ALUMNI GREETINGS

Alma Mater sends Christmas greetings east and west, north and south. Her children are found far in the northland, far out under the Southern Cross, and far east, far west, until they clasp hands on the most distant part of the globe. This Christmas season she sends greetings to one and all. Home, Fatherhood, Motherhood, Childhood, and Love are centered in the life and teachings of the Saviour of Men, whose birthday we commemorate at this season.

Alma Mater asks much of you. She gives all, but in the giving is herself enriched in the benefits she renders to humanity. May all the pleasures of the season be to each and every one of the world-wide Morningside Family, individually and collectively.

THE ALUMNI NEWS LETTER

Morningside College Bulletin

New Series

SIOUX CITY, IOWA, DECEMBER 15, 1928

No. 137

Published semi-monthly from January to June inclusive, and monthly from July to December inclusive, by Morningside College. Entered February 13, 1911, at Sioux City, Iowa, as second-class matter, under the act of congress, August 24, 1912.

Morningside Forensic Season

Opened by Intersociety Debates

SPEAKERS MEET MANY OUT- STANDING DEBATE TEAMS

The intersociety debates were held Friday, December 14, in the chapel, giving one decision in favor of the affirmative team and one decision in favor of the negative team. This series of debates opened Morningside's forensic season.

These debates, along with the interfraternity debate series, and a try-out for those students not participating in the other two series, will be the means by which the members of the debate squad will be chosen for competition with scheduled debates with other colleges and universities.

The proposition which is being discussed this year is the national Pi Kappa Delta topic,

"RESOLVED, That a substitute for trial by jury should be adopted." Only three of last year's crack debate squad have returned this season, and the team will have to be built around the three veterans, Raymond Fullerton, Lisle Berkshire, and Howard Lease. The women's team was a bit more fortunate and will begin the season with four of the last year's squad, Madeline McMullen, Floradora Mellquist, Mildred Sirkin, and Lois Hickman. Members of the freshman class are expected to help build a winning team this year as several outstanding high-school debaters are students of Morningside College.

Several debates have been scheduled, among which are men's and women's dual debates with the University of South Dakota and with Western Union. The debaters will also meet Hastings College, Nebraska Wesleyan, Iowa State Teachers College, Drake University, Howard Payne College, (the cowboy debaters), Gustavus Adolphus College, South Dakota State College, Occidental College of California, and the Colorado Teachers College. A new feature of the debate season this year will be a Freshman dual debate with the University of South Dakota.

Work in oratory and extempore speaking will probably not commence until after registration for the second semester. Members of the squad who won national honors at the Pi Kappa Delta meet—Walter Upton, champion of the oratorical section; Miss Mary Maynard, winner of a third place; and Miss Mildred Hickman, winner of a second place—will not appear on the platform this year; so the field is undisputed by experienced speakers. A contest will be held early during the first of the year.

Maroons Down Des Moines University In Snowstorm—6 to 0

Morningside travelled to Des Moines November 17 and downed the leaders of the Iowa Conference, Des Moines University, in a game played on a mud-covered field and with a hard snow blown in by a freezing north wind, practically making good football impossible. Morningside scored by a sixty-yard run with Brinkman carrying the ball and from then on fought to overcome any attacks made by the Des Moines team to score.

The game put Morningside in the lead of the Iowa Conference as a result of its previous victory over Western Union, but does not give them the championship because Morningside does not play a representative schedule in the conference. Brinkman, Bartholomew, Beck, Kingsbury and McLarnan looked the best for Morningside.

South Dakota State Wins Thanksgiving Game 13 to 7

Morningside played its last game of the 1928 season with South Dakota State before a crowd of approximately 6000 people on Thanksgiving Day and met defeat with a score of 13 to 7 in one of the most bitterly contested games ever witnessed on College Field. Engleman, fleet back for South Dakota, made things hard for the Maroons in the first play of the game when he twisted and whirled past the secondary defence for seventy yards and a touchdown. Morningside then fought gamely to overcome the lead, but in the third quarter Engleman again placed the ball in scoring distance by one of his sensational runs, and State cinched the game with another touchdown. Early in the third quarter "Abe" Williams, Maroon center, intercepted a State pass, and by two passes from Crippen to Kingsbury and Brinkman and two or three thrusts at the line Morningside placed the ball near the ten-yard line. At this time of the game Saundy opened his sack of trick plays and with a run by Brinkman from what appeared to be a placekick formation the ball was carried to the one-yard line. From here Kingsbury carried the ball across and then kicked the goal for Morningside's points.

