

The Morningsider

VOLUME IX

SEPTEMBER, 1950

NUMBER ONE

August Graduation

Sixty graduates received bachelor's degrees in arts, science and music education at the summer commencement exercises on Friday morning, August 11 in Grace Methodist Church.

The commencement address was given by Lillian G. Portenier, professor of psychology in the liberal arts college of the University of Wyoming who spoke on The Supreme Test of Education. Her discourse was a practical analysis of the causes of the confusion of the present day.

Dr. Roadman conferred the degrees upon the graduates on their presentation by Dean Thomas Tweito. Ira Gwinn announced that Robert Lincoln attained membership in Zeta Sigma and Jerry Green and Beulah Griffith graduated with cum laude honors.

Including the summer graduates, Morningside has granted diplomas to 221 students during 1950, which is two more than in 1949.

On Thursday evening preceding graduation, Dr. and Mrs. Roadman entertained the seniors at dinner at the Mayfair Hotel. The guests provided the entertainment by relating college experiences. As their senior gift to the college, the class presented a water cooler for the third floor of Main Hall.

ALUMNI DIRECTORY

Assembling of data for the new Alumni Directory is being complicated by the many changes of addresses due to the induction of alumni into the military services. There is also a very large number of alumni—both graduates and ex-students—whose questionnaires have not been returned and whose addresses are unknown.

Beginning with the October issue the Morningsider will carry each month personal information about members of one or more classes, taken from the questionnaires received. Classes with the largest returns will be published first.

New Dean of Men

Professor Russell M. Eidsmoe, head of the department of Education and chairman of the Social Science division at the college, has been appointed Dean of Men at Morningside, succeeding Dr. Myron E. Graber, retiring professor of physics.

Dean Eidsmoe came to Morningside in the fall of 1947, after teaching in the department of Education at Yankton College for eight years. During his years in Yankton he served on the Board of Education.

A graduate of Yankton College, Prof. Eidsmoe received an A. M. degree from the University of South Dakota and has done extensive work in the problems of counseling and guidance at the University of Minnesota and the University of Chicago.

On the Campus

Piano News for June, 1950, a J. Fischer & Bros. monthly publication, carried an article, "Who Is Your Best Pupil?" by James Reistrup, Sioux City composer and pianist.

The article which considers the pupil in relation to his audience as well as to program selections, is the second by Mr. Reistrup to have merited recent recognition. He also authored, Only a Disciplined Student Becomes an Artist, published recently in The Southwestern Musician.

Registering as a freshman at Morningside College, Charles E. Carter of East High completes an entrance form as Ira J. Gwinn, registrar, looks on.

San Diego Reunion

The Morningside College Club of San Diego held a pot luck dinner, Sunday, August 6, at one o'clock in Balboa Park. Twenty-five attended, with Mr. and Mrs. L. Granstedt acting as hosts. The meeting was handicapped by the absence of Dr. Myron Insko who has been seriously ill following an operation. Mrs. Wesley Hatter took over the duties of chairman in the absence of Lt. Daniel Jordan. Out of town guests visiting in San Diego were Mr. and Mrs. F. Schweizer (Marie Woods, '25), of Winnebago, Nebr. and Mrs. O. D. Harrison and daughter Gayle ('52) of Hinton.

The next meeting is to be held on Sunday, November 5, with Mr. and Mrs. Rob Roy Leinbach acting as hosts.

The following with their families were present:

Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Hartley (Evelyn Stallard, '22)
 Dr. ('30) and Mrs. Wesley A. Hatter (Betty Mead, '28)
 Mr. George V. Green, ('42)
 Mr. Rob Roy H. Leinbach, '34
 Mrs. J. A. Davidson (Alice Hallett, '13)
 Mrs. N. R. Oaks (Elsie Hallett, '17)
 Mrs. Harry Krug (Madeline Schweizer, '48)
 Mrs. Larry Granstedt (Edith Harrison, ('44)

Edith Harrison Granstedt, Secretary

FORMER FACULTY

Mr. T. N. McClure, former business manager at Morningside, now at Knox College, Galesburg, Ill. spent the summer in Denver working on an M. A. degree. Last March Mr. McClure was a member of the faculty at the School for College and University Purchasing Agents held in Chicago. The school was sponsored by the National Education Association of Buyers.

Morningside Begins New Fall Semester

With registration of two hundred and seventy-five freshmen and upper classmen, completed Wednesday afternoon, September 3, Morningside College opened its business of regular classes on Thursday, September 4, with a total enrollment of approximately eight hundred students.

