JAMES J. HAYES ALUMNI DINNER SPEAKER

Professor James J. Hayes, Morningside faculty member from 1914-32, will be the speaker at the Morningside dinner on Alumni Day. The dinner will be at Dimmitt Hall at 6 P. M., May 30.

Dr. Hayes is the head of the English Department at Oklahoma City University, where he has taught since 1932.

Morningsiders remember Prof. 'Jimmy' Hayes with delight both for his teaching and his chapel and pep talks.

The class of 1953 will be guests at the dinner. Sharing honors with them will be members of 1903, the fifty year class.

Louis Croston '30, president of the alumni association, will preside and arrangements are in charge of Ethel Hackett Cord '30.

LE Meeting

At the spring meeting of the Living Endowment Committee on April 23, Louis Croston '30 of Sioux City, was elected chairman for 1953-54. Earl Barks of Belden, Nebraska is the retiring chairman.

Allan Kline Commencement Speaker

Allan B. Kline

Allan B. Kline '15 of Chicago, president of the American Farm Bureau, will deliver the commencement address to the senior class at the graduation exercises to be held in Allee Gymnasium, 10 a. m., Monday, June 1st.

Honorary Degrees To Be Given

The Board of Trustees of the college voted to award four honorary degrees at the 59th Anniversary Commencement exercises on June 1, 1953.

The men to be honored are Allan B. Kline of Chicago, president of the American Farm Bureau, who was graduated from Morningside in 1915; the Rev. George D. Davies of Kingston, New York, a Morningside graduate in '32, and now district superintendent of the Methodist Church; Mr. George A. Neal of Sioux City, president of the Iowa Public Service Company, and the Rev. Roscoe C. Jerrell, pastor of the church at Quimby, Iowa.

MAN OF THE YEAR

Merle V. Shafenberg '21, superintendent of schools at Hinton, Iowa, was recently the recipient of two high honors.

On March 21 Mr. Shafenberg was presented the annual Morningside College "man of educational service" award at the 13th annual Conference on Educational Problems, which was held at the college.

The award certificate was presented by Dean Tweito to Mr. Shafenberg, who has been superintendent at Hinton for 29 years, and was honored for his fine service to young people.

The second honor came to him on March 24. It was the third annual Journal-Tribune publications' basketball "coach of the year" plaque.

The award was given by Alex Stoddard, Journal-Tribune sports editor, in a surprise presentation at the annual banquet honoring the Hinton high school team.

Mr. Shafenberg is the second Morningside graduate to receive this plaque. Francis Jones '42, Sioux Center coach, former Hinton star under Shafenberg and all North Central conference player, received it in 1951.

In the 30 seasons that Mr. Shafenberg has coached Hinton teams, they have won more than 80 percent of their games, and the 1952-53 squad had a 24 to 1 record. Three of his former Hinton players received all North Central conference recognition at Morningside. In addition to Jones, they were Bob Held '48 and John Helm ('45).

Former Morningsiders will remember Shafenberg as a member of the Morningside relay team that twice won Drake Relay championships.

Mrs. Shafenberg is a Morningside graduate, the former Marvel Evans '21.

ALUMNI DAY MAY 30
Plan to Attend

Roadmans Return

Dr. and Mrs. Roadman returned from their South American trip tanned, and happy to be back on the campus.

They had sent delightful, daily accounts of their experiences and of the people they met, from which the March Morningsider published the account of the former students the president and his wife had encountered from Houston to Buenos Aires.

In that city the Roadmans had tea at the home of Dr. Basil Truscott '20, who has served the same church and community for over 30 years. The Truscotts have 3 sons and 3 daughters. Five of their children are in the United States now.

Mr. and Mrs. Lauren McClaren entertained the Roadmans at dinner in their home. Lauren McClaren '28 is a construction engineer for Armour's, and Mrs. McClaren '35 teaches in the American school. They have two daughters.

In Montevideo, Uruguay, an incident made the world seem small to the travellers. Quoting their account: "Because we couldn't get around to visit all the Methodist schools and churches, we invited to lunch with us two young ministers and their wives and Miss Marion Derby, who is head of Crandon Institute. The wife of one asked what school we represented. When we replied 'Morningside', she said, "Why, my mother graduated from Morningside." She was the daughter of Esther Montgomery Smyres '18, and the niece of Florence Montgomery Kingsbury '13.

