DEDICATION

PROFESSOR JOSEPH HALE

As a student at Morningside College, Joe Hale made an outstanding academic record in spite of the fact that he carried on a full-time job at the SIOUX CITY JOURNAL, working nights to support himself and his mother.

His willingness to put in those extra hours in order to secure his education demonstrates better than words can tell his thirst for knowledge.

The price he paid in terms of hard work in order to secure his education helped him in later years to become an excellent, much-loved, and deeply respected instructor. He had little patience for the lazy mind, but was thrilled when students demonstrated eagerness and imagination.

Though he possessed a brilliant mind, he was able to understand and appreciate those students for whom academic matters proved difficult. Few instructors have surpassed him in his enthusiasm for his task. He was a loyal member of our faculty. He never missed an opportunity to put in a good word for his college. Wherever he spoke, and his appearances in recent years have been nationwide, or whenever he wrote, and his articles have appeared in national publications, he somehow worked in the fact that Morningside College was on the map and that it occupied a very significant spot on that map.

His fierce loyalty to Morningside College was so well understood and accepted among his fellows that in jest, he was chided recently after having given the invocation at Rotary Club for having failed to mention the name of Morningside College in the prayer.

I am deeply grateful to his many friends who have so appropriately established a memorial fund in his memory in order that both the courses he taught and the college he loved may be moved from strength to strength.

I have this further personal word to add: I always called him, "Brother Joe", and though he always adhered rigidly to the social amenities and called me, "Mr. President", he always did it with a smile and a tone of voice that made me know he was really saying in his heart, "Hi, Brother Dick".

I know I speak for the staff, faculty and the student body, as well as the trustees of the college in saying that Joe Hale was a much-loved, deeply appreciated, and sincerely respected member of our college family. I am personally grateful that it was my privilege to have shared with him in the work of the college and to have counted him as a real friend these past six years.

And now with him gone I find myself saying, "He is more than a memory, he is a living presence."

J. Richard Palmer.

INTERNATIONAL HOUSE

On October 21, 1961, the International House was formally opened. President Palmer is shown at the right cutting the ribbon officially opening the house. This festivity was one of the many exciting events during the Homecoming activities.

Shown below is part of the official opening ceremony of the International House. Mr. Raymond Nelson conducted the program. Also shown below is the display of flags in the International House which represents the unity that can subsist among people of all nations.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT PROGRAM

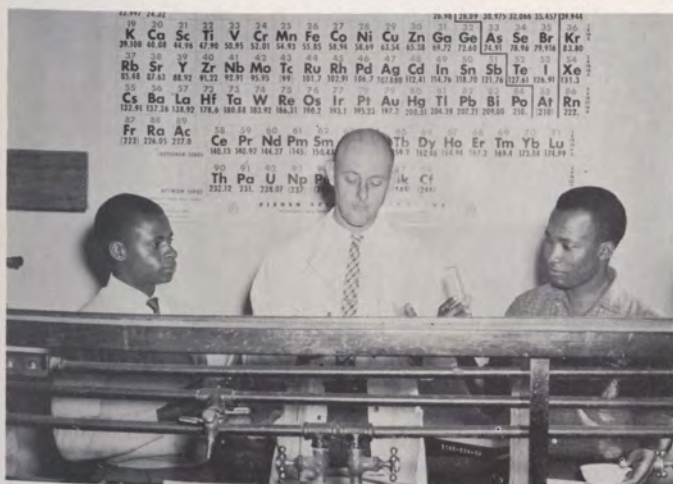

Dickson Mungazi, Mrs. Mungazi, Mrs. Chitsiku, Oliver Musuka, Theodore Chitsiku, Mrs. Mandizha, Lazarus Mandizha, Eben Kawadza, Mrs. Kawadza, Elliott Musumhi, Marcus Tolela, Paul Emoungu, and Alec Chibanguza are greeted by Mr. Raymond Nelson and President J. Richard Palmer as they arrive at the Sioux City municipal airport.

Mr. Raymond Nelson, Coordinator of the International Student Program, tutors Joseph Onema, Paul Emoungu, and Marcus Tolela in his home.

Oliver Musuka, Professor William Yockey, and Basil Muzorewa in the chemistry laboratory.

The African children attend Sunday School in Grace Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Machiri and their children Rudo and Jasper become acquainted with Dr. and Mrs. Sellen at the airport.

Mrs. Arthur Kindred with Mrs. Eben Kawadza, Charles, and Suzy shopping in a supermarket.

CONSTRUCTION OF THE COMMONS

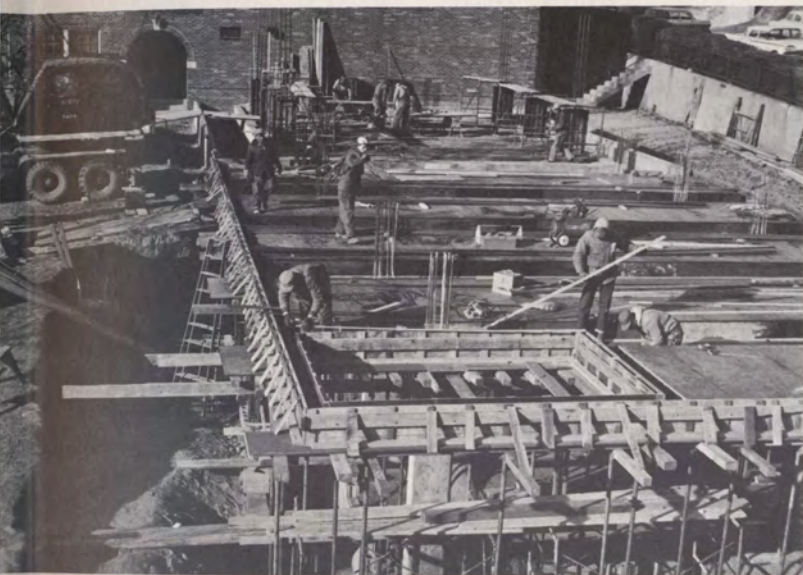

The ground is broken by President J. Richard Palmer, President of the Board of Trustees David W. Stewart, President Emeritus Earl Roadman, and Student Council president Steve Pohlman while Dave Otto, Al Stone, and Harold Poppen witness the ceremony.

