1949 Homecoming Scheduled For October 7-8-9

LARGE CLASS GRADUATES

AT SUMMER COMMENCEMENT

With the conferring of degrees on 87 seniors at summer term commencement exercises on August 12, Morningside College completed graduation of the largest number of students in any one year in its history. Combining the three classes of January, June and August, a total of 224 diplomas were awarded during 1949 by the college. Forty-five bachelor of science degrees, 25 bachelor of art degrees, seven bachelor's degree in music education and one bachelorate of music were awarded by Dr. Roadman during the August ceremonies at Grace Methodist church on the campus.

Dr. Garfield D. Merne, distinguished San Francisco executive and educator, spoke on "The Intangibles." He told the graduating class that: "Intelligent service to his fellowman and his country should be the goal of every college graduate. The way to achieve this goal is to accentuate the intangibles—the cultural side of life from which a person may draw refreshment and stimulating enjoyment. Such things as good reading, travel, the joy of doing things for others, goodwill and the study of nature, music and art would enable a person to serve his fellowman and his country much more intelligently and would make this country greater than it already is."

Dr. Merner is cofounder and vice president of five colleges and universities and on the board of three other colleges.

After Dr. Merner's address the class was presented to Dr. Roadman by Dean Thomas E. Twieto. Summa cum laude honors went to William Down Wolfe, magna cum laude honors to Miss Gladys Gary Logan of Sioux City, and Miss Edith Mae Fiderlick of Callender, Ia., received cum laude honors.

A feature of the program was the presentation of the honorary degree of doctor of humane letters to Mrs. Louise Freese, staff writer for the Journal-Tribune publications, in recognition of her "achievements in both the fields of journalism and of community leadership."

Those who received degree are:

Bachelor of Arts: Dale Baker, Shirley Booz, Mary Lou Brand, James Brodie, Lyle Couture, George DeVries, Jr., Willis Dewey, William Dubes, Donald Fischer, Richard G. Force, William Houser, Jules Hultgren, Richard H. Johnson, Michael S. Lofredo, Arlone Rader, Lillian Schubert, Madelyn F. Schweizer, Ruby Smalley, Ellison G. Smith, Delmar C. Stone, Jeannine Turner, Worthie Usher, Wilton G. Van Meeveren and William Wolle.

Coach George Allen scrutinizes his 1949 football squad and hopes for a good season ahead.

Bachelor of Science: Lionel F. Briggs, Robert J. Cale, Jr., Robert Carlson, William Collopy, William L. Combs, Robert C. Danielson, Orvie A. Flynn, Doris Garber, Reginald Hall, Mary Ellen Hazard, Ray Johansen, Robert G. Kammerer, William A. Kegelmeyer, Jr., Edgar J. Koch, Stanley D. Lamfers, William J. Pomeroy, Jr., Robert Ross, Edward J. Schmitt, Marvyn R. Schulz, Hewitt Septer, Richard Shillinglaw, Duane V. Smith, Grace Snodgrass, Gerald Stern, Max Sterne, Sedley N. Stuart, Claude R. Timmins, Gray E. Towler, Louise Vander Dam, Dick W. Van Zanten, Warren Vickery, Esther Wilson, Donald J. Windschanz, Paul J. Yaneff and Owen E. Younger.

With the opening of the football season, that old Homecoming spirit is in the air again and it's not long until Saturday evening, October 8, when the Maroons tangle with the North Dakota State Bison in the feature event of the 1949 Homecoming celebration.

Start right now to make plans to come back for Homecoming. It's going to be a big weekend at Morningside. There will be surprises and fun for every returning Morningsider. Besides the game with North Dakota State, which promises to be a good one, there's the Homecoming Dance and crowning of Miss Morningside on Friday evening, October 7.

On Saturday morning, October 8, the annual Homecoming parade will take place and the "M" club and sorority luncheons will be held at noon in downtown hotels. There will be open house at the fraternities and Science Hall and a Coffee Hour at the Barn during the afternoon on Saturday.

