KIWANIS CLUB

HONORS DR. ROADMAN

Dr. Earl A. Roadman, president of Morningside College for the last 12 years and distinguished midwestern churchman, educator and administrator for almost a quarter of a century, was awarded the Kiwanis medal on Jan. 6, "for outstanding service to the community during 1948."

Presentation of the award was the highlight of the annual inaugural banquet of the Kiwanis club at the Mayfair hotel.

A five-member committee of non-Kiwanians recommended Dr. Roadman for the honor after several weeks consideration of outstanding residents here. The identity of the honored citizen was revealed only when Milton J. Soelberg, chairman of the committee, presented the medal to the college president.

After giving a brief biographical sketch of the winner, Mr. Soelberg cited "tangible and intangible" accomplishments of Dr. Roadman which the committee had decided qualified him for the honor. In the latter category, he mentioned that in 1936 indebtedness of Morningside College was $435,000 and the Endowment was $355,000. Eight years later in 1944 all indebtedness was retired. Since then the Endowment has been doubled and the buildings erected and the funds accumulated total $600,000 ($300,000 has been used for the construction of the A. W. Jones Science Hall, and $300,000 is on hand toward the building of the new Allee Fieldhouse. Altogether improvements total $1,100,000.

"Intangible accomplishments," the chairman called Dr. Roadman's "educational and general cultural contributions to Sioux City and his effective public speaking in the city and surrounding three-state area."

A native of Iowa, Dr. Roadman attended country schools in Grundy county, Iowa State Teachers College at Cedar Falls, Upper Iowa College, Fayette, Boston University and the University of Halle, Germany. He served as pastor of Methodist churches in various parts of Iowa before becoming president of Dakota Wesleyan University at Mitchell, S. D., in 1927.

He occupied the presidential chair at Dakota Wesleyan until 1936, when he accepted the post of president at Morningside College. He was honored by trustees, the faculty, alumni, students and Sioux City as a whole in 1944 when the college observed the 50th anniversary of its founding.

Dr. Roadman responded briefly after the presentation. Mrs. Roadman, who also occupied a place of honor during the banquet, was introduced.

Members of the committee which made the selection included, in addition to Mr. Soelberg: Marvin T. Nodland, superintendent of public schools; Mrs. Editha K. Webster, women's editor of the Journal-Tribune publications; John E. Glen, general manager of the Swift & Co. plant here, and Mrs. Mary Secord Hughes, executive secretary of the Community Fund of Sioux City.

LARGE MIDYEAR CLASS GRADUATES

Commencement exercises for the January graduating class of Morningside College were held at 10:45 a. m., January 20, in Grace Methodist church. Dr. William C. Lang, director of forensics of Yankton College, Yankton, S. D. addressed the 50 seniors. His topic was "The Four R's of Higher Education."

The program opened with the traditional faculty processional in academic costume, followed by the invocation given by Rev.

John C. Buthman, pastor of Grace church. The graduating class was presented by Dean Thomas E. Tweito and Dr. Roadman conferred the degrees.

Donald Miller of Sioux City and Clifford Dale White of Sac City, Ia., were graduate members of the class accepted by Zeta Sigma, honorary scholastic fraternity. Graduating cum laude were Hubert Jermen and Richard Loffswald, both of Sioux City.

Candidates granted the bachelor of science degree include Martin C. Appelt of West Bend, Wis.; Lorann H. Courtney of Logan, Ia.; Robert D. Randolph of Little Rock, Ia.; James E. VanGundy of Fort Dodge, Ia.; Francis Wilson of Astoria, Ore., and Miss Georgie Ann Anderson, Laurel L. Franklin, Frank Charles Hawthorne, Jr., Robert L. Hazen, Joseph A. Heeb, Robert H. Hisey, Maurice Dean Isaacson, Dean H. Larson, Robert Ernest Lindberg, Richard Loffswold, Milton O. Meyer, Donald Miller, Erick Mohr, Carleton R. Nagy, Arthur W. Nystrom, Jr., Robert Franklin Olson, Warren Eugene Peterson, Wallace A. Reeb, Adin C. Read, William J. Shugert, Richard J. Smith, Ward Tappan, Wayne E. Turk, Richard Youngstrom, all of Sioux City.