Construction progressed during the school year despite the severe winter season and plans are that the Commons will be open in time for Homecoming, 1962.

DIMMITT HALL AND ADDITION

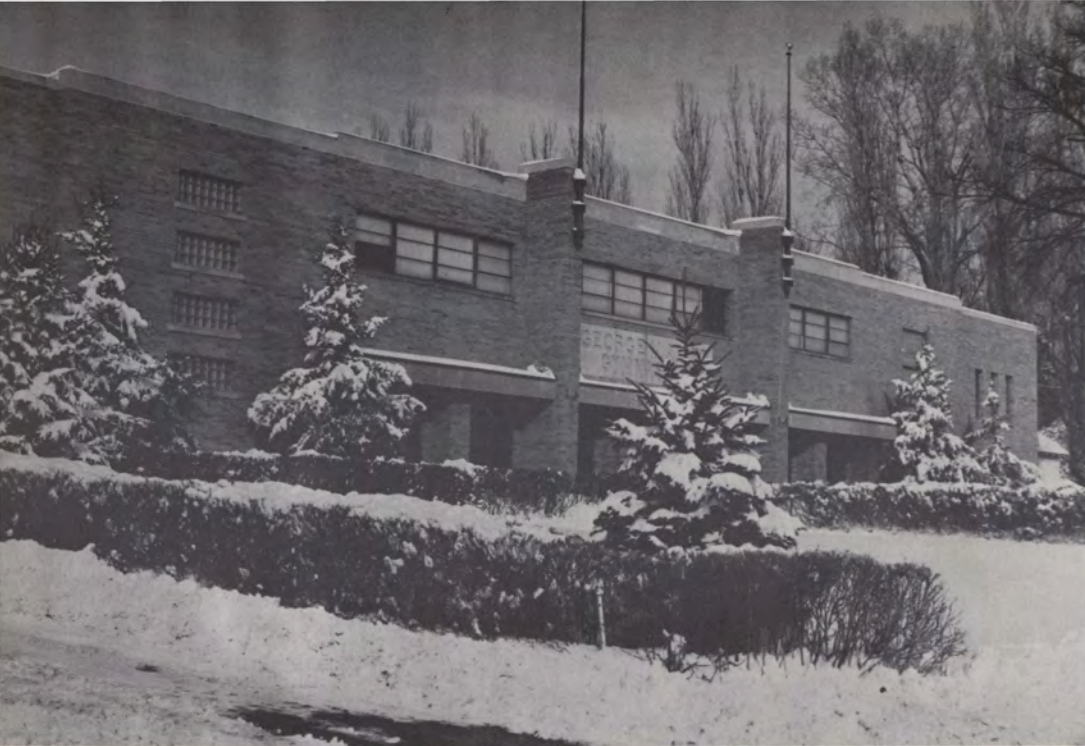

Severe weather did not hinder the progress of the new addition to Dimmitt Hall. This structure is designed to house women on the upper three floors and provides for married couples on the lower floor.

Looking west down Peters Avenue toward the men's dormitory.

Students waded to and from class through snow which piled higher and higher from week to week as blizzard followed blizzard.

