DEDICATION

It is appropriate that the Sioux of Fulfillment should be dedicated to one who in his fourteen years of association with this school has worked ceaselessly to the end that Morningside College should progress, and progress in his chosen field — Music.

The community, no less than the college is indebted to him for setting a higher standard in Music for Morningside by constantly placing music of the highest quality before us. It is, therefore, fitting that this volume be respectfully dedicated to Professor Paul MacCollin.

A decorative rectangular border with intricate floral and vine patterns in black and white, framing the text.

FOREWORD

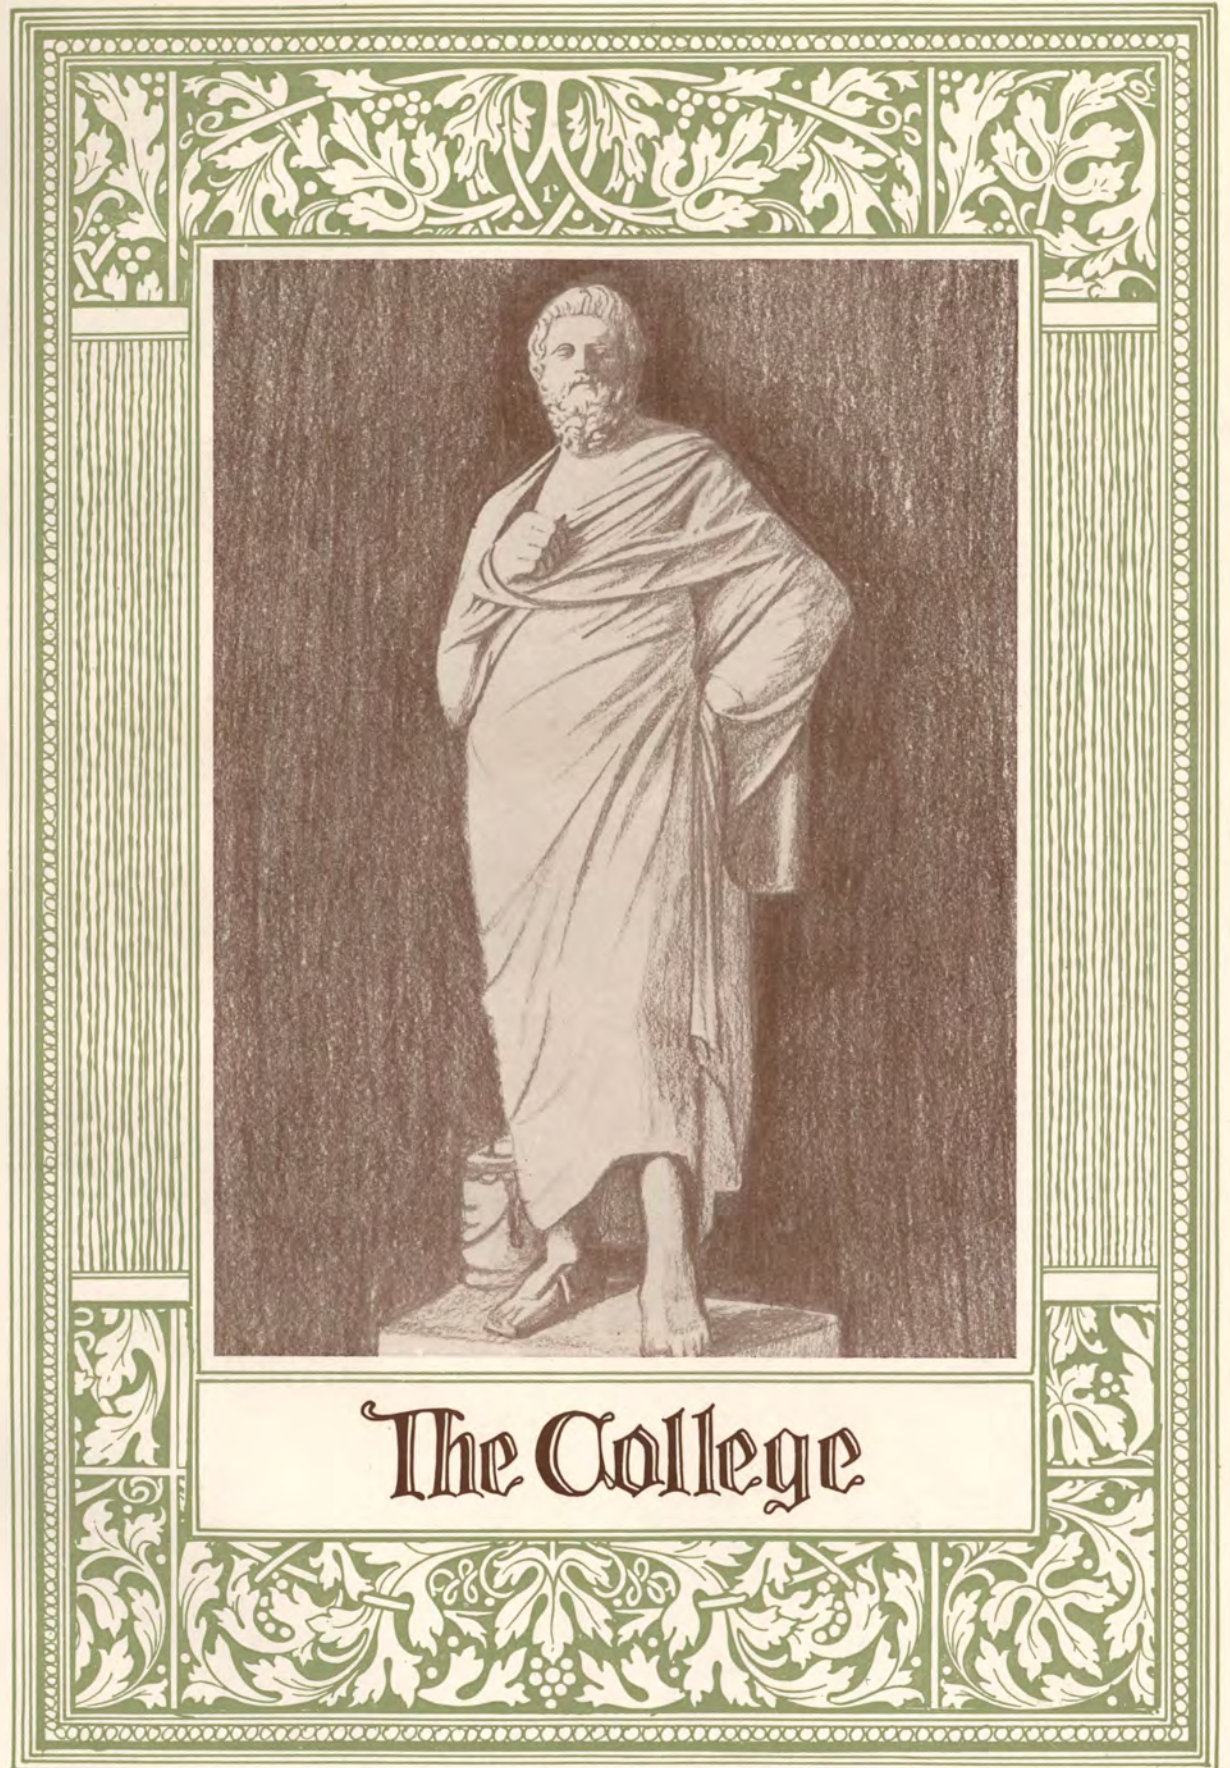

The Staff of the Sioux of Fulfillment have wished to make this volume symbolic of the growth and the fruitage of this college here on the threshold of the Northwest.

This book will fail in that it can reproduce only the outward evidences of progress and advancement. It cannot portray the love of the fathers and mothers who, at the cost of personal sacrifice, have sent their sons and daughters to Morningside.

We have chosen to give recognition to several of the alumni who are recognized as outstanding members of their chosen professions and who are helping to build a greater Morningside.

The royal tree hath left us royal fruit,
Which, mellowed by the stealing hours of time,
Will well become the seat of majesty.
—William Shakespeare.

Nature has made the setting beautiful for old M. C.

Thy tall uplifting church spires
Symbolize the good and true;
Thy bells of old still chime on—
That our ideals may be in view.

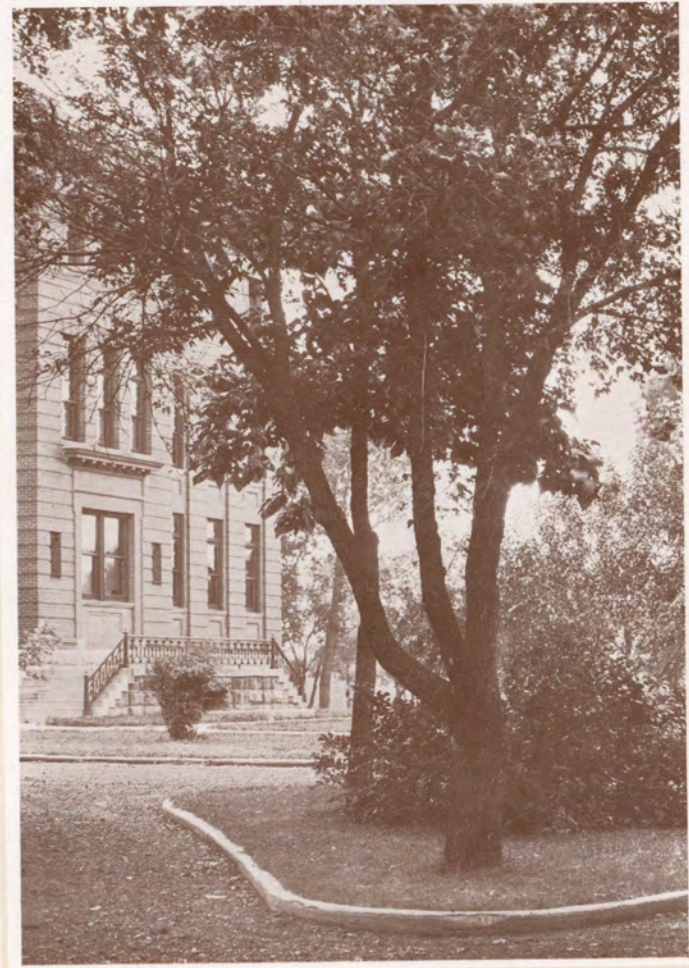

Creeping upward in faith serene,
A rare old plant is the ivy green.

Here we fight with loyalty,
Here we play for fun,
Here we acquire grace and strength,
The "gym" is for everyone.

A center of activity—of song and music sweet,
Of devotion to the higher things,
The "Con" offers a treat.

We love thy halls of learning,
And where'er we roam
We will cherish thy friendships endearing,
Fair Morningside—Our Home—
Alma Mater.

Vistas as of old,
Memories we shall always hold.

PRESIDENT FRANK E. MOSSMAN
College President, Administration

President Mossman was graduated in 1903. He was a Philomathean. He was captain of the basketball team in 1902 and 1903. He earned his Pi Kappa Delta relationship in intercollegiate debate. He was field executive for Morningside College in 1904 and 1905. He took graduate work in the University of Chicago in 1905. At the age of thirty-two, he was called to the presidency of Southwestern College at Winfield, Kansas. He was largely responsible for the development which has put Southwestern foremost among the colleges of Kansas. He was recently honored by being made a member of the Commission on Institutions of Higher Learning of the North Central Association. Needless to say, he is a staunch Morningsider.

JUNIORS

IRIS ANDERSON
Linn Grove

Iris is one of those girls who thinks that athletics should make up a big part of one's education. As a consequence, she proved herself so proficient in several lines of sports that she was elected president of W. A. A. May Fetes and Fall Festivals present interesting problems to this girl. But she has time to get "heavy" Latin lessons and be an Ath.

MARGARET ANDERSON
Sioux City

If this annual gets out at all, we can thank our hard-working assistant editor-in-chief, namely, Margaret. Margaret went out west last summer and since then we haven't been able to do a thing with the girl. She labors hard in the Registrar's office, which accounts for its popularity with some of the younger men of the faculty. She is one of the most loyal Aths, and can be given credit for putting on a very successful exam jubilee.

MAE ASMUSSEN
Sioux City

Mae enjoys the distinction of being Morningside's only Physics shark. She made a radio this year, and "the darned thing ran," if we may steal a phrase from a more or less ancient poem dealing with a popular make of car. Beside this, Mae is president of W. A. A., and is active in all work in women's athletics.

CHARLES BACH
Gilmore City

That handsome fellow with the million dollar smile, a pleasing personality and the cause of more fluttering co-ed hearts—that's Chuck. He has his place on the varsity eleven, is a Phi Sig, manages Sunshine Club, studies frequently and steps, too. Chuck is a fine fellow and very well liked.

LEONORE BENEDICT
Sioux City

Babe is so tiny most strangers around school think she's someone's little sister. But she is small only in stature. As for ability—she has won two class scholarships since she has been in Morningside and is an intercollegiate debater. Then, too, she's the life of the Blue Hall, so the Pi's say.

CHARLES BROOKER
Fairmont, Minnesota

Napoleon was small, too. So it is as possible that Brooker's size is as much an asset as his ability for work. For he is truly a diligent and conscientious student. The unusual monogram on his sweater is of no little interest among the students. He is one of the most loyal Alpha Tau Delta brothers.

CAROL BURNS
Hinton

Can he sing! And more hearts among the fair ones skip a beat when he appears with the Glee Club in that dress suit. Although he is rather quiet, he is a very well-liked fellow. And what would the Delta Theta fellows do without Carol and his sedan?

LONNELLE BUSHNELL
Algona

E-Y-E-S! Yes, we are talking about Lonnie. She has them. Just try to count up the boys who have met their doom before the above-mentioned. Lest we should do her an injustice let us remark right here that her grades compare favorably with anyone's, and in addition she is a proficient debater for both Morningside and the Zets.

HAROLD CANNON
Storm Lake

Can he dance? Just ask any co-ed who knows. Cannon hails from Storm Lake, which means he passed by Beuna Vista to come to Morningside, and we'll give him lots of credit for that. Besides being a good mixer, Cannon is a Phi Sig, and that's also in his favor.

ETHEL COLLINS
Storm Lake

About the wisest thing Ethel ever did was to leave Normal School and come to Morningside for her last two years. In practically no time at all, she has become one of our most popular Juniors, not to say our cleverest. Anyone who did not see her and Spiker with their "family" simply did not see the Homecoming parade. Ethel's a real girl and we're mighty glad she joined our class.

HOWARD CROSBIE
Milford

Crosbie is big and inclined to be silent but he's from Milford so we know he is all right. He has the much coveted virtue of tending strictly to his own business.

HAZEL DEPLER
Sioux City

"Smile and the world smiles with you" is evidently Hazel's motto. We wonder if she doesn't also believe that smiling makes friends, for she has a host of them and they love to hear her cheery greeting.

ALICE DEWEY
Sioux City

Alice is one of the promoters of the Watson gang. Her big brown eyes and sweet disposition make her one of the most popular of them. She and Iris are almost inseparable and are loyal Ath sisters.

DOROTHY DOWN
Odebolt

Dorothy made her first appearance as a debater in the inter-society debates this year and proved herself of such merit that she was chosen for the inter-collegiate team. Dorothy also talks herself into splendid grades and tasks where she proves herself a wonderful worker. She is a Zet and "Dot D. of Sunshine Inn."

JESSE DUCUMMUN
Cleghorn

"KI-YI! Station KFMR broadcasting from Morningside College, Sioux City, Iowa." Then Jesse proceeds to introduce the "talented students of our institution who will entertain for you tonight," to the radio fans of the world. Jesse's talents are not limited to the radio world, however, for he is an inter-collegiate and inter-society debater, a member of Pi Kappa Delta, and a good student.

EULA EBERLY
Lawton

Eula—the girl with a frat pin! This is considerable distinction in itself but she claims more. She played guard on the Freshman and Sophomore class championship basketball teams as well as on the Yale teams for two years. And can she play the piano! Ask any member of the Devitt gang or any Zet for she is one of them both, and they know.

WEBB FOWLER
Sioux City

Webb is another boy who has blossomed out socially this past year, and points with satisfaction to his "soul mate" as a testimony of his progress along this line. Webb is an athlete deserving honorable mention, and would be even more active in this line if he were not so busy with his studies. He is a regular attendant at Phi Sig meetings.

ADA GEHRING
Sioux City

Mrs. Gehring has particular prestige in being the wife of a member of the college administrative body. But it is her sweet disposition and charming personality that have made her a popular Zet.

ADDISON GELLING
Cushing

Reverend Gelling found he wasn't busy enough teaching the Cushingites to live Christian lives so decided he'd go to college, too. It was surely a brave resolve, for it meant he would have to drive eighty miles every day. Stormy weather and bad roads are only incentives to this man. His purpose and determination should be an inspiration to the rest of us.

EVA GELLING
Cushing

Mrs. Gelling caught the college spirit, too, and braved the elements to get to classes every day. Although we see her only during the class hours in the mornings, she has made many friends.

RUTH GILBERT
Aurelia

"Music hath charms"—and when Ruth starts to sing we all sit in wonder at her beautiful voice. None of us will ever forget how Ruth sang "Gypsy Sweetheart" last year. They say people with a common interest are attracted to each other so that must explain Ruth's especial interest in one of our violin instructors. A great deal of her time she spends at the Con, but she comes over to Main Hall often enough to be one of the most popular Aths.

ALICE HALL
Sioux City

Who is the girl in the Junior class who can be relied upon to put over whatever she undertakes? Al, of course. When Agora, or the Pi's, or the Sioux, or anyone wants anything efficiently managed he makes Alice chairman of the committee. Not only that, but the girl has a way with the piano that isn't seriously challenged by anyone in the institution. In addition to all the offices she holds, and good grades which she maintains, she found time to write out all these nice things about the Juniors—that is, all except this one.

