Summer School

Morningside College, 1944, Summer School will be held this year from June 1 through August 23, Dean W. J. Scarborough, Director of Summer Session, announced recently.

Special features of the summer session this year will include a twelve week normal training course for high school graduates wishing to qualify for uniform county certificates to teach in the rural schools of Iowa. The normal training course will be under the direction of Mr. C. G. Hadley, Woodbury County Superintendent. Special attention will be given to the immediate needs of normal training students to prepare them for the State Board Examinations and for work of teaching in rural communities.

Professor John Schmidt, Assistant Principal of Central High School, Sioux City, will offer a special course in work-shop on pre-induction training in the summer session. This course is designed to prepare high school teachers to offer the course in high school for those who are about to be inducted into the armed forces. Morningside is cooperating with the Director of Military Training of the Seventh Service Command in presenting this summer school work.

Courses will be offered in the summer session for liberal arts majors, commercial and business students, pre-professional students, future teachers, experienced teachers (including those who wish to meet certificate renewal regulations or reinstatement requirements), and students desiring accelerated college programs because of the war. Particular attention will be given to men who wish to complete college training previous to military induction.

Cadet Nurses Begin Training

The new cadet nurses training program, operated with federal aid, was inaugurated Wednesday, March 1, at Morningside when 38 young women from nearby localities registered for the course. Five days of the week the cadet nurses spend in classes at the college and Thursday of each week at the hospitals. Their curriculum comprises a total of seventeen and one-third credit hours of chemistry for nurses, anatomy and physiology, microbiology, dietetics, psychology and physical education.

The nurses participate in college activities and are living in the old Bishop Lewis home at 2040 S. St. Aubin and in the Held home at 3926 Orleans Ave., both of which have been remodeled and furnished to accommodate the newcomers.

The cadet nurses training program is set up on the basis of the Bolton Act which provides federal aid for the study of nursing to 65,000 students. Cooperating locally are the Lutheran and Methodist hospitals.

At the end of the five-month period the present girls will be replaced by another group as the object of the program is to supply the ever increasing demand for nurses—both civilian and military—due to the war.

Dean Myron E. Graber

"Where can I find Dean Graber?" The query is one that is often heard in the alumni office from service men and former Morningsiders who return to the campus. A short time later, arm in arm with the visitor, the Dean is seen going across the campus to "Schwarz's" for a cup of coffee and a good visit; Dean Graber is never too busy to welcome his former students who come back to Morningside and each one feels the Dean's continued interest in his progress as he eagerly questions him about his activities, conclusive evidence that Dean Graber is not merely a teacher of science, but a counselor and friend to each of his pupils.

The hundreds of students who have had contacts with Dean Graber will recall many of their college experiences centering around this inspiring and devoted teacher. Again and again his mailbox at the college contains letters from his boys—letters which the Dean treasures because they express to him the deep appreciation of each one for his wise counsel, help and understanding, and often contain the acknowledgement that Morningside is not just a college where one receives a degree but one where the interest and confidence of such a friend as Dean Graber has proved an inspiration in later life.

He came to Morningside in 1919 as Professor of Physics. In 1924 he was made Dean of Men, the position he now holds. That year Dr. Graber received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Iowa and in 1937 the degree of Doctor of Science from his alma mater, Heidelberg University.

In 1928 Dr. Graber inaugurated a course in aeronautics at Morningside. His faith in the future of the aeroplane was already firmly established. Through his foresight he aided many men to get in on the ground

Accreditation

The Post-War Committee at Morningside College announces the following resolution on the accreditation of adult achievement for the personnel of the Armed Forces.

A. Morningside College will grant no "blanket credit" for experience in the Armed Service.

B. The program outlined by the American Council on Education entitled: "Sound Educational Credit for Military Experience" will form the general pattern of evaluation of educational experience. In general this means:

1. Evaluation of work taken on an individual student basis after carefully reviewing the content and grade as recommended by the Armed Forces Institute in Madison, Wisconsin.
2. Adjusted standing after evaluation has been made only on the basis of actual work taken in the Armed Forces. ("Sound Educational Credit for Military Experience" pp. 15-17.)
3. The use of tests recommended by the American Council on Education for the evaluation of work done in other programs not subject to the Armed Forces Institute.
4. A system of guidance under the direction of the major professor to plan a well-rounded college program for the returning soldier.

C. Morningside will accept and evaluate transcripts of all accredited colleges for work done in service training when floor of aviation, as it were. In 1938, Morningside was one of sixty-five out of 1700 colleges which offered a course in aviation. Dr. Graber is listed in "Who's Who in Aviation," an honor which few men can claim.

The Doctor's chief hobbies are guns and rare books of science and mathematics. He is also an author, having written three technical books besides contributions to magazines. He limits his writing talent to education and the theories and problems of physics and chemistry. Most of his spare time is spent reading, writing or attending meetings of one of the many clubs and associations of which he is an honored member. Further establishing Dr. Graber's fame will be the inclusion of his life's history and accomplishments in the soon to be published book, "Who's Who in the Western Hemisphere."