Candidates for the degree of bachelor of arts were Miss Jean Annette Frans of Laurel, Neb.; Kenneth L. Jones of Estherville, Ia.; Robert Lapsley, Jr., of Newburgh, N. Y.; Clifford Dale White of Sac City, and Raymond E. Bubb, Charles M. Dobyns, Jr., Felix A. Dormoi, Carmen J. Gomez, Oliver Gustavson, Isadore Nadler, Edward L. Newman, Ronald K. Stone, Miss Myrna Takeuchi, Mrs. Glendene Trickey McPherson, Chleo J. Weins, and Miss Dorothy Zimmerman, all of Sioux City.

Candidates for the degree of bachelor of musical education were Robert Bower, Miss Eleanor Everett, Walter Spade, all of Sioux City.

Forty-three of the 50 who received diplomas are veterans. This is a gain of 15 over the 28 veterans in the graduating class last August, which totaled 42 graduates.

Despite the large number of graduates this month, college officials expect a decided decrease in enrollments of veterans as time increases the gap between the college years and the last war.

The total enrollment last fall included 514 veterans, compared to 714 the previous year.

LIVING ENDOWMENT COMMITTEE REORGANIZES

The Living Endowment Committee of Morningside College met in the Barn October 11, 1948, with Leon E. Hickman presiding. The Chairman stated that the purpose of the meeting was to elect the new Living Endowment Committee and Chairman, and to plan the work for the ensuing year.

Harold P. Winter

Harold P. Winter was elected Chairman. The following Committee members were re-elected:

Harold P. Winter, ex'22, Union Central Life Insurance Co., Cincinnati, Ohio
Leon E. Hickman, '22, 1025 Union Trust Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Dwight Winkelman, ex'25, 205 Harrison Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.
Dale Norton, '19, Spencer, Ia.
Earl Barks, '18, Belden, Nebr.

The following new members were elected to the Committee:

William C. Wolle, '20, vice-president, The Buckwalter Company, Sioux City
Herbert Dunham, '15, vice-president, Valley National Bank, Phoenix, Arizona
Cornelius E. Eerkes, '24, vice-president, The Higbee Store, Cleveland, Ohio

The Chairman-elect was authorized to rank the members of the Committee by classes in terms of from one to five years, to expire in 1949, 1950, 1951, 1952 and 1953, respectively. Vacancies occurring during the year are to be filled by the Chairman for the remainder of the year. Leon E. Hickman was chosen Vice Chairman. The annual meeting of the Committee is to be held in October at the time of the meeting of the Trustees. New members of the Committee are to be elected by the Committee. Each Committee member is to report directly to the Chairman who will have general direction of the entire program.

According to the new Chairman, plans as outlined for the year are progressing and the larger committee is functioning smoothly. You will hear from them in the near future.

WAYMACK RESIGNS ATOMIC GROUP

W. W. Waymack, '11, resigned Dec. 15, as a member of the atomic energy commission. The White House announced the resignation by making public an exchange of correspondence between Waymack and President Truman.

Bill, former editor of the Register Tribune at Des Moines, told Mr. Truman in a letter dated December 9: "My reasons for asking relief now are altogether compelling. I intend, first of all, and for the first time in years that seem countless, to try to get some rest. It happens to be needed, for reasons not unrelated to a succession of attempts at public service, including this one."

Mr. Truman accepted the resignation effective Dec. 21, "because of the urgent considerations presented in your letter and the rest which you hope to enjoy in the immediate future."

REPORT OF SECRETARY

(Year Ending October 23, 1948)

During the past year the Alumni Executive Committee has held monthly dinner meetings at Lillian E. Dimmitt Hall on the first Wednesday of each month with an average attendance of 11 members. Business meetings were held in the north parlor following the dinner. The committee, consisting of 16 members, includes the officers of the Alumni Association and elected committee members, the immediate past president, alumni members on the board of trustees, the Sioux City Living Endowment committee member, who is Wm. C. Wolle, and the executive secretary of the alumni association.

The past year Miss Lorraine Verstegen, '40, 1st vice president, served as chairman for the Commencement dinner. At Homecoming Elaine Barnt Rogers (Mrs. Honie), '25, 2nd vice president, was in charge of the cafeteria dinner for alumni and former students.

