"Staff" Cassell New Physical Director

The new director of physical education and athletics of Morningside College, Stafford H. Cassell, comes from a most successful term as director of athletics at American University of Washington, D. C. Born in the mining region of Pennsylvania, Cassell, like a good many Pennsylvanians of note, worked as a breaker boy in the coal mines. He advanced from the lowly job to the position of coal inspector. He attended the Williamsport-Dickinson Seminary, received his bachelors degree from American University and his M.A. degree from Pennsylvania State College. As an undergraduate he won outstanding recognition in athletics, receiving the Menke Award as the student athletic of most value to his college. From graduation in 1936, until 1940, he was assistant coach at American University and was then made head coach. Mr. and Mrs. Cassell expect to arrive in Sioux City on May 15th. Since he will be here at Commencement time many alumni who return will have the opportunity of meeting Mr. Cassell at that time.

President of Zeta Sigma

REPORT REVEALS COLLEGE PROGRESS

of the College are discussed in the annual Educational Report presented to the Board of Trustees at their spring meeting May 5. This report, prepared by the Dean of the College with the help of various staff members is the annual summing-up of progress in the educational program of the College.

Professors talk a lot—to the extent of 357 speeches off the campus during the past academic year. Also they are leaders in many organizations, holding offices and positions of leadership in fifty-eight civic, professional, and religious organizations, some of them national in scope. The productive scholarship of the faculty is also evidenced by the twelve articles which they published this year in scholarly journals and by the three bulletins they wrote. One member of the staff has achieved wide recognition for her excellent illustrations for scientific books. Members of the faculty also completed or instituted sixteen studies of various problems connected with the work of the College during this year.

Curriculum changes this year have already been reported from time to time. Most of these changes arise from war conditions. The extended summer session, the defense courses sponsored by the Physics department, the numerous war-time assemblies, the work of the Office of War Information—all are evidences of the determined war effort of the College.

Enrollment next year will no doubt drop. How much, is hard to estimate. We plan on a freshman class as large as in the past, at least 200 students. The number of men in the upper classes will probably take a sharp drop. All in all, we estimate a 13 per cent drop in enrollment. Incidentally, concerted help from the alumni would help reduce that percentage a lot!

Student guidance, religious life, student activities, assembly and chapel programs, library progress, educational news service, the educational aspects of the counselors program—you will really have to read the whole report to get the facts on these additional sections of this annual report. Copies are being sent to all the Board of Trustees members, the Counselors and the faculty. A limited number will be available to interested alumni. But the next time some tired looking college professor tells you he teaches "only" sixteen hours a week, don't forget the 357 speeches!!

MORNINGSIDE MEN AND THE WAR EFFORT

To get an over-all picture of the status of the men students of the College, a questionnaire was recently distributed and filled out by 212 of the men. The results are of interest, not only because they represent Morningside men, but also because they are probably quite typical of the status of college youth generally.

Of the men not yet of draft age 60% will not reach twenty until the end of the next school year.

The most striking fact here, is the small number of men below present senior classification who are now of draft age. Assuming the government will continue to urge college men to remain in school until called, there are really few men who should not continue school next year. Those faced with possible draft by next winter should certainly take advantage of the expanded summer session. The Office of War Information has been keeping the men well informed of all available military services, including the new Army Air Corps deferred class.

THE ALUMNUS AND THE SCHOOL GRADUATE

The College alumnus does as much as anyone to send students to his college or to drive them away. Time after time reports come of high school graduates going to colleges, including Morningside, because of what an alumnus said or did at the right time. Your college is judged by you.

Morningside will need your help in securing new students more than ever right now. You can be the deciding factor for some fine boy or girl to come here this fall. Let Victor Schuldt, Director of Admissions, know about this boy or girl. You will find a greater satisfaction in accomplishing this than you dreamed you would for it will be helping to build Morningside and will also be sending some young friend to the College to which you owe so much.

Let's make it a slogan: "Each alumnus finds a new student."

Director of Admissions

CAMPUS CLEAN UP

The third annual Campus Clean-Up Day of the College was held Thursday, April 30 with a large percentage of the college students and faculty participating in the event. The 8:00 o'clock classes were held from 8:00 to 8:30 at which time all students assembled in the college assembly hall for instructions regarding campus clean-up activities.

Ten student leaders were chosen, each selecting a group of ten or fifteen other students to be members of his group. Each group was assigned special duties on the campus during the day.

Between forty and fifty trees were planted on the campus during the day including some replanting of trees that had died during the winter. Many additional bushes and shrub plants were also planted. The general plan is that after some of the trees which are now being planted attain some size, a number of the older trees which were badly damaged by the 1936 drought will be cut down. It is planned to continue this event each year, that soon the campus will be a beauty spot of the city.