Engineers in all branches, scattered around the world in civilian and army life, teachers in the sciences, arts and humanities, religious leaders both clergy and lay, doctors, and lawyers are the results of his untiring efforts to inspire his students with the best, to achieve the highest goals and to contribute as college men that full measure of devotion and service to society.

Alumni Campaign Off to Good Start

From March 1st to June 1st, Morningsiders everywhere will make their annual interest payments on Morningside's Living Endowment. An annual payment of $50 is the equivalent of $1,000 invested at 5%, and consequently entitles the alumni donor to a framed alumni bond in the sum of $1,000. Payments of interest continue annually until the donor terminates the gift.

This is the third year of the plan. No one has withdrawn as yet. In the first year the alumni and ex-students subscribed $32,000 dollars of Living Endowment. Last year the amount rose to $60,000, exclusive of gifts through the Sioux City campaign. This year interest payments have totalled $1,467.50 to date, which is nearly $30,000 of endowment. Payments are far ahead of a year ago. Quite a number of additional alumni have signed up for alumni bonds. By June 1st, it is expected that we shall have greatly exceeded last year's total.

The names of all subscribers will be published by classes at the end of the campaign. The classes with (1) the highest percentage of participants, (2) the largest number of participants and (3) the largest aggregate subscription will be suitably recognized.

If you are already enrolled, send in your 1944 interest payment at once; if you have not enrolled, do so NOW by signing and returning the card which was enclosed with the February Morningsider.

A PROGRESS NOTE ON DR. D. C. COOPER

Dr. D. C. Cooper, '16, is one of Morningside's most prolific research writers. His list of scientific papers, either alone or in collaboration, now exceeds fifty, and there is no sign of cessation. During the past winter he revised the article on Angiosperms in the Encyclopedia Britannica. After finishing that article Dr. Cooper collaborated in three papers on the post fertilization development following the cross between barley and rye. While seeds were initiated in this cross, they failed to complete the development. The investigators then proceeded to dissect out the plant embryos at the proper stage and place them in nutrient media. To appreciate this technique try to visualize how you would dig out the growing embryo of a grain of barley or rye. By this means they succeeded in artificially rearing the hybrid embryos to the mature stage, which, however, proved to be sterile. Such work is of much interest to the geneticist. This field of research is called cytogenetics. Dr. Cooper was instructor in the biology department at Morningside from 1917 to 1919; then attended Purdue University and the University of Wisconsin, where he received his doctor's degree in 1930 and is now doing research work.

BOSTON NOTES

The lovely home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul E. Johnson forms the nucleus of Morningside "get-togethers" of the alumni in Boston. Dr. and Mrs. Johnson reside in the suburban district of Auburndale which is about an hour's ride from the city of Boston itself. They have a new home in which they continue to offer hospitality to any and all Morningsiders who chance to visit Boston. Dr. Johnson still teaches in the theological division of Boston University and Mrs. Johnson is very active in club work.

Among other former Morningside faculty members residing there are Mr. and Mrs. Foster Palmer. Mr. Palmer is a librarian at Harvard University and their home is in Cambridge. January 16 they entertained all the alumni at an afternoon tea. Mrs. Palmer will be remembered as the former Frances Hunter, Morningside librarian at one time.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sensor also live in Cambridge. Mrs. Sensor, the former Phyllis Pearson, was Dean of Women at Morningside during 1941-42. She is now serving as Dean of Women at Chandler School in Boston, which is a girls' school devoted to secretarial training. Her husband is Occupational Adviser for the New England area and maintains his office in Boston.

A group of Morningsiders attended the New Years' Day wedding of Ruth Olsen and Marvin Granstrom at Dr. Johnson's. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Foster Palmer, Lt. (j.g.) and Mrs. Rolland E. Grefe and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Flinders. Mrs. Dale Flinders, who will be remembered as Nadine Lindquist, was soloist for the wedding. She is now soloist for one of the downtown churches in Boston. Dale is studying meteorology at M. I. T. in Cambridge. He is planning on returning to Burma as soon as possible after the war where he will continue with his teaching.

Lt. and Mrs. Marvin Granstrom are residing in Arlington, Mass., which is also a suburb of Boston, Marvin is a 2nd Lt., in the Marines and is studying radar at Harvard at present.

Rev. and Mrs. Francis Brockman are also residing in Boston where Rev. Brockman is attending the Theological Seminary at Boston University. Mrs. Brockman is typist for one of the Methodist publishing houses there.

courses taken do not overlap work previously taken at Morningside.

Members of the Post-War Committee are Dean W. J. Scarborough, Dr. J. E. Kirkpatrick, Registrar Ira J. Gwinn, Dr. M. E. Graber, Prof. M. B. Miller, Miss Willo Jean Niemeyer, and John Griffin. It is the hope of the committee that further plans may be made to receive discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines into the education program of the Institution. The evaluation of educational achievement for the personnel of the Armed Forces is for the purpose of assuring men in the service that they may continue college training in the post-war period and receive college credit for all work taken while in the Armed Forces which was of college grade.

