Dedication

To

Wilson Seeley Lewis
Gentleman, Patriot, Educator

in appreciation of the Strength and Sweetness of a Noble Life
We respectfully and affectionately dedicate this book.

W. S. Lewis

Wilson Seeley Lewis

The students of Morningside College revere the memory of Bishop Lewis. We realize that it was through his efforts that the college attained its high standard.

God looked down upon the struggling college and saw in it the possibility of becoming a great institution which would mould the lives of young men and women into channels of service, which would develop students into cultured, broad-minded world citizens quick to see the needs of the world and eager to devote their perfected talent to the task. But He needed a helper to transform Morningside College into a positive force. He looked about and saw in Wilson Seeley Lewis the man for whom he was searching and then began the working out of God's plan for Morningside.

The trustees, led by divine inspiration, asked Dr. Lewis to become the president of the college. Before accepting, he came to look over the school. He found a small campus nearly surrounded by cornfields. While meditating and praying he received the call from God to assume the presidency, a position that carried little honor, heavy burdens, and responsibilities.

The outlook would have been discouraging to any one who had not the faith and optimism of Dr. Lewis. The institution had no financial credit, no reputation, and few students. Only one building, now our Conservatory of Music, stood upon the campus. The property was under a great financial burden.

With his heart full of hope Dr. Lewis undertook the task of building Morningside College into a strong educational and spiritual center. He realized that the first step must be the paying of the debt which was more than twenty-five thousand dollars. The entire country at that time was suffering from a financial depression and the raising of the amount necessary to free the college from debt seemed to be impossible. Dr. Lewis would not be discouraged. With faith in the promise of a great future for Morningside, he was able to bill the hearts of the ministers of Northwest Iowa with this confidence. They, by great self-denial, paid off the mortgage. Others were later led by this man of God to make large subscriptions. Main Hall was constructed upon an enlarged and beautiful campus. A strong faculty was procured and the one time unknown, struggling little school became a growing institution respected by leading educators. Many students attracted by the wonderful personality and achievements of President Lewis came to Morningside.

He accomplished this transformation in the face of great obstacles and discouragement. It was not easy to give others the vision of a greater Morningside which he had. It was no simple task to win the support of business men and statesmen. But with untiring effort and enthusiasm he labored on for the sake of the generations of students who were to receive their training for life at Morningside. The prayers borne to the throne of Heaven from the great soul of the President were answered. Morningside College became a choice spot in the eyes of God and He has poured down His blessings upon it. President Lewis had a beautiful influence upon the lives of his students. His greatest work at Morningside was the personal touch in shaping the lives and characters of the young men and women under his leadership. Deeply interested in each one he inspired them with his ideals of consecration and service. As a result Morningside students are to be found in all parts of the world bearing the message which President Lewis impressed into their hearts by his example, teaching, and prayers.

The church had need for him and President Lewis, always ready to render service where needed, left Morningside to take up his larger task, the Episcopacy in China. But his heart and influence never left the college where he accomplished so much. He established its ideals which have lead many a student into a fuller, richer life. During the last years of his life, as a Bishop, he still had an active interest in the college, visiting it whenever he returned to America.

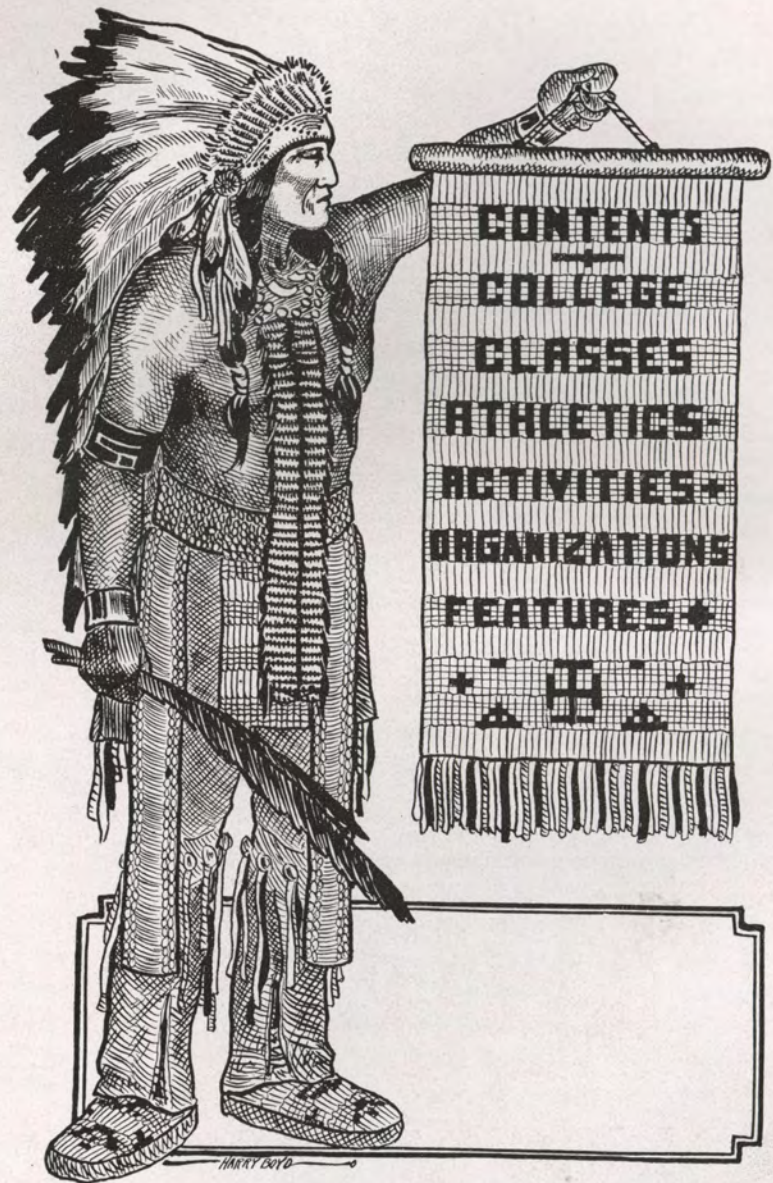

Bishop Lewis did a wonderful work in China. For twelve years he lived among the Chinese people whom he loved. He learned to know them by being close to their lives, their needs, their problems, their sufferings. He saw in them the potentiality of becoming a great race. He traveled over the country, ever searching for th opportunity to tell the gospel of Christ. He crossed mountains on foot and in sedan chairs. He traveled up the rivers in primitive house-boats. He slept wherever night overtook him, often in meager and uncomfortable quarters. At the death of Bishop Bashford, he became Senior Bishop in China. Always interested in education, he accomplished much for the Chinese youth. He interested the Rockefeller foundation in educational work in Shina, and as a result the Board decided to establish educational centers at Peking, Kinkiang, Foochow, and Chenten.

Bishop Lewis was much interested in Foochow college, our own sister college. He was present at the laying of the corner stone of that institution. He wished that Chinese students would receive education in their own land and also in America, and several of hem have come to Morningside College. Thus Morningside is helping to complete the plans of Bishop Lewis. We too are learning to love the Chinese people and we feel that in no better way can we show our love to him than to continue with his work in the education of the people whom he loved.

Bishop Lewis continued at his work among the Chinese until he had worn himself out in service for China. His last days were spent in Sioux City, the place he loved to call home, from whence he went to the Heavenly Home, "that city which hath foundations, whose Builder and Maker is God." In his departure the church lost one of its strongest and most powerful leaders. But his name and influence will live forever in two continents.

Foreword

In this volume we have endeavored to portray every phase of college life in the knowledge that the book will always be a source of pleasant reminiscences of the days spent at Morningside College. Alma Mater has sought to prepare us well for those things which we have yet to learn in the school of experience. May we ever be bound together in the purpose of a high and common cause that we, by virtue of our opportunities, may find present joy in the service of the world in these disordered times. May the 1923 Sioux find its justification in bringing to mind the bitter-sweet memories of glorious associations and privileges which all Morningside men and women enjoy.

Tell of her heroes bold,
Lift your voices the chorus swelling,
All her glories now unfold.

"Then cheer for Dear Old Morningside,
To thee we pledge anew.
Hearts of faithful love, now and forever,
Thy loyal sons and true.

"Hear our vow, O Alma Mater,
Ever to honor thee.
At thy call loyal service we'll offer
For the glory of Old M. C."

JUNIORS

THEODORE ASMUS Sioux City, Ia.

