

The Morningsider

VOLUME XV

SEPTEMBER, 1956

NUMBER ONE

From the President's Pen

Greetings Fellow Morningsiders:

This has been an unforgettable day! New students have been arriving all day. Five hundred parents and new students attended our reception for them in the Marian Jones Hall of Culture and the beautiful new Petersmeyer Library, and they were taken on guided tours through the campus and buildings. Tonight, even though the hour is late, long lines of people wanting a glimpse of Mars, flow back around the A. W. Jones Hall of Science from the entrance to the Dr. O'Donoghue Observatory. Tomorrow Freshmen Orientation goes into full swing. All the excitement of truly great adventure is felt everywhere.

Really, though, this is the way it has been for us since our arrival July 9th, just exactly two months ago. Perhaps the glow will someday fade, but seeing the tremendous responsibility to the heritage which is now ours, the endless vision of growth and achievement for the college which confronts us, and the vibrant joys of fellowship with our faculty and students, I can't imagine this thrilling experience every changing, except to become more so!

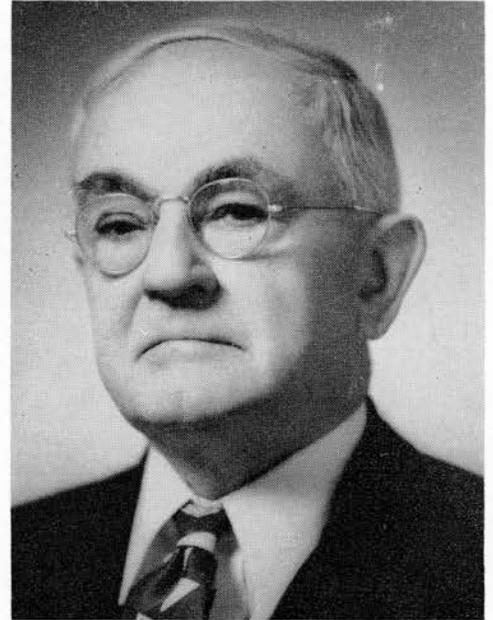

The heritage mentioned above is not only very real but most impressive and challenging. Reading the biography of Bishop Lewis, coming to know Miss Dimmitt (and fall in love with her as I'm sure students and faculty alike have done these past sixty years and more) discovering the names of men who came to Morningside as young teachers, retiring after giving a life-time of service, one comes to a sense of stability and permanence. Dr. Roadman's twenty years as President represents a term of office about five times the length of the average college president.

One is humbly reminded of the statement attributed to Bernard of Chartres: "We are like dwarves seated on the shoulders of giants; we see more things than the ancients and things more distant, but this is due neither to the sharpness of our own sight, nor to the greatness of our own stature, but because we are raised and borne aloft on that giant mass . . . of famous men and our fathers that begot us."

Recognizing the greatness of the responsibility which has fallen into my hands, I humbly accept the task, knowing God does guide and uphold those who sincerely seek to do His Will. In so doing I earnestly ask the continuing prayerful support of all who are truly interested in furthering the effective service of our college.

J. RICHARD PALMER

PROFESSOR VAN HORNE DIES

Professor Robert N. Van Horne former head of the mathematics department, and a faculty member for 46 years, died at the home of his daughter, Sara — Mrs. C. N. Arrowsmith, of 3203 W. 13th St., Erie, Pennsylvania on August 23. He had retired from teaching in 1947.

Dr. Van Horne was graduated from Morningside College in 1900. He attended Johns Hopkins University in 1901-2 and the University of Chicago in 1906. In 1943 he was given an honorary degree by Morningside.

As an undergraduate Professor Van Horne was a member of the football team, and he retained a deep interest in college athletics. He played on the Maroon team in 1898 when the rivalry between the University of South Dakota and Morningside began. A cherished memory of Morningside Alumni is the traditional "Coyote Pelt" speech which he gave every year at the pep assembly before the South Dakota University game.

