52nd Morningside College Commencement

Commencement Speaker

May 31, June 1, 2,
1947

Will Give Baccalaureate
Address

Dr. Richard C. Raines

Class of 1947 Leads Field

While on the campus to attend the annual trustee meeting, Leon E. Hickman, '22, of Pittsburgh, Pa., founder and chairman of the Living Endowment movement, talked to members of the graduating class on the purpose and aims of Living Endowment. As a result the 35 members present signed pledges to contribute to next year's fund, with others unable to attend the meeting planning to add their contributions. This is a record number of contributors in any class and sets a high standard for other classes to strive to attain.

Emily Wang's Daughter Coming to Morningside

Enrolled at Morningside for the year 1947-48 will be Miss Katherine Ding, daughter of Emily Wang Ding, ex '23, and the niece of Miss Lucy Wang, '21, who visited our campus last fall and spoke at Chapel.

Miss Ding graduated from Hwa Nan College in June, 1945, with a major in chemistry. She has been teaching in both boys' and girls' schools in China. Her plans are to take a year's work at Morningside, and then enter Boston Medical School to begin her course in medicine.

It's Commencement time again! The faculty are unpacking their hoods, the Alumni choir is tuning up, seniors are practicing tassel-switching, and reservations are coming in fast for the Reunion luncheon and Commencement dinners.

And for all the many alumni who will return to the campus, the welcome mat is being dusted off vigorously. The whole schedule has been planned for the alumni who must fit all the numerous activities into three pleasure-filled days.

Scheduled for Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Commencement will attract alumni from all over the country to renew friendships, visit old profs and get acquainted with the new grads.

Taking the spotlight at the class Reunion luncheon in the Barn at noon, May 31, are the classes of '07, celebrating their 40th reunion; class of '12, 35th reunion; class of '22, 25th reunion; and the class of '42, fifth year reunion. Other reunion classes are '17, '27, '32 and '37. Breakfasts are being planned by some of the classes.

Zeta Sigma initiation will be held in the Student Union at 4:00 o'clock, and the address following, to which all alumni and friends are invited, will be given by Rev. Arthur F. Schuldt, '22, of Storm Lake, Ia.

Highlighting Alumni Day will be the Morningsider dinner at 6:30 at the Dormitory, when the seniors are initiated into the Tribe of the Sioux. Former Mayor David F. Loepf, '11, is scheduled to give his war dance as a fitting climax to the initiation ceremony. Admiral T. C. Anderson, '08, will speak at the dinner, and distinguished guests will be introduced.

The Baccalaureate service will be held as usual in Grace Church on Sunday morning, June 1, with Dr. Nelson A. Price, vice president of Morningside College, preaching the sermon.

At 4:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon Miss Faith Woodford, Mr. Emery D. Stewart and Mr. Homer Garretson of the Conservatory faculty will present a recital in the church.

The annual reunion choir concert, when alumni return to sing once more under the direction of Prof. Paul MacCollin, will be given at 8:00 p. m. in Grace Church.

The Commencement exercises on Monday morning will be in Grace Methodist Church, with the procession forming at 9:30 in Main Hall. Dr. Richard C. Raines, pastor of the Hennepin Avenue Methodist Church of Minneapolis, Minn., will deliver the address. Three honorary degrees will be presented at the close of the service.

Concluding the Commencement activities will be the Family Dinner at 12:30 at the Dormitory, to which all families with five or more members who have attended Morningside are invited.

Lucy Wang Given Ovation

The April "Bostonia," alumni magazine of Boston University, published the following citation made to Dr. Lucy Wang, '21, by President Marsh in presenting to her the degree of Doctor of Humanities. Lucy received a five-minute ovation from the audience following the presentation.

"Lucy Wang, president of Hwa Nan College, Foochow, China, descendant of a long line of Chinese scholars and statesmen, you have made your college so academically respectable that credits of its students are recognized by the best colleges and universities in the United States; when Foochow was threatened by the Japanese in World War II, you led your faculty and students, with as much equipment as could be carried, to the walled city of Yenping, in the interior country, where you personally supervised the building of wooden barracks to house your college, and carried on your college work in the midst of intermittent bombings. When you with your brave Chinese women moved back to Foochow to find only bare walls where once had stood your beautiful stone buildings, you started in to rebuild the physical plant and to enhance and extend your institution's distinguished service to the womanhood of China. It is therefore with appropriateness that on the recommendation of the Boston University Council * * * I confer upon you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities, and admit you to all the honors, privileges and responsibilities thereto appertaining."