The planting of oak trees around the "spoon holder", the gift of the class of 1903, which was made several years ago and largely killed by the drought, has been replaced under the leadership of Ray Toothacher, a member of that class.

SUMMER COLLEGE PLANS BEING MADE

Following the pattern instituted during the summer of 1941, plans are under way for another "Summer College" rather than just a "summer session" to be held on the campus during the summer of 1942.

In the past many summer sessions have been considered as simply opportunities for study. The absence of the distracting influence of the social and extra-curricular activities, which frequently provides such serious competition during the regular school year, has in many cases resulted in a higher level of scholarship during the summer. However, there is much that can be gained which is worthwhile, in terms of personal development, loyalty and friendships, from the out-of-the-classroom activities of the college, whether it is in session during the winter or during the summer. Because some summer students are never in attendance during the regular year, it was considered desirable to give them a chance to participate in some extra-class activities in addition to their classroom work so that they might feel that they are not just "going to school", but that they are actually Morningsiders.

A number of new features were inaugurated in the 1941 summer college. Weekly convocations were held in the auditorium. Movies, addresses, and musical programs were among the offerings. Attendance was voluntary. Once a week a special afternoon feature was held. Three tours were made of the most interesting environmental attractions of Sioux City, including the social agencies, the recreational facilities and some of the industrial concerns. One week a swimming party was held. The traditional summer picnics were held, one each term, followed by soft ball games and other informal social activities. Three student organizations, the "Third-Termmites", the "A.G.'s", and the "Twenty and Two" (you figure out what the titles mean), were formed. A summer council consisting of representatives of the three organizations was organized and gave valuable assistance in planning the activities of the summer to meet the students' interest and needs. One of the projects of the summer council was the introduction of the "Summer School Scoop", a weekly mimeographed newspaper. Included in the first issue of each term was a directory of the summer students. A start was made in the direction of competition between groups in tennis, golf, softball and other sports. All of these activities helped in making the summer more enjoyable and profitable as well.

The 1942 summer college will present an even more extensive program of activities. The editor of the Scoop has already been appointed and is making her plans. Some of the members of the council will be back and will be more ready to accept leadership in suggesting and promoting interesting activities.

The curricular offerings have also been expanded to meet the present situation. The length of the session has been increased to twelve weeks to make an accelerated program possible for students who wish to complete their work in three years, and be ready for military or other service a year earlier. New courses in line with present day world affairs include "History of the Far East", "Geography of Latin America", "Ordinance and Gunnery", and "Aviation." To meet the needs of teachers needing to meet certificate renewal or reinstatement requirements, "refresher" courses, as well as the usual professional and academic courses, will be given. The offerings are designed to meet the needs of many different groups. If you know of someone who would profit from attendance at "Summer College" won't you suggest to him that he consider Morningside. (Perhaps the suggestion might apply to you yourself also.) We are certain that the 1942 Summer College at Morningside deserves your consideration and recommendation.

Power Jive Nets Bond

The Student Body and Faculty of Morningside College participated in a most outstanding all-college event when the Power Jive was held in the gym on Friday, May 1st. Ticket sale proceeds were used to buy a war savings bond and enough was realized to purchase a $100 bond for the Student Council. A varied program was given throughout the evening with dancing, musical numbers, solo dances, card games and a refreshment bar. The gym was colorfully decorated in red, white and blue streamers with a large flag displayed waving in the breeze. There were four organizations on the campus who reported a 100% ticket sale: Pre-Engineers, Alpha Sigma, Kappa Zeta Chi and Kappa Pi Alpha.

Conference Leader Dies

Dr. O. M. Bond, former superintendent of the Sioux City District of the Northwest Iowa Conference of the Methodist Church from 1931 to 1938 when he retired, died on Thursday, April 30. The funeral was held on Saturday, May 1st, at the Grace Methodist Church in Sioux City. He attended Morningside College in 1893 and received an honorary degree from the institution in 1924. Rev. Bond was a member of the Board of Trustees of the college for many years and held a similar post with the Methodist Hospital since its beginning. He is survived by Mrs. Bond, three daughters, Mrs. J. J. McNally of Sibley, Iowa (Zelda '22), Mrs. F. D. Woodruff of El Paso, Texas, (Ruth '23), and Mrs. A. W. Vanderwilt of Milford (Helen '32), and one grandson, Robert Bond Vanderwilt of Milford.

Reistrup Compositions to Be Published Soon

Prof. James Reistrup of the Piano Department at the Conservatory has composed a Fairy Tale Suite which is now on the press and will be published in the near future. This Fairy Tale is a very colorful translation into tone of the Hans Christian Andersen story, "The Adventures of Tommelise". Each piece is excellent for teaching purposes as well as for concert programs. The Suite consists of seven parts, six of which are ready for the press. It has been suggested by the publisher that the field mouse and the mole parts are suitable for pantomime in the movies. The Suite has been named "The Tommelise".

