

The Morningsider

VOLUME IX

JANUARY, 1951

NUMBER FIVE

Yule Festivities

The traditional holiday festivities of vacation week for young women who reside at Lillian E. Dimmitt Hall began when the formal Christmas dinner was served Monday evening of the week preceding vacation. The girls met in the drawing room for the first course and later had dinner in the candlelight dining hall. Members of Gamma Iota Alpha fraternity served the dinner. Mrs. Earl A. Roadman read the Christmas Story as part of the evening entertainment, and the activities were concluded with group singing of carols.

Thursday morning the sophomores of the dormitory wakened the girls as they sang carols through the halls of the building. Miss Mary Claire Gunderson of Ames led the carolers. Carrying lighted candles, they moved from one hall to another and fastened Christmas wreaths on the doors of the rooms. Later a Christmas breakfast in the dining room officially closed the college activities before the students left for their homes for the holiday.

Members of the freshman girls' organization, Ishkoodah, caroled faculty homes and fraternity houses on Tuesday evening. Miss Marcia McNee, 1719 South Patterson Street, was their hostess at a Christmas party at her home after the caroling.

The annual Christmas tree decorating party was held Tuesday, beginning at 10 p. m., in the drawing room. Various groups popped corn to string for the tree and fashioned wreaths to hang in the east and west parlors and through the halls of the building. Miss Shirley Weber of Irvington, Ia., is president of the dormitory, and Miss Norma Jean Peters of Gilmore City, Ia., is social chairman.

CONGRATULATIONS!

The Morningsider extends heartiest congratulations to Dean Emeritus Lillian E. Dimmitt, who will celebrate her eighty fourth birthday on February 10, 1951. Miss Dimmitt still holds classes at her home, 3527 Peters, where students gather around the fireplace in her living room for an enjoyable hour with the Latin classics as only Dean Dimmitt can teach them.

Celebrate 25th Anniversary

A letter and picture from Rev. Paul Boodagh, '15, pastor of the First Methodist Church at South Haven, Mich. to Mrs. F. Earl Burgess (Mabel Irwin, '15) of Storm Lake, Ia. will be of interest to many Morningsiders.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Boodagh

Explaining to Mabel that he was unable to attend the thirty-fifth reunion of the class of 1915 at Commencement time because he was ill with pneumonia, Rev. Boodagh writes:

"My years at Morningside meant a great deal to me—more so than the years at Northwestern. I have a foster brother in Clear Lake—Dr. Edward Day of the Congregational Church. His father, Dr. Frank Edward Day, started me in the Methodist ministry—I was all ready to practice law in Indiana, when he insisted that I preach at least one year! I took a church, on trial, in Bay City, Mich. and here met my wife—I always intended to do Christian service among all classes of people, and as people seemed to like and accept my messages, I stayed in the Methodist ministry. We had a large city church of over nine hundred members for seven years in Lansing, Mich., but since my health is none too good, we decided to take a smaller church in a small town. It is very pleasant here on Lake Michigan and we have a lovely church and parsonage—we live five blocks from the lake. This is a great summer resort place.

"Clarence Craig and Ethel Collier are the only two classmates I've seen in recent years. I shall make it a point to see Lydia McCreey Lancaster of Grand Rapids, which is only sixty miles from me, and we go there to shop quite often."

Born in Iran, Persia, the Rev. Boodagh came to America to gain his education. Upon his arrival in this country he could speak but ten words of the English language, but worked his way through the preparatory school at Albion, Mich., Morningside College, and Northwestern University, graduating from the latter two colleges.

He served in World War I and has lectured in almost every state on "Comparative Religions" and Persia and international subjects. He has been preaching in Methodist churches the last thirty years.

—M—

Our College Crisis

The following editorial sent to us by Harold P. Winter, '22, chairman of Living Endowment, was taken from The Cincinnati Inquirer of April, 1950. Harold suggests that a serious reading of this article by every Morningside alumnus would lead him to join in helping the Living Endowment Committee to do their task.

Following is the editorial:

Through the years, private colleges and universities have had increasing difficulties in financing their operations. An estimated 20 per cent of them are now incurring deficits in order to do the educational job they feel they must do. Worse, most of them have concluded that rising costs cannot be met by increases in tuition. For in most cases, tuition rates are as high as it is safe or practical to set them.

For several years after the war a bumper crop of GI students proved helpful. They were a stimulating influence educationally, and full tuition was paid for them. But that temporary source of additional revenue is tapering off. And in any case, the typical college spends more to educate each student than the student contributes. In most cases, students' fees cover less than 70 per cent of the cost of their education.

That is the basic reason why so many colleges and universities are turning hopefully to their alumni for help in raising funds. They have done so in the past. But now the problem is far more acute and the appeal is being made in stronger terms.

There is another possible alternative — Federal aid. But it is not a desirable alternative. For inevitably it raises the specter of political control over our private universities. And that is a serious danger. State and municipal universities usually manage to escape undue political influence. But one reason they have done so is because there are private universities, entirely free from public aid, which set a sound example of rigid independence from political authority.

This provides some sobering subject matter for graduates of our private colleges and universities to think about. To the extent that they can meet the new problems of their colleges by financial aid, they are helping to stem the tide of centralization, and helping to maintain a valuable American tradition of untrammelled higher education.

—M—

FIVE AND TEN YEAR CLUBS

"Five-Year Clubs" and "Ten-Year Clubs" were created by the Living Endowment Committee at its October meeting, to honor those who have contributed to Living Endowment for that long. Inasmuch as this year is the tenth anniversary of Morning-side College Living Endowment, a number of alumni will become eligible for the Ten-Year Club this year, and many others who have already contributed for four years will become eligible for the Five-Year Club.

Members of the Five-Year Club as of this date are listed below by classes:

(*Deceased Members)