Morningsiders Get Scholarships

High honors were bestowed upon Morningside College when three students, Carolyn Wolle, Clarence Ver Steeg and Melvin Krska were awarded scholarships, including the Lydia Roberts Fellowship award.

The Lydia Roberts Fellowship is awarded each year to those students of outstanding achievement who were born, educated and graduated from college in Iowa. Scholastic training, seriousness of purpose and moral character comprise the basis upon which the students are chosen.

Miss Carolyn Wolle, daughter of Mr. ('20) and Mrs. W. C. Wolle (Vivian Down, '18), senior at Morningside College, was awarded the Lydia Roberts Fellowship by Columbia University for 1947-1948. The fellowship is worth $1,100 in cash, and will allow Miss Wolle to pursue graduate studies in English and literature for her M. A. degree at Columbia next year.

Miss Wolle, who has majored in English and literature under Miss Mirah Mills and Dr. Peter Bannon, will graduate in June with summa cum laude honors.

Carolyn is a member of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English fraternity; Pi Gamma Mu, national social science fraternity; president of the Manuscript Club; vice president of Kappa Zeta Chi; secretary-treasurer of the Student Council and was elected to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Clarence Ver Steeg, of Orange City, Iowa, was also awarded the Lydia Roberts Fellowship. Mr. Ver Steeg graduated in 1940 as valedictorian of his class at Orange City. He attended Junior College in that town for two years and then came to Morningside as a junior in 1942. He graduated in absentia with a B. A. degree in June, 1943. Prior to graduation he joined the air corps as a navigator, serving in the C. B. I. area, attaining the rank of first lieutenant.

Following his discharge in the fall of 1945, Mr. Ver Steeg enrolled as a graduate student at Columbia university, receiving his M. A. degree there the following summer. At the present he is studying in Colorado for his Ph. D. Mr. and Mrs. Ver Steeg, the former Dorothy Ann De Vries, '42, are the parents of an infant son.

Melvin Krska, senior at Morningside College, was awarded an assistanceship scholarship to the University of Kansas. Mr. Krska, a graduate of Trinity High School in Sioux City, entered Morningside as a freshman in 1943. He is majoring in chemistry and will continue in that field when he enters the University of Kansas this summer. During his schooling at Morningside he was an active member in the Pre-Engineers Club.

Named as Editor

Ted M. Whicher, '46, law student at Iowa University, has been appointed article and book review editor of the Iowa Law Review, which is published every three months and has an international circulation. Appointment to the editorship is one of the high honors conferred by the law school. Eligibility to membership on the board of editors is restricted to students whose scholastic attainments are in the top groups of the second and third year law classes. Selection is also based on demonstrated ability in legal research, analysis and writing.

Miss Kaye Johnstone, college sophomore, was crowned Queen of the 1947 Sioux at the senior farewell dance at Morningside College Saturday night, May 17. Dr. Earl Roadman placed the crown on Miss Johnstone, who had been selected by Ronald Reagan, motion picture star, from 30 entries submitted to him. Miss Dorothy Floyd of Clinton, Ia., and Miss Gloria Agard were her attendants.

The queen, who is 19 years old, is majoring in physical education, is a member of Kappa Zeta Chi sorority, a member of W. A. A., student council, and a cheer leader during the football and basketball seasons.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Dr. and Mrs. Earl A. Roadman entertained the seniors of Morningside College Saturday, May 3, at a May breakfast at Scribbins teasop. Maroon and white, the college colors, and Maypoles decorated the tables.

The annual formal dinner dance of Alpha Tau Delta fraternity of Morningside College was held April 26 at the Mayfair hotel. Richard Bean presided as master-of-ceremonies at the after dinner program. Speakers included Kenneth McLaughlin, Steve DeVries and Lamar Jones, all of Sioux City, and John Kolp of Manson, Ia. Members of Kappa Zeta Chi, sister sorority of the group, sponsored the dance following the dinner and program. Music was furnished by Don Oliver and his orchestra.

The annual Agora sponsored mother-daughter banquet was held Saturday evening, May 10, in the Morningside Presbyterian Church, with about 400 girls and their mothers in attendance. Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. McCracken, mother of Marjorie McCracken. The daughter's toast was given by Anne Madison and the response by Mrs. O. W. Conrad, mother of Mary Jane Conrad, of Ponca, Neb.

The Alpha Sigma sorority held a spring formal Friday evening, May 16, at the Floyd Park Country Club.

Kappa Pi Alpha sorority held a spring formal dancing party Saturday evening, May 3, at the Martin Hotel. Dinner at 8 o'clock was followed by dancing from 9 until 12 o'clock, with Johnny Koch's orchestra playing. The spring theme, individual flower pots and toy garden tools, decorated the dinner table.