MORNINGSIDE TEACHERS IN DEMAND

The Morningside Teacher Placement Committee reports a rushing season. Vacancies are being reported at an unprecedented rate. Previous to May 1, 406 vacancies had been reported. A comparison of this number with the total number of vacancies reported during previous seasons gives objective evidence not only of the possible shortage of teachers this year, but also, of the increasing demand for Morningside-trained teachers and confidence in the recommendations of the Morningside Teacher Placement Committee. In 1936 the total number of vacancies reported throughout the entire season was only 236. Previous to 1941 there had never been as many as 500 vacancies reported in any single year. Last year the total number was 652 and in that year less than 400 were reported previous to July first.

Actual placements are keeping pace with vacancies. At this date, May 12, eighteen have accepted contracts. As usual the conservatory graduates have been picked up first. Seven of the ten future music teachers have been placed. The war (and Cupid) has made great inroads in the ranks of those available for teaching positions next year. Last September it appeared that there would be 59 of our students ready for teaching positions. Up to the present time fifteen have been withdrawn from this list on account of military service, marriage plans or other reasons.

In order to meet the threatened shortage of teachers and at the same time maintain what standards we have been able to establish, the state department of public instruction has been urging former certificated teachers to consider returning to teaching positions if their situations would permit. If you are one of these former teachers who has recently quit the teaching profession on account of marriage or any other reason, and now find yourself in a position to accept a teaching assignment, you should consider the possibility of renewing or re-instating your certificate and registering as an available teacher. Refresher courses are offered in the summer college and the Teacher Placement Committee will be glad to assist you in your search for a position.

Margaret Dolliver Is In Iceland

Through Garrett B. Dolliver of 2544 E. Third St., Long Beach, Calif., Morningsiders are glad to have the word about his sister Mary Dolliver, '20, who is now in Iceland: Mr. Dolliver writes as follows: "The April issue of your bulletin has reached me through my good wife, the former Edith C. Holman of Sergeants Bluff. Both she and I are ex-students of Morningside and cherish fond memories of our college life on the campus. If you will pardon a feeling of brotherly pride, Miss Mary Margaret Dolliver is an alumna of Morningside who has joined the defense forces of our country. She is now with the American Red Cross as recreational director in Iceland. Through syndicated pictures of her Red Cross group she has been given considerable publicity throughout the United States. As I recall she was a member of the Class of 1920 but no mention of her was made in the class notes of your April issue. I am sure that in far off Iceland she will be happy to hear from friends and Morningside classmates. Mail should be addressed to Miss Mary M. Dolliver, American Red Cross, A.P.O. 810, care Postmaster, New York City, N. Y. With kindest regards to the Morningsiders and best wishes for the continued success of Morningside College.—Garret B. Dolliver."

Morningsiders will also be happy to know that James Dolliver, '15, a lawyer in Fort Dodge, Iowa, and a brother of Mary and Garrett is the senatorial candidate from the State of Iowa for the next election.

WE PREDICT --- A HAPPY REUNION

Invitations are now going out to former Choir members to be in the Reunion Concert which will be held Sunday evening, May 31, at eight o'clock in Grace Church.

We are trying to locate all you former Choir people but are asking you to send in your intention to attend to Thomas Canning at the Conservatory even if we do not have your address. Do this right away and those of you who received letters, return them at once so the music can be sent to you. The first rehearsal will be Saturday afternoon at 3:30, in Grace Church; the second, Sunday, afternoon at 2:30 in Main Hall. Note these times and places.

To use the language of the Washington Merry-go-round, we predict—that this will be one of the strongest ties holding you to Morningside and we predict — if you come once you will help make it a real tradition. We are waiting to see how well you can do.

Use the following form to help Mr. Canning plan your entertainment:

Dr. Einar Haugen, Ex '28, Professor of Scandinavian languages at the University of Wisconsin has been awarded a Guggenheim fellowship to write a book on the linguistic experiences and behavior of Norwegian immigrants in the U. S. Dr. Haugen joined the Univ. of Wisconsin faculty in 1931. Dr. Haugen writes to us as follows: "I remember with pleasure the three years which I spent in attendance at Morningside College and can confidently say that I got some of my best impulses from teaching I received there."

The following is an excerpt from a letter received from Horace Koch, '28, who is with the Department of Retailing of the Rochester Athenaeum and Mechanics Institute of Rochester, New York: "I received the April Alumni News this week and found it full of news of interest although I missed any reference to the Class of '28, my class and naturally the one I am most interested in. You probably know my brother, Gilbert, also a member of that class, is a Petty Officer in the Navy stationed in the West Coast but he is the only one in the class I know anything about." How about, Class of 1928, may we have some news from you to pass on to Horace?

