PRESIDENT'S PEN

At the fall meeting of the Board of Trustees of Morningside College I presented a program on Wills and Estates. The Board adopted this program with the thought that it should be immediately put into operation. I want to explain this program briefly to you and ask you for your support and assistance.

There will be quarterly mailings to a select group of at least 1,000 individuals which we hope will motivate them to ask for additional information which will tell them how they can retain the use of their money and yet save tax dollars by including Morningside College in their estate planning.

Despite the constantly increasing number of wealthy individuals, relatively few are being motivated to give to tax exempt organizations. Apparently people of wealth don't realize how little it costs to make such bequests. In 1959 slightly more than 5%of the gross estates were bequeathed to all tax exempt organizations in the United States, which shows an evidence of neglect on the part of people in leaving their estates to needy causes, such as the church and college. We must see that the people are informed.

What I am asking you to do at this time is furnish us with names and information about individuals in your community, possibly members of your church or others in the community that would be interested in Morningside College. They should be of sufficient means that they would to able to leave enough income to take care of their family and other local interests but still be capable of giving to Morningside through a Will.

Twenty years from now, the only churchrelated non-tax-supported college still carrying on a respectable educational program, will be those institutions which are building significant endowment programs today.

HOMECOMING 1961

Homecoming 1961 was a colorful event on the campus October 20th and 21st. Events started Thursday evening with the traditional bon fire on Bass Field, crowning of the freshman queen and a pep rally.

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new Student Center were held Friday morning at the convocation hour, followed by the annual alumni workshop. (see page 8)

Friday evening following the alumni workshop, a dinner was held at Grace Church, open to alumni and faculty. The speaker was Ralph Beerman ('35) of Dakota City, Nebraska republican representative in the United States Congress.

The annual Homecoming dance and coronation of Miss Morningside, 1961 was held Friday evening in Allee Gymnasium. Darrel Warner and his orchestra provided the music.

Nancy Drommer of Pomeroy, Iowa was crowned Queen by President Palmer. Morningside's tradition is that the identity of the Queen be kept secret until the actual moment of the coronation. Male students only are allowed to vote.

Saturday morning's feature was the parade. As is now the custom, it formed for a performance at the east end of Morningside Avenue, proceeds to Cecelia Park and reassembles in downtown Sioux City to parade there.

At noon on Saturday the "M" Club luncheon was held in Allee Gymnasium. This is a booster organization and membership is not limited to letter winners. Harold Bollman, president of the "M" Club presided.

Sorority reunion lunchcons were held at noon at the Biltmore Restaurant. Kappa Pi Alpha (formerly Alpha Delta Pi and Pieria), Delta Zeta (formerly Kappa Zeta Sigma (formerly and Atheneauim) sororities participated.

The play "private Life of the Master Race", by Brecht, was presented by the drama department in the afternoon.

The annual Homecoming dinner was held in the dining room of Dimmitt Hall that evening, at which time the Alumni Association officers for 1961-62 were installed. Don Stone presided until he had installed the new officers.

Morningside was defeated by State College of Iowa (formerly Iowa State Teachers) in the Homecoming game 43 to 27.

Coffee and doughnuts were served to alumni and friends after the game in the drawing room of Dimmitt Hall.

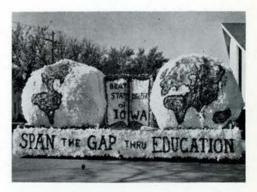

Miss Sherry Read, of Algona, was crowned freshman queen during Morningside college Homecoming festivities.

The coronation ceremony was held Thursday, October 19, at the annual pep rally and bon fire on Bass Field. Saturday morning October 21, she was honored in the Homecoming parade.

Freshman queen attendants were Rita Noehren of Harlan, Susan Buckingham, Jean Langlas, Belle Plaine, Iowa, and Marge Freeman, Cylinder, Iowa.

Sherry is majoring in business administration at the college.

Winning first prize for floats in the Homecoming parade was the one entered by Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity (formerly Alpha Tau Delta and before that, Othonian). The Theme of International Highlights was well carried out by the float.

NEW INTERNATIONAL HOUSE

Shown at the entrance of the new international House upon the occasion of a ribbon cutting ceremony symbolizing its opening are several foreign students along with Dr. Uemura, head of the Philosophy department and Professor Ray Nelson, coordinator of the African Student Program.

Ralph Beerman ('35) speaks at the annual workshops dinner held in Grace Church on Friday night of Homecoming.

INTERNATIONAL HOUSE OPENS

A ribbon cutting ceremony, symbolizing the opening of the International House, held at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon was a part of the Homecoming program.