During the academic year 1949-1950 the total enrollment, including evening and summer course students, was one thousand five hundred and fifty-four. These included nine hundred and fifty-one men and six hundred and three women students. During the same period the veteran enrollment was four hundred seventy-seven.

Two principal reasons for the drop in attendance are the facts that the G. I. "bulge" has pretty well worked its way through the college and that many young men of draft age are uncertain as to their future. The peak G. I. enrollment was seven hundred veterans several years ago. More than sixty per cent of the 1950 June graduating class were veterans.

The college faculty numbers 70 with a total of administrative, secretarial and service personnel of 140. About 17 per cent of the faculty members are listed in Who's Who in America.

It has been announced that next year's issue of Lovejoy's Complete guide to American Colleges and Universities will give Morningside College a class 1 rating. Many of Morningside's graduates have entered the ministry and other phases of fulltime religious work.

The modern and recently established A. W. Jones Hall of Science on the college campus provides improved facilities for training in biology, chemistry, physics and home economics. The equipment is adequate for an enrollment of 2,000 students. The facilities will be expanded by the erection of the Dr. James H. O'Donoghue observatory, which will be erected by Dr. Arch O'Donoghue. It will provide the largest and most powerful telescope in the state.

Other important campus buildings are the recently completed George M. Allee gymnasium, for intramural and physical education programs, which has a seating capacity of 5,000 and is equipped with classrooms and other physical education facilities including an Olympic sized swimming pool; the Lillian E. Dimmitt Hall, a dormitory with accommodations for 185 women; a radio studio; a special building for music practice, a "meeting house," which has become the center of religious life on the campus, and a social center known as "the Barn."

Approximately 250 of Morningside's students are in training for public school work and use the facilities of the Sioux City public school system in practice teaching.

CLASS NOTES

1890-1900

Maynard Carter, student at Morningside in 1892-93, resides at 4433 Vallejo, Denver, Colo.

1900-1910

Carrie H. McCrory ('07), a retired missionary of the Presbyterian Church, is living at 128 North Park Drive in Arlington, Va.

Clair (Ike) J. Wescott, '08, is a wholesale oil dealer living at 819 North 17th Street in Boise, Idaho.

1910-1920

Mrs. Clarence Melcher (Ruth Wellemeyer, '11), appeared as vocal soloist at the second concert of the Charles City municipal band this summer. Mrs. Melcher is an English instructor in the Charles City high school.

Earl E. Bovee, '12, former long time instructor and principal in the Sioux City schools, is living at 4054 West 167th Street, Lawndale, Calif.

Mrs. Ben Hall (Hallie Fry, '14), is House Mother for the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority of Drake University in Des Moines.

Eleanor Winkelman McCurdy, '16, sent an interesting letter describing commencement at Gingling College in Nanking, China on July 3. It all sounded as lovely as commencement on an American campus, even to the "dripping heat."

1920-1930

Myrna Barrett, '24, is medical librarian at Fitzsimmons Hospital in Denver, Colo.

Mrs. William Fields (Gertrude Bekman '28), is a dietician at the State Training School for Girls in Geneva, Ill. Her home is at 169 Glenwood Place, Aurora, Ill.

1930-1940

Louis Croston, '30, has reported to the naval base at Treasure Island in California where he will serve as an electronics instructor.

Rev. Virgil K. Williams, '31, whose work has been that of a race relations conciliator in Wrangell, Alaska for a number of years, recently has returned to the States and has purchased a home at 19641 Fern Way, Castro Valley, Calif.

An interesting letter from Mrs. Louis de Preez (Ruth Stauffacher, '33) of Pretoria, South Africa, tells of the work of the American Women's Club there. The project of the club for this year is to raise $1500 to open a school for spastic children.

Era Bell Thompson, '33, visited Dr. and Mrs. M. E. Graber on Sunday, August 6, on her way to Yellowstone Park. Era Bell will be remembered for her novel, "American Girl," published three years ago. Besides being assistant editor of "Ebony" and managing editor of Negro Digest, she is working on a new novel.

After September 1 Mr. ('36) and Mrs. Grant D. Hanson (Gleva Binger, '34), will live at 406 Hayward Street, Ames, Ia. where Grant will be assistant director of libraries at Iowa State College. For the past five years he has been librarian at Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minn.

Mrs. James Albertson (Gladys Graves, '35), writes that they have moved from Port Angeles, Wash. to Wenatchee, Wash. where Rev. Albertson, '35, is pastor of the First Methodist Church.

