NUMBER TEN

Commencement . . . 1950

Commencement time when Alumni have an opportunity to gather for class reunions and general reacquaintanceship has come and gone once more. From as far west as the Hawaiian Islands and California, as far south as Dallas, Texas and as far east as Boston, Alumni of Morningside returned to their Alma Mater to take part in an unusually fine commencement weekend, May 27, 28, and 29. The campus overflowed with relatives and friends who came to see the largest class in the history of the college receive their diplomas.

The weekend opened with the traditional concert by the senior music graduates in the conservatory recital hall on Friday evening. Featured in the recital were Richard Waggoner, Barbara Brewer, Elizabeth Beckmann, Dean Kauffman, Jayne Marie Soiseth and Betty Wharton.

Alumni activities began with the Reunion Luncheon in the Student Union at noon on Saturday. The special classes which held reunions were '05, '10, '15, '20, '25, '30, '35, '40 and '45. Although several members of the class of 1900 had made tentative plans to celebrate their fiftieth anniversary on the campus, a letter from Dr. R. N. Van Horne from Payette, Idaho, reported that their plans had failed to materialize and that no one could be present. Accounts of the various reunions which were held have been sent in by the class reunion chairmen and are published in this issue.

Zeta Sigma

At four o'clock in the afternoon three seniors, Robert Krueger, David Sterling and Charles Wallace, who earned a 3.25 average during their four year college course, were initiated into Zeta Sigma honor society. This was also held in the Student Union. Dr. Cyril Upham, '14, Chief National Bank Examiner for the Federal Reserve system at Minneapolis, was the guest orator. Marvin Klass, '36, is the newly elected president.

Alumni Dinner

Two hundred and fifty Alumni, seniors and faculty gathered for the dinner at 6.30 p. m. in Lillian Dimmitt Hall Saturday evening. President of the Alumni Association, Wayne Menter, '31, was in charge of the program. Harold S. Freeman, '19, state superintendent of public instruction, was the principal speaker.

Dr. Myron E. Graber, dean of men and chairman of the division of natural science, was an especially honored guest. Ernest Raun represented the Alumni in presenting Prof. Graber a leather folder recognizing his service to the college.

Members of the graduating class who were guests of the Alumni were initiated into the Tribe of the Sioux. Taking part in the ceremony were Ray Toothaker, '03, Ira Gwinn, '22, Clayton Drouillard, senior class adviser and Byron Spear, 1950 class president. Edgar McCracken, '38, gave the tribal war dance, war whoops and all, as a fitting climax to the initiation. Prof. MacCollin had charge of the music.

Dr. Roadman presented the trustees and faculty. Earl Barks, '18, of Belden, Nebr. treasurer of Living Endowment, gave the annual report.

The committee in charge of dinner arrangements included Mrs. Louis Croston (Hazel Surber, '29), Mrs. William Danforth (Genevieve Metcalf, '31), Mrs. Ted Asmus (Marian DeLay, x'23) and Mrs. George Parden (Ruth Dakin, x'40).

Baccalaureate Services

A Symphony of Life was the subject of Bishop Dana Dawson of Topeka, Kans., bishop of the Kansas-Nebraska area of the Methodist Church, at the baccalaureate service for the graduating class at 10:45 a. m. Sunday at Grace Methodist Church.

God, Christ, the Bible, optimism and love are elements which, if held in harmony, can make A Symphony of Life, the bishop told the graduates in his sermon.

Elaborating on his theme of spiritual melody, the bishop outlined four necessary, basic beliefs: belief in God, belief in Jesus Christ, belief in the inspiration of the Bible and belief in immortality. "If you believe in these things, there will be melody in your heart," he declared.

"God enjoys most of all the harmony of faith," Bishop Dawson stated, "and every person needs a set of definite beliefs, a working philosophy of life."

The baccalaureate speaker is a native Iowan who attended Morningside for a short time, although his pastoral work was done in Oklahoma and Louisiana. Elected to the episcopacy in 1948, he has studied in Holy Land countries and the orient, and in 1937 served as an exchange pastor in Liverpool, Eng., and Paris.

An honorary degree of doctor of divinity was conferred on him by Dr. Roadman, who presided at the service. Others who took part in the ceremony were Dean Thomas E. Tweito, Dr. F. Earl Burgess of Storm Lake, and Rev. John C. Buthman, pastor of Grace Church.

Vesper Musicale

At 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, three members of the Conservatory of Music faculty played a string vesper concert in Grace Church. The trio consisted of Miss Mildred Sweet, pianist; Mrs. Marian Van Der Maten, violinist, and Miss Charlotte Tagg, cellist.

Ground Breaking

Ground for the projected Dr. James O'Donoghue memorial observatory was broken Sunday afternoon in an impressive campus ceremony. Dr. Arch O'Donoghue of Sioux City, donor of the building, turned the first spadeful of dirt.

Principal speaker at the ceremony was Dr. James O'Donoghue, Storm Lake physician and father of Dr. Arch O'Donoghue. One of the first professors at Morningside, the doctor recalled the school's struggles in the days when it was known as the University of the Northwest.

David S. Stewart, president of the college board of trustees, presided at the ceremony. Other speakers were Rev. Harley W. Farnham, superintendent of the Sioux City Methodist district; H. Clifford Harper, college trustee; Ernest M. Raun, '23, building committee member, and Rev. Mr. Buthman.