"Ted" is one of the steady steppers of the class. He is very partial to the Senior Class, especially to one of them, and is making use of his time this year in order to have something to think about next year when he will be "all by himself." A member of the college band, but happy whenever blowing his own horn.

VIOLETTA BARRETT Sioux City, Ia.

Beautiful in looks and deeds, a studious and lovable personality makes Violetta a girl of whom we are proud. During the year she took to "dye-ing," but now she is busy with other occupations. One who does what she can, wherever she can, and whenever she can.

ROSE BARON Sioux City, Ia.

Sweet and gentle are her ways. Because of this she is respected and liked by every member of the class. Devoted to her studies and makes good grades as a result. Whatever she is given to do, she does well, and lends dignity and influence to anything she undertakes.

LENA BERGMANN Sioux City, Ia.

The Great World War didn't frighten Lena and we find her eagerly devouring her German. We would call her a German shark, but one might get the idea that is Junior Class is a fishpond. Lena's smiling countenance lingers around Morningside for a purpose—"Do".

JUNIORS

VERY BERRY Sioux City, Ia.

One of our best girls. Rather quiet, but nevertheless she is right there when fun and merrymaking hold full sway. Conscientious, loyal, and ever ready to do her part in all activities.

RUTH BOND Fort Dodge, Ia.

"To know her is to love her." Others as well as Juniors have discovered that they have the same feeling towards her. This coy miss is very fond of "gym", but lately it has been "Doug". But for "a that" she does like to play basketball.

CORNELIA BRUNELLE Sioux City, Ia.

"Parlez-vous francais?" Yes, beaucoup. Cornelia could certainly travel in France for she has mastered the French language. This Junior is also an active worker in the Student Volunteer Band. Never a shirker in her duties, but always a worker and a willing one. If you want efficient work, let Cornelia do it.

ELMA BUNN Fort Dodge, Ia.

Some day Elma expects to graduate and go to China as a missionary. "Servitude" is her motto and her persevering spirit enables her to live up to it. A good worker, rewarded with good grades. Faults? Yes, one—she is a member of the "Devitt Gang".

JUNIORS

ALICE BUSHNELL Algona, Ia.

"Thoughts that swifter than the winds doth fly"—her thoughts are in a university miles away, but even so she is loyal to her college and the Class of '23. A sweet disposition and a sunny smile typify this bonnie lass. Besides writing letters she spends much time with her History.

RICHARD BURROWS Fort Dodge, Ia.

"There was a little man," I guess we won't tell the rest for "Dick", our peppy yell leader speaks for himself. English by birth but a real American. The Germans can testify to this. We hesitate to commit ourselves regarding his future, but whether it be the pulpit or grand opera, this hustler will win.

HORATIO CANNON St. Paul, Minn.

Energy and enthusiasm combined with earnestness of purpose make Ray a man admired and respected by all. He is taking his college course in three years, but still finds time to be a real live wire business manager of the Collegian Reporter, and to take part in forensics. His thoughts are centered somewhere on biology, but his heart is elsewhere.

DELILA CAMPBELL Knierim, Ia.

Striving ever onward in her quiet way, pleasant manner, Delila enjoys her work at M. C. Very persevering and attentive, not only in her studies but in anything which she undertakes to do. Cheerful words and sunny smiles from this maiden, informs us that "Smiles are the headlights of success".

JUNIORS

WALTER CARLSON Sioux City, Ia.

"Swede" is always pleasant, good-natured, optimistic and never bores his friends. He is always prepared in his classes. Although partial to Hawaiian guitars, he is not of the disposition to show his accomplishments in public.

JOYCE CASSEN Sioux City, Ia.

Full of pep, punch and vivacity. Speaks out when she thinks she ought, and just what she thinks. She has a faculty for mischief, and is very popular among the students. A committee that really functions has Joyce on it, for she is a whirlwind for work.

EDITH CRISWELL Sioux City, Ia.

Quiet, modest, studious and loyal, never interfering with anyone else. Her patience and kindness are true characteristics of a typical Morningside girl.

WESLEY DAMEROW Howard, S. D.

Clear the track, here comes Damerow! He certainly goes around the track, too. A very busy man, but never too busy to do something else. He made a phenomenal record in the Monument Run. One of the most patient men in college.

JUNIORS

WINFRED E. DAY Sioux City, Ia.

There is no darkness when "Red" Day is present. A very happy and active athlete—a football man who receives much praise for his work during the games. Last semester he attended the University of Illinois, but we are glad to welcome him to Morningside. Perhaps if he remained at the university, he would be too far away from "her". Who knows?

JAMES DEIBERT Sac City, Ia.

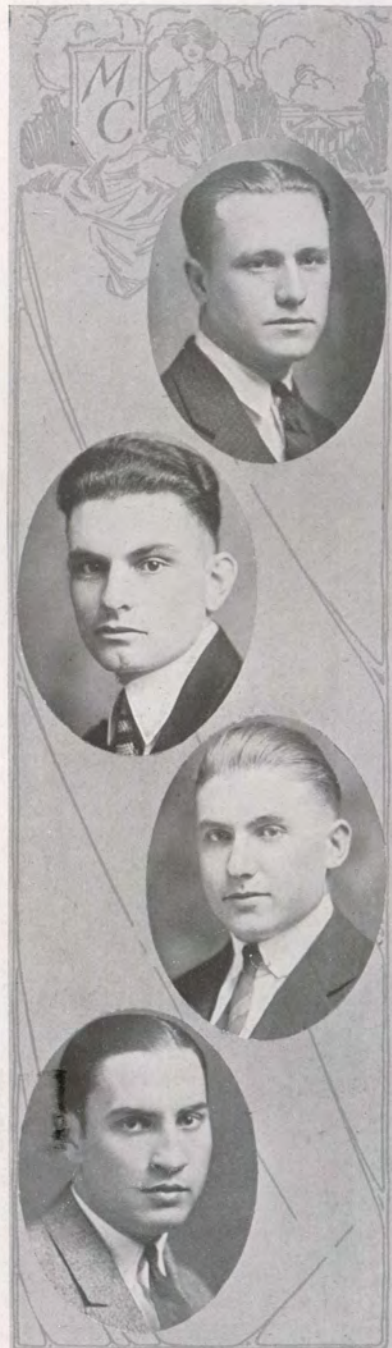

Everyone in Sac City must be wise for so many of them have come to Morningside. 'Jim' is out for a good time, and when he gets tired doing one thing he does another with the same "old pep". We expect great things from him along commercial lines.

CECIL DERIVAN Sioux City, Ia.

Like the tortoise, he believes in keeping constantly at any undertaking. He seems to enjoy his college course, particularly his French. What's the use of worryin' anyway, for Cecil boosts for Morningside.

VIRGIL DE WITT Sioux City, Ia.

"Our Flyer!" Every class needs one man who soars high, we have it. Behold this man skilled in the fine art of—stepping. Virgil is very friendly, consequently—a loyal "Morningsider".

JUNIORS

WILLIAM DRURY Early Ia.

Hails from Early, and this is a characteristic of Bill. He is very fond of stepping and studying, especially the former. You can always depend on him. Remember, the early bird catches the worm. Look out for Bill!

DOROTHY DUBEL Sioux City, Ia.

"Dux" as we all know her as a hustler. Whatever she attempts she does with a vim and snap that makes things go. Her ability lies not so much in what she does as how well she does it. Prominent in class and society affairs.

WILBUR ELLIFF Wessington, Springs, S. D.

Our class is surely proud of Wilbur. He won the prize for high scholarship and from that, we know that he must receive many honor points. One of these men who does not get the big head, but puffs out his cheeks—he plays in the college band.

AMBER ELLIS Sioux City, Ia.

Loyal to her friends, her class, and her school. She is very diligent—a very Puritan for doing her duty. If there were more like Amber, life would go more smoothly. She "never puts off until the morrow that which she can do today."

JUNIORS

MARGARET FALCONER Springfield, Ill.

Margaret studies hard, gets good grades and works steadily toward her purpose. She is consistently cheerful, and willing to help at all times.

FORREST FOWLER Lohrville, Ia.

A good debater, shown by his ability to convince the women of his good qualities. He is a friend to everyone, and a worker for M. C. The decision is always two to one in his favor. And oh, the questions he can ask in "Psych"!

LOWELL FOWLER Lohrville, Ia.

Lowell, another "Fowler", is a hard worker, a "go and getter", a society man, and a true son of M. C. Cheerful with a greeting ever ready, and not made to order. He is very much interested in Freshman activities.