- 1893—J. H. O'Donoghue
 1899—E. C. Richards
 1900—Carrie M. Bartlett
 1902—Samuel Knoer*
 1903—Effie White Clark
 Albert B. Gilbert
 Frank E. Mossman*
 1904—Mabel Killam Maynard
 Emma Cain Russell
 1905—Myrtila Cook Lewis
 Ralph E. Root
 1906—Arthur M. Gruber
 Corwin F. Hartzell
 Luella Marquart
 John W. Wunn
 1907—William H. Lease
 1908—Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Anderson (Lura Matteson)
 Bertha Ewer
 Martha Fair
 1909—Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Brown (Ida Ullman)
 Alvah L. Miller
 1910—Clara Lockin Blankenship
 J. H. Bridenbaugh
 1911—Jennie Nelson Bridenbaugh
 Ida A. Brown
 Laura Cushman
 Hal H. Hudson
 Birdie B. Smith
 W. W. Waymack
 1912—Helen Olmstead McWilliams
 1913—Sarah A. Bleakly
 Ella S. Campbell
 Garrett B. Dolliver
 William C. Evans
 Marie Wood Green
 Hazel Shumaker Hudson
 Florence Montgomery Kingsbury
 Lottie Sanders Milligan
 Laura Postin Sanborn
 Catherine Elliott Sayer
 Helen E. Wedgwood
 David L. Wickens
 1914—Lewis C. Beebe
 Lucile Morgan Coombs
 Myron Insko
 Fred Schriever
 Alice Thornburg Smith
 1915—Mabel Irwin Burgess
 Clarence T. Craig
 Marie Devitt Deffenbaugh
 Herbert L. Dunham
 Olive N. Jones
 Carl W. H. Sass
 Robert R. Vernon
 1916—F. Earl Burgess
 Glen B. Patrick
 Mary F. Wedgwood
 1917—Frank Abel
 Clara Swain Dailey
 Minnie Fry McBride
 Fern Beacham Reynolds
 Donald J. Walton
 1918—G. Earl Barks
 Hazel Barrow Hart
 Alice Miller Lindhorst
 Robert H. McBride
 Edward A. Stiles
 1919—Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kingsbury (Kathinca Nielsen)
 Lena C. McDonald
 Dale E. Norton
 1920—Martha F. Christ
 Edith Holman Dolliver
 Verle A. Hart
 E. Wayne Hilmer
 1921—Arthur J. Coombs
 A. Holmes Johnson
 Bernice Radley Shaffer
 Evelyn Balkema Troutman
 Bessie Reed Walton
 Ronald M. Wilson
 1922—Minnie C. Anderson
 Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Cenz (Mary Decker)
 Mr. and Mrs. Leon E. Hickman (Mayme Hoyt)
 Mr. and Mrs. Park W. Moorhead (Edna Bekins)
 Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Winter (Nellie Carpenter)
 1923—Genevieve Stamper Cline
 Jewell Haskins
 Arthur Hopkinson
 Vesta Taylor Ketels
 Margaret Kidder
 B. O. Lyle
 Golda Kane Moser
 Minnie C. Oates
 Esther Waterhouse Parsons
 Lucile F. Vickers
 1924—Robert H. Dolliver
 Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Eerkes (Margaret Haradon)
 1925—Mr. and Mrs. Lester Benz (Marguerite Held)
 Viola E. Benz
 Max A. Kopstein
 Dwight W. Winkelman
 1926—Earl E. Josten
 Mr. and Mrs. Henry TePaske (Forest Mosier)
 1927—Jesse C. Ducommun
 Margaret Macintosh Hunt
 1928—Lawrence S. Cain
 Mabel Nissen Haas
 Elmer E. Hansen
 1929—Anne Aalfs Schaff
 Ruth Schuler Stewart
 Merwin L. Zwald
 1930—Flordora Mellquist Pendleton
 Thelma Jager Schaper
 1931—Robert P. Munger
 Wendell B. Seward
 Milton H. Thompson
 Virgil K. Williams
 1932—David C. Carver
 Homer S. Schaper
 1933—Ruth McDonald
 Louise McCracken Paulson
 1934—Adeline Hall Anderl
 W. G. Muhleman
 1935—Helen M. Bottom
 Ethel Hedenbergh
 Daryl E. Williams
 1936—Margaret Messing Larsen
 Elaine Rawson Williams
 1937—Gertrude E. Bale
 Ira J. Holland
 1938—Ruth Hayward Gandek
 Beverly Myers Holland
 Margaret E. Lease
 Frances Hunter Palmer (deceased)
 Lyle F. Poyzer
 1939—Ruth Worrell Clayton
 Evelyn DePue McClure
 Keene A. Roadman
 Alberta F. Seavey
 1940—Margaret Long Eaton
 Mr. and Mrs. Lester Menke (Kathlyn Kolp)
 Robert Ruleman
 1941—Miriam C. Hartley
 Frances Forsberg Kaiser
 Evelina Maland
 Minetta A. Miller
 Doreen Dallam Smith
 Max H. Stern
 1942—Stanley E. Anderson
 Charles Clayton
 Charles Gandek
 Raymond H. Gusteson
 Mina Karcher
 Roy Michaud
 Phyllis Baker Nance
 Mildred Pfeiffer
 Leslie L. Pruehs
 1943—James L. Adams
 Brown H. Garlock
 Francis A. Kingsbury
 1945—Vernice Christiansen Kingsbury

VISITORS' REGISTER

- Mr. T. N. McClure, former faculty, Galesburg, Ill.
 Mrs. Neva Turkleson, '24, Sioux City
 Mrs. Melvin Schinkel (Frances Bridge '44), 250 34th Street Drive, Southeast, Cedar Rapids, Ia.
 Mr. William Wolle, '49, 35 Claremont Avenue, New York 27, N. Y.
 Miss Eleanor Bridenbaugh, '49, 808 Dahlia Street, Denver, Colo.
 Miss Kathryn J. Nelson, '48, 101 South Garfield Street, Peoria 5, Ill.
 Mr. Witon Van Meeveren, '49, 106 South Vanderbeek Street, Orange City, Ia. Rev., '47, and Mrs. Paul K. Zeman (Marylyn Wood '49), Elwin, Ill.
 Mr. Harold A. Decker, '34, University of Wichita, Wichita, Kans.
 Miss Aurelia Sturtevant, '19, 2335 Huidekoper Place, Washington, D. C.
 Miss Ann Barrett, '49, 609 North Freeman Avenue, Luverne, Minn.
 Miss Gaila Baker ('52), Kingsley, Ia.
 Dr. Berton Kolp, '46, Cottage Hospital, Santa Barbara, Calif.
 Mr., '50, and Mrs. Charles Q. Wallace (Anne Madison, '50), 803 Dempster Street, Evanston, Ill.
 Mrs. Melvin Thorson (Louise Neal, '37) Rolfe, Ia.
 Mr. ('50) and Mrs. Warren Gower (Priscilla Evanson ('52), 3300 Dearborn Avenue, Sioux City

—M—

WAYMACK EXPRESSES VIEWS

Dear Dave:

One of those "pink sheet" questionnaires of the Fifty-Year Committee about which we corresponded months ago has come to me, and I have just filled it out and sent it to Margaret Coleman Crary.