Two projects sponsored during the year were the presenting of leather folders to retiring faculty members and a mid-winter party for all Sioux City alumni at the Y.W.C.A. with Edgar McCracken, '38 and Alice Hall Dawson, '27, as co-chairmen. Helen Bottom, Sec.

DR. COOPER EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

Dear President Roadman,

The December number of the Morningsider came today bearing the news of the death of Dr. T. C. Stephens. I sense a great loss with the passing of my Major professor. He was a great teacher and an inspiration to his students. He was full of ideas as to the possibilities of problems as they turned up and tried to install into those of us who were majoring with him a desire to follow certain leads further. I feel sure that my desire to enter the research field was due to his encouragement back there in the teens.

I wish to express my appreciation to Morningside College for having had the opportunity to work with such a man as Stephens. He was an inspirational teacher, a great scientist and a true friend.

Sincerely yours,

Delmer C. Cooper, '16

SUBSCRIPTIONS TO COLLEGIAN REPORTER

Because of the number of inquiries concerning subscriptions to the Collegian Reporter, the newsmagazine is being made available to alumni next semester. There will be a minimum of ten editions and subscriptions will be sold at $1.50.

In breaking away from the traditional newspaper format and style and developing a weekly newsmagazine, the Collegian Reporter has received many very favorable comments from students and visitors on the campus. Morningside is one of only two colleges in the United States to publish a weekly newsmagazine. The other school is Notre Dame.

Alumni interested in subscribing may do so by sending $1.50 to Roger L. Burgess, Managing Editor, Collegian Reporter, Morningside College, Sioux City 20, Iowa.

OAK RIDGE POST TO AL STROZDAS

Alfred Strozdas, '40, director of public recreation in Sioux City for the last three years, will become superintendent of recreation for the atomic energy commission at Oak Ridge, Tenn. on March 1. Al will direct all recreation for adults and children in the Oak Ridge area. Mrs. Strozdas and their two children will go to their new home as soon after March 1 as arrangements can be made. During world war 2, Alfred was in special services of the army providing entertainment and recreation for service men.

WSSF DRIVE ON CAMPUS

Dates for the annual World Student Service Fund drive have been set as February 14 through 19. The drive is a student project which purposes to raise funds for material aid to fellow students in foreign countries.

A committee appointed by the student council has been authorized to organize and direct this operation. With the approval of the student council they have decided upon a goal of $2,000, almost three times the amount raised last year. Special dances, parties, basket-ball games, etc. have been planned to help raise the amount as well as a person to person solicitation plan.

The WSSF committee is providing an opportunity for the alumni of Morningside to help in this campaign. Donations may be sent to Mrs. Kingsbury. She will act as alumni representative and present the alumni gift to the chairman of the WSSF committee.

CLASS NOTES

Richard Garretson, ex'39, has accepted a position as instructor in radio and radar at Alabama Polytechnical Institute at Auburn, Ala.

Orlan Ott, ex'43, boxed a four round exhibition against heavyweight champion Joe Louis in Chicago before 3,800 spectators. Louis laced Orlan a few times but smiled and patted him on the back after each round.

John Wood, ex'48, has been named sports editor of the Iowa State Daily, student publication at Iowa State College, Ames. John is a senior in the division of science.

Lois McGlashan, ex'52, is studying pre-law at the University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

Joy B. Munson, '32, who has a Ph. D. in the field of Guidance and Personnel, is director of the testing and guidance programs in the Lansing, Mich., public schools. Mrs. Munson is the former Frances Rawson, ex'31.

Dr. (ex'44) and Mrs. Harold Ladwig (Marjorie Foster, '44) have bought a home at 2019 Sargent Ave., St. Paul, Minn. Dr. Ladwig finished his internship at St. Joseph's hospital in Sioux City and is taking a 3 year residency in the government hospital in Minneapolis.