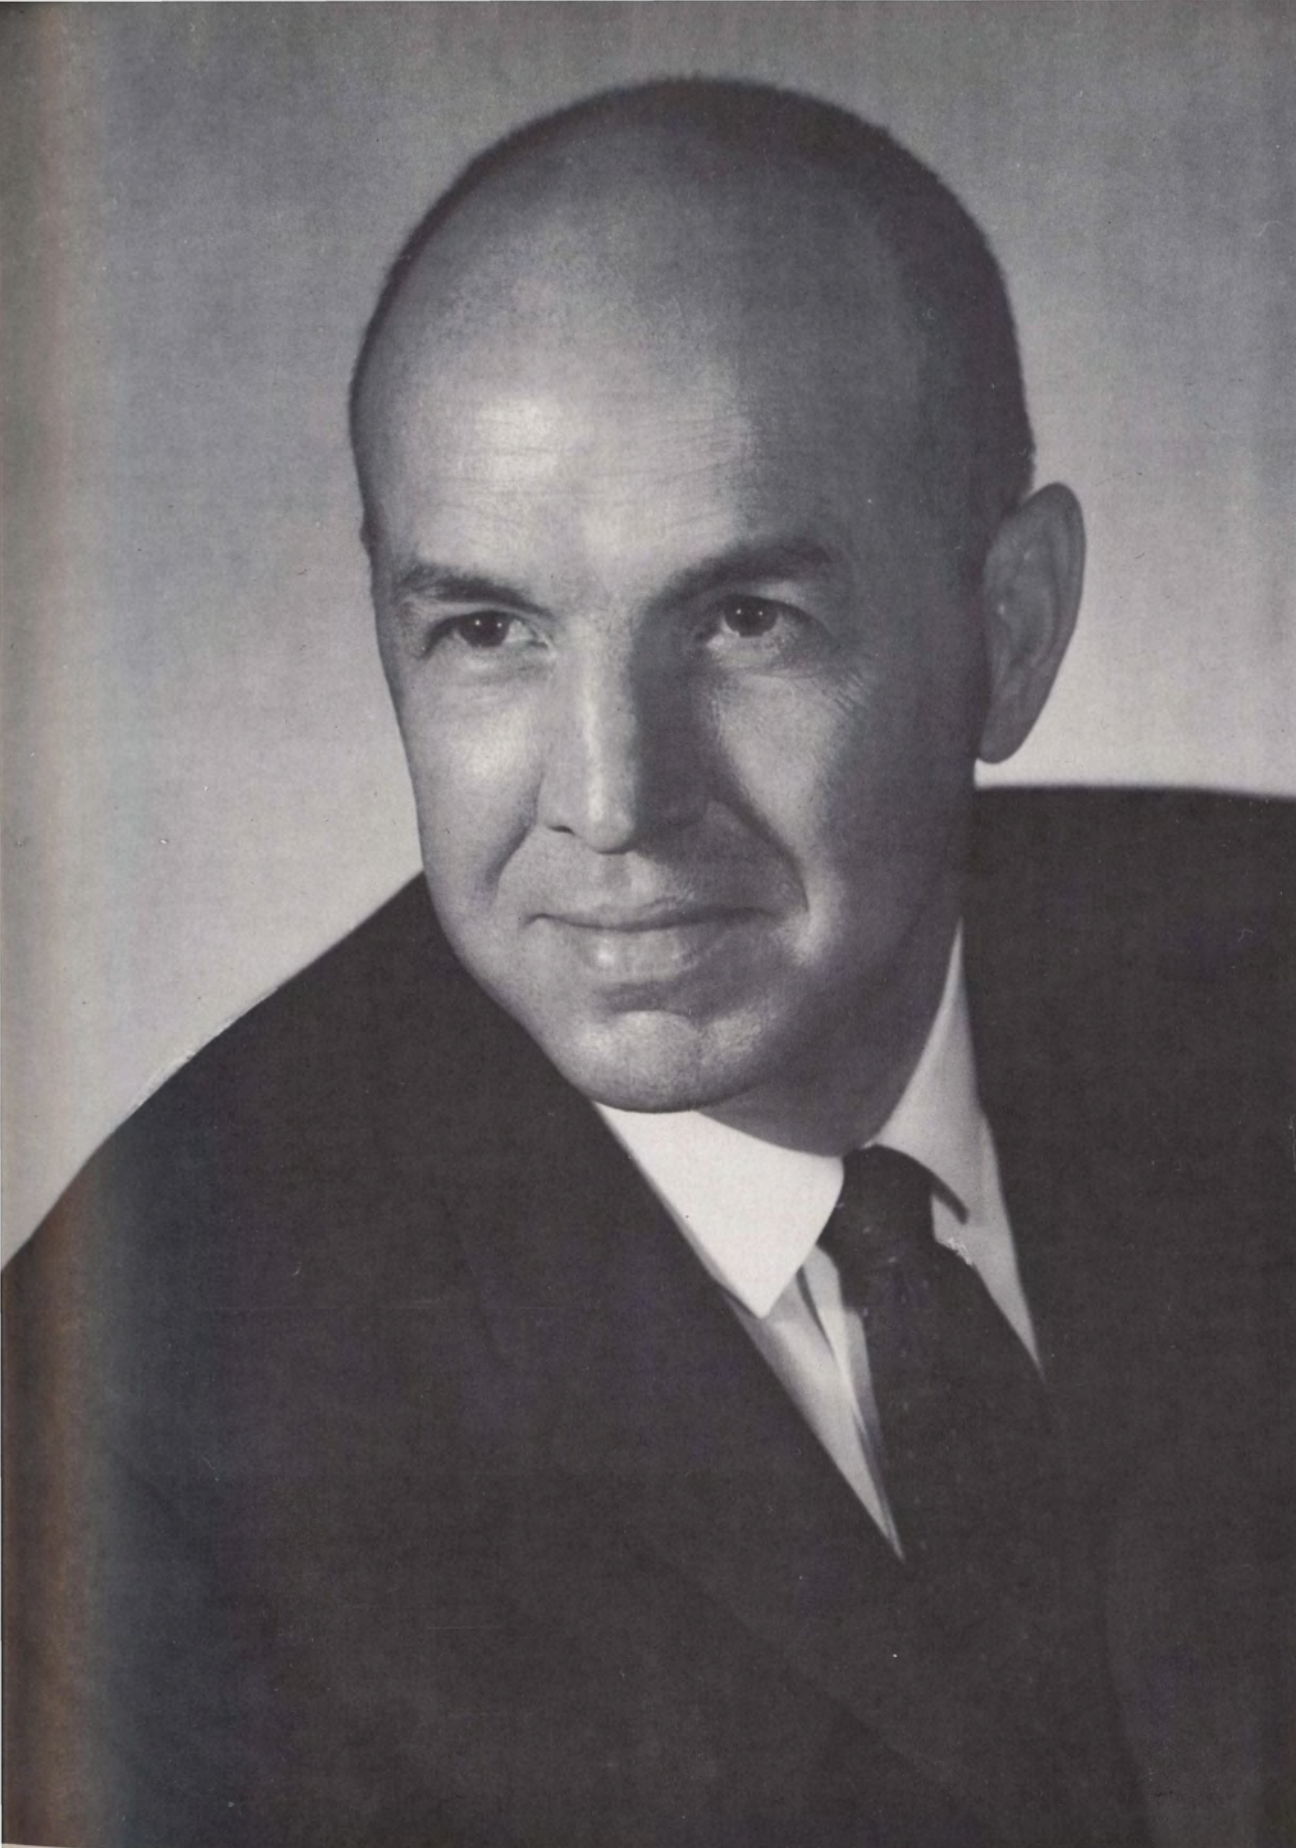

SNOW, SNOW, SNOW

Dean of Men Stanley Greigg supervises the snow removal in the parking lot at the south end of the men's dormitory.