The following tribute appeared in the Alumni News Bulletin after he had been a faculty member for forty years:

"Robert N. Van Horne, inspiring teacher of mathematics and practical philosophy, is without doubt the best loved man at

Mr. Faith received his bachelor of music and his master of music from the Chicago Musical College. He has been working toward his doctorate at the University of Indiana. He was an instructor in piano at the Chicago school from 1950 to 1954 and at the University of Indiana for the past two years. As a concert pianist he won two mid-west contests and has appeared as guest soloist with the Chicago, the Kalamazoo, Michigan, and Evansville, Indiana symphony orchestras. Mr. Faith toured under the auspices of Columbia concerts as a soloist and accompanist. He has studied with Karol Liszniewski in Cincinnati and Alfred Mirovitch in Indianapolis.

There are two new instructors in the history department. Dr. Albert Sellen, formerly history professor at Dakota Wesleyan, and Max E. Collier, who has been assistant professor of history at Alderson Braddes College, West Virginia.

Dr. Sellen is a graduate of Washburn University at Topeka. He received his master's degree and doctorate from the University of Chicago. He is married and has two children.

Mr. Collier was graduated from Franklin College in Franklin, Indiana and received his master's degree from the University of Indiana, where he is presently a candidate for a doctorate. He is married and has one child.

The English department has added two instructors to the staff. They are Charles Hooks of Waco, Texas, and Burton White of Medford, Massachusetts. Mr. Hooks received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Baylor University and has been working toward a doctorate at the University of Michigan where he had a teaching fellowship. He is married and has one child.

Mr. White took his bachelor degree and his master's at Boston University where he has been studying for his Ph. D.

Dr. Fyfe, Dr. Hazel Batzer and Dr. Edith Hadley are returning members of the English staff.

Philip B. Clarkson of Bronxville, New York will teach in the Speech department. Mr. Clarkson has a B. A. degree from Wesleyan University, Middleton, Connecticut, and M. A. from Columbia. He has studied at the University of Paris and the Central School of Speech and Dramatic Arts of London. He taught at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Worcester, Massachusetts, at Norwich University, Northfield, Vermont, and the past year has been research assistant for the American Stage at the Corcoran Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C.

Robert C. Collins has joined the Conservatory faculty as professor of string instruments. Mr. Collins attended the Yale school of music and the Juilliard school. He received his bachelor and master of music degrees at the University of Texas. He received two successive Fulbright awards and studied at the Royal Academy of Music in London. He has played cello with orchestras in England; the Springfield Massachusetts symphony; the New Haven, Connecticut symphony; San Diego servicemen's symphony; Washington, D. C. and Southern Symphony of the Columbia Music festival in 1948 and 1949. He performed as principal cellist with symphony orchestras in Austin, Dallas and East Texas. Mr. Collins will direct a new development project at the Conservatory.

FACULTY MEMBERS RECEIVE DEGREES

Miss Mary Bowne, director of physical education for women at the college, was awarded a doctorate by the University of Wisconsin at the spring commencement exercises. Miss Bowne received her master's degree from Wisconsin in 1941. She has been on the Morningside faculty since 1947.

Miss Edith J. Hadley, associate professor of English, was granted a doctor's degree in English by the University of Wisconsin at the summer graduation ceremonies. Miss Hadley received her master's degree from the same school, and has studied at Northwestern, Chicago, Michigan and Columbia universities. This is her second year at Morningside.

Miss Helen Northup, head of the department of secretarial science, qualified for her C. P. S. by passing the 1956 certified professional secretary examination. This is a comprehensive two day test administered throughout the nation by the Institute for Certifying Secretaries. The program is sponsored by the National Secretaries Association. Miss Northup, a Morningside graduate of the class of 1946, is one of the first 15 Iowans to hold the title,

DIMMITT PORTRAIT UNVEILED

On Sunday afternoon of Commencement week end the portrait of Miss Dimmitt was unveiled at a reception held in Lillian E. Dimmitt Hall, Cornelius and Margaret Eerkes, both members of the class of 1924, commissioned the portrait. It was painted by the artist, Rolf Stoll, of the Cleveland Art Institute.

The many alumni and friends present were delighted by the portrait as it came into view when Mrs. Eerkes unveiled it. The presentation was made by Mr. Eerkes, who was introduced by Ernest Raun '23, and was accepted for the college by Clifford Harper '11 of the board of trustees.

The portrait hangs in the drawing room of Dimmitt Hall.