Nicholas O'Mullinuk spoke for the city, Prof. Myron E. Graber for the college science department, Miss Lillian E. Dimmitt for the faculty, Wayne Menter for the Alumni association and Charles Irwin for the student body. Dr. Roadman accepted the gift for the college.

The location chosen for the observatory is a spot north and slightly west of A. W. Jones Science Hall, just in front of a very large clump of lilacs which you may have noticed.

Reception

After the ceremonies, Dr. and Mrs. Roadman held a reception for seniors, alumni, faculty members and friends of the college at their home, 3823 Garretson Avenue.

Graduating seniors officially wound up their academic careers with Commencement Exercises at 10 a. m., Monday, May 29th at Grace Methodist Church. Degrees were awarded to one hundred and eleven students, the largest class in the history of the college. Seven students received two-year course teaching certificates. Dr. John O. Gross of Nashville, Tenn., secretary of the Board of Education for Methodist Colleges, told the seniors that "conscious commitment to a high and worthy ideal" will enable them to endow their lives with "the graces and virtues of a noble and upright life." Citing parables and well known verses, Dr. Gross told the graduates that youth is only a prologue in the wise planning of life with age set apart for youth's heritage. He cautioned them that it takes a whole life to bring the plans laid in youth to fruition.

Dr. Roadman conferred the degrees and special honors including fifteen for students and three honorary doctors' degrees.

Dr. Gross was presented for the Doctor of Science in Education degree by Rev. Harley Farnham, superintendent of the Sioux City Methodist district. Dr. Gross is an educator, lecturer and author. He was president of Simpson College at Indianola, Ia., from 1928 to 1938, and since that time has held several educational positions. He has written three books on education.

G. Earl Barks, '18, banker, Belden, Nebr., and classmate of Dr. Arthur Locke, of New Brunswick, N. J., presented him for the Doctor of Science degree. Investigation of predisposing causes of the common cold has been the particular research work of Dr. Locke, who is listed in the 1949 American Men of Science.

Harold S. Freeman

Elbert M. Prichard, '19, attorney at Onawa, presented Harold S. Freeman of Pierre, S. D., for the Doctor of Laws degree. He has been prominent in South Dakota educational circles since 1922, and has been superintendent of public instruction since January of last year.

Fathers of two of the graduates took part in the ceremonies. Rev. John Madison of Sioux Falls, father of Anne Madison, offered the prayer. Rev. F. Earl Burgess of Storm Lake, Ia., father of Roger Burgess, read a scripture selection.

FORMER FACULTY

Former Dean and Mrs. Paul Johnson of Boston, Mass. stopped to visit friends in Morningside enroute to California where Dr. Johnson will teach in the Pacific School of Religion at Berkeley this summer. Dr. and Mrs. Roadman held open house at their home for friends of the Johnsons'.

Prof. J. J. Hayes, for many years an English instructor at Morningside before going to Oklahoma City University, has been named in the 1950 Who's Who in America.

Iowa has honored the late Dr. T. C. Stephens, head of the biology department during his lifetime, by naming a new forest preserve in Lucas and Monroe counties for him.

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

Five McCurdy scholarships, given under the auspices of the Alumni Association, were presented to outstanding seniors in the June graduating classes of the three Sioux City high schools.

The Leeds scholarship went to Donald Udell with Beverly Miller and Valerie Dirks being given scholarships previously awarded and not used; at East the award was given to Joanne Chittenden and at Central to Miles Patton.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Marlene Mylan, freshman from Remsen, Ia. was crowned the 1950 Sioux Queen at the annual senior farewell dance in Allee gymnasium. She succeeds Lynn Holland of Sioux City, the 1949 queen.

Student council officers for the 1950-51 academic year were announced at the dance. Headed by Charles Irwin of Sioux City, president, they include also:

Robert Norris of Floyd, Ia., vice president; Miss Margaret Marksberry of Sioux City, secretary; Donald Nelson of Sioux City, treasurer; Ray Berry of Flint, Mich., advocate, and Miss Muriel Waldemer of Pisgah, Ia., board member-at-large.

The following are new directors of the council program: Stanley Jenkner of Chicago, program and activities; Robert Benson of Sioux City, social events; Miss Norma Jean Peters of Gilmore City, Ia., publicity; Miss Bonnie Schrader of Rudd, Ia., freshmen activities. Robert Eldredge of Sioux City is retiring president of the council.

On Saturday, May 20, senior women were guests at a garden party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Roadman. Women faculty members and wives of instructors were hostesses. An Hawaiian theme was carried out in table decorations and flower leis, which were presented to each guest.

The report from the office of the registrar is that 406 students have registered for the first session of summer school.

BELOVED DEAN TO RETIRE

Dr. Graber is one of the last of that group of teachers at Morningside College, who, without counting personal loss or gain, devoted their lives to holding the foundations already laid and building thereupon a modern, accredited college. When, in the early nineteen twenties, Morningside College was threatened with expulsion from the accredited list of colleges in the country because of the lack of any Ph. D. on our faculty, he took a year and two summers off, without salary and at his own expense, at the University to secure one of those needed degrees. During this interim the then president, Dr. F. E. Mossman, persuaded the late Dr. J. J. Bushnell, Ph. D. from Boston University, to join our faculty and with the Bishop's help in placement, these two degrees fulfilled the requirements and saved Morningside College, on the standard list.