I'd like, first, to put on the record the fact that I now doubt whether any professor did me more good than one whose name I cannot even remember. He came in, as I recall it, for one year, probably to "fill in" while Professor Campbell was away. I think the course he taught was Ethics. For some reason I went into that course, probably for my usual reason, that I figured it would be easy. This chap had an unusual background as a foreign missionary—of all places, in Korea. I really remember very few specific things in the course, though one or two things that he said had a great impact and stuck with me. I do remember this, that despite my immaturity and naivete, I recognized in this teacher two attributes—the strong quality of human understanding and, probably as a corollary, exceptional breadth and tolerance. He may not have been a great educator by most of the professional criteria. I don't know. But my clear recollection is not only that he made, all things considered, a great impression upon me but also that the class as a whole was exceptionally interested. (The person referred was apparently Professor Higbee).

I find that in trying to appraise my college teachers in terms of help to me, I put very little emphasis on profundity in their several fields, or on cold technical proficiency. I find that practically all my emphasis goes to qualities of understanding, friendliness, humanness. I recall eventually discovering in some cases, under superficial aspects of shyness, stiffness, and so on, the deeper qualities of understanding and friendliness and of being greatly impressed and really helped thereafter.

I am led not at all to deprecate knowledge and competence in the techniques of teaching. But I am led to the conviction that, given appropriate competence, most important of all in the faculty member of a small college are the broad qualities of understanding which, when they exist, set up subtle currents between students and teacher which no one can describe.

Of course, faculty members are the college. There must be money, to provide essential facilities and to pay the teachers. But the teachers, in the end, are everything.

It occurs to me that the small college has advantages as well as disadvantages when this central fact is faced. Over a fairly long period of years (and there is no short way of maximizing the strength of a college), it ought to be possible to exploit the advantages and appeal of a small college by building a faculty marked by a special capacity to "keep close to" youth.

I believe it vital for the purpose I have stressed, and indeed for all others, to maintain the spirit of free inquiry. Surrenders to expediency as to this will not pay out. By the nature of things they cannot. Specifically, this is an element in attracting to the faculty good young minds. It can be more important even than money. I could elaborate this and cite illustrations, but consider it unnecessary.

Out of my personal experience and my reflection upon it, I would recommend a determined effort, regardless of difficulties as to time and convenience, to subject every student to very friendly exploratory talks with selected faculty members who are capable of managing it well. And I would repeat these once a year until graduation. Most of the values and purposes of such talks (which should not be rushed through) are obvious. But I would personally emphasize an aim which, at least in my day, was largely ignored everywhere. This is the aim of going beyond what appears to be a student's "natural bent" as to courses and to find out whether there are not lines of study outside that apparent bent which, if wisely explained to him, would challenge and attract him and in the end help him enormously.

I believe, of course, in ascertaining natural talents and developing them. But natural talents are not all obvious. In many cases they are not sufficiently served when students take just the courses that seem to suit their bent and therefore to promise passing grades with the minimum of effort. What I mean is that wishes can sometimes very helpfully be changed if a student is led to see the significance in life of "other" studies. I am utterly convinced that I could have been helped in this way. I do not think it an unreasonable assumption that others could be, too. And, no matter what the proportion of students that actually changed directions a little, I am equally convinced that all would be helped generally by the sort of process I suggest.

I do not overlook the burden that really doing this would put upon faculty, as long as the ratio of students to faculty is what it is. Of course, the objective should be to reduce the ratio. But so important does this seem to me, and so vitally related to the task of building a truly strong college, that I think I'd press and expand the procedure earnestly, by no means waiting for the happy time of twice as many professors to arrive. Happy days are commonly expedited by undertaking things that are tough.

Cordially,
 W. W. Waymack, '11

—M—

MORNINGSIDERS IN SERVICE

- | | |
|----------------------|-------------------|
| C. W. "Pete" Cropley | David Weisbrod |
| Truman O'Dogherty | Charles Slowey |
| Jack Frisbie | Vincent Claussen |
| Hazel Dethmers | Florence Down |
| Jean White | Lester D. Olson |
| William B. Lindsay | Dale Danielson |
| Stephen Brown | Robert M. Irwin |
| Lewis Beebe | Norman Clark |
| Gladys Yeaman | Maurice E. Jones |
| Ted A. Stawicki | John H. Seward |
| John Woodson | Alvern Sawin |
| George I. Back | Charles Kahoun |
| Robert Ruleman | Calmon Levich |
| Robert E. Hamel | Kenneth A. Gibson |
| Rosamond Wilson | Louis Croston |
| Richard Pawson | Eddie McCracken |
| Floyd E. Dunn | Morton Mulford |
| Lewis V. Walters | Charles Mahaffey |
| Morgan Harrison | Jay McDole |
| James J. Cobb | William Ide |
| Robert Hakala | George Whitney |
| Richard F. Garretson | Merle Taylor |
| Dale Flinders | Don Silvey |
| Robert G. Wooster | LuVerne Jacobs |
| Leverett L. Jacobi | Larry Freeman |
| Littleton S. Roberts | Harold Ladwig |
| Kathy Schwarz | Don Waterman |
| Norman Brady | Robert R. Meyer |
| Victor E. Menefee | John Kolp, Jr. |
| Charles H. Swartz | Calvin Romine |
| Robert Harrison | Peter Starrett |
| Kurt Steinbrenner | Marvin Lauritsen |
| Harold V. Holmes | Howard Harmon |
| Earl Woodard | Kenneth Gibson |

James Rose

If you know of other Morningside men in service, we will appreciate it if you will send the names and addresses to the Alumni Office.

MARRIAGES

Lois Glasco ('50)
Don Silvey, '50
October 1, The Methodist Church, Plover, Ia.

Mona Johnson ('50)
William R. Valentine, Jr.
October 11, Boston, Mass.
At home: Newtonville, Mass.

Mary Burreight ('51)
David L. Scaro, Jr.
November 23, Chicago, Ill.
At home: 1215 North Harlem Avenue
Oak Park, Ill.

Dorothy Ann Olson ('49)
Gerald J. Grady
December 1, Webster, S. D.
At home: Aberdeen, S. D.

LaVonne Voy
Charles "Pete" Cropley, '48
December 16, Chapel, Fort Sill, Okla.
At home: 309 Bell Avenue, Fort Sill, Okla.

Kay Knapp ('51)
Kenneth M. Ballantyne, Jr.
December 23, Grace Methodist Church
Sioux City
At home: 823 Jones Street, Sioux City

Ione Prescott, '49
Richard A. Morgan, '50
Dec. 23, Rustin Avenue Methodist Church
At home: 2214 South St. Aubin, Sioux City

Joan Bennett
James B. Moody, '50
December 24, St. Paul's Lutheran Church
Sioux City
At home: Iowa City, Ia.

Jean Clyde ('50)
Lt. James M. Garvey
December 27, Home of Dr. Graber
Morningside
At home: 408 N. 5th St., Manhattan, Kans.

Anne Madison, '50
Charles Q. Wallace, '50
December 27, First Methodist Church
Sioux Falls, S. D.
At home: 803 Dempster, Evanston, Ill.