Dr. Idabelle Lewis Main '09, daughter of Bishop Lewis, Morningside's president from 1898 to 1908, was the former Morningsider met in Rio de Janiero. After over 30 years in China, Dr. Main is teaching in Bennett College in Rio.

At their final stop, Miami, the Morningside alumni who greeted the president and his wife included Laura Cushman '11, Charles Cushman '11, Mabel Rorem Cushman ('13), Ed Harrington '21, Elizabeth Lutz Harrington ('20), and Lena McDonald '11.

OPERA PRODUCED

A one act opera, "If Men Played Cards as Women Do", composed by Dr. Charles Garland, was given recently before the Music Educators Conference at its regional meeting in Milwaukee.

The opera, which was very well received, will be published in the fall.

Dr. Garland, a former Morningside Conservatory faculty member, is now at the University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.

Present Silver Service

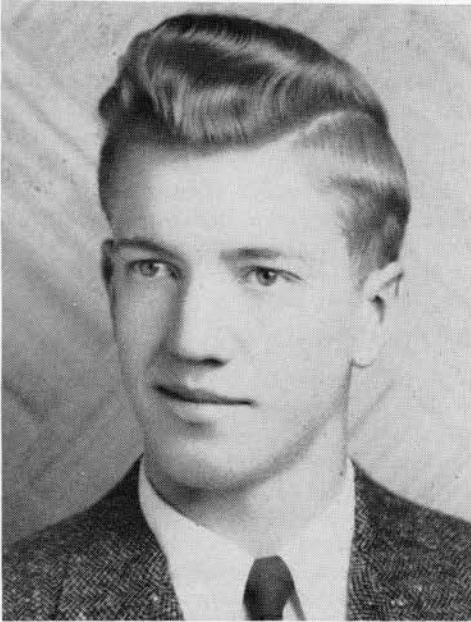

The first event of the commencement season was the Faculty Women's Club annual tea for senior girls. It was held at the home of president and Mrs. Roadman on April 11th.

A rainbow ending in pots of golden jon-quils spanned the tea table, which held the four piece silver service which Mrs. John Castle, president of the club, presented to Dimmitt Hall in behalf of the faculty women.

Miss Becky Rice of Tougaloo, Miss., president of the dormitory, accepted the gift for the residents of Dimmitt Hall.

IN MEMORIAM

Rodney DeJong

Twenty-two year old Rodney DeJong, college senior, died April 6th of acute lymphatic leukemia. He was the son of Ellsworth DeJong ('19) and Marie Hofland DeJong ('22) of Orange City, Iowa.

Rodney entered Morningside from the Northwestern Junior College of Orange City. He was a business administration major, was a member of the college golf team, and last spring was voted the honor pledge of the Alpha Tau Delta fraternity.

Funeral services were held at the American Reformed Church of Orange City. Pall bearers were six Alpha Tau Delta fraternity brothers.

Survivors beside his parents include two brothers and a sister.

Mrs. Margaret Daniels Simonsen ('28), wife of Walter A. Simonsen '30, died of cancer April 5th at her home in Sioux Rapids, Iowa.

Mrs. Simonsen was well known for her work in the women's organizations of the Methodist Church. She had made a special study of the United Nations and spoke on that subject before church and civic groups.

After graduation from the high school in Cushing, Iowa, she attended Morningside. Later she taught school in Merville, Iowa.

In addition to the widower, three children survive.

Mrs. Phillis Minden Barry ('53) of Danbury, Iowa, died on April 10 after a brief illness.

Mrs. Barry was born on May 23, 1930 at Albert City, Iowa. She was married to Thomas B. Barry of Danbury in May, 1952.

Survivors are the widower, the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Minden of Albert City, a sister and a brother.

Word has been received at the college of the death of Rev. Carl Smith '12 of Edgmont, South Dakota.

Mrs. John W. Lothian, 101 years of age, died recently in Los Angeles and was buried in Graceland Park Cemetery in Sioux City on March 24th.

Mrs. Lothian was the widow of the Rev. J. W. Lothian, an early day minister of the Northwest Iowa Conference and a Morningside College trustee. At the 75th annual meeting Mrs. Lothian was officially named the "mother of the Northwest Conference".

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Whipple of 1241 Berendo Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif. Mrs. Whipple is a former member of the Conservatory faculty.

Hugh D. Barbour ('05) died March 27th in Wichita, Kansas. He is survived by his widow, Ora Barringer Barbour ('05) of 1639 North Waco, Wichita.