ALVIN HANCER
Merrill

"Little Alvin" is the financier of the Phi Sigs—he lives (?) on what he finds in the over-stuffed furniture in the house. However, he is no stay-at-home, for he goes out for football where he plays tackle, and basketball where he is one of our best guards. Drafty is a mighty nice fellow.

WILLIAM HARTLEY
Laurens

Bill is from the same place as his sister, a strange coincidence. He is very quiet but maybe this is a point in his favor. Although he has been here but a short time, we can find plenty of nice things to say about him. Through his quiet unassuming way he has made all who come in contact with him, like him.

DONALD HARTZELL

Concepcion, Chili

Our Spanish athlete. No joking, either, because he's a mean sprinter. He made his letter easily in his first semester in Morningside. Besides all this Don is an officer in several of the clubs here in school, "plays in the student volunteer band." He claims fraternity allegiance to the Alpha Tau Deltas.

MILDRED HARTZELL

Concepcion, Chili

Another of the A. C. gang. Mildred's father was a student at Morningside so it was only natural for Mildred to come, too, even if it meant traveling all the way from Chili. Her Y. W. talks give us some idea of how they do things way down there. She is one of the main props in the Spanish department as far as correcting papers is concerned.

DWIGHT HAUFF

Merrill

Ambition should certainly have been Huff's middle name, for he's one of our busiest men. His chief interest in school is holding a place on the basketball team where he certainly proves himself some player! Much of his time he spends serving customers at the College Pharmacy, but his evenings he divides between coaching the basketball team, being "Eagle Eye" of the Phi Sigs, studying, and, yes, stepping, too.

FRANK HENDERSON

Plover

Frank is instrumental in securing jobs for students and thus enabling them to continue their college work. He is the very efficient business manager of our 1927 Sioux, holds down a tackle berth on our Varsity eleven, and manages the A. C. club. He is an Alpha Tau Delta but his pin helps him teach school at—

MARJORIE HILLMER

Wessington Springs, South Dakota

Marge makes the best grades with the least worry and fuss of any one we know. Always ready for a good time, she is also always ready to help with anything, especially teas and spreads. She was Phi's busy treasurer first semester and now the Pi's heartily recommend her for any position involving high finance.

HELEN HUFF

Sioux City

Helen has eyes of blue and golden curly hair; is always talking; is a Pi; is the librarian's chief worry; is a sure cure for blues; and her pep never runs down. But, above all, Helen is extremely capable, and is loved by everyone who knows her.

DONALD HUNTER

Charter Oak

Don is another of our sprinters, taking part last year in the Cross-country Run at Brookings. Don lost his Alpha Tau pin last year but none of the Morningside girls can account for it. No, indeed, he's faithful to "the girl I left behind" at home.

IRENE INLAY

Moville

Although Irene is devoting most of her time to music, and is thus around the Conservatory more than the Main Hall, we nevertheless know her and are glad that she is a member of our class. We are certain that we may all be proud of her as a musician some day.

KELSEY ISEBERG

Lohrville

Doc is one of those easy-going, good-natured fellows who never worry and yet seem to get along about as happily as the rest of us. When spring comes, Doc's fancy turns to thoughts of track where he made his letter as a Freshman in the high jump. He's another of the Phi Sigs.

LOIS JACK

Brawley, California

Lois is one of the busiest girls in school. Besides seeing that all the girls get their night slips into the Dean's office, she is in almost all college activities: Y. W. Cabinet, Agora Board, Madrigal Club, inter-collegiate debate, A Zet, and is president of our class. Lois can do almost everything and do it well.

HATTIE JACQUES

Galva

We heard rumors of a certain "friend," then the evidence appeared about Christmas time of her Freshman year. We knew you would guess it—it's a diamond and means the real thing. Hattie is one of our sweet Junior girls who makes lots of friends and good grades.

MARINUS JENSEN

Sioux Rapids

Another Alpha Tau Delta track man. During the spring he keeps fit in real track training, but the rest of the year he serves the hungry mobs at the Campus, and that, too, keeps him running. This year he played several times in basketball games and made a very encouraging showing there. Lessons are another of his specialties.

ZOE KELLOGG
Sioux City

The highest honor the students could pay a girl last fall was bestowed on Zoe, when she was made our fall festival queen. But besides this she further proves her popularity by being an officer in Y. W. and Pi. Zoe Nora Priscilla is one of our most loved and sweetest co-eds.

HENRY KITCHEN
Sioux City

"Anything else you want to know, ask"—yes, a Phi Sig, but particularly Ben. They say his advice is much sought on all matters, particularly concerning debating and parliamentary drill rules. He is a member of the football squad and the Radiator Club.

RUSSELL KNUDSEN
Turin

They may have christened him "Russell," but the name didn't last very long. He does not know you're speaking to him unless you call him "Pete" or "Dane." Obstacles are nothing to "Pete", either in football or in basketball. If he doesn't tread on them, he wades through them, just so the ball is put over, or a basket made. Yes, the Juniors join the Phi Sigs in pointing with pride to the "Dane" as one of their members.

MELVIN KRAMER
Remsen

Kramer can't help being handsome. But we're glad he is, for his picture helps make a good-looking Annual. When Kramer isn't otherwise occupied he helps keep the boys at the Phi Sig house happy.

ORPHA KUDRLE
Sioux City

Girl Scouts and gym are Orpha's hobbies. She is one of the down-town girls who travel long and far every day in pursuit of knowledge and good times as well. Orpha is a very loyal Junior.

ETHEL LARSON
Sioux City

Ethel doesn't seem to be afraid of coming to Morningside just because she lives in Sioux City. At any rate, we are glad that she chose to come here instead of going somewhere else to school. Ethel claims the Aths as her society, or sorority, whichever, it may be.

HAROLD LARSON
Sioux City

"A fountain of wisdom" perfectly characterizes Harold, for he is one of our finest scholars. It is indeed a pleasure to be in a class with him, for he is sure to make it more interesting with his contributions. Usually rather quiet, Harold gives us all a surprise when he starts to debate, for he has proved himself excellent in this line for both Morningside and Delta Theta.

FRANK LEAMER
Howard, South Dakota

Frank used to "keep" the library part time but gave it up as a bad job. Now he's connected with a line of work he is more interested in, being associate engineer of the college broadcasting station. He's an Alpha Tau Delta, but don't worry, girls, his pin is being well taken care of long before now.

DONAL LILLARD
Denison

"On the whole," Don is the most accommodating man we have, serving on all committees from men's banquets to up-river trips. His special interest is biology and when he isn't at the A. C. club, he can be found in the lab. A day at the Phi Sig House isn't complete without Don's droll humor.

FRANCES LUCKE
LeMars

Although Frances is kept pretty busy with her music, she doesn't confine herself to the Conservatory all of the time. If she isn't practicing, she may be found up in the Pi hall, not such a bad place on the whole. She comes from LeMars, which we will overlook, seeing as she evidently passed by a good college there to come to a better one.

LESTER McCOY
Sioux Rapids

Our songbird! McCoy is best known for his singing, but the Delta Thetas will testify that singing is not his only accomplishment. He is one of the prime movers in the band with the aid of his trumpet. Mac plans to enter religious work, if his college activities since entering Morningside haven't disqualified him.

PEARL McMULLEN
Sioux City

"Was there ever one fairer or sweeter or dearer?" Well, hardly. And she's very fond of Morningside, too, for she attended the Academy two years before she started her collegiate work. She always has the nicest things to say about everyone and has a host of friends. Acknowledged one of the best cooks in Pi, they chose her to plan their teas and spreads this semester. Since then, Pi dates come up to the third floor early for a taste of her cakes and roasts.

MILDRED MERTEN
Sioux City

Mildred is one of our good-natured, serious-minded girls, and very capable. Mildred does her share in keeping the faculty in a pleasant frame of mind by serving them splendid meals. We will vouch for her that she doesn't need a pull to get good grades, for she is a very good student.

CLAIRE MILNE
Cushing

Claire is one of those girls who is always rushed with work. Last fall she became familiar to all those who didn't know her through her two pet phrases, "You are going to the Des Moines convention, aren't you?" and "Save your Davidson ballots for Agora." But don't think she worries all the time. Pi teas and spreads aren't complete without Claire. The rest of her time she divides between Don and studies.

CLARA METCALF
Sioux City

Another of the Metcalfs with the characteristic ability and good nature. Much of Clara's time is spent in teaching her piano pupils scales and such things so Main Hall doesn't see a great deal of her. But when she does come over, the Aths say she entertains them royally with her playing.

AUBREY MITCHELL
Sioux Rapids

College life wasn't all it should be for Aubrey alone, so he made Viola Mrs. Mitchell and now they both go to college happier. That does not necessarily account for Aubrey's good nature, however, for he has made his reputation as one of the fellows who always greets us with a smile.

GLADYS MILLER
Oto

Ask Davidson's if Gladys isn't some saleslady! She decided to spend her Christmas vacation here this year and learned the trials of a "woiking goil." Any of the girls at the A. C. House will tell you that she is always welcome with her happy smile. Gladys has a host of friends.

ALICE MOIR
LeMars

"Oh, I'd rather be a Pi than to have a million-aire" is more truth than poetry when Alice sings it, for if there ever was a true Pi, she is one. Almost any time of day will find her up in the Hall—that is, most of the time she isn't studying history, which seems to be her weakness or her hobby, as the case may be.

DOROTHY NELSON
Sheldon

Dorothy is another "Con" student, and a main stay of the Madrigal Club. This year she has been business manager of the Madrigal Club, and if you don't think that that is some job just ask her. She confidently admits that the preachers of northwest Iowa have worn her down to a mere shadow by alternately accepting and refusing to have the Madrigal Club come to their towns. Still, if anyone could get an acceptance out of some of these folks, we would say that Dorothy can do it. She also looks after the Ath finances.

JOE OTT
Sioux City

How much do we think of Joe? Why, we chose him as Editor of our Annual. He keeps busy taking an active part in music, debate, religious work, and making "A's" in such things as biology. Student chapels aren't all they should be without Joe's witty announcements or clever impersonations. Ask any of the students if he isn't one of the biggest men on the campus.

BAZIL REED
Sioux City

Chemistry and math are mere play for this man. We can boast of few more industrious students. Bazil is an Alpha Tau Delta and a most sincere friend.

CLARA ANNA REID
Sioux City

Pep? Good natured? And is she capable? We'll say! Just watch her! Clara Anna is one of our best managers and busiest Aths, too. She's also very artistic. Remember the Sophomore table at the Women's Banquet last year?

HAROLD REYNOLDS

Harold's official position often gets him in trouble with the girls on the third floor. No matter what his own sentiments may be, he has to see that they don't go to dancing—much. Not that girls bother him, however, for he has found the one he wants and she is Mrs. Reynolds.

HELEN RUTLEDGE
Early

Helen has an advantage over the rest of us, she's been to a girls' school. And she can entertain the girls who "gather round" the A. C. with the most interesting stories of what they do there. She is a very original Ath.

JUNIORS

MARGARET SCHAMP
Sioux City

Margaret is one of our most charming girls and a girl of varied talents. Every one was convinced that she is a very advanced student in piano after hearing her recital, and she does her collegiate work with credit. But—listen, fellows—she's also a wonderful cook and needlewoman. She's one of our best. Ask the Pi's.

ROXANNA SCHAPER
Sioux City

Roxana is little, but don't let that deceive you. She has a mind remarkably on the alert for new subjects and new phases of things to think about. She is a good student and we all like to know her, for we appreciate her loyalty to her friends.

DOROTHY SCHULTZ
Orange City

Dorothy is pretty quiet, but perhaps she is content to let her roommate do the talking. The Aths will testify that Dorothy can certainly do things right whenever she is called upon. Morningside is indebted to Orange City for many good things, and Dorothy is one of them.

JOHN SEARS
Sioux City

John came from Sioux City High to be one of our class out here. Sometimes we wonder if he wears seven league boots because he seems to be getting places a little sooner than the rest of us. But when we investigate we find it is only one advantage in being tall.

CLARENCE ROCKWELL
South Sioux City, Nebraska

Clarence is one reason why we should favor a free bridge instead of a toll bridge between here and South Sioux. He hasn't, however, let a little thing like a toll bridge stop him from coming over to Morningside every day. And he gets here on time, too! This latter feat is more than many who live right on the edge of the campus seem able to do.

DOROTHY SEWARD
LeMars

Dorothy finally saw the light and left Western Union to come down here. Along with her she brought a reputation as a debater which she has fulfilled faithfully. She is not actually so meek as she looks. Ask any of her Ath sisters if she isn't full of life.

GLADYS SHARAR
Estherville

A girl with a decided talent and fondness for math. She seems to revel in Trig problems that the rest of us run from. Nothing in life seems to be bad enough to worry Gladys. She keeps happy and this has helped her claim a great number of friends.

EDYTHE SHAW
Plover

When Edye laughs and those big brown eyes shine well—it's no wonder a certain Alpha Tau has become faithful. There isn't an Ath in school who has more friends or more pep than Edythe. She belongs to the A. C. gang and they say she certainly is full of pep. Hurray for Plover!

MARION SHIDELER
Hull

It took us some time to find out what town Marion last comes from. Being a preacher's kid must have its advantages if you don't want people to know your address, because our observation is that they are never in the same place very long. Especially Methodist ministers. The fact that Joyce didn't come back is all that saved Marion from having the Alpha Tau Deltas start charging the phone bill to him, since he was using it practically all of the time.

LESTER SHIRES

Lester is really a Senior and will graduate before the rest of us, but we are glad that he was a member of our class, and are proud to have him in this list. His fraternity is the Delta Theta Pi organization. Lester plans to enter the ministry and we know of no one who is more earnest or better fitted.

JEAN SMITH
Rapid City, South Dakota

Get ready to smile, here comes Jean Smith! You can't be near Jean and be solemn. We are not sure but we will guess that her favorite class is Playground where she learns how to teach games and songs to little folks. Jean and Lucile are always together and are surely two live wire girls.

LUCILE SMITH

For complete details of her wit and good humor we refer you to any of the Madrigal Club girls for she was quite the life of that crowd. Never quiet a minute, always wanting to be doing something, and her smile is never missing. Her readings have helped to make her popular with the students and she has a great many friends even if this is her first year here.

ROBERT SNYDER

Sioux City

"Give me the dope on that for the Reporter." Yes, Bob is our busy Reporter Editor, and to him we give much credit for the good numbers that were put out this year. Incidentally, Bob, as Tribune reporter, helps to keep the world outside of the college in touch with all we do here. He is one of the most popular Delta Theta Pi's and ladies' men.

MABLE SWANSON

Fonda

Mable has rows of "A's" on her card that we all envy. Class scholarships are her goal in college and she consistently reaches it. Besides being a good student, she takes an interest in all college activities, and she's a most reasonable chapel monitor! Mable is a girl we all admire and we're mighty glad she skipped the Sophomore class to join us.

FRANCES STRAND

Sioux City

Any of the students from Sioux City High will inform you that they are ready to back Frankie Strand as a singer against all comers. And they are exercising pretty wise choice in doing so. Frankie is another music student who doesn't seclude herself in the "Con," but may often be seen around the Main Hall.

FOSTER SWARTZ

Gilmore City

His angelic look is quite deceiving until Foster is seen in athletics. Then we realize how capable he is. He played quarterback on the team this fall and is our best pole vaulter. Small wonder Davidson's Toyland was so popular this Christmas. Foster was Santa Claus!

LOIS STURTEVANT

Sioux City

Part of the credit for the class championship in basketball for the Sophs goes to Lois, for here is one of our most enthusiastic women athletes. She is also an interested leader of the Girl Scouts in the city. Although she is inclined to be quiet she is a valued friend and popular with her Zet sisters.

GLENN TAYLOR

Onawa

"Sparky" is another Onawa boy. Perhaps he was sent to atone for Vigorous. Who knows? It is a mystery how Sparky manages to keep his grades in such good shape when his time is so taken up with his Chevrolet coupe and Iva. But the boy does it. The Phi Sigs will testify that he even gets out to meetings quite often.

JUNIORS

GLADYS THOMPSON

Sioux City

Trying to divide her time between the college and her expression work, keeps Gladys busy. But it just has to be that way, for when there is a play to be given, Gladys has to be in it, and when the professors want to give out a few "A's" or the Pi's want some real whistling, she has to appear in Main Hall again. She is always in a hurry but has time to be everybody's friend.

ADOLPH VAN CITTERS

Orange City

"Van" is a four-letter man. And why shouldn't he be? He probably is one of the best equipped by nature for athletics that Morningside can claim. Anything in that line comes natural to Van. It is only during this last year, however, that we had any knowledge that Van was a man of no little social attainment and prowess, but so we learn from the Alpha Tau Deltas. We offer Van our best wishes and trust that his studies will not suffer.

MARJORIE TINCKNELL

Alta

"Brown eyes, why are you blue?" never applies to Marge, for she is always smiling. But why shouldn't she smile? Every one loves Marge. She's a Pi, keeps busy with Agora Board, a few lessons, and gives some of her time to the campus, good times, and Vig.

L'MARIE WALTERS

Rockwell City

A year of Grinnell got Ella Marie ready to step into Morningside, Sunshine Inn, Ath, and the hearts of all the many friends she has made here. Always happy, never worries, and the life of any party. Need more be said?

DWIGHT UTTERBACK

Dwight was afraid of graduating too young; so he stayed out of school a year, and then came back and entered our class upon which good fortune we wish to congratulate him. We know of no better class, and we say this in all humility. He is quiet, but we have the Alpha Tau Delta's word for it that he is quite active when he gets going well.

JANET WEGERSLEV

Janet comes from the north—Alta, to be exact, where the Swedes "just bane coom oop from Minnesotah," but staunchly denies any connection with the nationality. Blessed with particular artistic ability, one of our classiest Juniors, always smiling, has lots of friends and one of the cleverest entertainers up in Pi hall—that's Jan.