Students at Morningside experienced one of the worst winters during recent years in the Siouxland area. Snowfalls during the months of February and March kept accumulating until the students thought that there would never be an end to it. Perhaps the greatest gift of the weather was that Morningside students were given one day of vacation because of the snow.

FRESHMAN QUEEN

SHERRY READ

Fall, the beginning . . . registration, rush, and homecoming.

During orientation week freshmen and returning students were invited to several picnics. However, the weatherman did not always cooperate . . .

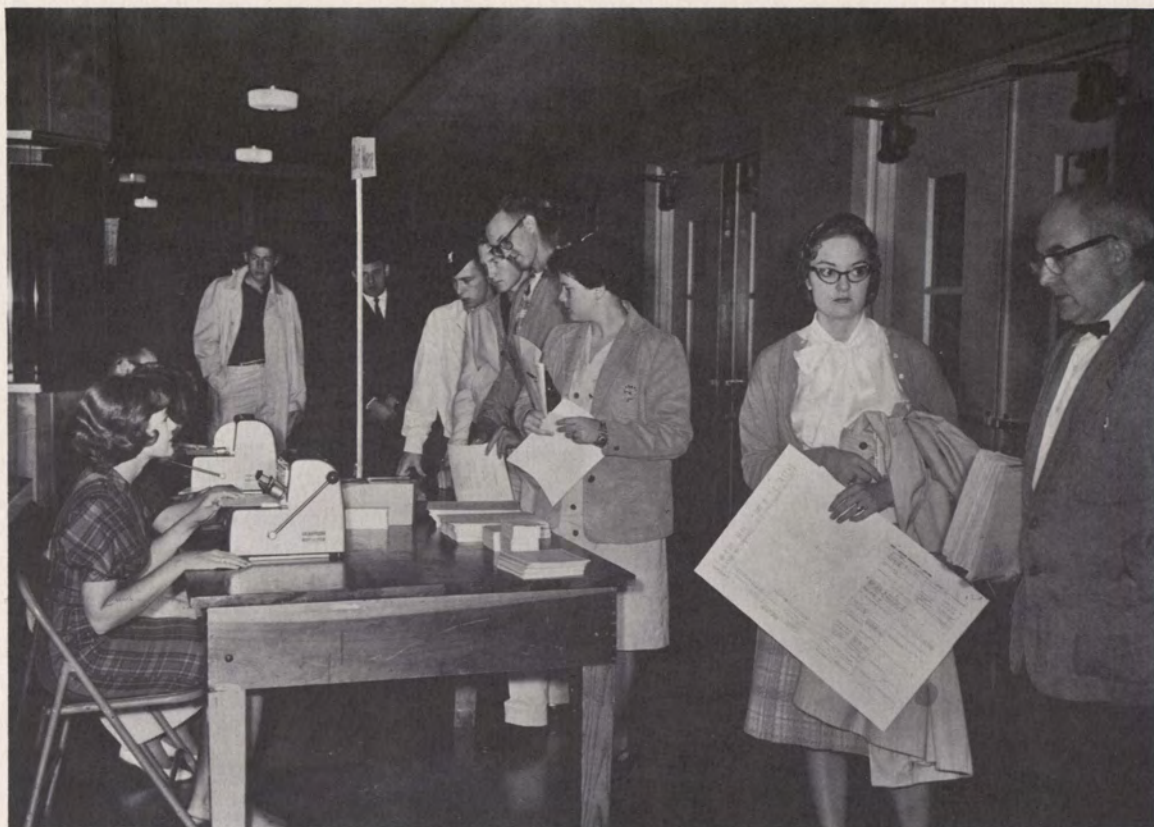

ORIENTATION

. . . and those at the MSM picnic on President Palmer's lawn were forced to the basement of Grace Church when a sudden shower drowned their picnic spirit.

Kangaroo Court, the most enjoyable part of orientation for upperclassmen, was conducted by this panel of judges.