Hugh Barbour was the son of O. P. Barbour, director of the Conservatory in the '90s.

GRADUATES WIN FELLOWSHIPS

Two Lydia Roberts Fellowships have been awarded this year to Morningside graduates. Patricia Pentony '52 of Sioux City, who has been teaching in the Sioux City school system since her graduation, will begin her work at Columbia University this fall toward a Masters in English. Georgia Dandos of Sioux City, a member of the present graduating class, has been awarded the fellowship for study toward a Masters degree in Speech Pathology.

Bob Phelps of Sioux City, a June graduate, has received a Proctorship from Syracuse University. He will study for his Masters in Journalism.

Teaching fellowships at Iowa State College have been awarded to Gayle Webber in the chemistry department, and to Roger Miller in the physics department. They will assist in teaching freshmen students at the state college.

Robert Soiseth and Carlton Peterson have been admitted to the medical school at the University of Iowa.

Musical Organizations Tour

The Morningside 55 voice a capella choir with the director, Professor Paul MacCollin, made a concert trip through Nebraska and Colorado, April 13-19.

Concerts were given before both church and high school audiences.

In Denver, under the leadership of Rev. Laird Loveland '35, Dr. Harvey Potthoff '32, and the many loyal Morningside alumni of that city, several Methodist churches joined in support of the concert which was given in the Highlands Methodist Church.

Earlier in this term the 60 piece college concert band visited eight northwest Iowa towns. Concerts were given in high schools and before public audiences at Merville, Kingsley, Aurelia, Odebolt, Early, Galva, Cleghorn and Marcus.

Mr. Robert Lowry, director, has announced a home concert of the band will be played May 4, at Allee Gymnasium at which time more than 30 high school bands will be guests of the college. Phillip Lange, New York composer and arranger, will be the guest conductor.

CLASS NOTES

Dr. W. E. Sanders '04 contributed a paper, which was read at the annual meeting of the Iowa Academy of Science in Mt. Vernon, April 17. The subject of the paper was Rudolph Virchow, scientist and physician, who had been Dr. Sanders' teacher and chief fifty years ago in Berlin, Germany.

In the Transactions of the Historical Society of South Dakota for 1952, Dr. Sanders has presented a study of the ethics and social history and archaeology of Siouan Indians.

He is now retired from active medical practice and lives in Pasadena, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Perle Eberly of Sioux City, parents of Ralph '28 and Percy '30, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary in March. Mr. Eberly attended the Academy of Morningside College in the early days.

The Community Theater workshop of Sioux City produced a one act play, "Beware the Bear", written by Margaret Coleman Crary '26. Critics acclaimed it as fresh, young and more than credible. Mrs. Crary sold the play to a publishing house in December.

John R. Elliott '37 has been named manager of the General Electric research laboratory, organic chemistry division. Mr. Elliott has been a laboratory staff member since 1943. He has his masters degree from Iowa State and his Ph. D. from the University of Illinois. With his wife and two children he lives in Schenectady, N. Y. He is the son of Mrs. Ethel Elliott, former director of the Student Union at the college.

A poem entitled Anemone Patens by Miriam Hawthorn Baker '39 was published on the editorial page of the Sioux City Journal, April 11th.

John Halloran's Choralists appeared recently in Orchestra Hall, Chicago. The Chicago Tribune called them Chicago's most professional choral group. John Halloran received his degree from Morningside in 1938.

Dr. Warren R. Moore '45 has been released from the Navy after having served with the First Marine Division in Korea and at the Naval Hospital, Great Lakes. He is returning to the Harper Hospital, Detroit, for his 3rd year of residency in Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Dr. Hugh Fouke '20, minister and director of the Endion Community Methodist Church in Duluth, Minn., won an honorable mention award and a check for $100 with a sermon he had entered in a national competition. The competition was sponsored by the Calvin K. Kazanjian Economic Foundation. The sermon was titled "When God Calls Men Foolish."

Dr. Robert C. Farb '46, head of the history and political science department at Simpson College, has received a scholarship from Boston University and will attend that institution this summer.

Elbert N. Bales '47 has been teaching in Barstow, California for two years.

Glenn W. Smith ('42) has opened his own offices in San Francisco. He is a consulting engineer.

Coila Sieber '46 has moved from Cleveland, Ohio to Aschboro, N. C. where she is secretary for a surgeon.

Marcella Poppen '47 is teaching music in a mission school in Baiko Jo Gokuin, Shimonoseki, Japan.

