NUMBER ONE

HOMEcoming, OCTOBER 14-15-16

As college opens this fall two major events are being planned, HOMEcoming and BAND NIGHT.

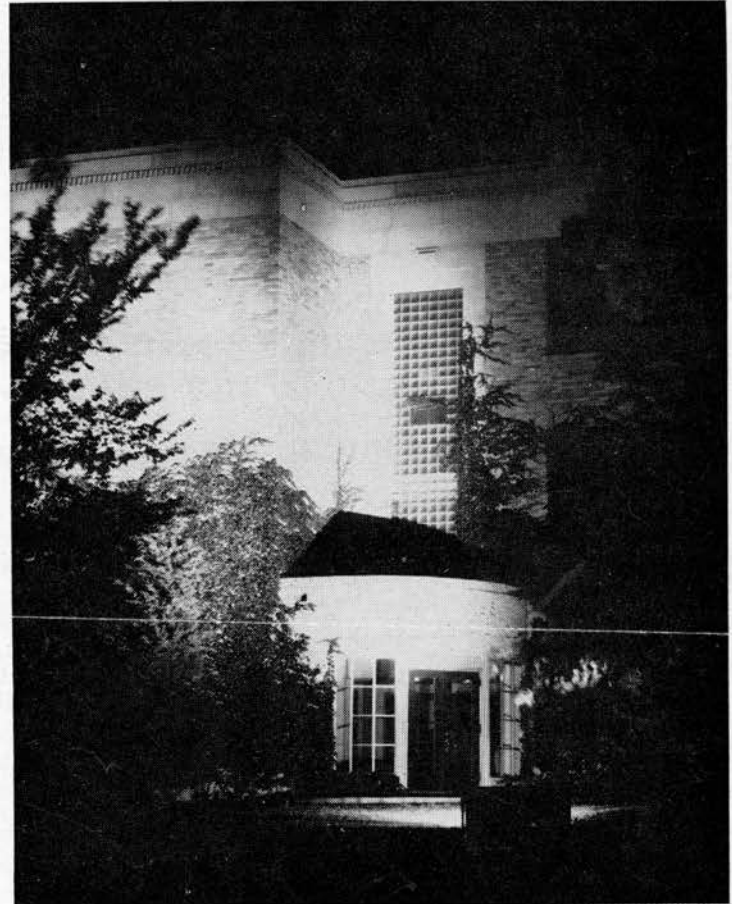

The Homecoming festivities will begin on Friday night, October 14, with the coronation of Miss Morningside at the dance in Allee gym. Alumni are cordially invited to participate in this and all other events of the weekend.

On Saturday, October 15, the M club luncheon, fraternity and sorority reunions are scheduled. The Alumni business meeting and installation of officers will be held at five p. m. in Dimmitt Hall followed by the Morningside dinner at six. Game time is at eight p. m. and the opponent is Augustana.

After the game the popular Alumni Coffee hour will be held in the Men's Dormitory.

The Campus Church, Grace Methodist, will welcome the alumni at the service Sunday morning. Dr. H. W. Farnham, pastor of the church, will give the sermon.

Band night will be on October first when Morningside plays North Dakota State. This colorful, tuneful event featuring high school bands from the surrounding territory is something every alumnus should attend.

Flood lights presented by the Alumni Association of the College now illuminate the entrance to A. W. Jones Hall of Science. The lights were installed just prior to Commencement week end and were formally presented at the Alumni Day dinner by Merle Kingsbury, president of the Alumni Association.

Alumnus Joins Coe Faculty

John Foxen, a Morningside graduate of the class of 1950 has been appointed assistant professor of speech at Coe College, Cedar Rapids.

Mr. Foxen received a master's degree from the University of Iowa and is now working on his doctorate. He has taught at the University of New Hampshire and the University of Connecticut. He served two years as vice-president of the New England Forensics Council.

Represent Morningside College

Alumni who have represented Morningside College at the inauguration ceremonies of new presidents in other institutions include: Dr. James C. Olson '38 at the ceremonies at Doane College, Crete, Nebraska; Dr. Earl Fullbrook '14 at Nebraska Wesleyan; E. Allan Williams '29 at the inauguration of the provost and dedication of the new Santa Barbara College, a part of the University of California; the Rev. Burton Passer '49 at Bethel College, St. Paul; Howard Noyd '37 at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas.

Timm Heads Music School

Everett Timm '36 was named director of the school of music at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge.

Dr. Timm was on the faculty of the Morningside Conservatory following his graduation. He attended Eastman School of Music, Rochester, New York, where he received both a master's degree and doctorate. He has been on the faculty of the Louisiana school for several years.

Mrs. Timm (Jean Anderson) is a Morningside alumna, class of '40.

Alumni Receive Grants

Raymond Fisher '34, associate professor of social work at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, sailed August 24 for Bristol, England. Mr. Fisher received a Fulbright award to lecture there this year.