Helen Posey, '40
Eugene F. Baltz
December 31, First Lutheran Church
Sioux City
At home: Pickstown, S. D.

Arline Fiderlick ('50)
Dwight G. Reigert ('51)
December 31, First Methodist Church
Sioux City
At home: Sioux City

Gwen Alice Wood
Lt. Robert M. Irwin ('51)
January 2, Home of Rev. George W. Dunn
Sioux City
At home: San Antonio, Texas

LEE STRAIN WRITES

An interesting letter and clipping came to the Alumni office recently from Lee R. Strain, 1930. Lee has been in Chicago as a buyer for the Osco Drug Company Inc. with offices in the Merchandise Mart for the past four years, and has been with the company for ten years. The Osco Co. has sixteen stores and a buying service for fifty-three stores throughout the west. Lee formerly edited the Alumni News Letter and also travelled around for the college trying to fill the "new dormitory" with girls who could pay their way.

The item in the article by Arch Ward, sports writer for the Chicago Tribune, refers to the Morningside-Notre Dame game in 1919. Mr. Ward relates: "Pro football linemen using gloves in late season games bring to mind Jimmy Crowley's story of the Morningside College-Notre Dame game in 1919 . . . The temperature was below zero and the Morningside boys were decked out in gloves . . . 'They made their only first down of the game on the first play,' Crowley relates, 'but when the teams lined up for the second play, all the Notre Dame boys were wearing Morningside's gloves.'"

WEE MORNINGSIDERS

Larry Kent, born to Mr. ('50) and Mrs. Warren Gower (Priscilla Evanson ('52) on July 31. The Gowers live at 3300 Dearborn Avenue in Sioux City.

Kim Alan, born September 8, adopted by Mr. and Mrs. William Paulsen (Lois Seaman ('44)). The Paulsens live at 1227 North 24th Street in Billings, Mont.

Cynthia June, born to Mr. and Mrs. Art Weiss (Margaret Pitstick ('48) on September 29 in Humboldt, Ia.

Byron Frederick, born to Mr., '42, and Mrs. Robert Bennett (Kathryn Brown, '42) of Hinton, Ia. on December 18 in Sioux City. The Bennetts have a son, Bobby, almost six and a daughter, Betty Ann, almost three.

Mary Ellen, born to Mr., '48, and Mrs. Feldman Jones on December 19 in Sioux City.

Harry Arno, born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Krug (Madelyn Schweizer, '49) on December 21 in San Diego, Calif.

Mark Lawrence, born to Mr., '50, and Mrs. Robert Eldredge in Sioux City on December 22. Bob is assistant recreation director in Sioux City.

Karen Lee, born to Mr. ('50) and Mrs. Charles Burow (Mae Kiessig ('50) on Christmas day in Sioux City.

Diane Elizabeth, born to Lt. and Mrs. L. W. Eads (Betty Boles, '45) on December 31 in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Lt. Eads is stationed with the United States naval mission in Brazil.

Clifford Michael, born to Mr. ('41) and Mrs. Eugene Coe on January 6 in Sioux

City. The Coes have a three year old son, Gerald Eugene and twenty one months old twin daughters, Carolyn and Marilyn.

Curtis Michael, born to Mr. ('50) and Mrs. Philip Sabag on January 11 in Sioux City. The Sabags reside at 1824 South Pomegranite Street.

David Lyle, born to Mr., '50, and Mrs. W. M. Hantsbarger of Ames, Ia. on January 11 in Sioux City.

Cynthia Rae, born to Mr. ('44) and Mrs. Roy Schellenger on January 2 in Charlotte, N. C. The Schellengers live at 1152 Valley Stream Road.

Cindy Lou, born to Lt., '50, and Mrs. Jack Frisbie (Shirley Haas ('50), on January 14 in Waukegan, Ill. The Frisbies have an eighteen months old son Michael. Lt. Frisbie has reported to Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Lawrence Donald, born to Mr., '49, and Mrs. Lyle F. Couture (Ina Mae Ham ('50), of Ponca, Nebr., on January 15 in Sioux City. Stephen, the older son, is fifteen months old.

—M—

Howard G. Bennett ('07) passed away at his home in Hammond, Ind. on October 21. His brother, Eralza, now deceased, was a graduate of the class of 1907.

Clyde H. Tennis ('09), died on January 6 at Edinburg, Texas, after suffering a heart attack while he and Mrs. Tennis (Mathilda Olson ('09) were on a ten day vacation in the south. Clyde had been in the real estate business in Sioux City for nearly forty years. He had been a member of the Sioux City Real Estate Board and for the past two and one-half years had edited "The Chatter", a weekly publication for real estate dealers. Besides Mrs. Tennis, a son, Neal, of Sioux City; a daughter, Mrs. William Cleland, of Denver, a brother and two grandchildren survive.

Funeral services for Erwin A. Hope, '36, who died in a Sioux City hospital on December 28, after being struck by a paper baler handle at the Goodwill Industries at the Wall Street Mission, were held on December 30 in Sioux City. Burial was in Graceland Park cemetery.

Nile Dana, the five months old son of Mr., '42, and Mrs. Bernard Feikema (Mary Lou Held, '44) of Hospers, Ia. died of a heart ailment on January 5. The Feikemas have a son, Brian, aged three and a half.

John Slater, an academy student in 1912-13, and a life long resident of Tyndall, S. D., died at a hospital there on January 12. Mr. Slater had been elected clerk of courts on November 7 but was hospitalized before he could begin his term of office. His widow a son and two grandchildren survive. Mr. Slater was a cousin of Susan Eads Craig, '17; Caroline Eads Money ('14), and Bertha Eads Opwich ('13).

GUESTS IN WASHINGTON

Prof. and Mrs. James Reistrup, and son, John, have returned from a trip to Washington, D. C., where December 27 until Saturday, Prof. Reistrup attended, as a celebrity guest, a meeting of the National Guild of Piano Teachers at the Shoreham Hotel. Richard Werder, '42, of Washington, former pupil of Mr. Reistrup at the Conservatory of Music, who made his debut in New York last season, was a featured artist at the event. The Reistrups spent Christmas with their son and brother, Cadet Paul Reistrup, at West Point.