Broadly educated in science, philosophy and theology, his education has been of the heart as well as of the head. Dr. Graber has always based his evaluations on the content rather than the form. He has, in his teaching, dedicated his life to the building of men, foresquare, Christian in their convictions and thoroughly trained scholastically to occupy the highest type of positions in the country in their chosen fields of work. He possesses rare scholastic vision and his students have always gained ready admittance to the graduate schools of the country, often with more credits than were required for entrance.

During his career at Morningside College, the Physics Department has taken high rank both in our own state and in national governmental esteem. At the threat of involvement in World War II, the government committee on Emergency Education announced Morningside College Physics Department as one of sixty three American colleges of some six hundred eighty examined that had a qualified aviation course. Morningside College had had such a course since 1928.

In February 1949, "Dr. Claude E. Hawley of the office of education, Washington, D. C. named Morningside College as one of the few in the nation which has noted in the curriculums the developing changes of the atomic age."

Dr. Hawley "found in a survey of more than five hundred colleges and universities in forty seven states that only twenty have changed curriculums to meet the rising importance of atomic research and development." "In an article in Higher Education, official publication of the office of education, Dr. Hawley made special mention of the course on recent developments in science which is taught by Dr. M. E. Graber, head of the physics department and Dean of Men at Morningside."

Dr. Graber's life work here at Morningside College speaks for itself in the friendship and devotion of the hundreds of students who studied under him and in the deep appreciation they feel for his wise counsel, help and understanding during their student days.

Letters from them contain the acknowledgement that Morningside is not just a college where one receives a degree but one where the interest and confidence of such a friend as Dean Graber has proved an inspiration in later life.

Engineers in all branches, scattered around the world in civilian and army life, teachers in the sciences, arts and humanities, religious leaders both clergy and lay, doctors, and lawyers are the results of his untiring efforts to inspire his students with the best, to achieve the highest goals and to contribute as college men that full measure of devotion and service to society.

We could name colleges and universities from which Dr. Graber has received degrees, many publications which he has written, list his membership in outstanding scientific and professional organizations and tell you of the many offices he has held and boards on which he has served but all that information is here in the Alumni Office for your perusal whenever you wish.

We shall mention only his rating in Who's Who:

Following is an excerpt from Dr. Roadman's report to the Board of Trustees of Morningside College at the April 1950 meeting.

Dr. Myron E. Graber came to the headship of the Department of Physics in 1919, and has, thereby, given thirty one years of continuous and glorious service to Morningside College. He will attain the age of retirement this summer. Hosts of former students, the faculty, and the entire city have come to esteem and admire Dr. Graber for his fine scientific mind, his far-reaching community spirit, and his deep religious consecration. As Dean of Men, has achieved a counseling service seldom equaled in college history. What a happy circumstance that men can serve and, in retirement, look upon the flowers of friendship which have grown in the gardens of their cultivation!

"Dr. Graber will continue to assist in the Department of Physics as the needs of the department may require and as his strength may make possible. Dr. and Mrs. Graber have bought a home on South Newton, a block from the edge of the campus, in order that they may dwell therein with a continued observation of the achievement which has been theirs and in cooperative fellowship with all Morningsiders."

Quotations are taken from the article which appeared in the Sioux City Sunday Journal, February 13, 1949.

CLASS NOTES

Dr. Clyde F. Cairy, x'36, of Lansing, Mich., son of Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Cairy of Sioux City, has been honored recently by election to membership in the Magicians' Guild of America, honorary professional magicians' organization. The honor was bestowed in Chicago by the Magicians' Guild of America. He has been invited as an entertainer from June 19 to June 22 on an excursion cruise on the Great Lakes sponsored by the Grand Rapids Michigan Commercial Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Richardson (Maxine Louise (Steele), both '33, live at 733 Newport in Webster Groves, Mo. where Allen is manufacturer's representative for the Allen Richardson Agency.

Florence M. Cate, '02, lives at 1415 East 10th Street in Winfield, Kans. where she keeps house for her father.

Mrs. Burdette Kindig (Cepha Pasek, '32), received her M. A. in social service from Columbia University this year. The Kindigs live at 109 Grand Avenue, Englewood, N. J.

Eugene C. Bovee, x'37, was awarded a Ph. D. degree from the University of Southern California in Los Angeles in zoology and biology on June 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Larson (Ruth Saupe), both '48, will live in Molden, Mass. this coming year where Ernest will serve the Faulkner Methodist Church as student minister. He will graduate from the Boston University School of Theology next June.

Carol Fredericksen, x'46, left June 18 for Japan where she will be a recreational director in Tokyo for two years as a civilian army employee at service clubs.

CLASS REUNIONS

Presiding at the program following the luncheon was William C. Wolle, '20, of the Buckwalter Real Estate firm in Sioux City, who introduced special guests and the class chairmen who in turn presented members of their classes.

Class of 1905

The reunion of the class of '05 was not a large success so far as numbers were concerned but we met several old friends. Mrs. Hugh Miller (Coralinn Lockin, '05) and myself were the only members of our class present; we were pleased to have Mr. Miller and Mrs. George Poppenheimer with us. Rev. Poppenheimer has been ill for some time so his wife came to report for him.