JUNIORS

LELAND WICKLAND

Whiting

Tuck is our big, good-natured boy. The Phi Sigs will back Tuck against all comers when it comes to donning a grass skirt and doing a mean hula hula. The stags wouldn't be complete without this last mentioned exhibition. Tuck plugged up a big hole in Morningside's line this last fall and can be counted upon to do even better this coming fall.

NEWELL WILLIAMS

Onawa

Red is elected to pilot our football team for the next year, and we all agree that it is a wise choice that his team-mates have made. Newell's brains are not confined to football, however; he also plays baseball, basketball, and is one of Morningside's best bets in the quarter-mile. Red is a Phi Sigma.

HAZEL WIESE

Sioux City

Hazel is remembered by everyone because of her fine acting in the Zet-Tau Delt Grand Public this year. She is really not nearly so austere and mean as the part she played. The Zets will back us in that statement. She also made a very good "mamma" in the Men's and Women's Banquet Chapel.

WILLIAM YOUNG WORTH

Sioux City

Bill uses his head, and after graduating from Sioux City High, he turned his steps toward Morningside, and has seen fit to remain here for three years. Bill's heavy work is done in history, and none need be ashamed of his showing in any subject.

MARGARET CONDRON

Sioux City

Connie is our expressionist and actress. She has already completed the course in the department of expression, and is now turning her attention to the regular college work. The Pi's are proud of her Charlestoning, her tangoing, and her singing around the hall. They say that the girl is a great "blue singer."

PAUL LOMBARD

Sioux City

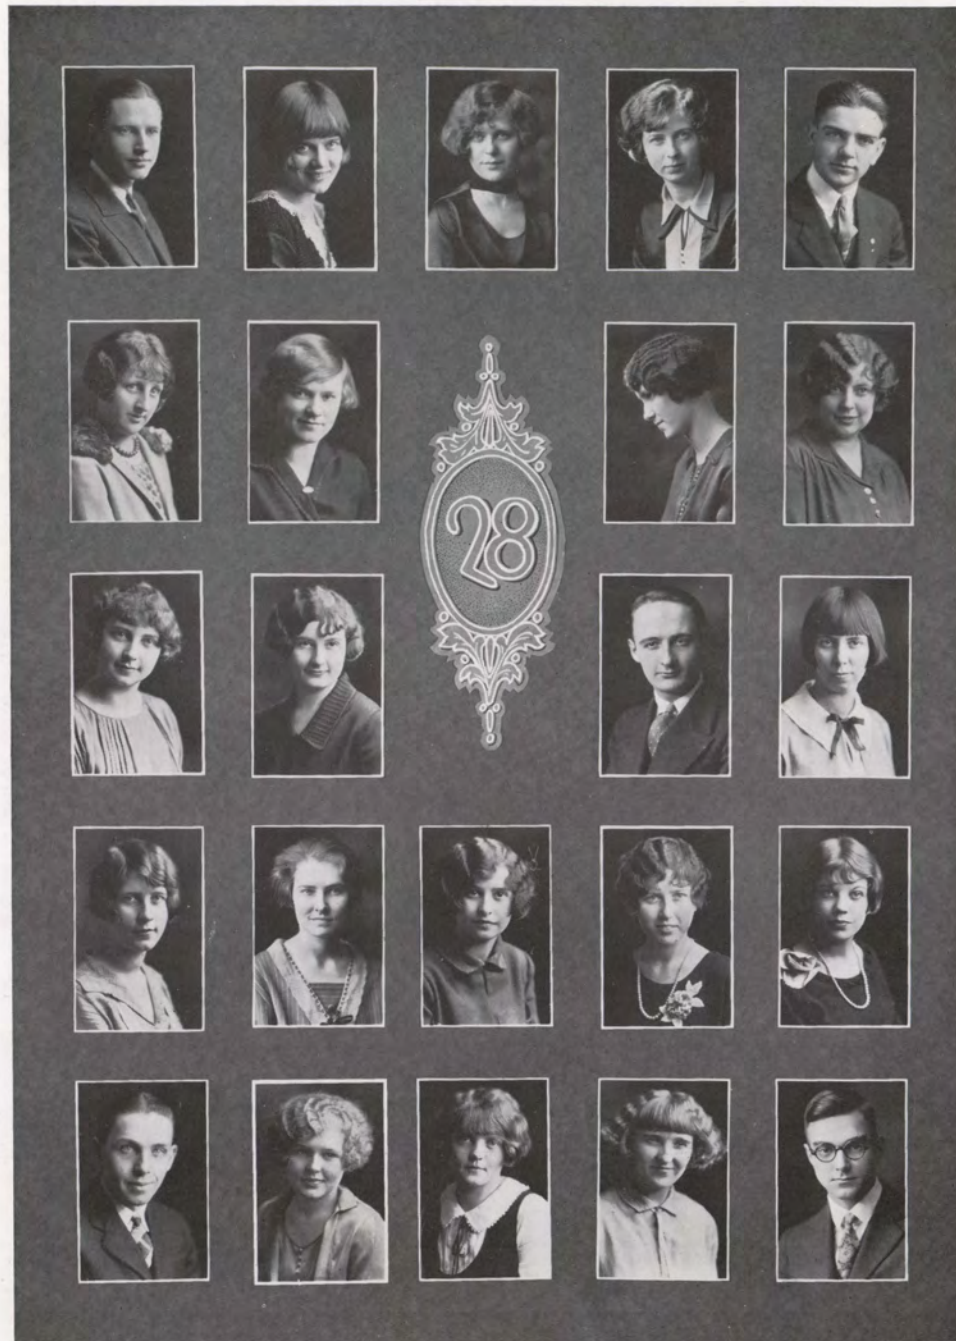

Paul is a P. K., but doesn't allow that to bother him, and is a pretty good fellow in spite of it. Whoever stated that all preachers' kids were sort of cantankerous, evidently did not know Paul. He made the wise move of quitting Simpson to come to Morningside; and we're sure that he will never regret it.

CONSERVATORY

REV. HERBERT A. KECK, D. D.
Minister

Dr. Keck was a member of one of the earliest Morningside classes, about 1896. While in school, he was a member of the Othonian Literary Society, now the Alpha Tau Delta fraternity. He was a member of Morningside's first football team. He was also a debater. Since leaving Morningside, he has been in the Methodist ministry. For several years he was pastor of the college church here in Morningside. He is now pastor of one of the largest Methodist churches in Illinois. He is a member of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Church.

The Conservatory of Music

The Morningside College Conservatory of Music has made rapid strides in the past few years in almost every department or phase of music. Under the capable and thorough supervision of the director of the Conservatory, Professor Paul MacCollin, the department of the Supervisors' Course in Public School Music has been constantly growing. Graduate students from this course have been highly successful in whatever community they have gone to have charge of the music in the public schools.

Violin classes and classes for instruction on wind instruments have been undertaken for the first time this year, by members of the Conservatory faculty, in the public schools of Sioux City. Efforts set forth in this field of instruction are being met with decided success. Thus the Conservatory of Music, through its faculty of competent and progressive instructors, not only is aiding in the advancement of the present musical life of Sioux City and vicinity, but it is making possible a superior and wider reaching scope for the music of the future.

The quality and type of the music produced by Morningside's musical organizations is already well known in the northwest. Its rank among the foremost conservatories of music is rapidly advancing. The basis of all of this growth is the undeniable interest manifested by both the instructors and the class of students who come here to give and receive aid in making music play a major part in their life work. Thus the growth and reputation enjoyed by our organizations, such as Glee Clubs, Chapel Choir, String Quartet, Symphony Orchestra, and Choral Club, are the result of sincere and applied work.

In addition to the class instruction there has been established a course for Instrumental Supervisors. Mr. Carol Parkinson, instructor of cello and wood wind instruments, is in charge of this department. This course affords a thorough knowledge of all wind instruments as well as development of higher musicianship.

I Am Music

Servant and master am I! servant of those dead, and master of those living. Through me spirits immortal speak the message that makes the world weep, and laugh, and wonder, and worship.

I tell the story of love, the story of hate, the story that saves and the story that damns. I am the incense upon which prayers float to Heaven. I am the smoke which palls over the field of battle where men lie dying with me on their lips.

I am close to the marriage altar, and when the graves open I stand nearby. I call the wanderer home, I rescue the soul from the depths, I open the lips of lovers, and through me the dead whisper to the living.

One I serve as I serve all; and the king I make my slave as easily as I subject his slave. I speak through the birds of the air, the insects of the field, the crash of waters on rock ribbed shores, the sighing of wind in the trees, and I am even heard by the soul that knows me in the clatter of wheels on city streets.

I know no brother, yet all men are my brothers; I am the father of the best that is in them, and they are fathers of the best that is in me; I am of them, and they are of me. For I am the instrument of God.

I AM MUSIC!

The School of Expression

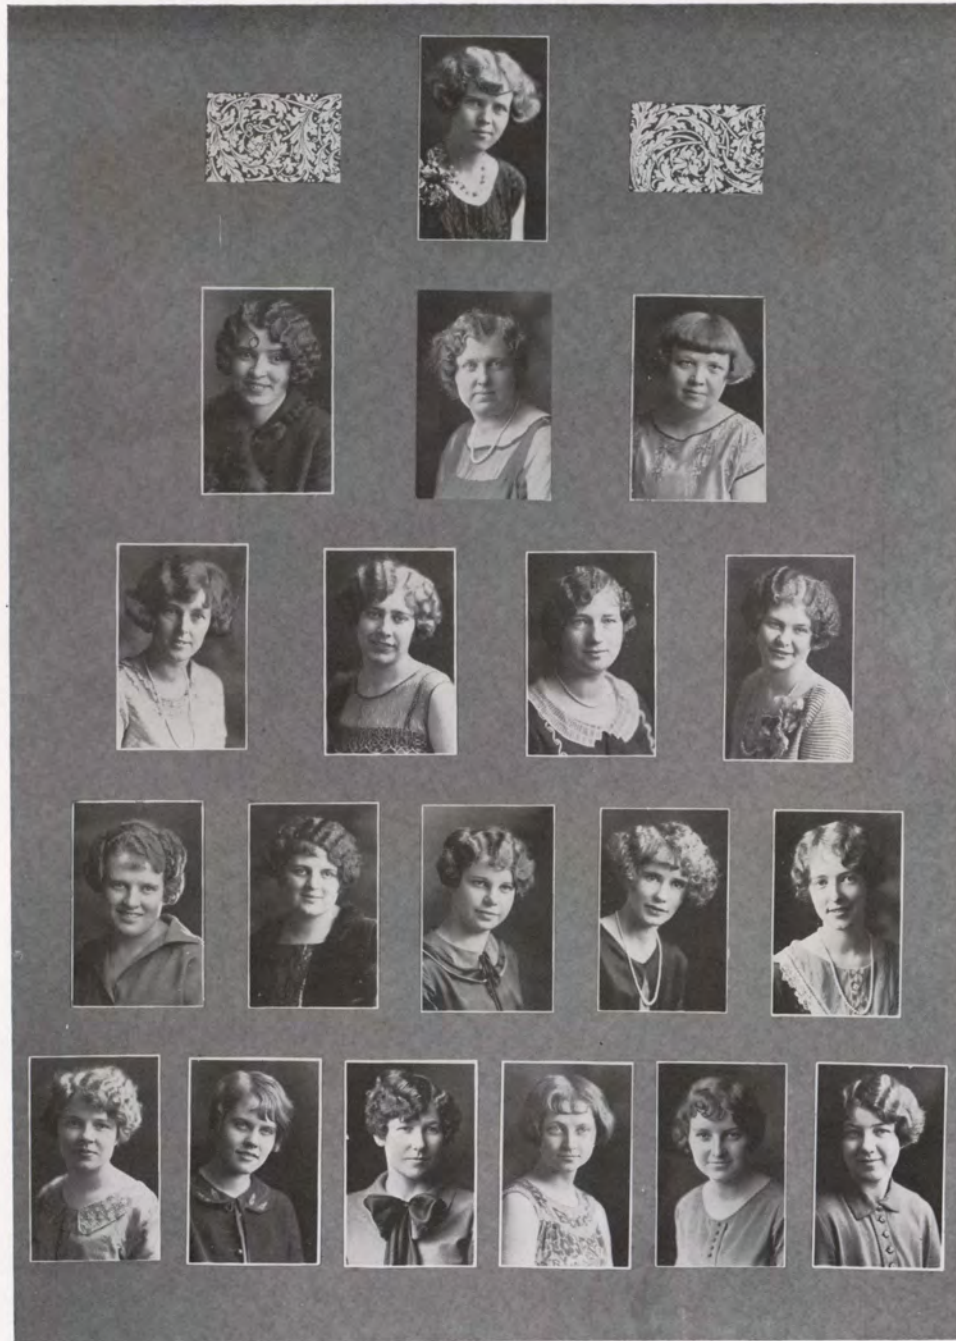

MISS MABEL ELIZABETH BROWN
Director

The School of Expression is one of the strongest departments in the fine arts group. A diploma is given to students who present a sufficient number of credits to fulfill the requirement for college rating and who successfully complete the three-year course offered by the department. There are a number of students from the community and the surrounding territory who come for private lessons. Student recitals are given every week in addition to the advertised recitals for the general public. This department numbers among its graduates many proficient dramatic coaches and platform readers.

THE SIOUX OF FULFILLMENT

Athletics

Men's Athletic Committee

The direction of all of the athletic activities and inter-collegiate relationships of Morningside College is in the hands of the Men's Athletic Committee, which is composed of Professor R. N. Van Horne, Coach Saunderson, and Professor James J. Hayes. These men have served in this capacity for several years, because of their efficient and progressive management of the athletic affairs of Morningside. The school owes much of its success and prowess in athletic endeavor to these three men.

COACH J. M. SAUNDERSON

The Coaches

J. M. SAUNDERSON, Professor of Physical Education

Coach Jason M. Saunderson has been with us for fourteen years. It has been during this period that Morningside College has taken her place as one of the foremost schools in the athletics of the schools of the Northwest. To "Saundy" belongs the credit for bringing Morningside up to the athletic rank of schools which far surpass it in size, resources, and athletic material. Coach Saunderson has a faculty of developing not only the athletic side of the men with whom he deals, but also building men of character. He is respected among men of the coaching fraternity all over this country.

E. C. WENIG—Assistant Coach

"Obe" is generally conceded to have been one of the best athletes whom Morningside has had. In football, his fame as a punter and drop-kicker extended even beyond the Conference. He was also well known as a baseball pitcher. For the last three years he has been our basketball coach, and "Saundy's" able assistant. The credit for this year's championship basketball team belongs largely to "Obe". His quiet, unassuming manner has made him popular with the fellows, and, by commanding their confidence and respect, he works with them very successfully.

ATHLETICS

ED. PIRWITZ—Freshman Coach

After being an excellent athlete himself when a student here in school, Ed Pirwitz was found to be entirely capable of handling the Freshman athletics when called upon to take hold of that job last year. Because of a new Conference ruling, Freshmen could not enter inter-collegiate competition and it became necessary to organize Freshman teams to train the men for varsity athletics. Freshman teams were trained who not only took honors in competition with first year men from other schools, but also gave the varsity men in Morningside plenty of competition in training, thus being indirectly responsible for our Conference championship team this year. Ed is a very efficient coach and is well liked by his men.

DR. G. W. KOCH

Dr. G. W. Koch is one of the best friends of the boys over at the gym. To him belongs much of the credit for keeping our athletes in fighting condition. Dr. Koch is also responsible for the high standard of temperance among the men of Morningside College.

THE SIOUX OF FULFILLMENT

DR. FREDERICK H. ROOST
Surgeon

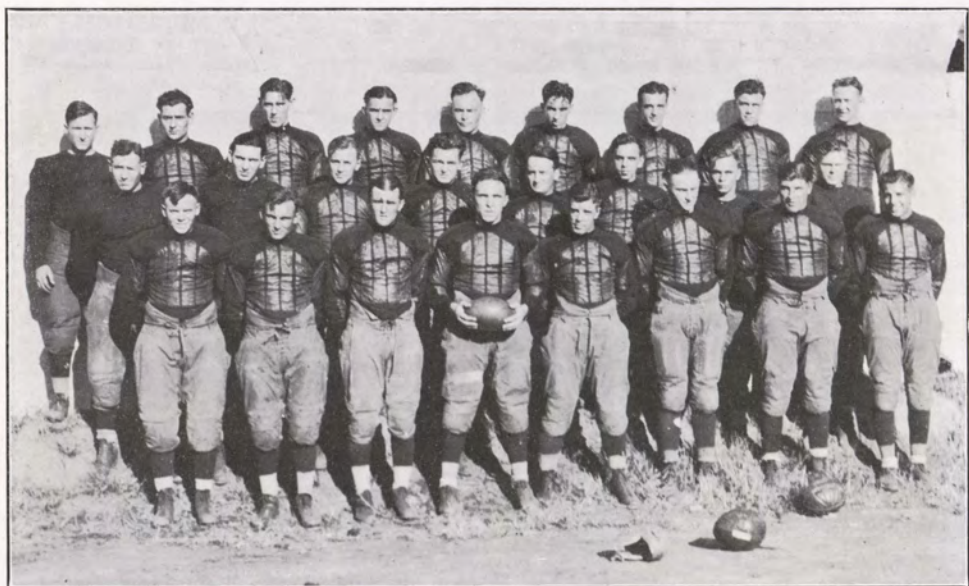

Doctor Roost is a member of the class of 1898, and has the distinction of having been the captain of Morningside's first football team, which was organized in the fall of 1898. He was a member of the Philomathean Literary Society, now the Phi Sigma fraternity. He was graduated from Rush Medical College. His army record is also remarkable. He enlisted as a first lieutenant and was honorably discharged from the A. E. F. at the end of the war as a colonel. Doctor Roost is one of the most active men in boosting Morningside College. He was president of the "M" Club, an organization of Morningside alumni in Sioux City.