The house is an integrated project and is occupied by 36 single American and foreign students on campus. Foreign students on campus are from Africa, Korea, Hong Kong, India, Iran, Indonesia, Japan, Formosa, Greece, Norway, Panama, and Venezuela.

President Palmer spoke briefly on "Vision and Reality". He pointed out that just three short months ago the International House was merely a vision, now it has become a reality.

Members of the Cosmopolitan Club provided music for the ceremony, and club president Carlos Escala of Panama spoke briefly.

President Palmer cut the ribbon and an open house followed.

Iowa churches have enthusiastically joined in supporting the African student program. Twenty-one churches and two sub-districts have agreed to "adopt" in part or wholly one or more of the African students now in the program. The Annual Alumni Workshop was held Friday, October 20 in the lounge of the Men's Residence Halls. The session started at 10:00 A. ARTICLE BY PROFESSOR EIDSMOE IN ISEA MIDLAND SCHOOLS AND JOHPER

Russell M. Eidsmoe, head of the department of education at Morningside is the author of an article titled "The Academic Performance of High School Athletes", published in the November issue of Midland Schools and in Johper (Journal of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.)

Mr. Eidsmoe begins by saying, as quoted from Midland Schools, "A great deal of guessing has been going on for many years in regard to the academic quality of athletes. It has been rather common talk among many, including teachers, to downgrade the scholastic efforts and abilities of those who represent various sports. It is often an assumption that participation in athletic endeavors is either an invitation to a low quality of academic performance or that it attracts individuals who do not succeed academically. The first thought is somewhat natural since athletic participation is very time consuming with almost endless practices and sometimes involves considerable travel to and from contests.

... "To gain information which could be considerably more objective, a survey was made in Iowa of the academic standing of the twelve members of each of the boys' basketball teams representing their high schools in the Iowa 1960-61 Boys' Sub-State and State Tournaments

.... Schools were asked to report the grade average at the end of the first semester of the 1960-61 academic year for every player in each course he was enrolled and also to give the grade average of the entire class in the same course

.... Fourteen out of the total of sixteen schools involved turned in complete reports, thereby recording the results of 168 players out of a possible 192.

A four point system was used for recording the grades turned in.; A-4.0, B-3.0, C-2.0 and D-1.0.

The results of the survey clearly indicate that those who are participating in basketball and capable of advancing far in such athletic competition are distinctly above average in academic performance. The grade point results for the 168 players in all courses enrolled averaged 2.566. The grade point results for all the classes in which these players were enrolled averaged 2.186 showing a very significant departure in favor of the athletes."

Mr. Eidsmoe constructed a table showing the breakdown of grade point averages by classes. He concludes his article with this statement.

"The survey does show very plainly that athletes such as basketball players who are highly competitive in their chosen sport are also above the average of their fellow students in academic performance, a point which in many cultural circles has been definitely denied or in doubt."

The article by Professor Eidsome gained a very favorable editorial in the November 14th Des Moines Register.

PARENTS ON CAMPUS, DEC. 2

Parents of students attending Morningside College were invited to the campus Saturday, December 2, for a day of attending sample classes, conferring with faculty members, and hearing administrative staff members.

The Parents' Day program began at 9 a. m. with a welcome-registration session with J. Clifford Holmes, dean of the college, giving a brief welcoming address. Parents then were invited to attend abbreviated class sessions — actual classes that are attended each week by their sons and daughters. The course instructor conducted the class in a manner similar to the usual procedure. A sample chapel session in the sanctuary of Grace Methodist church concluded the morning program.

Those parents who could remain stayed for the evening meal at Dimmitt hall.

Stanley L. Greigg, dean of men, was chairman of the committee planning the Parents' day program. Serving on the committee with Dean Greigg are Dean White, Miss Lois Grammar, A. W. Buckingham, Robert Miller and James Miller.

1961 FOOTBALL SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

The Maroon Chiefs finished the 1961 football season with 3 and 6 record. Coach Halford, a mighty battler himself, fought injuries to key players all season. This was a good team, confronted with stiff competition. The season's results are printed below along with some very interesting statistics.

Roger Hansen, from Central high school in Sioux City and a junior was named an all North Central Conference first team end. He caught 31 passes for a total of 300 yards gained and one touchdown. He tallied one extra point on a reception and led the conference in pass receiving.

Chuck Corbin, a senior from Mapleton, Iowa was chosen second team all conference center. He has completed his college work and was employed as physical education instructor and assistant coach at Rock Rapids, Iowa, starting December 4th.

Dick Schmidt, a senior from Holstein, Iowa, received Honorable Mention in the all conference selections. Dick played the tackle position and was a co-captain of the 1961 team along with Chuck Corbin.