—1930—

Warner Schultz, '30, who for the past ten years has been an instructor in the Richland Public School system has been named head of the Buena Vista College Physics Department. Warner will receive his master's degree from the University of Iowa this summer and will begin his duties at Storm Lake next fall.

—1931—

Fletcher Kettle, '31, former State Superintendent of Illinois Old Age Assistance and Dependent Children at Springfield, Ill., has been appointed Assistant Regional Director of O.P.A. in Chicago with supervision of eight states.

—1934—

Mr. Gwinn received the following note from David J. Itkin, Ex '34, of 1521 O Ave., Galveston, Texas: "I was called in for duty with the U. S. Army Engineers in the Construction Division for the duration. I am stationed in Galveston, Tex. My work is of a very interesting nature, and I like it very much. I owe to you a lot for the fine training I received under you in the field of Engineering during my years in Morningside."

Clyde VanDyke, '34, who has been advertising manager of The Journal-Tribune Publishing Co. of Sioux City will report May 20th at the naval reserve midshipman's school in Chicago.

—1937—

On April 11 occurred the marriage of Ruth Hammerstrom, '37, to Lieut. DeWitt Morgan of Chattanooga, Tenn. The marriage was performed in the First Baptist Church at Dothan, Ala. The couple were attended by Lieut. and Mrs. Morgan Harrison, '40, (formerly June Hammerstrom). Lieut. Morgan is a graduate of the Univ. of Tennessee and is stationed at Cochran Field, Macon, Ga., where he has charge of the army weather bureau.

The following is from a newspaper clipping regarding the marriage of Marjorie Orwick, Ex '38: "A young Harrison county couple was married in a hospital room at Des Moines on Saturday so the bride's mother could witness the ceremony from a sick bed. Marjorie Orwick, music teacher in the Missouri Valley, Iowa, high school, and Joseph Hanson, county supervisor for the Security Administration were the couple. Mrs. Orwick, who has been in the hospital since last September was well enough to be dressed for the occasion in a new pink satin gown and she smiled bravely as her husband gave their daughter in marriage. Besides members of both families, those at the wedding included six Missouri Valley high school seniors who comprise a sextet in Mrs. Hanson's music classes."

Having been graduated from the New York Institute of Dietetics in New York City, Edna Wachter, Ex '38, will serve a six-month internship at Griffen Hospital at Derby, Conn.

On February 28th, occurred the marriage of Helen Frisch, Ex '38, to Robert L. Muchow in the First Presbyterian Church in Sioux City.

Dr. Leslie Logan (D. D. '38), formerly of Newton, Iowa, is now pastor of the First Methodist Church in Portland, Oregon. From the newspaper clippings received by the Alumni Office, it is noted that Portland gave the Logans a very warm reception.

Ted Barnowe, '39, writes the following from Seattle, Washington: "Last November, as you may have heard, I left the University of Washington and accepted a position with the State of Washington Vocational Educational Dept. My position is under the joint supervision of the U. S. Navy and State Vocational Education Dept. here in Washington. I have charge of directing a program of examinations for the training division of the Navy in the 13th Naval District.

My position consists in constructing trade examinations for the rating of mechanics who are in training in the various trades. These mechanics engage in constructing naval vessels for the U. S. Navy. I am also devising instructional methods and materials for the training of men. I shall complete my requirements for my Doctor's degree during this summer. I am writing my thesis at the present time and will be finished in the next two months. I shall be very happy to finish my Ph. D. and have that off my mind. With my full time job I have my hands full and have to work every night on my degree."

Announcement has been made of the marriage on October 18, 1941, of Marjorie Williams to Thomas Rober Hughes, Jr. '40, at Ponca, Nebraska. Mr. Hughes is expecting to enter army officers' training school soon at the Aberdeen Proving grounds, Aberdeen, Md.

Lloyd Addy, Ex '40, is at Quimby, Iowa, working for a lumber company. They are the parents of a boy, Tommy Lloyd, now 10 months old.

Robert Pelton, Ex '40, was a visitor on the campus recently. He has graduated from the University of Washington and is now employed in the Cost Accounting Department of the Boeing Aircraft Co. in Seattle. He was married in August, 1941, and is at home at 1917 19th West in Seattle.

Dorothy Brooks, '40, who has been music instructor at Randolph, Nebraska, has resigned her position to accept a government position in Washington, D. C.

Jean Fitzgerald, Ex '40, now Mrs. Ernest Speedy, Jr., of Hollywood, Calif., will be seen in her next picture by Warner Bros. in the "Juke Girl" in a cast with Ann Sheridan, Ronald Reagan and Richard Whorf.

Don Lindlie, Ex '40, is now employed in the shipyards at Long Beach, California.

LeRoy Sheley, '40, is an accountant for the New England Aircraft School and is working on his Master's Degree at Boston