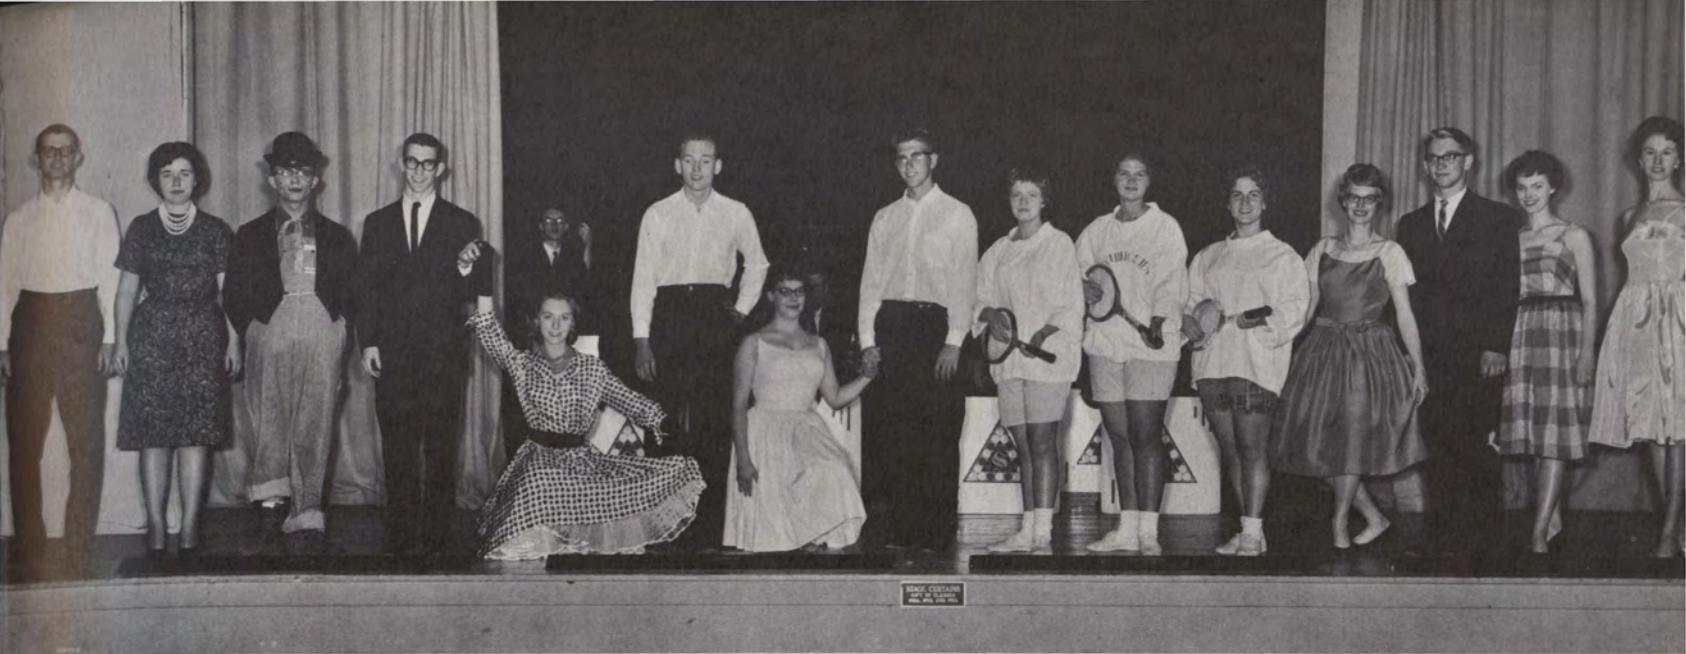

Freshmen and transfer students look apprehensive as they wait to register for the first time.

REGISTRATION

The looks of apprehension change to those of concern as professors and students struggle to arrange a workable schedule.

Varsity Varieties was bigger and better than ever this year. The Sinfonian Band made its regular appearance, plus many other outstanding acts.

VARSITY VARIETIES

New and old students got better acquainted at the New Student Reception. Student Council members met their guests as they arrived.

RECEPTIONS AND TEAS

Agora girls took their "little sisters" to tea on a Sunday afternoon.

Sorority rushees globetrotted as the ADPi's took them to a tropical paradise . . .

. . . and the Delta Zeta house was transformed into Sherwood Forest.