Kurt W. Steinbrenner, '35, is with the U. S. Air Force overseas; his address is D/I U.S.A.F.E., A.P.O. 633, % Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

Margaret Warning, '36, is assistant professor of Home Economics at the University of Washington in Seattle. She is living at Riatt Hall.

Eugene C. Bovee ('37) who received his Ph. D. from the University of California at Los Angeles in June, will be a member of the faculty of California State Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo this fall. He will teach zoology and bacteriology.

Jean Goodenow, '38, will teach typing and shorthand at the Mankato State Teacher's College in Mankato, Minn. this coming year. She had previously taught at Waldorf College at Forest City, Ia.

In the July issue of Popular Science, Robert B. MacArthur, '38, draughtsman and designer in the wing division of the North American Aircraft Company, in Compton, Calif., has an article entitled, "You Can Build A Turn Signal." According to Bob, "If you can strip a wire, you can install a turn-signal system in your car. It's almost that easy and the job will pay safety dividends every time you drive." His illustrated explanation gives in detail directions which anyone can follow in making the turn signal which tells the world where you're going, a method more preferable and safer than the confusing arm waving heretofore in practice.

Alberta Seavey, '39, is head of physiotherapy in Copley General Hospital in Aurora, Ill.

Donald Michaelson, '40, received an M. A. degree at the University of South Dakota this past summer.

Dr. Charles A. Wert, '41, will be associate professor in the department of metallurgy at the University of Illinois this fall. He has been instructor in the Physics department and Institute of Metals at the University of Chicago. Dr. Wert is listed in the new edition of the American Men of Science and his name should have appeared in the list published in the Morningsider last spring.

Mrs. William C. Brown (Ruth Walker, '43), writes that she and her family have moved from Kansas City, Mo. to Des Moines, Ia. where Mr. Brown is with the Hawkeye Security Company. Their home is at 1707 57th Street.

Mrs. Howard Buehler (Eleanor Thorpe, '43), writes that her husband has accepted a position as a pilot in the Panama Canal zone and that she and their children will join him in January. At present she is living with her parents at 143 Sheldon Avenue in Ames, Ia.

Dr. Lyle A. Rachuy, '45, has finished his medical courses and internship and is now obtaining his license to practice medicine and surgery in La Grange, Ill. Lyle was one of Dr. Tweito's Collegiate Forum men on station KTRI from 1942-44.

Lt. Ted Stawicki ('45) is head football coach of the marines at Parris Island, S. C.

Berton A. Kolp, '46, received the Doctor of Medicine degree at Southwestern Medical College of the University of Texas at Dallas on June 5. Dr. and Mrs. Kolp (Roberta Haitz '46) and daughter, Virginia, are living in Santa Barbara, Calif. where Berton will serve an internship at Cottage Hospital.

Raymond M. Smith ('47) received a Doctor of Philosophy degree in Physics from the University of Oklahoma at Norman on July 28. In September he will be associated with the Battele Memorial Institute in industrial research work in Columbus, Ohio. Dr. Smith also has his B. S. and A. M. degrees from Oklahoma University. The Smith children are Stephen, 4, and Mary Clarissa, 2.

Donald (Dusty) Rhoades, '47, who received an M. A. in school administration at Iowa University in June was elected a member of Phi Delta Kappa. He will be principal and assistant coach at Corning, Ia. this coming year. "Dusty" gave the commencement address at the Bronson, Ia. high school in May.

Shirley Pierson ('47), was married last February 18 to Willard O. Norberg in Chicago. Since receiving a degree in music from the American Conservatory in Chicago, Shirley has been a member of the music faculty of North Park College there.

Rev. William K. Burns, '47, of Melrose, Mass. has been appointed minister of music of Morrow Memorial Methodist Church at Maplewood, N. J. Rev. and Mrs. Burns (Arlene Nelson, '47) and daughter, Vicki, visited her parents in Sioux City the past summer.

Mr. '47 and Mrs. Gordon Fairchild are in Natchetoches, La. this year where Gordon is teaching anatomy and zoology at Northwestern State College. Mrs. Fairchild is the former Winnifred Webb, women's physical education instructor in '48 and '49.

Wilfred Kaufman, '47, received his M. A. in School Administration at Iowa University in June and will be principal of the Hawarden, Ia. schools next year. Mrs. Kaufman is the former Patricia Foulke, '48.