Teacher Placement Committee Offers Services

The Morningside Teacher Placement Committee is now beginning its activities for the 1944 placement season. Dr. J. E. Kirkpatrick, head of the Education Department, will continue to serve as chairman of the committee and Miss Mary Hill, a freshman from Clear Lake, Iowa, who began her duties last September, is secretary.

The number of prospective teachers who will complete their training this year is considerably below the average of recent years, particularly at the secondary school level. At present it appears that this year's "crop" will consist of 15 elementary teachers, 15 secondary teachers, and 11 candidates for music positions.

As has been the custom in recent years, the services of the Teacher Placement Committee will be made available to experienced teachers who desire promotions to new positions. Any teacher who has had part or all of her training at Morningside College is entitled to receive the services of the Teacher Placement Committee. No commission is charged but the registrants are asked to pay the cost of the services extended them. The average cost per registrant has been approximately $2.50 per season. Any former students or alumni wishing this service should write to the Teacher Placement Committee and request to be placed on the active file for this coming season.

The Iowa State Department of Public Instruction reports a very serious shortage of teachers within the state. One way of securing full teaching staffs for public schools is for former teachers to return to the profession. Any former teachers who have gone into other lines of work but who might now find it possible to return to teaching are encouraged to get in touch with their local superintendent or the State Department and determine what would be needed in order to secure a proper teaching certificate and position. The Morningside College Department of Education and Teacher Placement Committee will also be very glad to assist such Morningsiders.

FORMER FACULTY

Private Wanda G. Castle, former Morningside College conservatory instructor, has arrived at the First Wac training center at Fort Des Moines to take basic training in the women's army corps. She taught cello and violin here for about six years and also played cello with the Sioux City Symphony Orchestra. She graduated from Oberlin Conservatory, Oberlin, Ohio, and prior to her enlistment taught violin in the Lorain public schools.

Benita Mossman, '29, former instructor at the conservatory, in a letter to Dean and Mrs. Graber states that she is now in Ceylon as a Red Cross entertainer, having been transferred from India. She writes: "Ceylon is an enchanting island with lush jungle growth, gorgeous flowering trees, bushes and birds, and the climate is not unbearably hot with very cool nights."

S/Sgt. Everett Timm, '36, visited his wife and son and parents in Sioux City on a 15-day furlough. Everett has charge of the 377th A.A.F. band in Galveston, Tex.

"JIM JIGGS" SPONSORED BY W. A. A.

Darlene Held

Katherine Roadman

The annual spring festival of the Women's Athletic Association of Morningside College was presented in the college gym March 18, at 8 o'clock to an unusually large crowd.

"Jim Jiggs," as the festival was named, portrayed a theme built around the four seasons of the year and was planned and directed by Miss Marie Liba, Women's Athletic Director.

As a fitting climax to the brilliant display of dancing, drills and tumbling, Darlene Held, youngest member of the ten children of the B. F. Held family of Hinton, Ia., who have attended Morningside, was revealed as queen and Katherine Roadman, youngest member of the family of Dr. and Mrs. Roadman, was her attendant. The queen is a freshman girl, elected by the student body on the basis of scholarship, athletic ability, personality and popularity.

John Helm, Ex '46, Star of A. A. U. Tourney

"One of the greatest ovations ever tendered a player in the A.A.U. tourney history was given by the fans to Johnny Helm, ex Morningside frosh, playing with the Old Home Bread team of Sioux City, Iowa. Although Johnny's club lost, he registered 27 points against the mighty Phillips 66, world's champions and took a leg up on the tourney award for the most promising young player. Fans stood and cheered him, after he left the game, forcing him to return for a bow."

The above paragraph is just one of the excerpts from a Denver, Colorado, paper where the National A.A.U. tournament was held in which are found the greatest basketball players and coaches of the country. The Denver Post carried Johnny's picture and dedicated a column to him in which the writer expressed his opinion that "Elongation" won for himself the greatest ovation the writer had ever heard accorded a basketball player in the A.A.U. tourney.

To quote again, another sports editor of the Denver Post said: "Johnny Helm made the best players on the star-studded Phillips squad look foolish at times as he poured in an amazing 27 points. His performance was sensational against the Phillip 66, wheeling off the post for simply unstoppable pivot shots with three different men of the world champs taking their turn at trying to stop him without success. The crowd of 6,000 cheered for several minutes until Johnny actually had to arise from the bench for a "curtain call."

Johnny was offered four contracts to play with as many different teams, including an offer to play with Phillips 66. In addition, he received a scholarship to Oklahoma A. & M. However, Johnny is busy on his father's farm at Hinton and will not be able to accept these offers until after the war. He also is in line for the A.A.U. award for being the most promising young player.