The annual Alumni business meeting and cafeteria dinner, which proved so popular last year, will be held in Lillian Dimmitt Hall at 5 o'clock, following which everyone can get an early start for the game at Public School Stadium.

Rev. Ralph E. Baker, '32, of Spirit Lake, Ia., who comes at the invitation of the Alumni, will be the guest speaker at the Homecoming service at Grace Church on Shnday morning, October 9.

We're looking forward to seeing you, October 7-8-9, because Homecoming is especially for Alumni and former Morningsiders.

PREDICT BIGGER COLLEGE ENROLLMENT

Registration for the fall term which has been predicted by Dean Thomas E. Twieto to exceed last year's 1,000 students began Monday morning, September 12. A large influx of freshman students is anticipated by admission officials. Twelve students from China and Latin American countries have applied for admission. Classes for all students began on Thursday, September 15.

Bachelor of Music Education: Edith Fiderlick, Forrest Fowler, H. Milo Hall, Jr., Marilyn Hansen, William Sander, Donna Tappan and Mary Pearl Wiley.

Bachelor of Music: Gladys Gary Logan.

Morningside Welcomes New Faculty and Staff Members

Seven new instructors and 3 staff members have been added to the faculty at Morningside this fall. To head its new Livestock Marketing Department, Morningside College has secured Professor R. C. Ashby who is recognized as one of the foremost authorities on Livestock Marketing in the United States. Dr. Ashby has served as a member of the Animal Husbandry Staff at Washington State and the Universities of Nebraska and Minnesota. In addition to his experience in teaching livestock marketing, Dr. Ashby has had much practical experience; he has served as a consultant for the Packers and Livestock Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Livestock Exchanges in Sioux City, St. Louis, and Chicago. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the St. Louis Stock Yards Company. Before coming to Morningside, Dr. Ashby was a professor of Livestock Marketing at the University of Illinois.

Dr. E. Theodore Bauer, a professor in the sociology department at Iowa Wesleyan college, Mount Pleasant, since 1947, has accepted the position of department head and associate professor of the sociology department. He replaces Prof. H. B. Hawthorn, who was forced to resign because of poor health, but who will continue to teach the sociology course in the evening division. Dr. Bauer received the degree of bachelor of arts at Iowa Wesleyan in 1928 and a bachelor of divinity degree from Northwestern university in 1930. In 1935 he received a master of arts degree from Drake university and was awarded the degree of doctor of philosophy at the University of Iowa in June.

Professor F. M. Semans, who has been serving as consultant biologist with the United States department of agriculture in Colima, Mexico, is the new head of the biology department. Prof. Semans will replace Dr. Roy M. Chatters, who has accepted a position in the biology department at Oklahoma A. and M. college, Stillwater, Okla. Prof. Chatters has been at Morningside the last three years. A graduate of Ohio State university, Prof. Semans also attended Harvard university and Stone biological laboratory. He received his master's and doctor's degrees from Ohio State university. Before his services with the department of agriculture, Prof. Semans taught biology and allied subjects in various colleges and universities. He has published several pamphlets on biological subjects.

A graduate of Mankato State Teachers college and the University of Minnesota, Ayers McGrew has been employed as speech and debate instructor. Professor McGrew also has done graduate work in speech at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and some graduate work for his master of arts and doctorate degrees at the University of Minnesota. He has had experience in intercollegiate debate and for several years was the debate coach of Worthington, Minnesota high school which is known throughout the middle west for its excellent debate teams. McGrew is not only a speech man, however. While in college he minored in the political and social sciences and was active in college athletics.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Bowne, instructor in physical education at Bradley university, Peoria, Ill., has accepted the position of director of physical education for women at Morningside. Miss Bowne is a graduate of Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Ia. receiving a bachelor of arts degree. She received a master of science degree from the University of Wisconsin at Madison, and now is preparing for the doctor's degree with a major in education and physical education. She was instructor of physical education for nine years at Roosevelt high school in Cedar Rapids, director of physical education at St. Mary's college, Leavenworth, Kan., and for the last two years an instructor at Bradley.