Miss Esther Widman, '48, has been named a missionary of the home department of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, the Methodist Church. She will go to Puerto Rico for a teaching assignment at the George O. Robinson School. She recently completed an intensive orientation course at Hartford, Conn. along with ninety-one young men and women who are going to Japan and Latin America for three-year terms. They are known as "J-3" and "L. A.-3" missionaries.

Phyllis Osborn, '48, who received a degree in Occupational Therapy from the University of Iowa in May is an occupational therapist at the Colorado State Hospital in Pueblo, Colo.

Robert Gillespie ('48), has graduated from the University of Nebraska College of Medicine in Omaha and since July 1 he has been interning at Wayne County General Hospital in Detroit, Mich.

Lois Butson ('48) is a resident of Comstock Hall at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis where she is studying for a degree in Nursing Education.

Francis Pipkin ('49), was named the most promising graduate in the 1950 June class at the University of Iowa. The honor was accompanied by a five hundred dollar award.

Donald Kelsey, '49, well-known as a tenor soloist in the Siouxland area and instructor in public school music at Plainview, Nebr., spent a week this summer at the Fred Waring music workshop at Shawnee-on-Delaware, Penn. Six one-week sessions are held at the workshop established four years ago by Mr. Waring to develop better choral singing in America. Time is spent studying the choral, radio and television techniques of Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians.

Jayne Marie Soiseth, '50, appeared as a violin soloist at the national convention of Mu Phi Epsilon, national music sorority, in Seattle, Wash. this summer.

Denver Reunion

A congenial group of former Morningsiders spent an evening early in June at the Olin Hotel in Denver with Dr. and Mrs. Paul E. Johnson, former faculty. The group included Miss Minetta Miller, '40, who entertained the Johnsons while they were in Denver; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wilson, a former business manager at Morningside; Mr. and Mrs. Thornton McClure, also a former business manager, and Mr. and Mrs. William Clemens, '39. Mrs. McClure was formerly Evelyn Depue, '39. Mrs. Clemens was formerly Ruth Thatcher, '39. The McClures spent a few weeks in Denver while Mr. McClure attended Denver University.

FOOTBALL PREVIEW'S - 1950

September 16

Morningside Vs. Minnesota State Teachers

The Maroons will open the 1950 grid slate in Mankato, Minn. against the Mankato Teachers' team which has won the Minnesota College Conference for the past two years. The tutors will employ the now popular split-T offense which South Dakota State used to slip by the Morningside team last year. The first game will be a warm up for conference competition but may prove to be tough. According to Coach George Allen, it is the best first-game-team the Maroons have faced in three years.

September 23

Morningside Vs. South Dakota State

The Allen men have an extra tough toughie facing them when they trek to Brookings to open loop competition. The Bunnies were co-champions of the North Central Conference for the 1949 season and have a good chance to repeat. They slipped past the Maroons 27-20 at Sioux City last year.

Coach Ralph Ginn has suffered fairly heavy losses. Three of his leading backs are gone, but he still has Herb Bartling, brilliant quarterback of his sliding-T attack and last year's unbeaten freshmen team is expected to help materially.

September 30

Morningside Vs. North Dakota University

Sioux City fans will get their first glimpse of the Morningside team when North Dakota's "Fighting Sioux" invade the Maroon camp. In a fine game last year Morningside stumped the Sioux 12-0. The North Dakotans will be under the tutelage of Frank Zazula, former assistant, this year and will be a darkhorse in the conference running. Zazula has a lot of veterans scattered around, including the "Baraboo Blockbuster," Herb LeMoine, all-conference fullback of 1949.

October 6

Morningside at North Dakota State

Mac Wenskunas, who coached Quincy College to a win in the 1949 finale at Sioux City, has moved to North Dakota State at Fargo, N. D., to take over the Bison. His assistant is Bernie Krueger, former Illini star. The Maroons whipped the Bisons in the homecoming game last year 39-20. The NoDaks, with a new coach and a lot of material, may perform some miracles.

—M—

October 14

Morningside at Augustana College

Another conference rival will try to knock off the Maroons when they travel to Sioux Falls to meet Augustana. The Vikings finished in the circuit cellar in '49, but according to all reports are on the upgrade. They have a good supply of backs, headed by Harvey Johnson. In fact, there will be Johnsons all over the place, with Bob at quarter and Ev and Harlan at the wings.