The Old Home Bread team played two games in the A.A.U. tournament. The first game was won during the last 30 seconds of the game when Gordon Winter tossed in a field goal, ending the game with a 42-21 score. The world's champs, Phillips 66, dumped the Old Home team by a 65-43 decision. The score was tied six different times during the first half but Phillips led at the half by a 32-27 score. During the second half the Phillips pulled steadily ahead, but the Sioux City team gave the champs a good battle before they won the game, in which Johnny Helm starred.

Former Morningsiders who composed the Old Home Team at the A.A.U. Tourney included: "Swede" Anderson, '37, Don Snyder, '39, Wayne Held, ex '46, John Helm, ex '45, Bob Bornholdt, ex '45, Gordon Winter, ex '46, Everett Barr, '45, and "Sailor" Hodges, assistant coach at Morningside, accompanied by Bill Kimball, manager of the team.

Collegiate Forums Continue Broadcasts

The Morningside Collegiate Forum has for the past twelve weeks discussed questions of domestic and international interest on radio station KTRI. The program is heard each Monday evening at 9:30. Members of the faculty and the student body have appeared on the panel. Student speakers have been Lyle Rachey, Don Keller, Wesley Jacobsen, David Cox, Tom Wickstrom, Ted Lekas and John Griffin. Professors Hawthorne, Kirkpatrick, and Miller have represented the faculty.

Among the recent questions discussed are the merits of a world federation, the advantages of the cabinet form of government, and the desirability of independence for India.

News items are solicited. Also please inform the Morningsider, through the Alumni Office, of any change of address.

CLASS NOTES

Jack Hollister, former coach at Morningside is business manager for the Florists Review Publishing Co. in Chicago, according to D. L. Wickens, '13, who paid him a visit as he passed through, finding him well and happy. Coach Hollister's residence address is 3929 N. Kostur St., Chicago.

Howard Erickson, 1315 39th St., Omaha, Neb., ex '11, reporter on the Omaha World-Herald, is author of the novel, "Son of Earth", published in 1933, as well as author of numerous short stories and articles.

Clara Lewis Seeman, '18, writes that her telephone number in Mill Valley is 724M and that she will be glad to welcome any Morningsiders coming to the Bay Region. Mill Valley is only 13 miles from San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Main (Ida Belle Lewis '09), also live in Mill Valley.

Talma Kitchen, '11, employed in the office of the Lockheed factory, enjoys her work there very much.

Mrs. Fred Sharman (Cora McKellip, '11) resides at 1763 N. Alexandria, Hollywood, Cal. Cora continues to study and at present is taking a course on Russia.

Jack Halloran '38, is now appearing on three radio programs. He sings with the N. B. C. Carnation Hour Quartet, Farm & Home Hour and the Breakfast Club. Jack and Virginia (Crane '39) Halloran are living in Chicago.

Mrs. Floyd E. Dunn, (Gladys Groom, '21) and daughter Carol are living with Mrs. Groom's father in Sioux City for the duration. Lt. Col. Floyd E. Dunn, ex '21, a graduate of West Point, is on duty in the south Pacific, where he writes that the seemingly unceasing torrential rains make dry clothing and living quarters almost an impossibility.

Sofia Orejuela, ex '46, is attending Denver University where she has a scholarship and is working part time in the export department of the Gates Rubber Co.

Ruth E. French, '15, Hawarden, Iowa, has an article entitled "First, Get the Notes Right" in the February Etude. The article is an interesting commentary upon accurate note reading and explains methods which may be used in dealing with wrong notes and endeavoring to correct them. Ruth's articles have appeared in previous numbers of the Etude.

Mrs. N. T. Britten (Claire Milne, '27) is teaching science in the High School and Junior High at Rapid River, Michigan, while her husband is a supervisor on government construction in Alaska.

Tom I. Friest, '20, will assume his duties as Supt. of Schools at Plattsmouth, Neb., April 1, after having been superintendent in Wisner, Neb., for 18 years.

Ruth Hosford, ex '20, is teaching in the High School at Winslow, Neb.

Lyle R. Hosford, '14, is a teacher in the Conservatory in the University of Los Vegas, New Mexico.

Hazel Wiese, '27, has accepted a position as Dean of Women at Yankton College, S. Dak., for next fall. Hazel has been principal of the Onawa schools for the past 15 years.

Walter Bohan, ex '44, expects to receive his B. S. degree in June from the University of Chicago. He is an instructor in Meteorology at the Institute of Meteorology, teaching a laboratory course in the latest technique in forecasting to navy officer

Who's Who Among Morningside Alumni

The Morningsider is indebted to Mr. John Drake of radio station KRNT, Des Moines, for this picture of Joe Ott, '37. Joe's picture was featured on the Cowles radio chain's roster of programs for the week of January 16-22, 1944, with the headline statement that Joe's alma mater was Morningside College.

Joe is employed by the Katz Agency, Inc., 500 Fifth Ave., New York, one of the largest firms of national advertising rep-representatives who represent some 30 radio stations and 25 newspapers. Joe's job is contacting national advertisers and their agencies in behalf of these stations and newspapers. The work is highly competitive but all the more enjoyable for that reason—if you know Joe.