Though the whole South Dakota line played well, the work of Engleman and Scheafer, halfbacks, was outstanding.

For Morningside Brinkman, Thacker, Crippen, Beck, Bartholomew, and Williams played their best game of the season.

Several of the football players have placed their moleskins in the lockers only to don the basketball suit for the beginning of the season early in December.

"M" Club Initiates Nine Members of Football Team

Eighteen football men received the coveted "M" sweater this year following the season, which gave Morningside five victories in nine games, and nine of these men will be received into the "M" club at an initiation this month. Of these players who received the reward, Bartholomew, Williams, Thacker, and Fowler are receiving their third letter; Crippen, Beck, Pritchett, Brinkman, and Richardson are receiving their second letter; and Vander Wilt, Kettle, Kingsbury, Kitchen, Boone, Kerslake, McLarnan, Strom and Willer are winning the award for the first time this year.

Maroon Basketball Team Begins 1928-29 Season With Two Veterans

When Coach "Obe" Wenig brings his 1928-29 basketball team against its first opponent of the season, Midland College of Fremont, Nebraska, he will have only one veteran from the last year's team and one from a year ago, Captain Crippen and Abe Williams, guards. To augment these two men will be Collins, reserve center, who saw action in several games; Johnson, diminutive forward and a members of the "pony" squad of last season; and Kingsbury, a forward with a lot of speed and a good eye for the basket. Bill Danforth is another forward who played in several games, and Smith, a guard, is the only other reserve who has played much in college competition.

From the last year's freshman team Strong, a guard; Willer, a guard; Vander Wilt, a forward; and Weiner, a forward are the outstanding competition for varsity positions. According to Coach Wenig this team will be the fastest in the history of his coaching regime but it will also be the smallest. Morningside meets Midland College in the first game before vacation, and then the team will rest until January 4, when they meet Nebraska Wesleyan in Sioux City.

A complete schedule is as follows:

Dec. 14—Midland College at Sioux City.

Jan. 4—Nebraska Wesleyan at Sioux City.

Jan. 5—Western Union at Sioux City (tentative).

Jan. 11—North Dakota State at Fargo, North Dakota.

Jan. 12—North Dakota University at Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Jan. 19—North Dakota State at Sioux City.

Jan. 26—South Dakota State at Sioux City.

Feb. 2—South Dakota University at Vermillion, South Dakota.

Feb. 9—North Dakota University at Sioux City.

Feb. 15-16—Des Moines University at Des Moines and another game to be arranged.

Feb. 23—South Dakota University at Sioux City.

Ten Seniors Close Grid Careers Against South Dakota State College

Ten Maroon varsity men closed their careers as members of the football team on Thanksgiving day when they played against South Dakota State in the annual "Turkey Day" classic on College Field. Captain Bartholomew, who closed his third year as a guard, was outstanding in the game, going down under punts, tackling the receiver in his tracks, and breaking up play after play from the line of scrimmage. His work will undoubtedly gain recognition on the all-conference team and the all-state teams. Brinkman and Thacker, half-backs, played their usual steady and heady game, with several long runs by each. Thacker's tackling was outstanding, and Brinkman carried the ball within scoring distance with one of his brilliant runs.

Oscar Beck, the blonde-haired tackle, was the great defensive star of the game for Morningside, breaking up many plays behind the scrimmage line and making holes for the backs to smash through. At the center of the line "Abe" Williams was a tower of strength this year, and it was through "Abe's" intercepting of a pass that Morningside finally scored against State. "Abe" was called to fill Bastian's place this year after playing the full-back position for two years.