—M—

October 21

Morningside Vs. South Dakota University (Homecoming)

Blood rivals will clash on the Sioux City field in this 1950 Homecoming tilt. The Maroons have not defeated the Coyotes in many years, but this year very definitely could be different. South Dakota U. has lost some key performers, but will field a particularly big team and will be no pushover. In the 1949 Maroon-Coyote game, the score was deadlocked at 6-6 when the final gun went off. A victory in this year's tilt would make the Morningside season successful if no other games were won.

—M—

October 28

Morningside Vs. Iowa State Teachers

The Maroons will try to upset the Tutors bid for their eighth consecutive conference crown when they entertain "Buck" Starbeck and his charges from Cedar Falls. It was South Dakota State which ended their conference win streak last season at thirty-one consecutive games. The Tutors downed Morningside 30-10 last year, but with the loss of Paul de Van, leading conference scorer for the last three years, three regular ends, the top guard, Bob Miller, center Don Abney, and several other backs, could be battered to defeat during the current grid wars.

—M—

November 4

Morningside Vs. Omaha University

Another blood rival in the form of the Omaha University Indians will visit Sioux City to tangle with the Maroons. Last year the maroon and white clad gridders stopped the Indians 21-20 in a rugged game at Omaha. This non-conference opponent causes as much feeling and fight in the Maroon camp as any loop member.

—M—

November 11

Morningside Vs. Iowa Wesleyan

The Maroons will close out competition in 1950 on the road when they travel to Mount Pleasant to meet a non-loop member from the eastern part of the state. Morningside has not engaged Wesleyan in collegiate sports for a good many years. The game will not only draw the schools closer together, but also will give Morningside fans in eastern Iowa a chance to see their Alma Mater in action on the gridiron.

Mrs. E. C. Brill (Gwynne Morris) who attended Morningside in 1938-39, died of a heart condition on June 23 in Hartford, Conn. She had taught school in Latimer, Boxholm and State Center, Ia. until her marriage in 1945. The Brills then made their home in Granby, Conn. Funeral services were held at the Linn Grove Presbyterian church on June 30. Her husband and a three year old daughter, Helen, survive.

John D. Brodeen, ('49), died at his home in Sioux City after a long illness. He was a veteran of World War II and served twenty-three months overseas with the First Marine division. Burial was in Memorial Park cemetery with the Marine Corps league in charge of military services. He is survived by three brothers.

David W. Loepp, '11, former mayor of Sioux City and prominent attorney here, died July 2 of a heart attack at the home of a nephew whom the Loepp family was visiting in Bemidji, Minn.

After serving three terms as mayor of Sioux City, David gave up his office in October, 1943, to enter the armed forces, taking a military leave to accept a commission as a major in the allied military government. He served two years in the army, 15 months of that time overseas in north Africa and Italy. He also served a year in France with the Marine corps in World War I.

After his graduation from Morningside, Mr. Loepp received an M. A. degree from Leland Stanford University and later his juris doctor degree from the University of Chicago. After being admitted to the bar in 1917, he spent a year in postgraduate law study at Sorbonne University in Paris. He opened his own law office in Sioux City in 1920.

Many civic and military affairs claimed his attention and he was an active worker in many organizations. For many years Dave very realistically performed the tribal dance as a climax to the initiation ceremony of the seniors into the Tribe of the Sioux at commencement time. A loyal Morningsider and staunch friend, he will be greatly missed by his many friends. He is survived by his wife, the former Matilda Neubauer, '34, two sons and two daughters.

Dr. Walter P. Kielhorn, ('38) of Grandville, Mich., died May 5 at the Blodgett Hospital in Grand Rapids, Mich., a short time after his private airplane crashed in flames in a farmer's field near Ionia. Answering a hurried call to Williamston, Mich., he ran into heavy fog and when he

It Is Your Privilege to Vote!

As a former Morningsider you are entitled to vote in the annual election of Alumni officers and Alumni trustee. You will receive your official ballot in the mail by October first. You are requested to vote for the candidates of your choice and return your card by October 15 to the Alumni Office so that the ballots may be counted before Homecoming, October 21. The newly elected officers will be installed at the annual business meeting preceding the cafeteria dinner in the Lillian E. Dimmitt Hall on Homecoming Saturday evening.

In order to refresh your memory and facilitate your voting, a thumbnail sketch of each candidate follows:

For president-elect: Hazel Siman Mahood, '12. A member of one of the prominent families which had a part in the development of Morningside. Hazel is the mother of Lewis, '41, and Nancy, ('38). She is an active participant in the literary and social life of Sioux City.