FOOTBALL

LESTER LEITCH—"Mundo"—Guard and Captain

"Mundo," fighting Maroon guard, was the smallest man in the line, but was not outplayed all year, although competing against heavier men in every game. He was the only Morningside man to make an all-conference berth. He also won a first team place on the Iowa Conference team and was placed on the Des Moines Register's second all-state team. It was largely due to his great leadership that the team finished in championship form. Leitch is a great football player and as a captain he cannot be beaten.

FOOTBALL

NEWELL WILLIAMS—"Red"—Quarterback and Captain-elect

"Red" is one of the flashiest players Morningside has ever had. Although being handicapped this year by a bruised shoulder, a broken leg, and being changed from end to quarterback, he never became disheartened and when he did play it was in his best form. "Red" is a good punter, passer and runner and has determination that makes a real football man. Next year "Red" will lead the varsity team and, we hope, to its second Conference championship.

FOOTBALL

RUSSELL KNUDSEN—"Pete"—Halfback

"Pete" played in rare form all season and reeled off several long gains. His favorite trick is the old side-step, and when he gets that to working, he is hard to bring down. On defense he backs up the line hard and few passes ever go over him. Next year will be Pete's last year, and, barring injuries, he will be a three-letter man.

FOOTBALL

CHARLES BACH—"Chuck"—Halfback

Charlie Bach was the offensive star. In nearly every game he got away for a long run or two. He is very fast and a good open field runner. "Chuck" has another year of football and should be one of the leading lights of the Conference. Bach was honored by being placed on most of the "all" teams picked by critics.

FOOTBALL

FOSTER SWARTZ—"Roly"—Quarterback

When Swartz was called on to fill Williams' place he played in such good form that he was used almost all of the time. "Roly" lacks in weight but has lots of fight and is a good field general. Another of his specialties is interference. This was "Roly's" first letter but he will be back strong next year.

FOOTBALL

FRANK HENDERSON—Tackle

Next year will be Frank's last year of football competition. He has already won three letters and this year was placed on the second all-conference team, which is ample evidence of his ability. Frank is hard to get off his feet and tackles hard on defense.

ALVIN HANCER—"Hans"—Guard

Hancer had a big year at guard. He is tall, heavy, and fast, and when he hits them they come down. "Hans" was fast at coming out of the line and running interference, and was a good running mate for Leitch. "Hans" is a two-letter man, too, and will finish his career next year.

FOOTBALL

RALPH BASTIAN—"Redfield"—Center

Although greatly handicapped by his lack of weight, Bastian is one of the best centers Morningside has ever had. He has a knack of guessing the plays and intercepting passes. This was Bastian's first year. He has two more. Watch him go!

ADOLPH VAN CITTERS—"Bud"—End

Van is one of the best receivers of forward passes in the Conference. He goes down fast under punts and when it comes to defense they cannot get by. Next year will be his last appearance as he is already a three-letter man.

FOOTBALL

HAVEN MEANS—"Hooley"—End

"Hooley's" first year of varsity football was a success. To break up plays, to go down under punts, and to receive passes were the features of his playing. "Hooley" has two more years of playing and should add his name to the long list of great Morningside ends.

LELAND WICKLAND—"Tuck"—Tackle

"Tuck" played his first year of varsity football in commendable fashion. His lack of experience was somewhat of a handicap, but he made up for it in fight and determination. On defense he was immovable.

FOOTBALL

JAKE LAFOY—"Pinkey"—Halfback

This is Jake's last year and although he was not a regular, he was always ready to step in for relief. Jake will be greatly missed as he was one of the best open field runners on the squad. Jake is a two-letter man.

HOMER SMOTHERS—Guard

Smothers is a fighter although being handicapped by lack of weight and experience. He, too, failed to make his letter by only a few minutes. His best work is on the offense. Next year is his last.

FOOTBALL

WEBB FOWLER—"Ernie"—Fullback

Webb got a bad start this year because of injuries, but when he did get to going was a hard man to bring down. He was a good punter and backed up the line in Big Ten style. Web is a two-letter man now and will be out for his last next year.

HENRY KITCHEN—"Kitch"—End

Kitchen took his turn at right end, missing his letter by only a quarter. On defense he is almost immovable. "Kitch" has another year and should show plenty of stuff.

FREDERICK OKERBERG—"Oke"

"Oke" was strong until overtaken by injuries. His biggest stunt was plunging the line, his plunges always being good for a gain. Besides that he is a tower of strength at backing up the line. "Oke" has two more years and with a little more experience will make an ideal fullback.

FOOTBALL

DONALD CROSS—Halfback

Cross failed to make a letter by a very few minutes this year, but is bound to make good next year. Cross has the advantage of lots of speed and can be put into the regular line-up without its being weakened. Cross has two more years to show his stuff.

CHARLES DOWN—End

Down was also a reserve end. Although he played only a few minutes he could be used at any time without weakening the team. Charles was very adept at nabbing passes high over his head. Down has two more years.

GEORGE BERGMAN—Fullback

Bergman was the lightest man on the squad and also the fastest. He was a good open field runner and got into several games for small periods of time. His experience should make him valuable in the next two years of competition he has left.

ELMER HANSEN—Center

Although Hansen played only a short time he was always ready to go in. Hansen was a good man on defense. He has two more years left.

RONALD McDOWELL—"Mac"—Halfback

"Mac" was out only a short time, being handicapped by injuries. However, he has two more years left and we expect great things of him in the future.

GENE BARBER—Guard

Although Barber didn't get into any of the games, he showed his spirit by being out for practice every night and taking lots of knocks for the good of the regular team. We hope that next year he will come into his own.

FOOTBALL

The Season

From the standpoint of games won and lost this football season was not the most successful in the history of the school. The team, however, by its hard and brilliant playing, drew the loyalty of the fans and made many friends as the season progressed.

From the start lack of reserve material was a severe handicap. To this was added the unfortunate injuring of some of the important men, so that in some of the games the team was without an experienced punter or passer.

With the development shown during the season and the added reserve strength coming from this year's Freshman squad, less trouble from these causes should interfere with the success of the 1926 team.

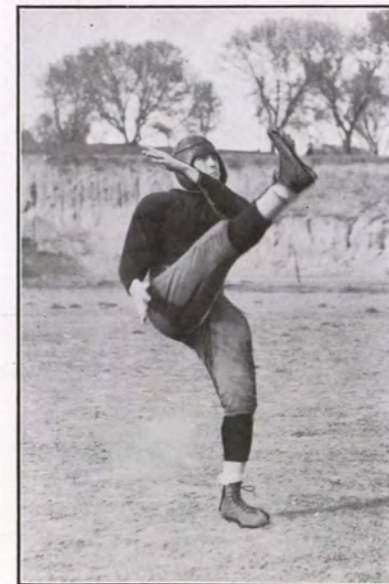

On October the third, Morningside opened the football schedule for the season 1925 by the traditional opening game with Western Union. Western Union came from LeMars with all the fight and pep that was possible for a team to arouse, for they were to play the biggest game on their schedule.

In the opening quarter there were two bad passes made from center which cost Morningside about thirty yards. Williams then punted to Hayen, a Telegrapher halfback, who went wild and made a 53-yard dash through the whole Morningside team for a touchdown. A minute later Kock kicked goal that gave Western Union the winning point. Western Union from then on played defensive football.

The second half opened with the Telegraphers still in the lead. Several times Morningside would take the ball within striking distance of the goal and then be unable to break through for the touchdown. In the fourth quarter Morningside brought the ball to the 2-yard line; then Knudsen dived through a hole in left guard for a touchdown. The game soon ended after this. And Western Union men had won their hardest game of the season by a score of 7 to 6.

October 10 was the day set for the North Dakota Aggie game at Fargo. Although losing the game with the Aggies, the Morningside boys were encouraged by the improvement that they had made over the type of football that they played on the third. After the 900-mile trip the boys were somewhat tired for the game. It was a hard struggle, both teams matched very evenly, but when the final gun was shot the Aggies had the long end of the 14 to 7 score.

The next game was one of the biggest of the year. The day was perfect for a game. Creighton brought three full teams and a few substitutes. Before the game was over, Coach Wynn was becoming worried over where to get fresh men. In this game Creighton used twenty-five men; Morningside, twelve. Morningside outplayed and outfought Creighton for fifty-two minutes; made more yards of scrimmage, and threw Creighton for more yards of loss; but with an abundance of fresh men Creighton was victor from a score standpoint.

Thursday night, October 24, again found the Morningside football team boarding the train for an invasion into North Dakota. This time the trip was to Grand Forks, where the team met the North Dakota University in a football game on Saturday. It was to this game that Russell (Pete) Knudsen was unable to go. The Flickertails seemingly took advantage of his absence. Their whole method of attack was aerial. It is just this kind of game that Pete likes. The Flickertails were successful in completing most all of the passes that they tried. In gaining through the line they were absolutely unable to make a yard, but their passing gave them a heavy score.

The team that had been picked to battle the Maroons on Homecoming was the Des Moines University team. There were about 3,000 alumni and students out to the game, and their cries seemed to instill the Morningside fight into the team so that they could not be stopped. There had been snow during the week; the field, however, had been dragged and was in good condition. There was a bank of snow around the field into which the players were frequently thrown for a cooling off. Bach went wild in this game and made several nice runs. One of these runs was 40 yards through tackle for a touchdown, and another was 41 yards through the same hole, placing the ball on the 2-yard line from which point Swartz took it across by a sneak through center on the next play. Bach's runningmate, Knudsen, did some great defensive playing as well as making several runs through the line and around end. Henderson, left tackle on the Morningside team, was responsible for one of the touchdowns when he grabbed a pass just as it was leaving Couchmann's hands. Henderson fell on the ball on the 5-yard line. Bach then went through right guard for two yards, and LaFoy dived over a pile of bodies for two more, placing the ball on the 1-yard mark. Swartz failed in his first attempt to break through center, but on the next try went over for the touchdown. This was the end

The Maroons went to Lincoln, November 7, and there played Nebraska Wesleyan University. The day was one of the worst imaginable for a game. There had been a heavy snow in the morning and a strong wind blew all during the game. The field was icy and slick. There were no chances for a fast back to get away. The only thing that could be used was straight football. Wiberg, the big Wesleyan fullback, was at his best and played a great game. Our team depended entirely upon fast open field running led by Bach and Knudsen. On this day these men had no chance. The players in the line were forced to wear gloves throughout the game in order to keep their hands from freezing. "Saundy" supplied each man with an old-fashioned suit of "heavies" before the game opened, and even this underclothing did not prove heavy enough to stop the wind.

The game was a very even affair. Nebraska Wesleyan managed to score at one time. Morningside men drove the ball down the field for 80 yards in the last quarter and were then deprived of their well-earned touchdown by the closing whistle.

The Wayne Normal team was the next one on the list. The field was in fine condition for a game, but the weather was very cold. The game opened with an onslaught from the Maroons and very soon they were leading the score, 6 to 0. The Wildcats in the second half opened up a well-developed aerial attack and in no time had netted 13 points from it. This was the end of their scoring. During this quarter Bach, on a fake play, got away for a 53-yard run and a touchdown. The score at the end of the first half stood 12 to 13 in favor of the visitors.

Morningside came back strong in the second half, and the teams battled about evenly until toward the end of the quarter. At this time the Wildcats were forced to punt. Bach received the punt on the Nebraskan's 35-yard line and returned it to the 12-yard line. Bach then made five more yards around end, placing the ball on the 7-yard line. Bach hit a stone wall at tackle. Moseman interfered with LaFoy while he was taking a pass from Bach, and the gain was allowed, and first down. Bach had perfect interference in his run around left end for the third counter. Van Citters place-kicked for the extra point. The score was then 19 to 13.

In the fourth quarter, through a series of penalties and losses, Morningside had the ball on its own 5-yard line with no chance to kick because of the goal-posts. The situation looked bad. Two plays failed to change the position of the ball. LaFoy was then called to hit the line. He found an opening, side-stepped the right-half, and was off for a run. He made 40 yards before the Wayne quarter ran him out of bounds. Wayne held the team in mid-field and recovered the ball on its 20-yard line. Wayne men then seemed to have a new spirit of life. They brought the ball down to the 5-yard line. But then the Morningside line stiffened and they were unable to get the ball past the 3-yard line in four tries. The quarter ended soon after this threat. The score was 19 to 13.

FOOTBALL

Thanksgiving day, Morningside's friendly enemy, Vermillion, came to Sioux City. It was the intention of the South Dakota team to repeat what they had done the previous year. Morningside's ideas were all for revenge. And revenge it was before the Coyote pack was allowed to limp off the field.

The game opened with a bang and it was plain to see that South Dakota had come to win if possible. About the middle of the first quarter the Coyotes started in their drive for points. Morningside fumbled and Ryan, of S. D. U., recovered, giving the Coyotes the ball on Morningside's 15-yard line. Funston then on two plays advanced the ball eight yards, and on the third play added another. It was fourth down and one to go on the Maroon 5-yard line. Malone then made three yards through right tackle. Deklotz then added another yard, placing the ball on the Maroon 1-yard line. Malone crashed over the center of the pile for the counter. Funston's place-kick was successful. The score at the end of the first quarter stood 7 to 0, in favor of S. D. U. The second stanza was a seesaw affair and the first half ended with the same score as at the end of the first quarter.

In the third quarter Morningside opened with passes. A 45-yard pass from Bach to Van Citters placed the ball on the Coyote 20-yard line. Knudsen then made 13 yards around end. Fowler and Swartz both hit the line for two yards apiece, and then Bach raced around right end for a counter. The place-kick was missed. The score at the end of the third quarter stood 7-6, against the Maroons.

The fourth quarter opened and it looked tough for the Maroons. In a very short while Bach had broken a bone in his ankle and was taken out of the game. Jake LaFoy went in for Bach. Something had to be done and it had to be done quickly. Pete Knudsen took it upon himself to do it and he did it in fine style. At this point in the game Knudsen was calling signals from a half-back position. It was Morningside's ball on its own 20-yard line. Fowler made three yards through left tackle. Knudsen passed to Fowler for 10 yards. Knudsen's next pass failed. The next pass to Means netted 10 more yards. At this point Cross went in for Bach. LaFoy then went through left guard for two yards. Knudsen scooted around the end that Redfield, of S. D. U., protected for a 10-yard gain. Knudsen passed to Means for eight yards. Knudsen then passed 45 yards to Van Citters, who placed the ball on S. D. U.'s 10-yard line. Knudsen then slipped around right end for the touchdown that won the game. The game was over shortly after Knudsen had made his well-earned touchdown. The game ended 12 to 7, in favor of Morningside.

The "Dane," as Knudsen is commonly called, was easily the big gun in the last-minute rally of the Maroons. One watching the game could fairly see the "Dane" driving the team to victory. In the last minutes he had a part in every play that netted a gain. He brought the team 80 yards in about three minutes. For this reason he was the hero of the day.

Freshman Football

This was the second year of Freshman football at Morningside. A goodly number of men turned out for the training, some of whom had played football in high schools. Under the direction and training of Coach Ed. Pirwitz, the Freshmen were soon engaging the Varsity in daily scrimmage.

To the Freshmen a great deal of credit for the development of the Varsity must be given. The main object of Freshman football is, however, the training of the new men in the Morningside system, so that they will be ready for the Varsity squad the next year. Some of these new men will surely make good when their turn comes.

The Freshmen who received numerals this year were: William Kerslake, captain and center; Henry Rohwer, guard; Frank Bartholomew, guard, Kenneth Meyers, tackle; Oscar Beck, tackle; Rudolph Willer, tackle; Harold Richardson, end; Page Moorhead, end; Garland Reischle, end; Steve Huff, quarter; William Thacker, quarter; Henry Boone, half; Franklin Roscoe, half; John Miller, half; Abram Williams, full.

BASKETBALL

DALE NORTON

High School Athletic Coach

Coach Norton was graduated in 1920. He was a member of the Othonian Literary Society, now the Alpha Tau Delta fraternity. He was president of the student body in 1920; was president of Pi Kappa Delta, and president of the Othos. He was an inter-society and an inter-fraternity debater. All this has been enumerated to show that he was an all-round man. It was in athletics that he gained his highest honors. He was captain of three sports, football, basketball, and baseball. He is an ardent alumnus and loyal friend of Morningside College, and honors his school in being one of the outstanding men in the high-school coaches of this part of the country.

BASKETBALL

"OBE" WENIG—Basketball Coach

It was not so long ago since "Obe" himself was a basketball star on Morningside's floor. Now he is a maker of stars and championship teams. Allowing for good material, much credit is still due "Obe" for the success of this year's team. We are confident that he can do the same thing with the team of next year.

THE SQUAD

BASKETBALL

HARVEY PETERSEN—"Pete"—Forward and Captain

Captain Petersen was one of the best forwards turned out at Morningside. Although "Pete" did not play full time, he was hard to stop when he did get in. "Pete's" unconscious overhand shots made him dangerous all the time. To Captain Petersen goes the honor of leading Morningside to her first Conference championship in basketball.

BASKETBALL

DWIGHT HAUFF—"Huffy"—Forward

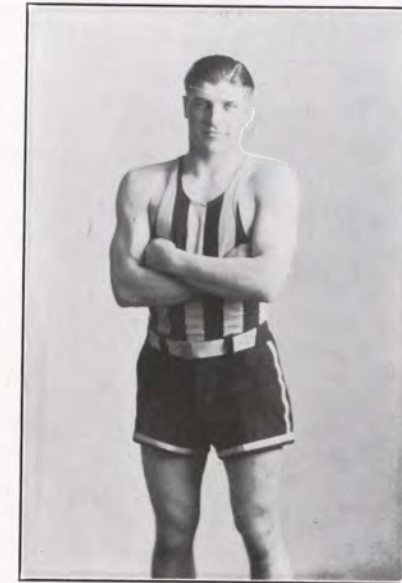

At forward, Hauff was the choice of the Conference. He was placed on the all-Conference team and first on the all-Iowa Conference team, besides being given honorable mention on the all-state team. "Huffy" was always cool under fire and directed his team mates like a veteran. Hauff is undoubtedly one of the best forwards turned out at Morningside.