John Tollakson, senior half-back from Sioux Rapids, Iowa, was chosen most valuable player for the 1961 season by his teammates. He was team high scorer with a total of 45 points, six touchdowns and 9 of 11 points after kicks. He was 8th in the conference in scoring totals. John also did the punting for Morningside and had a 33.1 yard average on 42 punts, ending up seventh in the conference. The team averaged 239.7 yards per game, with 125.5 yards being on the ground and 114.2 yards passing. The Chiefs were second for the season in passing in the conference, averaging 117.2 yards per conference game. First place went to South Dakota State with 138.2 yards per game.

Leading the team in total offense with 38 completions for 88 attempts for an average of 60.4 yards per game was John Dornan of Harlan, Iowa, a senior. He was third in the Conference in passing, including two touchdown passes. Reserve quarterback, Leo Hupke, a junior from Heelan High School in Sioux City, threw six touchdown passes during the season. He ended up sixth in the conference in total passing.

No doubt the brightest highlight of the season was the win over South Dakota University at their Homecoming at Vermillion. This was the Chief's third straight win over the Coyotes.

The freshman squad, under the tutelage of Coach Don Protextor '49, won 2 of the 3 games they played.

BASKETBALL SEASON

The basketball season is underway. By the time the Morningsider reaches you the Varsity and freshman teams will have played several games.

Varsity Coach Obye in a basketball guide produced for press, radio and television makes these observations.

"The season ahead . . . The Morningside College Basketball team for 1961-62 must be classified as "sophomore". Of the eleven members on the varsity squad, five were with the Maroon Chief's Freshmen Team one year ago. If one factor has a definite bearing on the outcome of this season it will be how fast these sophomores gain poise and skill to meet a stiff schedule. The loss of the team's leading offensive ace - Jim Anfinson - and seven others squad members could have considerable bearing on the Chief's offensive attack. The Chiefs face an ambitious schedule. The North Central Intercollegiate Conference is expected to be unusually tough this year. And the Methodists will tackle Westmar College, Cornell College, Nebraska Wesleyan University, Huron College, Yankton College, Omaha University and Mankato State of Minnesota in non-conference tests in addition to participating in the Six-State Tournament at Hastings College of Nebraska.

How Do they Look? again the sophomore factor. Paul TeStroete, Bob Garretson, and Rog Hansen form a nucleus of returning starters, but they'll need scoring efforts from Steve Pohlman, Chuck Dickens, Walt Lill, Mike Reise and Phil Wiggens to put consistent punch in the offensive attack. The Chiefs are certain of good overall speed and stamina. Chief mentor Charles "Chuck" Obye is counting on the early non-conference games to "jell" the 1961 contingent before they open North Central Conference play on Jan. 9th.

Who are the veterans? . . . Obye will depend on five veterans to carry the load this year. They are Paul TeStroete (1 letter); Bob Garretson (2 letters); Roger Hansen (1 letter); Steve Pohlman (2 letters); and Ron Heitritter. The only other upper-classman on the squad is Terry Wright who comes from Clarinda Junior College."

"Chuck" Obye '46, is beginning his fifth season at Morningside. His 1959 Maroon Chiefs won the Iowa NAIA Championship. This seasons' schedule is shown below.

"Bud" Brockman, a 1950 graduate of Westmar is in his first season as freshman basketball coach. He reports on the freshman team, "There are some very fine basketball players on the freshman team. Although lacking in general overall height, there are some fine shooters and rebounders who handle themselves very well".

HEIMAN VAN DYKE HONORED IN HALL OF FAME

Basketball's founder at Morningside, Mr. Heiman Van Dyke ('06) has been honored by a life membership in the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

In August, Coach Chuck Obye wrote to the captains of all the basketball teams at Morningside from the first team of 1901-02 to the team of last year. He asked for a contribution from each, to apply on a life membership for Mr. Van Dyke. Any who have not responded may still do so to Coach Obye. A five dollar contribution entitles the donor to one free admission card to the Hall of Fame at Springfield, Mass., and a copy or the original 1892 rules book.

The Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame has accepted a History of Basketball at Morningside College. This history contains the names of all former coaches, team records, captains, scoring records and traditions of the college.