Prof. Donald N. Morrison of West Branch, Mich., is the new instructor of music theory at Morningside. For the last three years Prof. Morrison has been teaching music at the University of Georgia, Athens, Ga. He also taught at Michigan State college in East Lansing and was in the music section of the copyright office of the Library of Congress for two years. He has received a bachelor of music degree from Michigan State college and a master of music degree from the Eastman school, University of Rochester, Rochester, N. Y. Professor Morrison will work with Dr. Knud Andersson of Bielefeld, Germany. Because of the difficulty of getting out of Germany, however, Dr. Andersson probably will not arrive in Sioux City for two or three months.

Miss Charlotte Tagg, ex-'46, new instructor in cello in the Conservatory, did her under-graduate work at Morningside College and received her bachelor of music degree from Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana. She completed her master of music degree in music literature with a major in cello at Eastman School of Music, University of Rochester, Rochester, New York. She studied cello with Luigi Silva. Prior to her work at Eastman, Miss Tagg was a member of the Music Faculty at Shorter College, Rome, Georgia. She taught cello at Indian Landing School, Rochester, New York.

Athletic director Al Buckingham has added two new men to this fall's coaching staff. Clayton Drouillard, math instructor, will take over as coach of the freshmen team and Dale Harris, a senior student, will work as coach Drouillard's assistant. The addition of the new coaches will enable coaches Allen and Pritula to give their full attention to the varsity squad.

Other staff additions include Robert Meloy, graduate of the class of 1949 with a bachelor of science degree, who will be assistant in the chemistry and biology departments.

Miss Shirley Booz, also a 1949 graduate, will assist Miss Bowne in the Women's Physical Education department. She will teach classes in modern dance, folk dancing and badminton.

Charles City Reunion

Miss Laura Fischer, beloved instructor of German at Morningside, who retired in June after fifty years of teaching, sponsored a reunion of former Charles City grads and students, honoring Dr. Daniel Starch of New York, a graduate of Charles City in 1903, who delivered the Commencement address. Charles Cityans who spent the luncheon hour reminiscing included: Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Starch, Mr. J. H. Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kasten, Ada Gehring, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gehring (Rosa Dodge), Miss Martha Fischer and Miss Laura Fischer.

Misses Laura and Martha Fischer attended their fiftieth reunion at Carleton College in June. Eleven of the nineteen living members of their class were present. The Fischers are settled in their home at Houston, Minn. and, judging from their letters, are enjoying life among their old friends.

Class of '09 Holds Reunion in Absentia

The reunion program of commencement 1949 found members of the class of '09 in far away places, from China to Palestine. Consequently, with one exception, all were present in spirit. Letters were received from Elsie, Fred, Jennie, Jeanette, Idabelle, Clara and enjoyed by proxies Faith Woodford, '07, Genevieve Howard Hayes, '07, Mirah Mills, '08, Berthemia McCarthy, '06, Mabel Killam Maynard, '04, and Miss Dimmitt.

We received no replies from Edwin, Ida, Zula, Percy, Stella Mae, Si, Mary Alice, Alvah, Julia, Martie, Mae, Jake and Blanch—where are you? Roll will be called again in 1954—although television may be perfected by that time, plan to come "home." We shall be expecting you!

Ethel R. Murray, reporting

P. S. I know it will be interesting to the class to learn that Idabelle Lewis received her invitation to the reunion in China and her reply was received. Ida is returning to the United States.

REUNION OF CLASS OF 1914

The thirty-fifth reunion of the Class of 1914 was held in a large part of correspondence, in that five times as many members took part by letters and greetings as actually attended. In other words, four of us were present in body and twenty-some in spirit! Some of these "spirits" came a long way, too—from California, from "back east," and "down south."