Capt. William M. Murray ('43) has been awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in Korea. He was cited for service with the medical service corps of the 179th infantry regiment of the 45th infantry division. He is now serving with the 5th armored division at Camp Chaffee, Ark.

Pictured is a two family Morningside reunion in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harley (Joyce O'Rourke '50). In the first row are Scott Sterne, Patti Harley, Susan Harley; second row, Barbara Bruce Sterne ('50) and Joyce O'Rourke Harley; third row, Max Sterne '49 and Charles Harley. Both families live in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Sterne were recent campus visitors.

Roy Beauchene '51 has been chosen from the school of agriculture of veterinary medicine as a representative to the student council at Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kansas, where he is a graduate student.

C. John '51 and Marjorie Dillehay Miquelon ('52) are living in Butte, Montana, where Mr. Miquelon is credit manager for Sears, Roebuck.

Edith Morey '52, who is teaching in Austin, Minn., has had the experience of being special sponsor for a German teacher who came to the United States under the auspices of the Office of Education, Federal Security Agency. Edith was also one of a "Know Your Government" seminar group, who went on a study tour to Washington and New York City. They visited Congress and the United Nations.

DeWall and Nelda Henderson Hildreth, both of '51 visited the alumni office. DeWall is attending school at the College of Osteopathy and Surgery in Kirksville, Mo.

Mrs. J. Homer Phillips (Dolores Barnum '26 of Salix) won the second award in the district, and honorable mention in the state, in the recent poetry contest conducted by the General Federation of Women's Clubs. This is the second year she has won honors, last year receiving first and second in the district and honorable mention in the state.

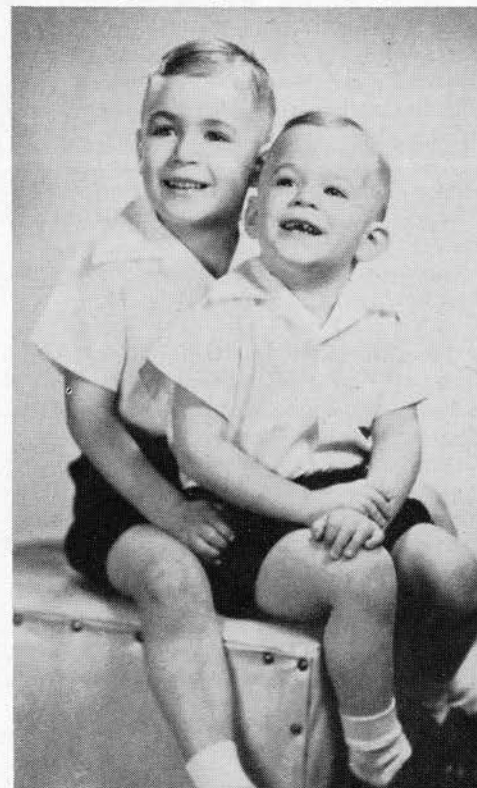

Val Gen Moeller, a mid-year graduate, is now in the service. His address is U. S. 55 374 286, B'try B., 1st F. A. Training Btn., Fort Sill, Okla.

A. C. McIntosh Heads Editors

Alan C. McIntosh ('26), of Luverne, Minnesota, publisher of the Rock County Star-Herald, was installed as president of the National Editorial Association at the association's annual convention in New Orleans, Louisiana, April 25-27.

Mr. McIntosh is a former president of the Minnesota Editorial Association, the Inter-State Press Association, and a former member of the board of directors of the Managing Editors' Association of the Associated Press.

One of the speakers at the New Orleans convention was Lester Benz '25 of Osage, Iowa, publisher of the Osage News. He told of the Osage Foreign Student project.

Davey and Andy Cox, sons of David Cox '46 and Carolyn Wolle Cox '47 of Forest Hills, Mass. can claim three Morningside graduates as grandparents. They are Rev. Roy Cox '23 of Sac City, William C. Wolle '20 and Vivian Down Wolle '18 of Sioux City.

- '03—M. F. McDowell
- '13—Lottie Sanders Milligan
- '28—Mildred Hickman Stevens
- '33—Clara Bergman Nelson
- '38—Grace Taylor Olsen
- '43—Miles Tommeraasen
- '48—Audrey Laude Godfrey

Reunion luncheon plans are being made by the class chairmen. The luncheon will be held at 12:00 noon on May 30th at Dimmitt Hall. Edgar McCracken '38, president-elect of the alumni association, will be master of ceremonies.