Morningside

The Crimson sun of morning Came peeping o'er the hill With radiance adorning

A temple, white and still,

A fane we thought immortal, So solidly it stood,

Inscribed above its portal: "The Beautiful, the Good"

But as the night descended, The toilers standing by,

Saw all their labors ended Inflames, which leaping high,

'Mid roars and lurid crashes, Devoured it where it stood,

And left in smoking ashes: "The Beautiful, the Good"

But as new suns ascended Behind the selfsame hill,

Behold. a vision splendid A fairer temple stll A temple ever growing, Expanding as it should, To all the nations showing: "The Beautiful, the Good"

FOOTING THE BILL

By Elwood Olsen, A. B. Morningside '38, Juris D. State University of Iowa '41, LLM, George Washington University '46. Business Mgr. Morningside College 1948 ———.

Students are paying more than ever before for their college education, but still they do not pay the entire cost. Each year at Morningside the administration has the task of coming up with approximately $300,000.00 in order to meet the difference between what the student pays and the actual cost of operating the College. This $300,000.00 comes from a number of differents cources. Morningside is fortunate in having the support of the church, individuals, corporations, and foundations, all contributing generously to provide what the student does not pay.

$300.00 GRANT TO EACH MORNING-SIDER: If this $300,000.00 from outside sources were a huge grant, divided among the students at Morningside, about $300.00 would annually go to each one enrolled. A student at Morningside, paying full tuition, does not pay the full cost of his education. Every student, even if he pays his entire bill, receives a $300.00 grant which makes his year at Morningside possible. Generous giving has provided these grants and has helped sponsor these young people. Your gift to Living Endowment helps. Your bequest in a Will helps to build up the College's Permanent Endowment, the income from which goes directly into our operating budget and thus helps educate these young people. Your contribution to the Methodist Church, or MDC, helps provide these "grants" that every Morningsider receives.

There's a Second Grant, to each student, in addition to the $300.00 one already mentioned. This is the grant that provides the physical facilities that the young people use every day on the campus of Morningside College. Gifts through the years have provided fine buildings, and under President Palmer's Twelve-Year Plan many more are coming. If these gifts for buildings were equally allocated to every generation of students, the grant each would receive annually would double the $300.00 already mentioned.

STUDENT AID: In addition to the above grants, Morningside give, to those who achieve high academic distinction in high school and college, scholarship help. During the past year $120,254.00 of aid in the form of scholarships, grants , and rebates was allocated to 417 students. Most of this aid was "unfunded," or in other words, it had to be raised — the College does not have sufficient endowment (investments) to produce the income to provide fully these grants. Our President has just announced a new "Wills and Estates" program through which a determined effort will be made to increase the endowment to $400,000.00 by 1970, and thus "fund" much of this student aid.

"Scholarships": Scholarship help is awarded in several areas. Competition for the awards is keen. In recognizing academic excellence Honor Scholarships are granted to all high school students who rank in the upper 10 per cent of their graduating class. These scholarships are in the amount of $400, distributed equally over four college years.

Competitive and Educational Scholarships are awarded to those who have attained a high scholastic average and have also scored well in either the American College Test (ACT) or the College Extrance Examination Board (CEEB) program. The actual amount of the award varies from a small stipend to full tuition and is dependent upon the actual financial need of the individual application. The college works within a specific budget when awarding scholarships and the size of the individual scholarships determines the number to be awarded.

Morningside College has a number of Grants-in Aid in such fields as music, speech, and athletics. There are also Miniterial Rebates and Christian Service Grants which provide one-half tuition. Veterans' Benefits are still available to those whose qualify, and College personnel help the student in making the necessary applications for this aid.

Another Area of financial aid at Morningside is the opportunity for Part-time Work. A few hours employment each week while attending College, not only gives the student funds necessary to help pay board and room, but also gives valuable experience in the field of busienss and public relations. The Sioux City community has work for many students in a variety of professions and industries. Morningside's Student Personnel office actively helps the students get located in jobs both on and off campus.

FINANCING AN EDUCATION AT MORNINGSIDE: The College has several plans that make it "easier" to finance one's education. There is a plan that fits the need of every student and/or his family. No one should be prevented from attending Morningside for financial reasons. If he wants to spread payments over several months, Morningside has a "Deferred Payment Plan." If more time is needed and the student wants to pay after graduation, the money can be borrowed. (at least a part of it can.)

Deferred Payments: Under Morningside's deferred payment plan the total cost of tuition, fees, board and room, etc. is divided into monthly installments which are paid throughout the current semester. Payments, then, must be made according to the schedule agreed upon with the student. A small deferred payment fee is charges when this plan is used.

Student Loans: In the future most student assistance programs will be dominated by loans. In spite of some "unpopularity" a few years ago, borrowing for an education today has become more acceptable. Money available for loans has increased enormously; but even so, Morningside could use additional funds in order to honor fully all worthy applications. Many alumni have sent gifts to establish loan funds which are administered by the Morningside Staff.