Championship Drive

Morningside not only had the best basketball team in the history of the school, but also had the best team in the North Central Conference. Starting the season with medium prospects Morningside acquired a record of which she is justly proud. It is a real honor and a just tribute to the playing of any squad of basketball men when they take the Conference title in the North Central Conference. Perhaps there are no faster basketball teams and no keener competition in the United States than are found in the North Central. The basketball of the Conference is of the very highest type. The teams in the Conference defeated many of the big teams in the west. Creighton defeated the Kansas Aggies and the Nebraska U the week before Morningside went to Omaha and defeated Creighton. Creighton early in the season had defeated Ames, and broken even with Minnesota University in a two-game series. The North Dakota Aggies, another one of the good squads of the Conference, opened the season with a victory over the University of Wisconsin, which in the early part of the season led the Big Ten Conference. Then when Morningside takes the title in a Conference that plays such a high grade of basketball it shows that Morningside had one of the very best teams in the United States.

On Friday night, January 8, 1926, Morningside pried off the lid of the basketball season with the traditional opening game with Western Union. After the whistle had started the game, it was easy to see that Morningside had a winning basketball team. The regulars played the first half and at the end the score stood 16 to 5 in favor of Morningside. "Obe" then excused the first string for the remainder of the evening, and ran in all of the second team. The scoring during this half was about

ADOLPH VAN CITTERS—"Bud"—Guard, Captain-elect

"Bud" was the flashiest guard seen on a Morningside court in years. When he got hold of the ball the cry arose, "Don't let him shoot!" Many a time has "Bud" dribbled down the side lines and shot from the center of the floor for a clean basket. He was placed on the second all-conference team, first on the all-Iowa conference team, and second on the all-state team. "Bud" will share the captain's honors next year.

the same as the scoring during the first half. The second string made 20 points while Western Union made 7. This made the final score a 36 to 12 victory in favor of Morningside.

The first Conference game was played January 15, with Nebraska Wesleyan. This was a very interesting game and the Wesleyans showed plenty of fight. The game was marked with defensive efficiency on the part of Morningside. Van Citters played a shifty floor game as well as pulling the visitors' defense out at the opening of the contest in an attempt to stop his long distance shots at the basket. Van located the hoop for a pair of pretty counters from back of center to open the scoring shortly after the first toss-up, and numerous further attempts scooped into the basket and rolled off the rim. At his side Hancer, the other Maroon defensive ace, did a splendid job of getting the ball off from the back board, and only allowed his man a few long shots from difficult angles. Bastian led the scoring for Morningside with three field goals and two free throws. The three forward men were taken out at the end of the first half and substitutes put in their places. The first string guards were retired early in the second half. The score at the end of the game was 26 to 16, in favor of the Maroon team.

Creighton was the next big game on the schedule. The Omaha boys were up the day after the Wesleyan game. Morningside seemingly had lost its eye for the basket and Creighton's eye was working perfectly. Morningside's defense was of such a nature that the Creighton team could not get shots in under the basket, but had to be contented with shots from out in the court. Pohl, a sophomore center, and Ryan,

BASKETBALL

ALVIN HANCER—"Hans"—Guard and Captain-elect

"Little Alvin" made an ideal mate for Van Citters. "Hans," being big and powerful, could take every ball off the back board and give it to his forwards. "Hans'" size made him an ideal man for breaking up plays. He made the second all-Conference team, and the second all-Iowa Conference team. He is one of the captains for next year.

a veteran forward of the Creighton team, seemed to have a special ability at making this kind of shots and the two of them ran up twelve points.

The Morningside boys seemed to be conscious of the fact that they were playing one of the toughest games of the season and did not get into their regular form until late in the game. Although the Maroons lost the game they showed that they could play basketball and each member of the team made up his mind that when his team met Creighton in the future the Maroon team would win.

The count at the end of the first half was 16-7, in favor of Creighton. The Omaha boys came back in the second half and evidently seemed contented with the lead and began the stalling game at which they are more or less noted. The last half was slow and uninteresting, with an occasional attempt by Creighton to break through the Maroon defense; however, most of their attempts went for naught. When the final whistle blew, the score stood 23 to 13, in favor of the Blue Jays. This was one of the three games lost by the Maroons during the season.

On January 23, the basketball team from the University of North Dakota came to Sioux City to meet the Morningside team. This aggregation was "doped" to be one of the strongest teams in the conference, and their record for the season showed that the "dopesters" were not far from right. Morningside opened the game with a flash and had rung up eight points before the Flickertails knew what was happening. At this point in the game Captain Boe, of the Flickertails, managed to get a basket. This did not stop the Maroons' scoring, and soon they had four more points. This made the score 12 to 2, in favor of Morningside. Coach Letich, of the visitors, then took four of his regulars out of the game, leaving in only Boe at guard. The substitutes seemed to do somewhat better the remainder of the half. The score at the half was 16 to 9, in favor of the Maroons.

THE SIOUX OF FULFILLMENT

BASKETBALL

RALPH BASTIAN—"Redfield"—Forward

Bastian is another Sophomore find. Ralph led the team in total points scored, his biggest stunt being to throw in short ones from under the basket. His size and shooting ability made him an ideal running mate for Hauff. Bastian also has two more years left.

The visitors came back in the second half and fought a hard fight, but were unable to stop the Maroon machine. The game ended with a score of 23 to 15, in favor of Morningside. This defeat took the Flickertails out of the Conference race, leaving only the North Dakota Aggies and Creighton as the undefeated teams. The next night, however, the rejuvenated Flickertails put an end to Creighton's hope for the title.

On the night of February 5, the team met the Nebraska Wesleyan team in a return game on the Wesleyan's floor. The first string played only a portion of the game, and the second team finished the contest. The Maroons won an easy victory by a score of 28 to 21.

While on the Nebraska trip the squad met and defeated Midland College. This was a slow affair and the Maroons missed many opportunities to score; as a result, they were fortunate to win the game by a 24 to 16 score.

The North Dakota Aggies were the next opponents for the Morningside squad and took advantage of an opportunity to strengthen their chances for the championship by taking a hard fought game from the Maroons. The Bisons started off with a flash and soon had a big lead on the Morningside team. It looked as if there would be a big score piled up by the Aggies. All the scoring was done by "Cy" Arnold, North Dakota running guard. He made six baskets in about the same number of minutes from far out in the playing court. These baskets were perfect, the ball never even so much as hitting the back board. It was these twelve points that gave the game to the Bisons. With eight minutes left to play the Maroon team took action. The score at this time was 18-13. Hancer came through on an out of bounds play and took the ball from Hauff and rolled it through the loop. In a second or two Bastian,

HAVEN MEANS—"Hooley"—Center

Means was one of the flashy Sophomore finds this year. When it comes to handling the ball, he can't be excelled. Although playing his first year of varsity basketball, he made the second all-Conference team and the first all-Iowa Conference team. "Hooley" has two more years.

on a quick break play, took the ball from Means for a second counter. This made the score 18 to 17. At this point, however, the North Dakota outfit came back to left, Blakely coming through for a basket. This ended Morningside's scoring, and the game ended 23 to 17, in favor of the North Dakota Aggies.

Arnold, guard, and Blakely, forward and center, were beyond question the cream of the Bisons. Aside from one free throw which McPherson annexed, these two composed the Aggie scoring machine. Both men exhibited a wonderful brand of basketball, and in the art of handling the ball were probably the classiest basketeters who visited Sioux City during the entire season.

To Hauff, forward on the Methodist aggregation, goes a great deal of the credit for giving the Aggies such a close call. Hauff registered four of the seven goals that Morningside made, and played a splendid floor game. Hancer, in the back court, broke up the plays under the basket. Hancer also performed very consistently on the defense throughout the game.

With a two-day rest after the North Dakota Aggie game, the Morningside team was in condition to administer the first of a series of three defeats to the South Dakota University basketeters. The first half of this game was very one-sided. Morningside had no difficulty in scoring and stopped the advances of the visitors at will. The first half ended with a score of 16 to 5, in favor of Morningside. The Vermillion group were not to be defeated so easily as one might have thought by the proceedings in the first half. They came back and made 18 points. But the Maroons were making their points also. The game ended with a heavy score, but Morningside was still far in the lead. The score at the end was 35 to 23, in favor of Morningside.

On the Monday following the South Dakota game here, the Maroon team went to Vermillion to play. This game was a battle royal; the game at one time looked

BASKETBALL

RUSSELL KNUDSEN—"Pete"—Forward

Although "Pete" didn't quite make a letter he was a valuable man to the team. A hard worker and a good shot, he could be put in the game at any time without weakening the team. "Pete" will be back next year and he is expected to show up among the best of the boys.

ORVILLE CROSTON—Forward

Although Croston did not make his letter, he was out every night and was a big help to the team. This is Croston's last year. We are glad he was a member of a championship squad.

very much as if it would be a victory for South Dakota. However, about this time "Pete" Petersen, of the Morningside aggregation, got hot and made two baskets in a row from difficult angles. This gave Morningside a one-point lead. Then in the closing seconds of the game "Dane" Knudsen made a free throw which gave Morningside a two-point lead. The final score was 23 to 21.

The next trip for the team was a journey to Omaha to play a return game with Creighton. The Maroon team well remembered the defeat by the Blue Jays earlier in the season and had vowed to have vengeance. It was with a spirit of revenge that the Maroon team opened the game on the Creighton floor, and at no time in the game did Creighton look like a winner. Early in the game Morningside took the lead and the Omaha boys were never able to catch up. The Morningside defense worked perfectly. The Creighton team were forced to take all of their shots from out in the court, and were not as fortunate with these long shots as they were the night that they played in Sioux City.

A great deal of the credit of the victory goes to the two "Petes", who played practically half of the game. It was at the opening of the last half that "Pete" Petersen made two baskets in a row that seemed to take the pep out of the Blue Jay outfit. "Pete" Knudsen played a fast floor game. When the final whistle blew, the Maroons had piled up 26 points while Creighton had secured 22 points in the same amount of time.

February 25, the Morningside basketball team were the hosts to the team from the Des Moines University, and gave the Capital City boys a very warm reception.

BASKETBALL

JACK MILLER—Center

Jack was an inexperienced man but soon picked up on style of play. He was inserted in several games and is expected to go big next year.

MARINUS JENSEN—"Jens"—Center

"Jens" was another member of the shock troops. He didn't make his letter but was out all season and played in several games. "Jens" has one more year to develop into a good center.

The dopesters had said that this was to be a very close game, but the Maroons, fired by the visions of a championship, were going in top notch form. Substitutes were sent into the fray when the score was 24 to 6; most of these substitutes were playing their first Conference basketball. They did very well and at half time the score was 26 to 11.

The Tigers showed more life in the last half and fought hard but with no avail. The substitutes played until practically the last minute; then "Obe" ran the regulars in for a minute or so. The game ended as a big victory for Morningside. The final score was 35 to 19.

February 27 found the Coyotes back for more basketball. They opened the game in a peculiar manner. Many teams stall when the game is about over, but very seldom does a team stall in the opening minutes of a game when the score is 0-0. This was the method that Vermillion chose to follow for the first minutes of the opening half. The first eleven minutes of this game were just a show of passing between the South Dakota players. After the spectators had stood about all the "stand-still" basketball they cared to see in one evening, Running, a South Dakota forward, made a dash to break through the Maroon defense. He was stopped by Van Citters, who committed a foul in the attempt to stop him. This South Dakota forward registered one of the free throws allotted to him by the referee. This was the first scoring after exactly twelve minutes of wasted time.

The last twenty minutes of the game were characterized by fast basketball. The Coyotes were determined that they should taste victory, but the Maroons could not see it that way. Through the use of long shooting, the Coyote team came within two

FREDERICK OKERBERG—"Red"—Guard

Whenever Hancer was taken out on fouls, it was Okerberg who took his place. "Red's" size and speed made him a valuable man to break up plays and start the offense. "Red" has two more years of competition and should develop into a letter man.

RALPH EBERLY—Guard

Eberly was "Bud's" understudy and saw action in several games. Ralph missed his letter by just a few minutes. Being a Sophomore he has plenty of time to develop and show his stuff.

points of tying the score; however, the final whistle checked their last minute rally, giving Morningside a 23 to 21 victory.

Individual honors for the Maroons went to Dwight Hauff, Maroon forward, who caged five neat goals and was the sensation of the whole battle. Means deserves no small amount of credit for playing a shifty floor game and being instrumental in stopping the Coyotes' offense before it got well under way.

Most of the student body of Morningside migrated to Vermillion on the night of March 1, to see the Morningside basketball team play the final game of the season with the South Dakota University team. The students went in anything that had wheels under it. Two of the Sioux Falls busses were chartered. About 300 of the students went to Vermillion only to find that they were too late to get a place to see the game, because of the small amount of room for spectators.

This was the fourth game that Morningside had played with Vermillion during the season. Morningside had won the first three. The Maroon players were handicapped by the smallness of the South Dakota gymnasium. Then, too, the knowledge of a championship being tucked safely away whether the game was won or lost certainly had some bearings on the results of the game.

The Coyotes shot baskets from all angles and distances, and played a high-class basketball game in every sense of the word, while the Maroons were far below standard. The final score was 38 to 22, and was the only game during the season in which a Maroon opponent was able to score more than 23 points, which goes to show that the Maroons were indifferent as to the outcome of the game.

BASKETBALL

DONALD CROSS—Forward

On account of injuries, Cross didn't join the squad until late. His speed and height made him an ideal forward. Cross has two years before him to develop into a real player.

The Class Tournament

Some discussion arose as to which of the classes could present the best basketball team. The Juniors, who had captured the class tournament of the past two years, were quite sure that they could repeat the performance this year. The dopesters rather favored the Junior team; however, the other three classes felt very differently about the matter. In order to settle the controversies that arose it was necessary to play a round-robin tournament.

BASKETBALL

Freshman Basketball

As soon as the football season was over Freshman Coach Ed. Pirwitz issued a call for basketball men, and there was a squad of thirty-five men who answered the call. In the class of '29 there were a great many basketball players of experience and ability. These men were trained and taught the fundamentals by Coach Pirwitz until by the end of the season he had developed a team that the varsity had trouble in holding down.

The main object of Freshman athletics is to develop the men and to teach them the essentials of college basketball, and with this idea in mind there were very few games scheduled for the year.

The Freshmen met early in the season and chose Kenneth Meyers, of Ruthven, as captain of the team. Meyers has had considerable experience and has ability. He played the center position practically the entire season for the Freshmen.

The first game that the Freshmen played was with Hanford. The Hanford team started off with a flash and had a 4-point lead on the Frosh before they had waked up. After that the Hanford scoring was limited. They were contented with two more field goals during the game. The final score was 28 to 8, in favor of the Freshmen.

The next game was with the Stock Yards. The Freshmen had an easy time with this team and annexed a 37 to 15 victory.

The Freshmen made a trip to Vermillion next and there played a game with the Freshmen of South Dakota University. Morningside's team seemed to be a little off its regular form, and before they got into condition the Coyote Pups had a large enough lead to assure them victory. The Morningside team, however, was handicapped throughout the game by the small South Dakota floor. This was the first game that the Freshmen had lost, and they lost this by only a very small margin.

The final game for the Freshmen was a return game with the South Dakota Freshmen. In this game the Freshmen were out for revenge. The game was nip and tuck throughout until about the last two minutes. The Morningside team then pulled away from the South Dakota group and ended the game by having a good lead over the Coyote Pups. The final score was 28 to 21, in favor of the Morningside Freshmen.

Aside from the games that the Freshmen had, they were instrumental in the development of the championship basketball team which Morningside had this season. All of the varsity plays were first tried on the Freshmen. It was the Freshmen who gave the varsity strong opposition; in this they were a large factor in the development of the varsity team.

THE SIOUX OF FULFILLMENT

TRACK

LESLIE H. KINGSBURY

Attorney and Business Man

Leslie Kingsbury received his A. B. degree from Morningside, and was graduated in Law from the University of Nebraska in 1915. In 1913, he was president of the Othonian Literary Society, now the Alpha Tau Delta fraternity. He was an inter-society and inter-collegiate debater. In athletics, "King" won his letter in track. Since 1916, he has been attorney for the W. S. Gilman Co. We count "King" the best booster we have among the business men in Sioux City.

EDWIN HAAKINSON—Captain

Ed was unable to be in all the meets last year because of a heavy schedule and working. His event was the high hurdles, and he could be counted on to bring in points.

Track, 1925

The track season of 1925, while not one of the most outstanding in the history of the College, was a season to be proud of. The team lacked material for certain of the events that made it very difficult for the team as a whole to show up well at meets. However, some of the men were outstanding stars in their own events. The team placed fourth in the North Central Conference meet. The mile relay team made a good showing at the Drake Relays. Morningside took two seconds and a third at the Dakota Relays.

JAKE LAFOY—Captain-elect

Because of an operation, Jake was unable to perform for Morningside last year, but is expected to be a valuable man in the longer dashes and on the relay teams.