Letters were written to thirty or more members on the list given me by the Alumni Office. On that list are seven names followed by the word "deceased." For one there is no address—Florence Long (Mrs. F. F. McDonald). Answers came back from all but ten and of these, at least one wasn't reached because of a wrong address. Let me, here and now, add my plea to that of the Alumni Secretary—please notify her of any change of address!...As the answers started to come in, I the "secretary" by decree, began thoroughly to enjoy my job. It was most interesting to compare the middle-aged writer with the person last seen in a cap and gown.

Almost without exception, though, changes in personality were so slight that it was impossible to believe that thirty five years had intervened. However, the "information" I had requested about their work and families, turned out to be largely about their children and their careers. The '14ers are justly proud of their children—the list of their scholarships, prizes, responsible positions, degrees, is most impressive.

Disregarding the second generation, we can boast a little, also, being represented in Who's Who, in every profession, in science, and in business. The women are doing their share, with many activities outside their homes.

Those who attended the luncheon in spirit only mustn't imagine that we four classmates: Lee Barks (who presided over the whole meeting), Earl Fullbrook, John Kolp and I, sat alone to do our reunioning. Members of the classes of 1913 and 1915 sat with us, besides some distinguished faculty members, including President Roadman, and Mrs. Roadman. Several of those who helped us reminisce were, Harry Chipman, ex'13, Florence Kingsbury, '13, Elsie Johnson Jones, '15, and my husband. Although she couldn't share in our talk of the past, Earl Fullbrook's charming wife was an appreciated addition to our group. Lee Bark's wife, Leone, sat with her own group, and John's wife wasn't present. The letters and greetings were passed about and enjoyed—frequently we forgot to eat.

Our fortieth reunion is just around the corner, start planning it now!

ANOTHER REUNION AT THE MENKES

On August 7th Lester and Kitty Kolp Menke of Calumet were host and hostess to the third annual reunion of a group of Zet and Tau Delt alumni. Those in attendance were Gary and Millie Wallman; Elwood and Grace Olsen; Edgar and Helen McCracken and Lewis and Dureth Mahood, all of Sioux City; Bob and Kate Bennett of Hinton; John and Shirley Kolp of Manson; Earl and Vera Goodenow of Battle Creek; Elwood and Barbara Olerich and Dave Brinkman of Rolfe and Leonard and Mary Rader of Calumet. Don and Helen Leopold of Sioux City unexpectedly stayed home because of Helen's sudden appendectomy. This group of eleven couples are the parents of twenty-two future Morningsiders. Dave Brinkman has promised to serve as Godfather to all of these children.

SPENDS SUMMER AS DELEGATE TO LABOR CONFERENCE IN EUROPE

Keene Roadman ('39), who has been in the Department of Labor in Washington for seven and a half years, left for Geneva, Switzerland, on May 19 as a member of the U. S. delegation to the International Labor Conference. The International Labor Organization of the old League of Nations structure which survived the League and it is now a specialized agency of the United Nations. It is unique in international bodies in that it is made up of representatives of government, employers, and workers of the member nations (which total 59 in all). Keene was a member of the governing body which met in conference May 27—June 6, and also of the full conference meeting June 6—July 2.

He attended a week's conference July 4-10 of the U. S. Labor attaches assigned to foreign service posts in Europe—and also remained for the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations from July 10 to August 12.

His wife, who was with him for the last six weeks, returned August 18th on the Queen Elizabeth.

Keene accompanied Mr. Philip Kaiser, recently appointed Asst. Secretary of Labor, and who is the U. S. representative on the I. L. C. governing body, and former Director of the Office of International Labor Affairs.