There were twenty-eight members in our class, the largest to graduate up to that time. Of that number, nine are deceased and Anna Hollingsworth Greene and Charles Carroll cannot be located. Mrs. W. Lee Lewis (Myrtilla Cook, '05) and granddaughter were sailing for Europe June twenty-third and Ralph E. Root was preparing to go to his summer home in New Hampshire.

Most of the other six reporting could not attend for health reasons. The two of us who were present were glad to be there and greet former teachers and old friends. As Ralph E. Root suggested, we'll look forward to 1955, our fiftieth reunion.

Mrs. Joseph Trimble (Virginia Fair, '05) Chairman

Class of 1910

Three class members met to celebrate their fortieth reunion: Allen Berkstresser, Sterling, Colo.; Lois Wolcott Brown, Sioux City, and Evelyn Denkmam Lester, Armour, S. D. Allen's wife, Inez Whitney, '13, was our honored guest.

While the chairman and other members of the various '05 and '10 classes were addressing the crowd, we three read the letters of greeting sent in for the occasion, looked at our senior pictures in the '11 annual as well as other souvenir pictures of college days and otherwise reminisced.

Our class report showed that of the thirty four who graduated, twenty four are still living, though two are indefinite as to present address. We hope to contact them during the year. Twenty four letters of invitation to the reunion had been sent out and twelve had responded. Six of these expressed the will to attend but, since the law of fifty per cent seemed to be the rule for this occasion, only three were in actual attendance.

It was wonderful to meet as a group however and we felt the inspiration of our absent members' good wishes, regardless. The thrill of meeting other old friends and teachers was one that can never be forgotten.

The climax of the day came with the Morningsider Banquet in the evening. The ceremonial of inducting the seniors of the current class into the Tribal Council of the Sioux was most impressive and realistic since our work of teaching on several Sioux reservations had privileged us to observe the real ceremonials.

So, while our own reunion was "little" in itself, taken as a part of the greater whole, it was "oh my!" and we shall never forget it.

Evelyn D. Lester, Chairman

Class of 1915

We had a wonderful time at the Commencement reunion! Some disappointments, some thrills. We were disappointed because several of our number who live in or near Sioux City did not attend. Thrilled because those who did attend came from both coasts and five states,—and they did come by auto, train and plane.

Since I promised to tell you all of the facts, fun, and figures which reunion day revealed here I go.

You may remember that our class was one of 50 members. Of this number 9 have died. They are: Sarah Crowther, Olive Darville (Burris), Herbert French, Christine Haas (Nesmith), Olive Hartzell (Bolyard), Ellis V. Kuhns, Maynard L. Morley, Ethel Olsen and C. E. Shoemaker. Ten of us made up the reunion group: Marie Devitt, Burrell E. Evans, Ruth French, Mabel Irwin, Elsie Johnson, Olive Jones, Katherine McKenzie, Bonnie Blanche Robinson, Carl Sass, and Cyril Upham. Three others who had been part of our class for three years, but who had not graduated until 1916, shared memories with us. They were Anna Beard Madison, Lois Crouch and Earl Burgess. We were glad to have them with us. I received messages from 13 others, so 32 members are accounted for. I am going to include the 18 others in my mailing of this letter believing, that in spite of their silence they still love us.

Let me tell you first about those who attended the reunion. Marie Devitt—Marie hasn't seemed to change a single bit. Her voice and even her hair has the same golden tone; 35 years have touched her lightly and it was grand to see her again. She and her husband (C. W. Deffenbaugh) live at 1430 McPherson Avenue, Council Bluffs, Ia. She said "We live on an acreage on Highway 6 and we love it"! The same enthusiasm! A friend who drove up with her spoke kind words of the esteem in which she is held in her home city and told me she (Marie) is president of the Garden Club there this year and that her own garden is beautiful.

Burrell E. Evans.—This was the first time Burrell had been back on the campus during a school year since 1915. He brought a very charming wife back with him and we had to do some tall explaining to her when we all called him "Beans". Secrets are safe with "Beans". His address is 3016 Pacific Street, Omaha, Nebr. He is coach and instructor in the Bellevue High School. They have two children, Beryl Lou and Josephine Ann. Burrell has studied at the U. of Iowa, the U. of Illinois, the U. of Nebraska and the U. of Omaha since Morningside days. Aside from his real job he is a member of the American Legion Men's Glee Club of Omaha, and also of its mixed chorus. He sings in the Hanscam Park Methodist Church choir and instructs in the C.

A. P. and the U. S. Army. I wonder what he does in his spare time? He is tall as always, has some grey hair and was very much interested in the whereabouts and welfare of you all.

Ruth French.—Ruth's hair is almost white but otherwise she is the same happy, interesting Ruth. This was her first reunion too. After Morningside, Ruth went on to graduate from the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, Mass. Then in 1935 she received her M. Mus. degree from Northwestern U. She has studied with Heinrich Gebbard in Boston. She devotes all of her time to the teaching of piano and theory. Her home address is 1308 Central, Hawarden, Ia. She has had many articles in The Etude, Musical Courier, The Classmate and The Adult Student. She was named a "Woman of Achievement" by the Sioux City Journal-Tribune. She is a classmate of whom we may well be proud.