For first vice-president: Evelyn Madsen Held, '45. Evelyn was a familiar figure around Main Hall for several years while serving as secretary to President Roadman. Last Easter she exchanged her secretarial work for that of a homemaker on a farm near Hinton, Ia. when she married Howard Held.

For first vice-president: Louise Johnson Pickrel, '32. Hails from Bronson, Ia., originally but has made her home in Morningside since 1939 when she was married to Clyde Pickrel. The Pickrels have a son, LeRoy, aged nine, and a daughter, Elizabeth, aged two.

For second vice-president: Margaret Lundquist Lange, '39. As a student in college, was an able assistant in the registrar's office. She is now a homemaker and mother of two sons. Is active in the Mother's Club at Grace Church.

For second vice-president: Dorothy Paulson McLarnan, ('31). Attended Morningside in 1927-28, is the wife of Mark McLarnan, '31, football coach at Central high. The McLarnans have a son and daughter. They reside at 2522 Douglas Street.

For secretary: Helen Northup, '46. Is following a business career as private secretary to the president of Tolerton, Warfield Co. Is prominent in the Business and Professional Women's Club. She is the daughter of Mr., '20, and Mrs. Carroll Northup (Hildred Hutchinson, ('20), 2219 Douglas Street.

For treasurer: Ira J. Gwinn, '22. Ira is registrar and physics instructor at Morningside. He has served as treasurer of the Alumni Association since its organization. One of his duties is to remind you that dues of $1.00 are payable annually.

Trustee: Cyrus Griewe, '23. Cy is the busy and popular superintendent of schools at Sac City, Ia. Mrs. Griewe is the former Ada Omer, ('25). They are the parents of two children.

Trustee: Dale Norton, '19. Dale, better known as "Skinny" during his football days at Morningside, owns and operates a Chevrolet and Buick garage in Spencer, Ia. Has three children, two daughters, 11 and 13, and a son, aged 5. He is a member of the Spencer school board and serves on the Morningside Alumni Living Endowment Committee.

Executive Committee: Nicholas P. O'Mil-linuk, '38. Nick is the Commissioner of Public Safety in Sioux City. Besides this full time job, he is an active member of the Little Theater organization here.

Executive Committee: Russell Pecaut, '24. Partner in the C. W. Britton firm and prominent civic worker in Sioux City. Member of Y.M.C.A. board and Boy Scout Council, a Rotarian, and soloist in the choir in the First Congregational Church. Russell married Josephine Steele, ('24), and they have three children.

Executive Committee: R. Glen "Honie" Rogers, '25. Remembered as a star athlete and former basketball coach at Morningside, "Honie" is now manager of Sportsman's, Inc. sporting goods in Sioux City. Mrs. Rogers is the former Elaine Barnt, '25.

They have a son, Robert. Elaine and "Honie" recently bought a new home at 6 Congress Avenue.

Executive Committee: Donald Severeide, ('42). Don is a hustling real estate salesman, who has established his own firm in Sioux City. Besides being an enthusiastic golfer, he is a member of the Exchange Club and Morningside Commercial Club. The Severeides have two daughters, Linda, aged five and a half and Diane, aged three and one half. They reside at 2740 South Glass Street.

Executive Committee: Garrett Wallman, '41. Gary is a member of the D. W. Versteegen Printing Company in Sioux City, and a frequent visitor on the campus. His wife is the former Mildred Wikert, '41. The Wallmans adopted a five month's old son, James Douglas, this past summer.

tried to fly low enough to get his bearings, his plane crashed. Dr. Kielhorn attended Morningside three years and, in addition to his pre-medical work, studied piano under Prof. Reistrup. He was an ardent lover of music and had won recognition as a pianist and composer. After receiving A. B. and B. S. degrees from Iowa, he obtained his medical degree from Creighton University in 1942. He had practiced at Grandville and Williamston since his discharge from the Army Medical Corps in 1946.

His wife, two sons, his parents, one brother and two sisters survive. Two sisters are former Morningsiders: Dr. Dora E. Zaeske, '31, Sterling, Ill. and Dr. Gertrude C. Black, ('37), Williamston, Mich.

Funeral services for Mrs. W. L. Creswell (Effie Durst, ('03), were held at the Danbury, Ia., Methodist Church on August 29. Mrs. Creswell, widow of Dr. W. L. Creswell and a long time Danbury resident, died of a heart attack in a Sioux City hospital on August 26. She was a graduate of the Conservatory of Music in 1903. Survivors are a son and a brother, a sister and three grandchildren.