—M—

TRIBUTE TO COACH HOLLISTER

The following tribute to the late Coach John Hollister comes from Percy Ullman ('12) who has a real estate brokerage and loan office in Salem, Ore.:

"Not with regret for he lived a long and useful life; but with sorrow in my heart, I am informed of the death of Coach John Hollister. Coach Hollister was a fine, up-standing man and as I recall was a star on teams at Beloit, Wisc. in his younger life. Back in 1909, '10, '11 and '12 while attending Morningside and playing on the team, I found him to be a real pal. He was stern in discipline, but kind and considerate in reproval. A great deal of our instruction was given in small get-together meetings of a night when the coach would sight details of experiences he had on the field and point out to us the best methods to overcome obstacles. A few of the men whose names I can recall, such as Quarnstrom "The Big Swede", Vernon Prichard, "Hank" Winterringer, John and James Lewis, Barrett Dolliver, Lawrence Belt, "Vince" Montgomery and the Berkstressers (Allen and Howard), all held the coach in high esteem. I am sure they and others do cherish the memory of that grand man, Coach John Hollister."

—M—

JOHN W. HOLLISTER

The death of "Jack" Hollister has called to mind the man who coached Morningside athletics from 1908 to 1911 and the successful teams of those years. During 1910-11 his football team defeated Ames 5-0, his track team won the state meet and his baseball team won over the state university.

Hollister was the first to bring Morningside relay teams to recognition. With no winter training facilities he improvised an indoor track in old Grace Church and there developed a relay team that won at Kansas City and other indoor meets. He was instrumental in getting a field house built at the north end of Bass Field for indoor track and basketball. In his coaching he emphasized fundamentals and correctness of form. Before coming to Morningside Hollister coached at Beloit where his squad included John L. Griffith, coach at Morningside from 1905 to 1908 and later Big Ten Commissioner. After Griffith had gone to Drake he wrote to Morningside's captain before a crucial game, "Hollister has forgotten more about football than the opposing coach has ever known."

In his own day he played on the teams at Williams College and won distinction as a halfback for Yale and at Michigan. Of average stature and weight, he possessed a physical stamina which combined with mental alertness in unusual athletic ability.

His knowledge and understanding of men and games extended to all forms of sport. As a student accompanying him to an exhibition by Frank Gotch and Jim Jeffries, the writer was surprised to find him familiar with the requirements of wrestling and boxing. A dozen years later he was to teach the writer tennis.

Hollister was a philosopher in athletics and a developer of youth. He liked to work individually with men and often had them over to his house to talk over their positions and events and to build up interest and confidence. "There is a great difference between 'I will' and 'I wonder', he would say. He encouraged men to enter additional sports and to practice other events besides their specialties in order to add strength and balance. He often said that the capacity of a young man is unlimited. After retiring from coaching he continued to help by correspondence those who had gone on to further responsibility as players or coaches. He will be remembered as a profound coach, a good counselor and friend and as a thorough gentleman.

D. L. Wickens, '13

—M—

CLASS NOTES

Alumni dues are still coming into the Alumni office every day so we have more information about your friends and classmates to pass on to you.

1900-1910

C. A. Carlson ('03), 2510 Pierce Street, Sioux City, is a foreman at Wincharger Corporation.

1910-1920

Dr., '12, and Mrs. Ray Hess (Janet Little ('13), live at 175 Linwood Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y. Ray is a chemist.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Bigglestone (Ruth Reike), both '14, have moved from Tuscon, Ariz. to 4630 Pescadero Avenue, San Diego, Calif.

Mrs. William Wellner (Martha Schatz, '19), is enjoying life on a ranch near the Black Hills in Smithwick, S. D.

1920-1930

Dr., '20, and Mrs. Herbert L. Mahood (Lulu Guiney, '21), live at 86 Durant Road, Maplewood, N. J. Herbert is a physician and surgeon.

Amos W. Hartman, '20, is a Life Insurance agent in Batavia, Ill. His address is 734 East Wilson.

Gladys Knapp Luce, '20, is a teacher in the schools in San Diego, Calif. She lives at 4028 Utah Street.

Golda K. Moser, '22, 13019 Oxnard Street, Van Nuys, Calif. is a senior high school teacher-counselor.

A picture of the Reverend G. Sam Nichols, '23, (Reverend Nick) and an article about his remarkable work at Collegiate Methodist Church in Ames, Ia. is a feature in the January first issue of Life magazine.

Elsie L. Parker, '23, is executive secretary for the North Carolina Eugenics Board and Mental Hygiene Society in Raleigh, N. C.

Paul E. Stevens, '23, was married August 13, 1950 in the First Methodist Church at Portland, Ore. to Mrs. Lois Dent. Mrs. Stevens is a graduate of Arizona State at Flagstaff. Previous to her marriage she was Head Counselor at West House, freshmen girls' dormitory, Washington State College, Pullman. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens are making their home in Kettle Falls, Wash., where Mr. Stevens teaches music and English in the Kettle Falls public school.

Irene Truckenmiller, '24, is a parish worker in Cincinnati, O. She lives at 1308 Rice Street.

Mrs. Carl Biever (Lillian Murray, '24), 3829 Franklin Blvd., Sacramento, Calif. has added the duties of teaching to those of keeping house.

Katherine Welden, '25, who is employed as a journalist for the government in Washington, D. C., lives at 751 South Jefferson Street in Arlington, Va.

Miss Muriel Bennett ('26), is assistant in the public library at Akron, Ia.

Mrs. Charles Burks (Marjorie Bagge, '26), of Clarinda, Ia. is working part-time as a church secretary.

Dr. William Clapper ('26), is professor of bacteriology in the medical school of the University of Colorado at Denver.

Mrs. Ralph Crary (Margaret Coleman, '26), has been elected president of the Sioux Writers club in Sioux City for the coming year.

Kenneth R. Rowley, '27, of Spencer, Ia., is county superintendent of the Clay County schools.

Dr. Fred M. Marquis ('27), is a physician and surgeon in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Lincoln, Nebr.

Mrs. O. L. Hopkins (Mary Clarke ('27), is living on Royal Route No. 1 at Storm Lake, Ia. The Hopkins children are Judy, twelve; Philip, eleven, and Joel, five.

Carl A. Olson ('28), is a divisional comptroller for the International Harvester Company. His home is at 862 St. James Blvd., Evansville, Ind.

Mrs. Glenn B. Davis (Blythe Day, '28), lives at 11528 East Rincon Drive, Whittier, Calif. She is employed as a secretary.

Earl J. Benz ('28), is manager of the Citizens Loan and Investment Company in Appleton, Wis.

Professor Hoyt C. Franchere ('29), is associate professor and supervisor of English studies in the general extension division which is one of the seven branches of the Oregon State System of higher education in Portland, Ore.

Frank Bartholomew, '29, is superintendent of the high school in Boring, Ore.

Lisle L. Berkshire, '29, is assistant manager of the commercial org. department of the Chamber of Commerce at Falls Church, Va.

1930-1940

Rev. Richard E. Carlyon ('30), of Hastings, Nebr. is in his fourth year as district superintendent of the Nebraska Conference. The Carlyons have four children and three grandchildren.