While loans are likely to be the principal means of assisting students to pay required tuition and fees, it is not suggested that a student should borrow the full cost of his education; but a loan combined with the other student aids, plus family savings and summer employment, should make it possible for every young person, who really wants an education, to attend college.

It appears that much of the expanding need for financial assistance will be furnished by loans because competition for scholarships is high and they go to a select few. Many donors set up scholarship funds, others like the idea of designating their gifts to loan funds which will then be perpetuated for use by many generations of young people. For some students to meet their financial needs it will take a scholarship, a loan, and employment, plus whatever help the family can give. Every student accepted unconditionally for admission to Morningside is elegible to apply for a loan.

This growth in student loans is not peculiar to Morningside; it is nationwide. In 1956, loans to students throughout the United States amounted to only $13 million. But in the last two years, the Federal Government alone has furnished over $100 million for student loans and the amount available through this source is increasing annually. While only 750 colleges had loan programs a few years ago, today more than 1500 colleges have made loan funds available to students.

Morningside students can borrow from a number of different sources. These loans give them an opportunity to spread the cost of their education over several years. The National Defense Education Act provides funds for loans which are made on the basis of need. Special consideration is given to the students with superior academic background who desire to teach in the elementary and secondary schools, and who intend to specialize in science, mathematics, engineering, or foreign languages. Repayment of these federal loans begins one year after the student ceases to attend college and the student has ten years in which to repay. No interest is charged until one year after the student is out of college, and then it is paid at the rate of 3%. If the student becomes a full-time teacher in a public school, the loan is cancelled at the rate of 10% a year for five years, or a total of 50% of the principal of the loan.

Morningside has been fortunate in receiving liberal grants from the Federal government for the making of these student loans. Last year more than three hundred students borrowed from the National Student Defense Loan Fund. Loans range from $100.00 to $1,000.00 (which is the maximum which can be borrowed in any one academic year.) The average loan at Morningside has been approximately $550.00. This loan program has aided many in attending college who would have found it impossible to continue their education if they could not have borrowed.

These are other loan funds available to Morningsiders through sources such as the Methodist Board of Education, The Merritt Credit Bureau Foundation, the Pickett and Hatcher Education Fund, Eastern Star, Consistory, P. E. O., and many of the local banks.

TUITION INCOME IMPORTANT: Helping the student finance the cost of his education is tremendously important to the Morningside financial structure. No one wants to price students out of college and yet they must pay a part of the cost of their education. They cannot be given everything. Accordingly at Morningside every possible way of financing his or her own education is opened to the student.

71.4% of Morningside's operating budget comes from tuition and fees. This compares with a 59.2% average in Methodist Colleges.

With such a large percentage of our operating income coming from tuition, it becomes vital that student accounts be kept liquid. Thus, the Morningside staff is continually working with its students, helping them in every possible way to meet their financial obligations and continue their college education.

ALUMNI RECOGNIZED FOR SERVICE

'16 Grad Lauded In Dallas

Howard A. Allen '16, was feted by more than 1500 former students and associates at an open house in Dallas, Texas on Sunday, October 8th. Mr. Allan had served as coach and principal in Adamson High School in Dallas for 41 years. He went to Dallas from Iowa in 1921; coached until the 1928-1929 football season and became principal in 1935.

A feature article in the Dallas Morning News of October 1, paid high tribute to Mr. Allen. Asked about the caliber of his students across the span of years, "if they are softer and less capable than their predecessors?" he replied as quoted from the Morning News," Well, the best ones today are as good or even better than those who have gone before. And they're better informed. You can bet many will make great names for themselves, in college and later. Teaching too is far better than before . . . it goes so far beyond what we used to teach, and I don't think there are too many 'frills' today".

"After all, you don't run all the students down the same track you used to. Job classifications are in the thousands, while when I was in high school you could name 20 and get them all. You've got to prepare youngsters for this complex, specialized world."

Mr. Allen continutes to serve as manager of Adamson High's unique scholarship foundation. Again quoting Mr. Allen from the article, "As far as I know no other high school in America has anything like this. Through the years it has developed to the point that it contains $250.00 and yields nearly $10.00 annually in dividends and interest."

"The yield has permitted us to send many deserving Adamson graduates to college."

Mrs. Allen, formerly Peggy Johnson of Cleghorn, Iowa and Mr. Allen were presented a console model color television set at the open house.

The 1916 Sioux in which Allen appears as a Junior, says of him — "Hod is primarily and above all a student and accordingly has the respect of the faculty as well as students. After mastering his assignments he finds time to play baseball, rush ads, fill the office of Class President, and participate in social life. He is modest, unassuming and congenial. A man among men. To know him is to admire him."