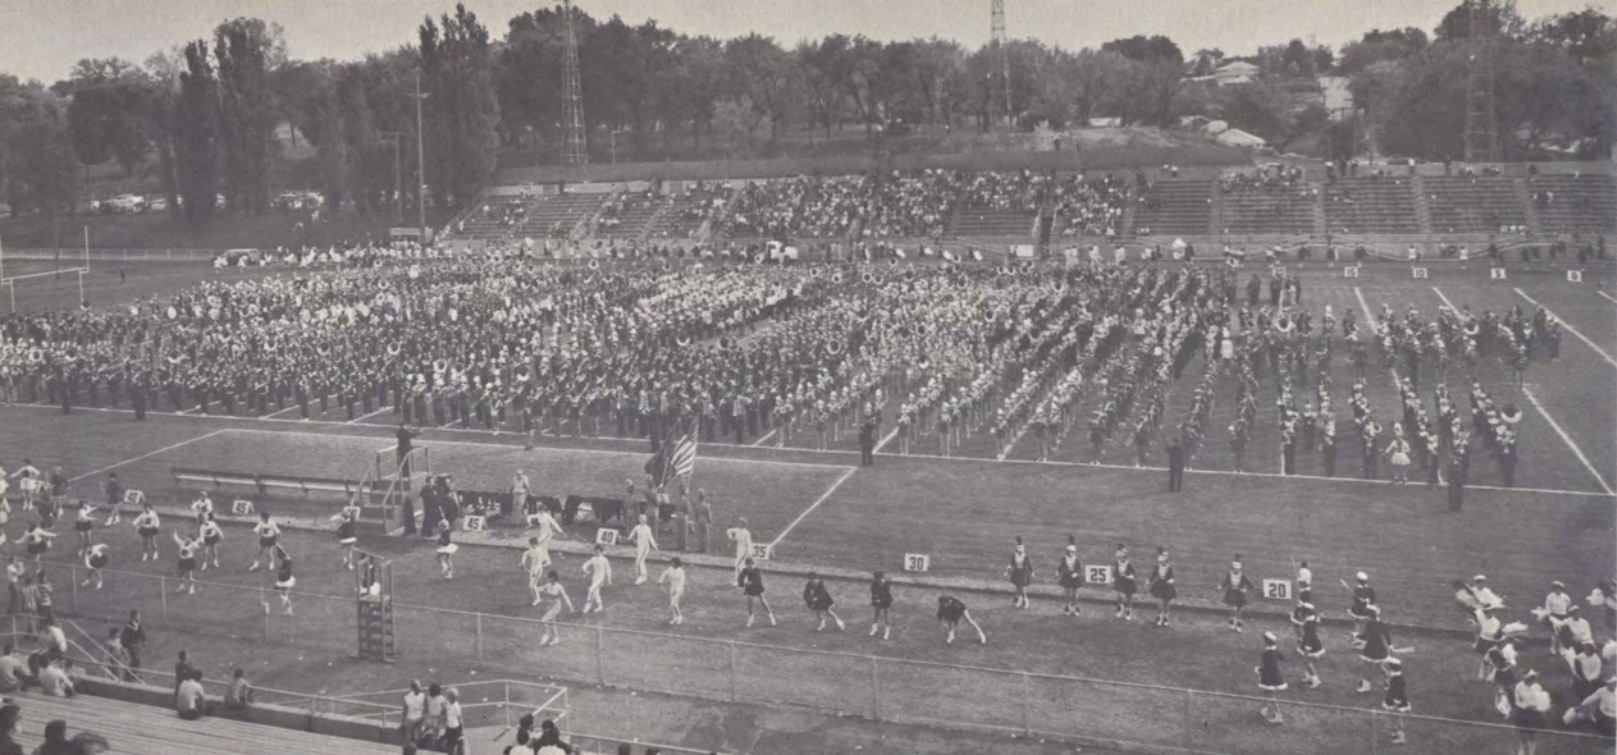

RUSH

The Teke's, Sig Ep's, and Delta Sig's entertained rushees at informal smokers at their respective houses.

On a sunny October Saturday fifty-five bands invaded Sioux City and the Morningside campus for Band Day. They entertained during half time of the North Dakota State game.

BAND DAY

GREEK SING

Alpha Delta Pi sorority captured top honors at the All-Greek Sing for the second year. Judge Dean Holmes presents the trophy to the winners. Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity was awarded second place.

The second annual Jazz Concert, presented by Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonian fraternity and Pat Stuart, was received by a large and enthusiastic audience.

JAZZ CONCERT

The Dixieland combo delighted the crowd with their superb music and showmanship.

Students gathered on Thursday night for the first event of the Homecoming weekend—the bonfire and pep rally on Bass Field.

HOMECOMING 1961

An important part of the pep rally was the coronation of the lovely Freshman Queen, Sherry Read, by last year's queen, Sandy Reetz. Sherry's attendants were Rita Noehren, Sue Buckingham, Jean Langlas, and Margie Freeman.

HOMECOMING DANCE AND CORONATION

President Palmer crowns Miss Nancy Drommer as "Miss Morningside, 1961."

PARADE

Queen Nancy and her six attendants were a touch of beauty with their lovely smiles, furs, and flowers.

Prize-winning float "Span the Gap thru Education" was designed and built by members of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. This gigantic structure depicted two huge globes at either end of the float with an open book between them.

INTERNATIONAL HIGHLIGHTS HOMECOMING 1961

The third place winner in the float division was Tau Kappa Epsilon whose theme was "Disarm'em for Peanuts." This idea was cleverly executed by the use of the comic strip character Peanuts.

Independent Student Expression captured second place in the float division with the theme "Quarterbacked for Peace."

FLOATS

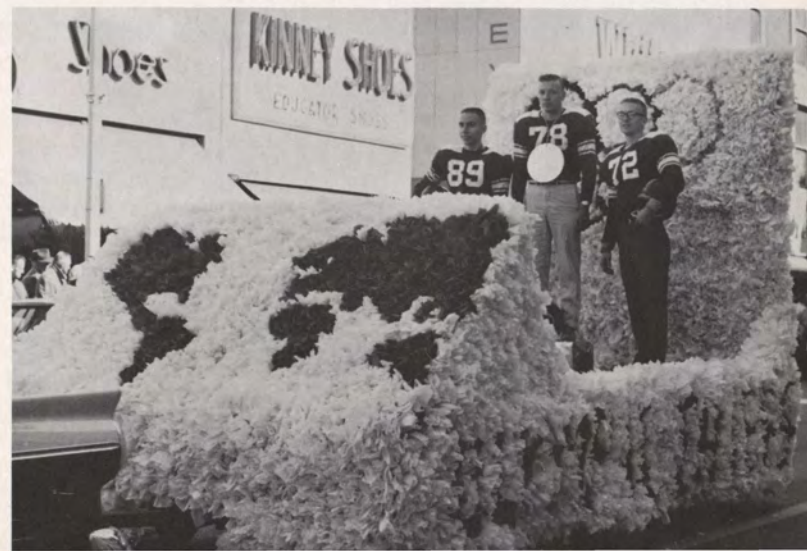

... Cosmopolitan Club ...

Other float entries included Dimmitt Hall . . .

... Alpha Delta Pi Sorority ...

... and Methodist Student Movement.

The Freshman Queen and the cheerleaders added sparkle to the Homecoming parade. Later . . .

. . . the cheerleaders led the student body in some of the lustiest yelling of the season. Although they enjoyed the exciting game, State College of Iowa prevailed and everyone went to class as usual the following Monday.

The residents of Dimmitt Hall used their creative abilities to construct many unique and ridiculous costumes.

HALLOWEEN

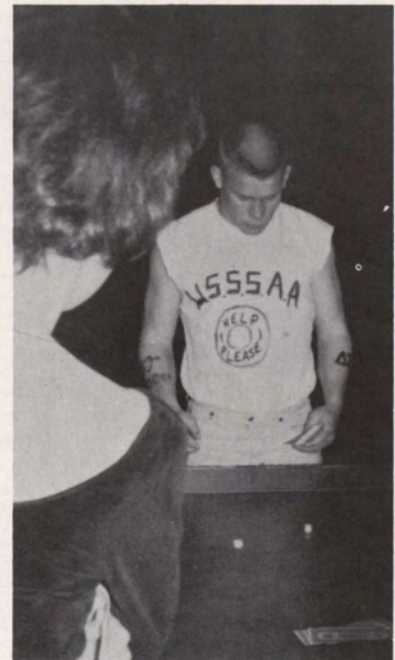

Ten sophomores combined talents to form a clever "Snack Pack", but Jo Goodwin, Sandi Biggins, and Valois Dodge walked off with the awards for the best costumes.

