

Not for the honor it brings me,

Though of that I am fully aware,

But the thought of the years of bluffing

It required to get the thing there.

—Harold Walker, 20 Years Later.

Freshie looking for janitor on third floor. "Have you seen Henry? I just looked in the chickenette and he isn't there."

Lee—"I'm in good with Mrs. Devitt. Although I got in late for Sunday dinner she saved me the tenderest part of the chicken."

Cope—"You sure were lucky. What did she save you?"

Lee—"Some of the gravy."

Prof. Thompson—"Do you think this class is a joke, Mr. Norton?"

Skinny—"No, sir. I'm not laughing at the class."

UNCLE SAM WANTS YOU TO SAVE WHERE YOU CAN

We are in a position to help you save a great deal on your clothes made-to-measure. You no doubt are aware of the fact that there is a great scarcity of wool in our country; in fact, so much so that for the first time in the history of our country Uncle Sam has been forced to use about 25 per cent cotton in some of the soldiers' uniforms and blankets.

Notwithstanding this fact, Geo. A. Strief and the house he has back of him, who are known in this section as producing the best fitting, nicest looking and longest wearing made to order garments in America from $20 upwards, realized this situation over two years ago and contracted woollens and trimmings in quantities sufficient to take care of their trade in good shape and at the same time give the people the best quality for the money that has ever been shown in this country.

Uncle Sam has prohibited the use of unnecessary adornments in men's clothing to conserve wool. We are right in line with our government's idea that men's clothes made to measure should be cut and made so they would look masculine and not feminine.

The highest class merchant tailors of New York and Chicago have never favored fancy freak or sissy styles and have not robbed the garments of their linings to make the trade believe that a skeleton lined coat is a good thing even in winter.

Our garments are cut under the personal supervision of Mr. Mark G. Harrit, who knows how to give every customer's clothes that natural, elegant, manly appearance that all real men like so well and that everyone admires so much. Besides being cut right, our garments are made and trimmed to give absolute service and satisfaction—they are dependable in wear, retain their shape until they are worn out.

In these days of high prices and poor quality it pays to trade with a man who for fifteen years has been giving the people a square deal by courteous treatment, honest dealing and delivering the best all around made to measure garments in America at prices within the reach of all.

This is a good time to order. You have a selection of 500 of the prettiest patterns in the best values of reliable woollens that are honest and practical in weight and the best quality ever shown to the tailoring public, and you will never buy cheaper than right now.

You take no chances whatever, there are no ifs and ands nor maybes when you place your order with me. Your garments will fit and please you. Order now and you will get the best quality and lowest price.

Tom Lloyd, in telling of his experiences in Montana, recalled vividly one night that he spent in company with several others in an old tumble-down shack. About 2 o'clock a polecat made its presence known to Tom. He sat up and noticed that all of his comrades were asleep. Tom says, "And there I had to smell the whole thing all alone."

Dave—"I've got a good story to tell you. I don't think I ever told it to you before."

Lee—"Is it really funny?"

Dave—"Yes, indeed, it is."

Lee—"Then you never told it to me before."

Miss Stenger—"Mr. Johnson, why do you not write out your sentences?"

Jerry—"My pen is empty."

Miss Stenger—"I am afraid that your pen is not all that is empty."

Stranger—"Who is that funny acting couple over there?"

Student—"Oh, that is Dorothy Knudson and her 'Bride.'"

Youngberg—"Will you have something to drink?"

"With pleasure," Dux replied.

The photograph was taken and Dux said, "But what about that little invitation?"

"Oh, that's just a professional ruse of mine to give a natural, interested expression to the face."

It worked fine.

Mrs. Steele—"Does Prichard live in the fear of the Lord?"

Hackett—"I'm not real sure, but I know that when he is home he always takes a gun with him when he goes out on Sundays."

Neighbor—"Got much money in your bank now, Bobby?"

Bobby—"Gee, no since sister went to College the depositors have fallen off somethin' fierce."

Florence—"Well, at any rate, a woman always gets the last word."