Mrs. Grefe taught at Spirit Lake and Forest City prior to teaching at Roosevelt High School in Des Moines from 1946 through 1948.

CHARLOTTE RESSEGIEU RESIGNS AFTER LONG SERVICE

Charlotte Ressegieu '36, resigned recently from her post as executive director of the Woodbury County Society of Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. She had held the position for nearly 12 years. She was also executive director of the Siouxland Rehabilitation, which is operated by the society.

In an item in the December 6th issue of the Sioux City Journal, David J. Albert, president of the society was quoted, "I deeply regret to have received the resignation of Charlotte Ressegieu. She has been an untiring servant of the center and of the entire Siouxland area. Her sincere and very devoted service to our center has made it one of the outstanding rehabilitation centers in the entire country."

Mrs. Ray Murphy, vice president of the society said in the same article in the Journal, "Her name in synonymous with the Center. She will leave a mark in Sioux City as a monument to her."

The center is supported through charity, and has grown since Miss Ressegieu's appointment in 1950 from a small office in downtown Sioux City to a new center across the street from the Methodist hospital. The hospital and the center are connected by a tunnel passageway under the street.

The Journal quotes Miss Ressegieu upon her resignation: "In the spring of 1950 with courage, hope and a look to the future for the welfare of our crippled children and adults we opened the Center in Bancroft school building with a prayer and little money."

"Since that time with many hours of planning and toil we achieved our goals and present facilities."

"I wish to express my heartfelt thanks to the many board members who have given so generously of themselves and have been so kind and thoughtful to those we serve."

Language Laboratory To be Installed

A new $10,000 language laboratory will soon be installed at Morningside college.

The laboratory has been purchased to enable students studying foreign languages to better develop their listening and speaking abilities.

The new unit will consist of 20 stations and a master console. Each of the stations will be equipped with speaking, listening and recording equipment. The master console plays a selection, and then the individual student listens and records his answer.

The master console can play four languages at the same time and the individual stations will be arranged so that students of French, German, Russian, and Spanish can all study at the same time without bothering each other.

MORNINGSIDE ALUMNUS PART OF MUSIC PROGRAM IN OMAHA SCHOOLS

Darwyn Snyder '48, head of the Instrumental Music in the Westside Community Schools of Omaha, is an integral part of an outstanding program developed in 1947. In 1947 the Westside schools had 344 children and 17 staff members and has now grown to 7043 children and 305 staff members. School facilities have continued to expand to meet the needs of the rapidly growing system. Westside High School is now accomodating 1975 students.

In the beginning music aptitude tests are administered to all fourth grade students. The music specialist studies and compares each child's test with his academic achievement scores and makes preparations for an interview. All interested students are personlly interviewed and given an apportunity to try the instrument of their choice.

After studying the test results and working directly with the student, an instrument is recommended which meets the physical and psychological demands of the child.

Students meet with an instrumental specialist for a period of 30 minutes twice each week. Vocal music is taught in the classroom while the instrumental students attend band and orchestra classes. This eliminates any possibility of instrumentalists mising academic work and affords these students an opportunity to sing with their classmates the other three days of the week.

In Junior and Senior high school several groups are available to the instrumentalist. There is a brass quartett, a saxaphone sextet, a dance band, a trombone octet, a clarinet choir, a string quartet, a flute septet, a junior high symphonette, two junior high orchestras, four junior high bands, the Westside symphony orchestra, and the Westside high school band.

In addition to these opportunities several of the pupils participate in the Omaha Youth Orchestra.

The 1958 Westside High School Band attended the 25th Anniversary New Years Festivities at the Orange Bowl.

Mrs. Snyder is the former Joan Meyer ('49). She is appearing as Portia in the production of Julius Caesar at the Omaha Playhouse.

GRAMMER GIRL REUNION

A group of Morningside Alumnae and their families, who call themselves the Grammer girls, had a reunion on June 18th at Blue Lake Shelter House, Onawa, Iowa.

The name "Grammer girls" stems from the fact that those involved were all girls who during the war years lived in a house off campus with Miss Lois Grammar, Associate Professor of Music Education, as their head resident.

A potluck dinner was served and the day was spent swimming and reminiscing. In the evening, a beatnick version of the "Little Nell" skit made famous by Audrey Hughes and Beverly Rehnblom back in the "good old days", was presented by their children Lynn and Jayne Miller, and Kim and Debby Goodrich. The title of the new version — "We Ain't got the Lettuce for

DES MOINES

The Des Moines Club under the leadership of Merle Wood, Supervisor of Business Education in the Des Moines Schools, and president of the Des Moines Alumni Club, sponsored a coffee hour in the Kirkwood Hotel during the ISEA Meeting in October.