NEW PICNIC SPOT ON CAMPUS

At their thirty-fifth reunion a year ago in June, members of the class of 1913 who were present at a breakfast in the home of Lottie Sanders Milligan, 10 24th Street, pledged funds for a fireplace to be erected on the campus so that college groups might have a spot nearby for picnics. The spacious fireplace built of stone, with wing benches on either side, was completed this summer by Mr. A. R. Toothaker, '03. It is located in an inviting corner of the grove just back of The Barn and fairly beckons picnickers to come and start a fire.

It is the hope and wish of the Thirteeners that this spot with its picnic facilities will become a favorite recreation place for students.

the Army. The work is entirely controlled by the USAFI, Madison, Wis. and the Tokyo office. Of Tokyo itself, Kellogg says: "It is a most fabulous city, so very cosmopolitan in some respects and so very old-world in others. It is all very glamorous to those of us of the Occupation forces. I have witnessed some rather violent demonstrations between the natives and the Communists, though."

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen deVries (Mary Jane Conrad) both '47, of Ann Arbor, Michigan, who have been taking a trip through England this summer, have had some interesting experiences. Steve was privileged to sit in on a session of Parliament in Oxford and both he and Mary Jane attended a presentation of "Macbeth" in the Shakespeare Memorial Theater in Stratford-on-Avon. Across the Scottish border they visited the country of Sir Walter Scott and Edinburgh, full of old castles, one of which, Holyrood, was the home of Mary, Queen of Scots.

Steve is a senior law student at Michigan University and Mary Jane teaches in the schools in Ann Arbor.

A note from Roger D. Bosworth, '35, informs us that he is doing Y. M. C. A. work in Reno, Nevada and living at 522 Lander Street. He was married on March 25 to Alice Lowe of Fostoria, Ohio.

Mrs. Lewis Armstrong (Nell C. Fletcher, '12) is a teacher in the Roosevelt High School in Portland, Oregon. Nell lives a short distance from Portland on R. F. D. No. 1, Orchards, Wash.

Mrs. Albert Bussewitz (Flora Quirin, '28) writes that her address is now Moose Hill Bird Sanctuary, Sharon, Mass.

Margaret Warntjes, '32, who received a degree in medical social work from the University of Chicago, is now on the staff of the General Referral Service of the Council of Social Agencies in Chicago.

Ruth L. Packard, '24, is a regional director of the National Student Y. W. C. A. with headquarters in Topeka, Kansas. In her travels to the colleges and universities of the Rocky Mountain Region she often meets former Morningsiders and has an opportunity to reminisce on college days.

Robert L. Brooks, '41, will be the new director of the Central High School band in Sioux City this fall. While in college Bob played first trombone in the band, with the Sioux City symphony orchestra, Monahan Post band and KSCJ radio station staff orchestra. From 1946 to 1948 he taught at Hawarden, where he was supervisor of vocal and instrumental music. In the summer of 1948 he studied trombone and french horn at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago and this summer from Louisiana State University received a master's degree in music education. Mrs. Brooks is the former Lauretta King, '42.

Rev. Kenneth Wilcox, ex'33, is pastor of the First Baptist Church in Woolridge, N. J. Their residence is at 351 Palmer Ave., Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Axel J. Beck, '20, attorney and farmer at Elk Point, S. D., was runner-up for chairman of the republican national committee at the election in Washington, D. C. Axel was nosed out in a close vote, 52 to 47. Although new on the committee as the committeeman from Iowa, he drew surprising support from those wanting western representation.

Rev. Glee E. Lockwood, '49, pastor of the Billy Sunday Memorial tabernacle, received the degree of doctor of theology last June at ceremonies conducted at Central Baptist Church in Sioux City. The service was conducted by Dr. J. O. Kinnaman, vice president of the National Bible College of Theology.

Lt. Robert E. Hamel, '42, is a communications officer in the Air Force stationed in Alaska, with the 625th A. C. & W. Sqdn. Mrs. Hamel (Alice Clayton, ex'42) has been in Sioux City with their 4 year old son, Jeffrey, waiting for travel orders to proceed to Alaska.