A few words should be said about the personnel of the team. Captain Ed. Haakinson ran a strong race in the high hurdles in the Conference meet, winning fourth place in the event. Donald Hartzell was one of the outstanding men of the squad. He showed up well at the Iowa Conference meet, tying for individual honors. He made some splendid records in the dashes and the broad jump. The dashes were his best events. He will make a fine man for the next two seasons, and should develop into one of the fastest men that Morningside has turned out. "Red" Williams, a quarter miler, showed his real ability in the quarter that he ran as his part of the mile relay in the Conference meet. After placing fourth in the quarter-mile dash, Williams came back in the mile relay and ran the fastest quarter of the day. Williams has two seasons left. Hoon and Share, both veterans, showed up well all during the season. Both were members of the mile relay team. "Snaky" Johnson, who as the nickname implies is long and lanky, was the best half miler of the squad. Johnson had a slow, easy pace of his own that generally wore out the other runners and allowed him to come in for the victory. Charles Bach showed up well in the low hurdle event and the 220-yard dash. Bach is a very promising man for the next two seasons. "Bud" Van Citters represented Morningside in the weights

"Don" is a speed king de luxe. Last year he won individual honors at the Iowa Conference meet and also won fourth in the 100 and 220 in the North Central Conference meet. Two more years of development and it is predicted that Hartzell will be one of the best in the country.

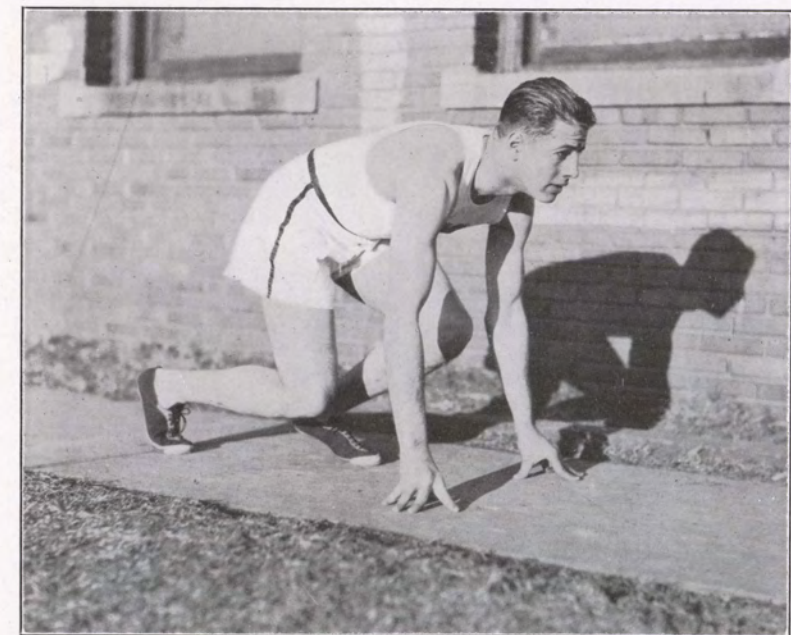

TRACK

CHARLES BACH

Charley won his letter during his Freshman year, and has been going strong since. His strong point is the low hurdles, and he may be relied upon to bring points in this event.

TRACK

ADOLPH VAN CITTERS

Van is Morningside's best bet in the weights. With his size and action, Van is expected to do great things next year.

NEWELL (Red) WILLIAMS

"Red" is one of the best quarter milers in the Conference. Last year "Red" made his letter at the Iowa Conference meet. Williams always runs the last lap of the mile relay team.

and the discus. "Van" is noted for his ability to push out the shot. "Pete" Knudsen showed up nicely in the javelin throw and the low hurdles. This was Pete's first year at track and no doubt next season he will be a valuable man. Kelcy Isenberg ran the high hurdles at the Conference meet and copped a third place; his event, however, is in the high jumping division. He made some very good jumps in the meets that he was in last year. Jensen was Isenberg's mate in the high jump, and made a good record all year. Foster Swartz represented Morningside in the vaulting event. Captain-elect Jake LaFoy did not get a chance to show his ability this year, because of an operation. Jake will be very valuable to the team of 1926. Because of his records in 1923 and 1924 he was chosen captain.

Glen Ingram and Donald MacIntosh represented Morningside in the mile event, they showed up very well and should be good men for 1926. Donald Hunter and Roy Hansen were the men who represented Morningside in the two-mile run. Hunter ran a good race in the Conference meet, and placed fourth in spite of the stubborn competition.

With most of the men back and a talented group of Freshmen coming in, the prospects of a winning season in 1926 are bright.

TRACK

ARTHUR JOHNSON

Johnson ran the half-mile and also was a member of the mile relay team. Johnson won parts in both the North Central Conference and Iowa Conference meets. This was his last year.

CLARENCE HOON

Hoon had bad luck last year and failed to make his letter. His best runs were the 440. Hoon will be missed as he has gained many points for M. C.

THE DAKOTA RELAYS

On Saturday, May 2, 1925, the Morningside track team participated in the Third Annual Dakota Relays held at Sioux Falls. In the classification of the colleges, Morningside was placed in the university class, in which all of the larger schools of the meet were entered. In spite of the strong competition Morningside was able to hold her own by taking second in the mile relay, and second in the medley event. The members of the mile relay team were Share, Williams, Hoon, and Johnson. The team that took second in the medley event consisted of Hartzell, Williams, Johnson, and Hoon. Morningside was able to take only a third in the two-mile relay. The team running in this event consisted of Johnson, MacIntosh, Ingram, and Gray. The Morningside Freshmen won the medley relay race for Conference colleges.

TRACK

KELCY ISENBERG

Kelcy was Morningside's best bet in the high hurdles, winning his letter in this event. He also is a high jumper. With two more years of competition, he should become a real point winner.

DONALD HUNTER

Hunter made his letter in the two-mile run in the Conference meet. He has two more years of competition and while he is in school Morningside need not look any farther for a two-miler.

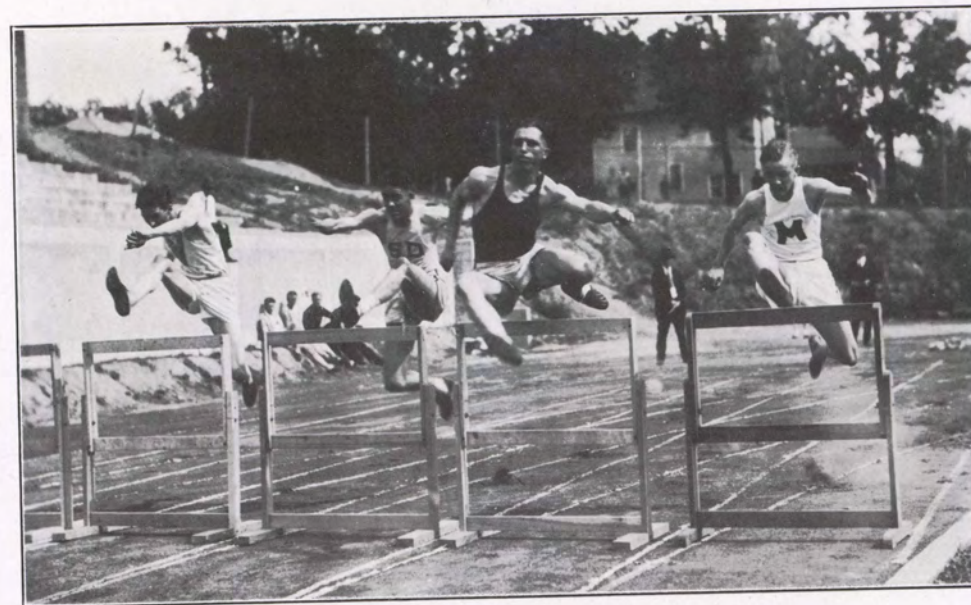

DONALD MACKINTOSH

Donald's specialty was the distance events. He has one more year of competition.

GLEN INGRAM

Ingram represented Morningside in the distance events. With another year of competition Ingram should make a good record for himself and the school.

The Iowa Conference Meet

On Saturday, May 9, 1925, the Morningside track team went to Des Moines, where it participated in the Iowa Conference track meet. The team on the whole was in an eclipse, but Hartzell stood out like a star. He took first in the 220-yard dash and first in the 100-yard dash. These two events made it possible for him to tie with Auld, of Penn College, for individual honors, both having a total of 10 points. The men who made the trip were Hartzell, Jensen, Isenberg, Bach, Van Citters, Williams, Johnson, and Hoon. The track was heavy and the day cold.

Home Track and Field Meet

By taking first places in nine events out of sixteen and placing in all but one, the track and field team representing the Sophomore class annexed 76 points and easily won the Morningside class title at Bass Field oval, Friday afternoon, May 15. The Freshmen were second with 37 points, the Seniors third with 22, and the Juniors last with 9.

Cross, who scored firsts in the 100-yard dash and broad jump, a second in the 220-yard dash, and ran on the winning half-mile relay team, won high honors with 14 $\frac{1}{4}$ points. Van Citters, a Sophomore, took first in the javelin throw and shot put, and second in the discus throw, which gave him second honors with 13 points. Hartzell, a Sophomore, by taking first in the 220-yard dash, a second in the 100-yard dash, and a second in the broad jump, took third honors with 11 points. Bach, by taking a first in the 220-yard low hurdles and a first in the discus throw, annexed 10 points, thus earning fourth honors.

Drake Relays

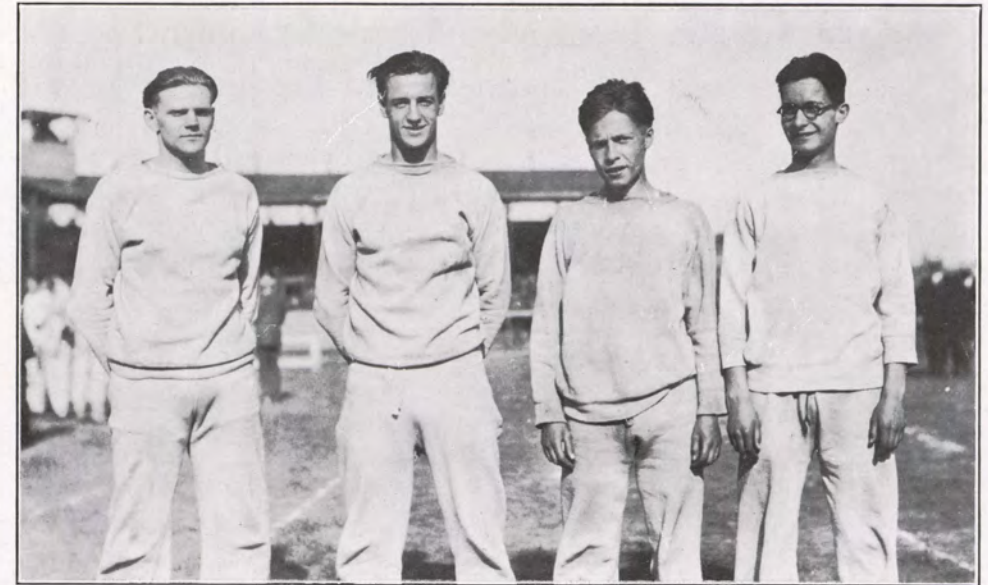

Morningside sent only a mile relay team to the Drake Relays. The team consisted of Williams, Hoon, Share, and Johnson. On Friday the team ran in the Iowa Conference mile event, but did not place. Saturday the team ran in the all-college mile event. They copped a third place in their heat. The previous heat, however, had gone in faster time; thus at the final ranking Morningside did not place.

Conference Cross Country Run

On Friday, November 6, 1925, the cross country team, consisting of Donald MacIntosh and Donald Hunter, ran in the Annual Conference Cross Country Run held at Des Moines. Although unfamiliar with the course, MacIntosh took a fourth and Hunter took a sixth, giving Morningside a total of 10 points, which gave her third place.

The ranking of the various schools was as follows:

Nebraska Wesleyan	7 points
South Dakota State.....	9 points
Morningside	10 points
Creighton	13 points
South Dakota University.....	15 points
Des Moines	25 points

FRESHMAN MILE RELAY TEAM
Cross, Means, Koch, Kamphoefner.

Freshman Track

This was the first year for Freshman track at Morningside and the results were very pleasing. Many men were developed that will mean much to the varsity this season. The Freshmen started off the year by taking second in the Telegraphic meet for Conference Freshmen. Cross made some of the best records in the dashes that were made. The South Dakota University Freshmen took first.

The Freshmen went to the Dakota Relays with the "Big Boys of the Varsity," and really copped more honors than their big brothers. The Freshman half-mile medley team took first place in their event, with South Dakota State second, and South Dakota University third. The team consisted of Kamphoefner, H. Koch, Means, and Cross.

In the Home Meet the Freshmen took second place with 37 points. Cross, Means, Okerberg, and the half-mile relay team consisting of Kamphoefner, Sargent, H. Koch, and Cross, were largely responsible for the points won.

In the Conference Meet the Freshmen were beaten out of first honors in the half-mile relay by the Des Moines University Freshmen. These men were all artists; they took first honors by running the half-mile relay in 1:36.2, which was just :03.7 slower than the varsity event for the same distance. The Morningside Freshmen ran a good race and beat South Dakota State and South Dakota University, and took second honors for themselves.

Dual Meet Between Morningside Freshmen and University of South Dakota Freshmen

On Monday, May the 25th, the South Dakota University Freshmen met the Morningside Freshmen in a dual meet at Bass Field. Morningside Freshmen showed their real strength by sending the Dakota bunch home with the small end of the points. Morningside grabbed 64 points while South Dakota got 53. One of the features of the contest was the plucky two-mile race that Melvin Rogers ran. Thoroughly exhausted from the one-mile event, the gritty Freshman came back and took first in the two-mile event. Cross also showed up strong in the dashes and the jumping events. He clipped the 100-yard event off in 10 flat and the 220 in :22.7. Okerberg won the shot and discus and placed in the javelin throw.

Summary of the Events

- 100-yard Dash—Cross (Morningside), first; Dubel (S. D. U.), second. Time, :10.
 Mile Run—Gieson (S. D. U.), first; M. Rogers (Morningside), second. Time, 4:58.6.
 120-yard High Hurdles—Means (Morningside), first; Dubel (S. D. U.), second. Time, :16.8.
 Pole Vault—Crill (S. D. U.), first; Miller (Morningside), second. Height, 10 ft. 9 in.
 Shot Put—Okerberg (Morningside), first; Means (Morningside), second. Distance, 35 ft. 6 in.
 Discus Throw—Okerberg (Morningside), first; Bacon (S. D. U.), second. Distance, 107 ft. 9½ in.
 Javelin Throw—Quirk (S. D. U.), first; Okerberg (Morningside), second. Distance, 155 ft.
 220-yard Dash—Cross (Morningside), first; Sargent (Morningside), second. Time, :22.7.
 220-yard Low Hurdles—Dubel (S. D. U.), first; Quirk (S. D. U.), second. Time, :28.3.

 Mile Relay—Morningside (Cross, Means, H. Koch, Gorthy), first. Time, 3:43.3.

Conference Meet

The Conference Track Meet was held on Bass Field, May 22 and 23, 1925. All of the schools of the North Central Conference were present, in the best of form, which made the competition very keen. The whole meet was more or less of a dual between Creighton and South Dakota University. South Dakota took the meet with 43 points, Creighton being only 3 points behind. Keane, of Creighton, was high point man with 13 points.

Five records were established during the two days of competition and two other records were equalled. Oscar Wiberg, of Nebraska Wesleyan, broke the former record for the shot put with a 45 ft. 2 in. throw. Laemmle, of North Dakota University, threw the discus 132 ft. 11¾ in., setting a new record. Kelly set a record in the preliminaries of 15.6 seconds for the 120-yard high hurdles. A bad fall in the finals caused him not to place. Dunkak, of South Dakota University, hurled the javelin for a new mark with a throw of 176 ft. 9¾ in. Sterling Clark, of South Dakota University, ran the 220-yard dash in 21.9 seconds in the preliminaries on Friday, which set a new record.

Morningside took fourth place in the meet with 19 points. Isenberg took a third, and Haakinson a fourth in the 120-yard high hurdles. Hartzell took a fourth in the 100-yard dash. The Freshman half-mile relay went to Des Moines University with the Morningside Freshmen close on their heels. Williams took a fourth in the quarter-mile run, and then came back and ran the fastest quarter of the day in the mile relay, in which Morningside took a second. Jensen took a second in the high jump. Johnson placed third in the half-mile run. Hartzell placed fourth in the 220-yard dash and second in the broad jump. In the two-mile run Hunter took fourth. Morningside Freshmen were able only to get fourth in the Freshman mile relay. Morningside took a fourth in the half-mile relay.

The following is the standing of the teams:

South Dakota University.....	43
Creighton University	40
North Dakota University.....	20
Morningside	19
Nebraska Wesleyan	18
Des Moines University.....	15
South Dakota State.....	14½
North Dakota Aggies.....	6½

THE SIOUX OF FULFILLMENT

Women's Athletics

IDA BELLE LEWIS

Missionary and College President

Miss Lewis received her A. B. degree from Morningside in 1909. From 1910 to 1915 she served as a teacher in a Chinese girls' school. She later was a student at Columbia University, receiving her M. A. degree in 1916, and her Ph. D. degree in 1919. Her second term of service with the W. F. M. S. was in 1919-1924, when she was General Secretary of Women's Educational Work. Her highest honor has come this year in being installed as President of Hwa Nan College, Foochow, China.

Reid, Empey, McDonald, Sturtevant.
Asmussen, Anderson, Mosier.

Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association of Morningside College was organized in May, 1924. It is the purpose of the organization to stimulate an interest in gymnastics and athletic activities among all the girls of Morningside. The organization is modeled after plans of other colleges and works in connection with the national system. Within the last year, after studying the systems of various other schools, our old point plan has been reorganized, making it possible for a girl who is truly interested in athletics to earn her sweater in three years, thus giving her the privilege of wearing it during her senior year. The membership in the association is open to all women of the school who have earned 125 points and whose grades average a C. The organization is governed by an executive board, composed of the officers, the managers of each sport, and the advisor.

