FACULTY

Calling All Morningsiders:

We've dreamed of "Homecoming" when the war is over, prayed for it, and now our dreams and expectations are crowding in upon us for October 26, 27 and 28.

We admit that the Japanese surprised us and surrendered upon a date which has not given us full time to get ready in the most expansive way for this Homecoming.

Shaking hands and looking into your face and thanking God together that one thousand Morningsiders who were in service will soon be out will be the greatest part of the Homecoming event.

There will be football and other traditional events. Gas rationing has been removed. Let us all come home for Homecoming.

Ever yours,

EARL A. ROADMAN,
President.

ALUMNI

Greetings:

The first postwar Homecoming is the biggest event on the alumni calendar for this fall.

It can't be the big postwar reunion we've thought about for so long—the one we'll have when all the fighting Morningsiders are back. But it will be as colorful as in days of old.

For the Alumni I want to extend greetings to all Morningsiders. Particularly do I want to welcome the members of the class of 1945. They have joined a "fraternity" that will mean more and more as the years pass.

The help and presence of every alumnus of Morningside College is needed to build enthusiasm for our Victory Homecoming and a greater Morningside College. Great victories have been won, of which we are all proud. Let us pledge our allegiance anew kindled with the old spirit of unwavering loyalty.

Come and participate in our Alumni activities and help honor our service men and women who will be our guests.

SIMEON HICKMAN,
President,
Alumni Association.

STUDENTS

Welcome Alumni:

A warm welcome awaits all Morningside alumni returning to the campus for the first peacetime Homecoming in four years. The usual friendliness and good will of Morningside together with the festive atmosphere of pre-war Homecomings will combine to make your Homecoming visit a pleasant and a memorable one. We will be looking forward to greeting you personally when you drive on the campus.

Service Members Guests

The Alumni Office in Main Hall will be the headquarters for registration and tickets of all kinds. The coupon at the bottom of page two will facilitate the efforts of various committees in planning the weekend activities.

All veterans and returning service men will receive a special welcome as they return to their Alma Mater for Homecoming. The Alumni Association extends an invitation to all veterans now enrolled in Morningside and all former Morningsiders in uniform to be guests of the Association at the football game, the dinner and the dance. Please specify in your reservation that you are a veteran or service man or woman and come to the Alumni Office for your guest ticket which will admit you to all festivities.

Returning to his Alma Mater as football coach is Russell B. Hughes of the class of '37. During his four years in Morningside from 1933-37 in which Russ played fullback under "Saundy", he made an impressive record. He was selected by coaches of the North Central Colleges as the most valuable player in 1936 and was on the All-State honor roll in 1936-37. The Des Moines Register and Tribune picked him as all North Central fullback in 1937.

After four years spent in coaching the high schools in Akron and Woodbine, Russell has been employed as final assembly inspector in the Lockheed Aircraft corporation for the past four and one-half years. Mrs. Hughes and small daughter are still in Los Angeles, but plan to come to Sioux City soon.

Russell formerly hailed from Linn Grove along with such other football "greats" as Jerry Johnson, Les Davis, Rex Fountain and Tom Lloyd.

Since the recent disbanding of the Office of War Information, the entire Foreign News Group has been transferred to the State Department. Enrollment Up This Year

Latest figures released by the Registrar's Office indicate a 34 per cent increase in registrations over those of 1944. This is independent of the Cadet Nurses, numbering 42. Total enrollment is 358. The increase in the Freshman Class is 45.5 per cent. It is gratifying to note the more than double enrollment of men (132 per cent). The increase of women is 29.5 per cent. Of the freshmen, 79 are men and 84 are women. There are 40 veterans already registered with more discharged service men returning every day.

Enrollment is as follows:

	Men	Women	Total
Freshmen	79	84	163
Sophomores	24	54	78
Juniors	16	24	40
Seniors	6	20	26
Nurses		42	42
Unclassified	5	4	9
Totals	130	228	358

Mrs. Monroe K. Spears, the former Betty Green, has been selected as freshman English instructor. Mrs. Spears graduated from Morningside in 1940 and received an M. A. degree in English from the University of Wisconsin in 1941. During the summer of 1944 she attended Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla.

Large Bequest to Morningside

An estate valued at $100,000 has been bequeathed to Morningside College under terms of the will of the late Dr. Hebert B. Saylor, Des Moines physician, according to an announcement by Dr. Earl A. Roadman.

The estate is to be held in trust for a period of 20 years, during which time income will accumulate. Then it will become the property of the college. Dr. Roadman estimated that the ultimate value of the estate will approximate $250,000.

The estate consists of farm lands in Pocahontas county and $35,000 in cash and bonds. Dr. Roadman has been named in the will as one of the administrators.