Sylvia Ann Kriege, ex'49, is assistant superintendent of recreation in Visalia, Cal. Sylvia graduated from San Jose State College with a major in recreation this past year.

Mrs. C. L. Clifford (Vera Reisser, ex'30) lives on a 280 acre farm in LaSalle County near Ottawa, Ill. At present Vera is president of the LaSalle County Home Bureau which has a membership of nearly 800 women and sponsors girls 4-H Clubs of which there are 624 enrolled.

Mrs. Boyd Shafer (Carol Larsen, '30) writes that her husband has been professor of history at the University of Arkansas in Fayetteville, Ark. the past two years.

Wm. H. Eiseman, '14, 3158 Falmouth Road, Shaker Heights, Ohio, is national secretary of the American Society for Metals, the third largest technical society in the world.

Charlotte Williams, ex'43, was married this summer to Dr. T. G. Ostrom who is a mathematics instructor in the college in Missoula, Montana. They live at 803 Elm Street.

Wendell B. Seward, ex'31, is a radio engineer with the National Broadcasting Co. His home is at 1517 Williams St., Belmont, Cal.

IN MEMORIAM

Morningsiders were shocked when news came that Major General Vernon E. Prichard, ex'12, army public relations chief, had been killed in a cabin cruiser explosion in Washington, D. C. on July 10. The dock-side blast occurred just as a picnic party of prominent Washingtonians was about to start down the Potomac river. Nine were aboard the commodious craft as it pulled away from the swank Corinthian Yacht club in southwest Washington a mile or so from the capital. The blast, of undetermined origin, came just after the craft slipped its moorings. Fire flashed through the expensive vessel, completely wrecking it. Yachtsmen speculated that gasoline fumes about the engine might have ignited. General Prichard was killed instantly, apparently by concussion. Vernon's body was recovered by former ambassador Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., now on duty as an army colonel, who plunged back into the wreckage-strewn water, after helping Mrs. Biddle and Mrs. Prichard to safety. Mrs. Prichard escaped injury.

After graduating from Onawa High School in 1908, Vernon attended Morningside College for two years where he became a football star, prior to entering West Point military academy. He completed his course at West Point in 1915. He was an all-American football quarterback on the Army team in 1913 and was captain of the team in 1914.

He married Carlotta Blesse, January 1, 1917, at Eagle Pass, Texas. Survivors, besides his wife, are a daughter, Carlotta; his mother, Mrs. Grace E. Prichard of Onawa; his brothers George, '13, Elbert, '19, of Onawa and Leslie, '34, an attorney at Emmetsburg, Ia.

Funeral services were held in Washington, D. C. According to his wish, General Prichard's body was cremated and the ashes placed in a tomb at West Point where a monument to his memory will be erected.

Mr. Jack Hollister, Vernon's football coach at Morningside, sent to the Alumni office a clipping concerning Vern, which came the morning of his death. The article, taken from the Chicago Tribune, stated that Maj. Gen. V. E. Prichard was to be the principal speaker at the closing session of the two day convention of the 1st armored division, which he commanded in Italy. The reunion was being held in the Congress Hotel in Chicago. Coach Hollister added that it was when Vern captained the team at Morningside that he led his team mates to a one touchdown victory over Ames; he went then to West Point and used plays, particularly the forward pass, to defeat the Navy for the first time in several years.

Maj. Gen. Prichard served in both world wars, and had a distinguished military career.

He was a graduate of the Army War college, Washington, D. C.; the two-year course of the command and general staff school, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and the artillery school, Fort Sill, Okla. He held a professorship in military science and tactics at Yale university and an instructorship at West Point. He served twice as an aid to commanding generals, once with Gen. Bundy in 1918 and later with Gen. Hugh A. Drum.