Russell—"Not always, she might be talking with another woman."

"Skinney" Lehan certainly was right at home the day he rose in chapel to speak after "Chick" had asked for an expression from the girls' side of the house.

Miss Bliss—"Ruth, I think you had better make some chicken croquettes out of that left-over pork and calves' liver we had for luncheon."

R. Reid—"There was a little bread dressing that went with the pork left, too. Shall I make some apple sauce out of it?"

Miss Lund, explaining "parcheesi" to Prof. Thompson: "But now if you sit down beside me I won't send you home!"

Lee—"I understand there has been a new change in the Blue Book rules and that no student can have a date on Tuesday."

Tom—"Why did they make that rule?"

Lee—"Because Tuesday is meatless."

AN EULOGY TO JIMMY HAYES.

I.
The thinnest man I ever knew,
He lived down in Hoboken.
He was so thin that you may think
That I am only jokin'.
He was as thin as a postage stamp,
And as skinny as an old potater;
For exercise he'd take a dive
Thru a hole in a nutmeg grater.

Chorus.
Oh my! Goodbye! Just like a frog he'd hop.
He once made a fortune being a model
in a macaroni shop.

II.
He came to lead our minstrel show,
He walked among the trees;
He stubbed his toe against many a trunk
And the tree-tops brushed his knees.

Chorus.
Oh my! Goodbye! To the telephone man he'd hire,
And when they lacked a pole or two,
why, he'd hold up the wire.

III.
He never went out on windy nights,
He never went out alone,
For fear some lean and hungry hound
Would take him for a bone.
One night as he was sitting alone,
The light was burning dimly,
A bedbug grabbed him by the nape of the Neck and snatched him up the chimney.

Chorus.
Oh my! Goodbye! He often lost his breath;
He fell thru a hole in the seat of his pants
And choked himself to death.

A FRESHMAN GIRL'S LAMENT.

"Will you tell me how a Freshman girl can make and keep a smile on the face of the 'man in the case' and on the faces of the college authorities at one and the same time? This seems impossible to me, and I would be very thankful if you would suggest a method to do this and have it patented at once."

We will take this matter up with Miss Dimitt and see what can be done.

Anyone desiring recipes for negro delicacies can obtain them from Miss Esther Montgomery. It is understood that she is well informed concerning the management, trade, menus and prices of a negro restaurant, and that she is perfectly willing to pass this information along.

Marie—"If you were out with a fellow and he insisted upon putting his arm around you after you had taken it away several times, what would you do?"

Dot—"Why, I would get disgusted and leave it alone."

The following story is told on Prof. MacCollin. One cold and stormy night when he was about the age of 12 he was found shivering out in the rain. When asked what he was doing he replied: "I have to sing bass in the choir in the morning and I am trying to catch a cold."

Harold Hartley wants to know how long a chinchilla overcoat would last if a girl took a little Knapp off it each night.

Another year has passed. Have you?

Alma Mater

PAUL MACCOLLIN.

I.

Sing the praises of Dear Alma Mater,
Tell of her heroes bold,
Lift high your voices,
The chorus swelling,
All her glories now unfold.

Refrain.

Then cheer for Dear Old Morningside,
To thee we pledge anew,
Hearts of faithful love,
Now and forever,
Thy loyal sons are true.

II.

We love thy halls of learning,
And where'er we roam
We'll cherish the friendship
Which thou hast brought us—
Fair Morningside! Our home!

III.

Hear our vow, O Alma Mater,
Ever to honor thee.
All we have
In grateful remembrance bringing,
For the Glory of Old M. C.

South Carolina is noted for its old men, but we do not vouch for the truth of this one.

One time a man was traveling through Carolina and he saw an old man standing up against a woodshed crying. He took pity on him and said: "Old man, why are you crying?"

"Oh," he said, weeping violently, "my father gave me a licking for sassing my grandfather."

Here is a correspondence which is reported to have been carried on between one of our illustrious Academy students and his father during the first few weeks of his College career. We cannot vouch for its veracity.