Dr. Saylor, who died September 24 in Des Moines, graduated from Morningside in the class of 1905 and later practiced medicine at Merrill, Wis. He was a major in World War I and practiced in Des Moines after the war. His boyhood was spent at Pocahontas, Iowa, where funeral services were held.

Rotarian Earl Roadman YOU HAVE DONE IT AGAIN!

(From the Rotary Punch)

Congratulations from every one of us 200 strong. I refer to the gift by will of over $100,000 left by a Des Moines doctor, a gift while not now available, will mean with accumulated earnings, a quarter of a million dollars at the end of twenty years for Morningside College. That's a lot of money. All of Sioux City rejoices greatly at this gift.

The Observer thinks back twenty-five years. A score of local men of large means have died in this interim. Each could have left $100,000 to Morningside College and still have had ample funds left for their heirs. They didn't. Think what Morningside would be today if a dozen $100,000 memorial buildings stood on its campus as memorials to past Sioux City men! Think of what it would mean to the prestige of Sioux City! Think of what it would mean to the nation! Think of what it would mean to the world!

Then think how the men who could have given these buildings would today be honored for all time instead of lying in fast forgotten graves!

The Observer thinks ahead twenty-five years. In this time a score of local men, each able to give Morningside $100,000 in his will, will die. Will they also go to unremembered graves? Will they leave all they have accumulated—all of it not having a penny's value when one dies for the one dying—to others to spend? Or will they give it to this growing leader in Christian education and thus forever perpetuate their own memory—or the memory of some other loved one?

$100,000 is a cheap price to pay for the endearing and honored terms which will be said of such a one who thus finishes his career on this earth. Men smile with scorn at huge marble monuments in cemeteries—useless attempts at immortality. Men stand silent in honor before marble monuments on college campuses through which untold thousands of youth are trained for future leadership.

—A. B. DeHaan.

Noted Illinois Architect

Henry L. Kamphoefner, ex '38, is head of the department of architecture in the University of Oklahoma at Norman, Okla. He did the campus planning there which has won wide attention among architects and community planners in many parts of the country.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Kamphoefner (Mabel Franchere, '19) was featured in an article entitled, "A Little Goes a Long Way," in the April issue of House and Garden. The home was reproduced in eight photographs and a floor plan.

Designed by the owner-architect "to meet his own particular needs, "the plan" has much to commend it to any home planner whose space requirements are fairly modest," the magazine suggests.

The house is of modern design, utilizing an L-shaped construction for a large living and dining room, an entrance and kitchen on the angle, and a studio and bedroom above. The exterior is of red-wood siding, roofed with red cedar shingles. Douglas fir plywood has been used throughout the interior. A large limestone chimney provides two fireplaces inside and one on a terrace.

The House and Garden article is the third that has been published in nationally circulated magazines concerning the Kamphoefner house. It was featured similarly in an issue of Pen Points and in the magazine, Arts and Architecture.

Since the magazine articles appeared The Christian Science Monitor publicized the Kamphoefner home as "a window to the home of the next decade," in a half-page, illustrated feature story. The Monitor identified Prof. Kamphoefner as architect of the bandshell here which won for him distinction" accorded by the Royal Institute of British Architects for his planning of the Sioux City music pavilion."

Prof. Kamphoefner's parents are Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Kamphoefner, 1718 Morningside Avenue. His sister, Mrs. Ray Larson, the former Miriam Kamphoefner, '25, resides at 3713 Indiana.

The engagement of Miss Betty Hoefler, '42, to Sterling H. Knoll, fire controlman 2/c, U. S. N., has been announced. Betty has taught in the Stratford high school for the last three years but is teaching in her home town school at Charter Oak now.

The announcement has been made of the engagement of Ensign Martha Ruth Walker, '43, to Ensign William C. Brown of Kansas City, at a party in San Francisco. Following her enlistment in the Waves, Martha attended officer candidate school at Smith College, Mass., a year ago, and is now stationed in San Francisco in the office of the Port Director.

Miss Marian Hempstead has announced her engagement to Pvt. Theodore C. Forward. They are both ex '48.

Betty Ann Cairy, '45, announced her engagement to Lt. Joseph Macur, ex '45, a graduate of West Point military academy in June, when she passed "five pounds" at Kappa Zeta Chi sorority tea.

The engagement of Carol Hansen, ex '47, of Battle Creek, Iowa, to Sgt. D. Gere Watkins, has been announced.

The engagement of Miss Antoinette Shallbetter of Minneapolis, to S/Sgt. Larry W. Curtis, ex '42, has been announced. The wedding date has not been set. Sgt. Curtis is stationed at Laredo, Texas, awaiting a discharge. He returned to the States in June after serving 10 months with the Eighth air force in England and completing 30 missions. Sgt. Curtis is entitled to wear the air medal with four oak leaf clusters, four battle stars and the presidential citation.