SAILOR'S BALL

Sailor's Ball, sponsored by Delta Sigma Phi fraternity, provided a fun-filled evening with dancing to the music of Doug Bradshaw, a unique floor show with clowns, and various games of chance.

Joyce Blanchard and Dick Zweifel reigned as princess and prince of the Agora Carnival. They were selected by students at the carnival from among twelve candidates. Delta Zeta sorority again won first place with their show, "The DZ Follies".

AGORA CARNIVAL

FACULTY STUDENT RECEPTION

Before Thanksgiving vacation the faculty entertained at the annual Faculty Student Reception in Dimmitt Hall. Students took advantage of this opportunity to greet and chat informally with their instructors and advisers.

Miss Beatrice Tift pouring punch at the Faculty-Student Reception.

STUDENT UNION DANCES

Numerous after-game dances sponsored by various organizations provided dancing to suit everyone's taste.

Winter, midyear . . . Christmas, commencement, Medea.

The student council sponsored the annual Christmas formal which was held in Allee Gymnasium.

CHRISTMAS FORMAL

DIMMITT HALL CHRISTMAS PARTY

Everyone got in the Christmas spirit by decorating the tree in the drawing room and singing carols around the piano. As is the tradition, senior girls formally opened the Christmas season by "hanging the greens", and freshmen strung popcorn and cranberries.

MEN'S DORM CHRISTMAS OPEN HOUSE

After the open house and viewing of the individually decorated rooms, the residents of the Men's Dorm and their dates enjoy a dance in the Student Union.

TEKE BEATNIK PARTY

Chaperones Mr. and Mrs. James Miller and Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin appeared at the Beatnik party in their beat costumes.

This year the Twist was introduced to the Morningside campus at the Teke Beatnik party. Everyone let their hair down and at least made an attempt to twist. Bobbie Schwartz, a Central High student, provided entertainment by singing some torchy French songs.

With mixed emotions the thirty-eight January graduates leave Allee Gymnasium for the last time as students.

MID-YEAR COMMENCEMENT

Students hurry from table to table, trying to pull a card for a class before the fateful announcement is made that it has been closed. For some this is the last chance if they want to graduate on schedule.

REGISTRATION

QUEEN OF HEARTS

MISS DIMMITT'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

This year the dorm girls celebrated the ninety-fifth birthday of Miss Dimmitt. Although she was unable to attend the dinner, she was there in spirit. This occasion also affords an opportunity for each Dimmitt Hall resident to celebrate her own birthday.

AGORA LEADERSHIP DINNER

This year Agora honored Miss Verl Crow as their Woman of the Year. Miss Crow, a teacher in the Sioux City school system, is president of the Iowa State Education Association and a Morningside graduate.

Six former Agora Women of the Year were among the honored guests.

MEDEA by Euripides

The princess MEDEA of Colchis fell in love with IASON, who had come to her country in quest of the Golden Fleece, and aided him in his enterprise even to the extent of betraying her father, murdering her brother, and leaving her home forever in order to live with IASON in Greece. After many vicissitudes they arrived at the court of PELIAS, who had sent IASON on his expedition. Here MEDEA contrived that PELIAS should be barbarously killed by his own daughters. The pair fled the country and took refuge in Corinth, where IASON abandoned MEDEA in order to marry GLAUKE, the daughter of KING KREON. The play unfolds the torment and anguish that MEDEA suffers as the result of her plots and crimes and culminates in the killing of her own two sons.

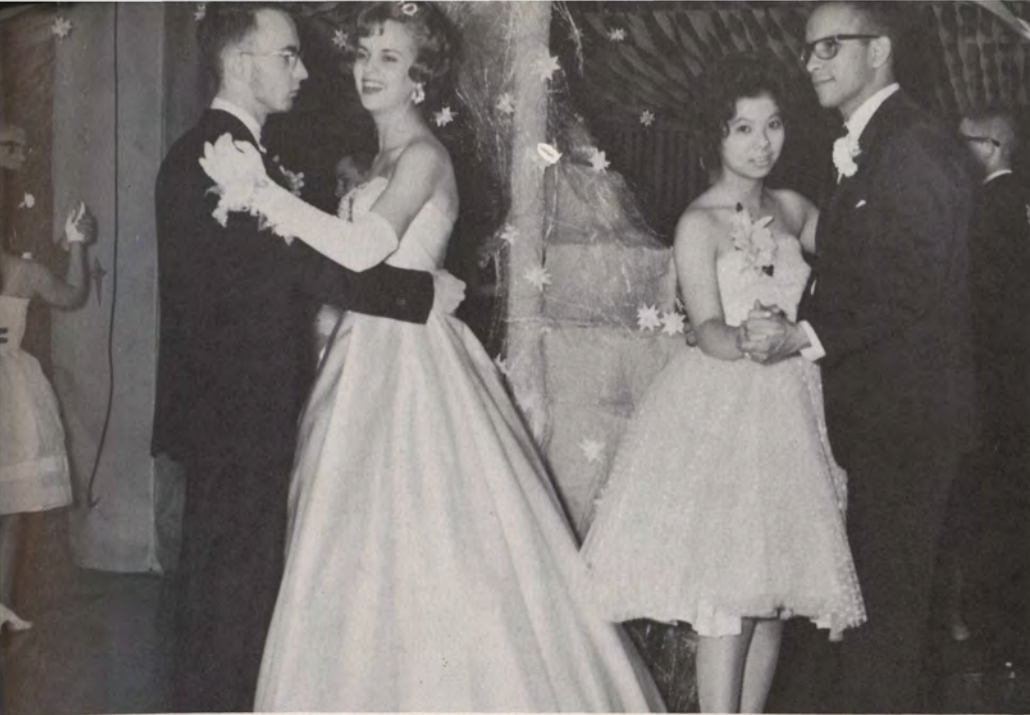

This ambitious undertaking of the drama department was enthusiastically received by capacity crowds. The uniqueness of the ancient Greek play was enhanced by authentic Greek costumes and pronunciations and music written especially for the production by Thomas Edlun.