Mabel Irwin.—Come June 20th and I'll have been a "preacher's wife" for 33 years. It's been a lot of fun and I have had one of the grandest husbands ever. We have two children—Roger, who graduated from Morningside College this year. He will go to Nashville, Tenn. next week to be managing editor of "Concern"—our Methodist Youth Fellowship paper. Muriel, who has just finished her Junior year in Morningside majoring in Phys. Ed. My hair is almost white too but I am sure no one had a better time at the reunion than I did. I enjoyed receiving the letters from those who could not attend. They were all read to the group.

Elsie Johnson.—(Mrs. Cecil C. Jones, 3303 Lincoln Place Drive, Des Moines, Ia.) Elsie flew up to the reunion from Des Moines. Flying was not a new method of travel for Elsie since she and her doctor husband fly away to some far corner of the globe for vacation days quite frequently. After Morningside she went to the U. School of nursing at Iowa City. Until she was married she had a responsible position in the hospital there. I think she is better looking now than ever before in spite of the grey mixed with her golden locks. She and the doctor have two children, Bob, 20 and Judy 19.

Olive Jones.—Olive lives in the Reeves Apts., 2024 Pierce Street Sioux City. She is a much loved teacher in the North Junior High School there teaching Speech and English. Her 91 year old mother lives with her and still does much of the house work. She is very helpful in the work of the First Methodist Church helping her minister teach the classes in preparation for church membership at Easter time. Olive is sure proof of the truth of the old saying that "Precious goods are done up in small packages."

Katherine McKenzie (2521 Marvin Ave., Los Angeles 16, Calif. Katherine had to tell me who she was. I felt a bit embarrassed about it at first, then I decided that maybe I should be forgiven one miss in 35 years. Katherine really has changed so little in that time—no grey hairs, a "slim fiver" and the same sweet smile. A real picture of the successful business woman she is. Tiring of teaching she turned to the printing business and with a brother-in-law owns a Specialty Printing Business in Los Angeles. We were sorry she could not stay after lunch long enough to have her picture taken with the group but her vacation was fast running out and she had other friends to see and other places to go. She came all the way from Los Angeles for the reunion and we were grateful. If you travel westward do call on Katherine.

Bonnie Blanche Robinson.—And from the east coast came our Bonnie Blanche (now Mrs. Lynn I. Schoonover, 12 Monroe Ave., Worcester, Mass. As Bonnie as ever she was! All in pink—she was indeed a lovely lady! In addition to being a housewife and a mother, Bonnie works full time as librarian in the Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Her husband is Professor of Finance at Northeastern University. They have one son, Robinson Wolcott Schoonover, now in college. After Morningside, Bonnie received a Master's degree from Radcliff, but, with her, study will never cease. She came all the way from Worcester just for our reunion! This is class loyalty.

Carl W. H. Sass.—The dignity of the class was upheld by our Carl Sass—attorney-at-law. Carl has a busy and successful practice in Sioux City. He has a wife and two step-daughters and five grandchildren. I have forgotten where Carl took his work for the law degree (U. of Chicago), but I do know that he now lives at 715 38th Street, Sioux City and seemed to be having fun at the party. (Carl is surely good looking).

Cyril B. Upham.—Last but not least "Uppie" was there. When speaking to anyone in the financial world we must address him as Mr. Cyril B. Upham, Chief National Bank Examiner in the Minneapolis District. Now, if you don't know it, this is an important position. After Morningside "Uppie" got his Ph. D. from Iowa U. The youngest person at that time to have received such a degree from the U. After that he went on to Washington where he lived and worked for 30 years. He was graduated from Washington U. in Law and goodness knows what else. He is just too modest to tell it all. He was Deputy Comptroller of the Currency for 10 years. He lives now at the Minneapolis Athletic Club and drove down to the reunion in a Cadillac bigger than he is. He has all white hair and is, for his old friends, the same "Uppie" of Morningside days. My son, in typical college slang, called him a "Brain".

Letters and messages from class members will be published in the September issue.

Class of 1920

You should have been there cuz they baked a cake—or was it a pie?

The 1920 reunion brought only six graduates from the class of 1920 but we had a grand time. At our table were Ada Carter, Whiting, Ia.; Mrs. Mae Hansen Babcock, Galva, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Axel Beck, Elk Point, S. D.; Mr. and Mrs. John McBurney, Webster City, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wolle, Sioux City and Mrs. Hazel Bergeson Hoy, Vermillion, S. D.

Times have changed—not so much the people as the campus. It was fun to look around at the Barn, the new Science Building, George Allee gymnasium and Old Main. We located the "unknowns" and brought our list up to date.

Sections of the interesting letters from members who were absent but present in spirit follows: Mary Dolliver is Dean of Women at Oberlin College in Oberlin, Ohio. You can judge from her letter whether or not she is the same good-natured, enthusiastic Mary of college days.

"You don't know how tempted I am to mortgage the old home place and come out to Morningside for the 30th reunion. I can think of nothing I would really like to do more. Unfortunately I am about $150's worth away from you and that is the only thing that keeps me from coming. I have never found anyone who would support me as you other lucky girls have, and this business of paying one's own way too often keeps me from doing things I would really love to do. I'll be there in spirit, but can't make it in person.

"I wish there was some way to get out a class letter and give all the details of where everyone is and how many children they have. Then I could check the list and see if I couldn't get some more Morningside children to come to Oberlin. It's amazing how many of them we have here. At present it is Herb Mahood's daughter, Mary, and Hugh Fouke's son, Jim. Last year it was Nancy McCurdy, whose mother was Eleanor Winkelman and father Bill McCurdy. In spite of the 30 years' lapse, which just doesn't seem possible, I still have a very great feeling of loyalty for Morningside. I am realizing more and more what its early influence meant.