STELLA FREDERIKSEN Newell, Ia.

One of the "Newellites"! We are certainly proud of Stella because of her winsome personality. She is a "true blue" friend. Language is her specialty. A girl loved by one, with no enemies.

JUNIORS

LELLA GERKIN Corwith, Ia.

"Tiny Tim" must have been her ideal when she first became interested in English. Her one consolation is that we praise "quality and not quantity". Lella finds such solace in her English Course, and we expect her to do much in this field of work.

HELEN GRAEF Jacksonville, Ill.

Welcome "Ill"! Morningside can cure you. Although this is Helen's first year here she has won many friends, especially "Bob". She deserves them all because she has left a good state to come to a better one in order to complete her education.

CYRUS GRIEVE Reinbeck, Ia.

What is in an education? "Cy" has come to Morningside to endeavor "to give to the world" a correct answer to aforesaid question. A good student, yet he is not content with mere book knowledge, but has entered the social laboratory. Seems to be interested in a "glittering gem", and the study of planets. We think he prefers "O-mars"!

CLEMENT HAHN Dixon, Nebr.

One who has learned how to use his time, and use it well. Clement is a Y. M. worker, and a good debater. In fact, his one delight is to tell the crowd something about his firm convictions which are always worth while. We expect great things from Clement.

JUNIORS

HERBERT McCABE Sioux City, Ia.

"Herb"—the man of convictions, and fearless in his expression of them regardless of opposition. He is also of a scientific turn of mind. Always a most gallant knight, offering his chivalrous services whenever a lady is in need. A most loyal Junior.

F. ALDEN McMASTER Spokane, Wash.

"His (Mc) Master's Voice!" Hear ye! Comes from Spokane, Washington, formerly of the Journal reportorial. Now editor of this year's Collegian Reporter; in the future a Brisbane. This is "Mac". Won't the cubs shiver when he glares through those specs, blue pencil in hand! His specialty is "Journalism" beyond a doubt, but his ability is always cropping out in a new place. If it isn't the Glee Club and tennis, it's debate and dramatics.

HORTENSE MERCURE Sioux City, Ia.

"La petite Hortense" is good looking and she has good sense. An attractive girl, vivacious and winsome. She is a good student with considerable initiative. Capable and willing—the kind to depend on, as she gets things done. Part of her happiness departs with Senior Class this year.

FRANCES MUELLER Lake View, Ia.

Frances' dimples and twinkling eyes charm all her wide circle of friends. Contrary to a first impression of a demure personality, she is a wonderful woman. Her favorite pastime is the discussion of politics and kindred subjects. She has artistic ability, as is shown by her clever ideas of decoration.

JUNIORS

MARIE NICOLLS Pierson, Ia

This miss came to us from Grinnell. She is such a charming maiden that we wish we had known her longer. A delightful companion, jolly, and a good conversationalist. She seems to find time for her studies and say, how she can work.

GEORGE PARADISANOS Sioux City, Ia.

Everyone likes him, and it would take pages to tell of his worthiness. In debate he makes an audience quake under his masterly, convincing words. Ability, purpose, perseverance, and achievement—George. The same spirit manifested by him in the Great War, manifests itself today. Very sincere in his purpose with a spirit of friendliness.

ELSIE PARKER Thornton, Ia.

Perseverance and conscientiousness are Elsie's characteristics, and as a result she is an "A" student. She is full of fun in her quiet way. Interested in the betterment of humanity, she devotes both time and effort to mission work.

DONALD PETERS Sioux City, Ia.

"Don's" list of friends is longer than he is. Lofty in stature, lofty in thoughts. A quiet, pleasant chap with a rich fund of quiet humor. A keen observer, a worth while friend, and a loyal Junior.

JUNIORS

LESLIE PRICHARD Onawa, Ia.

A jolly good sport is 'Les'. There are no dull moments when he is around. A famous football player, full of pep, and making everything go that he tackles. He enjoys the company of ladies and he has a tendency to concentrate his attention on one. Oh! P—shaw!

ERNEST RAUN Sioux City, Ia.

Ernest's affections are divided between Somerset and a young lady. He is a victim of "Loan-your-society-pin" epidemic. He doesn't let his studies interfere with his college education, but he does like to work for Professor Graber.

HAZEL REED Lehigh, Ia.

Loyal, capable, and sincere is Hazel, our class president. With her cheerfulness and fun, she adds zest to any crowd. She has ability, especially in public speaking. Hazel accomplishes whatever she undertakes.

CLIFORD REYNOLDS Canova, S. D.

Always in a hurry. He never stops for anything except to converse with a young lady in the halls. He upholds the motto, "Cleanliness is next to Godliness". A gentleman and a conscientious booster for Morningside.

JUNIORS

LEROY ROWSE Sioux City, Ia.

Leroy is studying to be a scientist. Started out well by incorporating some scientific principles in his endeavor to choose a maid by the process of elimination. A mighty fine friend and we are proud to own him as a member in the rank and file of the Class of '23.

PAUL SHARAR Estherville, Ia.

Our class treasurer. So when one sees him coming, they dig into their pocketbooks or get out of the way. Take a good Y. M. worker, a man equally loyal to Morningside, Professor Graber, and his society, a good fund of jokes, stories, and a supply of keen humor, and you have a fair picture of this particular Junior. He never forgets his own home town, for various reasons, we should say, "a reason".

FRED SMITH Sloan, Ia.

Here is the student of them all. We understand that the Sloan garcon can keep the profs so blind in his courses that he makes Homer look like Sherlock Holmes. Most anyone can make an A, professors willing, but it takes a man to digest such a string of them. However, he is such a model fellow and does his work so above reproach, that it is difficult to find anything to say about him, since he likes not the soft words, and we like not to hand them out.

HAPPIE SMITH Fort Dodge, Ia.

As sunny tempered as her name implies. She is equally famous for three things, viz: Captain of the girls' basketball team which defeated the Sophs, an inhabitant of that one street car town designated on the map of Webster County, as Fort Dodge, and a member of the Devitt Gang.

JUNIORS

ESTHER SPLITTGERBER Newell, Ia.

Newell again! Esther deserted her native village in order to join the Juniors and, of course, we think she chose wisely. She is president of the Madrigal club, and helps it warble out its heart in song. A loyal and enthusiastic worker in society, a girl whom Morningside is glad to have as a friend and a member of the Junior Class.

LESLIE SPRY Sioux City, Ia.

Noted for having his name in the Reporter every week. If any trouble, or rather, good time, is brewing, expect to find "Les" there to see that things progress as they should. It's rather difficult to enumerate Les' special qualities—he's so interested in all Morningside activities, especially the one at Leeds. Not half as bad as he tries to make others believe.

LAWRENCE STEELE Sioux City, Ia.

Likes to roam around in a Hudson which bears a circumstantial evidence to the hard usage he had given it except when he's making touchdowns. He's a gridiron specialist under whose leadership Morningside won this year's victories. Loyal to his class, and you may always count on "Bull" Steele being to all the class activities.

ROY COX Ayrshire, Ia.

Roy, the same yesterday, today and forever. Takes his time to do things in his own quiet way. A brilliant student and earnest Y. M. worker. Always busy, but ever ready to give advice.

JUNIORS

PAUL STEVENS Sioux City, Ia.

Years from now in your library you will be proud to have the entire political works of this new budding author. It is because of Paul, too, that we have an especial interest in the band. It thrills us just to see the music appear when he waves his baton. We know that he will be successful.

AUDREE STURCHLER Newell, Ia.

Audree is another Newellite, a ring leader in the aforesaid Devitt Gang; an inter-collegiate debater, and a firm believer in the doctrine that all good men are either dead or married—George Washington being dead and Professor Graber married. Her favorite watchword is, "Faith never hangs out the S. O. S." Likes Psychology, and enjoys the interesting subject of "cats".

NAOMI TAYLOR Sioux City, Ia.

Naomi has a fondness of playing tricks and she is never so happy as when her latest prank proves to be successful. She loves the pipe organ and loves to smile. A girl of sterling qualities, whose friendship we, as Juniors, hold in high esteem.

JUNIORS

VESTA TAYLOR Sioux City, Ia.

This Junior believes that "today is the tomorrow", so why worry except when Hayes springs a little exam? She comes to us from Sioux City High, bringing all her ability with her. Simply a wonder when she can draw an A in Physics.

LAURA TREVENEN Sioux City, Ia.