Dear Father: This College game is certainly expensive. I can't stay in it without more cash. It is hard to get good results without the necessary money. I am a stranger here and my credit is not good. Your loving son,

DEWEY.

By next mail he received the following:

My Dear Boy: Quit the game. Your father could never play poker, so I don't see any use of your trying to learn. Your loving FATHER.

Father's advice to Freshman son: Beware, my son, of the woman who pur-reth, I love the smell of tobacco." And as for the woman who murmurs, "My hands are cold," run from her like the very devil.

Gladys Trenary—"Do you believe in signs?"

Milton Brenner—"Why, yes, of course I do."

Gladys—"Well, there is a sign which says 'Ice Cream for Sale Here.'"

Prof. Hirsch, referring to a history reference book by Schwill, said, "You will find this Schwill very fine."

Prof. Van Horne—"There are thirty odd members in the faculty."

Hickman—"Yes, mostly odd."

Norty, before the Vermillion game: "I don't want to kill anyone, but we have got to win that game."

PLAYING THE GAME

Barks—"Hello! Say, busy tomorrow?"

Ruth—"Yes."

Barks—"Gee, I'm sorry! I had a great idea."

Ruth—"What was it?"

Barks—"Oh, nothing; goodbye."

Ruth—"Hello! Hello!! Earl!!!"

Salvation Army Worker—"Young man, are you a Christian?"

Paul Jones—"No, I am a student."

Happy—"What is worse than raining pitchforks?"

Earl—"I bite."

Raun—"Hailing street cars."

Clarence Hart, while out selling groceries to the farmers last summer addressed a pretty farmer's girl who was milking: "How is the pretty milk maid?"

"Why, you poor student, it isn't made. The cow gives it."

Father—"They put up a pretty good table at your boarding club don't they?"

Student—"Oh, yes, the table is fine. The board is also excellent, but you ought to see what we get to eat."

Skinny—"Mrs. Jackson has certainly put a crimp in matrimony since she has come to Morningside."

Sam—"How's that?"

Skinny—"Since she has come, couples are unable to go through 'Life' together."

We sincerely hope that all jokes in this book will meet with the approbation of the Ministerial Association.

A Reminiscence

The last page of copy has been blue penciled and given to the linotype man, the last bit of engraving has arrived from our engraver, the surplus (?) contributions have been transferred to the waste basket and for the "steenth" and last time we have answered the question, "When will the Sioux be out?"

Now, at last, it is all over, and we are thankful. Beginning tomorrow we will begin to realize again what it means to live in "the land of the free" and be able to have a few minutes that we may call our own.

There was a time when the Sioux '19 seemed far from being a reality. At first we regarded the production of a year-book merely as child's play, we could do it with ease. Later, when work began, and we met with several disappointments we were very apprehensive that it would be necessary to give up our Annual for this year. It was our Business Manager and the Business men of Sioux City that made this book possible.

There are many to whom we are grateful for the work that has been done on this book. We cannot mention as many as we should like, but to the following we wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation: Mr. J. J. Sher, of the Bureau of Engraving, whose suggestions and advice has been of great value; Mr. W. H. Bastian, for the fine way he has co-operated with us to make this book a success; Mr. J. J. Hayes, Dr. A. E. Craig, Dr. W. C. Hilmer, Coach J. M. Saunderson and Prof. P. MacCollin for their willing contributions. Each and every member of the staff is to be commended for the splendid manner in which they handled their particular department. I wish to especially praise Mr. Jess Lang for the excellent drawings that appear throughout the book and to thank him for his interest in this work. Miss Gladys Knapp, Miss Isabelle Walker, Miss Ruth Mahood and Mr. Dale Norton deserve special commendation for the work that they have done. The help and work of Miss Ruth Reid will be appreciated always as she never refused to help out with any work that was asked of her.

To all these and more we are grateful. The past year has been one of pleasurable associations and hard work, and if we have been forced to give up other things for the Sioux, it has been eminently worth while.—The Editor.