Spring . . . elections, formals, and finals.

DIMMITT HALL SPRING FORMAL

Dimmitt Hall residents and their dates enjoyed a dinner and dance planned around the theme, "Stairway to the Stars". The dining room was transformed by decorations of pink, lavender, and silver and by the special atmosphere. The dinner was followed by a program, open house, and dancing to the music of Rog Neumann and his band.

One of Mr. Nelson's greatest undertakings has been that of the foreign student program co-ordinator.

The Honors Day program concluded with the singing of the Morningside Hymn and the recessional played by the Morningside college chamber orchestra.

Methodist Student Movement is a religious organization on campus sponsored by the Methodist church. The emphasis this year was on the Christian's point of view and the Christian's action in social action. The programs included a study of Sioux City's relocation project and students' indifference to their personal faith as well as the world's problems. With the help of the African students, MSM studied foreign customs and problems.

In February, thirty-five members went to Camp Wesley Woods near Indianola for the state retreat. The Christian's social action with communism was the theme.

MSM sponsored Limbo, a "den" where students gathered to discuss, play checkers or chess, and drink coffee. Some special guests were Morning-side speech competitors, faculty members, and student council candidates from both parties.

CHAMBER ORCHESTRA

This year the chamber orchestra enjoyed an almost perfect instrumentation of outstanding players, making it probably the finest year the orchestra has ever had. To add to this, Dr. Leo Kucinski directed the orchestra in three concerts this year—Wagner's "Die Meistersinger" with the oratorio choir, performed in Sioux City and Omaha, and an annual Concerto Concert which featured Herb Koerselmann, trumpet; Barbara Dunham, violin; Muriel Smith, flute; Tyrone Grieve, violin; William Vennard, violin; Marcia Widman, piano; and Kay Pech, violin. Dr. Ralph Harrel conducted the orchestra and oratorio choir in Bach's "St. Matthew's Passion" on Palm Sunday, and members of the orchestra played in the opera orchestration for the Benjamin Britten opera, "Albert Herring", conducted by Professor Wade Raridon.

The dream of a very talented and dedicated man has finally come true—Dr. James H. Wood, head of the music department and director of the concert choir, and his select choir of 40 voices will tour Europe and spend several weeks at Bayreuth, Germany, this summer. The members of the choir have worked hard to raise money and prepare themselves musically for this fine experience. We are especially proud of our choir, because our college is the only one representing the United States at the Festival in Bayreuth. This tour will be one long remembered by the entire college for they represent an excellent example of Morningside College.

CHAPEL CHOIR

The chapel choir, so capably directed by Professor Wade Raridon, loyally serves the college nearly every week in our chapel services. The choir has grown into an excellent 50 voice group, made up of students from all departments of the college who enjoy singing and working with Mr. Raridon. The members of the chapel choir joined with the concert choir in two large works this year—Wagner's "Die Meistersinger", conducted by Leo Kucinski, and Bach's "St. Matthew's Passion", conducted by Ralph Harrel.

Panhellenic Council and Inter-Fraternity Council sponsored several activities for Greeks and also for all students.

It has become a tradition for the Greeks to sponsor an informal dance for new students the first evening of orientation. The student union was the location of the "get acquainted" dance.

In November the second annual All-Greek Sing was held in Dimmitt Hall dining room. Dean and Mrs. Holmes judged as the five groups vied for the trophy.

The Queen of Hearts brought the valentine spirit to Morningside on February 16. An enjoyable evening was highlighted by the coronation of the 1962 Queen of Hearts.

Instead of the usual Greek Week, Panhellenic and IFC sponsored a Greek-Independent basketball game, the proceeds going to Campus Chest. Activities for the year were brought to a close with an All-Greek picnic at Stone Park in early May.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Officers: Bonnie Anderson, vice-president; Robbie Anderson, chaplain; Karen Bohn, president; Jane Little, recording secretary; Margaret Bell, treasurer.

Alpha Delta Pi's year started with a paint brush, a hammer and nails, and plenty of soap and water. By the first of the year, we were quite settled in our newly acquired house on Morningside Avenue.

Through rush parties—Hidden Paradise, Roman Rendezvous, and ADPi Heaven—seventeen eager new girls were pledged.

Building a float, open house, and a dinner with the alumnae highlighted the homecoming festivities. From the Greek Sing we brought home the much treasured first place trophy.

February 24 our fathers were honored at our annual Dad's Night with a dinner at the Biltmore, followed by a basketball game and reception at the house.

April 14 put the finishing touch on our busy year. Our formal was held at the Sioux City Country Club. Elegance reigned under the theme, "Villa Diana".

Many exchanges, pinnings and engagements, a reception for Miss Noyes, a service project for the Boys' and Girls' Home, and the Christmas Cozy completed another successful year for the ADPi's.

The Sig Ep's assist the ADPi's as they redecorate their newly acquired house.