Most of his time since leaving school has been spent in the business of advertising and his experience has been with such leading firms as Campbell, Ewald Co. and Brooke, Smith, French & Dorrance; also, with the advertising departments of Buick, Chrysler, Hudson, Federal Motor Trucks and Oklahoma Publishing.

In spite of all this activity in the advertising world, Joe has taken time out to be married and has a 4-year-old son, Joseph Reed. Although his home is in Chappaqua, New York, he comes back as often as business permits to visit his mother, Mrs. J. A. Ott, who still lives in Morningside.

In college the responsibility of extra personnel and aviation cadets, among whom have been members of the Royal Dutch navy and students from South American countries.

Earl E. Bovee, '14, principal of the Whittier school in Morningside for 30 years, is now living at 115 E. 10th St. National City, Cal., and keeping busy helping Consolidated Aircraft build bombers in the San Diego plant.

Major Wesley A. Smith, ex '25, is stationed at the A.A.F. Training Command's Basic Training Center No. 10 where he is assigned as assistant judge advocate. Mrs. Smith (Charity Bekins, '24) and their two children are living in High Point, N. C.

Dr. Arthur P. Locke, '18, has moved from Pittsburgh to New Brunswick, New Jersey, where he has been appointed director of chemical research for Zonite Products Corporation.

curricular activities which included choir, debate, work on the Collegian Reporter, the editorship of the annual and presidency of the student body, did not prevent his securing "A" grades. His classmates still chuckle over his ingenious chapel announcements and clever impersonations of faculty members. Judging from a description of his experiences in taking the physical examination given by his draft board recently, Joe has lost none of his witticism or his powers of description. His friends can readily understand why he has become so successful in his profession.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Miss Betty Jameson, graduate of Iowa State College in institutional management in 1941, has taken a position as dietician at the Barn to assist Miss Arkwright. Besides planning and supervising meals for the 110 girls who eat at the Barn, she is house-mother for the cadet nurses at the Held house.

Mrs. T. N. McClure (Evelyn Depue, '39), psychology major, is teaching Dr. Emme's applied psychology class since his departure.

The March sixth concert of the Sioux City Symphony Orchestra, with Marshall Moss, violinist, as soloist, proved extremely popular with the large audience who were in attendance. Marshall Moss was repeatedly encoored and the currently popular Holiday for Strings by David Rose was played as an encore by the symphony.

Mr. Richard Clayton, accompanied by Mrs. Clayton, appeared in the second faculty recital of the year on March 19. This concert is the first of a series which will include all of Beethoven's compositions for the violincello.

The office of Admissions has announced music auditions for May 6 at Algona, Sac City, and Spencer and at the Morningside Conservatory for May 13. The purpose of these auditions is to select students for admission and scholarship in the Conservatory for next fall. The office will appreciate names of outstanding musicians who are ready for college.

Mrs. Rolland Grefe (Mary Cruiskshank, '43) has been appointed Admissions Counselor with headquarters at Spencer, Iowa.

Our School Is Morningside

Morningside is our school; we shall have no other. We glory in her strength. We recognize her shortcomings but they do not make us critical. Rather, they challenge us to help her outgrow them.

Morningside in her first 50 years has had every attribute of greatness, save one. She is strategically located in a section of Iowa which is adequately ministered to by no other school. She has a great church tradition, enriched by a missionary contact with China equaled by no other school. No college enjoys a more loyal and sacrificial support than Morningside receives from Sioux City and the Northwest Iowa Conference. No school has had a finer faculty or better presidents. The alumni of Morningside range from one end of the world to the other, well trained, heads high and performing notably. If results are the measure of success, Morningside has done exceptionally well.

The single weakness of the college has been its finances. Plagued with debt ever since the disastrous fire of 1914, the school has been constantly fighting to put its financial house in order. The day of its success in this fight is at hand. By Commencement time, the ever loyal constituency of Northwest Iowa will have subscribed and largely paid enough money to discharge the last of the debt, to make a good many much needed repairs and to earmark $100,000 for a Science Hall.

Where are the Alumni in this hour of Morningside's emergence into the postwar world? Squarely behind her with their loyal support, their enrollment in the Living Endowment Movement, and their unceasing prayers.

The postwar world needs the small college as never before. But only the strong can survive. Morningside will be among that number, seasoned by 50 years of service. The school of our dreams is coming to pass. Our children will walk her halls as we have done, proudly sharing in a great tradition.

CAMPUS VISITORS

The month of March brought scores of visitors to the campus! From camps and schools all over the country as well as from overseas came Morningsiders—many who had received their commissions; those who had leaves between semesters, and many who were being transferred. Their brief visits to Sioux City are not complete without a trip to the campus to see Dr. Roadman, former professors and classmates and to feel at home again in the halls and classrooms. Much to the joy of the secretary, they are even learning their way to the alumni office—there to leave their future addresses. And what a pleasure it is to greet these sailors, soldiers, and marines as they stride in—eager, alert, confident, handsome in their uniforms—Morningside is indeed proud of them and happier for their visit!

