Choir Reunion Concert

60th ANNIVERSARY COMMENCEMENT

Harmony was the keynote of the 60th Anniversary Commencement. With more former Conservatory students and choir members on the campus than for many years music took the spotlight for the three days festivities which began with Alumni Day on Saturday, May 29.

The class reunion luncheon was held on that day at noon in Dimmitt Hall. The five year classes from '49 to '04 were grouped at tables where they could reminisce during the luncheon. Later in the drawing room Merle Kingsbury, president-elect of the Alumni Association, presided at an informal program and presented honor guests and class members.

Over three hundred alumni, faculty, and seniors filled the dining room of Dimmitt Hall on Saturday evening for the annual alumni dinner. It was a tuneful, happy occasion this year featuring singing and the presentation of awards to outstanding alumni.

Edgar McCracken '38, president of the Alumni Association, presided.

Dr. Earl A. Roadman in behalf of the Living Endowment Committee presented the first annual awards to alumni to four members of this year's reunion classes. The college president gave the brass lettered plaques to the four chosen by their classmates as "Morningsiders who best personify the ideals of their college in their respective communities." Those so honored were Miss Ethel Murray '09, Francis Kingsbury '19, the Rev. Robert Dolliver '24 and Hal H. Buntley '29.

Harold Decker '34, head of the voice and choral department of the University of Wichita presented to Professor and Mrs. Paul MacCollin, the alumni appreciation gift, a silver serving tray.

Instead of a banquet speaker this year a quartet of alumni, Jack Halloran '38, choral group director of Chicago, Paul Snyder '35 of Sioux City, Harold Decker and George Iseminger '40 of Sioux City delighted the audience with a group of songs. Then, with Prof. "Mac" leading, the assembled Morningsiders sang college songs which had been composed by Professor and Mrs. MacCollin.

The initiation of the seniors of 1954 into the Tribe of the Sioux closed the day's program.

Baccalaureate

The Rev. Laird V. Loveland '35, pastor of the Grand Avenue Methodist Church at Denver, was the speaker at the 60th Anniversary baccalaureate service in Grace Methodist Church on May 30th.

After graduation from Morningside Rev. Loveland took his Master of Theology degree from Iliff School of Theology in Denver. He has studied at the Boston School of Theology and in the summer of 1953 he served as exchange pastor at Cleethorpe's, England.

To the graduates Rev. Loveland spoke on the subject, 'Your Signature', the imprint each one leaves upon his associates. Referring to the 60th anniversary of the college, he paid tribute to early faculty members, and said, "At this 60th anniversary we would do well to pause and give thanks for those who have written their signatures in blazing light on Morningside College and on those of us who graduate."

The college choir under the direction of Prof. Paul MacCollin and Leo Juffer with organ selections, furnished the music.

Reunion Choir Concert

On the evening of Baccalaureate Sunday the Reunion Choir concert honoring Prof. MacCollin, who is retiring as director of the Conservatory, was held in Grace Church. Alumni of many generations from all parts of the country returned to the campus to sing once again under the baton of Mr. "Mac".

Two groups of songs were sung by the combined choirs, and one group by the college choir.

It was a never to be forgotten evening, enjoyed by both listeners and performers. Comments from alumni are coming back to the college such as: "The Alumni Choir concert this spring was a wonderful idea. I don't think I've ever enjoyed anything more."

Commencement Day

Commencement exercises for 68 four year and 18 two year elementary teaching course students were held on Monday, May 31, in George Allee Gymnasium.

The address to the graduates was given by Bishop F. Gerald Ensley on the topic, "On Living in a Dangerous Time."

Jeff Fraser of Mason City, accompanied by Alma Rexwinkel of Orange City, played a violin number. Both were members of the graduating class.

Dr. Thomas Tweito, dean of the college, presented the class of 1954 and degrees were conferred by Dr. Earl A. Roadman. Honorary degrees were conferred upon Mrs. Nellie Hobson Long, Professor Paul MacCollin, the Rev. Harvey A. Nelson, the Rev. Laird Loveland, Mr. Charles Van Eaton and Mr. George Neal.

Seniors graduating with Summa Cum Laude were Robert Baxter and Donald Kivlighn of Sioux City and Duane Tritle of Salix, Iowa. REUNION . . . Class of 1934

Five members, two husbands and a telegram represented the Class of '34 at the Reunion Luncheon Commencement weekend, May 29. The telegram came from Ralph Hileman, director of recreation, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, regretting he could not be present, but suggesting he hopes to be back for Homecoming October 23, when Morningside tangles with S. D. U.

Harold and Peg Crenshaw Decker came from Wichita, Kansas, where Harold is head of voice and choral music at the University of Wichita. At the alumni dinner Harold made the speech of presentation accompanying the silver tray given to the MacCollins and sang in the male quartet.

Maurine Harker Mich was present with her husband, Bud, who manages a lumber company in Moberly, Missouri. Maurine directs the choir at Trinity Methodist Church in Moberly and is active in other community work there.

Charlotte Walker Baker and her husband, Weldon Baker ('30) drove from Emporia, Kansas, where Weldon is professor of Chemistry at the State Teacher's College.

Grant and Gleva Binger Hanson of Ames, where Grant is assistant director of the Iowa State College Library, completed the group of '34. Glenn Darling and Rob Roy Leinbach and their wives came to the alumni dinner and other members of the class returned for the choir reunion Sunday.

The class luncheon, the alumni dinner, the Baccalaureate services—all of which we attended — were excellent; the weather ideal; the new observatory, gymnasium, men's dormitory and science hall most interesting to inspect.

Maurine Harker Mich, who stopped to have lunch with us on the way back to Missouri, reported enthusiastically on the choir reunion.

All our pleasant memories we shared with Betty Evans Beamer (Ft. Dodge) who stopped in for coffee the next day. She, Mary Melson Hanna (Webster City), and Kathryn Vincent Cummins (Mason City) hope to make our 25th class reunion in 1959. How about the rest of you? Let's get together at Homecoming October 23 and begin plans. Start saving your vacation time now.

—Gleva Binger Hanson

To Students, Alumni and Friends:

A European trip is an enviable experience for anyone. It is a pleasurable method of learning. For a college teacher of European history it vitalizes the subject and increases teaching power. But when the European trip is financed by one's students and friends it becomes a sacred experience.

Words are not sufficiently meaningful to express gratitude to you, but the gratitude dwells deep in the heart and the memory of your unusual kindness will always be mine.

ETHEL R. MURRAY