Dr. Robert C. Farb '46, associate professor of history at Simpson College, has been awarded a Rockefeller theological fellowship. Dr. Farb will attend Chicago Lutheran Seminary, Maywood, Illinois. After graduation from Morningside in 1946, Mr. Farb earned a master of arts degree from the University of Nebraska in 1947 and a doctor of philosophy in 1949.

Dr. Ray Gusteson '42, associate professor of government at Ohio University, Athens, Ohio, was one of 50 college and university professors granted an economics-in-action fellowship for special summer study at Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland. This was under the sponsorship of the Republic Steel corporation. The grants provided travel, tuition, board and lodging. The aim was a comprehensive study of economic problems confronting the nation and the managers of industry.

Leroy Rowse '23, a teacher at Central High School, Sioux City, received a scholarship to attend the first work-shop to teach the use of radioisotopes in high school science. The work-shop was held on the Iowa State Teachers College campus.

Elizabeth Nixon ('35), professor of journalism at Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pennsylvania, was chosen by the State Department to act as lecturer, leader and guide for a score of journalism, radio and television specialists from 11 foreign countries. Miss Nixon attended Morningside and later received her masters in journalism from Medill School of Journalism in Chicago.

Advance Degrees

Among the Morningside graduates receiving higher degrees in June were:

Robert Phelps '53—Master of Science from Syracuse University.

John Riebhoff '48—Bachelor of Divinity from Drew University.

Eugene Lampert '52—Bachelor of Divinity from Drake University.

Robert Eidsmoe '52—Bachelor of Laws from New York University.

At the August Commencement exercises the University of Iowa granted master of arts degrees to Alton Walter Cowan '52, Bruce Pickford '51 and Leon Shortenhaus '49.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. J. J. Bushnell, widow of the late Dr. Bushnell, professor of philosophy and religion at Morningside from 1928 to 1939, died July 10 in Sioux City after a long illness. Mrs. Bushnell was a graduate of Upper Iowa University and had taken post graduate work at Boston University. Dr. Bushnell died in 1939. The Bushnells will be remembered by Morningsiders of that decade for their kindly helpfulness and hospitality.

Three daughters, Mrs. Howard Down (Alice '23) of Sioux City; Mrs. S. S. Sutton (Ruth '22) of New Carlisle, Indiana; Mrs. Henry Wright (Lonnelle '27) of Platte, South Dakota; and a son, John of Sioux City survive.

Dr. Carl W. Maynard '05, pathologist, of Pueblo, Colorado died June 15 in Pueblo. Dr. Maynard received his A. B. degree from Morningside at the age of 18. His medical training was taken at Northwestern University where he was elected to Alpha Omega Alpha, medical honor fraternity. He was married to Mabel Haskins, class of '07, who lives in the family home, 620 West 19th, Pueblo. There are two sons, Carl and John, both of them having received their Ph. D. degrees, and are in research for DuPont Company in Wilmington, Delaware.

Dr. Maynard was one of the founders of the Pueblo clinic, a past president of the Pueblo and Colorado State medical societies, and in 1937 was elected president of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

The father of Dr. Maynard was the late Rev. O. K. Maynard, pastor of Grace Methodist Church in Sioux City from 1901 to 1904.

Albert S. Crabb ('06) of Kingsley, Iowa, died in July after a long illness. Mr. Crabb attended the old Morningside Academy which was part of the college. He was publisher of the Hinton Gazette from 1903-1909 and the Aurelia Sentinel from 1909-1914 after which he farmed for many years. Survivors are the widow and five sons, four of whom attended Morningside, Francis, ('35) of Long Beach; Allen and Cecil ('41) of Kingsley; Wilfred '38 of Billings, Montana, and Daryle ('42) of Denison, Iowa.

Lisle E. Ebaugh '48, a Sioux City teacher, died of a heart attack on July 13. He left a widow and two sons.

Elmer Cowdrey, husband of Ida Montgomery Cowdrey '26 of Valley City, North Dakota, died on July 12.

Dr. Albert Janow, professor of church history of Wartburg Seminary, died April 30. His widow, Ardath Goetsch Janow ('37) and four sons survive.

Mrs. A. H. Lockwood (Bertha Benedict '02) of Rock Rapids, Iowa, died on June 12, after a long illness. Mrs. Lockwood attended Morningside as a student and was at one time a voice teacher at the Conservatory.

Mrs. Adda Van Horne, wife of Professor Robert N. Van Horne, died September 15 in Philadelphia after an illness of several years.

Mrs. Van Horne came to Morningside with her husband in 1900 where for 47 years they were outstanding in the activities of the college.

Mrs. Van Horne was a leader in church and club circles and had been state president of the P. E. O. Sisterhood.

In addition to Professor Van Horne, survivors include Robert ('30) of Nampa, Idaho, William '36 of 40 Johns Road, Cheltenham, Pa., and Mrs. Noden Arrowsmith (Sarah '38) of 3203 W. 13th St., Erie, Pa. The funeral was held at Grace Methodist Church, Sioux City, on September 19.

Mid-Summer Commencement

Degrees were conferred upon twenty five seniors at the Commencement exercises held on July 29 in Klinger Forum.