Webb Fowler, who has been a member of the Maroons for three years, did not get to play in the State game because of injuries. Fowler has been one of the mainstays in the backfield for three years and will graduate in June. "Scotty" Richardson, who has alternated at center, guard, and tackle, played a fine game at guard, and "Bill" Kerslake, who has played regularly at guard this year, was unable to play in the final game, because of an attack of appendicitis. Henry Boone, a fine end, was unable to play because of injuries to his leg, but Henry has played mighty good football all of the time he has been able to play. "Ben" Kitchen, the other senior end to graduate in June, will be greatly missed next year when Saundy calls his warriors together. "Ben" played in the State game until forced to be removed because of injuries.

These ten senior men have carried the brunt of the attack for Morningside, and it is through their work that Morningside has won five out of nine games this season. The scores of the games this year are as follows:

Sept. 29—Augustana at Sioux City, 6 to 26.

Oct. 6—Dakota Wesleyan at Sioux City, 0 to 26.

Oct. 3—North Dakota at Grand Forks, 25 to 13.

Oct. 20—South Dakota at Vermillion, 0 to 8.

Oct. 27—Western Union at Sioux City, 0 to 6.

Nov. 3—North Dakota Aggies at Sioux City, 12 to 0.

Nov. 10—Nebraska Wesleyan at Lincoln, 13 to 0.

Nov. 17—Des Moines U. at Des Moines, 0 to 6.

Nov. 29—South Dakota State at Sioux City, 13 to 7.

Sale of 1930 Sioux to Alumni Planned by the Manager

ALUMNI and ex-students will be interested in the 1930 Sioux, the Morningside year-book, which is being edited this year by Miss Mildred Peterson and her staff chosen from the Junior Class of the college. Plans for the finest book in the history of the college have been completed, which will include pictures of all the students, their activities, and the work of the school this year.

The sale of these annuals was taken care of by the incidental fee this year, each student paying half of the cost each semester, making it possible and required that each student have one of these fine annuals. Alumni will be able to receive one of these books by sending a check to the Bulletin for four dollars or addressing their letters to Mr. A. B. Gehring, business manager of the college.

The annual will be ready for distribution early in May according to plans of the editor and her staff.

A card from Elsie E. Lang, '21, informs us that she has changed her address from Beloit, Wisconsin, to Rochester, Minnesota. She expressed herself as being glad to keep in touch with Morningside friends through the medium of the Bulletin.

George Prichard, '13, was elected Commander of the American Legion of Iowa, at the state convention held at Cedar Rapids last month. Mr. Prichard is a lawyer at Onawa and has been active in the legion work of the state. Mr. Prichard was active in debate and was a member of the "M" club while in college.

Dr. Ida Belle Lewis is Guest at Morningside Dinner in Hollywood

Dr. Ida Belle Lewis, president of Hwa Nan College in Foochow, China, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Young, at a Morningside dinner, served in The Canary Cottage in Hollywood, California, November 2, at which several former Morningside professors and graduates of the college were guests. Dr. Lewis, who has spent eighteen years in the educational work in China, is the daughter of Bishop Wilson Seeley Lewis, deceased, who was a former president of Morningside College.

Those in the group, besides the honored guest, were Professor A. N. Cook, formerly holding the chair of chemistry at Morningside College, now in the same position at Occidental College, and Mrs. Cook; Professor F. H. Garver, formerly of the department of History of Morningside College, now with the University of Southern California, and Mrs. Garver; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Mouling, (Ruby Crawford); Mr. and Mrs. Michael Loftus, (Ethel Walker); the Reverend J. W. Walker of the College Church, and Mrs. Walker; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Flynn (Florence Fair); Mrs. Ruby Trimbel Collins, of Hollywood; and the hosts and their family, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Young (Emma Fair); Florence Viola, Lawrence Jr., Grace Lorraine, Richard Harvey, and Gladys Dale Young.

George Singer, '28, has been appointed junior physicist in the bureau of standards at Washington, D. C., according to word received here by friends. Several hundred were given the special examination required, each representing some college or university, and Singer received the highest grading of all participating in the test. Singer majored in the physics department of the college and was one of the laboratory assistants during his student days.