Roland L. Huff, '31, is an attorney in Kalamazoo, Mich.

Alice Horton, '31, is a bank clerk in Nampa, Ida.

Edgar J. Otto, '32, is a member of the Concordia College faculty in St. Paul, Minn. He is in the chemistry department and is also an English and speech instructor.

Ruben P. Schneider, '32, is a piano tuner in LeMars, Ia.

Lela M. Bernd, '33, is a librarian in South Bend, Ind.

Mr., '34, and Mrs. Merlin Kolbe (Audrey Stomberg, '35), are farming near Nevada, Ia.

Emmett Curry ('34), former member of The Journal staff, has been elected assistant vice president of the United States National Bank at Omaha. Emmett was a Journal newsman for eight years before going to Omaha in 1941.

John E. Evans, '34, is an intern at Wayne County General Hospital in Eloise, Mich.

Laurie J. Gillespie ('36), is a field representative for the social security administration in Baltimore, Md.

Earl E. Houseman, '37, is a mathematical statistician in Falls Church, Va.

Edward W. Keller, '37, lives at 2331 73rd Avenue in Oakland, Calif. where he is a deputy collector of internal revenue.

Mrs. John D. Graney (Marguerite Morton, '37), lives at 565 South Ogden in Denver, Colo. where the family has moved recently. There are two Graney daughters, Bonnie Lou, aged nine and one half and Peggy Carol, aged four and one half years.

Victor Jacobson, '37, is the owner of an appliance store in Norfolk, Nebr.

Pauline Kaus ('38), is a teacher in Charles City, Ia.

Lillian Brown Plumer, '39, is teaching in Portland, Ore. She lives at 316 Southeast 79th Street.

Nancy Mahood ('38), is director of public relations for the Cornhusker Motor Club in Omaha, Nebr.

Mrs. Madeline Preston Sanford, '38, is teaching in Box Elder, Mont. Her address is Rocky Boys Agency.

1940-1950

Marie Louise Sauer ('40), is a statistician and fashion model in Los Angeles, Calif.

Robert Craven, '40, is Y.M.C.A. secretary in Seattle, Wash.

Gunder Fribourgh ('41), teaches in Technical high school at Des Moines, Ia. His home is at 1317 56th Street.

Mary McBride, '41, is secretary to the Director of Publicity at W.N.B.C.-N.N.B.T. in New York City.

Gordon L. Sheldall, '41, 2933 West Shorb Street, Alhambra, Calif. is a bill clerk for Sante Fe Railroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reese (Barbara Barry), both '42, are living in Coon Rapids, Ia. where Bob is a high school coach and teacher.

Alvern Sawin ('43), formerly a designing electrical engineer for North American Aircraft is at Fort Bragg, N. C. Connie Jo was a new arrival in his home last July 16.

Mrs. Ethel Davis Fitzhugh, '43, is a government employee in Washington, D. C.

John P. Gedwillo, '43, is an executive director of the Goodwill Industries in Lincoln, Nebr.

Mrs. Vernon Frommie (Bonnie Burr ('44), writes that they have moved recently from Sioux Rapids, Ia. to Topeka, Kans. where her husband is sales representative for Kansas for Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation. The Frommies have two sons, Ricky, aged seven and Vance, aged four.

Mrs. Larry Granstedt (Edith Harrison, ('44), is living at 1540 Ninth Avenue, San Diego, Calif. Her husband is supervisor of tool design at Convair.

Richard Brown ('44), is a teacher of social studies in Wisconsin State Teachers College at Whitewater, Wis.

Dr., '46, and Mrs. Berton Kolp (Roberta Haitz ('46), and daughter, Virginia, have been making a short visit with relatives in Sioux City and Manson. They left January 12 for Santa Barbara, Calif. where Dr. Kolp is continuing his work as interne.

Blake Shipton, '46, is practicing law in Center Point, Ia. near Cedar Rapids.

Mr. ('46), and Mrs. Stanley Corkhill (Phyllis Downey, '44) are residents of Orlando, Fla. at 700 Winthrop Place. Stanley is an accountant and office manager.

Dale Dunn, '47, will graduate from Creighton Medical School at Omaha, Nebr. in June, 1951.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. McLaughlin (Kathryn Roadman), both '47, are living at 1339 C East 38th Street in Tulsa, Okla. Dick, who received his law degree from the University of Michigan last June, is employed in the land department of the Sunray Oil Company.

Elbert Bales, '47, works as a production planner in Huntington Park, Calif. for the Fibre Boards Production Company and is attending City College.

Miss Margaret Dutton, '48, 56 Bowdoin, Me., is director of the Community Theatre in Portland.

Phyllis Osborn, '48, has been made director of the Occupational Therapy department at the Colorado State Hospital in Pueblo. Phyllis writes that the hospital houses six thousand mentally ill patients, so her job is a big one.

James Fribourgh ('48), is a science instructor in the Junior College at Little Rock, Ark.

Eugene A. Troup, '48, is an instructor in the Pomona high school in Pomona, Calif.

Mr., '49, and Mrs. Albert Rosenow (Wilma Bozarth, '49), are teachers in the Bronson, Ia. high school.

Robert C. Danielson, '49, is an electrician for Nystrom Electric Company in Sioux City.

Kenneth McLaughlin ('49), of Ames, Ia. is an engineer for the Iowa Highway Commission.

Robert E. Lindberg, '49, is a factory representative for Albertson and Company in Louisville, Ky. His address is 5314 Mitscher Avenue, Louisville.

Dick Van Zanten, '49, is teaching at Inwood, Ia.

A letter from Charles F. Sawin ('50), relates that since his graduation from the University of South California last February, he has been employed as a factory sales representative for Skelsaw Inc., a portable electric tool manufacturer. The Sawins live at 1624½ North Serrano in Hollywood, Calif. They have a fifteen months old son, Steven Charles.

Ray K. Kline, Jr. ('50), is co-owner and operator of the City Cab Service in Saint Cloud, Fla.

Dean "Diz" Kauffman, '50, is instructor of vocal and instrumental music in the Lawton, Ia. public schools.

Robert P. Nielsen, '50, is pastor of the Chester and Cotton Methodist Churches and a student in the North American Baptist Seminary with residence in Chester, S. D.

Mr., '50, and Mrs. Irving Culver, Jr. (Goldie Walbran ('52), are living in Pater-son, N. J. where Irving is a salesman for the National Biscuit Company.

Cpl. John Patch ('51), who was called recently to active duty with the marines, has been assigned to headquarters squadron, operations engineers, marine air station, El Toro, Santa Ana, Calif. His wife, the former Jennilea Turrentine, lives at 2310 Pierce Street in Sioux City.