Interest in W. A. A. has been especially keen this year. The wide membership standard provides for the admission of many splendid girls and this makes it possible for W. A. A. to be one of the strongest and most active organizations on the campus. A great deal of interest has been shown this year at hockey tournaments, basketball games, initiations, and parties which the organization has fostered.

W. A. A. tries to interest every athletic girl at all seasons of the year with her favorite sport. In the fall hockey, volley ball, and tennis are sponsored; the winter season offers basketball, marching, and apparatus work; and the spring is a busy season with track, baseball, and tennis. For several years interpretative dancing has been taught which has developed talent for the May Fete. This year marked the beginning of a new event, the Harvest Festival, which was sponsored by W. A. A. and Agora Club.

Two of our members, Iris Anderson and Eula Eberly, attended a W. A. A. convention held at Ames in November, and brought to us many new plans and ideas, some of which have been put into practice.

With a busy, interesting past such as Morningside W. A. A. has seen, the future possibilities of the women's athletic department of our college should be filled with hopes of bigger and better accomplishments.

ANNAPOLIS

Bunch, Peterson, McDonald, Down, Asmussen.
Line, Bergh, Benedict.

Hockey

This year a new idea was introduced to close our hockey season. Instead of choosing one varsity team as has been done in the past, this year two teams were picked, given the titles of West Point and Annapolis, and asked to play the final game of the hockey season. These two teams were chosen after the close of the inter-class tournament. The Sophomores were without a doubt the winners of the hockey tournament for they won from the Freshmen and Upperclassmen in the two hard-fought, close games.

WEST POINT

Barnum, Sturtevant, Anderson, Hartzell.
McCoy, Weaver, Reid.

The girls comprising the West Point team were the winners in the West Point-Annapolis game. An effort is being made to give this game the place in the hockey season which the Harvard-Yale game occupies in the basketball season.

Hartzell, McCoy, Asmussen, Sturtevant, Down.

Baseball

The championship baseball team for the spring of 1925 was composed of members of the present Junior class who were then Sophomores.

Yale-Harvard Game

The girls' basketball season came to a close on Friday evening, March 26, with the Yale-Harvard game. At the close of the class tournaments each year, two varsity teams are chosen to compose the Yale and Harvard line-up. This year the entire student body was divided into two groups, headed by yell leaders, one representing Yale, the other, Harvard. As has been customary for the past two years the young men of the institution were invited to attend and enjoy the evening's entertainment.

Between halves, two dancing numbers were presented and several gymnastic feats were performed; and at the close of the game the M. C. sweaters, monograms, numerals, and trophies were awarded the winners.

The game itself was fast, showing good teamwork, and practice on the part of the players.

Volleyball

The volley ball tournament held just before Thanksgiving ended with a victory for the Freshman class. They won from both the Sophomores and Upperclass teams, earning an undisputed claim to the championship.

Hartzell, Reid, Eberly, Sturtevant, Benedict.
Anderson, Asmussen.

Class Basketball

Basketball honors, in the form of a silver loving cup, were won for the third time by the class of 1927, the Juniors. The tournament ended with a triple tie, the Seniors being eliminated and the other three classes each having lost one game. In order to determine the championship, on March 15 the tie was played off and the Juniors won, from the Sophomores by a score of 24 to 22, and from the Freshmen by a 16 to 14 score. The class of '27 has held the basketball championship for three consecutive years, earning the possession of the silver loving cup. The line-ups for the three teams included Hoover, Fowler, Sherwood, Schmidt, Woods, for the Frosh; McDonald, Strom, Pixler, Weaver, Clift, Squires, for the Sophs; Sturtevant, Anderson, Eberly, Asmussen, Hartzell, Reid, and Benedict, for the Juniors; and Burns, Bergh, Metcalf, Chesterman, Empey, Maynard, and Brashear, for the Seniors.

M. C. Sweater Winners

VEO BURNS

Veo is one of our few athletic Seniors. She has been faithful in all activities even through busy Senior days, debate work, and music. She has won points for four years in nearly all sports. She is an all-round, peppy, clean athlete whom W. A. A. can well be proud to point out as an M. C. sweater winner of 1926.

IRIS ANDERSON

Iris is a Junior this year and as such should be highly proud to wear an M. C. sweater, for she is the first Junior girl in Morningside to receive such an honor. She has worked hard and earnestly for three years in all fields of athletic work. She is the possessor of 1,225 points, more than any other W. A. A. girl can claim. One very seldom sees any team representing her class without Iris as one of its members. W. A. A. may well be proud to have such an athlete wear an M. C. sweater.

LOUELLA EMPEY

Although most of Louella's time has been spent at the Conservatory, she has also been a prominent Senior at the gym. Louella has worked hard for four years, in a variety of sports, toward that final achievement which was attained at the Yale-Harvard game when she became the possessor of a well-earned M. C. sweater.

Harvest Festival

This year, for the first time, a Harvest Festival was given by the girls' gymnasium classes under the direction of Miss Parkhill. It was presented by the Agora Club, and the proceeds were used in buying the new girls' athletic field. A special feature was the crowning of the Harvest Queen, whose identity was not revealed until the night of the festival. Miss Zoe Kellogg, of Sioux City, has the distinction of being Morningside's first Harvest Queen.

The pageant was divided into three parts, which were given as follows:

SCENE I

"WORK OF THE HARVEST"

The harvest day is ushered in by Dawn, and the Toilers of the field go forth to their work. They are refreshed by the wine and fruit bearers at high noon. A shepherd and shepherdess come to dance for them. They grow drowsy and see in their dreams the Spirit of Corn. Shouts arouse the toilers and a group of peasants rush in with the Queen of the Harvest, who is crowned. The scene ends with a riotous country dance of the peasants.

Dawn	Shepherd and Shepherdess
Toilers	Spirit of Corn
Wine Bearers	Country Dance

SCENE II

"GIFTS OF THE HARVEST"

The queen is on her throne awaiting the nations to pay their tribute.

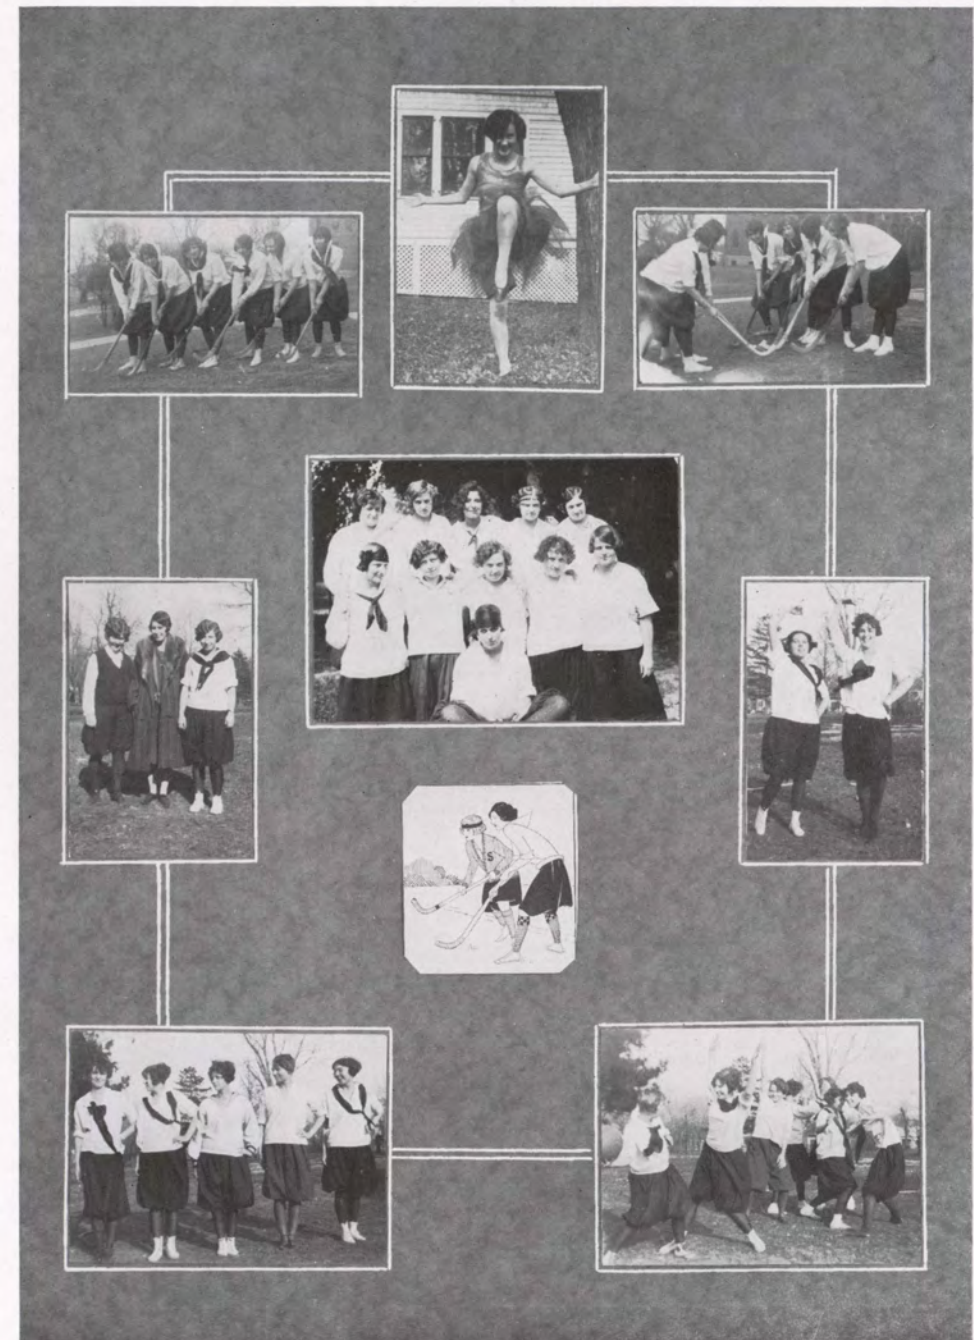

Scotch Dance	Russian Dance
Dutch Dance	Yankee Dance
Italian Dance	Spanish Dance
Irish Dance	Hungarian Dance

SCENE III

"JOYS OF THE HARVEST"

The Harvest work is over, and the peasants are enjoying themselves in song and dance. Two small boys come in and clog. An old man entertains them also. When the jollity is ended all wend their way home. The Harvest day is ended with the Harvest Moon Finale.

Clog	Clog	Harvest Moon Finale

May Fete

The annual May Fete was given on May thirteenth, by the members of the dancing classes under the direction of Miss Marjorie Fish. The dancing and the pantomine were both excellently portrayed, and were enhanced by effective lighting.

The honor of being the May Queen for nineteen hundred twenty-five was accorded Miss Carol Moen.

The loyal enthusiasm of Morningside College students has long been an inspiration to those who have been intimately connected with the college. If a college spirit is to be worthwhile it should be retained by the alumnus. Among the groups in the family, the alumni, in ever increasing strength, should play a constant and lively part. By example and performance they should contribute largely toward the attainments of the college. I believe that the loyalty and the accomplishments of our alumni have, in the past, contributed to the steady growth of our college. And in even greater measure for the future does Morningside need from her alumni courageous leadership in the effort through which we all hope to achieve a greater Morningside College.

ORGANIZATIONS

The Christian Service Club

OFFICERS

- Dolores Barnum President
- Earl Josten..... First Vice President
- Edgar Schuler..... Second Vice President
- Lester Shires Secretary
- Bethel Ross Treasurer

The Christian Service Club was formed this year by the union of the Oxford Club and the Student Volunteer Band. The Oxford Club was an organization of young men who were planning to enter the Christian ministry, and the Student Volunteer Band was a group dedicated to foreign service. Anyone who is planning full time Christian service is eligible to membership in this new organization.

ORGANIZATIONS

The German Club

OFFICERS

- Edgar Schuler President
- Theodore Molendorp..... Vice President
- Roxana Schaper Treasurer
- Rudolph Willer Secretary

The purpose of Der Deutsche Verein is to study German life, language, music, and literature, and to offer opportunity for practice in German conversation. Entertainment at the meetings of the club takes the form of German plays, lectures, debates, and games. This is the oldest of the language clubs.

ORGANIZATIONS

The Biology Club

OFFICERS

Charles Spiker President
 Margaret Tiedeman..... Vice President
 Claire Milne Secretary-Treasurer

The Biology Club was organized two years ago. Its membership consists mostly of major and minor students in the Biology Department of the college, although others who may be interested are welcomed. The purpose of the club is both instructive and social. The club tries to take advantage of opportunities presented when men prominent in biological circles come to the city. The outstanding event of the past school year was a dinner given in honor of Professor N. E. Hansen of the Horticultural Department of South Dakota State College.

ORGANIZATIONS

The Spanish Club

OFFICERS

Donald Hartzell President
 Gladys Thompson..... Vice President
 Mildred Hickman Secretary-Treasurer

The Spanish Club is now in its third year and is one of the most active language clubs on the campus. The purpose of the club is to give its members practice in the use of Spanish and to acquaint them with the ways and habits of people in Spanish-speaking countries.

ORGANIZATIONS

The Preachers' Kids Club

OFFICERS

Clara Metcalf President
 Donald Hartzell..... Vice President
 Almus Larson Secretary-Treasurer

The Preachers' Kids Club is an organization to which any in college who may be children of ministers are eligible. The object of the "P. K." Club is purely social. It offers an excellent opportunity for those with similar interests to meet and seek entertainment together. The Morningside group is a branch of the national organization of the same name.

The Freshman Girls' Commission is sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. for the purpose of interesting the Freshman girls in this angle of college life. Each group is a separate organization, each having its own officers who may or may not conduct the regular meetings, as the girls themselves decide. Each group is under the leadership of an upperclass girl. Discussions are held on topics of interest to the girls, and devotions usually open the meetings. Teas and parties are held several times during the year.

RALPH C. PRICHARD
Attorney, State Representative

Ralph Prichard was graduated from Morningside in 1915. He is now a representative to the state legislature from Woodbury County. While in school, he was a member of the Philomathean Literary Society, now the Phi Sigma fraternity. As a Philo debater, he no doubt gained practice for his very efficient debating down at the state house. He won his letter in baseball. During the World War he served in the army of occupation of the A. E. F. He received a commission as a first lieutenant. Mr. Prichard has always been found ready and quick to respond to any call from Morningside College.

Participation in any inter-collegiate forensic contest makes a student eligible for membership in the Morningside, Iowa, Delta Chapter of the Pi Kappa Delta, a national honorary forensic fraternity. There were but eleven old members back at the first of the year, but seventeen "neophytes" were taken in, making a total of twenty-eight. From all reports the poor little neophytes thought they surely were "taken in" after the initiation. It seems that one of the basic principles of Pi Kappa Delta is "Spare the paddle and spoil the neophyte."

TePaske, H. Larson, Fogg, G. Larson. .
Squires, Jack, L. Hickman, M. Hickman.

The Pi Kappa Delta National Convention

At the biennial national convention at Estes Park, Morningside was represented by eight Pi Kappa Delta members who took part in the various types of forensic activities there. A special train was chartered for the delegation from Morningside, Buena Vista, Western Union, and Vermillion. Some time was spent in Denver, as well as in Estes, and most of the delegations made a laudable and at least semi-successful attempt to take in all the attractions and bright lights. The trip was very successful from every standpoint.

THE SEASON

Eleven girls participated in debate during a severe debate season. Only two debates were lost: one audience decision and one expert judge decision. The question for debate was the national Pi Kappa Delta question: "Resolved, That the Constitution of the United States be amended to give Congress power to regulate child labor." By the end of the season the majority of the co-ed debaters had reached a state of indifference to migratory workers, the case, New Jersey and New York, and the poor little children in the shrimp canneries. A faint burst of enthusiasm could always be evoked, however, by mentioning the alluring prospect of regulating the number of hours spent on debate by passing effective laws which would not introduce evils non-existent in the present system. The whole squad were debating inter-collegiate for the first time and feel justly proud to have lost but two debates.

WOMEN'S DEBATE AT THE NATIONAL CONVENTION

The preliminaries in the Women's Debate Tournament at the National Pi Kappa Delta Convention were held at Greeley, Colorado. Twenty-seven teams were entered, and no team was eliminated until defeated twice. The child labor question was used, and each team was required to debate both sides of the question.

Lois Jack and Henrietta Squaires were the members of Morningside's team in the tournament. They won the first debate by defeating the team from Kansas State Teachers' College of Pittsburg, Kansas. Morningside lost the second debate to Fairmount College of Wichita, and was eliminated in the third round by Southwestern College of Winfield, Kansas.

MEN'S DEBATE AT THE NATIONAL CONVENTION

Sixty-four teams from all parts of the country competed in the men's debate tournament at the national Pi Kappa Delta convention. The preliminaries were held at Fort Collins, Colorado. The child labor question was used, and each team was required to debate both sides of the question. Harold Larson and Henry Te Paske made up Morningside's team.

The first three debates resulted in victories for Morningside. Oklahoma City University, St. Thomas, and Nebraska Wesleyan were defeated in order. The fourth debate was lost to the College of Emporia, Kansas. Morningside eliminated Heidelberg in the fifth round, but was eliminated in the sixth by the team from the Kansas State Teachers' College of Emporia. One of the teams which defeated Morningside later won the men's championship.

THE IOWA DEBATE

The second annual debate dinner before the Luncheon Clubs of Sioux City on March 24, 1926, was a fitting conclusion to the debate schedule. The debate was held in the Davidson tea room. The University of Iowa and Morningside College teams discussed the child labor question, Morningside upholding the affirmative, and the University the negative. The debate was informal in style, with no decision of any kind.