All members of the above classes, graduate or non-graduate, are invited. Members of classes adjacent to the reunion years are also asked to join in the reunion.

COACHES MOVE

Francis Jones '42, coach at Sioux Center, whose teams reached the state tournament three times in the five years he coached there, was recently named basketball coach at Webster City high school.

Bruce Pickford '51, head coach at Sanborn, will next year serve as assistant football and basketball coach at Cherokee high school.

Ken Moll '51 will follow Pickford at Sanborn as head coach.

SPRING SPORTS

OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE IN DRAKE RELAYS

Wally Krone, Morningside junior, won second place in the javelin throw at the Drake Relays.

Coach Gene Asprey's track team faces a heavy schedule starting with the Sioux City Relays, Friday, May 1.

Weather conditions have delayed the start of golf and tennis, but Coach Buckingham expects the teams to play against Omaha University and Augustana teams the first week in May.

Although off to a slow start, due to the weather this spring, Weikert's baseball team has won two practice games against a team from the Sioux City Airbase, and a fraternity team from South Dakota University, while losing one to the Omaha University team.

SWIMMING POOL BUSY PLACE

Coach Al Buckingham reports wide use of the swimming pool in Allee Gymnasium by youth groups from towns in this territory. The pool is in use four or five nights a week.

Letters Awarded

Nine Morningside basketball players were awarded letters by Coach Al Buckingham. Varsity monograms went to Ray and Fred Knauer and Arv Bomgaars, seniors, and all from Sheldon; Bob Hussey of Albert City, Dick Norman of Shelby and Bill Ide of Sioux City, juniors; Wilbur Long of St. Louis, Virgil Barrett of Lakota and Buck Miller of Sioux City, sophomores.

Coaches To Attend School

Morningside College's football coaches plan to attend a week-long coaching school at the University of Colorado again this summer. Last year Drouillard and Asprey studied under Michigan's Fritz Crisler. This year it will be Ivy Williamson, coach of the Big Ten co-champions, the University of Wisconsin.

Line coach and head track coach Asprey will complete his Master's degree this summer at Colorado. Head football coach Drouillard will have one more summer's work remaining for a Doctor's degree.

SAN DIEGO SPRING MEETING

The quarterly meeting of the San Diego Club of Morningside Alumni met in the home of Dr. Myron Insko on April 14th for luncheon. Tables decorated with sweet peas were set for 35. A short business meeting followed the luncheon after which the time was spent in visiting.

Present at the meeting were Chaplain '40 and Mrs. R. H. Ruhlman, Judy and David; Mr. ('24) and Mrs. F. W. Powell, Mrs. Maud Powell; Dr. and Mrs. Harry Bigglestone '14; Miss Harriet Metcalf; Mrs. Gertrude Thomas Arnold; Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Hatter '28; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Durfey and family; Chaplain and Mrs. Myron Insko, Jr.; Mrs. Gladys Knapp Luce '20, and Dr. '14 and Mrs. Insko.

Maroon Football Prospects Good

Three sophomores and a freshman will be in the running for first teamline berths when the Maroons start their 1953 football campaign. Spring football indicates strength in the middle of the line for at least two more seasons.

All four of the underclassmen lettered last fall and have looked impressive this spring.

Emphasis on team speed, blocking and tackling has been the keynote in drills on Bass Field. Roger Gohring, fleet guard, has been clocked at 11:4 in the 100 yard dash in full football uniform according to Coach Drouillard. The Onawa lineman is just as rugged as he is fast.

The two Sioux City Central stars were both regulars in Morningside's single wing attack last fall that rolled to five straight wins before losing 28-26 to champion Iowa State Teachers. "Ike" Isaacson, veteran back from the Marines, started and finished all games last fall and was a real spark-plug for team spirit and hustle. All-city center, Paul Kirkegaard, traded a Central High Little Maroon uniform for a Morningside College Maroon suit, and soon took over the first team spot from two senior letter winners. Kirkegaard, a top blocker, never made a bad pass all season.

At tackle, Bob Motter, former Early star, will return for two more years of competition. Motter was an outstanding defensive guard last fall.

All four of these lads are noted for their scholastic records as well, with all of them having an average of B or better.

If the Maroons can produce some depth at end and in the backfield, they can again be fighting for the title. Morningside will have less man-power than last season, but has a nucleus of boys who, quoting Drouillard, "really play the game with great determination to win."