A quiet disposition, genial and retiring. We are glad that Laura saw it altogether "fitting and proper" to leave the state of Illinois to come to Iowa. Morningside has need of just such girls as she.

LUCILE VICKERS Sioux City, Ia.

"Once your friend, always your friend," may be truthfully said of Lucile. Quiet, industrious and a good student. A Spanish shark who works conscientiously at any task assigned to her. She leaves no task unfinished when assigned to her.

JUNIORS

ESTHER WATERHOUSE Sioux City, Ia.

Tall and mighty with an abundance of pep. A typical college girl who is always ready and willing to help especially in social affairs. Science is her specialty, but her favorite subject seems to be Ed—. Anyway, she deserves the happiness.

VERA WEED Sioux City, Ia.

A bundle of pep! Willingness to work plus a sunny disposition equals this Junior. A musician well versed along the line of jazz. Although she was out of school for some time, here perseverance enabled her to make up her work and push far enough ahead to take part in outside activities. Withall she is a great Kidder.

GLEN WELDON Oral, S. D.

A man who is always busy with some worthwhile occupation. He certainly knows how to sing and is worthy of the office he holds as president of the Glee Club. An active Y. M. Worker, and a frequent stepper.

JUNIORS

EMIL WESSEL Edgwood, Ia.

Well informed upon every topic, he can always render assistance in the library, because of his wide acquaintance with books and magazines. Although this is his first year in Morningside for several years, we welcome him to our class.

LELIA WINDELL Algona, Ia.

A studious girl who receives good grades. Nevertheless, she is always ready for a good time. A staunch upholder of the saying, "Whatever is worth doing at all, is worth doing well." She enjoys athletics—volley ball being the game in which she takes special delight.

PAUL ZIEKE Storm Lake, Ia.

Comes from a storm center, hence he takes things by storm. Musical, and makes a fine comedian, the former portrayed when in the Glee Club and a member of the famous M. C. quartet. A Y. M. worker doing a great many favors for "his boys". Too busy to be seen on the campus.

If, in your travels through Cape Town, Alaska, Australia, or any other remote corner of the world, it should ever be required of you to give the name of a gentleman in athletics, you have the liberty to give in reply, Jason M. Saunderson. Morningside has met this believer in clean athletics in teams which always put up a hard fight, because he had drilled into each individual the fact that a game is never won until it is over.

In no department of the activities of M. C. is a man afforded a greater opportunity for the development of a fine school spirit than in athletics played openly and above board. The record of Coach Saunderson proves him to be well worthy of the trust accorded him of fostering and maintaining that nobler Morningside Spirit.

THE SEASON

Going through the season with only two defeats, and piling up 146 points against the opponents' 34, the 1921 football season will long be remembered as one of the most successful since the famous aggregation of 1917.

Our ancient rivals, the Methodists from Lincoln, were white-washed on their own field; Saunderson again made good his promise to defeat Des Moines University; and Bass Field once more saw the proud Upper Iowans humbled by the Sioux's prowess.

But one shady spot looms up on the record of the Sioux Warriors, and can be accounted for without claiming unreasonable alibis. The Yankton game is a thorn in the side of the 1921 schedule. The Greyhounds surprised themselves and everyone else by romping off with a 7 to 6 victory.

The Maroons clashed with the strong Drake eleven in the latter part of the season at Des Moines. Completely outplaying their heavier opponents the Methodists scored with a touchdown and a place kick in the first half, and were able to place the pigskin within the Bulldog's fifteen yard line five times. But the second half was a different story, and the Drake Bulldogs avenged their smarting defeat of the season before.

Upper Iowa was the last to succumb. In face of the Fayette boys' choicest little tricks and freak signals, the Maroons won the Turkey Day contest to the tune of 27 to 0.

A Plunge that Gained—Wayne Normal Game.

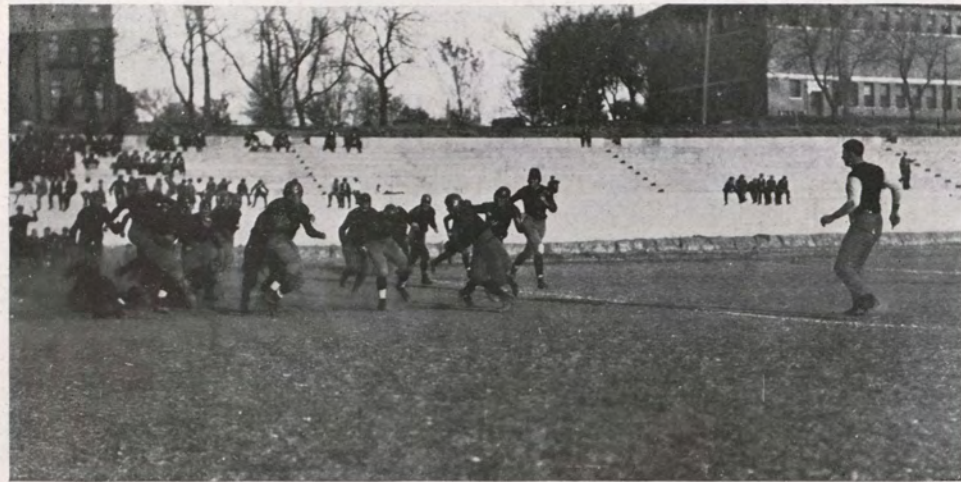

"Bull" Steele, Captain

His strong defensive playing at tackle, coupled with his ability to rip apart the enemy's defense, earned him the reputation of being one of Morningside's most reliable lines-men.

Leslie Davis, Captain-Elect
All-State Halfback

Always good for five yards, and a sure tackler on defense—for when Davey tackled, the unlucky man carrying the ball knew that he had been hit.

One of "Saundy's" famous end runs. The team work that is displayed all during the season is easily seen here in the interference.

"Bud" Wegner, Guard

A hard consistent player from whom much can be expected of next year.

"Louie" Peskin, Tackle

His ability to get through the line and nail the enemy for a loss made many a quarterback leave his side of the line alone.

The "Williams to Prichard" combination gained many a yard during the season.

"Honie" Hogers, Halfback

The Newell athlete showed an uncanny ability to get through an open field, and was a demon at returning punts. His consistent work especially in open formation won him the coveted "M" in the Freshman year.

"Ed" Williams, Quarterback

A heady general, and on forward passes possessing the knack of placing the ball in the receiver's hands—these qualities together with his efficient punting, proved more than once the undoing of a threatening antagonist.

A Successful Play, and Another Touchdown.

"Ed" Piriwitz, Guard

A hard and consistent player, whose brand of football blended well in the smoothest machine ever developed at Morningside.

"Evie" Evans, Fullback

Not only did he prove himself a good line plunger, but he showed up as a heady player and a hard, consistent tackler. Last and greatest of his abilities is that of a game fighter.

The attempts of the Normalites from Nebraska to stop "Saundy's" scoring machine were fruitless.

"Shorty" Nissen, Halfback

Handicapped by injuries from the early season games, but endowed with that famous Milford fighting spirit, "Shorty" finished the season with his elusive field running and came through with long gains when called on.

Glenn Glazier, Guard and Tackle

Staying with the game for three years brought to him the ability to hold down a guard or tackle position whenever necessary.

Many a backfield man was nailed in his tracks, and here we see Davis "crackin' 'em" so they feel it.

"Breezy" Bruswitz, End

The defensive work of this Maroon marvel and his ability to pull the pigskin out of the sky will long be remembered. His years of experience proved a valuable asset to the Sioux squad.

Cecil Munson, Center

With his 194 pounds of hard fighting iron, the Estherville sensation caused the failure of many an opponent's play before it was even started.

The Sioux Warriors made a wonderful showing in the Drake Stadium.

"Les" Prichard, End

Displaying real ability at the end position, his work during the season earned him a host of admirers. His knack at receiving passes was a usual occurrence in every game of the season.

Arthur Hinkley, Halfback

With his experience as a veteran of the hardest and bloodiest contests in the grid-iron history of Morningside, Art's brainy playing cannot be forgotten. Although a wonderful interference man, his consistent tackling and line plunging made him a dependable man.

THE SEASON

Morningside seeks no alibis. Every opponent on the schedule was a basketball aggregation of exceptional ability. The season was a decided success, and that success rests in the fact that the fastest and smoothest quintet in the history of Morningside was whipped into shape.