Horace Smith, Edward Robinson, and Proctor Maynard represented the University of Iowa; Morningside's debaters were Henry Wright, Henry Te Paske, and Harold Larson. The Iowa alumni and the Luncheon Clubs co-operated with the college in making the debate a success. The splendid and helpful encouragement to Morningside forensics which such an event gives makes it a truly valuable contribution to a successful debate season.

Decisions: Judges, affirmative; audience, negative.

The inter-society debates were conducted on a new plan this year. Formerly each society was represented by an affirmative and a negative team, and the society which won both debates won the series. This year the twelve debaters were arranged in four teams: two negative and two affirmative, with a member of each society on every team. The competition was much more friendly because of this arrangement as all inter-society feeling was eliminated. The winners treated the losers to a dinner at the Mandarin, and the girls all had a very good time talking over the debates in all their aspects.

GOVERNOR WILLIAM L. HARDING

Governor, Statesman

Governor Harding was a member of the class of 1898. He was a member of the Philomathean Literary Society, now the Phi Sigma fraternity, and debated, both for his society and for the college. He was a player on the first football team. He also both edited and managed the Collegian Reporter. He is probably Morningside College's most prominent alumnus, having been Iowa's war governor. He is now doing good work in behalf of the Great Lakes Waterway Commission. And he has always been a strong supporter of Morningside.

The Morningside College Chapel Choir was organized for the purpose of studying unaccompanied choral singing. Through its public appearances and the intensive training of its members the choir hopes to encourage the formation of choral organizations and to help raise choral singing to the highest standard.

While a comparatively new organization the choir has already attained considerable distinction for its fine ensemble and beautiful harmonic effects. A daily rehearsal is held under the direction of Paul MacCollin and the excellent work done is largely due to his ideals and ability as a director.

The Morningside Symphony Orchestra

LEO KUCINSKI, Conductor

The Morningside Symphony Orchestra was organized primarily to give the students of Morningside Conservatory orchestral experience. It has expanded into a group containing professionals as well as amateurs, who are giving their time and experience to establish an organization of real merit; one which will not only be an inspiration to the musical life of the school, but will give the entire community a growing appreciation of orchestral music. The orchestra is under the direction of Mr. Leo Kucinski, a young musician of unusual talent, a former student at the Conservatory of Warsaw, Poland, and now head of the violin department of Morningside Conservatory.

The Morningside Symphony Orchestra presents a series of symphony concerts each year and furnishes the accompaniment for the Choral Association. Membership is open to residents of Sioux City as well as students who have had sufficient orchestral experience.

The inauguration of a combined orchestra concert for the Spring Music Festivals at Morningside and at South Dakota University is a most praise-worthy effort. It makes possible an orchestra of real symphonic proportions, approximately 90 pieces. And as an orchestra of such size can be heard only in large cities both students and music lovers will welcome the opportunity thus afforded at home.

The String Quartet of Morningside College has continued the fine work which was initiated last year, and has earned for itself the distinction of being the best organization of its kind in this territory.

The String Quartet has given two concerts in Sioux City this year: one at the First Presbyterian Church, and one at the Congregational Church. On May 11, a concert was given at Whiting, Iowa.

This is the first time in many years that there has been a Morningside College Men's Quartet. The group was started early last fall by Professor MacCollin. Eldon Harris had charge of arranging music for four voices, and his own composition, "Over and Over Again," was introduced by the quartet. The boys held a week engagement at the Princess Theatre and also a week engagement at the Rialto Theatre. They also sang between halves at several of the basketball games.

MUSIC

The Morningside College Choral Association

The Choral Association is open to college students and all others who desire to participate in chorus work. The Messiah is given at each Christmas season and some other choral work at the Spring Music Festival.

Morningside's Most Popular
Woman and Man

A contest was held by the Sioux of Fulfillment to discover who was the most popular woman and who was the most popular man in the school.

It was made by a vote of the students who were asked to make their choice on a basis of good fellowship, and service and loyalty to Morningside College.

Our Most Popular Woman

HENRIETTA SQUAIRES

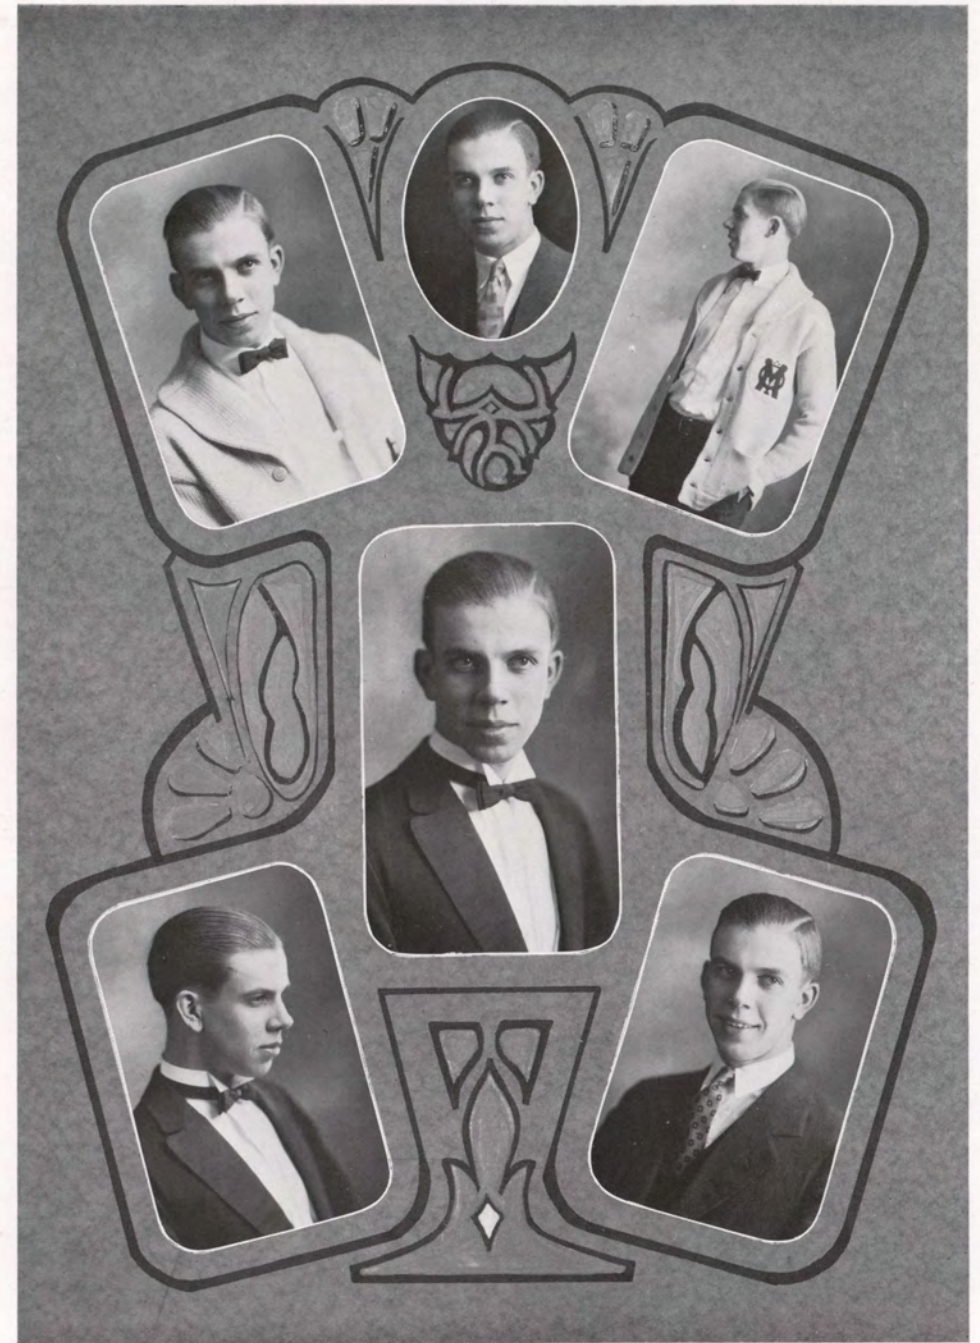

The honor of being chosen the most popular woman in Morningside College belongs to Henrietta Squaires, Athenaeum.

Our Most Popular Man

HENRY TE PASKE

To Henry Te Paske, Alpha Tau Delta, belongs the distinction of being chosen
the most popular man in school.

Counsel: "Now, sir, tell me, are you well acquainted with the prisoner?"

Witness: "I've known him for 20 years."

Counsel: "Have you ever known him to be a disturber of the public peace?"

Witness: "Well—er—he used to belong to a band."

How About This Business, Keys?

Father: "Your affair with the girl is getting serious, eh?"

Son: "Yes, dad."

Father: "Well, my boy, be careful. A man's battle in life depends very largely upon the outcome of his first engagement."

The greatest problem that a man has to figure out nowadays is how to entertain a new-fashioned girl on an old-fashioned allowance.

Mr. Fogg: "You kept the car out rather late last night, son. What delayed you?"

Gordon: "Had a blowout, dad."

Mr. Fogg: "Hm! Tire or roadhouse?"

Student (being arrested): "But, officer, I'm a student."

Officer: "Ignorance is no excuse."

She who hesitates is old-fashioned.

President Mossman: "I hope you try to save half of what you earn."

"Arkie" Elliff: "I don't get that much, sir."

Him: "Would you like to dance this one?"

Her: "Yes. Would you mind hunting up a partner for me?"

His Family Tree

Miss McClure: "What's your father's name?"

Schuler: "Same as mine."

Miss McC: "Oh, then, you're a junior."

Schuler: "No, ma'am. I'm just a sophomore."

Probably His Roommate Is on the Glee Club

"That's a fine dress suit, Harold."

"Yes, I don't rent from the same people now."

Aspirin?

Ronald McDowell (in museum, pointing to some slabs of stone): "Mummie, what are these?"

Mother: "Those are Assyrian tablets, dear."

Ronald: "What frightful headaches they must have had to swallow things that size."

Happy: "Do you love me, dear?"

Jack: "Dearly, sweetheart."

Happy: "Would you die for me?"

Jack: "Why, no, my pet; mine is an undying love."

Prof. Latta: "Students, your outside readings are due today."

Krueger: "Professor, it was just too cold to do any outside reading this week."

Prof. Coss: "What's the difference between ammonia and pneumonia?"

Chick Emerson: "Search me."

Prof. Coss: "Why ammonia comes in bottles and pneumonia comes in sheets."

Cap: "Can I pick you up?"

Gown: "Dunno. What's your rating in the strength test?"

Save for Partnership Opportunity

Opportunity knocks but once for some men; every morning for others; on some she never calls—they're never ready. Will you be ready for the business partnership that awaits you? It'll require not only brains and energy, but some capital. Only one way lies open—the way of savings.

Your opportunity rests upon your ability to save. Saving demands more than a desire—it demands power of will, careful planning and wise management. Determine your life and its rewards—be ready for that business opportunity by beginning to save now.

 20—Prof. Brown cuts a class! Scandal!
 27—Girls decide their political future.

Hoolie: "Last night I made an awful mistake."

Florence C.: "That so? How come?"

Hoolie: "I drank two bottles of gold paint."

Florence: "How do you feel now?"

Hoolie: "Guilty."

Webb: "Last night I dreamed I was married to the sweetest girl in the world."

Fayola: "Oh, Webb, were we happy?"

The Perfect Man

There's a man who never drinks,
Nor smokes, nor chews, nor swears,
Who never gambles, never flirts,
And shuns all sinful snares,
—He's paralyzed.

There is a man who never does
A thing that is not right,
His wife can tell just where he is
At morning, noon and night—
—He's dead.

Freshmen: "If I had a face like yours I'd throw bricks at it."

Sophomore: "Yes, and if I had a mouth like your I'd catch 'em."

Mr. Ames: "How did they discover iron?"

Ken McClure: "They smelt it."

Roy Hanson: "Do you think these pants are a perfect fit?"

Ingram: "Yah! They're almost a convulsion."

How About This, Oscar?

"Dynamite was discovered by the Swedes." Scientists of the neighboring kingdom of Denmark gave to mankind the famous, widely-known mixture, Copenhagen Snuff.

Fogg: "Gimme a tablet."

"What kinda tablet?"

Fogg: "A yellow one."

"But what's the matter with you?"

Mrs. Platts: "Yes, sir, we're very up to date. Everything here is cooked by electricity."

Jake LaFoy: "I wonder if you would mind giving this steak another shock?"

"Don Lillard," queried Professor Campbell, "how old are you now?"

"That is a difficult question," answered Lillard, drawing his hand across his high forehead. "The latest personal survey available shows my psychological age to be twelve, my moral age four, my anatomical age seven and my physiological age six. I suppose, however, you refer to my chronological age, which is eight. That is so old-fashioned I seldom think of it any more."

Edye: "Don't you love driving?"

McFarland: "Yes; but we're in town yet."

Fay Woods: "No. But it would be so out of place."

Charlie Down: "Father, is it true that big fishes eat sardines?"

"Yes!"

Charlie: "How do they get them out of the tins?"

Harold Larson: "I've called about an attachment I have for your typewriter."

But be that as it may, Ford is undoubtedly correct when he says that the modern dance is conducive to "necking and petting" parties and other forms of mild immortality. However, he is still making Ford coupes with lace curtains and so forth and so on. And as long as Ford is willing to make Fords and sell them "a dollar down and a dollar when you catch 'em," we suppose the drug store cowboy will continue to violate the sparking ordinances.

Rudy (after a long argument): "You see, Lois, you misjudged me in saying that I was making love to Helen just because we were out on the porch together."

Lois: "All right, I believe you. Now wipe that eyebrow off of your cheek and take me home."

A negro called at the hospital and said: "I called to see how mah frien' Joe Smith is gettin' along."

"Well," said the darkey, "I'll jes' sit down and wait till he's through."

The story was told to me something after this fashion: When Prof. Campbell was married he was so absent-minded that he kissed the preacher and gave his wife a five-dollar bill. And just to prove that there may be some truth in the absent-mindedness that Prof. Campbell is known to possess, he is also given credit for the following remark. When kissing his wife good-bye one morning he said, "And now, sweetheart, don't forget to type those letters that I dictated to you yesterday."

A successful but very eccentric salesman died. The clergyman who was young and new to the calling, thought it a fitting opportunity to call on the widow and comfort her. "You must not grieve," he told her. "The body that lies here is not your husband; it is merely a husk, and empty shell — the nut has gone to Heaven."

Students of mental disorders find it hard to adequately describe the Charleston, but the most accurate description that we have read, to date, compares the Charleston with "the violent contortions of a bare-legged Scotchman doing the Highland Fling in a nest of red ants."

The difference between a cocoanut and a Scotchman is that you can get a drink out of a cocoanut.

"What an old-fashioned tin-type," mused the antique collector as he gazed at old College Ford as Natress drove away.

The drunk holding the menu upside down: "Waiter, waiter, come here quick. There's been an awful mistake made. Send for the manager."

Waiter, in a stern voice: "Well, what's the matter?"

Drunk: "Jus' look here. The darn fool printers have printed this thing upside down."

Lady (in the cafe): "I don't believe I care for that soup, it isn't hot enough."

Kelcy: "But how do you know it is not hot?"

Lady: "By the way you can hold your thumb in it."

She: "Why have you stopped here?"

He: "I'm afraid I'm lost."

She: "I'm not; I've walked home from here before."

Mrs. Seeman (looking through magazine): "I see by statistics that every third baby born is a Chinese."

Prof. S.: "Then, thank goodness, this is our first one."

"When did the Scotchman first learn to swim?"

"The day the first toll bridge was erected."

The Charleston has been called "the struggle of life," and there is but one rule, that is to protect yourself at all times and punch with one hand free.

If a woman really loves a man he can make her do anything she wants to do.

Prof. Stevick (who sat down next to a slightly intoxicated man): "Conductor, do you allow a drunk on this car?"

Van: "What are you doing Taps?"

Taps: "Don't bother me, I'm adding up some figures and every time I look at you I put down a zero."

Conductor: "It's all right so long as you don't get noisy."

Your best 20 years is just ahead of you. This is a big reason why you should protect yourself for life now.

Gorthy (on arriving in the city the first time): "Listen here, bellboy, I won't stay in a room like this, not even a bed in it. What do you think I am?"

Bellboy: "There, there, sir, calm yourself; this isn't your room, this is the elevator."

Whenever a woman suffers in silence, it's real suffering.

Sam D.: "I hope you will all coincide with me."

Pres. Mossman: "Young man, I made my wife wait nine years before marrying her."

Leitch: "Yes?"

Pres.: "And now she is paying me back on the installment plan. She keeps me waiting a half hour every time we go somewhere."

APPRECIATION

We Thank You!

The business manager and the editor of the Sioux of Fullfilment take this occasion to thank all those who have so ably and unselfishly given of their time and skill to make this book a possibility and a success.

The Staff has co-operated and shown fine spirit throughout the many months that this book has been in preparation. To them goes a great deal of the credit for this year's Sioux.

Among those who are outside of the regular staff, whose work we appreciate are: George Van den Brink, our artist, who has done all the art work and designing in the book; Miss Bertha Price, of the English Department, who has carefully read the proof for the book; and Claire Milne, Kenneth Chinn, and Donal Lillard, advertising salesmen.

We thank our friends at the Youngberg Studio for their many courtesies in addition to making pictures which are of as high quality as any appearing in the many *Sioux*s before this one. The Bierman Engraving Company has provided us cuts of the best grade and have shown themselves ever ready to assist us in our engraving problems. A great deal of credit is due the members of the Versteegen Printing Company for their help in building this annual. Having printed this book for seven consecutive years, their experience was of much value.

The editor wishes to at once apologize to and thank the members of his family for their forbearance during all these trialsome months when it has been necessary to eat, sleep, and drink in a mess of pictures and mounting board, and an atmosphere of glue and rubber cement. Only their Christian fortitude and their loving family spirit have allowed this yearbook ever to get this far.