Leon Chichester ('51), of South Kortright, N. Y., is an agent for the New York Central Railroad.

Mr. ('51) and Mrs. Eugene Markland (Doris Peterson, '46), are living in Austin, Minn. where Eugene is taking training as a livestock buyer for Hormel Packing Company. He received his degree in animal husbandry from Iowa State College at Ames in December.

BASKETBALL SUMMARY

Prior to the second weekend of January, Morningside's basketballers had played a total of ten games, losing but two contests and giving them an 8-2 record.

Only a few days before Christmas vacation, center Dick Weidenfeld poured 54 points through the iron rings in two games to lead his mates to 75-63 and 65-51 wins over Washburn and Buena Vista, respectively. The highly-touted Washburn squad entered the game with a definite height advantage but the Maroons ignored the pre-game predictions and used a devastating fast break to roll over the Topeka team by a wide margin. The next night coach Buckingham substituted freely as Morningside easily defeated a short Buena Vista squad.

The following week on December 20 Morningside continued its winning streak with a 69-61 conquest of stubborn Dubuque. Although the Spartans proved an able opponent they were slightly weary from games the previous two nights and couldn't quite overcome the Maroons' fast style of play. Weidenfeld bucketed 25 points while Loren Moll harassed the Dubuque defense with seven long shots.

Morningside gained the top bracket in the North Central Tourney by out-racing the tallest team in the meet, North Dakota State. Ray Berry turned in an outstanding performance with a terrific rebounding exhibition coupled with 13 points. Two nights later, Buckingham's team was stranded in second place as a smooth South Dakota State outfit upset the Maroons 68-64. Morningside's fast break failed to materialize but they managed to stay close to the visitors until late in the game when the Jack's sharpshooters widened the gap. The Sioux Cityans advanced to the final round by eliminating Grinnell 74-65 with a well-balanced attack in which Berry, Moll, Weidenfeld, Doug Gresham and Ed McCabe all scored over 10 points. The brilliant Dave Dunlop broke the Allee gym scoring record by notching 36 points for the losers.

MORNINGSIDE—N. D. U.

In its first official conference game on January 6 Morningside recovered in the final eight minutes from a frigid mid-game lapse to edge North Dakota 63-62. Berry and Red Norris finally pulled the shaken team together for one last effort which yanked the contest from the well-known fire.

MORNINGSIDE—S. D. S.

In an above average game played January 9, Morningside out-lasted South Dakota State 73-68 to even the series between the two teams at one contest apiece. The scoring was evenly divided for the Maroons with Moll dropping in 17 points, ably assisted by Norris and Weidenfeld with 16 and 15, respectively. The game was rough throughout, but as it progressed Buckingham's boys seemed to iron out several wrinkles which had plagued them in many games.

IOWA TEACHERS—MORNINGSIDE

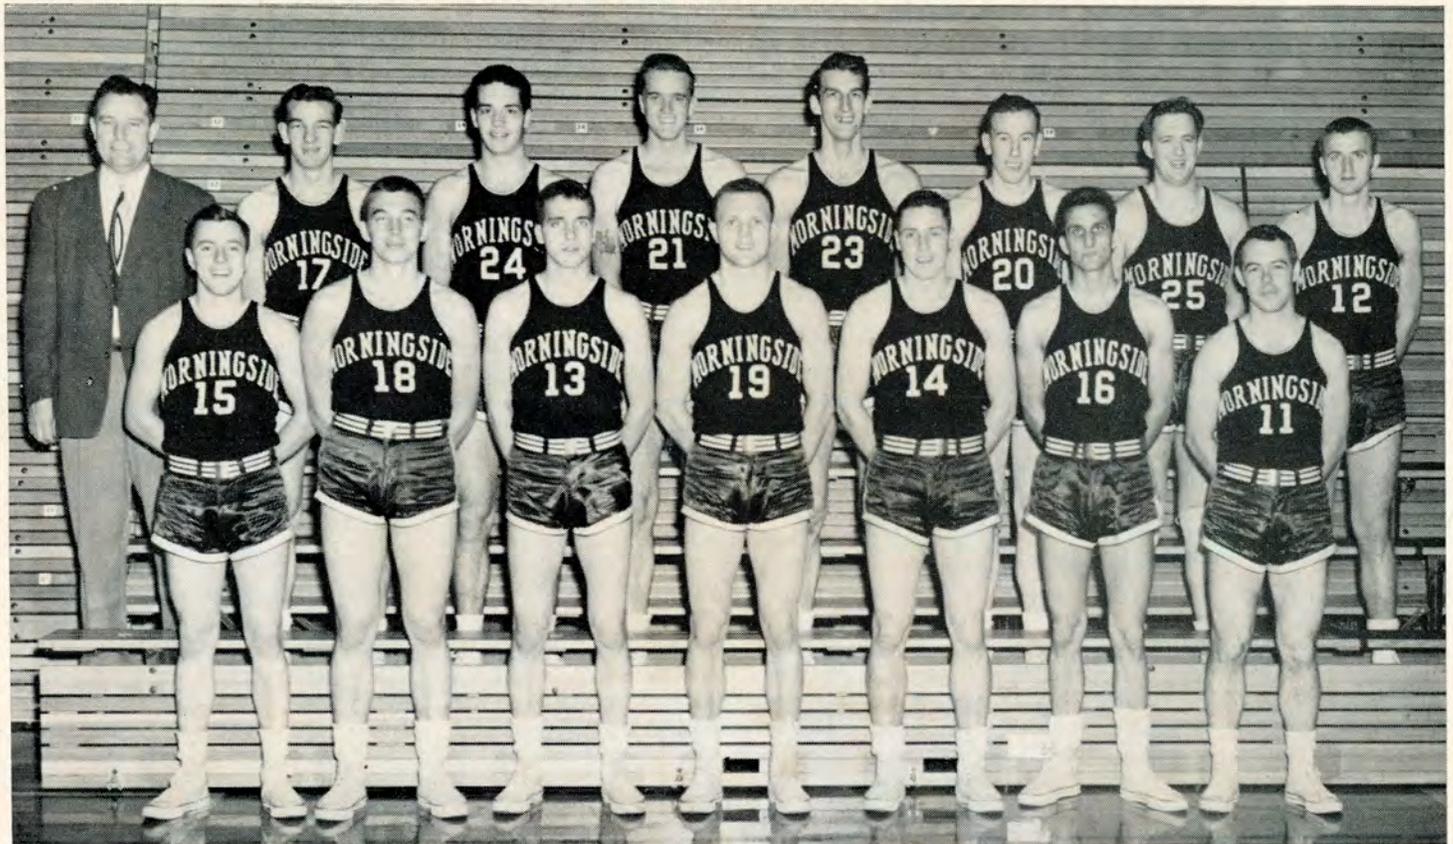

Morningside, playing away from home for the second time this season, dropped a spine-tingling 55-53 game to Iowa State Teachers on January 12.