In two heart-breaking contests, Morningside dropped the first games of the season to Buena Vista and Omaha University. Nebraska Wesleyan, one of the strongest teams of the Collegiate Conference, handed the Maroon squad another defeat, and when the gun cracked the score stood 27 to 12.

Jinx left for a period of three weeks, and four consecutive victories against Monahan Post, Western Union, and Yankton, followed in rapid succession. In the two-game series with the Greyhounds the Maroon quintet were able to avenge the two close victories of the year before.

The Morningside five brought the season to a close with South Dakota State College. Although the final score stood 33 to 17 for the Jack Rabbits, the fighting Maroons made their best showing of the entire season.

From the team which has displayed the best brand of basketball ever produced at Morningside, only Evans will be lost. The running guard is a star in every department of the game, and his loss will leave a gap which will be difficult to fill. But with the remainder of the squad back next year a winning combination should be produced.

CAPTAIN EVANS

Speedy dribbling, dazzling pivoting, and ability to whirl away from any opponent made Evans the ideal floor guard. He was down the floor like a shot, following up long tries at the basket, and then whirling back to guard Morningside's basket. His impetuous dash and strength as a guard made him a most spectacular player.

EDWARD WILLIAMS, Captain-Elect

The next year's captain was placed at the pivot position. He jumped well, possessed an eye for the net, and played a combination floor game which enabled him to get down the court for a try at the basket and then hurry back to support the guards.

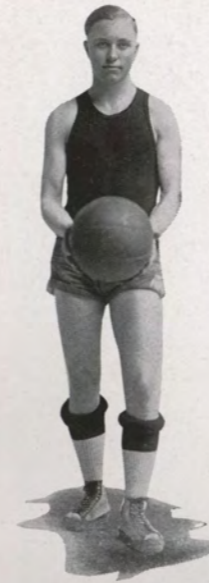

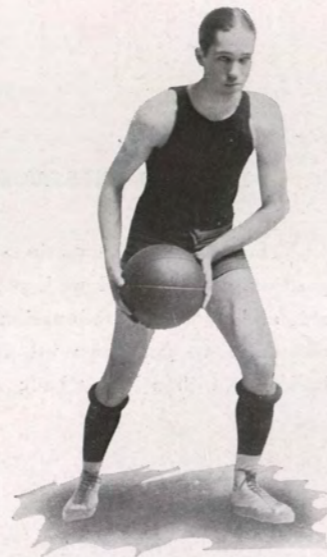

CLIFFORD METCALFE

The Sheldon star was the "dark horse" of the Maroon team. Hitting his stride in the Western Union game his potency as a guard and ability to score at the opportune time made him a dependable and steady player when the Morningside aggregation was hard pressed.

BERNARD ROGERS

Jack was the mainstay for the Sioux attacking power, and one of the big cogs in the scoring machine. After the ball had been worked to a spot within scoring distance, it was usually Rogers who tossed the leather into the net for a basket. He not only led his team mates in scoring, but also worked as well in guarding as he did on the attack.

GLENN ROGERS

With his excellent previous record and experience on the fast Newell High School team, Honie fitted ably into the Morningside short pass style of play, and also to score a large number of points. He was especially adept at dropping in long throws from apparently impossible angles, and a consistent foul shooter.

JAKE GAMERDYNGER

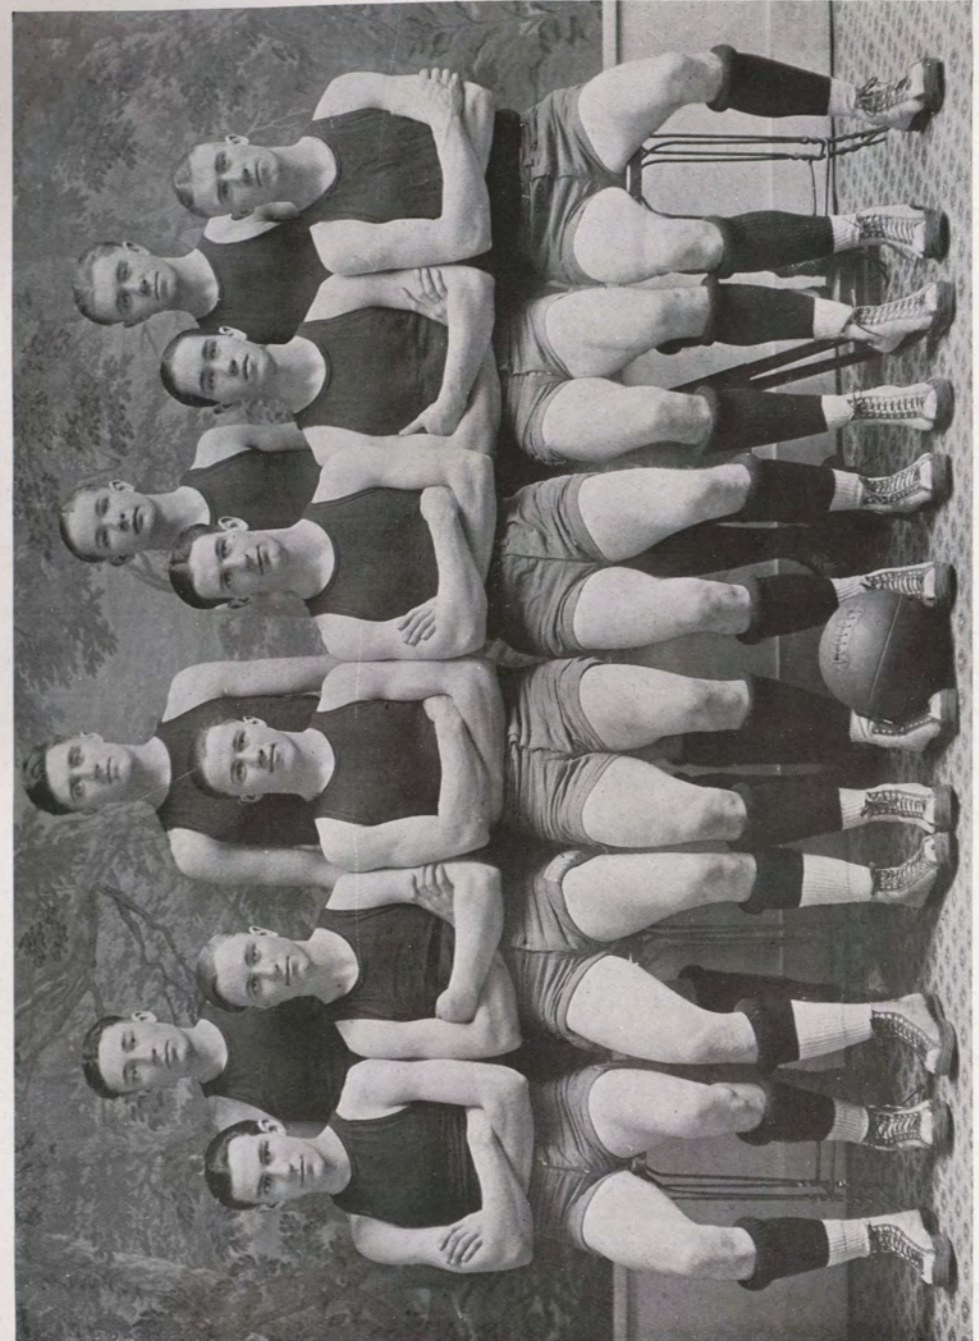

Jake's accurate passing and cool guarding made him the best defensive player on the team. His close guarding forced many a team to resort mainly to long tries at the basket, and rarely ever did they get close enough to the net for an open shot.

GAIL STUCKER

Stuck had a keen eye for the basket, and proved to be a fast, aggressive player. His work at forward bolstered up the floor game and the scoring of the Maroons to a notable extent.

THE SEASON

The 1921 track season opened with the Drake Relay Try-outs, and found Mahood, Nissen, Wegner, and Seeman placing. Although the Morningside Special was not repeated this year, the race in that Des Moines Stadium was close and decided by only a few inches.

The Yankton Greyhounds were met on Bass Field on May 7, in the first dual meet of the year. The Maroon cinder path artists were able to land eight firsts and clean the mile, high jump, and quarter-mile. Although Cleworth, of Yankton, was individual star of the meet, Morningside amassed 67½ points against 52½.

A week later the Bulldogs were met at Des Moines, and spelled an 88 to 48 defeat for the Maroons. Drake scored heavily in the field events and the hurdles, while Morningside showed to best advantage in the distance events. The Maroons made a clean sweep of the quarter, and Wesley Damerow captured the mile in the sensational run of the day, by nosing out Feike in the record breaking time of 4:36 2-5.