1949 MAROON FOOTBALL PROSPECTS

Nineteen returning lettermen form the nucleus about which football coaches George Allen and Bill Pritula are molding their 1949 squad. It will be the second year at Morningside for Allen and Pritula who brought the intricate "Michigan system" with them last fall. This system, which features the deceptive spinning full-back and multiple ball-handling, takes two or three years to learn but once mastered it can turn out to be one of the most devastating offenses to stop in modern football.

Last fall Allen and Pritula came to Morningside without any advance knowledge of the material on hand and used practically a freshman varsity with as many as eight freshmen in the starting lineup. In addition to last season, the Maroons had six good weeks of intensive spring practice in which the offense was geared and polished for the rugged 11-game schedule this fall. Much improvement was shown over last fall by many players during spring workouts and many men were switched to different positions which the coaching staff thought they could more capably fill.

The squad has some excellent talent available but is lacking in depth, both in the backfield and line. The men are willing and the squad spirit is high, and any team with morale will be difficult to whip. Hard work and spirit, Allen believes, will overcome some of the handicaps caused by inexperience. Competition has been tough for starting positions and several lettermen may be ousted from their regular berths by aggressive reserves and newcomers.

MAROONS OPEN SEASON WITH 20 TO 0 WIN OVER BUENA VISTA

Morningside unfolded a speedy, deceptive running attack at Storm Lake Saturday night, September 10, in a driving rainstorm to open the 1949 Iowa college football season with a 20 to 0 victory over the Buena Vista college Beavers.

The Maroons utilized quick opening plays each time to push over their touchdowns. They picked up their first tally in the initial quarter when Oscar Jones, fleet footed negro fullback, raced 44 yards to score. The last play of the first half produced the Maroons' second touchdown. Triple-threat tailback Connie Callahan plunged over from the two-yard line to climax a 34-yard drive after an exchange of punts. Callahan set up the touchdown with a 20-yard run.

Again it was Callahan in the opening minutes of the third period after the Maroons recovered a fumble in Beaver territory. On the next two plays he ran 27 yards to put the ball in position, then finished it off with a 15-yard dash for the score. Bob Hamblin, 195-pound center who transferred from Flint junior college, Flint, Michigan, kicked the two points after the touchdowns.

The Morningside forward wall presented a tight defense for the host school and prevented them from penetrating within the Maroon 30-yard line. The Maroons did not throw a single pass the entire evening, and netted 227 yards on the ground compared to 52 yards for the Beavers.