Among these visitors who received their commissions are:

Don Wertz, '43, who was commissioned a 2nd Lt. in the Air Corps at Douglas, Ariz., and was on his way to Mather Field at Sacramento, Cal., where he will be a pilot of a B-25.

Loren "Tut" Clark, ex '43, graduated from the Army Air Force pilot school at Stockton field, Cal., as 2nd Lt. Tut has gone to Kingman Army Air Field, Kingman, Arizona.

Norman Mathers, ex '44, received his commission as 2nd Lt. in the Air Corps at Ft. Sumner, N. Mexico and has returned there as an instructor.

Gail Hemmingsen, ex '46, has been sent to an instructor's school at Randolph Field after receiving his commission as 2nd Lt. in the Army Air Corps at Pecos, Texas. Lt. and Mrs. Hemmingsen (Miriam Adams, ex '46), called on friends on their way to Newell, Ia.

Another pilot to be commissioned is Taylor Jackson, ex '46, who was graduated from the Air Force advanced two-engine pilot school March 12, at Pecos, Texas. Taylor is now stationed at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Commissioned as 2nd Lt's in the Marine Corps at Quantico, Va., on March 22, were Ted Walensky, '43, and Ted Stawicki, ex '45. These hard working Marines were not fortunate enough to receive furloughs.

Second Lt. and Mrs. Clarence Ver Steeg (Dorothy De Vries) both '43, stopped in to chat with friends en route to Blythe, Cal. Clarence received his commission in the air corps at San Marcos, Tex., February 26.

Chicago Alumni Club Meets

At the annual meeting of the Chicago Alumni which was a luncheon meeting held February 11, 1944, Mrs. Royal Jurgenson (Iva Smith, '21), was re-elected president; Evangeline Sletwold, ex '25, vice president; and Mrs. Rex Mikkelson (Alice Mattice, '37), and Mrs. Cora Dutton Mitchell, '18, co-secretaries.

Attending the reunion were Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Buchner, (Pearl Woodford), Donald Cody, Mrs. Charles W. Parsons, (Esther Waterhouse), Beatrice Bond, Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Boyer, (Lainys Kitterman), Bob Caine, Brown Garlock, John Gedwillo, Mrs. Rex Mikkelson (Alice Mattice), Richard L. Mitchell, Gaylord Omer, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. J. Willard Peterson (Grace Hedenbergh), Ann Rieke, Mrs. F. Shideler (Lucille Dallenbach), Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Williams, Mrs. Loomis (Lucille Twogood), Mrs. Earl L. Wilhelm (Joyce Ingvoldstad), Bob Rae, and Dr. Earl A. Roadman.

Major D. L. Wickens on Campus

The Alumni Executive Committee, with a full attendance and Major D. L. Wickens, '13, of Washington, D. C., as guest, held a luncheon meeting in the Barn on March 4. An Alumni program which would include plans for the next 50 years in which all alumni and ex-students might participate was discussed. Parnell H. Mahoney, alumni association president, was named to appoint a temporary committee to formulate plans for such a program.

Dramatics

February 29—Fun and Fantasy—a series of plays, was presented by the oral interpretation class under Mrs. Kraemer's direction. Two contrasting moods were affected by the two selections. Throughout the first, "The Long Retreat," the auditorium was completed hushed, but the second, "Girls Must Talk" produced rollicking hilarity. "The Long Retreat" was a fantasy in dialogue. "Girls Must Talk" was a short comedy of dress shop "dummies."

SERVICE NOTES

George Scaboo, ex '45, has been commissioned an Ensign in the Navy Air Corps at Pensacola, Florida. Ensign Scaboo will go on active duty at one of the Navy's air operational training centers before he is assigned to a combat zone.

David Denny, '40, writes Dr. Stephens from "somewhere in New Guinea" that he caught a quarter pound green grasshopper the other day; that large lizards, snakes, parrots and macaws have all been captured by the soldiers. Dave states that he has completed 2 full years on his medical course and intends to enter school again when the war is over. The knowledge he is gaining of tropical diseases will be useful to him later, he states.

Morgan Harrison, '40, has been promoted from captain to the rank of major. He is stationed in the Panama Canal Zone and is regional inspector of aviation weather bureau stations in Mexico, Central America and northern South America. Mrs. Harrison is with her parents in Sioux City for the duration.

Recently sent overseas are 2nd Lt. Gene Kennedy, '42, flying a P-51 Mustang pursuit, Ensign Fred Davenport, '41, Lt. (j. g.) John S. Kolp, '42, Pvt. Robert Hasek ex '44, Pvt. George Hartley, ex '45, Pfc., Darrel Warner, ex '45, 2nd Lt. Bill Pepper ex '44, Sgt. Charles Obye, ex '44, Lt. Clem Baldwin, ex '40 and Ensign Bernie Feikema, '42.

Capt. John D. Kolp, '14, of Manson, Iowa, has returned to Sioux Falls, S. D., after completing a military assignment which took him to England and Scotland.