THE ANNUAL CROSS COUNTRY RUN

WESLEY DAMEROW, '23

By custom the Monument Run is held on February 22nd, annually, and regardless of weather conditions. The course is from the gymnasium to Floyd Monument and back, and consists altogether approximately three miles.

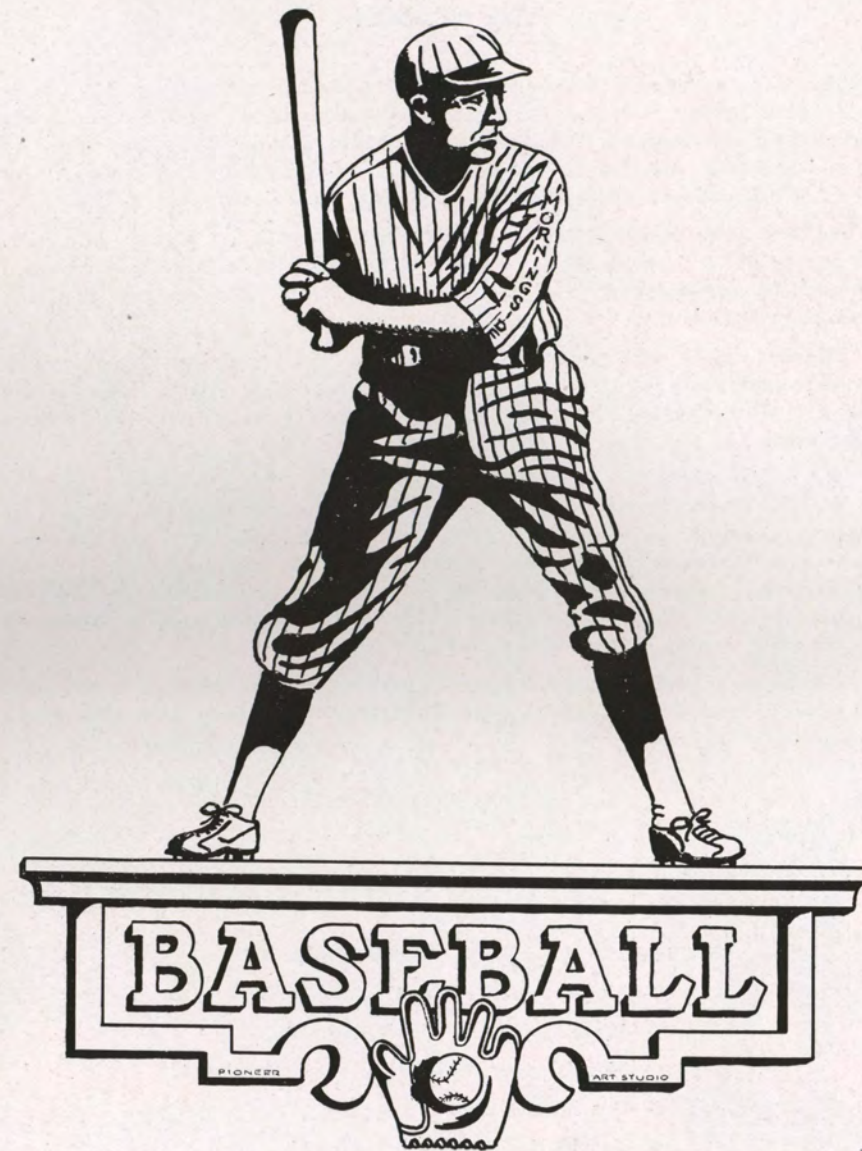

This year from a field of eight entrants, Wesley Damerow, a Junior, not only won the event but lowered the record 1 minute and 27 seconds, which had stood for eight years. The previous record, established by V. Lavelly in 1914, was 18 minutes and 1 second. The record time set by this phenomenal miler was 16 minutes and 43 seconds.

Burl Rouze, a Freshman, finished second in just 14 seconds slower than the old record. Lorimer, another Freshman, was third. The Mahood medal was won by Bert Johnson, who finished in sixth place, and was the only academy man to run.

THE SEASON

The Maroon Diamond Stars opened the 1921 baseball season by easily defeating Western Union, 16 to 1. Three pitchers were used by the Unionites, while Gamedynger and Thoreson had little trouble in holding the LeMars aggregation to five scattered hits. Besides pitching stellar ball for Morningside, Gamedynger also starred at bat, pulling a triple, a double, and a pair of singles.

On May 16 the Maroons threw a loosely played game to Des Moines University. The fielding of the Capital City team was brilliant, in sharp contrast to the ragged exhibition by the Maroons. The following day the Des Moines aggregation won a well played game, 9 to 6.

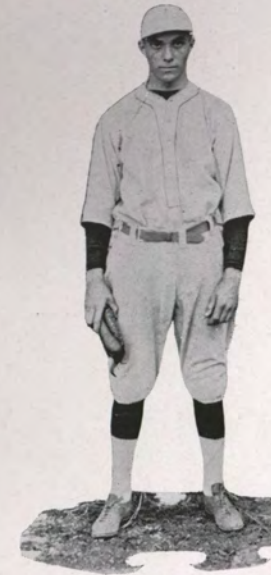

The next day the Methodists played errorless ball, and easily defeated the North Dakota Aggies, 8 to 4. Williams held the visitors to four hits, and spectacular fielding by the Stucker brothers, Davis, and Bushaw were the starring features of the game.

The next week Morningside played two games with Des Moines University at Des Moines. The first was lost, 21 to 6. The strong hitting of the Capital City aggregation could not be stopped, and Williams and Thoreson were not effective. However, the Maroons came back the second game of the series and won, 17 to 15. The Maroons, by overcoming an eight run lead, turned what looked to be a defeat into another Morningside victory. Three Tiger pitchers were used in trying to stop the heavy hitting of Saunderson's men.

With such a wealth of material and experience for the next year, and only losing two of the ten letter men through graduation, the outlook for a 1922 champion baseball nine is optimistic.

WOMEN'S - ATHLETICS -

MORNINSIDE WOMEN IN ATHLETICS

MISS NAOMI GOOD

Instructor in Physical Education for Women

Fall athletics for every woman; with this aim the season opens. Bass Field is a visualization of the out-of-doors which claims the first few months. Any fall afternoon several hockey ball games are in full play, near by there is an exciting volley ball match. The tennis courts about the campus are in use.

Winter—The scene has changed to the gymnasium. Basketball and baseball are the chief gymnastic activities, and dancing and calisthenics are in progress.

Spring—Bass Field again becomes the center of interest. Track claims many aspirants for honors in the various events. Outdoor baseball vies with track in number of aspirants. The tennis courts are again full, the spirit of play and freedom is everywhere evident. The May Fete program in the latter part of May completes the athletic program.

That Morningside women are actively interested in all forms of athletics needs no proof—these pages merely reflect the scope of their work.

How few really enjoy genuine foot comfort!

Yet Cantilevers are scientifically made to relieve the foot ailments of active women

You must have foot comfort when walking to and from school, in the classrooms and in your recreation hours—and you'll find it in wearing a pair of Cantilever Shoes.

Primarily, Cantilever Shoes are designed for comfort, to relieve foot ills, to bring ease and happiness to all women troubled with foot pains. Everyone who has worn them gives their opinion of them as being the most comfortable shoe they have worn, they are not bothered with stiff soles and high wiggily heels, but enjoy a freedom of foot ailments as never before.

The makers in their inexhaustible effort to combine the "two in one" have accomplished wonders. Now your feet dressed in CANTILEVERS will be as stylish as "Miss Fifth Avenue's", yet, as comfortable as "an old shoe".

Try on a pair of CANTILEVERS at your earliest opportunity.

DAVIDSON'S

Iowa's Largest Department Store

DURING the thirty-seven years of progressive retailing under the same management which established this business, Davidson's has earned for itself, and is sustaining, an enviable reputation—a reputation which places it high in the list of those institutions which have proved themselves very real and very necessary factors in the growth and well-being of our city.

Proud of the approval with which you have greeted our efforts, we have striven onward and upward, until today, Davidson's stands, not only as Iowa's largest department store, but as one of America's liveliest and most progressive stores. The newest and best things in retail merchandising—in serving you—come to Davidson's first.

Confident of this continued approval, we are continuing to strive to better conform to your desires, day by day.