Dick Garth, sole letterman for the Tutors, was the main wrecker of Morningside's victory plans. The smooth guard scored 24 points and turned in a brilliant floor game. Bill Peterson assisted Garth with 16 points, mostly on a dribble-in shot from the side which drew several fouls from the Maroons.

The cool shooting Morningsiders, playing much of the game without Dick Weidenfeld, who retired early with five personals, trailed from three to nine points until a fired-up scoring spree gained them a 53-50 lead with two minutes remaining. However, the fates were against them as Garth poured in five straight points in the last 54 seconds to take the game away from Morningside.

Ray Berry was a constant thorn in the Teachers' defense and led the visitors with 17 points.

MAROON CONTENDERS FOR NORTH CENTRAL CHAMPIONSHIP

In the picture, left to right, first row: Charles Housh, Garner; Cliff Hanson, Luverne; Bill Lyle, Sioux City; Wally Piper, Sioux City; Loren Moll, Paullina; Roger Burke, Sioux City, and Bob Brock, Battle Creek. Second row: Coach Al Buckingham; Ken File, Rock

Rapids; Doug Gresham, Winnipeg, Canada; John Law, Pierson; Dick Weidenfeld, San Diego, Calif.; Bob Norris, Sioux City; Ed McCabe, Albany, N. Y., and Ray Berry, Flint, Mich.

L. E. COMMITTEE EXPANDED

The Living Endowment Committee has increased its membership and is laying plans for a banner 1951 year. The present membership on the committee is as follows:

- Harold P. Winter, Chairman
- Leon E. Hickman, Vice Chairman
- G. Earl Barks, Treasurer
- Dwight W. Winkelman
- Dale E. Norton
- Herbert L. Dunham
- Cornelius E. Eerkes
- William C. Wolle
- Axel Beck
- Earl Fullbrook

Ex Officio

- Dr. Earl Roadman
- Dr. Nelson Price
- Mrs. Florence Kingsbury

Plans are being made to send material to all of the alums, as well as to carry on an active campaign for increasing the benefits of Living Endowment to Morningside College. The committee has set a new high goal to shoot at . . . $10,000 . . . and believes that the alums will give their support in doing this job for the college this year.

Any questions that you may have regarding Living Endowment should be addressed to Mr. Leon Hickman, Vice Chairman, who is in charge of answering the letters, or to Mr. G. Earl Barks, Treasurer, who accepts the money. The committee even suggests that if you are in doubt as to what you might do, send your check and then ask the questions, and in that way you will be sure to get a reply from the committee.

All checks should be mailed to Mr. G. Earl Barks, Belden, Nebr., Treasurer.

M

ATTENTION

Remember to send in your renewals for magazine subscriptions to the Alumni Office. If anyone has not yet received copies of magazines ordered as Christmas gifts, please be patient. It takes longer to process subscriptions during the Christmas season.

$$\frac{172}{6983} = 2\frac{1}{2}\%$$

Emptying the ocean with a spoon is a tough job!

Moving a mountain, a shovelful at a time is a difficult task!

Last year, 172 loyal alums gave to Living Endowment. That is just a starter in the tremendous amount of potential of the loyal alums of Morningside College. We don't believe this percentage represents the truth of the situation but there are the "cold" facts. In 1951, let's make them "warm" facts! Let's resolve to be on the side of giving to Morningside College through Living Endowment. It will make a good New Year's resolution!

A check to Earl Banks right now will enter your gift for the year and prove to Morningside that these percentages are wrong.

UNKNOWN MORNINGSIDERS

- Mrs. Harold Anderson (Pauline Hieke, '29)
- Mr. Merritt W. Bates ('51)
- Miss Dorothy Brashear, '29
- Mr. William E. Bray ('50)
- Mr. Guy L. Brown ('19)
- Mrs. Donald O. Burke (Elizabeth Huntington, '38)
- Mrs. A. G. Carlson (Carol Moen ('27)
- Miss Lalia Clark ('19)
- Mr. James H. Doerr ('53)
- Mr. Felix Dormoi, '48
- Mr. J. M. Godson ('30)
- Mr. Robert Hammond ('44)
- Mr. Jack Holloway ('43)
- Mr. Taylor Jackson ('46)
- Mr. ('51) and Mrs. William E. Kiose (Mary Williams ('53)
- Mr. Willard O. Kramer, '31
- Mrs. Charles D. Lehman (Fleta Bane, '39)
- Miss Jaucile Long, '48
- Mr. William M. Murray ('43)
- Mrs. H. D. Newton (Alice Marsh, '05)
- Mr. Melvin A. Pederson ('53)
- Mr. Harry V. Peterson ('43)
- Miss Lola J. Pirie ('50)
- Mrs. Lee R. Ross (Virginia Crane, '39)

- Mrs. Frederick Smith (Louis Dahlberg ('48)
- Miss Martha Swem, '09
- Mr. Byron D. Walter, '42

M

CORRECTIONS

In a classnote in the December Morningsider we stated erroneously that Mrs. Donald E. McFarland of Minneapolis, Minn. was formerly Marie Walters ('26). Mrs. Don McFarland was Edythe Shaw, '27, and Ella Marie Walters ('26) is Mrs. J. P. McFarland of Houston, Texas.

From Philip E. DeGriseles of Worthington, Minn., a student at Morningside in the early 1900's, comes the information that the first production of the Messiah was given in a Sioux City theater about 1905 or 1906 under the direction of Professor Mather, then a voice instructor in the conservatory. (The article on the Messiah in the December Morningsider gave the year as 1918 and the place as Grace Church for the first Messiah. Evidently we were a little hazy on its early history). Philip says that at that time there were one hundred and fifty members in the orchestra, eight soloists and most of the student body trying to sing, he among them.

The Morningsider

MORNINGSIDE COLLEGE

Sioux City 20, Iowa

Entered at the Postoffice at Sioux City, Iowa, as Second Class Matter, Under Act of Congress, August 24, 1912.

31

Robinson

See center

1738

25-26-27-28-29-30-31-32-33-34-35-36-37-38-39-40-41-42-43-44-45-46-47-48-49-50-51-52-53-54-55-56-57-58-59-60-61-62-63-64-65-66-67-68-69-70-71-72-73-74-75-76-77-78-79-80-81-82-83-84-85-86-87-88-89-90-91-92-93-94-95-96-97-98-99-100

Mrs. M. E. Graber '28
1402 So. Newton
Sioux City,
Iowa

John Cassell
Baranich

Newton