Morningsiders from Des Moines and many points in Iowa were present and had a pleasant time.

MRS. ROY JUSTUS 2432 CLINTON AVENUE MINNEAPOLIS 4. MINNESOTA 10-28-61 Dear ME (roston - Thanks for your in Ferest in Italics. You're welcome to use the information in that article any way you wish, but I don't have anything additional at this time. Am swamped by requests for information since the story appeared. Sorry. Regards, Ruth Justus

Ruth Langley Justus '25 sent the card, as reproduced above, in answer to a letter written to her after reading a feature article in the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune.

The feature article was titled "They Seek to Revive Lost Art of Handwriting", and states "One indication that interest in good handwriting may be picking up is an exhibit sponsored by the Society of Italic Handwriting Currently touring this country. These displays of an almost lost art will be shown through November at the Minneapolis School of Art beginning October 30.

"Based in London, the Society for Italic Handwriting is the vanguard of a slow renaissance in beautiful, slanted writing such as developed by 15th century scribes studiously copying papal briefs."

"Though beautiful as any fine art, italic handwriting serves a purpose of high practicality, according to the movement's leading expert in the Twin Cities area."

The expert referred to is Mrs. Justus. She says you never see a scribbler among italic writers, no matter how fast they write. She teaches italic handwriting to all freshmen at the Minneapolis School of Art. as a part of her course in calligraphy, which is required of all students at the school.

The article further states, "a pert, vivacious woman with youthful enthusiasm for her art form, Mrs. Justus hopes civilization's handwriting can be saved through the italic style.

"She points out that our schools teach youngsters first to print discreet script letters and later to write cursively, joining other entirely different letters. This is awkward and confusing and students constantly fight the trend toward illegibility despite the lure of Palmer method citation."

"BY TEACHING THE ITALIC STYLE INITIALLY, WE COULD PRODUCE NOT ONLY LEGIBLE WRITING BUT BEAU-TIFUL WRITING, MRS. JUSTUS CON-TENDS."

Special pens carefully edged, are used for italic writing. There are none as yet manufactured in the United States. They are available in England.

The italic script as reproduced on the card is that of Mrs. Justus and demonstrates her ability.

LONGHORNS BRING CULTURE

by August H. Schatz

August H. Schatz '12 has written a book Longhorns Bring Culture which is being published by the Christopher Publishing House of Boston.

From a review of the book in the Sioux City Sunday Journal, Louise Zerschling, reviewer, states "A wealth of western South Dakota history of particular interest is this Dakota territorial centennial year. is provided in Longhorns Bring Culture and because western South Dakota was America last true "frontier" of the old west this book wil provide fascinating reading to all devotees of western lore.

"The book is not fiction, but a most readable history of the Black Hills ranching area, compiled by Mr. Schatz through years of research, from personal reports of Dakota pioneers, most of whom now are dead, and from his own early day experiences.

"Mr. Schatz's own life represents that type of American success story that has proved the foundation of America's greatness, a type of success story that may never be repeated by todays ease-accustomed young Americans. In fact, some of the most charming sections of Long Horns Bring Culture — hinting at a true — life story that could well be booklength — are the tales Mr. Schatz included of his pioneer parents.

"Today, Mr. Schatz is a greyhaired, quiet spoken and quick witted retired school teacher. Few, if any, of his former students and fellow teachers here had the slightest conception of his picturesque background.

"For when this educator, who now has a master's degree, decided at the age of 18 to go to college, he had only 12 months of formal schooling, and had none at all for the preceding 11 years.

"Written with forthrightness and simplicity, and enlivened by flashes of Mr. Schatz's inimitable humor and touches of insight gained through his knowledge of psycholoy, LongHorns Bring Culture is an addition to the nation's western booklore as well as a major contribution to South Dakota's and the midwest's historical publications."

Mrs. Schatz (Isobel Webb '14) did the indexing for the book. The book sells for $4.75.

NEW HORIZONS FOR MANAGEMENT

Packard Wolle '40 is the author of a book, New Horizons for Management, recently released by the National Institute for Leadership. Packard received his master's and Doctor's degrees from American University and is a government administrator on the part time faculty at George Washington University. He is an employee of the Labor department.

In addition to the new book, he has authored articles for the National Office Management Association, has lectured at the army command management school, and has given navy executive lectures.

In his new book, Dr. Wolle points out that a new form of management, which he calls plural management, has been successfully employed by some large businesses. It is his opinion that some of the principles employed in those firms of sharing management responsibility should be applied in the federal government.