DEATHS

Mrs. T. A. Ware (Estie Boddy, '06), art instructor at Seattle Pacific college, died suddenly this past month of a heart attack while at work.

Mrs. Ware, born at Ayrshire, Iowa, took her master's degree at the University of Washington, after graduating from Morningside. In 1906 she went to Tientsin, China, as a Methodist missionary for five years. She had been a Seattle resident intermittently and had been on the staff of Seattle Pacific college for two years.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Harold Haberman, Dallas, Texas; two sons, Ensign Thomas Ware, in Tokyo, and Corp. Floyd L. Ware, U. S. Army; her mother, Dr. Melissa A. Boddy; two sisters, Eva Boddy, ex '06, and Mrs. Pearl McKercher, ex '05, all of Seattle; and two brothers, M. V. Boddy, Bellevue, and Ralph Boddy, ex '07, Seattle.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

Hundred of Morningsiders who have been serving in the armed forces have changed their address during the summer. It is important that the Alumni Office be notified of these address changes as soon as possible. This also applies to men and women who return to civilian life from the armed forces. Only through the cooperation of alumni and ex-students in service and their relatives and friends can our files be kept up-to-date. In this matter we ask the help of all our readers.

Missing Pilot Declared Dead

Second Lt. Edward P. Meents, ex '45, missing in action since February 25, 1944, has been declared dead by the war department, his mother, Mrs. John Schultz, 1500 Pierce street, has been informed.

The war department announcement was not based on any additional information received concerning Lt. Meents, but on the length of time which has elapsed since he was declared missing. The family had been informed that Lt. Meents' plane was last seen over Amiens, France.

Edward, bomber pilot, was on a raid over Germany at the time he was lost. He had been awarded an air medal for completing five missions and was in line for another medal at the time of his disappearance. He had been with the American air force in England since about December 1, 1943.

Eleanor McCurdy, Dean of Women

Mrs. W. A. McCurdy (Eleanor Winkelman, '16) has accepted a position as dean of women at Otterbein college, Westerville, Ohio, where she assumed her new duties September 1.

During the last two years, Eleanor has done graduate work in personnel and history under an assistantship in the office of the dean of women at Syracuse university. During that period she has been active in Hendricks chapel activities, serving as loan counselor, as secretary of the chapel and as executive secretary of the Syracuse-in-China unit, of which she became an honorary member in Chungking, China.

While living in China, Mrs. McCurdy was a charter member and president of the International Women's club, served on the YWCA board and acted as American representative on Madame Chiang Kai-shek's orphanage board.

The Syracuse-in-China unit was organized a quarter century ago and members of the first committee went to China to study conditions there. Mrs. McCurdy and her late husband, William McCurdy, '14, were hosts to the delegation and worked with the first unit which came to China.

All Prisoners Released

Since the families of Lt. William Rose and Laurie Jack Gillespie have received the cheering news of their release from Jap prison camps, all of the Morningsiders who were held as prisoners of war have returned home safely.

Pfc. Laurie Jack Gillespie, '44, who was released Sept. 13, from a Japanese prison camp, has arrived in Seattle, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gillespie, 1028 Hill Ave., have been informed. Jack, who saw service as an engineer in the aviation corps, was taken prisoner after the fall of Corregidor and Bataan.

First Lt. William D. Rose, who was captured by the Japanese in 1942 when the Philippines fell, has been liberated, according to word received from the war department.

In the telegram which was received by his father, it was stated that Lt. Rose had been returned to military control on September 13; that he would be returned to the United States in the near future, and that he would be able to communicate with his family upon arrival. The message also said that his physical condition was good.

William also sent a message to his sister, Mary, which read: "In Philippines, no more Japs, rice, lice; home soon. Love, Bill."

Lt. Rose was a doctor with the medical corps and went to the Philippines in October, 1941. After his capture by the Japanese he was in a prison camp on the Philippines and later was transferred to Japan.

Dormitory Library

A new feature for our Women's Residence Halls is the establishment of a library this fall in the room next to that of the night girl. With fluorescent lighting, colorful drapes, easy chairs, study tables, and trained librarians, the library is rapidly gaining in popularity with the girls.

A reserve shelf of textbooks from the main library is one feature. Cultural general reading for the girls is another major objective. The main library has provided a good supply of classics. We need current books and magazines (including good detective stories and other recreational reading). Please notify Miss Marcia McNeen, chairman of the dormitory library committee, if you have current reading matter to donate. We request the privilege of selection from a list because our space is limited.