"Please give my regards to everyone and if you should have a 35th or 40th, I'll try to make it in my wheel chair."

As always,

Mary Dolliver

Gladys Knapp Luce, 4028 Utah, San Diego, Calif. wrote that she is a math instructor in a boys' military academy there. At a Morningside picnic recently in Balboa Park there were forty in attendance.

An excerpt from Joe Bogard's letter says: "For the past twenty three of those thirty years it has been my privilege to live in Chicago and to work for the Western Electric Company located in part in Chicago. During those years the paths of a few of my classmates crossed mine and permitted the re-establishment of earlier friendships. This was always a real thrill. Should business or pleasure trips bring any of you into Chicago, please contact me at my address which is located in the great West Side of Chicago or on my residence phone, Merrimac 7-14656, or office phone, Lawndale 1-5000, Extension 2960."

Jake Trefz' greeting came from Stephens College in Columbia, Mo. Jake says, "I have a real longing to get back to the old campus and wish I could bring that about on this occasion. I cherish my memories of many of the class members a great deal. I am now working for Stephens College as its representative in five western states. I have to spend the month of May at Columbia, Mo. The Stephens College commencement takes place on May 30. All members of the staff are required to be present at this function so that I shall have to pass up this opportunity of seeing many of my former buddies. I regret this deeply."

Greetings came from another classmate in South Pasadena, Calif., Eva Treman Cary, who says that for the last five years she has been in a library and book store in San Marino, Calif.

Hazel Bergeson Hoy, Chairman

Class of 1925

Eighteen members of the class of 1925 gathered at a special table for their reunion luncheon Saturday noon, May 27 in "The Barn", better known to us as the Chemistry Hall. It was the twenty-fifth anniversary of our class and we were happy to have so many present.

Mr and Mrs. Glenn "Honie" Rogers who served as chairmen, had sent invitations and made arrangements. Elaine had decorated our table appropriately and beautifully with silver nut cups, place cards and candles. "Honie" first introduced the member present who had traveled the greatest distance to attend; this honor went to Tom McHale, who now is secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Dallas, Texas. Others then were introduced in turn and gave a short account of their whereabouts during the years since graduation. Those whom "Honie" introduced besides Tom McHale were: Ruth Langley Justus of Minneapolis, Minn. whose husband, Roy x'24, is cartoonist for the Minneapolis Star and Tribune; Rex Fountain, International Harvester dealer at Sloan and Mrs. Fountain (Doris Giehm, x'26); Lowell (High) Test from Livermore, Ia., where he is with the Department of Internal Revenue, with offices in Ft. Dodge, Ia. and Mrs. Test (Henrietta Squaires, '26), who teaches in Livermore; Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Hickman (Esther Nixon) of Sioux City. Simeon is principal of East High School just across the campus; Mrs F. A. Schweizer (Marie Woods) from Winnebago, Nebr. and her sister, Mrs. Vernon Heacock (Edna Woods, '26) who represented her husband who is superintendent of schools at Hornick, Ia.

From Sioux City, Odes A. B. Hilton, real estate dealer; E. Don Goodwin, photographer and movie projector operator; Bernard (Jack) Rogers, salesman; Evelyn Manson Emmerson, housewife and teacher; Gordon Pillsbury, auditor for the Tolerton-Warfield Co.; Fred J. Share, instructor in the Sioux City schools and much-in-demand football and basketball referee; "Honie" and Elaine Barnt Rogers who have just moved into a new home at 6 Congress Avenue. "Honie" is manager of Sportsman's Inc., sporting goods.

The members who took time out to send a greeting were: Miriam Kamphoefner Larson, 1324 South Starr in Burlington, Ia. Miriam has been devoting time to her church, League of Women Voters, and one day each week as a psychiatric aide-volunteer worker at Mt. Pleasant Mental Hospital, where she teaches classes in recreation. A very generous check to the college accompanied her letter.

Louise Browne McCabe, who has lived at 2705 29th, Lubbock, Texas for the past eight years. Her husband is dean of boys at Senior High and Louise has taught in one of the grade schools the past six years. She received her A. M. degree in 1949. The McCabes have an 18 year old son who has just finished his freshman year at Texas Tech in Lubbock.

From St. Helens, Ore. came a letter from Malrose Radley Bergstrom. She became an R. N. in 1930 and did operating room work and supervising until 1939 when she was married. However, during the nursing shortage she spent five years as supervisor of Central Supply and Emergency Service. She invites all her classmates to drop in for "coffee" with her and her Swede husband and see her rose garden.

Another Texan, Glen Ellison from San Antonio, sent greetings. His son has just completed his junior year at Southwest Texas State College, San Marcos, Texas. Glen entered the U. S. Department of Agricultural Livestock Market Reporting Service in June of 1929 at Kansas City, Mo. In the following years he was stationed at Sioux City and St. Paul and since January 1940 has been in charge of the Livestock Market News office in San Antonio.

Myrle Hanson, business manager of the Black Hills Teachers College at Spearfish, S. D., sent greetings to the class and wrote that because of Commencement there he was unable to get back for his reunion.