Berton Kolp, ex '45, called on friends at school on his way from Berea, Ky., to the Navy Training School at Plattsburg, N. Y.

Mrs. Bob Parsons (Pat Lindsey, ex '46) and son Robby are in New York while Bob ex '43, is stationed there. Pat writes of meeting Rev. Francis Brockman '43, and his wife there and also stopping for a chat with Lt. Gene Kennedy whom they accidentally met in Times Square.

Jim Steck, ex '43, A. R. M. S2/c is still convalescing following an abdominal operation at the U. S. Naval hospital, Navy 10 zone in San Francisco, Cal. Jim will have been in service two years this coming June. In the Hawaiian islands since last June, he was injured internally in an immersion blast early last December, when his plane went down at sea off Makin Island. He had been on a torpedo bomber on an aircraft carrier in the south Pacific for about a month when his plane was sunk.

No doubt Jim would appreciate hearing from his many Morningside friends.

Wally Hanson '42, has left for overseas duty as chief engineer on a B-29 superfortress, a huge new plane which has not as yet been tried out in combat.

S. Sgt. Eugene (Bunny) Stover, ex '44, a cryptographer with a Command Squadron, stopped over in Sioux City to greet old friends on his way to assume his duties in Fairbanks, Alaska.

Capt. Walter L. Hurd, '40, is Squadron Commander at Alliance, Nebr., at present. He returned to the States last July after spending 20 months in service in Australia and New Guinea, where he received the D. F. C. with 2 oak leaf clusters, the air medal with 4 oak leaf clusters and two presidential citations. He will return again to the war theater when his squadron is at full strength.

Ensign Elmendo Rossi, '42, was at the Sioux City air base last week on his way by plane to Iron Mountain, Minn., where his father is seriously ill. Elmendo's marriage to a nurse in Iron Mountain was announced recently. Ensign Rossi is stationed at Ocean Tide, Cal.

Lt. Lyle Knudsen, ex '44, is in communications in the A.A.F. at Chaute Field, Ill., and expects to leave for overseas duty shortly.

Lt. William B. Plum, '30, in the U.S.N.R. at Norfolk, Va., is scheduled to be assigned to an Admiral's staff aboard a Capital ship.

Staff Sgt. Robert Farb, ex '43, is chief radio operator at the army air base at Lincoln, Neb. Bob has been instructing in radio for a year and had four promotions in that time.

Hubert Sargent, ex '39, has been stationed at the base weather station at Maryville A.A.F. since the first week in October.

A/C Lester M. Porter, ex '44, has completed his basic pilot training at Chico, Cal., and now is stationed at Fort Sumner, N. M., for advanced pilot training.

Pvt. Robert F. Olson, ex '46, has been assigned to the army air forces radio school at the Sioux Falls air field for training as a radio operator mechanic. On completion of a 20-week course he will be ready to take an assignment as a member of a highly skilled bomber crew.

Egbert L. Peters, ex '44, stationed in northern Ireland as a liaison pilot in the A.A.F., has been promoted to a 2nd Lt.

S 2/c John H. Norris, ex '39, is attending the Navy School of Music, Washington, D. C.

Herald Hoffman, '32, brother of J. Wesley Hoffman, former Morningside history professor, is an assistant field director of the Red Cross at Camp Grant, Illinois.

In a letter to Prof. Van Horne, Ensign Fred Wellmerling, '42, who for the past year has been doing communication work as a signal officer on the aircraft carrier, U.S.S. Nassau, writes that aircraft carriers have played a big part in the Pacific action. He has traversed over 125,000 miles of the ocean from the Bering Sea with its fog and ice to the Coral Sea. In spite of beautiful sights and exciting experiences he can think of no place as nice as good old Iowa.

2nd Lt. George Seeley, ex '44, who recently received his B. S. degree from Chicago University is doing research work in electronics at Harvard University.

Dr. Robert J. Johnson, '35, Captain in the army at Fort Sill, Okla., is chief of the station hospital there. His brother, Dr. William A., '30, a captain in the air corps at Orlando, Fla., is a surgical consultant in the air base hospital.

Ensign Sibley B. Newman, '43, is at Elmhurst Inn, Sewickley, Pa., awaiting orders to report to his ship for overseas duty.

A/S Glenn F. Clark, ex '43, is receiving training at the Michigan State college at East Lansing, Mich.

Lt. (s. g.) Charles L. Sweet, ex '22, of Camp Peary, Williamsburg, Va., civil engineer corps, and son Apprentice Seaman Homer C. Sweet, ex '46, enrolled in the V-12 program at the naval training station at Iowa State College, spent leaves with Lieutenant Sweet's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Sweet, 3702 Seventh Avenue. Lieut. Sweet, formerly associated with the war foods administration at Denver, will be assigned to the Seabees.

Mus. 2/c Wilbur E. Morse, '41, returned to the States last September and is stationed at the Naval air station at Patuxent River, Md. Wilbur spent several months as an aerial gunner in the South Pacific and later served on the U. S. S. Enterprise.