That Bean Shower Again

The following excerpt is taken from John W. Carey's "Rear Seat" in the October 14 Sioux City Sunday Journal:

"Then to chat with Wilson Clark, to learn that one of our old fellow conspirators of Morningside days waited until he was 50 to wed a Russian gal. Lee Horney, '30, one of the bean shower boys, is the chap. Since the gal's name is a long Russian one, we do not attempt to reproduce it, being afraid it might not get printed right.—Dolly "Crook" Gray in Onawa Democrat.

Roy, send a marked copy to W. W. ("Bill") Waymack, '11, of the Des Moines Register, grand exalted bombardier of the Ancient and More or Less Honorable Order of Morningside Bean Showerers."

Maroons in Action Again

The first Morningside Eleven since 1942 when intercollegiate activity in the North Central conference was suspended, appeared against Nebraska State Teachers College, October 5. A fairly light Maroon squad, boasting only three former Morningsiders, fought the Wayne Teachers to a scoreless tie.

Coach Russell Hughes, '37, returned to the campus to take over the guidance of the Morningsiders after their game with Wayne. The following week he took his squad to Sioux Falls to invade Augustana College on their homecoming. The Maroon eleven equaled the Augustana team the first half with a 7-7 count but in the second half the Sioux Falls squad took advantage of several Morningside fumbles and pulled ahead 20-14 as the game ended.

This week the squad will travel to Lincoln, Neb., to play Nebraska Wesleyan College. The following week the Maroons will return to Sioux City to play their first home game of the season. The Homecoming game will be played with Augustana College.

November 3 is the date when the Maroons travel to Mitchell, S. D., to meet the Dakota Wesleyan team. The following week, November 9, the Nebraska Teachers College will journey to Sioux City in a return match between the two teams.

Three former Morningsiders make up the starting eleven backfield: Will Kaufman, fullback; Orin Goodrich and Norman Mutchler, halfbacks; the quarterback is Dick Forbes; the ends are Bert Nixon and Paul Zeman; tackles, Dick Wright and Tommy Wickstrom; guards, Fred Warner and Lloyd Chadwick, and center, Bob Gillespie.

Faculty Women Entertain

Farewell parties sponsored by the Faculty Women's Club in the homes of Prof. and Mrs. Ira Gwinn, and Dr. and Mrs. Roadman honored faculty members who were leaving Sioux City during the summer.

An evening party in the Gwinn home honored Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Pesile before their departure for their new home in Rochester, N. Y., where Rocco has accepted a fellowship to do graduate work toward his master's degree at the Eastman School of Music.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Pesile have been members of the Sioux City Symphony for the last two and a half years, and also played with the Symphonette.

An afternoon tea in the Roadman home honored Miss Stella Yates who will teach commercial subjects in Friends University in Wichita, Kan., and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clayton who will join the faculty at Indiana University in Bloomington. Mr. Clayton will be head of the cello department and will devote some time to concertizing in several states throughout the middle west. Mrs. Clayton, an honor graduate of the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y., will teach privately in Bloomington.

The Duffle Bag Baby

American ingenuity in the armed services has received highly deserved publicity. What about ingenuity on the home front?

Dr. Houston Shaw, a practicing physician and surgeon in Louisville, Ky., offered his professional services to the army, was accepted, and assigned to medical work in China. After his departure his wife, Helen Mary Quirin Shaw, class of '32, closed her house, stored her furniture and decided to go with her little three-month-old daughter, Mary Ann, to Portland, Ore., to live for the duration in the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Quirin.

Helen Mary was fully aware of the difficulties of travel with a baby, especially in war time. So she devised the plan of carrying Mary Ann in a duffle bag firmly strapped to her shoulders. Her hands were then free for tickets, pocketbook and traveling bag in case a porter were not available. She traveled by train to Sioux City where she boarded a plane for Portland.

While changing trains in Chicago and waiting in line at the gate with a horde of passengers, the kindly disposed gateman said to her, "Go to such and such a gate and the gateman there will let you through on account of the baby." Following the instructions she presented herself at the specified gate and made her request for entrance. The gateman, less observing than the former gateman, temporarily ordered her back to the other gate, gruffly inquiring, "Where is the baby?"

In due time these two passengers arrived at their destination in Portland and were comfortably established in their temporary home. One day the radio was turned on and Helen Mary was listening to the program while Mary Ann played nearby in her pen. Suddenly the news flashed that Japan had surrendered. At that Helen Mary grabbed the baby and showered her with tears and kisses. To Helen Mary the news flash meant the speedy reunion of her family, the reestablishment of her home where her ingenuity could be used in the development of home comforts and Mary Ann no longer would be a duffle-bag baby.