Hale Called to Washington

Many phases of the industry were observed this summer by Joseph D. Hale of the Department of Livestock Marketing. Tuesday after commencement Mr. Hale was called to Washington, D. C., to prepare information for the sub-committee of the Senate judiciary committee to be used in connection with an investigation of the livestock marketing and packing industry. Following the Washington call, an extensive trip was made through Wisconsin that included smaller public markets, interior packing house operations and a study of an unusual livestock selling plan of a strong cooperative organization in that state. Early in August, Mr. Hale appeared on the program of a livestock marketing clinic conducted by the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation in the Ozarks. This was followed by a 17-day trip in Canada that included Winnipeg and Saint Boniface, Manitoba; Ottawa, Kitchener, Guelph and Toronto, Ontario; and Hull and Montreal, Quebec. This study included public livestock markets, packing house operations, carcass beef grading, development of meat type hogs, compulsory rail grading of hogs, and conferring with agricultural college faculty members and also with Provincial and Dominion Department of Agriculture officials concerned with livestock production and marketing.

PLAN STYLE SHOW

The Mothers and Wives auxiliary of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity are planning a style show to be held on Thursday evening, October 25, in the fraternity house on the campus.

The auxiliary meets on the first Friday of the month, and all mothers and wives of Sig Eps or former Tau Deltas are welcome. Mrs. Virgil Gerkin is the president of the club.

He has been associated with the College of Industrial Technology since its founding, and has served as assistant dean and registrar prior to this appointment. He resides in Hopkinton, Massachusetts.

1956 Maroon Football

The Morningside coaching staff is neither optimistic nor pessimistic about the Maroon's chance in 1956 gridiron war.

Head coach Dewey Halford admits that the loss of his starting lineup of 1955 via graduation, along with two lettermen on the bench for the season because of injuries has somewhat dampened the hopes of the Maroons.

However 35 men were invited to join the team on September 1 for the opening drills. Bolstering this year's squad are 13 lettermen from last year's team which placed third in the league with a 3-2-1 mark and compiled an overall record of four wins, three losses and one tie.

Heading the list of returning M men are co-captains, Red Getting all conference end, and full-back Dutch Bryan. Other returning standouts are backfield men, Bob Reynders, Rusty Mohler and Ron Fredrickson. The returning mainstays of the line are, Buddy Mount, Ken Bohlke, Larry Johnson and Truman O'Doherty, who has returned from four years in the navy to join the Maroons. He lettered as a Morningside gridman before entering the armed forces. Other returning lettermen are Vince Arioso, Dan Emmerson, Bob Puff, Tom Tooley and Jim Hindman.

A strong and talented list of sophomores may give the Maroons the boost they need for a successful season. The question mark on the campus is will the talent overshadow experience.

MORNINGSIDE WINS FIRST GAME 21-7

AWARD TO MRS. MacARTHUR

A distinguished service award, the highest honor ever bestowed on an employee of the college, was presented to Mrs. May MacArthur, head bookkeeper, who retired on September 1 after 32 years of active service. The award was presented by Elwood Olsen, business manager of the college, at a dinner given in Mrs. MacArthur's honor.

BAND DAY SEPTEMBER 29

The Morningside College annual Band Night has this year grown into a Band Day. This all day event for high school bands of the area is sponsored by the college with the cooperation of the Sioux City and the Morningside Chambers of Commerce.

There will be a parade at 9 a. m., after which the band members will be entertained at the moving pictures theaters.

Band directors will be guest at a steak dinner in the M club room in Allee Gymnasium.

A contest has been announced for a king and queen, Miss and Mr. Band Day. The winners will be crowned in football stadium before the game by Dr. J. Richard Palmer, president of the college. They will receive scholarship to the college as prizes.

At 2.30 P. M. marching band demonstrations will be held on Bass Field. Five 1955 State Champions will take part. This will be followed by a barbecue dinner for all band members and directors.

7 P. M. will be the start of the parade of the football stadium, and at half time of the game between Morningside and North Dakota University the massed bands will perform under the baton of the guest conductor, Forrest L. Buchtel of Chicago, Nationally known composer and arranger for school bands.

Robert Lowry, director of the college band is in charge of the arrangements for the event. In 1955 there were 53 bands in attendance.