Dean Nelson, ex '45, is with the 97th Inf. Div. at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

Lt. Col. Earl E. Hicks, ex '18, whose home is in Rockwell City, Ia., has just been appointed Port Air officer at the San Francisco port of embarkation.

Col. and Mrs. Hicks and their daughter Mary are residing at Dole Ave., Piedmont, Cal. Earl Jr. ex '32, is in Buffalo, N. Y., and Bob ex '43, is in the army specialized program at Bloomington, Ind.

Owen Tommeraaen, ex '46, received his commission as 2nd Lt. on April 1 at the completion of his bombardier training at Victorville Army Air Field in California.

Capt. Billy C. Gray, ex '43, recently received the air medal for meritorious service while flying with anti-submarine patrols in the Caribbean war theater. He has returned to the Panama Canal Zone after a 30-day leave.

Missing In Action

Second Lieut. Edward P. Meents, ex '44, has been reported missing in action. He was co-pilot of the Liberator "No Name Jive" at a base in England. After his entry into aviation cadet training on July 3, 1942, he was graduated from advanced flying school at Stockton, Calif., on July 27, 1943, with a commission of 2nd Lieut. He had previously served a 1½-year enlistment period with the Signal Corps at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, in 1937-38. He received overseas combat training at the Army Air Base, Sioux City, Iowa.

He had recently been awarded the Air Medal "for exceptionally meritorious achievement while participating in five separate bomber combat missions over enemy occupied Continental Europe," according to an announcement by Brig. General James P. Hodges, Commanding General of a Liberator Bomb Division.

Tech. Sgt. Lambert R. Brostrom, ex '45, has been missing in action since February 21, following a raid over Germany, the war department has informed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Brostrom, 1300 S. Glass St., Sioux City.

Sgt. Brostrom was a gunner on a Flying Fortress and had been in the Air Corps since October, 1942. He was employed as junior inspector of B-17's for the United Airlines in Cheyenne, Wyoming, before entering the service.

Tech. Sgt. Thomas J. McHale, ex '25, has been reported missing in action in a raid over Germany on March 4, according to information received by his mother.

An aerial gunner, he had been stationed in England since the first part of December and in his last letter, dated February 28, wrote that he had completed over half his missions. At that time he was in a rest camp.

Before entering the service he held the position of publicity director for the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. His wife resides in Dallas, Texas.

Remember When?

In a chapel meeting over twenty years ago, just as President Freeman finished asking blessing, a shower of beans came down upon him from above. Professor Garver dashed to the attic to catch the scoundrels, but found only a mechanism consisting of a pail (lately containing beans), a stick trigger, a cord, and an alarm clock.

In the following years the bean shower was repeated, until it became, instead of a mischievous prank, an honor to be bestowed by the senior class upon its favored faculty member. Corn has replaced the original beans.

NOTICE!

There are a limited number of the pamphlets entitled "A Tribute to Lillian English Dimmitt" in the office which may be had by those requesting a copy.

Orlan Ott Is Champion

Naval Aviation Cadet Orlan Ott, ex '44, who at present is stationed at Chase field in Corpus Christi, Texas, took the Heavy-weight Championship in the recent Golden Gloves Tournament in Chicago, when he won by a clean cut decision over Ragon Kinney of Los Angeles.

Orlan hails from a farm near Hartley and was in his junior year at Morningside when called into service. He weighs 220 pounds, stands 6' 2" in height, and probably was never more physically fit than now, due to rigid army conditioning.

While in college Ott won distinction in the local Golden Gloves tournaments and went to the semi-finals in the Chicago meet in 1940, only to be forced to retire from Gloves competition because of a rule that limited competition to two years in any specific division.

When the rule was lifted last year because of war conditions, Ott was unable to compete because he was ordered by the Navy to report for flight instruction at Yankton shortly before the tournament.

To quote Bill Forbes, city editor of the S. C. Journal-Tribune and ringside spectator: "The Ott-Kinney" fight was the sensation of the evening and when the boys entered the ring the cheers almost raised the rafters of the mighty stadium. The crowd of some 22,000 spectators was pulling for Ott to win all the way through and the decision was popular and undisputed."

Although Orlan was representing Fort Worth Texas Star Telegram in this meet, defeating three of the best soldier heavies in the southwest with impressive wins in the preliminary bouts, he is still claimed as a Sioux City product and a Sioux City Champion.

Orlan expects to receive his commission as Naval Ensign in two months at Corpus Christi where it was learned that he is leading his class and has 228 flying hours to his credit.

Dr. Roadman called at the hotel on March 11 to pay his respects to the new champion and to his delegation.

FORMER STUDENTS IN SERVICE

Included on this service role are the addresses of alumni and ex-students, which have been received recently in the Alumni Office, as well as names of service men not heretofore listed. This is not a complete directory of former students in uniform but a continuation of the lists which have appeared in preceding issues of the Morning-sider. Please help us complete our files by returning the Service Record Blank.