Alumni Notes

Floyd A. Connor, '21, is located in Rembrandt, Iowa, according to his letter.

A. B. Gilbert, '03, is now located at Auburn, California, according to a letter received this month.

Miss Claire Milne, '27, has taken a position with the Ray H. Daring Company in the city. Miss Milne was very prominent in affairs of the college and especially in the Agora society.

A letter from J. C. Ducommun informs us that he is at the University of Illinois in the College of Engineering. Mr. Ducommun was graduated from Morningside with the class of 1927.

Delmer C. Cooper, '16, is instructing in Botany and spending part time in graduate work at the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Cooper was formerly located in Purdue at Lafayette, Indiana.

Donald J. Walton, '17, is pastor of the De Witt Memorial Church in New York City. Mr. Walton's wife is Bessie Reed, '21. Mrs. Walton is the secretary of the Morningside alumni in New York City and reports a fine group of alumni in their association.

Paul E. Stevens is directing the band at the Industrial School at Eldora, Iowa. Mr. Stevens has been a member of the championship Monahan Post Band for several years and has taught music in this territory since his graduation from the college.

Nearly thirty Morningside alumni attended a reunion and annual meeting at Des Moines, November 9, at which Mrs. Bertha Lamereaux of Des Moines was elected president, and Miss Margaret Ferguson was elected secretary of the Des Moines group.

Five of the Morningside faculty were present at the meeting, including President F. E. Mossman, Professor E. A. Brown, Miss Lillian Dimmitt, Mrs. H. G. Campbell, and Dr. J. J. Bushnell. Speeches were given by President Mossman, Miss Dimmitt, Dr. Bushnell, Professor Brown, and William Waymack, of the Des Moines Register.

Gaylord Omer, a student in the college during the years 1913 to 1916 and now with the Mennen Company in Chicago, visited at the college on December 11. Mr. Omer's address is 5717 Glenwood avenue, Chicago, Illinois. Miss Marie Olmer also visited the college with her brother.

James Dolliver, '15, and Rachel McCreight, '23, of Milwaukee-Downer College, were married at Fort Dodge, Iowa. Mr. Dolliver is the County Attorney of Webster County. Mrs. Dolliver has been teaching in the Eagle Grove High School for the past two years.

The alumni "M" club sponsored the annual football banquet on December 11 at the Davidson Tearoom, at which over one hundred alumni and members of the freshman team, the varsity, and the coaching staff were the guests. The evening's program included several musical numbers and a toast program, which included toasts by Dr.

F. H. Roost, president of the "M" club; Charles Down, former star end; Coaches Saunderson and Wenig; Captain Bartholomew; and the Captain-elect Fletcher Kettle.

Fletcher Kettle, stellar Maroon halfback, was elected to the captaincy of the team for next fall, and should be a competent leader as he is an excellent player and full of the fight and vigor which make a fine leader. Kettle is a sophomore this year.

A letter from Martha F. Christ informs us that her address is now 3505 Adams Street, Chicago, where she is Professor of English Language and Literature in Crane Junior College. Miss Christ also informs us that Jay Finley Christ is located at 9551 Longwood Drive, Chicago, and that he is Professor of Business Law in the University of Chicago.

Robert Dolliver was married to Edith Nicholson of Lyons, Kansas, in August. Mr. Dolliver received his degree from Morningside College in 1924 and is in his third year at the Theological School in Boston University. Miss Nicholson was graduated from Southwestern College at Winfield, Kansas, and received her A. M. degree at Boston University. Mr. Dolliver is assistant pastor at Beacon Hill Church, Boston, Massachusetts.

The Morningside Madrigal Club returned from its trip on December 7, and several members reported seeing many Morningside alumni and ex-students who were teaching in the schools visited. Alumni were present at nearly every concert to give support to this fine organization.

Eldon Harris, a graduate of the Morningside Conservatory of Music, visited in Sioux City during the Thanksgiving vacation from his work of teaching music at Jefferson, Iowa. Eldon has been at Jefferson for three years and has a band, two glee clubs, and local musical organizations under his supervision. While in school Harris was president of the glee club and was a debater. Mrs. Harris (Ruth Montgomery), who also is teaching at Jefferson, visited with her parents on Morningside Avenue.