George Raymond sent a wire of congratulations to all his classmates from New York City with a wish that anyone visiting New York would drop in to see him and Eve in nearby Mt. Kisco.

Class of 1930

The class of 1930 was represented at the class reunion on May 27th by the following members:

Myron Leamer, Mabel Hutchings, Gladys Timm Uhl, Louis Croston, Ardis Bergeson Gilbert, Nathan Goldberg and William B. Danforth, all of Sioux City; Margaret Warntjes, Chicago, Ill., and Almyra Peters Helming, Hornick, Ia., of the class of 1931 was a visitor and guest.

The following members of the class who were unable to attend the reunion sent newsy letters which were read and enjoyed by all those present:

Weldon Baker, Emporia, Kans. He is professor of chemistry at Kansas State Teachers College.

Information for Morningside Alumni Association Records and Alumni Register INCLUDING BOTH GRADUATES AND EX-STUDENTS

The last Alumni Register was published in 1939 and the need for a new one is urgent. With the cooperation of all alumni, we hope to be able to publish a new register in the near future. Therefore, will you kindly fill out immediately the following information blank, answering all questions as completely as possible. (All the information requested, of course, will not be included in the directory, but will be kept in our files for confidential use. For the directory, however, we need: Your name, class, Morningside degree, years at Morningside if not a graduate, name in student days if different, present address, occupation, degrees from other institutions, and children's names and ages, so be sure to send us that information whether you complete the questionnaire or not). (If both husband and wife are Morningsiders, an additional blank will be furnished upon request).

Class of 1935

There were three of us to represent the class of '35 at the luncheon held on May 27 at the "Barn"—Emery Stewart, who teaches voice at the Morningside Conservatory, Mrs. Walter Healy (Alice Loomis), and myself. Alice lives on a farm near Lohrville and has three fine sons. As if this wasn't a full time job, she still keeps up her music by teaching a class of piano pupils. It was not easy to leave a husband, three boys, a farm home and a music class to attend a reunion and weekend at her Alma Mater, so we greatly appreciated Alice's presence. I also left three sons, aged eleven, six and three at home in Yankton, S. D. under the supervision of their father, William Shoemaker, who is at present employed by a manufacturer's concern.

Miss Murray, Miss Mills and Miss Woodford along with the overflow from another class also sat at our table. We enjoyed good talk and good food, the remarks and reminiscences of the other classes and members of the faculty. The "Barn" is much improved over the one we knew. As Alice said, "It didn't smell right." She was recalling the many orchestra practices held there.

Afterwards I "figured" that fifteen years had added many fine things to Morningside and had not been too hard on the three of us there. We still recognized each other!

Those who sent greetings are:

Mrs. Herman Barnes (Helen Squires), who is living at North Bend, Nebr., where her husband is bulk agent for Standard Oil.

Chester Gill, who lives in Grand Island, Nebr. He is with the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation. The Gills have two children.

Dr. Daryl Williams, who is teaching at Illinois Wesleyan University at Bloomington, Ill. Mrs. Williams (Elaine Rawson, '36) is doing some teaching, too. They have three children.

Mattie Brass, who is in the division of Public Health Nursing of the Iowa State Department of Health, living at 4210 University Avenue, Des Moines, Ia.

Rev. Roger Bosworth, who is now preaching in Columbus, Ohio—121 East 16th Avenue. The Bosworths have a new baby boy.

Mrs. Harry Taylor (Betty Kingsley), who is living in Omaha, Nebr. at 3103 South 32nd Avenue. The Taylors have four children.

Gretchen Gall Shoemaker, Chairman

Class of 1940

The class of 1940 seems to have a larger number of members living in and around Sioux City than most classes. We had nine members present, all from Sioux City except Betty Greene Spears from Nashville, Tenn. where her husband teaches in the University, and Robert Ruleman, Chaplain in the U. S. Navy and stationed on Midway. I believe Robert had the distinction of being the Alumnus coming from the greatest distance for Commencement. Life in the Pacific seems to have agreed with Bob and we enjoyed hearing his experiences. Those present from Sioux City included Helen Posey and Arlene Jensen, both teachers in the Sioux City schools; Careta Younglove Friend, Patricia Warner Coriden, who has two youngsters, Darby and Michael; Lorraine Verstegen Ely, Edna Elving, a hospital supervisor here, and Genevieve Whittington Sloan, who has three daughters, Jerry, Virginia and Jacquelin.

Many members of the class who were unable to attend sent news of themselves and families. Arnie Rudd, who is a member of the Music School Faculty at Dakota Wesleyan, Mitchell, S. D. where he keeps busy teaching bands, orchestras, lessons and classes, wrote that their graduation ceremony was at the same time as ours. The Rudds have two children, Pamela Ann, aged 5 and Martin, 13 months.

Dorothy Ann Olson writes: "While many of you have been busy making homes and raising families, I have been trying to make my way in the field of "higher education." After two years of graduate school at Syracuse University, I traveled deep into the heart of Texas to Austin where I became manager of the Student Union. The wanderlust got me after another two year stretch and I went back east to Cornell University as Social Director of the Union there. The usual two years was lengthened to three at Cornell—and then in 1948 I decided to be a midwesterner again and am now the Social Director of the Student Union at Purdue University. My job here is one of the best . . . I am an assistant manager of the building as well as advisor to the Union governing board. This board plans all the parties, receptions, movies, game tournaments—and a host of other "fun" things—which are held in the building. There is never a dull moment in the day."