A program of "Shoe The Wild Mare," a play presented in December at the Yale University Theatre by the department of drama, lists Mary McBride, '41, as one of the leading characters. The program has this to say about Mary: Mary McBride (Gracia Chelsea) a third year student in acting, comes from Harrisburg, South Dakota, and graduated from Morningside College. Before coming to Yale she taught English in high schools in Iowa, South Dakota, and Minnesota. During the war she served in the Army as a civil technician, teaching International Morse Code and later was an instructor in the Waves, teaching aerial gunnery. Her most recent performance was in Winterset for the Yale Dramatic Association.

Miss Kathryn Nelson, '48, began her work as Field Director of the Girl Scouts in Peoria, Ill. on January 1. Her address is 1220 Linn St.

Glen Smith, ex'42, is working with a group of consulting engineers as an electrical engineer in San Francisco, where he commutes from his home in San Rafael. While in college, he was editor of the pre-engineer paper.

K. A. Konopisos, ex'40, opened Law Offices in Cherokee, Ia. on January 3 of this year.

Mr. (ex'44) and Mrs. Dale Jackson (Ellen Westergaard, '45) are residing at 1000 Morningside Ave. Dale has been appointed assistant manager of the B. F. Goodrich store in Sioux City.

Mr. (ex'31) and Mrs. Chester Fluhrer (Frances Nihlen, '35) are living in Independence, Mo., where they operate a chicken ranch. The Fluhrers have 3 sons.

Dr. and Mrs. Max Gaspar are living at 3625 Lime Ave. in Long Beach, Calif., where Max is a practicing surgeon.

Era Bell Thompson, '33, author of "American Daughter," is still associate editor of Negro Review and still working on her second novel. She also writes book reviews for the Chicago Sun-Times, has occasional engagements out of town, and contributes regularly to "Ebony," the best negro periodical. "American Daughter" has been published in England and Era Bell received her first Royalty check a few months ago.

Mr. ('20) and Mrs. Verle Hart (Hazel Barrow, ex'18) of St. Louis, Mo., have a son studying electrical engineering at Washington University and a daughter, Joan, at Drake University, Des Moines.

In a Christmas letter to Miss Fischer, Rev. Stanley Anderson, '42, of Weldon Spring, Mo., writes that he is working on an M.A. degree in history at Washington University, St. Louis (besides serving two churches.) The Andersons have a daughter, Caroline, almost 3, and a son, Frederick, aged 7 months.

For the past 3 years, Irene Anderson, '39, has been working as a visiting nurse with the Community Health Service in Minneapolis. She graduated from the University of Minnesota School of Nursing in 1944 and earned her Public Health Nursing Certificate in the Medical School in 1945.

Ralph Brakke, '39, writes to Virginia Thomas, class secretary for the class of '39, that he is professor of International Trade and Accounting in the College of Business Administration at Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis.

A Christmas letter from Rev. ('17) and Mrs. Don Walton (Bessie Reed, '21) 208 Rivington St., New York relates:

We would like to share with you a few of this year's events. Our church had an international dinner which attracted considerable interest. Each family brought a covered dish, salad, or dessert, typical of the country in which the parents were born. What an array of delicious food prepared by Puerto Ricans, Germans, Jews, Russians, Poles, Chinese, Greeks, Hungarians, New Englanders, Southerners, and New Yorkers! The influence of the church reaches a wide variety of people.

New York U. gave Bessie an M. A. degree last June in the field of personal counseling. Both of us have frequent occasions to aid bewildered and frustrated people who seek personal guidance. Don spends much time calling in the neighborhood and at the nearest city hospital, where he is the volunteer chaplain.

The physical appearance of our community presents a contrast. Three housing projects are being built to take care of 12,000 people. The rest of the dwellings date as far back as the Civil War. They are all occupied.

A new sound system has been installed in the church and now we send out carillon chimes from the tower. The men of the church, doing the work themselves, have painted most of the rooms and refinished all the floors.

Hugo Sarmiento, ex'48, is studying civil engineering at Stanford University in California.

Mr. ('48) and Mrs. Robert R. Rogers (Helen Ashby, '44) are living at 1104 6th St., in Greeley, Colo. Robert is attending Graduate School there.

Warner W. Schultz, '30, is a physicist with the General Electric Co. in Schenectady, New York. The Schultz' live at 78 Elder St.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Harrison (Shirley Iseminger, '37) have returned from Oakland, Ia., to Toledo, Ohio, to make their home. Mr. Harrison has been appointed head editorial writer for the Toledo Blade.