ALUMNI GIVE $54,386 IN FUND YEAR ENDING JULY 31, 1961

LIVING ENDOW. STARTS 21st YEAR

In the years 1940 and 1941 a dedicated group of Morningside alumni corresponded and later met together to set up Morningside's Living Endowment Fund. The first fund year ended in 1942. At the outset pledge cards were distributed and pledges obtained for yearly contributions.

The fund was named Living Endowment because a yearly contribution was considered to be the equivalent of interest on regular endowment. For example a gift of $100.00 is the equivalent of 5% interest on $2,000.00 of regular endowment, a gift of $10.00 is the equivalent of the interest on $200.00 of regular endowment, or one of $1,000.00 is equivalent to the interest on $20,000 regular endowment.

Regular endowment is that money given to the college through the years, designated as regular endowment, and which cannot be spent. Only the income from it can be used for college operations. So Living Endowment makes it possible for an alumnus/a who cannot give $10,000, $2,000, or $20,000 to endowment to give the equivalent of the interest from such a sum.

Some Morningsiders have participated in the fund for all of the twenty years. Many others have contributed every year since their graduation, or since leaving Morningside. Some others have perfect records but started later than the initial year.

Approximately $100,000 has come to Morningside in the past twenty years through the Living Endowment Fund. The fund offers every Alumnus/a an opportunity to support his or her belief in a program of higher education, and to participate in Morningside's role in that program.

CLASS OF 1915 FIRST IN PARTICIPATION

The class of 1915 bettered its participation percentage in the 1960-61 Living Endowment Fund to again top all other classes.

Last year 34.6% of the graduates and former members of the class participated in the Living Endowment Fund and 38.4% participated in all alumni giving. The comparative figures for last year were 31.5% to Living Endowment and 35.2% to all alumni giving.

CLASS OF 1911 IN 2ND PLACE

In second place was the Class of 1911 who jumped from 14th place in the previous years fund. They had a 10.9% increase in Living Endowment participation and a 13.6% increase in total fund participiation. There were other very notable increases and some decreases.

The following table shows how the classes finished in the 1960-61 fund year ending July 31, 1961. The percentage figure indicates the ratio of how many members of a class (graduates and former students) gave in proportion to the number of the class on the current mailing list.

AVERAGE LIVING ENDOWMENT GIFT IS $13.18

The size of the average gift to Living Endowment for the fund year year ending July 31, 1961 was $13.18 per person contributing.

638 is the number of contributions and does not represent the number of contributors, because of one contribution representing two alumni in many cases, and because the June Class of 1961 is figured as one and not 107.

The total number of contributors without the Senior class was 814. Below is a breakdown of the 638 contributions.

ALUMNI GIVE $54,386.25 IN YEAR ENDING JULY 31

Morningside Alumni gave $54,386.25 to the Living Endowment Alumni Fund, the MacCollin Organ fund, the Fine Arts Building fund, operations, scholarships, endowment, Charles City College fund, and the Class of 1908 Geology Fund in the fiscal year ending July 31, 1961.

For this report all alumni giving has been placed in two categories for figuring class participation percentages.

One category is the Living Endowment Alumni Fund. The other category is all alumni giving including Living Endowment. Class percentages are based on all graduate and former student names on our current mailing list. The percentages are figured separately for Living Endowment and for total Alumni giving.

In the case of husband and wife both being alumni, and belonging to different class years, credit is given to each for one half the contribution.

A number following a name in the Living Endowment fund list indicates the individual has contributed to the Living Endowment fund for that number of years. Numbers are used only for Living Endowment and do not apply to "Other Giving". Five years total is the minimum number of years noted. Consequently there are some alumni in the "Other Giving" list without a number after their name who have very fine records of giving to Living Endowment and whose 60-61 contribution was designated for a different fund.

All titles, as Doctor, Reverend, etc. have been omitted in the following lists.

WILL HE KEEP OR HAND OFF?

One of the fringe benefits that go along with being editor of the Morningside is that an editor's page can be inserted and the editor can use a portion of the space to proudly print a picture of his first grandchild. The editor's wife demands equal recognition as the grandmother.

I think it is understandable to all that the Morningsider cannot print pictures of grandchildren of Morningsiders as such, unless of course the grandfather is editor or one or both parents are Morningsiders.

Actually that is the case of Craig Patrick Croston shown above. His mother is Judy Larsen '54 and his father is Don Croston '56. They live at 9920 112th S. W. in Tacoma, Washington where Don is a Lieutenant in the Air Force and stationed at McChord A. F. B.