MAROONS TURN BACK NORTH DAKOTA UNIVERSITY 12 TO 0

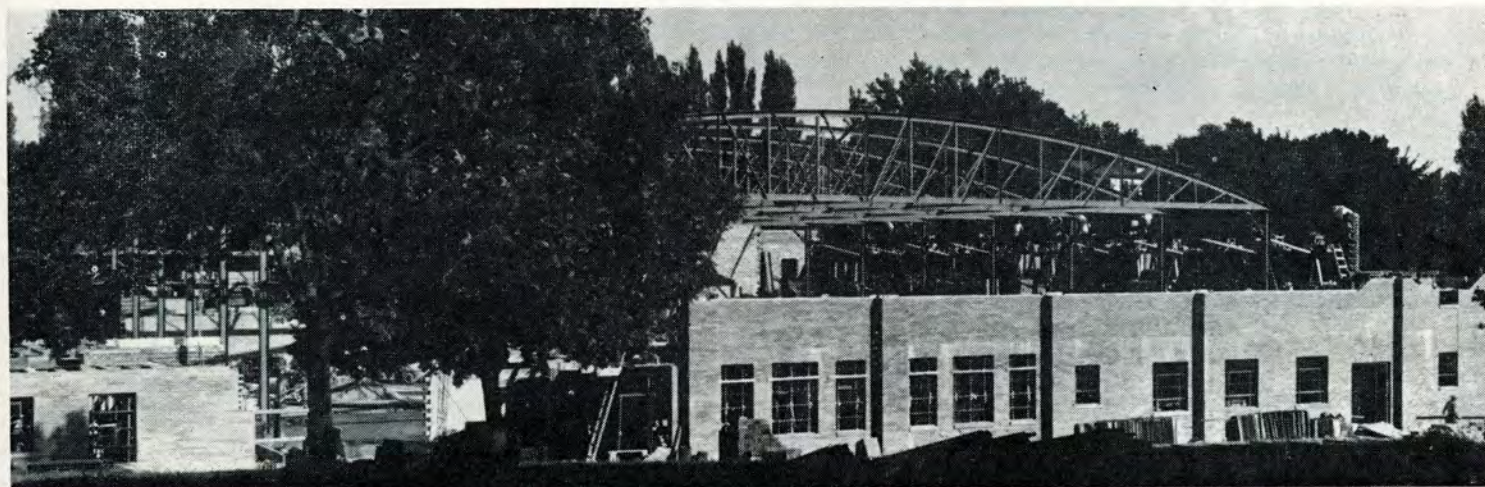

The Maroons ripped off long sustained drives in the second and fourth quarters Saturday night, September 17, to upset the highly favored North Dakota university Sioux at Grand Forks, N. D., to open the 1949 North Central conference race.

Again it was speedster Oscar Jones and elusive Connie Callahan who teamed up to provide the offensive spark in both of the payoff marches. They shared touchdown honors. Most of the glory, however, could be credited to a charging line which kept the "Fighting Sioux" effectively bottled.

The Maroons got away on their first touchdown drive when they took over the ball on their own 21-yard line as the first period ended to start a 79-yard push. Callahan raced around left end from the 7-yard line after a succession of plays featuring a 45-yard run by Jones.

Morningside's fourth period score came when the Maroons took the ball over on downs on their own 28-yard line, the deepest penetration the Sioux made during the evening, to start a 72-yard march. Jones completed the drive by skirting around his left end from the 9-yard marker. The Maroons, who rolled up 14 first downs to 8 for North Dakota, were threatening again as the final gun sounded after reserve end Leo Clark intercepted a Sioux aerial on the enemy 30-yard line.

"M" CLUB CALLING FORMER MEMBERS

The 1949 annual homecoming "M" luncheon and afternoon smoker will honor Coach Jason M. Saunderson and all Morningside lettermen and squad members from 1912 to 1942. Also, the 1919 team members who played against Notre Dame on Bass Field, will celebrate their 30th anniversary.

The meeting will be held at the Martin Hotel on Saturday noon, October 8. Plan to spend the afternoon with "Saundy" and the gang. "M" men will sit together at the football game that night.

R. G. (Honie) Rogers, '25, is chairman in charge of arrangements, assisted by E. Faye Rorapaugh, '21, Les Davis, '24 and Al Buckingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fairchild

The Methodist Church in Sheffield, Iowa on Sunday afternoon, August 28, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Winnifred Webb, instructor in physical education for women at Morningside for the past two years and Gordon E. Fairchild, '47. Following his graduation from Morningside, Gordon was an assistant in the biology department here at the college. The past year he was an instructor in the zoology department at Kansas State College, Manhattan, and worked on a master of science degree which he received on August 6.

The Fairchilds are living at 4327 Spruce Street in Philadelphia where Gordon will begin work on his Ph. D. and M. D. degrees at the University of Pennsylvania Medical School. His duties will include assisting in the anatomical laboratories of the University.

ALUMNI DIRECTORY TO BE PUBLISHED

Plans are under way to publish a new Alumni Directory. This will include names of both alumni and ex-students. Blanks have been sent to one alumnus in every town listed in the Alumni files asking him to verify the name, address and occupation of each Morningsider.

We want to publish the Directory as quickly and accurately as possible. To do this, we need the co-operation of each one of you. Please send in any needed information for the directory about yourself or any other graduate or ex-student which you have and which we may not have.