A composition by Prof. Thomas Canning, former instructor in the Morningside Conservatory and now instructor in theory at the University of Toronto in Canada, was played over the National Broadcasting Company network on the "Orchestra of the Nation" series on May 24 by the Eastman School's symposium of American orchestral music.

Morningside Tours

Morningside Tours, established by Prof. and Mrs. Campbell many years ago, has been reorganized under the direction of Prof. H. F. Kanthlener. An office has been opened at 1901 1/2 Morningside avenue, next door to the Morningside State Bank. Morningside Tours is an authorized agent for Mid-Continent, Pan American and other airlines, Cunard White Star and other steamship lines. Two escorted tours will be taken to Mexico this summer. Tours with all reservations can be arranged to Pacific Northwest, California, the East, Canada, Alaska, etc. It is the purpose of Morningside Tours to do a general travel business. Morningside alumni are invited to present their travel problems to the office of Morningside Tours.

CLASS NOTES

Mrs. Berton Kolp (Roberta Hartz, ex '47), will be granted a bachelor of arts degree from the University of South Dakota, Vermillion, on May 25. Roberta was recently initiated into the Playcrafters club and Zeta Phi Eta, national honorary dramatic sorority. For the last year she has been directing weekly dramatic programs over KUSD, the university radio station. Mr. Kolp, '46, is studying medicine at the university.

Dr. D. C. Giehm, ex '26, Sioux City, was elected a trustee of the Iowa Society of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons at the 49th annual convention of the association in Des Moines. Dr. Giehm succeeds the late Dr. Ray B. Gilmour of Sioux City.

Cadet John D. Woodson, ex '46, is a member of the United States military academy cadet choir that sang for President Truman and his White House staff recently on the south lawn of the executive mansion.

Funeral services were held May 5 for Rev. John E. Clifton, ex '10, retired Methodist minister. Rev. L. D. Havighurst, Fort Dodge district superintendent, officiated. Rev. Mr. Clifton, during his 23 years as pastor, occupied nine pulpits—at Livermore, West Bend, Wesley, Burt, Armstrong, Goldfield, Larrabee, Dickens, and Nemaha, Iowa.

Mrs. Viola Eick, '22, of Marshall, Minn., is assistant manager of the "Wee Moderns" shop there.

Kenneth McClure, ex '29, has been appointed assistant vice president of the California Bank of Los Angeles. Since March, 1946, Kenneth had been a member of the public relations staff of the bank.

Jack Howe, ex '47, now a student at the University of South Dakota in Vermillion, was awarded the prize for excellence in debate and discussion at the annual honors convocation at the University.

Word has been received of the death of George E. Eveleth, ex '05, of Salix.

Mrs. Leo G. Mennen (Sulamith Bereskin, '35) has been instructing in the departments of mathematics and physics at the University of Chattanooga. Sulamith has been in Tennessee since 1942, first working as photogrammetrist for TVA, and then as a physicist with Tennessee Eastman at Oak Ridge.

Capt. (ex '41) and Mrs. Merle E. Taylor (Deon Moor, '40) are living in Louisville, Ky., while Capt. Taylor is stationed at Fort Knox. They were among the fortunate ones who attended the Kentucky derby on May 3.

Judge George W. Paradise, '40, has been instrumental in drafting the American Legion bill to provide universal military training for national security. He has been in Washington recently to confer with other members of the committee on the proposed legislation.

Roger E. Winn, ex '42, is manager of a grain elevator at Parkston, S. D.

Samuel R. Davenport, '26, has been appointed assistant co-ordinator of information for the House of Representatives in Washington, D. C.

... M ... CORRECTION

In the April Morningsider the name of Anne Madison, freshman, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John Madison (Anna Beard), both '16, of Sioux Falls, was omitted from the list of Papoose Club members.

Friedman Twins Together Again

The following news item was sent in by Pauline Esther Phillips:

After a separation of seven years, "Eppie" and "Po-Po" (better known as the "Campus Rats," 1936-1939), the Friedman twins, have realized their dream and are living within a mile of each other in Eau Claire, Wisconsin.

The twins were married at a double wedding ceremony in Sioux City in 1939, after which they went their separate ways. "Po-Po" married Mort Phillips, executive vice president of the National Pressure Cooker Company, and has made Eau Claire her home ever since. "Eppie" has called "Sioux City, St. Louis, New Orleans, Milwaukee, Los Angeles and Chicago" home since her marriage to Jules Lederer. Last week, the twins' prayers were answered when Mr. Lederer was named general sales manager of National Pressure Cooker Company, and they bought a home in Eau Claire.