Several former members of the Morningside basketball teams will be members of the Weatherwax team this year. "Hooley" Means, former all-state and all-conference center will play center; "Al" Bastian, captain of last year's football team, and Percy Eberly will be at the forward positions, with Ralph Eberly and "Bud" Van Citters playing the guards. Hauff, one of the forwards on Morningside's North Central championship team in 1926, will also be available for one of the forward positions. Chuck Bach, former Maroon halfback, is managing the team and has several fine games scheduled.

The Bulletin was glad to receive correspondence from the Morningside-New York Alumni telling of a meeting held in Hotel Woodstock in New York City, November 17. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Seaver, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pierce, J. Fay Squires, Laura Belt, Muriel Hughes, Harold Larson, George Raymond, J. Fletcher Pollock, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Stromberg, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Walton and mother, Mrs. Tilden. The "Powwow" day bulletin was much in evidence and according to the secretary, Bessie Reed Walton, everyone enjoyed the meeting of old Morningsiders. There are about thirty Morningsiders in New York.

Newell Williams, '27, and familiarly known as "Red" Williams, is teaching in the Plainview High School at Plainview, Nebraska. "Red" coached his football team through a season unmarred by defeat. "Red" was captain of the Maroons in 1927 and was an outstanding quarter-miler while in Morningside.

Mr. Harold Larson, '27, is visiting his folks in Sioux City after returning from his study in the graduate school at Columbia University. Mr. Larson reports seeing many former students of Morningside College at the Morningside Alumni meetings held in New York City. Mr. Larson plans to return to Columbia early in January to continue his work in the university.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillis Lory will leave Shanghai January 8, on the German boat "Fulda", spending ten days of travel in Korea and Manchuria, and then stopping at the ports of Hong Kong, Manilla, Singapore, Colombo, Suez, Port Said, Geneo, Amsterdam, Rotterdam, and Hamburg. Mr. and Mrs. Lory will spend a few days in England and then return to America, where Mr. Lory plans to work for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at Columbia University. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lory have been in educational work in China. Mr. Lory is a graduate from Morningside College in 1922, and Mrs. Lory (formerly Sarah Drury) completed her work in the college in 1924.

Mr. Lester McCoy, a former student of the Morningside College Conservatory of Music, and his wife, formerly Miss Bernice Trindee, attended the presentation of the Messiah, December 13. Lester is teaching at Danbury, Iowa. McCoy was prominent in musical circles while in school, having been a member of the Chapel choir, the Men's Glee Club, and the Morningside Quartette.

MIDLAND DOWNS MORNINGSIDE

Midland College of Fremont, Nebraska, came to Sioux City, Friday night, December 14, primed to down the Morningside basketballers and won the first game of the Maroon schedule 47 to 32. The Midland team showed uncanny accuracy in the art of basket shooting and overcame Morningside's early lead to win the game. The game was marred by inaccuracy on Morningside's part in handling the ball and poor basket shooting.

Morningside will be represented by the fastest and smallest team for several years, but Coach Wenig will have nearly a month in which to develop a winning team before the next game. Three forwards showed ability in the Friday's game, Johnson, Kingsbury, and Danforth, who was high point man for Morningside. The work of "Abe" Williams and Captain Crippen at guard was worthy of commendation.

The Alumni Bulletin is anxious to get the following names corrected in the files so that each alumnae may receive the bulletins and information sent out by the association. If you have any information regarding them, please drop a line to the Bulletin.

This represents but a beginning of what our year's record should be. It would mean a great deal to the Association and to the College if we might have a 100 per cent. enrollment of Alumni in the Association with all dues paid. Which class will be the first to make that goal? Come on, you old timers whose class roll is small in number, put yours across first—for old M. C. Up to date the Class of 1916 has the largest number of paid up members and ties the class of '99 in having 16 per cent. of its members registered with the treasurer. Who wants our crown? Send on your dues to the treasurer,