Rev. Ralph Kitterman's letter came from Kamawha, Ia. where he has been pastor of the Methodist Church for the past three years. During his residence there the church has been remodeled and now is a beautiful sanctuary. His church family is large so he is always busy serving them. The Kittermans have one son.

Mrs. Jeston B. Anderson (Inez Grove), sent an invitation for any class members who come to Chicago on Highway 20 to stop in at 613 East Lincoln, Belvidere, Ill. for a visit. Her duties as housewife and mother of a five year old son, Dickie, keep her busy.

The John Swansons (Mrs. Swanson was Joyce Weed), who have lived in Appleton, Wis. the past ten years were unable to come because of conflicting commitments. John is a Research Associate at the Institute of Paper Chemistry where he directs research and teaches graduate students in the paper field. Their three children are Jack, almost 7, Jim, almost 5 and Barbara, 4½ months.

Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Johnson (Carol Robertson, x'42), live in Three Oaks, Mich. where Lawrence is pastor of the Congregational Church. They have two children, Eric and Carla.

Capt. Walter Hurd and son, David Cornell, 18 months.

Capt. Walter L. Hurd, Jr. wrote from San Francisco that he could not make it for the reunion but might be here for Homecoming. Walter is flying on a DC-6 aircraft for Phillipine Air Lines. Based in Honolulu, he flies over the Wake Island-Honolulu-San Francisco segment of the Trans-Pacific route. His address is 926-B Spencer Street, Honolulu, T. Hawaii.

Robert Chapman who lives at 1632 Allston Way, Berkeley, Calif. sent a picture of himself and "leading lady," whom he married in Reno, Nev. in 1944. For the past seven years he has been employed by the Standard Oil Co. of Calif.—Richmond Refinery, the largest complete oil refinery in the world.

Regrets came from Packard and Helen Osbey Wolle from 1025 8th Street, Alexandria, Va. Packard is Special Assistant to the Director of Education and Training Service, U. S. V. A., Munitions Bldg. in Washington, D. C. Their children are Starr, class of '61, Cheryl, class of '64 and Pamela Ann who arrived on May 31 and no doubt was the reason they sent regrets.

Lester and Kitty Kolp Menke of Calumet, Ia. also have a new daughter, Mary Kathlyn, born June 9 who prompted their regrets. Their boys are David, 8 and Daniel, 5.

Nelly DeVries Straks lives in LeMars and is busy with her two children, Jerry, 3 and Barbara 2 as well as a class of piano pupils.

F. Jean Fowler Wheeler wrote from 1811 West 10th, Spokane, Wash. that she could not come such a great distance.

Jeanne Anderson Timm is living at 3342 Nicholson Drive in Baton Rouge, La. Dr. Everett Timm is professor of music at the University. They have two sons, Gary, six and Larry, one and a half.

Welcome guests at our table were Elwood Olsen, '38 and Al Buckingham, '39.

Genevieve Whittington Sloan, Chairman

Class of 1945

The class of '45 represented the youngsters amid the oldsters at the recent Class Reunion held in the Barn. Those youngsters present were Gus Lease who is now teaching vocal music at the University of Oklahoma, and Mrs. Lease, (Zoe Vickery, x'46). They are the parents of a year old son. Others present were Ellen Westergaard Jackson, who is the mother of two children, Dana and Richard. The Jacksons live in Council Bluffs, where Dale, '46, is with the Goodyear Company. Jeannette Kahoun Goebel was also present. She lives in Luverne, Minn., where her husband is in the grocery business; they are the parents of a nine months old son, Larry. Others attending were Betty Macur, who is employed in the Registrar's office at the college and Lois Held, who is teaching physical education at Sheldon, Ia.

Several cards and letters were received from our classmates. Leone Sargeant Barr and husband, Everett, x'45, were on a southern trip but sent their greetings. John Griffin is about to receive his M. A. at Columbia University. Lorraine Iverson Haviland lives in Sergeant Bluff where her husband has a frozen food locker plant. They are the parents of a five year old daughter. Warren R. Moore, M. D., is in his second year of residency in obstetrics and gynecology at Harper Hospital, Detroit. Rocco Pesile sent the greetings of himself, Mrs. Pesile and son, Paul, from Irvington, N. J. A long letter was received from Ernst Baer telling of his work in the laboratory of the Cudahy Packing Co. at Omaha. W. C. Womersley is engaged in the ministry in Beatrice, Nebr. He plans to work on his Master's degree at the University of Nebraska this summer.

Those present at the reunion had a wonderful time, reminiscing over old days, talking of our classmates who were unable to attend, and hoping that more can be present for the 1955 reunion.

1925 Class Poet-laureate

Do you remember when our last lessons were mastered

And our classes were tested and tried—
And the most stupid had vanished, and the dullest had stepped aside.

Now things are different as we pass through life's high grade,
As we face the world's problems with minds unafraid.

We pass through each test as we meet it,
At the sound of Duty's stern call.

We work every hour of the day,
And never seem to catch up at all.

And only this big world shall praise us,
And only the big world shall blame;
Though we work for the joy of winning,
And climb toward the path-way of fame.

Each in his separate calling must express
His own thoughts and ambitions

As he strives toward the goal of success.