"Eppie" is the mother of a daughter, Margot, and "Po-Po" the mother of a son, Edward Jay, 2, and Jean, 5.

Bean Shower Featured at Senior Chapel

The annual senior chapel was held on Thursday, May 8, at the East High auditorium. The program included the traditional bean shower which descended upon Prof. John Magee, signifying the highest honor that the senior class could bestow upon a faculty member. Also highlighting the chapel was a hilarious skit, "Looking Forward," which afforded a glimpse into the future when the class of '47 is having its 20th class reunion.

Traditional senior events on the program were the charge to the seniors by Mr. Magee, class advisor, and the senior oration by Harold Minor, the presentation of the class gift, special recognition to the senior "M" men and the awarding of certificates to the Who's Who students. The class history in the form of a "Looking Backward" summary was given by Carolyn Wolle. Norman Mutchler, class president, presided.

Climaxing the program was a short tableau scene in full Indian costume, signifying the senior class' entrance into the Tribe of the Sioux. Kenneth Ruby sang the Sioux War Hymn as background for the tableau.

Morningside College Band Presents An Excellent Program

Sacred and concert selections by the old masters, modern "abstract" music and the Latin rumba shared honors Tuesday night, May 7, in a varied and well balanced program which the Morningside College concert band presented at the East junior school auditorium.

Appearing in public concert for the first time since 1942, the 50-piece group played to an appreciative and enthusiastic audience, a large percentage of which was made up of young persons of high school age. Charles Garland, professor of music theory at the conservatory, was director.

Compositions by classical masters comprised the first half of the program. Soloists Raymond Wallace, tenor, and Miss Velma Redenbaugh, soprano, joined with the band to present Bach's "If Thou Be Near" and "Strike, Thou Hour," respectively.

The band played three popular military march selections as encores.

Truman Appoints Dr. Fouke on Rail Fact-Finding Board

Dr. Hugh B. Fouke, '20, pastor of Indianola Methodist Church, was named as one of three members of a fact-finding board appointed by President Truman to investigate a labor dispute between the National Maritime Union (C. I. O.) and four railroads operating in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Dr. Fouke and the other members of the neutral panel will hear testimony in the dispute and submit reports to the National Mediation Board and President Truman. The hearings will be held in Detroit.

At his previous pastorate in Oklahoma City, Dr. Fouke served on several mediation boards which settled local labor disputes. His work was watched, and apparently remembered by Judge Frank P. Douglass, now serving on the National Mediation Board.

It was Judge Douglass, who attended Dr. Fouke's church in Oklahoma City, who nominated him to serve on the fact-finding panel, Dr. Fouke said. This is the first time he has been called upon to continue work in the labor mediation field since he came to Youngstown, Ohio, in 1945.

Dr. Fouke's son, James, is enrolled at Oberlin College after a year in service in Manila.

BASEBALL SQUAD

BASEBALL HIGHLIGHTS

The Morningside baseball squad traveled to Omaha to tangle with the Creighton Bluejays May 6th. It was a tight ball game all the way, with both pitchers turning in excellent performances. Morningside scored its lone run in the second when Gale Stevens doubled and then advanced home on a passed ball and an overthrow. Creighton scored twice—once in the second on a fielder's choice and a triple and again in the eighth on two singles and an error. Bill Enocksen allowed only five hits but was credited with a 2 to 1 loss.

Playing a return engagement with Creighton on their home field, the Maroons came from behind to trip the Bluejays in the final inning. Morningside played errorless ball throughout the entire game. Going into the last half of the ninth inning, the Maroons filled the bases and pushed across the winning run. Luther, first man up for Morningside, reached second on an overthrow to first by the Creighton pitcher but was tagged out trying to reach third. Brock singled and Protexter drew a base on balls. Enocksen filled the sacks after being hit by a pitched ball. Collopy was called out on strikes. Then "Chuck" Johnson singled to center to score Brock with the winning run. Enocksen of the Maroons allowed only four scattered singles in the 4-3 victory.

On the afternoon of Walk-Out Day the Maroon baseball team entertained the Coyotes of South Dakota University. It was a nip and tuck battle until the top half of the fourth inning. At that time the Maroons loaded the bases with Dick Bornholdt at bat. The young right fielder looked at a few pitches and then stepped into one to lift it over the right field fence. From there on the battle degenerated into a one-sided game with Morningside on the long end of a 11-4 count. Basil Brock proved to be the necessary stop-gap as he assumed the pitching chores in the second inning. He allowed only one run throughout the remainder of the game. This victory gave the Maroons seven wins against three defeats.