R. Harry Werder, '42, is working on a Ph. D. in Music at Columbia University and living at 3000 Netherland Ave. in New York City. Harry is doing a great deal of concert work.

Dr. ('36) and Mrs. Everett L. Timm (Jeanne Anderson, '40) are living at 4926 Convention St., Baton Rouge, La. where Everett is associate professor of music at Louisiana State University.

After receiving an A. B. degree (in absentia) from Drake University in January, Kenneth Barringer will continue with his seminary work at Boston University. Mrs. Barringer is the former Bonnie Jean Shelton, ex'49. The Barringers will live at 260 Cambridge St., Cambridge, Mass.

Lon A. Hawkins, '06, of Eugene, Ore., was elected president last November of the Oregon State Horticultural Society. The pictures of the State officers appeared in the Sunday Oregonian, Nov. 28.

From Denver Jim Forrester, ex'43, writes that he is attending night law school and working in the Trust Dept. of the U. S. National Bank.

Dorothy Lathrop, ex'49, is teaching the sixth grade at Pocahontas, Ia., this year.

THE CHRISTMAS MAILBAG

News from Miss Dimmitt's mailbag:

Mrs. Henry D. Africa (Elma Bunn, '23) writes that she and her family are living in Iowa City where her husband teaches journalism at Iowa University and is also taking academic work toward an advanced degree. They have 2 sons, Jim, 16, and Robert, 12.

Mr. Cyrus Gilbert, '05, in his Christmas letter to Miss Dimmitt, tells of his trip through England, Wales, and Scotland last summer. After spending several weeks with relatives in Cornwall, Mr. Gilbert visited Plymouth, Exeter, and London, stopping at Stratford to take in Kenilworth and Warwick castles. He described the scenery of the Welsh mountains as enchanting but thinks that all of the vistas in Britain fall short of the majesty of the mountains in America. We quote his paragraph on his trip through the Lady-of-the-Lake region: "I then took in the Lake region, most beautiful country with rich historic background. Then on to Scotland where I put in a most active final week. I there ignored the cities. Leaving my baggage at the station in Glasgow, I put a few things necessary for hiking in an old army haversack and started for the Lady-of-the-Lake region in the Highlands. I skirted the bonnie banks of Loch Lomond, which really are bonnie; hiked up the "steep, steep sides of Ben Lomond," which are not at all steep; then hiked thirty miles across the hills to the slopes of Ben Vorlich, using the Lady of the Lake as a guide-book. My final visit was to the Burns' country about Ayr."

Alice Holman Swinney, '09, sends word from Cooperstown, N. Y., of the death of her husband, John B. Swinney, a few months ago. Alice plans to remain there as her son, Holman, and family are located in Brooklyn, where he is assistant Dean of Admissions at Pratt Institute, and can come home often for a visit. She enjoys Bill ('20) and Alice Jeffry (ex'18) Wedgwood, two former Morningsiders, who are close neighbors. Her letter closes with the statement that she has never ceased to be thankful to Miss Dimmitt that she could live under the same roof with her during her college days—that she was "so helpful, so wise, and besides that, downright fun."

News of Mr. ('41) and Mrs. Charles Wert (Lucille Mathena, '42) came in a Christmas letter to Miss Dimmitt. Charles received his Ph. D. from the University of Iowa last June and is now on the staff of the University of Chicago, Institute of Metals. Lucille is organizing an architecture engineering library for the Chicago Undergraduate Division of the University of Illinois. They have an apartment on the edge of the University of Chicago campus at 1545 E. 60th St.

From Cotton, Calif., Ethel Lynch, '11, tells of her life as a social worker there. Ethel supervises one of the districts in the San Bernadino County Welfare Department and is responsible for Old Age Assistance, aid to the needy blind, aid for needy children and county aid for about 1,100 cases. Cotton is 60 miles from Glendale where Si and Lucille Rorem live.

Mrs. Harold Crown (Margaret Ellis, '24) writes that she was married a year ago last summer. She and her husband have an apple and pear orchard at Crown Hill Farm, Farmington, Iowa.