Dr. John W. Fisher, president of Buena Vista College, gave the address on "Inner Values in a Materialistic Age."

REUNION AT OKOBOJI

A group of former Morningsiders met for a picnic dinner at Lake Okoboji on July 23. Those attending the reunion were Carol Held Burr '39 and daughters Michelle and Stephanie of Sioux Rapids, Iowa; Alice Scott Jolink '41, Mr. Jolink and Jan, Scott and Susie of Edgerton, Minnesota; George '40 and Marjorie Primmer Iseminger '39, Jeff and Kathy Iseminger, and Norma Nielsen Pyle '41, all of Sioux City.

Norma, who has taught secretarial science at the college the past two years, will teach in the Wilson High School in St. Paul and continue work on her master's degree.

Three Generations at Morningside

Marie Wood Green '13 of Seward, Alaska was back on the campus as a student this summer. She was taking work preparatory to teaching patients in the Seward tuberculosis sanitarium. She is pictured here with her son, Robert, an instructor at the college and her granddaughter, Delores Spade, who was one of her classmates.

Dr. Idabelle Lewis Main '09 being presented by D. P. Mahoney '12 to Dr. Earl A. Roadman for the honorary degree of doctor of humane letters at the 61st annual Morningside College Commencement. Dr. Main was a teacher and missionary in China for many years, and later was in South America. She is the daughter of the late Bishop W. S. Lewis, who was president of Morningside College for many years.

Alumni Day

Members of the 50 year class, 1905, who attended the Reunion Luncheon on Alumni Day were Virginia Fair Trimble, Coralinn Lockin Miller, Clara Killam Finch and Anna Goodall.

Commencement 1955

Miss Dimmitt with Dr. F. J. Plondke '95, who was the recipient of an honorary degree.

Charles City Reunion

Morningside College honored graduates and former students of Charles City College during commencement days by promoting a college reunion and by conferring honorary degrees upon four of the graduates. Charles City, Iowa and Dr. Roadman as representative of Morningside were hosts at this reunion. About 75 graduates and former students responded to the invitation of their adopted Alma Mater.

A number of these former Charles City College students attended Morningside Commencement on May 30 when four of their graduates were granted honorary degrees. On May 31 the group journeyed to Charles City to unite with other former students for the reunion at Central Methodist Church on the following day.

The members of the Alumni Committee who had assisted in arranging the schedule of the day were: Mr. Merton Klaus, president, Mr. A. C. Martins, secretary, Mrs. S. A. Werk, and Dr. Wesley Belling.

The morning session convened at 11 a.m. with Mrs. Ruth Wellemeyer Melcher presiding. Those who had received honorary degrees at Morningside commencement were introduced. They were Dr. Armin V. Klaus, Dr. Ewin F. Hirsch, Dr. Fred K. Bruene and Dr. Arthur Bastian. Memories furnished the basis for the next part of the program. Questioners of Memory who led the presentation of college memories were: Mrs. Fred Henke, Mr. A. B. Benz and Mrs. Rosa Dodge Gehring. Miss Grace Hammon of Edmunton, Alberta and Mrs. Hazel Webster Byrnes, State Librarian of North Dakota were called upon during this part of the program. Miss Charlotte Smith of Charles City sang a soprano solo and Mr. Christ Mikkelsen, also of Charles City, rendered a baritone solo.

A luncheon was served at noon by the women of Central Methodist Church. The tables were most appropriately appointed with flowers and the Charles City colors of maroon and gold, enhanced by small pennants as favors.

Following the luncheon the program of the day continued with Mr. Merton Klaus presiding. The invocation was given by Dr. Bruno Wandlandt. Dr. Armin V. Klaus, who has spent the greater part of his life as a missionary in Indonesia, gave the address of the afternoon. The music presented at this session was a French horn solo by Mrs. Edwin F. Hirsch. Next came identification of guests as each person arose, introduced himself and made whatever brief remarks he chose for the occasion. Many interesting memories and other thoughts were presented including expressions of appreciation of the work of the college and of the members of the faculty. The idea was also suggested that the Charles City students make some concerted effort for Morningside. Dr. Roadman, in turn, expressed his appreciation of the fine cooperation of the Charles City students. The program was closed with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie" and the benediction by Dr. Wesley Belling.

The pleasure of the day was further increased by the viewing of college pennants, old college pictures and annuals, as well as scrapbooks of college days. Of course the greatest pleasures of all were the hand-clasps and the interesting conversation with the many old friends.

This reunion was a lovely echo of some of the work and life at Charles City College in bygone years. This school made an unusual effort to develop the character of its students especially through the work of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. Its standards of scholarship were high and it sent out many men and women who have taken prominent places in the world to such an extent that it established an enviable record for a school of its size or even larger.

However, in 1915 an opportunity came for this college to unite with Morningside College which it did; its graduates then having their diplomas exchanged for those of Morningside.

In conclusion, may I express, in behalf of former Charles City College students, our sincere appreciation to Dr. Roadman and Morningside College for making the pleasant reunion possible