The Maroon baseball squad traveled to Storm Lake to match blows with the sluggers of Buena Vista College on the 20th of May. It was a tight ball game all the way with Morningside leading 10 to 7 going into the top half of the eighth inning. The Buena Vista team met the occasion and knotted the count before taking the field in the first half of the ninth. Both teams went scoreless in the ninth and then the Maroons garnered two runs in the tenth and held their opponents to annex their ninth win of the season against three defeats. Dick Bornholdt paced the Maroons, smashing in two homers, one double and a single. Bill Enockson allowed 10 scattered hits in picking up his sixth win of the season.

Traveling to Vermillion, the Maroons added their 10th victory in 13 games by defeating South Dakota University, 6 to 2. The Coyotes outthit the Maroons, 11 to 9, but the Morningsiders bunched theirs effectively to win. Brock went the entire route for Morningside and kept the Coyote hits scattered except for the second, when South Dakota scored both its runs.

Morningside wound up its season May 23 against South Dakota State on the Morningside field. The Maroons held the upper hand all the way as they added an impressive 11 to 4 victory. Bill Enockson chalked up his seventh victory in nine starts by going the route for the Maroons. The lanky righthander scattered eight South Dakota hits, walked three and struck out five. This was the Maroons 10th straight victory and No. 11 in 14 starts.

Plans have been laid for an even better schedule next season, with negotiations under way to bring teams from Iowa State College and the University of Nebraska to Sioux City.

Students and faculty alike have enjoyed the first baseball team on Morningside's campus since 1923.

GOLF AND TENNIS

The Maroon golf team finished their very successful season (4 won and 2 lost) by winning third place in the Conference meet. Don Molden of the Maroons won the individual conference title with a 27-hole medal score of 114. The S. D. U. team, which won the title, had 488 strokes to the Morningside golfers 492.

The tennis team had a good season, winning half of their victories, one of the victories being over the strong Creighton team. In the Conference meet, the Maroon doubles team of "Scotty" Reynolds and Bill Lewis defeated S. D. S. and N. D. S. to reach the finals, where the strong Augustana team beat them, 6-2, 6-3. Len Foster reached the semi-finals, where he was defeated by "Lefty" Johnson of Augustana, the Conference champion.

DOROTHY FLOYD MAY QUEEN

Pretty Miss Dorothy Floyd (who can be located in the accompanying picture by her wide smile, a bouquet and a crown) was installed as May Queen. Miss Floyd, whose home is at Clinton, Ia., is blue-eyed and has light brown hair. The lone male in the picture is Dr. Thomas E. Tweito, dean, whose pleasant duty it was to crown the Queen. The two attendants are (left) Margaret Tillotson of Sioux City, and (right) Marjorie Walton, also of Sioux City. All three young women are freshmen. It is a tradition at the college that the May Queen must be a freshman.

Beta Beta Beta, national honorary biology fraternity, has been reinstated on the Morningside campus, according to Dr. Roy Chatters, honorary member of the fraternity. Thursday evening, May 8, they held their first meeting and 10 new members were initiated into the organization.

Bouncing Boy Is Young Gary, Tumbling Son of Lieut. Glen Littrell

Way back in 1937, there arrived in the home of Lieut. Glen Littrell, '36, a bouncing baby boy—and he's been bouncing ever since. The boy is Gary, a dynamite student of the acrobatic arts.

Between halves of the Dallas-Memphis basketball game this past season, local tumbling artists put on a demonstration of their skill—but little 9-year-old Gary stole the show. Working on the trampoline, the nimble youngster entertained fans with twists, back swans, flips and a host of other aerial maneuvers.

It's no accident that young Gary Littrell is a great performer, for he has had the instruction of some of the outstanding athletes in the gymnastic field. At the tender age of 4 years, he was under the professional guidance of Marshall Brown, boxing commissioner of the state of Texas and one of the outstanding juvenile tumbling instructors in the nation.

When his daddy came into the navy he was assigned to the Naval Pre-Flight School at Ottumwa, Ia., home of the famous Seahawks. Gary gained more education in gymnastics. He spent six months of training under Joe Giolombarde, former Olympic tumbling champ, and Billy Warner of Ringling Bros. circus fame.

Lieut. Littrell is football and boxing coach at NATTC, and before the war coached high school football teams in Nebraska. Sports hold a high position in the Littrell household—could be that young Gary is going to follow in his father's footsteps! Could be he might enroll in Morningside!