Mrs. Charles Mounce (Luella Smeby, '25) sends her yearly greeting from Hama-kuapoko, Maui, Hawaii to Miss Dimmitt. Her older son is a freshman at Iowa State College at Ames this year, where he is studying agronomy and kindred subjects so that he can do something in connection with the sugar industry in the islands for a career. Lue says this is the rainy season there and everything is green except the gorgeous poinsettias.

Bonnie Robinson ('15) Schoonover's letter from Worcester, Mass., is most interesting. Bonnie's husband, Lynn, commutes to Northwestern University in Boston where early and late classes necessitate breakfast at 5:30 A. M. and dinner at 7:30 P. M. Bonnie still finds her work in the library at Worcester Tech interesting and rewarding. "With an even one thousand men on the campus, there is never a dull moment," she states. The Schoonover's son, Robin, is a freshman at Harvard where he "made the Glee Club," in spite of keen competition, and was the recipient of the Worcester Harvard Club freshman scholarship which covered a full year's tuition and opportunities for subsequent scholarships.

Lady Luck also smiled on Mr. Schoonover this past year when, after buying a dollar's worth of chances on three cars that were raffled off at the State Convention of the American Legion, his was the first ticket drawn out of 165,000 chances sold, for a beautiful 1948 Dodge sedan, completely equipped with everything one could desire.

MAROON CAGERS SECOND IN CONFERENCE

The Maroon basketball team invaded Colorado for three games, Dec. 9, 10, and 11. The first game, which was with Regis College in Denver, ended with Morningside on the short end of a hard, closely fought contest, 62 to 56. The Morningsiders then turned to Colorado College with the host team taking the first, 63 to 54, and the Maroons returned the following night to make it one up with a 63 to 60 win.

Morningside then continued play a little closer to home and on Dec. 14 managed to gain their second win over the Wayne Wildcats with a thrilling 54 to 53 score at Wayne. On their home court, the Maroons swamped the Dubuque "5" with a score of 77 to 45. During the Christmas Holidays, the Morningside team was host to a four team Invitation Tournament. The Maroons won the trophy rather handily by defeating Huron College 79 to 37, and Peru College by the score of 65 to 54.

Following the Christmas Holidays the Maroons journeyed to North Dakota to begin Conference play only to have their hopes jarred by a 50 to 41 setback. On the return trip, however, they stopped off to take on the North Dakota State quintet and handed them a close defeat, 56 to 54. The Morningside quintet defeated their arch-rivals, the University of South Dakota Coyotes, 60-49, on the Morningside maples, Jan. 15. A capacity crowd was on hand for this conference battle, which always manages to be a hard fought game despite previous records that each team brings into the fray. The Morningside quick-break system has been working way above average this year and at times even phenomenal. Coach Buckingham has high praise for his varsity's passing.

Following the S.D.U. victory, the Maroons traveled to Brookings, S. D., to hand the South Dakota State Jackrabbits a 52 to 51 setback. In the final seconds of the game, Bob Horsfall scored the winning point for Morningside from the free throw line.

On Jan. 22, the Maroons won their second game from North Dakota State, 77 to 56 to remain undefeated on their home court this season, and tightened their grasp on second place in North Central Conference standings.

The Maroons play Augustana in Sioux Falls on January 29, and Iowa State Teachers in the Alumni Gym on Febr. 5.

McCLARANS TO LIVE IN SOUTH AMERICA

Mr. ('25) and Mrs. L. C. McClaran, '35, and their two small daughters, who lived in Mason City, left early in December to settle in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Mr. McClaran in his new post will be assistant chief engineer for Armour and Co. operations in Argentina. He has been master mechanic at the Jacob E. Decker and Sons packing plant, an Armour affiliate in Mason City, since 1942, before which he worked 14 years in the mechanical and engineering departments at Armour's in Sioux City.

As she majored in Spanish and French at Morningside, Mrs. McClaran doesn't expect to have too much trouble with the language in Buenos Aires. She not only has conducted Spanish classes in Mason City, but also has taken additional work in night school there.

Their daughters, Dorothy, 5, and Marlys, 9, will have to go to American schools in Buenos Aires for about two years to get sufficient training to enter the regular schools of the country. In the American school, half of the day is spent in English and half in Spanish.