$\frac{7}{8}$ of a pound of dirt
 in $5\frac{3}{4}$ minutes

From a supposedly clean Chenille rug, 9x12 in size, in the home of C. C. Campbell, 746 Gordon Terrace, Chicago, fourteen ounces of dirt was removed in $5\frac{3}{4}$ minutes with the Royal Electric Cleaner. Let the Royal demonstrator make the same test in your home.

That Chenille rug---and why she bought a Royal

When a Royal demonstrator called at a certain home recently, he was shown a Chenille rug, 9x12 in size, and was told that it had been cleaned regularly every week.

The demonstrator went over it with his Royal for $5\frac{3}{4}$ minutes, emptied the bag, weighed the contents—and found that 14 ounces of dirt had just come out of that “clean” Chenille rug.

With the Royal the demonstrator then showed that the upholstered furniture, hangings, mattresses and the like, were no “cleaner” than the Chenille rug.

Then he explained the convenient payment plan on which Royals are sold by us—and she bought then and there.

She hadn't known before how much dirt ordinary cleaning methods fail to get—or how light and handy and thorough the Royal is.

Have a Royal demonstrator call, put him to work on one of your rugs—and see what the Royal does and how easily it does it.

THE SIOUX CITY TRIBUNE

JOHN H. KELLY, EDITOR EUGENE KELLY, MANAGER
SIOUX CITY, IOWA

April 21, 1922.

The 1923 Sioux,
Morningside College.

Gentlemen:

We are naturally interested in schools, school work and play, and the boys and girls of the schools. We are taking this space to specifically congratulate the boys and girls of the Graduating Class and to wish them well on their journey through life.

There are three hundred of us working every day to get out The Sioux City Tribune. Our editors try to cover the events of the world—social, business, and political, and to condense it in 14 or 16 pages so that everyone will be well pleased with The Tribune as a finished product.

We have three sets of telegraph wires coming into The Tribune building carrying only the important events of the world. In addition, there are more than 200 correspondents in the towns around Sioux City writing and wiring us the events of their locality.

We buy the best comics in America in order to add a little touch of humor and lightheartedness to the many serious events we must publish.

We have a market page for a business barometer to the bankers and merchants, but primarily as an aid to the farmer in marketing his live stock and grain.

We must make an excellent sport page to cover at least partially all the active sports of America, because someone is interested.

We try to make our editorial page so clean and independent and forceful that it becomes a source of higher education and should be followed by pupils after their graduation.

For the women and girls, we have a special page of women's activities and a daily society column.

For the children we have clean comics and two or three columns a week of children's activities written by and for the children.

If our paper pleases you, is it too much to ask that you tell your neighbors? because we want to broaden our field of usefulness.

Very truly,

THE TRIBUNE COMPANY
Eugene Kelly.

The Practicability and Stability of Brick—its value as an investment—as a thing of beauty which will be a joy forever. Thoughts concerning these matters we would like to submit for consideration.

APRIL

1. April Fool. Sam Stouffer got sick — put reporter on the blink.
2. Helen Bennett, vocational expert, gives M. C. women some good advice. Hortense Mercure fails to attend conferences. Looks bad for "Cec."
8. Upper classmen en masse try to force green caps on "Freshies." First year orations delivered in an excellent manner.
11. Grand Public—"Dust in the Eyes"—by Philo and Aths. Marriage solemnized in the Philo hall after the performance.
12. Co-ed debaters finish a successful season by losing a double header to Iowa State Teachers College.
13. Alumni Association frolic in Society halls. Not very dignified. Democratic elections supplant old time beauty contests—Edna Bekins, Marion Arnold, Faye Rorapaugh, and Ralph Long—stars and "starettes."
16. Society Joints. "Hail! Hail! the gang's all here."
18. Girls' Glee Club pleases.
23. Drake Relays. Five hundred sixty-five athletes competed. Ruth Johnson, senior, and Tom Kennedy, ex-student, united in marriage. "Bill" Drury present to see how it's done.
28. "Monument Day"—many speeches made which will remain as a lasting monument. "Daddy" Long led the procession. A few stragglers sought the haunts of the spacious ravine.
29. Freshmen walk away with honors in the inter-class meet.

BUSINESS COLLEGE EDUCATION

The BUSINESS COLLEGE teaches only one thing and that is how to render SERVICE. It teaches its students that WORK is the only honorable means of accumulating wealth.

Every graduate of the institutions of so-called "higher learning" should have a BUSINESS EDUCATION as it fits him for his life's work in this day of BUSINESS, which includes all lines of endeavor.

A few months' training in an ACCREDITED BUSINESS COLLEGE, day or evening, will prepare the ambitious young man or woman for SUCCESS, HAPPINESS and PLEASURE.

MAY

1. Arbor Day. Classmen get their spades, forget their "hearts" for awhile, and succeed in planting sixteen trees on the College Campus.
3. Morningside shows Armour & Co. how to play ball. Even though it was a practice game, the Maroons secured the bacon. Next thing we know M. C. will be starting a packing plant.
4. Most of us, or—not all of us, are interested in the formation of the "New Honor Society."
6. Sioux City High and Morgan Taylor romp away with the M meet honors.
7. Dual meet with Yankton. In spite of cold weather, M. C. spirits are warm and our athletes step all over Yankton.
9. Oh! How they hate to get up in the morning, but when Y. W. girls served the May Morning Breakfast, everyone was there and made the eats a minus quantity.
10. Leslie Spry very quiet all day. Very unusual event.
11. Takes M. C. to knock pitchers from the box, and give Western Union a good "trouncing." Batting star, Gamedynger, receives just praise.
12. Philo Stag. Only one woman on the toast program—"Dicky."

Told their tale,
They gather all the men they can
And, oh, the scraps of man for man."

19. J. P. Jones needs a new hat. Elected president of Student Body, with Ruth Hirleman as his capable secretary-treasurer, and "Cec" Mahood, athletic representative. "Prides of the Sioux" defeat North Dakota Aggies in baseball. Losely played for the Aggies.

20. George Schaffer picks flowers for ? ? ?, and gets a free ride to the cooler.

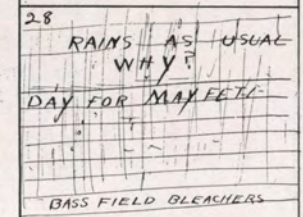

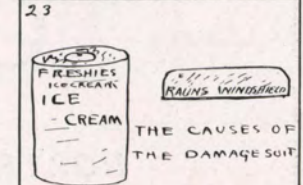

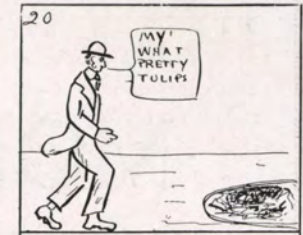

23. Freshies and Sophs go to court in damage suit. Student Council acquits all, but gives recommendations to each class.

28. May Fete held on Bass Field, where the months trip merrily by. Blanche Smith crowned Queen of May. Good attendance at the semester exams.

OCTOBER

1. Maroons beat Western Union in football. Williams the shining star. Esther was on the bleachers.
7. Marion Leslie and Dick Burrows are elected yell leaders. Moral: Two can yell louder than one.
14. Yankton defeats Morningside on the gridiron, but Luella is happy anyway. Look at the fun they all had cutting classes. The entire delegation that journeyed to Yankton were the "village cut-ups," and they did not get suspended either.
22. "M. C. receives the laurels, and Wayne goes down to defeat," thus says the veterans of the gridiron.
26. Foor Freshie! Poor Soph! Uppper classmen sympathize with them both, in their regular class scrap. Police on their marks. Honie Rogers makes his debut, while both sides claim the victory.
29. Hail the conquerors! Sioux Warriors defeat Des Moines. Score 14-0.

It is not alone better merchandise or better service that makes our store stand out above the rest, for nearly all stores sell good merchandise and give good service. Today it is a matter of policy that counts. In selling better merchandise we have always tried to make each sale a personal responsibility. We are not satisfied until the customer is satisfied, and it is this "on-the-square" policy that has made us so many true friends.

3. Annual Women's Oratorical Contest won by Hazel Reed.

5. "Les" Prichard continues to follow her about. He waits anxiously, when he does not step, to see which will be "The Man."

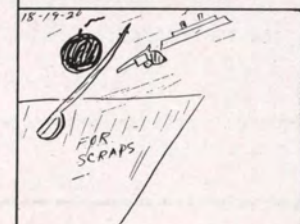

10-11-12. Othonians win inter-society debate title. Every time we look at Pola Haskins we think of "compulsion." We pity the paint brush which grew in size with each debate.

14. Junior box social in the Association hall. "What am I bid?" Herb McCabe received the "spirits."

18-19-20. Open Forum. Disarmament conference at chapel, with Paul Jones presiding. Had the members of the conference been there they would have seen just where they failed, and what Morningsiders thought about it.

24-28. Semester exams.

30. Post-exam jubilee. Tried the Virginia Reel but owing to the jazz music, it was thought best to abandon the wicked idea.

A Gateway to Progress

There it stands—a simple forty-foot gateway but unlike any other in the entire world. Through it have come many of the engineering ideas that have made this an electrical America.

The story of electrical development begins in the Research Laboratories. Here the ruling spirit is one of knowledge—truth—rather than immediate practical results. In this manner are established new theories—tools for future use—which sooner or later find ready application.

The great industries that cluster around Niagara Falls, the electrically driven battle-ships, the trolley cars and electrified railways that carry millions, the lamps that glow in homes and streets, the household conveniences that have relieved women of drudgery, the labor-saving electrical tools of factories, all owe their existence, partly at least, to the co-ordinated efforts of the thousands who daily stream through this gateway.

THE AREA OF GOOD FEELING
By Heck

A WOODLAND ROMANCE

It was a delightful summer evening;
The Man stood, musing, on a little hillock.
Overhead the myraids of stars, the pale moon, the hurrying clouds.
For a long time stood motionless, then raised a cigarette to his lips.

All at once his attitude changed to one of intent listening;
He peered forward.
Then, singing softly to herself,
She came towards him from the woods.
A look of anguish crossed his handsome features;
With an involuntary movement he drew back.
She approached closer but with a muttered word and a wave of his shapely hand, he repulsed her.

Nothing daunted, she returned, but again he motioned her back.
Finally, with a plaintive cry, she flung herself upon him.
This time a look of eagerness came into his eyes;
He crushed her to him.
She gave a little scream and silence reigned once more.
The man stopped and struck a match.
"Damn the mosquitos," was all he said.

—The Goblin.

He: "Will you accompany me on the piano?"
She: "Not without a chaperone."

"I tell you, my friends," said the minister, "hell contains nothing but chorus girls, cocktails, and roulette wheels."
Voice in the rear: "Oh! Death! Where is thy sting?"

"Last night I held a little hand,
So dainty and so neat;
I thought my heart would surely burst,
So wildly did it beat.
No other hand, into my soul,
Could greater gladness bring
Than that I held last night,
Which was—four aces and a king."

The prisoner threw the magazines across his cell and swore eloquently. "Nothin' but continued stories," he raged, "an' I'm to be hanged next Tuesday."

Rastus Johnsing Says:

Ah's so tough ah scratches de enamel off de tub when ah takes a bofth.

"I don't like girls that bob their hair, use rouge or powder, wear short skirts or pluck their eye-brows."
"I haven't got a girl, either."

Our Spring Thriller.

"I've got you at last," he cried, "move if you dare, move. It's taken me many years, but at last I've got you where I want you! Now I dare you to move!"
"Yep, you're right," replied his friend. "It's the first game of checkers you ever did win from me."

"My heart is with the ocean," cried the poet rapturously.
"You've gone me one better," said his sea-sick friend as he took a firmer grip on the rail.—Tiger.

An Immediate Saving.

Ikey kicked in the bathroom door and discovered Rebecca dead in the bath tub. For a moment he gazed horror stricken, then rushed to the head of the stairs and shouted to the maid, "Mary, Mary!"
"Yes, sir," answered the shixa.
"Only von egg for breakfast dis morning, Mary."

"Now, let's stick together, boys," said the first of three flies as they lit on the piece of tanglefoot.

They told me my flivver was twenty horsepower, but I've only ben able to locate four plugs.

The Psychology Test.

Puppet prints for the first time the results of the astounding psychological tests recently made by Prof. Ivan Awful Line, for Puppet. Anyone giving good reasons why these answers are correct will be awarded the Helium Medal for irresponsibilities, the Sacred Cross of the Pink Polecats and the Ragged Ribbon of the Remingtons.

First Question: What would you do if you found yourself in an air-tight room containing a mad dog, a rattlesnake and a pair of sleigh bells?

Answer: Invariably you would grasp the rattlesnake by the hind leg and rattle, him, thus scaring the dog. Now you have the dog rattled. Now toll the bells for a period of 93 seconds, and at once determine what the bells told. Then, at the psychological moment sleigh the dog with the bells.

Second Question: Supposing you had nothing to eat for three years. Suddenly you come upon a grocery store. On the outside of the store is a stand containing large, juicy, red apples. You steal one, and looking up, see a policeman. What would you do?

Answer: Run into the store, jump on a scale, and get a weigh.

Third Question: An Indian with a club foot, unable to walk, is stranded on the Sarah Desert sixty-two and three-thirds from a Child's Restaurant, with one pancake in his possession. How will he keep from starving?

Answer. In the absence of a Child's Restaurant, he can eat a man's lunch by the following means. First detach the Indian club from his foot, and with it puncture a large hole in the pancake. He can now eat the pancake, have the hole of it left, and have the Sahara for desert.

Hang This on the Door Knob:

When woman was made out of man's rib someone pulled a bone.

Let Us Sing.

Put away the tweezers till our eyebrows meet again.

Wife: "Jakey! Jakey! dars a burglar under the bed."

Jakey: "Sh-sh-s-s-s, not a word; ve vill charge him for the night's lodging."

"Do you like Shakespearean roles?"
"Our baker never handles them."

Charlie's Delicate Habits.

A nice young man called on a nice young lady and spent the evening recently. When he arrived there was not a cloud in the sky, so he carried no umbrella and wore no goloshes nor mackintosh. At 10 o'clock when he arose to go, it was raining pitchforks and grindstones.

"My, my, my!" said the nice young lady, "if you go out in this storm you will catch your death of cold."

"I'm afraid I might," was the trembling answer.

"Well, I'll tell you what—stay all night; you can have Tom's room, as he is visiting uncle and aunt up in the country. Yes, occupy Tom's room. Excuse me a minute, and I'll just run up and see if it's in order."

The young lady fled gracefully upstairs to see if any tidying was necessary. In five minutes she came down to announce that the room was in readiness, but no Charles was in sight. In a very few minutes, however, he appeared, dripping wet and out of breath from running and with a bundle in a newspaper under his arm.

His lady friend greeted him with: "Why, Charles, where have you been?"

"Been home after my night shirt," was his reply, as he hung his hat up to drip.

Let us now sing the old familiar ballad, "When a Goat Is Right Behind You It's No Time to Lace Your Shoe."

"I've got to hand it to you," quavered the citizen as he passed over his pocket-book to the hold-up man.

"Liza, what fo' yo' buy dat odder box of shoe blackin'?"

"Go on nigga', dat ain't shoe blackin'; dat's ma massage cream."

Ay There's the Rub.

It isn't the can that annoys the dog,
It's the fact that it's tied to his tail.
It isn't the troubles that make life hard,
It's the number of them that you fail.
It isn't the time you waste on her,
Nor the thriftless gold you spend,
But the cold and unrelenting kick
Dad hands you in the end.

My girl is so dumb she thinks an aspirin tablet is writing paper.

L'ENVOI

Now, we have finished our labors, just as you are at the end of this volume. And as we pause we cannot help but think with pleasure of those who have made possible this Annual. Inasmuch as the College Yearbook reflects directly the life and the character of the institution which it represents, it has been the further aim of the 1923 Sioux to bear a faithful reflection of the greatness of Morningside—a true greatness so close to all who know this institution.

To those whose faithful service has gone to make this volume, the editor wishes to express his sincere appreciation to the Verstegen Printing Company, printers of the 1923 Sioux, the Bureau of Engraving, who have done the engraving, and the David J. Molloy Company, makers of the Sioux covers. The advertisers in this volume, through their financial support, have likewise aided. They are the most consistent patrons of student publications and student interests. To them patronage is, and should be, forthcoming.

To the editorial and business staffs of the 1923 Sioux—the great credit is due. The book is primarily the product of persevering and unstinted student labor. Accompanied by the great trust and co-operation of the Junior class this book owes its success. To those fellow students whose services were most faithfully and freely given, the editor wishes to express his personal appreciation.

The history of another year of a "Greater Morningside" is chronicled.

"Opus Confectus Est."
